DUNN-COBB.

Pre-Nuptial Entertainments - Marriage and Reception

WITH MRS. HERBERT WHITE WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Two other pre-nuptial entertainments in honor of the Cobb-Dunn marriage took place Wednesday afternoon and night.

At 3 o'clock p. m. at her home on Greene street, Mrs. Herbert White gave the bride-elect and her maids a chafing dish party, that was truly a unique entertainment.

The color scheme of the home throughout was lavender, and the souvenirs to each of the bride's maids was a beautiful chafing dish apron worked in the predominating color, which they donned and proceeded to use the chafing dishes with dexterous hands.

In the dining room where a salad course with chocolate was served there were found at each plate a heart-shaped card on which in large tint were the letters "C-D" and across these was printed this verse:

The bride of tomorrow will receive a Dunn,
We wish her happiness and world's of fun,
May she have pleasures and sweet joys galore,
And she and her dear hubby live ever more.

The pretty paper napkins used were also ornamented with a heart bearing the same letters with an arrow piercing the heart.

WITH MRS. JOHN WOOTEN WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Wednesday evening from 8 to 11 Mrs. John Wooten entertained the immediate bridal party and a few out of town guests. Her pretty home was decorated in Christmas colors, red and green predominating everywhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooten, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cobb, parents of the bride-elect, met the guests at the door and cordially welcomed each. In the parlor the guests were received by Mrs. F. G. James and Miss Mary Latta, of Raleigh, and in the library by Mrs. James Little and Mrs. W. N. Holt, of Raleigh. The dining room was in charge of Mrs. Travis Hooker and Mrs. Lawrence Carr, and these assisted by Misses Pattie Wooten and Ruth Cobb served refreshments.

Various toasts were offered the coming bride by the guests that produced much merriment. Another interesting feature was cutting the bride's cake which contained a ring, a penny and a thimble, the finder of the ring being destined for the next bride, the penny foretelling good luck to the finder, and the thimble signifying that the finder should be an old maid. In cutting the cake it happened that Mr. Walter Wilson got the ring, so his "announcement" may be looked for. Miss Sallie Dunn, of Scotland Neck, found the lucky penny and Miss Lottie Blow the thimble.

The out of town guests present not mentioned above, were Miss Lucy Brown, of Greenville, Tenn., Miss Lottie Woodson, of Shelby and Miss Lottie Gaylord, of Plymouth.

THE MARRIAGE AND RECEPTION

The marriage of Miss Irma Lee Cobb, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cobb to Mr. Albion W. Dunn, of Scotland Neck, an event that has been looked forward to with interest for several weeks, took place at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Memorial Baptist church. The edifice was profusely decorated, the pulpit and choir gallery being almost a bank of green and white. The windows were darkened, and electric lights from the ceiling and tapers about the altar added a soft light to the beautiful marriage scene.

As many friends assembled to witness the ceremony and were escorted to seats by the ushers, delightful music waited from the organ under the skillful touch of Miss Olive Gaston. When the bridal party arrived in the vestibule, Mr. Charles James sang "All for You" and as they entered and passed to their respective positions a choir of six voices sang Lohengrin's Wedding Chorus.

The ushers, Messrs. Burt James, Walter Wilson and Cecil Cobb, of Greenville; Carl Ray Smith, of Timmonsville, S. C., John Moore Picot, of Littleton, and Herbert McDowell, of Scotland Neck, were first to pass up the aisles. Then came the bride's maids, each wearing dresses of white lingerie, with broad pink sashes and large black picture hats, and carried bouquets of pink carnations. These were Misses Mary James, Lottie Blow and Glenn Forbes, of Greenville; Irene Lacy, of Raleigh; Majorie Scott, of Mebane and Sallie Dunn, (sister of the groom) of Scotland Neck. They ascended the rostrum forming a semi-circle around the altar.

Next was the maid of honor, Miss Lucille Cobb, sister of the bride, dressed in pink and pink picture hat, with a bouquet of bride roses.

The bride entered with her father. She was handsomely robed in Oriental satin trimmed with Duchess lace and seeded pearls interspersed with crystals, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses, her tulle veil being looped with the same flowers. As they approached the altar the groom came through the choir door from the rear, accompanied by his brother, Mr. Ashley Dunn, of Scotland Neck.

The couple met and advanced together upon the rostrum where the ceremony was performed by Rev. R. A. McFarland, of Scotland Neck.

As they left the altar the ushers and bride's maids formed incoupees, Mendelssohn's Wedding March being played as they passed out.

Following the ceremony a public reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Fifth street. The decorations at the home were beautiful and in perfect keeping with the happy occasion. The guests were received in the hall by Mrs. J. G. Moye and Mrs. Charles Laughinghouse, in the library by Mrs. F. G. James and Mrs. J. L. Wooten.

The receiving line in the parlor besides the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cobb, Mr. Ashley Dunn and Miss Lucille Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Biggs, Jr., and Mrs. Kate Dunn. The happy couple as they received the congratulations of friends stood beneath a huge bell of white chrysanthemums, the arched bay window seat behind them being a bank of white covered with palms and ferns. All around the room were restoons of green and white tulle.

The receivers in the dining room were Mesdames R. O. Jeffress, J. L. Hassell and J. L. Little, and little Misses Helen Laughinghouse, Erneating Forbes, Novella Moye, Helen Grimes and Nell White were the servers of a salad course and cream and cake.

In the library was a most elaborate display of wedding

SKINNER-MINOR

A Pretty Wedding Celebrated at Methodist Church in Oxford

Oxford, Dec. 30 - The Methodist Episcopal church was the scene of a lovely wedding on Wednesday evening, when Miss Daisy Elizabeth Minor became the bride of Dr. Louis Cotten Skinner, of Greenville. The handsome edifice was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and roses. A profusion of lighted candles added beauty to the decorations.

Before the appointed hour for the ceremony, Miss Alice Hundley, of Durham, an intimate friend of the bride, rendered several charming musical selections. Miss Eva Minor, a sister of the bride sang in a most lovely manner, "O Promise Me," and "I Love You."

The ushers entered the aisles of the church in the following order, as the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march pealed forth from the organ: Messrs. W. T. Minor, of Durham, C. Stuart Carr, of Greenville, E. B. Ficklen, of Greenville, from the right door; Messrs. A. A. Hicks, R. M. Minor, of Oxford, and Rev. B. F. Huske, of Greenville, from the left door. The dame of honor, Mrs. A. M. Hicks, sister of the bride, elegantly gowned in white liberty satin, carrying white roses, followed the ushers. Then the maid of honor, Miss Julia Minor, attired in pink mesaline, with a basket of La France roses, entered. The groom entered from the vestry door with his best man, Mr. Frank Skinner, of Greenville. The bride, radiant in white mesaline, trimmed with pearls and veiled with orange blossoms, entered the church on the arm of her brother, Col. S. W. Minor, of Durham, by whom she was given away. Rev. L. M. Marsey was the officiating minister, using the impressive ring ceremony.

The bride, a lovely type of fair womanhood, gifted and accomplished, is one of the most popular of the young women of the town. The groom is one of the most promising of the doctors of Greenville, where he is justly popular with a host of friends. The happy couple left for a tour of northern cities for their honeymoon.

Among the out-of-town visitors for the wedding wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Fiesler, Mr. and Mrs. C. Stuart Carr, Misses Margaret and Ethel Skinner, Rev. B. F. Huske, of Greenville, Miss Annie Louise Vaughn, Messrs. W. T. and S. W. Minor, Miss Alice Hundley, of Durham; Mrs. Caroline Turner and Mr. Sam Harris, of Henderson.

Record Price for Cotton.

Tuesday Greenville made a record price for cotton. That day Monday Cobs. bought these bales that were raised by the late Elder Fred McGlohon, and the price paid for it was 17.5. The cotton was a fine grade of long staple and at the present basis for middling was fully worth the price paid for it.

gifts, there being table after table laden with china, old ivory, brass, silver, cut glass and other unnumberable articles.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn leave on the 6:20 Norfolk & Southern train for an extended trip to Florida. The bride's going away gown was black chiffon broadcloth with hat and gloves to match. - Daily Reflector Dec. 30.

FROM FORMER PITT COUNTIAN.

Deifina, Hidalgo Co., Tex. December 26, 1909.

Editor Reflector: Years have passed since I left North Carolina (1892), and several years since I did not get The Reflector any more, for I had left Texas and went to Mexico. I am back now in Texas for a few months and will return to Mexico next spring.

As you well know a great many Americans are enticed to go to Mexico and buy lands from companies formed by some very unscrupulous persons, some of them are even indicted for using the U. S. mail fraudulently. I own a little property myself in Mexico. I know the neighboring republic thoroughly, and I should warn anyone intending to go to Mexico from those land agents and land companies who have their grand luxurious offices in a great many of the principal cities of the U. S., for instance St. Louis, Kansas City, Pittsburg, etc.

When anyone wants to go to Mexico (the best would be if several would go together) I herewith advise them not to buy from companies, but directly from the Mexican owners. There are Americans now in all larger Mexican cities, especially in Mexico's best soap, Tampico.

The lands about Tampico are the finest in the world, especially the so called Herastio Valley, where the soil is 15 to 40 feet deep, excellent pure water, navigable streams, where all kinds of tropical fruits grow in abundance, corn and sugar cane is a staple crop, plenty of rats, no malaria, no epidemics, in an altitude of from 100 to 500 feet above sea level. In my next letter I'll write you about that wonderful land and climate. I am no agent, never would lower myself, but what I say, what I write is for the good of our best interests and those of abroad.

I am in my 73rd year. Doing good to others, in short "the golden rule" was and is my motto. Even while I am here I am not idle; in spite of my age I do not feel it, and I am teaching a public school. I am waiting here until friends of mine will be able to return with me to Mexico; if so some of my relatives will go. Texas is not so prosperous any more as it has been years ago. Cyclones do a great deal of harm in many localities. People will not pay any longer than absolutely necessary to sell out their properties.

I never have forgotten North Carolina. I have two dear daughters living in Pitt county. Fate had separated me from them, but my heart is with them and everything I hope will turn out all right. Success to The Reflector in the new year we are about to enter.

I have decided to continue my tailoring establishment in Greenville. Thanking my many friends for the patronage they have given me in the past, I ask that they continue to call on me when wanting anything in my line. 14 1td 1tw Paul Mitrick

MISSIS WHICHARD ENTERTAIN.

In Honor of Their Guests Misses Hancock and Rowe.

The home of Mr. Ashley Whichard on Pitt street was a scene of old time hospitality Monday evening when Misses Verna and Bessie Whichard entertained in honor of their guests, Misses Elizabeth Hancock, of Oxford, and Lucy Rowe, of Aurora. Cards and other games formed the amusement of the evening. No prizes were given, but everyone seemed to delight in showing his or her skill and there was several hotly contested games from nine to eleven, when a salad course luncheon was served. After the luncheon the guests joined in a request for piano music of Miss Hancock. She rendered several pieces well, which were duly appreciated by all.

At twelve the guests departed for their various homes with many expressions of pleasure, and with well wishes for the young ladies in their school work the coming year.

Miss Hancock, who has been visiting relatives in New Bern, as a student in Oxford Seminary, of which Miss Verna Whichard is a faculty member. Teacher and pupil have a loving bond of friendship, which is very beautiful to see. They left this morning to resume their work at the seminary.

THE GREENVILLE POSTOFFICE.

Business Increasing and Getting Close to Free City Delivery Basis.

Postmaster R. C. Plantain has furnished The Reflector some interesting comparative figures of post office receipts which show how business here is growing.

For the last three months of 1908 and 1909 the showing is as follows:

Oct. - '08	$1,023.56	'09	$1,128.10
Nov. - '08	$663.07	'09	$3,341.11
Dec. - '08	$697.76	'09	$981.22
The two fiscal years beginning April 1st, compared by quarters is as follows:
April 1 to June 30 - 1908,	$1,919.78;	1909,	$2,105.69.
July 1 to Sept 30 - 1908,	$2,226.84;	1909,	$2,279.43.
Oct 1 to Dec 31 - 1908,	$2,337.18;	1909,	$2,991.63.

The receipts for the quarter Jan 1 to March 31, 1909, were $2,274.29. If the present corresponding quarter this year shows a gain of $919.65, or about $117 per month, it will bring the receipts for the fiscal year ending March 31st to $10,000, which will entitle Greenville to free city delivery. We are getting close to this basis and can reach it if the people will work for it.

A New Year Suggestion

To The Reflector: We are just entering another new year. Let every one begin it with a resolution to be better people, and help to make their country better.

I will suggest one way to make our country better - work for prohibition.

We have had one year of it, of which we are very thankful, but it isn't as good yet as we would like.

As this will be election year again, I hope all voters will try to get such men in office that will work to keep liquor out of the state. Let us pray that the next legislature may pass some law to keep our prohibition states from sending it to our State.

Of course we all know what a curse it is to humanity, so let us work hard to have a first class prohibition State. A Subscriber.

AFTER TOBACCO TRUST.

Attorney General Eckett on Hard to Watch Progress.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 - Among the men in rested listeners today at the hearing of an appeal before the Supreme court of the United States in the case of the government for the dissolution of the tobacco trust was Attorney-General T. W. Eckett, of North Carolina.

Mr. Eckett came to Washington especially to hear the argument in this case and this fact was discussed by some Tar Heels as indicative of a purpose on the part of the State administration to take some sort of action against the American Tobacco Company, which had its origin in North Carolina, and which has always operated extensively there.

It is an open secret that friends of the present State administration have been much disappointed as the result of its failure to make a move against the American Tobacco Company while the Federal government display unusual activity in an effort to bring it to terms. - T. J. Pence in Raleigh News and Observer.

LAGOON SHARKS.

Alutaki Islanders Catch Them by the Tails With a Lasso.

The island of Alutaki, one of the Hervey group, in the Pacific, is surrounded by islets underneath which are submarine caverns, the haunts of sharks. The natives classify them as lagoon sharks, which are quite ferocious at times and spare nothing they can seize. The lagoon shark, about six feet long, is esteemed a delicacy, and the natives supply their feasts with the tooth-some dish by a remarkable style of fishing.

Arrived over the entrance to the shark cave, the fisherman leaves his canoe to the care of his companions and dives to the bottom, carrying with him a slipknot of strong three sharks at a time, well satisfied and drowsy after feeding in the lagoon, with their tails toward the entrance. Selecting the largest, the diver adroitly adjusts a noose over the tail, taking care that it hangs loosely. If he has another noose he secures a second shark.

The shark catcher now, with one bound on the white, sandy bottom, rises to the surface in order to assist his friends in hauling up the fish. The astonished sleepers beneath suddenly find themselves ascending tails first to the surface.
Once inside the canoe a smart blow from an ax between the eyes or on the nose ends the career of the fish.

One of the most successful shark catchers at Alutaki was Reubena.
Long practice had made him almost amphibious. One morning he started off with two companions to one of the more distant islets.

On entering it Reubena found several sharks lazily resting themselves. In a trice a slipknot was skillfully passed over the tail of the nearest shark without exciting its ire. The shark at this critical juncture moved so that there was not room enough for Reubena to get out.

He gently stroked the side of the shark and succeeded in inducing it to move away so as to permit his exit. This operation is said to be very agreeable to the fish, but if through nervousness the shark be sure to be excited and the diver's life would be the certain forfeit.

Reubena was making his escape when, to his dismay, another large shark came back from feeding in the lagoon and blocked up the entrance with his unwieldy body. To get out now was impossible, for even Reubena dared not stroke the head of the monster.

The captive fisherman waited, hoping the shark would go farther in so as to leave the opening free.
The huge fish did not move. Reubena's agony became intense. Seconds seemed to be hours. At last the shark passed on quietly into the interior, and Reubena was barely able to get out of the cave and rise to the surface. His associates in the canoe, who had become anxious for his safety, seized him by the hair and pulled him in, blood flowing from his ears, eyes and nostrils.

Getting at the Facts.

A shrewd old Vermont farmer went into a lawyer's office the other day and proceeded to relate the circumstances in a matter about which he thought it would be profitable to "go to law."
"You think I hev got a good case?" he finally asked.

"Very good indeed," the lawyer assured him. "You should certainly bring suit."
"What would your fee be fer the whole thing?" the old farmer asked.

"Fifty dollars," was the prompt response.
The client pulled out an old wallet, extracted a roll of bills and counted out $50.
"Now," he said, "you hev got all you would get out of this case anyhow, so I s'pose you tell me honestly just what you think my chances of winnin' a suit are."

A Matter of Time.
A Toledo lawyer was retained to defend an individual charged with housebreaking and larceny. The accused requested that his lawyer outline his plan of defense. This being done, the prisoner evinced much disgust.

"How long is it goin' to take to get through with this case?" he groaned.

The lawyer smiled politely. "I think," said he, "that it will take me about two weeks, but I'm afraid it's goin' to take you about four years."

MIGHTY FINE
Mrs. Mattie Cain of Carrsville
Thinks all the More of Her
Doctor Since He Advised
Her to Take Cardui.

Carrsville, Ky.—"My doctor," writes Mrs. Mattie Cain, "who advised me to take Cardui, for my troubles, is a mighty fine doctor, and I say God bless Cardui and the people who make it."
"Before I took Cardui, I suffered with female troubles for sixteen years. I would have to seek for a doctor every three months, and oh how creditably I suffered!

I would cramp and have convulsions and bleed like I would die. At last I took Cardui and oh what a surprise I found it was the medicine for me!
From the first bottle, I began to mend
and now I am well, can do more work, can walk and go where I please and it don't hurt me, and I owe it all to Cardui." Cardui helps sick women back to health. It has been doing this for over 50 years. It is not a laxative, or a heart or kidney medicine—it is a woman's medicine.

If you are a woman, try it.

FRIDAY, JAN. 7, 1910.

Congress has pulled itself together again.

If you get any booze now you must order it for yourself.

How is that new leaf coming on?

Paal for Greenville this year.

New year resolutions are good only as long as they are kept.

Did your new year resolution hold through the first day?

Happy New Year to everybody.

The Reflector wishes every reader a happy and prosperous new year.

Tammany is getting in the neck by the new mayor of New York.

In the language of Tiny Tim, "God bless us every one" this new year.

Habit is a great thing, and with some it is yet hard to stop writing 1909.

It looks like the new year resolution some folks made to get married is making good.

Now that the holidays are over, let everybody buckle down for a year of earnest work.

Everybody is glad that last week's cold wave is over. But you can look for more of them this month and next.

Three big trust companies in New York have joined together in one bigger trust company.

Do not run when you see the bill collector coming. He will corner you sooner or later.

If all of 'em had their deserts, Morse would have plenty of company in the Atlanta prison.

Those who are holding some cotton may yet see sixteen cents for it. The price is now within half a cent of that figure.

Raleigh is having trouble with the bidders to construct her auditorium. The contractor whose bid was accepted failed to come to time.

John R. Bradley, who backed Dr. Cook, is going to try a polar expedition for himself. We hope he will reach the North Pole.

Nothing will make you cuss much quicker than a busted water pipe. It even beats trying to fit the stove pipe.

Ice melts in the summer time, and the wood pile and the coal bin melts almost as fast in this kind of weather.

Our resolution for the new year: Be as good as we can, do all the good we can, help every body we can. May strength be given to do this all through the year.

It has broken out in a new place. Cook and Peary are about to be forgotten and the squabble is now between "Dixie" and "Yankee Doodle."

About the next thing they will be talking is Easter, and the Christmas bird will hardly give a breathing spot before the hat all comes along.

Atlanta does not care much for the talk about her city prison and infamous treatment of prisoners. It brings the city into notice once more.

Eureka! Carry the news to Capitan. We've found the North Pole right here in "Our Greenville, yours if you come."

No need of further worry about whether Cook or Peary found the North Pole. It is a personal discovery with everybody at any of the place.

One trouble is, there are too many people not willing to accept the opinion of somebody else, even the president, as to what whiskey is. They want to eat it for themselves.

It is fortunate for the town that the water supply had got somewhere nearer back to a normal condition when the fire alarm came Monday night. If it had been a few days sooner when there was little water in the standpipe the result might have been disastrous.

One thing that every man in Pitt county should advocate this year is good roads. It is campaign year, and such interest ought to be awakened that the next legislature will be asked to authorize the county to vote on the question of issuing sufficient bonds to build a system of good roads all over the county.

Col. M. Fairbrother is back in Greensboro, has made arrangements and renewed the publication of "Everything" and his "hot stuff" after a year's suspension while the Col. was on a vacation in California. "Everything" before its suspension became the most popular magazine in the South.

A visiting lady remarked to The Reflector man the other day, that she was glad to see Greenville had a rest room, and found it a great convenience. "One other thing you ought to get after," she added "is so much spitting on the sidewalks. It ought to be stopped." To all of which we heartily agree.

Maybe one of your new year resolutions was not to kick but push. If you did not make such a resolve it is not too late to do so now. Greenville does not need the kicking class this year, but wants men who will put their shoulder to the wheel and push with all their might. This year should be made a good one along the line of advancement.

In the recent anniversary edition of The Reflector it was told what Greenville and Pitt county had accomplished during the year. Hence we will not repeat that more than to say that it has been a good year for both town and county, and we hope the year will be even better. Let us all turn our endeavors in that direction.

The papers throughout North Carolina are speaking of the great progress made in all sections of the State during the year 1909. This is most gratifying. There is not a greater State in the Union than North Carolina, and none is more desirable to live in. In every avenue of industry this State offers opportunities that are unequalled elsewhere, and we have a climate that is unsurpassed. The State is also free from labor troubles and strikes that so affect some other sections, showing that among this class of our people there is remarkable contentment. Those looking for a place to settle should come to North Carolina.

Lets one of your mottoes for the new year be trade at home and keep your money at home. You do not help your home boys, nor yourself either, by sending your money to mail order houses. If you are in trouble of any kind you do not go to the mail order houses—they would laugh at your appeal—but you go straight to the home business man. If you want a donation for a church, a school, a sick or needy person, or any other worthy object, the mail order house does not give it to you, but the home merchant does. The home man sympathizes with you in your sorrows, he rejoices with you in your pleasures, he is your friend in time of need, therefore he is the one who is entitled to your trade.

We often thought there ought to be such a word as it always seemed to be a misapplication of married to say "Rev. So-and-so married the couple," but we did not know it had been coined. Hereafter let us use "marriify."

The new liquor law passed by congress went into effect January 1. It requires that all orders for intoxicants coming from dry territory be accompanied by the actual bona fide personal order of the consignee and prevents the general practice heretofore existing of one person for a score of others. The law is as follows:

"Section 2591. Any officer, agent or employee of any railroad company, express company or other common carrier, who shall knowingly deliver or cause to be delivered to any person other than the person to whom it has been assigned, unless upon the written order in each instance of the bona fide consignee, or to any fictitious person, or to any person under a fictitious name, any spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquor of any kind which has been shipped from any State, Territory, or district of the United States or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof into any State, Territory, or district of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both."

"See 240. Whoever shall knowingly ship or cause to be shipped from one State, Territory, or district of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or from any foreign country into any State, Territory, or district of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or any package of or package containing any spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquor of any kind, unless such package be so labeled on the outside cover as to plainly show the name of the consignee, the nature of its contents and the quality contained therein, shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, and such liquor shall be forfeited to the United States, and may be seized and condemned by like proceedings as those provided by law for the seizure and forfeiture of property imported into the United States contrary to law."

Section 2592. Any officer, agent or employee of any railroad company, express company or other common carrier, who shall knowingly deliver or cause to be delivered to any person other than the person to whom it has been assigned, unless upon the written order in each instance of the bona fide consignee, or to any fictitious person, or to any person under a fictitious name, any spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquor of any kind which has been shipped from any State, Territory, or district of the United States or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof into any State, Territory, or district of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both.

"See 240. Whoever shall knowingly ship or cause to be shipped from one State, Territory, or district of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or from any foreign country into any State, Territory, or district of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or any package of or package containing any spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquor of any kind, unless such package be so labeled on the outside cover as to plainly show the name of the consignee, the nature of its contents and the quality contained therein, shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, and such liquor shall be forfeited to the United States, and may be seized and condemned by like proceedings as those provided by law for the seizure and forfeiture of property imported into the United States contrary to law."

Bruce Tucker, aged 15 years, and youngest son of Mrs. N. E. Tucker, died Sunday at his home in Contentnea township, of rheumatic fever with which he had been suffering for some time. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at the family burying ground. Deceased was a brother of Mr. A. E. Tucker, of Greenville.

Tripp, Hart & Co., Ayden, N. C.

To The People of Greenville. Greenville, N. C. Dec. 4, 1910. About two months ago I came to the internet of the "Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America." The purpose of the organization is to educate the agricultural class in the science of farming, eliminate the profit from the farmer, and secure and maintain profitable and uniform prices for cotton and products. If such a work succeeds in Pitt county the farmer will be benefited; for whatever profit the farmer keeps the days.

Mr. C. C. Cobb, of Norfolk, and Mrs. Kincaid and Miss Wainwright, of Wilson, were visiting at B. P. Cobb's during the holidays. Miss Agnes Smith went to Snow Hill Thursday and returned Sunday. Miss Rosa Smith went to Farmville one day last week and returned Sunday.

Rev. W. F. Waters, of Ayden, came over Friday evening to hold his quarterly meeting at May's chapel Saturday and Sunday. Rev. G. Hinton Crumpler will preach at Smith's school house next Sunday the 9th. They have changed the regular appointment from 3rd Sundays to 2nd Sundays, and we hope all will take notice and try to be present on Sunday school at 8:30 a. m. on second Sundays.

Joe Smith went to Snow Hill one day last week and returned Sunday. Miss Lettie Smith spent last week with the family of C. L. Tyson near Kinston. Miss Lena Gary returned from Murfreesboro Monday evening. Miss Agnes Smith returned to the P. O. T. T. S. at Greenville this morning after spending the holidays at home.

Joe Cobb, of Standard, was visiting his uncle, B. P. Cobb, at Cobble last week. Misses Gary and Joyner, the teachers at Smith's school house, spent their school this morning, after spending the holidays at home. Joe Smith returns to his school at Wake Forest this evening.

We had cold winter weather just week, yesterday was a warming spring like day, and this morning seems like winter is coming again. Very sincerely, C. C. Heugepeth.

A WILD ELIZABETH REPTING. COX'S HILLS HEELS. Cox's Mills, N. C., Jan. 4. After spending the holidays with her parents, Miss Nina Dixon has returned to take charge of her school.

Misses Nina and Lissie Laughinghouse spent Saturday night and Sunday with the Misses Carr. Miss Lela Chapman spent part of last week with the Misses Carr. Miss Geneva Edwards and brother, Loren, spent Saturday night with Miss Lela Raach.

Miss Helen Haddock and Mr. Oscar Evans were married at the home of the bride's father, M. B. Haddock, at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Miss Cora Carr and Jimmie Edwards were visiting near Standard last week.

Charlie Evans has purchased E. H. Hardee's stock of woods, and will continue business at the same place. Miss Daisy Laughinghouse and brother, Wesley, were visiting the Misses Tyson last week. Miss Myrtle White, who has been very sick, is improving rapidly.

Rev. T. H. King preached an excellent sermon at Mills' school house Sunday afternoon. We regret very much that he will not be with us any longer. H. A. Moore and brother have sold their stock of goods to L. F. Everett.

Miss Queenie Cox, who has been visiting Miss Nancy Mills, has returned home. Dr. W. H. Wakefield, of Charlotte, will be in Farmville on Wednesday, January 19th, in Greenville on Thursday, January 20th. His practice is limited to diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat and fitting glasses. 114
