Democracy was out in full force at Johnson's Mills Thursday.

At the conclusion of Mr. Craig's speech Hon. Jno. H. Small, our well known congressman, spoke for one hour.

At the conclusion of the Democratic day and Farmville will give the same old majority.

Truth in Preference to Fiction

GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY OCT. 23 1908

ELECTION FORECAST.

The New York Herald in making a forecast of the presidential election gives the following as the probable standing in the different States at present: Total vote in Electoral College 483. Necessary to elect a President 242. Republican, reasonably sure 204. Democratic, reasonably sure 161. Doubtful Republican leanings 68. Doubtful Democratic leanings 50. In the balance 10. Taft to win must get, doubtful votes 38. Bryan to win must get, doubtful votes 81. REASONABLY SURE REPUBLICAN. California 10. Connecticut 7. Idaho 27. Illinois 27. Iowa 16. Maine 16. Massachusetts 14. Michigan 14. Minnesota 14. New Hampshire 12. New Jersey 12. North Dakota 12. Oregon 34. Pennsylvania 34. Rhode Island 14. Utah 23. Vermont 16. Washington 16. West Virginia 16. Wisconsin 16. Wyoming 16. Total 294. REASONABLY SURE DEMOCRATIC. Alabama 11. Arkansas 11. Florida 11. Georgia 11. Kentucky 11. Louisiana 9. Mississippi 18. Missouri 18. Nevada 12. North Carolina 12. Oklahoma 9. South Carolina 9. Tennessee 12. Texas 18. Virginia 12. Total 161. DOUBTFUL, REPUBLICAN LEANINGS. Indiana 15. Kansas 10. New York 29. South Dakota 4. Total 68. DOUBTFUL, DEMOCRATIC LEANINGS. Colorado 5. Montana 3. Nebraska 3. Ohio 3. Total 15. IN THE BALANCE. Maryland 8. Delaware 3. Total 11. You Republicans are dirty boys. You must have forgotten that the good people of Pitt county are now, and have always been, opposed to such false reports as you are spreading over this good county. You must sit up and take notice that the Democrats are going to correct these falsehoods. We would pity you if we thought such reports were due to ignorance. For an instance, you have circulated the report that the county commissioners have entered into a contract whereby the covets are to be worked on one mile of road in Greenville township for a period of from one to two years, at the expense of the tax payers of the whole county. Now, boys, you know this is false. As a matter of fact, in the first place, the agreement is that the covets shall work on this road not to exceed fifteen days, and in the second place the laws of North Carolina say that the township in which this work is done shall bear every cent of the expense. We will not ask you to take our word for this, but respectfully refer you to the records of the board of county commissioners, and to the private laws of 1905, passed by a Democratic legislature. You are spreading abroad a thousand other false reports which we expect to take up later. The strongest evidence that the Republican party is unfit to trust with the affairs of this State, and of this county, particularly, is the fact that they continue their campaign of misrepresentation. There is not an argument used by them that is not false, and not a promise that they would fulfill. It is a scramble to see who can make the most noise, and, in case Taft should be elected, it will be, who can get the most pie? The postmasters know that they must work or they forfeit their right to office. There are more Democrats now than the postmasters like to see, the more Republicans the more competition. Treasurer Herman Ridder, of the Democratic national executive committee, has made public the donations to the campaign fund up to October 9th, giving the names of all who contributed $100 dollars or more. There were very few of the large contributions, and the total from all sources, including $12,500 left over from the Denver convention, amounts to only $248,567.55. You will not hear of the Republican committee letting their donations be made known before the election. H. E. C. Bryant, special correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, who went along with the Taft train and reported the candidate's speeches on his flying trip through North Carolina, said of Mr. Taft "His voice is weak and his mental faculties dull." One can readily believe the reference to his dullness of mental faculties, by his version of the meaning of the guarantee of bank deposits which he tried to explain to his Danville audience. The Republicans in this county are trying to convince the people that the county affairs have been mismanaged. You Republicans are challenged to show one instance of mismanagement. The records are open to the public, and we ask you to bring forth the records to prove to the people that you are not telling falsehoods.

Candidate Taft, in his flying trip through some of the Southern States last week, insinuated that the people of the South lack intelligence. They are intelligent enough not to vote for him. Instead of Roosevelt succeeding Taft after eight years of the latter, as suggested by Southerners, Longworth, there is more likelihood of Parker succeeding Bryan along about that time. There is no question of electing the entire Democratic ticket in Pitt county by a handsome majority, but the thing to do is to make the majority a record breaker for the county. When the time comes to vote don't do any scratching. Walk up to the ballot box and put in the whole Democratic ticket and show that you are in favor of good government. The Republicans are organizing clubs in different parts of Pitt county. The last one reported was organized at Fountain a few days ago with "NO" members. There were several prominent speakers with the Republicans at Fountain Tuesday, the most prominent being W. J. Manning, and W. R. Dixon, postmaster of Farmville. Chairman Eller, of the State Democratic executive committee, is figuring on 50,000 majority in the State, and his figures are not going to miss it very far. There is plenty of truth to talk about to make an interesting campaign without either side resorting to falsehoods. No Roosevelt imitators are needed. We wonder where the Department of Justice was when one noted Federal criminal from Pitt county, after having been duly convicted, went to Washington City accompanied by Judge Adams and succeeded in evading the law? The campaign committees are not the only ones needing funds, as the government is said to be running millions behind in meeting expenses. The people will try to put a stop to that kind of administration when election day comes. The postmaster general has issued a circular instructing government employes to keep out of politics. A rigid enforcement of that order would practically put to an end the Republican campaign in North Carolina. Candidate Taft says he hopes after the 3rd of November he can stay quiet a little while. We expect he is going to get his wish and can stay very quiet the whole time Mr. Bryan occupies the White House. An Indiana woman has sued for divorce from her husband on the ground that he has been drunk thirteen years. He might have known something would happen when he ran up to that un lucky number. Journalistic Responsibility. An understanding of its own responsibility to the community is essential in the first instance to its duty. In its new columns it is clean; it stands consistently for civic improvement and for the real things of life, and it is not moved by any considerations from the lines of right as it sees them. The newspaper is a power, but there are newspapers and newspapers.—Chicago Post.

Mr. Bryan and others have sought to set the President of the United States in the proper light before the public in relation to his hypocrisy, double-dealing and course violation of the proprieties of his great office, but this has not been done so effectively as by the Republican New York Sun. A copy of this editorial from that paper, every word of it justified by the facts, would be in the hands of every voter in the country, and to give circulation and emphasis to it The Observer is printing it conspicuously. "By royal command that excellent gentleman and trust-worthy custodian, Mr. George R. Sheldon, the treasurer of the Republican national committee, has visited the White House as Saul at the feet of Gamaliel and learn from an eminently "practical" man how best to raise the sinews of war. The White House bulletin which narrates the important meeting gives the assurance that the President having put some ginger in the campaign most chemists would call it dynamite will now impart vigor to a delicate patient by a hypodermic injection of greenbacks. The Washington correspondent of our neighbor, The Herald thus speaks of the immediate effects of the active intervention of Mr. Roosevelt in the matter of a comparatively empty campaign treasury: "There will be something doing in the region in which Mr. Sheldon circulates in the very near future. Balance sheets of the campaign fund, totals from which are reported to the President, indicate that it has increased heavily since he took up the matter of adding to the assets. Several large contributions which have been hanging back have been shaken down by the President's vigorous methods and have rattled into the treasury. "Mr. Roosevelt's qualifications for this work are beyond dispute. The past has shown that in raising campaign funds he is unembarrassed by ordinary conditions of official propriety or common decency. "Who but Theodore Roosevelt would have sent for 'My dear Harriman' to raise money on the eve of an election, coupling with the invitation the stimulating assurance that a few weeks hence, before I write my message, I shall get you to come down to discuss certain government matters not connected with the campaign?" A Tammany grafter taking his toll of suffering and shame could not have been more direct. "Who but Theodore Roosevelt would have directed two years later an investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission of the Union Pacific Railway system, upon the receipt of information conveyed by Mr. James Schofield Sherman that Mr. Harriman declined to be mulcted further for campaign contributions? "Who but Theodore Roosevelt could have detached from his cabinet the Secretary, who was officially most intimately connected with commerce and industry, and therefore with great corporations, and make him the chairman of the Republican national committee? "Who but Theodore Roosevelt would have sought, through his personal selection of such chairman, a contribution of $100,000 from the Standard Oil Company, to help re-elect himself? "Who but Theodore Roosevelt would for his own protection have written simultaneously a letter which directed Mr. Cortelyou to return the Standard Oil contribution and then tacitly permit its retention and actual use in the campaign? "Who but Theodore Roosevelt, with the money of Mr. Harriman, the Standard Oil Company

TO CONFEDERATE VETERANS. State Chairman Eber Harbes is instructing Letter. State Chairman A. H. Eller has sent out to Confederate veterans in every part of the State the following letter: "Knowing it gives me great pleasure to write you a few lines in regard to the campaign and to enclose you some reading matter, which I hope may be interesting to you. "The Republican newspapers and speakers make a great hue and cry, because they say the Democrats do not nominate Confederate soldiers to office. Our State ticket will use the names of Dr. B. H. Dixon, for State auditor, and Mrs. W. A. Graham for assessor of agriculture, both general Confederates, and treaters of thousands of the brave men of the States. "You will not find the name of a single Confederate in the Republican State ticket. "The same Republican party that now says it favors holding pensions voted against the bills to a man in 1894. They did, however, when in power, elect Abe Millender, a black negro, to be the assessor over Henry Reid, a white Confederate soldier. Reid refused to adjourn the legislature in honor of Robert E. Lee, and was passed through our section Tuesday and sold Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Willoughby each a pair of glasses. Mrs. C. D. Smith happened to the misfortune of getting some sawdust in his eyes Tuesday evening, and it gave her so much pain that Mr. Smith took her to Greenville to the doctor Wednesday for his treatment. R. E. Willoughby went to Greenville yesterday to sell tobacco. We learn that a preacher from Wilson will preach at Smith's school house Saturday night, Oct. 17th, and Sunday, 18th, at 11 a. m. Mills Smith carried a load of tobacco to Greenville this morning. Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Smith went to C. L. Tyson's Saturday. The public school at Smith's school opened Monday morning with Miss Mary Brooks principal and Miss Mary Joyner assistant teacher. We hope and believe that they will be considerably help in our Sunday school. Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Smith went to Greenville Tuesday. Ivy Smith and Lloyd Smith went to Greenville Tuesday. F. Marian Smith and Miss Rosa D. Smith went to Greenville Tuesday. Jack Frost put in an appearance this morning being the first of the season that we've seen, but not enough to do much damage. AFRICAN MARRIAGES.

Peculiar Customs of the Different Tribes.
The marriage customs of west and southwest Africa are in many cases peculiar. They differ, of course, in different tribes, but have broad lines in common. A coastal tribe always considers itself superior to an inland tribe, and even its meanest member claims to rank higher than the most powerful man of an inland tribe. A man may marry any woman he likes of any tribe, it being held that he gives her his own status, whatever that may be, but it is almost unheard of for a woman to marry "beneath" her. As a superior tribe, like the Mpongwe, look to marriage with white men and frequently attain to it. The parents on both sides rule absolutely in the matter of marriage between tribes. First the would-be bridegroom goes only half-dressed to the consent of the bride's parents. Then he returns with gifts, and the father calls in other members of the family to view the bride. On the third day the bride is carried off, and the marriage is consummated. In the old days it was a year's journey to the bride's home, and the bride was not to be seen until she had been installed in the dowry. On the fourth day she takes her parents to her new home, and the groom's relatives, when next he calls his prospective mother-in-law provides a feast for himself and his relatives. The last and latest custom is that of the Mpongwe, who marry with gifts, and the bride is carried off by night, and the groom's relatives, when next he calls his prospective mother-in-law provides a feast for himself and his relatives.
