A telegram has been received chief of police, telling of the death in China of his daughter,

Mrs. Lulu Bryan, wife of Dr.
R. T. Bryan, a well-known missionary of the Baptist denomina-was 45 years of age and has four children, three in China and one

Judge Webb
Judge Webb stated the law that prohibits the sale of cigarettes to minors in his charge before the grand jury, and the citizenship ought to take notice of it. The law is a dead letter. It is violated with impunity and the inaction of the officers furnishes immunity to those who for the sake of a few cents prey upon the youth of the State.

The Man Who is "Rooted."
We have heard thoughtful men condemn the little hired "rooters" that go about in the interest of the candidates who are paying them, but they shouldn't be condemned too severely. They couldn't do anything to produce results without so-called voters who permit themselves to be "rooted".

Dr. Hyatt Coming.
During the month of September Dr. H. O. Hyatt will visit professionally in Farmville and Greenville, dates at each point to be announced later. He makes a specialty of treating the eye and fitting glasses.

ANOTHER LARGE SALE.

Regardless of the rains there was a big tobacco break today, the warehouses having fully a quarter million pounds. So many of the farmers are poorly equipped for housing and keeping their tobacco through such a long spell of bad weather that they do not want to take chances in holding it, hence they come rainy days as well as fair ones.

Ex-Governor
Ex-Governor Thomas J. Jarvis of Greenville, passed through the city yesterday afternoon on his way from Asheville, where he spent three weeks in the mountains.

Colored man
A colored man was brought in the city this morning from Snow Hill and taken to the hospital to be operated on for a gunshot wound received over a year ago in an altercation with another negro. The negro who did the shooting was convicted of assault with deadly weapon in the Greene county court some time ago. The wounded negro is considered in a critical condition and operation may be possible.—Kinston Free Press.

Winston-Salem, N. C.

Renews Contract With Stief Piano Co.
It may be of interest to the many friends of Mr. G. G. Fineman, whose resignation with the Stief Piano Company was recently announced, to know that he has closed another contract with the old reliable Stief house, which has stood another contract with the above firm 12 years and the long association and prestige he has with his house carries with it a reassurance of his usual conservatism and squareness with the trade.

STATE NEWS.

Report from Tarboro
The report from Tarboro this morning stated that the water in the river reached a stand there last night and would soon begin falling. Ordinarily the water stops rising at Greenville about twenty-four hours after it reaches a stand in Tarboro, but with the continued rain of last night and today it is hard to tell when it will stop rising.

Huntsville, Ala., Aug. 30.
Charles Eaton, an aged one-armed man, who had been released from jail by Federal Judge Hundley to visit his sick wife, surrendered himself last night after having walked over 100 miles to fulfill his promise to return. After visiting his wife at Winchester, Tenn., Eaton found himself without funds and was forced to walk back to Huntsville, where he was serving a sentence for illicit distilling.

Chair Factory.
A chair factory has been started in Wadesboro and through it, pleasant and profitable employment is being given to families in the community. The Ansonian, telling about it, says that "bottoming chairs is quite interesting work. Parties, some from a distance, come in and get the chairs or rather the frames and take them to their homes. The bottomers are put in by women and children with only a little experience, and by practice many become experts and learn this work very fast. The best work so far has been done by Mr. E. G. Hall, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. F. T. Rogers, Mrs. Joe Mundlin and young Barfield. Around High Point and Thomasville farmers drive in from 10 miles away to get the work and complain when they fail to get a load of chair frames. The price paid there is only 4 cents for each bottom, while the company here has been paying 6 cents for the work. The splits for bottoms are furnished by the factory. Many households bottom six or ten chairs a day at odd times and very small boys and girls do the work remarkably well and are developing excellent speed." In this way, establishment of a chair factory opens up new employment to the people and is of benefit to the community. Close grained wood bounds around almost every North Carolina town. It would seem that there ought to be more chair factories put in operation in this State.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Keep Off the Bridge.
Engineer D. M. Clark, of the bridge construction crew, asks you to notify persons to keep off the new bridge during the hours that the work is in progress. So many have been on the bridge and crowding around where the hands are at work as to get in their way and interfere with what they are doing. If you want to look at the bridge, go down where the hands are not at work.

What Shall I do About It?
This is a question that confronts many a young man at this season. It will soon be time for the various schools and colleges to open and many a young man who has perhaps for years debated with himself the question of a college education has now to decide finally what he will do. What shall I do about it? Is the question that he has asked himself perhaps hundreds of times, and now it must be settled. Well, it is sometimes a hard question to decide. Frequently a young man has employment that is giving him fair remuneration for his labor and he hesitates to give it up for fear that he may lose an opportunity to make money here and at the end of his college course he may be no further along in the race than when he left off his work to go to college. This would be a hard question with many young men even with money to spend for college expenses; for to spend four years within college walls, shut off most pleasures outside of students life is not a very pleasing prospect to the young man who loves pleasure. So much for the young man who has the money to pay his way through college. In many instances the young man who feels most concerned about a college education who needs it most has little or no money and if he goes to college at all he must borrow money. In such case he finds himself much in debt at the end of his college course and the prospect is that it will take him several years to pay his debts. All this time spent in college and in making money with which to pay his debts cuts into his life considerably; and to settle upon the wisest course is no trifling question. But there are two sides to it. The young man who braves the situation and takes a course of college training finds himself much better prepared for life's duties in any vocation, and we have yet to find a man who studied well and made good who had opportunities to express regret that he took the time and toil to secure an education.—Scotland Neck Commonweal.
