What secret relation there is between matrimony and needle-work is one of the seven wonders of the world.

There is no prettier sight than a woman engaged on a dainty bit of needlework for her trousseau—artists have made it immortal—but in the name of the necessity for providing dozens and dozens of undergarments, dresses enough to last years, and hat ditto?

Those who were not expecting congress to do any reforming of the tariff are not likely to be disappointed.

A Nebraska girl swallowed a lot of gun cotton with suicidal intent, and the doctors tied her to keep her from exploding.

Senator Clay of Georgia, says the duty congress is putting on cotton bagging will cost the South five million dollars a year.

If you are not doing your part to help Greenville grow, you are not the proper person to complain at what somebody else does.

Washington dispatches say that President Taft has taken sides with Senator Aldrich for the defeat of the income tax proposition.

B. N. Duke has made another donation of $50,000 to Trinity College at Durham, making a total of $75,000 he has contributed to that institution.

Diamonds on the free list will give lots of comfort to farmers and producers. Being permitted to buy diamonds free of tariff duty is a great privilege.

Just think of a chewing gum trust forming with nearly seven million dollars capital. Who ever thought there was so much money in such a small thing.

About half of tax listing time has gone by, and the outlook is that folks must come up faster in the next two weeks or somebody is going to be double taxed.

Senator Overman says the tariff bill now being considered by congress is the most unjust and iniquitous ever passed. Yet there are Democrats who are helping it along.

The way the Sugar Trust has been made to cough up ten and a half million dollars in Philadelphia, shows that the trusts can be reached when the courts go after them right.

It is beginning to look like it makes little difference, so far as the interests of the people are concerned, what the political complexion of congress is, as they all more or less eat out of the same spoon when they get there.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale, the aged chaplain of the United States senate, died Thursday at his home in Boston. He was 87 years of age and had been in failing health several months.

Several towns in the State are planning for fourth of July celebrations. If Greenville wants a large crowd in town about that time it is time some steps were being taken in that direction.

The Reflector has received a number of congratulations on the slogan that was selected for Greenville. It is generally conceded that "Our Greenville, yours if you come," has the true ring to it.

The State Club is a new social organization added to the number existing in Raleigh. This club is composed of State officers and those connected with the State work at the capital, the membership being limited to fifty.

Opponents of the income tax are getting ready to offer a substitute for the bill now pending in the senate. Of course, the rich folks want to dodge all the paying themselves and have it put on the poor folks through high tariff.

The uplift is the name of a little paper that has been started under the auspices of the Stonewall Jackson Training School at Concord. We have received the first copy and it contains much interesting matter about the school.

The Durham Herald is wondering "what it would be like if the Democrats were to get together and adopt such a platform as they really want." Guess it would be just like it is now, the men elected on the platform voting contrary to it.

There is much good property in and around Greenville on which there should be buildings if you are contemplating the purchase of a lot here, but holding back with the thought that it is going to be cheaper, you will only miss your calculation.

The congressional party chaperoned by Congressman John H.
Small have returned to Washington from their trip through Eastern North Carolina over the route of the proposed inland waterway. They express delight over the trip and are enthusiastic for the waterway.

We see no reason for criticising Governor Kitchin for giving good positions at his disposal to men who were prominent in helping him get his office. To do so is both human nature and a rule of politics. For one we have always believed that "to the victors belong the spoils."

If men could destroy their past utterances, embarrassing parallels might not jump up to show their insincerity in either former or latter statements. For instance, what Senator Simmons said about Mr. Bryan in the campaign of 1908, and what he says about the same man in 1909, do not tally well together.

You had just as well get the matter fixed in your mind that if you fail to list your taxes before the county commissioners the penalty will be double tax-

The whole month of June is set apart for listing, list takers are in every township convenient to the people, and there is no excuse for failure to list.

We see that Warrenton, a town very much smaller than Greenville, is to have a large cotton factory. Greenville certainly ought to move up for something like this. If smaller towns with less capital and few advantages can secure large factories, it looks like our people might do the same thing.

Ex-Governor R. B. Glenn is reported to have enjoyed a good laugh when he read that story from Washington City sent to the Charlotte Observer about himself and Mr. Josephus Daniels succeeding Senators Overman and Simmons. No doubt others enjoyed a laugh over the article, as it was not hard to see that the author must have been drawing largely on imagination.

The government received information that filibustering expeditious for Venezuela were being fitted up at Elizabeth City and Edenton, in this State, and precautionary steps were taken to prevent such invasion of neutrality laws. Revenue cutters are patrolling Eastern North Carolina waters for the purpose of preventing the departure of such an expedition.

The old saying is going away from home to learn the news, hence that is a rather interesting statement by Mr. H. E. C. Bryan, Washington City correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, which he sends that paper regarding a reported movement to have the two present North Carolina senators succeeded by Mr.
Josephus Daniels and ex Gov.
R. B. Glenn.

The Herald says Durham secured a large cotton mill just by a little effort on the part of the citizenship. The Reflector believes that proper effort on the part of the people of this town would secure some factories here. They certainly are needed enough for something along this line to be done, and there is every opportunity here to make manufacturing enterprises pay.

We have received the catalogue of the A. and M. College at Raleigh. The issue of this year includes, in addition to the various courses in agriculture and in engineering, a full list of the alumni of the college. A glance at this list shows that the young men educated at the college are closely following the professions for which they were trained. These men are becoming a power in the State's industrious life. Persons desiring copies of the catalogue may address Registrar's Office, West Raleigh, N. C.

One of the most ungrateful things we know of in connection with Charlotte, is the special tax which that city levies on the newspapers. Charlotte is the greatest town in North Carolina, and its prestige is due more to the newspapers there than to any other factor. These papers work hard for Charlotte day after day, and that they should have to pay a special tax for this privilege is absurd. It would be about as reasonable to tax ministers for the privilege of preaching in the city, or for a man to charge board against the cow that furnishes milk and butter for his family and make her pull a plow or a dray to pay her board. This special tax against newspapers is one that Charlotte should hasten to wipe out, from a sense of gratitude if nothing else.

Rev. A. B. Crumpler, who was once a Methodist minister but several years ago left that church and became the leader of what is known as the Holiness sect, has publicly recanted his Holiness church to return to the church of his first love. He also urged those who followed him into his Holiness church to return to the churches with which they formerly affiliated.

Of all the towns of wonderful growth in North Carolina or any other Southern State none can surpass and few equal Spray, in this State. According to the Rockingham News, that town now has seven cotton mills, two woolen mills and numerous smaller industries, and there is always a demand for laborers at good wages. The annual payroll is $755,000 and employment is furnished 2,670 persons. This is a showing much larger towns might well be proud to boast.
It is all the more remarkable when coupled with the fact that only a few years ago Spray was a small village with no factories at all. Really its existence began as a manufacturing town, for it was of no consequence until far-sighted and enterprising business men began to build factories there. Then it rapidly sprang into an important manufacturing centre and it has continued to grow and its business to increase with every passing year. It furnishes evidence of what energy and pluck on the part of a few business men will do and also shows what building up of former waste places in our State has been done by the manufacturing industry.

While it is gratifying to note what progress Spray has made through its cotton mills and other factories it is still more gratifying to know that there are many Sprays on a larger or smaller scale in North Carolina.
Each one demonstrates the value of every new cotton mill or manufacture of that kind is to its locality and to the State as a whole, shows with what care the industrial enterprise in our State should be fostered.—Charlotte Observer.

The alignment on the tariff question, at present, demonstrates that this is a large country and the interests of different sections are diversified, and conflict with each other. It also demonstrates the fact that our contention, a year ago, for a platform with but few planks, was wise—and events should now learn the makers of platforms a lesson for the future. It is a difficult matter to make a platform that will suit every part of the country, so the best plan is to have just a few planks as possible, and let the local issues right themselves. It now seems that what is one section's medicine is another's poison, and Democrats, as well as Republicans, in congress, are taking both the medicine and the poison in large doses. The end is not yet—and the consumer is not relieved of the pains of taxation that is forced upon him.
Relief is wanted badly.—Durham Sun.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Gastonia, June 14.—Tragic in the extreme was the death here yesterday morning shortly after 10 o'clock of Mr. Leonard Holland, who died in the city hospital as the result of injuries sustained Saturday night at 11 o'clock when he jumped from fast train No. 30 as it passed through Gastonia. His skull was fractured in at least two places, his head bore two or more gap-ping scalp wounds, both legs were broken and other marks of the accident were apparent on his body.

Asheville, N. C., June 15.— Two miners, Woody and English, are dead as the result of a cave-in of a mica mine in Mitchell county. The men were not killed outright, but Woody died before aid reached them, forty-eight hours after the accident. English died in a few hours after being taken out of the shaft.

For the next sixty days bids for a site for the North Carolina Knights of Pythias orphange will be received from towns desiring to secure the location for this institution. George I.
Hackney, Asheville, grand chancellor, is ex officio chairman and J. D. Pridgen, Durham, secretary of the Grand Commandery commission, that has in hand the matter of selecting the location of the orphange. A site at Durham is understood to have been tentatively selected, but this is subject to change in the event there is sufficient inducement offered by some other town in the State.

Mr. D. Smith, of Winterville, was brought to the city on the late Coast Line train, yesterday, and taken to the hospital. Mr.
Smith was suffering with a most acute and severe attack of appendicitis and immediate operation was found necessary.
When operated upon the appendix was found to be gangre-nous. Though he rallied well from the operation and seems some better today, his condition is most critical and little hope is entertained for his recovery.—

Coming June Thirtieth.

Of Miss Helen Marie Day, who with her sister, Miss Harriette Day and Miss Phyllis Woodall, will give a recital in Masonic Temple opera house on June 30th, the New York Post says:

Helen Marie Day's rendition of her songs was accomplished with the same care and success that mark all of her work. Her voice is fresh and brilliant in quality and is well managed. She received the enthusiastic applause of the audience and merited the many recalls that the audience insisted upon when her numbers were finished. She has a beautiful clear and expressive voice showing great skill, making much of the opportunities offered. Her work has been received with enthusiastic evidence of appreciation in many of the larger cities of the United States and Canada, where she has appeared. She has a fine stage presence and great dramatic ability.

ONLY A BLACK SHEEP.

But He Gave a Man Cold Shivers.
Mr. M. J. Briley, who lives at the Leonidas Fleming place, five miles from town, had an experience a few nights ago that affords himself and neighbors some amusement since it is over.
Mr. Briley was awakened about 2 o'clock by the barking of his dogs. He looked out to see what the dogs were after and they had bayed something on the porch but were giving the object of their barks plenty of distance.
He crept out to a corner of the porch for a better view and saw a big black something standing in the end of the porch, apparently undisturbed by the barking of the dogs.

Seeing this big black object in his porch put cold chills to chasing across Mr. Briley's back until after watching for some moments from his hiding place behind the corner he concluded it looked like a sheep. He went back after his wife to join in the investigation and they found that it was in fact a black sheep. Just how the sheep got there at that time of night could not be told, for no neighbor nearer than two miles had any sheep.

A True Sign of the Actual.

One of our Durham contemporaries, we forget which one just at present, but both are good, tells an interesting incident in connection with the taking of the oath of office of Judge James S. Manning. The Bible used in administering the oath of office to the new member of the Supreme Court was one given him by his father in March, 1871. Judge Manning had left and used the Bible ever since and it is certainly something that should indicate to others the true inward nature of the man. This one sign should be as true as a man's nose for his mother. All outside glitter, which may or may not be a correct indication, can be passed aside, because such a sign alone indicates the true spirit of the man.

The Bible given him by his father thirty-eight years ago had been kept and treasured by Judge Manning and such

Why RALSTON SHOES are non-wrinkling

As you have probably noticed, most shoes have a tendency to wrinkle and "crack up" across the toe after the shoes have been worn a few times. This is the fault of the lasting (the process of pulling and stretching the leather over the wooden last.)

The RALSTON method has remedied this fault. Ralston shoes are first crimped (see illustration) then lasted. There are no wrinkles, no cracks, because every part of the vamp fits the last perfectly without stretching the leather at any point. This adds to the wear of the shoe. It also explains the reason why Ralston shoes retain their smart appearance until worn out.

There are other unusual features of RALSTON SHOE construction which will appeal to you. Come in and look over our new styles.

VANDERBILT GIVES A REASON.

Mr. Editor:
 I see some of the papers are claiming Mr. Taft gave the appointment of Judge to Henry G. Connor because the Republicans could not agree upon one of their number. That may look to some folks as the true situation, but I don't view it in that light. If the balance of the Republicans would keep their eyes on Marion Butler they would see the hog went through. It looks to me this way—that when President Taft narrowed his conclusions down to two men, Connor and Skinner, then it was Butler got in a piece of his devilish cunning work. He hates Skinner with undying hatred, so what does he do? He sends Mr. Taft (when he was almost persuaded to appoint Skinner) a communication that if he gave the appointment to Connor, he (Butler) would have the nomination held up in the senate and see that he was not confirmed. See? Butler wanted Connor to have it in preference to Skinner and by his threat forced Mr. Taft to give it to Connor. I give Butler credit (?) for Connor's appointment because of his audacity in trying to bulldoze the president, and if the president had been as mean a man as I am, he would have seen into Butler's trick to defeat Skinner. I say as mean a man as I am, as it has been said that it takes a mean man to catch up with a mean one.

I've studied Butler so much ever since he destroyed the Peoples Party, trying to overthrow the Republican party in North Carolina, that I am familiar with all his infernal tricks and can read his writing as fast as he pens it. He always takes the reverse side of what he wants, and it will be best always for any party to never look at the back of his neck, for he has led every party that has honored him to defeat and destruction. And my word for it, the best thing the Republicans in North Carolina can do, is to outlaw him at their next state convention and kick him out. For they will always have trouble with him as long as they allow him a voice in their affairs and deliberation.

Am I right? Ask yourself the question. If you had been in Mr. Taft's place, not knowing Butler for what he is, would you not done just as Mr. Taft did, and give it to Connor, when a man tries to bulldoze? I venture to say you would have done just like he did. Butler is no fool. But he is an infernal mean when he can't ride on top of everything he tackles, and in this case he caused the president to do what he wanted done to kill Skinner for Judge. I think I've said enough for you to see the hole the hog went through.

Yours Truly,
 Vanderbilt.

 It is a pleasure to call attention to the advertisement of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. The State greatly needs industrially trained men, and the college is rapidly helping to supply this need. Its graduates are busy and successful in many lines. Many of our farms show the practical value of their training. The railroads, public highways, drawing rooms and ship-building plants call on the college for civil engineers. Our lighting and water plants and our machine shops are being manned by its graduates. Not a few of its men are superintending or managing cotton mills and dyehouses. Its chemists are taking high rank in experimental stations. Industrial plants and departments of agriculture. You men cannot get better than fit themselves for their vocations at the same time that they are being educated.

Mrs. S. I. Dudley Dies Suddenly.
 The many friends of the family were greatly shocked about 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, upon learning that Mrs. S. I. Dudley had died suddenly at her home about a mile from town. Mrs. Dudley had a chill Sunday, and while she had been up and looking after her house hold duties since then she had complained of not feeling well. About 4 o'clock Wednesday she telephoned to a doctor for some medicine for her child who was also sick. Some later Mr. Dudley went to the house from his work and was talking to his wife as she lay down to rest. When he was about to leave the room she called him back in a tone that indicated that she was in distress, and turning back he was horrified to see that she was lying. She passed away in a few moments.

Mrs. Dudley was a daughter of the late Mr. D. H. Moore, and was married to Mr. Dudley about four years ago while he was deputy sheriff and they made their home in Greenville during his continuance in that office, afterwards moving to the Johnson place across the river where Mr. Dudley conducts a dairy. Besides the husband she leaves one child six months old.

A FEW FACTS ABOUT LIVER TROUBLES.
 A dull slug-gish liver always brings a dull, sluggish feeling to the entire body. When the liver works properly the blood courses through the bright red stream. When the liver is inactive the blood becomes dull and muddy, and it is full of poisons more or less. A real many people try to get a line, clear, pink and white complexion by rubbing things on their faces. They may rub a life-line and the same yellow complexion would remain for the liver causes it. Only bright red blood brings fine complexion. Blood loaded with impurities from the liver sends the impurities out through the pores of the skin and turns the skin a brownish yellow.

To get rid of the dull, heavy feeling and muddy yellow complexion get the liver to working again. Two five bottles of Bloodine will do it nine times out of ten. If you are troubled with constipation and straining use Bloodine Liver Pills with the Bloodine. For sale by M. M. Sauls, Ayden, N. C. and J. W. Orr, Greenville, N. C.

GREENVILLE ICE PLANT.
 How Running and Ready to Fill Orders.
 The Greenville Ice Plant, which The Reflector mentioned some weeks ago as being in course of construction, was recently completed and is now running on full time, turning out 14 tons of ice per day. City water has been put in at the ice plant, so that the filtered water can be used, and the product of the plant is absolutely pure. Hill & Johnson, the proprietors, are determined to see that the people have no cause to complain of not being able to get ice hereafter. The output of their plant is sufficient to supply the home demand and also have a surplus for filling out of town orders, which they will do promptly. For the city delivery they are now running four wagons that cover the town twice each day, morning and afternoon, and call orders will be filled between the regular rounds of the delivery wagons.

This is a home enterprise that should have the support of the people of the town. These gentlemen have at large expense established this plant, and it is in benefit to the town, both in convenience and industry. The very best way to build up your town is to stand by home enterprises.

SITE OF MADRID.
 Arid Now, It Once Abounded in Forest and Gardens.
 Travelers and it hard to believe that Madrid ever abounded with water. The modern town stands on so bleak and arid a site that the surrounding hills, save in early spring, are so parched and dusty and the water pedler's cry of "Agua! Agua!" is so insistent that one can hardly believe that Madrid must have been thrifty from the beginning.

Yet its ancient coat of arms was a large flint helmet surmounted by a tower with battlements striking it on either side, the ascending spires forming a sort of canopy around it. Appended was the motto:
 I was built on water,
 My walls are of flint.
 Such is my emblematic only of the city in its early days before Charles V. had started it on its headlong career of greatness merely because he credited its climate with being cured of a fever. He it was who first conceived the project of diverting it to the bank of Madrid. It was left, however, to his son Philip II. to promulgate the decree declaring the town to be again Corte.

At that time Madrid was a small town embowered in gardens and with its fountains and wells lavishly supplied by nature. The fountains, now a melancholy, stagnant stream, was of a most beautiful character for the royal mansion and the cutting down of the trees to swell the royal treasury the inevitable result. The sun of well rich 300 summers has burned and returned the site of the old town and its bestripped suburbs and dried up the natural moisture. At present the climate of Madrid is nearly the most trying in all Europe.—From Calvert's "Madrid."

A City of Changes.
 Cattaro, the Austrian sea gate of Montenegro, was held by Montenegro once for a little time. Montenegro acquired it in 1812 with the aid of a British squadron. Any inhabitant of Cattaro who was contemporary with the rise and fall of Napoleon must often have had to pause and think what country he belonged to, for, having been Venetian for centuries, Cattaro became Austrian by the treaty of Campo Formio, but in 1805 it passed to the hands of France. It was absorbed in the French empire in 1810 and wrested from it in 1813 and finally in 1814 Russia compelled Montenegro to give it up to Austria.

Sheridan Made the Rhyme.
 The prince regent, afterwards George IV., once offered 50 to any one who could find a rhyme for "porringer." This was merely child's play to Sheridan, who happened to be present. He scarcely a moment's thought he said:
 The Duke of York's daughter had,
 He gave the Prince of Orange,
 And now, by some means, it has four pounds.
 For there's a rhyme to porringer!
 —London Answers.

His Degree.
 "Has the son you sent away to college got his degree yet?"
 "I should say so! Why, he wrote last week that the faculty had called on him and conferred the honor degree. That boy's ambitious!"—Philadelphia Ledger.
