FRIDAY, AUGUST 5, 1910. OUR WEEKLY PAPER.

At the time of installing a type setting machine and other equipment, by which much improvement has been made in The Daily Reflector, both in general appearance and quality of reading matter, it was our purpose to follow with even a greater change in our weekly edition. Owing to the delay in getting some of the material wanted for this, the change in our weekly edition could not be made as soon as desired, but the change is coming with next issue. The next number of the weekly edition will be decidedly changed in appearance, and partially changed in name, instead of being eight pages as now, there will be sixteen, the pages being smaller and giving the paper more of a magazine form. A handsome engraved heading has been made for this, and the name of the paper when it goes out next week will be "The Carolina Home and Farm and The Eastern Reflector." The name may sound long, but when you see it you will say it is a pretty good combination.

There are various reasons why we desire to make these changes in our weekly edition. As the new part of the name implies, our purpose is to make it more of a home and farm paper than it has been heretofore. While it will continue to have its news and editorial features, more attention will be given to agricultural and farm matters than in the past. The smaller and more numerous pages will give opportunity to classify the reading matter in departments that will make it an attractive paper.

It is our purpose to make the weekly edition a paper that will appeal to and interest those especially who live on the farm, and we want every farmer in Pitt and surrounding counties, in fact throughout Eastern Carolina, to feel that it is his paper. Look for it next week, and help us to make "The Carolina Home and Farm and The Eastern Reflector" the best home and farm paper in the Eastern section of the State.

It is an inspiration to talk with Mr. John F. Evans, the manager for Pitt county of farm demonstration work of the State and Government Department of Agriculture. He is enthusiastic over his work, and it is no wonder that the people in various parts of the county whom he visits and instructs in improved farm work catch the spirit of enthusiasm from him. He says it does his heart good to observe the strides of improvement Pitt county farmers have made since he began the work among them two years ago. They have already increased their corn production fully twenty-five per cent, and in two years more he expects to see Pitt county farmers have a surplus of corn rather than having to buy as in the past. They are giving more attention to rotation of crops, also to clover, peas and other cover crops. Yertly Pitt is soon to take her place as the leading agricultural county in the State.

Like the Wilmington Dispatch, we would prefer seeing the scientists produce proof that the earth is seventy millions years old, even if we are not from Missouri.

Muzzling dogs is good to a certain degree, but to kill them would bring more safety.

In a recent issue of the Greenville Reflector contained this: "The Republicans throughout the state are getting ready to put up tickets. Just to see them knocked down. But they have to do something to make the government bosses think they are earning their jobs."

The most charitable construction we can place upon that assertion is that it was made from force of habit, and in the carelessness and recklessness that follows from habit. The percentage of increase in the Republican vote in North Carolina the past few years, the notes added to the Republican column, the increase in members of the general assembly, and the capture of three congressional districts in the last campaign, prove beyond a doubt that there is not a word of truth in the charge that the Republicans are merely putting up tickets to "see them knocked down."

The Reflector's charge that Republicans have to do something to make the government bosses think they are earning their jobs is a shot from a small-bore gun. It sounds like a report from a "Smart Aleck" street urchin, who is growing up without manners and without parental training. Such manners are merely put on to receive more objects of pity than contempt.

The forgetting came to the Reflector in a letter, with nothing to indicate who sent it, or what paper the clipping was taken. It is evidently taken from a Republican paper that like the office holders, is trying to "make a show for the money." It is the truth that hits, and what is quoted from The Reflector above went straight to the mark. No, bud, this writer is not in the street urchin class, but has been at it long enough to grow gray headed in the business. If his hair had not been a kind that doesn't turn gray, and we long ago learned to see through Republican tricks.

There is something new under the sun. Down in the third judicial circuit, where the democrats trafficked around until they beat Judge Ward with a young fellow so young that nobody knew whether he was capable of holding court, the lawyers have issued what they call "Impressions." It will be remembered after his defeat for the nomination Judge Ward resigned, and the governor appointed the nominee, young Whedbee. The lawyers in their "Impressions" certify that young Whedbee has the judicial temperament and got through his first attempt without a hitch. Thus a new rule is laid down. Hereafter, when a nominee's ability is an unknown quantity, all you have to do is get the lawyers to issue an "Impression," and the people will be satisfied that no mistake has been made.—Reidsville Weekly.

If the editor of the Weekly had started out for that special purpose, he could not have written an article that shows more clearly that he does not know what he is talking about.

Some scientist has asserted that man will lose the use of his feet in 1,000 years from now.—Wilmington Star.

By that time most of us will be done kicking and have no further use for feet. So why worry.

The Republicans may claim all they want to, that high tariff makes high wages, but the numerous strikes all over the country show that the wage scale does not enable laborers to meet the cost of living under the demands of a high tariff.

We do not pose as a fashion authority, so we refer the desire for a description of the "hobble skirt" to the editor of the Greenville Reflector.—Wilmington Dispatch.

This is the time of year when picking, preserving and fruit canning shows are held. The housekeeper who puts up most will have the best supply for use next winter. And the home made quality is much better and purer than the outside kind that are shipped in. It is the idea of making everything possible for home use that pays best.

Regardless of what your individual opinion might be on the question, the county executive committee decided for a voting primary to nominate county officers, and it is the duty of every Democrat in the county to support the action of the committee and do what is for the best interest of the party.

They may have it figured out all right, but the rest of us do not understand how the Democrats expect to elect two congressmen in the sixth district.—Durham Herald.

The chances are that they will elect neither, but a Republican in congress if both of the Democrats stay in the race until the election.

A friend of Dr. Cook says that gentleman is going to come forth again in the effort to establish his claim as to finding the North Pole. It strikes us that the public have heard about all they want of the claims of both Cook and Peary, and have them down in the fake class.

Some man fellow is trying to get the suffragist idea out of the heads of women by declaring that people cannot be in love and politics at the same time. Doubtless he thinks that if the women must give up either, it will be politics.

A California country girl, who said she never had enough candy in her life, broke away from home (es and went to San Francisco. There she raised a check from $1 to $50, but before laying in a stock of candy purchased a silk lavender vial. Then she got in jail and still had no candy.

Tom Dupree up and says he was on the eve of sending The Reflector an airship on account, but seeing we draw the line on them, he will try to find a hobble skirt. No, sir, we don't want that, either. The Wilmington Dispatch will trade with you for one.

Of course it is more or less inconvenient to both pedestrians and vehicles, but the work in progress can well be endured in view of the fact that we are to have so much better streets after a while.

Some scientist has asserted that man will lose the use of his feet in 1,000 years from now.—Wilmington Star.

A good printer is a man of the highest "type." He attends to his own "cases" and makes it a "rule" never to be out of sorts.—Ex.

The Richmond girl who was bitten by a snake which crawled into her hair rat when she carelessly laid it down, should be a warning to girls to be careful where they place their rats.

New Bern has every reason to feel proud over the success of her bi-centennial celebration last week. All who visited the city were charmed with what they saw.

The New York World took nearly a column to tell that Kermit Roosevelt is in love. You can tell that some folks are in love without a word being said.

Now that they have nominated him, we certainly hope the Democrats of the fifth district can elect Major Stedman to congress. He will make a good one.

When Republican leaders cannot settle it with words they resort to their fists. At least that was the way two of them did recently.

An exchange gives the remarkable information that it is hot in New York. Don't have to go there to find out a thing like that.

Mr. Godwin's declaration that he is going to stick to the race in the sixth district, is hailed with glee by the Republicans.

A newspaper head line asks: "What shall we eat in summer?" With most of us it is anything we can get, summer or winter.

The Wilmington Dispatch is hard to convince that we don't wear a hobble skirt. Cowan is again invited to come search us.

It appears that moving picture shows can lead to crime even if they do not actually depict criminal activity. The New York papers tell of the deeds of a girl of 12, who has been in the habit of spending her five cent pieces in nickelodeons, and who became imbued with a desire to be a heroine through the exaggerated portrayals of these places.

Writing to the Charlotte Observer of the adoption of the platform at the Democratic State convention, Col. Nell Archie McLean, of the county of Robeson, remarks on the fact that lumbermen and cotton mill men voted as heartily for the tariff for revenue only plank as if they had never demanded and obtained protection in the recent tariff bill; and there was no pause even when the platform demanded the annihilation of trusts and monopolies. That is the way of politicians. Where, for instance, was the Robeson delegation and the rest of us when the nominations of Superior Court judges, headed by the name of Hon. Bob Peebles, of the county of Northampton, were endorsed with a resounding aye?

Five years ago the papers were filled with articles and editorials on the subject of the Robeson county election, which incident created a sensation of State-wide interest. But, lo and behold! When the times come Judge She set fire twice to the house in which she lived, but fortunately the blazes were extinguished before they had gained much headway. Another method by which she sought to become a heroine, although her mental process is not clear, was by tying a note to the handle of the doorknob, demanding that her father pay $50 under the mat on the first floor at 8 o'clock on the following night, threatening in the case he failed to do so, to burn the house and run away with his daughter. This piece of enterprise was what gave her away. Her father did not recognize his own child's handwriting, but put the matter in the hands of the detectives, who were successful in tracing this treacherous threat to the girl herself. When arraigned in the children's court she confessed to Justice Wyatt that she desired to emulate the heroines whose exploits she had seen depicted. It is not stated what particular scenes they were which the little girl saw and which impelled her to become an incendiary and to write threatening letters, but the incident is another of many illustrations of the extreme importance of thorough censorship of motion picture shows, in the interest of public safety and morality.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The importance of the crusade being made for the eradication of hookworm disease under control of the North Carolina Board of Health, is perhaps not fully appreciated by the people. When talk of hookworm disease first came about many persons were disposed to treat the subject as a joke and smile at the mere mention of hook worm. But it is anything but a laughing matter unless it has got the doctors badly fooled. Indeed, hookworm disease is one of the most serious propositions that have come before the people of North Carolina if what Dr. John A. Ferrell, assistant secretary, says is true. In a circular letter directing attention to some literature on the subject, which his department is sending out to publishers and others he declares: "The discovery of hookworm disease will mean more for the people of our State than any other discovery that yet been made, provided the State will take the proper action toward its extermination. It is probable that a conservative estimate would show that the farm products of the State would be worth at least $4,000,000.00 more each year if the disease were exterminated. Investigations have thus far been made in nearly every county in the State, and everywhere it is found prevalent, doing remarkable damage in lowering the physical and mental standing of the people."

"Six" Carolina, college students have already been examined, and more than one-third of them were found infected with the disease. We are now making examinations of about 1,200 men in the State who are members of the National Guard. These will represent all sections of the State and will give further proof of the general prevalence of the disease. When this work is finished the results will be made public.

"The doctors from whom we have had letters concerning the disease report having treated about 5,000 patients but in nearly all instances the people were reluctant to undergo treatment. You can do your State no greater good than to use your influence toward bettering the health of its people. Hookworm disease having been found to be so prevalent in the State and one which is easily prevented, and curable, it should be among the first to receive special attention from the Commonwealth.—State Board of Health Bulletin.

A Pittsburg woman's club had for discussion at a recent meeting the statement that Mrs. Nicholas Longworth smokes cigarettes. What business it was of theirs no one who took part in the discussion undertook to explain. They assumed the right as a careful woman to express their views of the subject, and, assuming that the report was true, they proceeded to criticize that other equal free and independent woman for her conduct. There was one woman among them who had the common sense to say that it was none of their business if Mrs. Longworth did smoke, and the nerve to show her disapproval of the course by injecting the remark into the discussion: "We needn't get on our feathers simply because Mrs. Longworth smokes cigarettes, for one hundred years ago our great grandmothers sat with their husbands and smoked corncob pipes"—those great grandmothers to whom no doubt many members of that very club trace back their lineage in establishing their right to membership in the society of Danvers of the Republication or Colonial Dames—those good women of the eighteenth century of whom their descendants are so proud if through them they can secure admission to those patriotic societies.—Charlotte News.

Interesting Meeting Monday With Several Good Speakers. Monday was an interesting day for the farmers of this county for a session from the good roads convention which they attended in the forenoon, an educational institute was held in the afternoon in the auditorium of the Training school, under the direction of Congressman John H. Small. There was also a large attendance at a meeting and various interesting matters pertaining to farm work were discussed by prominent speakers.

Mr. A. G. Smith, of the Bureau of Plant Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture, spoke on farm management and gave much practical instruction on this subject.

Mr. J. P. Campbell, general field agent for the South in the co-operative demonstration work, spoke on cover crops and drainage, pointing out many things to the advantage of the farmers along these lines.

These institutions are a great help to the farmers, and it is gratifying to see the interest they take whenever one is held.

TrIBUTE TO ONE WHO KNEW HIM INTIMATELY. The subject of this sketch was born in Greenville forty-three years ago. When he was three years old his father died, leaving a widow and two little boys, John and John, who was the mother moved into the country and there the boys grew into manhood.

The two came to Greenville and entered in the hardware business in 1889. In a short time the co-partnership was dissolved and J. R. Corey has been conducting it ever since.

The writer has known John Corey since he was a boy. He was always modest and retiring and on the best of terms with everybody. If he ever had an enemy, no one found it out by an unkind word from him.

By his modest, simple life and good ways, he made hundreds of friends who grieve at his untimely death. He died in the prime of life and in apparent good health.

In going to our respective places of business in the early morning hours of Monday, August 2, Mr. Corey was recently mown, and at such times we often lived over again the scenes of boyhood. Had I been five minutes earlier I should probably have been with him or near him when he was stricken.

It adds me to realize that I shall know no more in this life. He was one of the very best men I ever knew, and one of the most honorable.

GREENVILLE'S MOST BEAUTIFUL MARRIAGE.

JENKINS-BROWN NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Enchanting Wedding Scene in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Followed With Brilliant Reception. The present week, and Wednesday night, especially, has been looked forward to by our Greenville people with the keenest interest for the pleasures it would bring. The occasion of this expectation was the solemnizing of the marriage of one of Charlotte's most popular and influential citizens, Mr. W. L. Jenkins and one of Greenville's fairest, most charming and loveliest young women, Miss Janie Brown, the accomplished daughter of Mr. W. L. Brown.

In his address before the Farmers' Union, Maj. William A. Graham, State Commissioner of Agriculture, made the startling statement that whereas the State of North Carolina received every year from thirty-five to forty million dollars for its cotton crop, it sent out more than that sum for meat and bread and supplies that could be grown or produced upon North Carolina farms.

Miss Cox Entertains.
This summer has not brought an occasion of more innocent merriment than that which the young people of South Winterville enjoyed on Friday night at the home of Dr. B. T. Cox.

Miss Jeanette Cox entertained her friends at a delightful birthday party, and among those who were favored with invitations several out of town guests were included. The front hall and parlor were tastefully decorated with choice cut flowers. These extended a cherry welcome to the guests, who began to arrive about 8.30. Being warmly received in the front hall they were conducted into the parlor where the air was filled with strains of sweet music. Instrumental solos were rendered by Misses Venetia Cox and Olive Butt. Between these the ready conversation and hearty laughter which rang out gave ample evidence that everyone was "at home," and enjoying themselves.

An amusing contest was entered, with plenty of spirit. The outcome finally showed the odds in favor of Miss Mattie Johnson and Gordon Johnson, who won a neat little prize. The body was awarded Miss Olivia Cox and Jesse Butt.

Promptly at 9.30 the guests were cleverly divided into couples and ushered into the dining room. Mr. Jesse Butt, of Bonneron, was fortunate enough to escort to supper the hostess, Miss Jeanette Cox. The attending couples were: Jesse Rollins with Miss Lillian Baker, Gordon Johnson with Miss Mattie Johnson, Herbert Cox with Miss Annie Carroll, Herman McLaughlin with Miss Esther Johnson, L. Johnson with Miss Pearl Heister, D. H. Johnson with Miss Lanie Tyson, Miss Helen Smith with Miss Myrtle McLachlan.

The birthday cake was the most interesting feature at the table and over this the company enjoyed a great deal of fun. Miss Pearl Heister was the lucky finder of the thimble, while the cheap—R. D. Dall.

Miss Annie Carroll, of Cox's Mill, is visiting Miss Jeanette Cox.
How is your soul (sole)? Let us show you our new lot of Shoes—Harrington Barber & Co.
Mrs. E. G. Chapman and daughter, Miss Clyde, left Friday for a visit in Plymouth.

We have put in an assortment of McCall Patterns for all styles—Harrington Barber & Co.

Mr. Ernest Cox went to Ayden last night, as usual.
Messrs. M. B. Bryan and F. A. Edmondson went to Stantonsburg Monday.

Postmaster M. G. Bryan is suffering with a severe attack of acute indigestion.
Quite a number of our people attended services at Red Oak Sunday.
Mr. C. S. Carroll went to Ayden yesterday and carried some peaches to J. L. Rollins's girl, much to the delight of the latter. Jesse should feel very thankful for surgeon's kindness. Last night's mail brought Mr. F. F. Cox a very nice package. "It was flowers."

Good Roads Convention.
rate, while the county issue would sell at a 4% interest rate and bring a premium.
Then you could have only one highway engineer for the county and one board of road commissioners, while on the township plan each township would have its separate road commissioners and separate engineers, which would greatly increase the cost. It is just as necessary to keep up roads as it is to build them.

Col. Grimes' Speech.
The closing of the good roads speeches was made by Col. J. Bryan Grimes, secretary of State. He said that he had numerous other duties demanding his attention, but felt that it was his duty to come to his home county today and contribute what he could to this, the greatest movement in the history of the county. There are three things that our life depends upon—agriculture, education and transportation.

Pitt county, the greatest in the union in soil and climate. You have learned to build up your own soil by the application of skill and science, and since 1899 land values have doubled in your county. Our people do not have to leave now for the want of agricultural and educational development. Pitt is one of the leading of half dozen counties in the State, and you are coming nearer to the head of the list.

You are the leaders in education. School property in your county in the year 1895 was valued at $40,000, today it is $200,000.
Agriculture is the foundation of all progress, and is going to be developed. The old Roman proverb that the first step to the development of agriculture was by the building of good roads. Rome realized that her prosperity and that of her provinces depended upon the development of her agriculture. The balance of trade today for our nation is retained by our agricultural exports, although they are taxed $600,000,000 per year for transportation, or $12.50 per capita for every man, woman and child in America. What would it mean if Pitt county could save her part of this amount?

We have excellent railroad facilities. We have some water transportation, but we have slept on our opportunities in this, and I endorse most heartily the work of Mr. Small in his efforts to alleviate our bad water transportation facilities. Our State contributes over 40,000,000 annually to the national government, and over $200,000,000 indirectly, while we get only $5,000,000, and we are certainly entitled to a greater share.

The most important thing is a good road that passes your door, and every man's door, and every body is directly affected by it. Pitt has 750 miles of road, 60 square miles of territory, and 40,000 people, and while our population has doubled in the last 30 years, in a similar period with good roads and proper development we will have 200,000 people and still not be crowded like they are on the Massachusetts hills.

There has been a demand for State aid in road improvements, which means getting money into and out of the State treasury with the necessary cost. Pitt county has one per cent. of the property of the State, and pays twice as much into the State treasury as she gets out of it. Under State aid for roads her proportionate part under her tax valuation would be $500,000 while it would cost only $250,000 to build her roads. Therefore a fair method for the county method.

The split-log will do much of the work at $6 per mile per year. The plan we now have with 6,000 men available for road work six days each in the year, or the payment of $1 per day for each, would make $36,000 per year road tax that you are paying—at the same cost by the proper method you could get good roads all over your county. Get the magistrates to do their duty and enforce the vagrant law, and have more labor with a smaller burden than worthlessness. You have a tax in your county today sufficient to pay interest on $600,000 worth of bonds, with enough left for the maintenance of roads. Let each man in Pitt county do his own duty and the situation will be greatly improved.

Gulford county's roads have made her property values increase three fold and more, and has developed every other phase of her life. Rural routes are encouraged and increased. In Germany by parcel post service a bushel of wheat can be carried a thousand miles for 20 cents, and but for the express company lobbies we would have such a system in the United States. Here we are limited to 4 pounds at 16 cents per pound. This is what it would cost you to deliver a package of that size in Washington, N. C., while our government will take the same package to New York and 6,000 miles across the ocean to Kam-skatka for 42 cents.

Co-operation means harmony and working for the good of all, and he who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before has done more for his country than all the politicians Mix brains with the earth and see that every man has a good road in this grand old county.

Ohio Republicans Rejoicing.
By Wire to The Reflector.
Des Moines, Aug. 2.—There is rejoicing here over the insurgent victory in Kansas. Republican progressives loaded their heavy guns for a royal battle in the State convention which opens here today. It was conceded before the season opened that the insurgents would control the situation. They will give the Taft administration a qualified endorsement, and condemn the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

The Betsey Town Troubles.
By Wire to The Reflector.
Elizabeth City, Aug. 3.—In an exciting trial held here yesterday and last night, O. F. Gilbert, A. E. Toxey and one other were found guilty of inflicting a riot Sunday night. They were fined $25. Editor Saunders and Gilbert were each fined $5 for carrying concealed weapons.

Legal Notices.
NOTICE.
North Carolina—Pitt County.
Lula Gorham )
Alonzo Gorham )
The defendant above named will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced in the Superior Court of Pitt county, to obtain a divorce from said county in matrimony, and the said defendant will further take notice that he is required to appear at the next term of the Superior Court of Pitt county to be held on the second Monday before the first Monday of September, 1916, at the court house of said county in Greenville, N. C., and answer or demur to the complaint of the plaintiff, in said action, or the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.
This the 15th day of July, 1916.
D. C. Moore, Clerk S. C.
Julius Brown, Attorney for plaintiff.

SALE OF LAND FOR PARTITION.
North Carolina—Pitt County.

To the Court
By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Pitt county on the 15th day of July, 1916, in the above entitled cause by D. C. Moore, clerk, the undersigned commissioner will on Tuesday, the 15th day of August, 1916, at 12 o'clock m., before the court house door in Greenville expose to public sale, to the highest bidder for cash the following parcel of land, to wit: lying and being in the county of Pitt, state of North Carolina, beginning on the side of the northern bank of Tar river at a point where three hollow trees formerly stood, nearly opposite the lower edge of the big rock and runs thence nearly at right angles with the river to the big hollow, old Parker's and Perkin's line, thence down said slough to Parker's or Red Bank creek, thence down said creek to the river, thence crowded like they are on the Massachusetts hills.

The plan we now have with 6,000 men available for road work six days each in the year, or the payment of $1 per day for each, would make $36,000 per year road tax that you are paying—at the same cost by the proper method you could get good roads all over your county. Get the magistrates to do their duty and enforce the vagrant law, and have more labor with a smaller burden than worthlessness. You have a tax in your county today sufficient to pay interest on $600,000 worth of bonds, with enough left for the maintenance of roads. Let each man in Pitt county do his own duty and the situation will be greatly improved.

Gulford county's roads have made her property values increase three fold and more, and has developed every other phase of her life. Rural routes are encouraged and increased. In Germany by parcel post service a bushel of wheat can be carried a thousand miles for 20 cents, and but for the express company lobbies we would have such a system in the United States. Here we are limited to 4 pounds at 16 cents per pound. This is what it would cost you to deliver a package of that size in Washington, N. C., while our government will take the same package to New York and 6,000 miles across the ocean to Kam-skatka for 42 cents.

Co-operation means harmony and working for the good of all, and he who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before has done more for his country than all the politicians Mix brains with the earth and see that every man has a good road in this grand old county.

Des Moines, Aug. 2.—There is rejoicing here over the insurgent victory in Kansas. Republican progressives loaded their heavy guns for a royal battle in the State convention which opens here today. It was conceded before the season opened that the insurgents would control the situation. They will give the Taft administration a qualified endorsement, and condemn the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

To the Court
By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Pitt county on the 15th day of July, 1916, in the above entitled cause by D. C. Moore, clerk, the undersigned commissioner will on Tuesday, the 15th day of August, 1916, at 12 o'clock m., before the court house door in Greenville expose to public sale, to the highest bidder for cash the following parcel of land, to wit: lying and being in the county of Pitt, state of North Carolina, beginning on the side of the northern bank of Tar river at a point where three hollow trees formerly stood, nearly opposite the lower edge of the big rock and runs thence nearly at right angles with the river to the big hollow, old Parker's and Perkin's line, thence down said slough to Parker's or Red Bank creek, thence down said creek to the river, thence crowded like they are on the Massachusetts hills.

There has been a demand for State aid in road improvements, which means getting money into and out of the State treasury with the necessary cost. Pitt county has one per cent. of the property of the State, and pays twice as much into the State treasury as she gets out of it. Under State aid for roads her proportionate part under her tax valuation would be $500,000 while it would cost only $250,000 to build her roads. Therefore a fair method for the county
