WILL FARMERS TAKE ADVICE? We are in receipt of a commu-6.24 nication from an experienced tobacco man in the West, and among other things he asks this significant question: "Don't you think the more you advise 26 farmers to plant small crops of 49 tobaceo the harder they will strive to do the reverse ?" Since se receiving this communication we ^{2 05} have thought much on this line, and it really seems that the query carries with it a most significant truth, that the farmers are determined to act directly in oppo sition to the advice given them 7.58 on the tobacco subject through the new spapers and trade journals of the country. It seems strange that intelligent mer. should be so blind to their own interest and suspicious of foul play from those who attempt to give them the best advice on a 0.46 subject that is of so much importance to them. Through month's of hard toil the Southern Tobacco Journal 13.50 has striven to give its farmer 1.90 readers the very best advice on this subject. All the time we 14.29 have advocated small crops and good tobacco, and yet we find that the planters are suspicious 1.8

IMPROVE THE HIGHWAYS.

In his speech before the tobacco growers Tuesday Col. Grimes re SPECIAL OFFER: ferred to the rapid growth and developement of Pitt county in the cause of education. He said educational progress and improved highways went hand in hand and made more for the development of the material prosperity of the people than anything else. There is nothing the people of this county can do that will add as much wealth in as short time to what we already have as the improvement of our highways. Like education it requires agitation to get this im provement. Unfortunately those whom improved roads would
