BANK ORGANIZED AT OAK CITY, MARTIN CO.

LARGE MEETING HELD TO ELECT OFFICERS.

Five Thousand Dollars Capital Dis-tributed Among about Sixty Stock-holders.

The Bank of Oak City was organi-zed today in Oak City, a growing lit-tle town in Martin county, located on the Weldon-Renton branch of the At-lantic Coast Line and surrounded by one of the best farming sections in Eastern Carolina.

Mr. C. S. Carr, cashier of the Green-ville Banking & Trust Co., and Mr. J. C. Roberson formerly of the Bank of Robersonville, were present to as-sist in the organization. Messrs. S. J. Everett, E. B. Higgs and D. J. Whichard, of Greenville, also attended the meeting and each made some re-marks during the proceedings.

The meeting began at 11 o'clock with practically all the stockholders present. C. S. Carr was made chair-man of the meeting and J. C. Roberson secretary.

For president of the bank Messrs. H. K. Harrell and Justice Everett were both presented. Mr. Everett lead-ing in the ballot by four votes. Mr. J. M. S. Salisbury was elected vice-president.

Having so many stockholders it was decided to elect a board of fifteen di-rectors, and to select these a nomi-nating committee, composed of Messrs R. H. Saulsbury, H. K. Harrell and H. S. Everett were appointed. The motion also providing that these three should be on the board of directors. The other twelve members of the board are Messrs. S. W. Cooper, J. C. Ross, N. K. Worsley, J. L. Harrell, T. H. Council, Joseph Early, W. J. Johnson W. J. Jordan, B. L. Lang, O. M. Mayo E. B. Higgs, S. J. Everett.

After adjournment of the meeting all partook of a bountiful barbecue dinner that had been prepared. In the afternoon the board of directors met to select a cashier, bookkeeper and finance committee, and to make arrangements for the bank to begin business at once.

This bank will prove a great con-venience to Oak City and all the sur-rounding country.

MRS. L. F. LEE & CO'S. OPENING

One That has Never Been Surpassed in Greenville.

Those who visited the fall milli-nery opening of Mrs. L. F. Lee & co., today, saw marvels of beauty in the milliner's art. There was the larg-est and most attractive display of hats that have been shown here in any season, and they are of the very latest models and styles. The opera caps, Hindu caps, feather turbans white beavers, and the Persian and tapestry trimmings were certainly beautiful, and the various varieties of children's headwear were dreams. Mrs. Lee certainly chose well in selecting styles for the season and is to be congratulated upon this ex-celent display.

Frost.

The great shows will be here Fri-day. Take notice and govern your hay operations accordingly. A light frost will follow the show in less than a week. Just wait and see.

ROCHDALE ITEMS.

The News Going in Beaver Dam Township.

Rochdale, N. C., Oct. 5.—Little Jack Smith, between nine and ten years of age, and son of Mr. F. M. Smith, of Smithtown, met the misfortune of getting his left foot cut off by a mow-ing machine last Wednesday, while his brother, Leslie, was cutting hay. Amputation was necessary and was performed by Doctors Patrick, of Farmville, and Laughinghouse, of Greenville that evening. The little fellow has been and is getting along very well.

Eld. W. F. Waters, of Ayden, came Saturday morning and held his year-ly meeting at Arthur, in the Free Will Baptist church Saturday and Sunday. He baptized one candidate Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, at Blue Banks, in Tar river.

Mr. Garris, of Ayden, brought the preacher over here Saturday morning and returned Sunday evening.

The Rochdale boys went Saturday evening and crossed bats with the Glendale boys and came off wearing the laurels. The game stood 6 to 7 in favor of Rochdale.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McLawhorn, from near Ayden, were visiting their son, Mr. C. E. McLawhorn Sunday.

Mr. C. L. Tyson and two children were visiting at C. E. McLawhorn's Sunday.

Miss Rebecca Evans, of Tiner, who was appointed principal teacher for Smith's school house, opened school there Monday morning with a goodly number of pupils. Mrs. D. K. Smith has charge of the primary depart-ment.

Miss. Bettie Taylor, of Kin-ston, has been visiting at Mr. Ivey Smith's for some time.

Miss Minnie Belle Alston, of War-renton, who has spent a week with Mrs. Lloyd Smith, returned home on Monday morning.

Miss Myrtle Flanagan, of Farm-ville, came Sunday to spend some time at Mr. Ivey Smith's.

Mr. T. E. Little went to Farmville this morning and from there to A. J. Flanagan's.

PULLEY & BOWEN'S OPENING.

Exquisite Display of the Season's Styles.

There are hats and hats, but they alone do not make up the beauty of woman's adornment. So at Pulley & Bowen's opening fall display today there were not alone the very newest designs in trimmed hats of all shapes but also an array of elegant silk dresses and tailor-made suits that would do credit to a city store. This enterprising firm knows the needs of their trade, and in selections have an eye to get the very best that the fashion centres can produce.

Mrs. Garris Dead—Mr. Garris Sick.

Mrs. Sallie Garris, wife of Mr. R. H. Garris, of Swift creek, died at their home Saturday night after a short illness. She was about 60 years old and leaves several children. She was buried Monday in the family burying ground, Rev. J. R. Tingle conducting the services.

Mr. Garris is now very sick. He had three bad chills in succession Monday night and Tuesday morning and at last reports was very sick.

FORTY KILLED IN COLLISION OF TRAINS.

DUE TO EMPLOYMENT OF GREEN CREWS.

Old Employees Apprehended Accident and Refused to Take Out Trains While the Green Crews Were On.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Stanton, Ills., Oct. 5.—From the meagre information that has oozed out of Illinois Traction Co's office at Springfield it appears that a crash, which occurred between two trains near here late yesterday, in which forty people were killed, was due to the employment of green crew, which either did not know the signal sys-tem or disregarded it. The crew failed to wait at the siding as ordered for another car. It is said the old employees have been expecting an accident for several days and some of them had refused to take out cars while the green crews due to hand-ling fair traffic were on.

THE BOYS MUST HUSTLE.

Here is a Corn Contest Record Hard to Beat.

Mr. T. R. Moore, one of the com-mittee for measuring one acre crops in the boys' corn growing contest in this county, tells us that he went out in Beaver Dam township, Monday, to measure an acre for G. T. Tyson, jr. An accurate measurement of an acre cultivated by young Tyson showed a yield of 69 bushels. This is a record that is going to be hard to beat.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN.

Opens at Ayden, Saturday, October the 8th.

The Democratic candidates of Pitt county and Hon. C. C. Daniels will address the citizens of Pitt county on the political issues of the day at Ayden, on Saturday, October the 8th, at 2 o'clock, p. m. Every citizen is invited to hear this discussion of po-litical issues.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Greenville People Know How to Save It.

Many Greenville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these or-gans need help. Sick kidneys are re-sponsible for a vast amount of suffer-ing and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in dan-ger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. The fol-lowing statement leaves no ground for doubt.

Mrs. S. A. Simmons, 504 Heritage St., Kinston, N. C., says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be an effective remedy for kidney trouble and head-ache. My back pained me for a long time and my kidneys were much dis-ordered. I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and procuring a box, I began using them. They bene-fitted me in every way and I am now free from backache and am able to rest well; in fact, I feel better in ev-ery way. I am glad to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Good Way to Use Hyomel for Catarrh.

Besides breathing through the in-haler a few times a day, many catarrh sufferers write that they find inhaling HYOMEL (pronounce it High-o-mel) from a bowl of steaming water each night before retiring a great aid in curing stubborn cases.

Try it: it's very simple, gives quick relief and makes you breathe easier. Fill a bowl half full of boiling wa-ter; pour into the water a teaspoonful of HYOMEL, cover head and bowl with a towel, and breathe through nose and mouth the pleasant, medicated, anti-septic and healing vapor that arises. This method relieves that stiffness at once, and makes your head feel fine. You can get a bottle of HYOMEL at druggists everywhere or at Coward & Wooten's for only 20 cents. Ask for extra bottle HYOMEL Inhalant.

But bear in mind that a HYOME outfit which includes inhaler and bot-tle of HYOMEL costs $1.00.

But, as stated before, if you already own an inhaler, a bottle of HYOME costs but 50 cents.

HYOMEL is guaranteed by Coward & Wooten and druggists everywhere to cure catarrh, sore throat, coughs, colds, asthma and croup, or more; back. Try it on that generous basis.

A Wild Exploit.

A singular character was the spend-thrift James Rhodes, who dung mon-ey up and down the Great White Way, in New York, for months. His crown-ing exploit occurred in London, where he went to finish a spree. Rhodes dropped into the Prince of Wales the-ater one evening while the orchestra was playing "God Save the King." From his box he ordered the leader to render the "Star Spangled Banner." The musician ignored him, and Rhodes drew a six shooter and began shooting out the lights. He went to jail for awhile. When, a little later, he re-turned to New York the remnants of his fortune had disappeared.—Chicago Record-Herald.

TWENTY YEARS HAVE BROUGHT MANY CHANGES.

IN GREENVILLE THEY ARE ALL FOR PROGRESS.

A Visitor Gives His Impressions Af-ter an Absence of Two Decades—Factories Needed to Keep Growing.

The Reflector has a weakness for printing anything good that is said about Greenville, hence may be par-doned for using some extracts taken from a personal letter written by a business man of another state who left here twenty years ago, and re-cently spent a day here. We hope what he says about factories will es-pecially put our business people to thinking. He says:

"I enjoyed my little stay in Green-ville more than I can tell you. It has been twenty years since I left there, and I saw more of the place last Thursday than I had seen during my little trip in the twenty years. I could hardly realize the changes that had taken place and am sure I would get lost if I should try to find some of the places I used to visit, among them the old Greenville college and other places where some of my good friends lived.

"You have some as pretty streets as will be found anywhere, and all to-gether the old town presents quite a city appearance. In talking with some friends here who visited Green-ville recently, the first and only time we decided you have some as hand-some residences as will be seen in any town.

"You all are justly proud of your Training school. I was glad to get a glimpse of the buildings and sorry that I could not see more of their in-terior. This school is a big thing for Greenville, but am sure Greenville will measure up to the responsibility of having it there.

"The Reflector, which has done so much for all these improvements, should feel duly proud of the results of its efforts, and the people should show their appreciation, as I am sure they do and always will by liberal patronage in every way. I notice you are still on the trail when you are talking factories. With so many

CRUISER DEMANDS SURRENDER.

Of Honduran Port—Washington Au-thorities Have no Information.

By Cable to The Reflector.
San Salvador, Oct. 12.—The Com-mandant of the United States cruiser Princeton today demanded the sur-render of Gen. Jose Maria Valladoras, governor of Amapola, Honduras. The commandant of the fort defied the Princeton and sent word that he would fight to the death before giv-ing up. It was reported that a de-tachment of marines would be landed to seize Valladoras. President Dia-vela, of Honduras, declared that he would move against the commandant, but failed to do so.

Nothing Known at Washington.
Washington, Oct. 12.—Acting Sec-etary of the Navy Wainwright, says he knows nothing of the demand by the United States gunboat for the ev-acuation of Gen. Valladoras at Ama-pola. He says the Princeton had been ordered to Amapola, but had not yet reached there.

French Singer Dies.

By Wire to The Reflector.
New York, Oct. 12.—Charles Gil-bert, a famous French opera singer, died suddenly here last night in a ho-tel. He had recently arrived from France to fill an engagement in the Metropolitan Theatre.

Judge Harry W. Whedbee came in Tuesday night from Wilmington, where he had been holding court, to spend the remainder of the week at home.

stores throughout the country, con-venient as they are to the country people, the cities and larger towns need factories to keep them booming and growing.

"While it was such a pleasure to note all these improvements, yet it made me sad to think of so many familiar faces are gone. Many I saw were getting gray, while "Uncle John" (Cerry) who used to be such a fish-erman, is now on a rolling chair. It made me think of my father who used one for ten years. I was glad to see him so bright and cheerful in the midst of such afflictions."

HAPPENINGS THROUGHOUT NORTH CAROLINA.

CREAM OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE EXCHANGES.

Tobacco Sales for Sept.—School Com-mittee Shot—Kinston Horse Thief Caught.

The tobacco sales in North Caro-lina for September, according to the reports made to the North Carolina Department of Agriculture amounted to 21,906,833 pounds at first hand and with re-sales to 24,315,135 pounds. Wilson led in the sales, its first hand sales being 4,323,498 pounds, with Greenville second, first hand sales of 3,168,574 pounds and Kinston third with 3,073,885 pounds. —Raleigh News and Observer.

Waynesville, Oct. 11.—At Hemphill ten miles north of here, Allen Birch-field, a school teacher, shot Lark Cagle, a school committeeman. The ball took effect just above the waist band and lodged under the spine. Cagle is in a precarious condition and is not expected to live. Allen Birch-field, the teacher, took to the tall timber and as yet has not been ar-rested. It is reported the trouble cul-minated over School Committeeman Cagle reproving the teacher, Birch-field, for some fault.

Ex-Sheriff J. T. Ellington, of John-ston county, is dead. The news of the death of this splendid type of North Carolina manhood, a leading figure among the Democracy of the State will be heard with the deepest regret. He passed away yesterday afternoon at his home at Clayton.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Wilson Oct. 11.—Junius Potter, the young man who was arrested in Wil-son yesterday morning and held for the Kinston authorities, took a ride through the country this morning with a police officer of that town. The same horse that was stolen from a tobacco warehouse, in Kinston took the prisoner back to answer to his charge. Besides being wanted in Wayne county he is wanted in Lenoir on five different warrants, in which county he has served time on the roads.

WILL TIE UP FRANCE RAILROADS

Railway Unions Make Determined Move Against the Strikers.

By Cable to The Reflector.
Paris, Oct. 12.—The confederation of railway unions today voted to tie up every railway system in France, thus forcing a stagnation of strikers from northern and western railways to all lines owned by the state. More than a quarter million men and 25,-000 miles of railroad are affected. In-structions were given that the vote should be made effective immedi-ately, and it is believed that Paris will shortly be isolated. Soldiers will be used in moving trains as far as possible. President Fallieres reached the city today from his coun-try seat and will deal personally with the crisis. More than 80,000 men were affected early today with the number being constantly augmented. Violence is anticipated here and else-where.

FREIGHT RATE QUESTION.

Railroads Are Asking to Make an In-crease.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, Oct. 12.—Presidents of several of the largest eastern rail-roads, attorneys and others repre-senting various shipping interests, were witnesses before the inter-state commerce commission in important rate hearing today. The questions as finally determined will change railroad transportation and commodi-ties from Chicago east and as far south as the Potomac river. Presi-dent McRae of the Pennsylvania road was the first witness. He said net savings of the Pennsylvania was 5 1-2 per cent. and he thought an in-crease was justified.

Grand Jury Finds Bill.

By Cable to The Reflector.
London, Oct. 12.—The grand jury sitting at Old Bailey court today re-turned a bill of indictment against Ethel LeNeve charging her with be-ing accessory after the fact in the murder of Belle Elmore. It is likely both Dr. Crippen and Miss LeNeve will be tried jointly.

TORRENS LAND SYSTEM FOR NORTH CAROLINA.

UNDER IT A TITLE IS FINAL, UN-QUESTIONED.

Would Add Millions of Dollars to Bankable Capital—Great Help to Farmers.

To the Editor: What is the Torrens Land System?

The Torrens Land Title System, so called from the name of its originator, is merely the application to land property of the same common sense business principles, which have long governed transactions in personal property. It is a safe, quick, inexpensive and practical method of registering titles to, and dealing with lands.

Under the Torrens system, title is examined once for all by a special land court, or by any court of equity.
After this is passed upon the owner receives a numbered certificate of title similar to a stock certificate, corresponding to the stub kept by the registrar, and showing on its face just what the owner's title is. For example, a life estate, or a fee-simple in whole or in part, free from encum-brances, or subject to such encum-brances, as are mentioned in the certificate. This title can never be questioned. It is final. Subsequently encumbrances such as mortgages, judgments and the like are noted on the certificate, so that any one may tell the exact condition of the title, without employing a lawyer, simply by looking at the certificate and comparing it, for safety sake, with the stub kept by the registrar.

This certificate carries a guaranteed title by the State, the State being secured by an assurance fund collected usually one-tenth of one per cent—on the value of the property registered. You can then deal with this certificate of title almost as freely as with a certificate of stock. This will put your real estate on same footing as your personal property, and thus add millions of dollars to the bankable property of North Carolina. This will be of great help to the farmers and all real estate owners, by enabling them to secure quick and short loans through the banks without having to secure the services of a lawyer, as they have to do under the present antiquated system.

It will help all who deal in real estate, will promote the development of the whole state by settling titles, and will induce home-seekers to our State because strangers will not hesitate to buy land the title to which is guaranteed by the State.

The faults of the present system among many others, consist of the enormous waste of time and money due to being forced to secure the services of a lawyer to re-examine the same old title every time a new deal is made in land, or any real estate, and the land owner has to pay the bill. I will cite an instance: one of the leading lawyers of this state told the writer that he knew of a tract of land, twenty-five per cent. of its value had been paid to attorneys as fees for examining the same old title, year after year, and yet there seemed to be no defect in the title. All this tends to depress values, and makes land

Protect Home Merchants.

It is said that Richmond has in operation an ordinance which requires that "traveling agents and peddlers" must pay a license fee for the privilege of doing business, just as local merchants are required to do.

Judging from the facts recited in an article appearing in yesterday's News, Charlotte is sorely in need of a similar law.

Home merchants should be protected against tax-free peddlers and no-license agents.

It is manifestly unfair to demand of local merchants heavy sums in license fees and taxes each year, while representatives of out of town wares are granted immunity from taxation.

Local business men are taxed heavily. They are open-handed in promoting the city's interests. They make their money and spend it in the city, and they should be protected against this system of unfair competition which allows agents, who are doing a competitive business, the advantage of freedom from the drain of all forms of taxation.

Treat all alike. If agents and peddlers are to do a large business in the city, let them stand on the same footing with the dealers with whom they are competing for trade.

The merchants' association, we understand, is seeking to remedy the existing condition, and The News wishes them success in their undertaking.—Charlotte News.

Can't Laugh There.

Mr. C. T. Cox, the inimitable laugh-er, has been drawn as a juror for November court, and says that is not a laughing matter at all, as it looks too serious to him. We don't see how it would be possible to hold him down to the solemnity of a week in the court room without so much as even a chance to smile out loud. If he should turn lose one it would be sure to break up the court for the time being.

slow to handle. There is always an element of uncertainty, more or less, in a real estate deal under our present laws.

The Torrens System Will Cure All These Evils.

Laws made when lands were held under royal grants and sold for ten cents an acre, are not suited to the business methods and commercial requirements of this day and generation.

Many of the large banks in States where the Torrens system is in successful operation have announced their willingness to accept the registrar's certificates of title without further guarantee, whenever offered in their mortgage loans, and glad to get them.

From best information the writer gets from states where the Torrens system has been adopted, the average cost is about twenty-five dollars for the first registration, and from one and a half to three dollars for subsequent transfers.

The passage of the Torrens bill will not make it compulsory to register our land—and this remains entirely optional. Therefore, harm can come to no one by accepting this bill.

I commend this subject to the serious consideration of all who are interested in the progress and welfare of North Carolina.

R. R. COTTEN,
Chairman of the Torrens Land Title Commission

Risk Too Great.

When a man goes wrong—badly wrong—people view him with suspicion. If it is his first offence and he shows contrition, he is sometimes forgiven, but after being forgiven, should he repeat his offence, it is time to watch him afterwards.

Our Republican friends in this State object to having the record of the party back in 1868 pointed to, when their legislature stole everything in sight and some things not in sight. It is natural they should object. As a matter of fact the people did forget and forgive and in 1894 they again came into control of the State government. What did they do? Practically repeated their former record; their action was so disgusting that in 1898 they were again driven from power in disgrace.

Now they are bobbing up with more promises if only the people will trust them once more. "School's out," and it is time to bar the door. The party is like the old Dutchman's wife who ran away with another man; he got her back and was proceeding to whip her, when neighbors begged for him to let her go this time. "No," said Hans; "she flew once, she fly again;
I crap her wings;" and he did.

The Republican party in this State has forfeited every right to be trusted and the people will "crap" its wings this fall, as should be done.— Greensboro Record.

Most people have to give the undertaker a job in order to have decent things said about them.

WHY MEAT IS DEAR.

Burlington News Comments on Some Beef Trust Figures.

Thirty-five per cent is the amount of profit Armour & Company forced the public to pay last year. This became known through a statement submitted by Armour & Company in connection with the listing of a bond issue of $30,000,000 on the stock exchange. The company by its own showing made a gross profit of $16,- 582,000 for the year 1909 on a capital stock of $29,000,000 and earned a surplus of $7,127,926, or the equivalent of a dividend of 35.6 per cent. As the price of beef was boosted with the beginning of 1910 it would appear that in the opinion of Armour & Company a 35.6 per cent profit on capital stock is not ample, even though the commodity involved is one of the necessaries of life. Armour & Company is one of the beef trust firms which enjoyed perfect immunity from prosecution by the government, until Federal Judge Landis, of Chicago, an insurgent, forced the Taft administration to take cognizance of the fact that the beef trust was illegally holding up the public.—Burlington News.

Died.

Mrs. Wiley Downs died Saturday night at her home on Seventh street, after a long illness. She leaves a husband and two daughters. The funeral services were conducted at the home, Sunday afternoon, by Rev.
J. H. Shore, the interment following in Cherry Hill cemetery.

Wants Relief.

It is good to want things and get them. A Georgia woman thinks she is not asking too much when she begs the court to divorce her from her second husband and grant her alimony from her first. The story runs that her husband No. 1 left her and was gone for 13 years. She thought him to be dead and married the "second" time, but while living in peace and harmony with her No. 2 man, she learned that No. 1 had fallen heir to $100,000. Now she wants relief from both. That's a mild request. Of course the wish of ladies should be gratified.—Charlotte Observer.

BUYING FARMS BY B. & L. METHOD

The Movement Started at Wadesboro Likely to Spread.

One of the most noted developments in the economic life of this section recently is a movement started a few days ago at the bustling little city of Wadesboro, where a number of capitalists have organized the Dixie Development Company for the purpose of promoting the improvement of home in the rural sections of Anson county. The plan is to apply the building and loan principle to the rural sections and enable men to save money and buy farms by the same process the men of the cities save money, borrow and buy homes. An enthusiastic building and loan man of Charlotte has read of the new movement started at Wadesboro with much interest and he declares that he believes the movement will spread and that many organizations similar to the Dixie Improvement Company will be established in this section.

Charlotte is a good building and loan city. The people here recognize the advantages of the system and more and more each month are beginning to take advantage of the opportunities they offer. The new plan requires more capital to begin with than the building and loan. The plan is to sell small tracts of land to people who ordinarily rent land on shares, a comfortable home being erected for the accommodation of the renter or purchaser. The contract includes provisions requiring the proper cultivation and fertilization of the land for the production of the maximum crop and the rental is paid for a stipulated number of years, the number of years depending upon the shares of the crop required. At the end of the specified number of years, the land is deeded in fee simple to the renter or purchaser.

There is no doubt but that such an organization as is described would be a great benefit to Mecklenburg county and it is not improbable that one may be organized.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Are Married Women Best Teachers?

The theory of the president of Tufts college that all women teachers in girls' colleges should be married runs counter to accept traditions of female education, which in this country at least is mainly in the hands of unmarried women. The discrimination where any has existed, has been against married teachers. The small proportion of the latter is shown by the census of 1910, which gave the number of "unmarried women teachers and college professors" as 191,- 645, against 9,188 married and 6,773 widows.

The greater number of these, of course, were teachers in the lower grades, whose influence, Dr. Hamilton says, is counteracted by the pupil's home life. But at college the relation of teacher and pupil changes.
The girl students removed from home associations live a more academic life. They are passing into womanhood and their outlook should be broader. Dr. Hamilton thinks, than that which "contact with elderly unmarried women" can give. Unmarried teachers, he believes, do not create the right "atmosphere" for girls at the formative period of their lives. They face "problems new to them" and need a "large outlook and broad view point."

Dr. Hamilton's argument is based on reasons which deserve consideration, but the question is a broad one, embracing as it does not only college but convent education. Much depends on the woman, regardless of her matrimonial status. There has been a theory that girls brought up by maiden aunts have been most competently trained.—New York World.

OUR AYDEN DEPARTMENT IN CHARGE OF R. W. SMITH

Authorized Agent of The Carolina Home and Farm and The Eastern Reflector for Ayden and vicinity.
Advertising rates furnished

Ayden, N. C. Oct. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Levi Thomas Dail and Mr. Warren Cobb, of Snow Hill, spent Sunday with Mrs. Agnes Blount in Ghent.

Miss Lee Nichols has returned from the country.

Mr. Stancil Hodges and son left last Thursday to visit his parents at Burke, Va.

Messrs. W. F. and Clarence Hart, Fred Worthington and A. Z. Ellis opened the sporting season shooting squirrels at Pitch Kettle, Monday afternoon and enough to send around to their neighbors. Their luck was fine.

Frank Hart is like Kentucky was David Crockett in the by gone days.

We are now having electric light in the early forenoon, so the mill and other operators can see to cook an eat.

F. Lilly's cafe for ladies and gentlemen gets fresh select oysters every day. dw 1230

Master Jesse Cox, who lives on West avenue, has a pen of large Belgian hares, well grown, extra large. They seem to be very prolific and thrive in city life.

Mr. H. H. Harris is quite sick at his home three miles in the country. Let us give your cotton, give your bagging and ties and buy your seed—J. R. Smith Company.

Mrs. Daniel G. Berry and daughter, Miss Olivia, left Monday for Hertford to be present at the marriage of her niece, Miss Mary Lov Gray, to Mr. Clarence Laker, of Norfolk.

Sticks and other supplies at J. R. Smith Company's.

John Hooks, of Fremont, was here Monday and returned to his home Tuesday.

Hunting possums and roasting potatoes will soon be the order of the day. Some of our boys have good dogs and seem to enjoy the fun.

His excellency, Gov. W. W. Kitchin has made the following appointments: J. A. Harrington to represent North Carolina at Oklahoma; R. W. Smith to represent North Carolina at Lincoln, Neb.; J. R. Turnage to represent North Carolina at the good roads convention at Nashville, Tenn.

So if our local politicians don't think there is ability in Contentnea, the governor does, from the above appointments. These representatives will be back by the November election.

There is a splendid opening for a wholesale grocery in Ayden. Our merchants are compelled to send elsewhere and thereby build up other towns, because they can't buy their goods nearer home. This is truly a fine opening.

The small boys are saving their spare nickles to go to the show Friday.

Hardware, mill supplies, belting, carts and buggies at J. R. Smith Company's.

Give Us a New Kind of Text-Books.

In his new book on "Rural Life in the United States," Sir George Plunkett, who has done such magnificent work for the rural regeneration in Ireland, has this to say of our American public school system: "At present, country children are educated as if for the purpose of driving them into the towns. To the pleasure which the cultured city man feels in the country—because he has been taught to feel it—the country child is unresponsive. The country offers continued interest to the mind which has been trained to be thoughtful and observant; the town offers continued distraction to the vacant eye and mind. Yet the education given to the country children has been invented for them in the town, and it not only bears no relation to the life they are to lead, but actually attracts them to town career."

The remedy must be found in a new sort of text books; and the best educational work that the Farmers' Union can do is to insist upon having text books in harmony with rural life and in use in rural schools—not merely books that have an artificial or sentimental smattering of agricultural interest, but books that are in fact and marrow genuinely suited to the farmer's need, written by men with first-hand knowledge not only of country life, but of the problems of agricultural education.—Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer and Gazette.

Farming Not a Profession.

Not many years ago the farmer took poverty as one of his inheritances. He did not object to scanty yields. He was not looked down on if he failed to keep pace with modern development. To-day the farmer who does not raise his bale of cotton or his thirty-five bushels of corn to the acre is ashamed of himself. His neighbors look down on him. In other words, a spirit of emulation, of pride, an esprit de corps, as it were, has arisen among the agriculturists. They are getting to be the most enterprising and capable people of the world. Since he has converted farming into a profession.—Charleston News and Courier.

Fire in Portsmouth.

By Wire to The Reflector
Portsmouth, Va., Oct. 12.—Fire destroyed the oil department of the Southern Oil Refining Company early this morning. The loss is about $75,000, fully insured.

The calmness of a man is frequently the cause of a woman's storm.

Roosevelt and Taft.

Colonel Roosevelt is not so big that he cannot be made to get down on his hands and knees and eat a little crow. Fearing that he would be unable to win in his New York convention fight, it comes out that he went to see Mr. Taft and implored his help. Then it was that the big man made him eat crow; he told him he would aid him if he would endorse the Aldrich tariff bill and Roosevelt had to do it, or go down in defeat, and this is what made the Western insurgents hop on the colonel, accusing him of selling out, etc. Of all the arrant humbugs and impostors in the country, Roosevelt heads the list. When he was president and had the power, he stood in with the regulars in every case and this after he had threatened them. It will be recalled that he threatened to do Joe Cannon, but the old man went to see him and Roosevelt was as meek as a lamb ever afterwards. He entertained the same ideas when he was in power, but the moment his party in congress read the riot act to him he wilted. And he will do the same thing again if placed in the same position. The only thing he is after is notoriety, which he believes will again make him president.—Greensboro Record.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all druggists.

Building Improvements.

Mr. C. W. Harvey is having a handsome residence built on his lot on Fifth street, near Pitt.

Dr. E. A. Moye has commenced extensive improvements to his residence on Evans street.

W. P. Norcott, colored, has erected a small brick store near the end of the river bridge on Pitt street.

Laying brick has commenced on the new court house and one of the side walls is climbing up from the foundation.

Mr. W. H. Dail's new brick stables on Ninth street is nearing completion.

Cotton Crop Smaller.

The cotton crop in Orangeburg county will not be as large this year as last year. According to the figures given out Monday by the Public Cotton Weighers Grumblin and Kennerly, the total number of bales that were weighed at the platform up to October 4, 1909, was 5,670. The total number weighed up to October 4, 1910 was 3,500. These figures show a marked falling off in the receipts for this year as compared with last year. About the same falling off is shown in all cotton states.—Times-Democrat.

Federal Court Jurors.

The following citizens of Pitt county have been drawn as jurors for the term of Federal court convening in New Bern on October 25th: J. R. Davis, J. W. Quinley, W. J. Boyd, A. J. Moye, and R. R. Cotten.

THE SHEEP AND THE GOATS
Matthew 25:31-46—October 13

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

PREVIOUS studies have pointed us to the Kingdom and incited the Lord's people to strive to become members thereof—kings and priests unto God in association with the Redeemer. Today's study tells of the Kingdom, but from another standpoint. It explains the work of the Kingdom after it shall have been set up—after Messiah at his Second Advent shall have gathered his "Jewels" to constitute his Bride class—after these shall be with him in the Throne of his glory—after he shall have taken unto himself his great power and shall have begun his Messianic reign of righteousness "under the whole heavens." It is important in every study of the Scriptures that we recognize the Divine Plan as a whole and properly locate the teaching of each parable.

We know that the parable of the sheep and the goats belongs not to this Age, but to the coming Age of Messiah's glorious reign, because the introduction declares this, saying, "When the Son of man shall come in his glory and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the Throne of his glory, and before him shall be gathered all nations; and he shall separate them one from another as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats." Those sheep and goats will not include the Church, to whom the promise is, "When he shall appear," also shall appear with him in glory—sharing his Throne.

The salvation of the Church will be finished before the salvation of the world will begin. Today's study pictures the salvation of the world, showing us how every member of Adam's race will be on trial during the reign of Messiah and, by his obedience or disobedience to the light and knowledge then prevailing, he will be deciding his own everlasting future, either as a sheep or as a goat. It will require the entire one thousand years of Messiah's reign to complete the testing and separating work.

All then obedient will be recognized as children of God and brethren. All the disobedient will be reckoned as children of the Adversary and worthy to share his fate, because, under favorable conditions, they were rebellious. Such shall be destroyed with Satan in the Second Death, which is symbolically represented as fire, because fire is always destructive, never preservative. On the contrary, the sheep class at the conclusion of Messiah's reign will have reached perfection.

now, the image and likeness of God, on the human plane. There will be invited to become the kings of earth under the Divine supervision—even as was Adam in his original perfection—crowned with glory and honor and set over or in control of the earthly creation (Psalm viii, 3-5).

The terms and conditions which will test and determine who will be sheep and who will be goats, who will be obedient or disobedient to the Divine regulations, will be mercy, kindness, love. The loving and sympathetic character is the only one which God purposes shall have eternal life, either on the heavenly or on the earthly plane—all having either the wolfish or devilish character, or even the goat character—of waywardness and unsubmitiveness, will be accounted unworthy of any further blessing after the close of the reign of Messiah. The testing then will not be as to believing or disbelieving, striving to do well or not striving to do well. The church is dealt with now along such lines. God's dealings with us make allowances for our unwilling imperfections. But in the trial of the world in the future every man shall be tried according to his work, not according to his faith. In that time knowledge will have practically supplanted faith; hence faith will have no special rewards. Work will then have the rewards, and each member of the race will be expected to strive for perfect works and to be assistants of the Great King Emmanuel and his Bride, the Church on the spirit plane. Mankind will be enabled gradually to attain such perfection of mind and of body as will make perfect works possible. At the conclusion of the Millennium perfect works only will be rewarded.

Rewards and Punishments
We have already referred to the rewards that will be granted to the "sheep" class at the close of Messiah's Kingdom—they will enter into life eternal and become possessors of the earthly Kingdom originally given to Adam, but lost through disobedience, and redeemed by the sacrifice of Jesus and restored by his Messianic reign, for which we pray, "Thy Kingdom come; thy will be done on earth as in heaven."

As for the "goat" class, we have already intimated that their punishment will consist of destruction in fire, or destruction everlasting, the Second Death—the destruction which God has already determined for Satan and all who are his messengers and servants, after the manner of this goat class—because, with all the favorable opportunities, they failed to develop such characters as God could reward with life everlasting. The contrast is emphasized in the last verse of the study. These (the goat class) shall go away into eternal punishment; but the righteous, the sheep class, into eternal life. The contrast is perfect. The one gets life to all eternity. The other gets the specified punishment of destruction to all eternity. The Greek word here translated punishment is kolasis, which signifies restraint, cutting off—in this case cutting off from life—Second Death. "The wages (punishment) of sin is death."

Some one has well said:—
"Sow a thought and you reap an act;
Sow an act and you reap a habit;
Sow a habit and you reap a character;
Sow a character and you reap a destiny."

The Divine intention as respects the salvation of this Gospel Age and the salvation of the world during the coming Age is that only such as develop the God-like character shall be permitted to enjoy Divine favor to all eternity. God has determined that the time shall come when there shall be no more sighing, no more crying, no more dying; but instead, every creature in heaven and in earth and under the earth shall be heard praising God and the Lamb.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN OPENED SATURDAY.

PEOPLE IN AYDEN

Telling Speeches Made by Hon. C. C.
Daniels and Mr. Albion Dunn—Outlook for Great Democratic Victory.

The Democratic candidates for the legislature and various county offices opened the campaign at Ayden on Saturday afternoon, before an assembly of fully five hundred enthusiastic Democrats. All of the candidates were present.

Chairman F. C. Harding, of the county executive committee, opened with a brief speech and presided over the meeting. As other speakers were present, most of the candidates merely made announcements. Mr. D. C.
Moore candidate for Superior court clerk, spoke about five minutes and every minute of the time counted. Mr.
R. R. Cotton, candidate for the senate, extended his remarks to about twenty minutes, one of his strong declarations being that his policy was to submit all local questions to the will of a majority of the people affected. He also gave some emphasis to the Torrens land registering system, of which he is a staunch advocate.

Hon. C. C. Daniels, of Wilson, spoke for an hour and a half, and made a telling speech that received much applause. He dwelt mainly upon national and state issues. He also so completely showed up the record of Marion Butler as to fill his hearers with great disgust for the treachery of the leader of the Republican party who wants to bankrupt the state.

Mr. Albion Dunn, of Greenville, followed in a speech of about an hour, and aroused much enthusiasm with his timely words.

This beginning of the campaign shows that Pitt county is in fine shape for a great Democratic victory in November. The people of Contentnea say they are going to come up with as large majority as ever, and it is going to be the same way all over the county.

Should Have Attention.

The state could do no better thing than to give the old soldiers nice cups and saucers and plates for their tables at the Soldiers' Home. These old men who spent the best part of their lives in the service of their country have to eat out of tin plates and cups. That these old men should have to eat out of tin plates and drink out of tin cups does not reflect any great amount of credit on anybody. They gave the best of their life to the state and the best we have should not be too good for them. In this day of modern things it would be an easy matter to secure all the nice china cups and saucers needed and all the nice plates, with all the other china needed for the tables.
The cost would not be great and these old men in their last days would have a better meal if they could come to the table and have nice, white china ware, out of which to eat their meals. Let it not be said that they lived, suffered, and bled for their state and that we young men allowed them to pass their last days eating out of a tin plate and taking their morning cup of coffee out of a tin cup.—Raleigh Times.

TRAVELING MAN PARALYZED.

Stricken While He Was About to Get on Train.

At Winterville Wednesday, Mr. J.
A. H. Williams, a traveling man, suffered a stroke of paralysis and is in a very critical condition. He travels for the Old Dominion Paper Co., of Norfolk, and was at the depot waiting for the southbound train when stricken. He was removed to the hotel and medical aid had, but there is very little chance, as he has not recovered consciousness or spoken a word since the attack. His home is at Dunn, where he has a family. They were notified and arrived at Winterville on the 1.25 train today.

Another Good Corn Yield.

Oscar Crisp, a son of Mr. W. J.
Crisp, farming on R. W. King's place three miles from town, is another boy who has made a fine record in the corn growing contest. His acre was measured Saturday and showed a yield of 86 bushels. His yield would have been even larger than this had not hogs broken in and destroyed some of the corn. His acre was on high land, and shows what development Pitt county lands can be brought to.

Only One Two-Horse Plow.

The farmers are breaking land for wheat-sowing now, and as I have been so persistently urging the use of more two and three-horse plows to take the place of one-horse affairs in the South, I was interested yesterday in finding out what kind of plows the progressive, prosperous Nebraska farmers use. And I have to confess that though I traveled several hundred miles and saw many hundred acres of newly-broken earth, I saw only one two-horse plow all day long.

"What then," you ask, "do these enterprising Western farmers who have been telling us about—do they break land with one-horse plows?
Certainly not; I said that I saw only one two-horse plow yesterday, because all the others that I saw were three or four-horse plows, the farmer riding while the broad, black furrows opened swiftly behind his big, sleek, quick-stepping horses. For a one-horse plow or a one-horse wagon,
I looked in vain all day, and the solitary two-horse plow that I was able to distinguish clearly (there may have been one or two others in the distance that I couldn't make out), was in use in plowing a garden! And I do wish our Southern farmers could think enough if their brain, their labor, and their time not to fritter it away on out-of-date implements and one-horse equipment. A westerner I talked with last night had the idea that our Southern farmers are indolent, whereas I believe they do much more sheer, exhausting physical labor than the Western farmer; the Westerner makes horses and machinery do more of the work instead of his muscles. With their three and four-horse plows and their two-row cultivators they tell me that a farmer here will cultivate 100 acres in corn, the big job being to husk it "before snow flies." Husking is done in the field, the ears thrown into a wagon, and the stalks left for the cattle to graze.—Clarence Poe, in Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer and Gazette.

"BACK TO THE FARM"

X.—The Farm as a Place to Grow Old.

By C. V. GREGORY.

(Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.)

I used to be the ambition of the farmer to make money enough so that he could afford to move to town and spend the rest of his days in comfort. Now it is the ambition of the city dweller to accumulate enough of this world's goods to enable him to purchase a little place in the country and grow old in the open air.

This change is typical of the change in sentiment that has taken place in regard to country life. This change in sentiment is due in a large measure to a change in country life itself.

At first country life was essentially the life of the pioneer. It was a life

A RETIRED FARMER FEEDING HIS PIGS.

of hardships, and the reward was only a few of life's necessities. But these hardships developed a class of hardy, virile men who have conquered the American continent and brought it under man's control.

The days of pioneering on the farm are well nigh past. Now that the rough edges are worn off the true pleasure of life in the open is beginning to be appreciated. At first people crowded together in the cities for protection, later for convenience in transacting business. The city never was intended primarily as a place to live. In the early days the cities were deserted as soon as the danger which had forced the people together was over. They scattered out to their farms, where they could live in peace and plenty.

When the development of the city as a business center began no particular provision was made for the home life. People lived where they could, existing for their business rather than making their business exist for them.
In all the years in which the cities of the United States have been developing the home life always has lagged behind. True, some of the men who were most successful in accumulating wealth built palatial homes. But there is no room in the city for many such homes. Rather must people live tiered one above another, layer upon layer. On all sides, above and below, the space in which they are free to move at will is marked by strictly defined limits. No wonder that in such circumstances man has longed for a fourth dimension in which he could expand.

People have endured these conditions because it paid them to do so. Hastiness fed and clothed them, but business demanded that they be always close at hand. They knew that somewhere outside the web of paved streets lay an open country, but they knew of no way in which they could make a living there. The stories they heard from the country were stories of poorly paid toil, few pleasures and a premature old age. They preferred the discomforts to which they were accustomed.

The coming of electric transportation widened the horizon of the city. It made it possible for the best paid laborers to have houses of their own. It allowed the salaried man, who put in fewer hours, to live almost in the country. With a glimpse of suburban and country life and what it really meant to have plenty of room to breathe, the city dweller began to cherish an ambition. He began to long for an acre of his own, with a garden and a few berries and some chickens, where he could rest and grow old.

The advance in the price of food products made it not only possible, but comparatively easy, for the man who has given the best years of his life to the city to retire to the country. Perhaps I should not use the word retire. The swirling rush of twentieth century life has made the thought of retiring distasteful. The ambitious man lets go his work with reluctance. He would rather die in the harness than to rust away his remaining days in idleness. But there comes a time when the strongest man feels his grip weaken and his mind falters. The hard knocks of a strenuous life begin to make themselves felt. The long hours grow weary on his shoulders. Some men are situated so fortunately that they can let go by degrees, working as they feel like it and turning over to others the tasks of which they tire. Most men, however, must continue to meet the exacting demands of business to the farthest notch or drop out entirely. It is to them that the country makes its strongest appeal.

A house and an acre or more of land can be purchased or rented more cheaply than a house and lot in the city. The home can be supplied with all the conveniences that the family were used to in the city. The trolley and the telephone keep them in touch with their city friends. The city man who is past the days of the hard work demanded in a mercantile establishment or a factory can still make a fair living from the soil. The returns from an even acre or so of ground will go far toward paying the family's living expenses.

The pleasure of life in the open, where the air is pure and there is time to dream and room to be happy, will add years to the lives of the new made farmer and his wife. The freedom from responsibility calls back the light heartedness of youth. The tyranny of office hours is done away with. The luxury of independence is attained.

No sign of the return to the country is more encouraging than the tendency of the old farmers and their wives to spend the remainder of their days in the country. Some of the old farmers who move to town to end their days are satisfied perhaps, but most of them are not. The enforced idleness galls them. The narrow boundaries of a city lot stifle them. They miss their old friends and associates.

The home farm is a much better place than the city for the farmer to spend his declining years for many reasons. It is home to him, and a thousand pleasant memories cling around every knell and tree. He can turn over to one of the boys the active work of managing the farm and still have most of the pleasure of farming without the responsibility. It may mean the construction of another house perhaps, but the expense will be less than the cost of a house in the city. There are always little tasks to be done when he feels like work, yet he can quit when he feels like quitting. When he is not in a mood to work there are always neighbors to visit. With his automobile or his horse and buggy he and his wife can go where and when they please. Thus the days pass pleasantly and smoothly, without a ripple of discontent or the strain of getting used to a new environment. The passing years leave few marks on either the farmer or his wife, for this sort of life is not calculated to encourage the advance of old age.

From the standpoint of the community the retired farmer is a valuable asset. A number of such families in the community give permanency to its social life. With little else to do and plenty of time to do it in the farmer and his wife can go ahead with the management of the club or grange. They can devise picnics and suppers and go ahead with lecture courses and celebrations.

These things are of incalculable benefit to any community, and yet too often the young farmers are too busy to look after all the details connected with them.

In looking after the business affairs of the township and county and state the farmer who is out of active business finds an outlet for his surplus energies. Township offices are by no means lucrative. Yet it is essential for the good of the community that they be filled by men who will take time to see that the township affairs are properly conducted. A farmer who no longer has a business of his own to demand his best attention is just the man for such a place.

The county supervisors have charge of a great amount of business. Upon the efficiency of their work depends the condition of the roads and bridges.
The management of a county is no small job, yet it is too often intrusted to some office seeking politician because there is no one else who has time for the place. Here is another opportunity for the retired farmer.

ONE OF A RETIRED FARMER'S SIDE LINES.

He has plenty of time to do the work properly and to investigate any matters that come up. He is a substantial property holder, and his acts are in the line of conservative progress and in the main always right. He takes a more impartial view of things than if he were in active business for himself. The experience of years helps him to govern justly.

For the farmer with more ability and larger ambitions positions in the state legislature are open. Our legislatures are especially in need of more intelligent farmers in the lawmakers' seats. These men are unimpeachably honest, and they know how to stifle an average between a do nothing policy and one of reckless extravagance.

The country needs men who have lived long enough to gain wisdom and experience. These men need the country. For the best good of themselves and for the best good of the nation they should grow old in the country.

Not a minute should be lost when a child shows symptoms of croup.
Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. Said by all druggists.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1910.

The coal man will be in demand before much longer.

Another suicide wave seemed to sweep over the country last week.

Talk is cheap. Maybe that is why some politicians give out so much of it.

Atlanta was the happiest place on the map when Mr. Roosevelt struck that town Saturday evening.

An automobile race is a race with death, and an airship flight is the next thing to it.

Cook and Peary are both coming back into the home-light. So near to Thanksgiving, too.

If you want to see Greenville better, there is a part you should be doing to make it better.

Next week is the great State fair and home coming week in Raleigh. Many of the dispersed North Carolinians are expected to come back and see the home folks.

When a Republican says his party would give the State good government if elected, ask him what they did when they were in power.

When Greenville gets the needed manufacturing enterprises, the home-folks themselves will be the ones who go about establishing them. Don't wait for somebody else to do it.

The county canvass this year is to be short and brisk, speech-making not starting until just a month before the election. That is plenty long.

The oil stove is taking off the morning and evening chill until the furnace and heater come into requisition.

Since Mr. Hearst could get neither of the old parties in New York to take side with him, he has started a new party of his own.

Registration books for the November election are now open, and if you want to vote you should see that your name is written there.

Along with the immigrants comes the cholera. Two cases have developed on a steamer held at the New York quarantine station.

The thing that haunts the Republicans most is their past records. They have nothing to bring before the people on which to base a claim for support.

The Republican claim of prosperity is not backed up by so many mills running on short time. Men forced to be idle a third of their time are unable to see the prosperity.

Up in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Cyrus Crum has been county clerk for 54 years. In spite of his advanced age of 86 he is again a candidate and will stump his county for re-election.

The Supreme court of the United States loses another member, Associate Justice Moody having tendered his resignation.

About the biggest bunch of candidates for any office is the list asking to be made auditor to succeed the late Dr. B. F. Dixon.

A New York man, aged 64, went home drunk and his father, aged 84, wanted tospank the boy so as to make him behave himself. No doubt he needed it.

Registration books for the November election are now open and will be until the 29th. All who have become of age since the last election will have to register.

The would-be-collectors of those fraudulent bonds are helping to swell Republican campaign contributions in North Carolina. The boys will spend the money for them.

Give automobiles and flying machines enough time and there will be no need of nations going to war with each other. People will be killed off fast enough without a resort to arms.

Since the census report gives Charlotte only 34,014, much less than was expected, Greensboro is mighty glum.

Kings are not wearing easy crowns these days.

Even Durham can't pave her streets without having a dispute over it. Every municipality has its citizens who try to block progress.

Senator Elihu Root says the New York Republicans have nothing more than a fighting chance. That same opinion prevails throughout the country, senator.

The Democrats of Tennessee have nominated United States Senator Bob Taylor as their candidate for governor. His term as senator does not expire until 1912.

The commissioners of Hamlet know how to get rid of near-beer sadowns. The license was already $1,000 and they increased it to $5,000. No licenses were renewed at the advance and the joints closed.

The doctors did not mind pulling Mayor Gaynor for bringing him safely over his wound from the would-be assassin's bullet. The bills rendered were something like $34,000.

Who cares if the price of radium has dropped a little? It is the price of hash that the folks have most interest in, and that stays up like it was anchored to an airship.

Charlotte's population of 34,014 as reported by the census is 88 per cent. larger than ten years ago when it was 18,091. The "Queen City" has done much growing in the decade, even if the count of noses was not as numerous as hoped for.

The Charlotte Observer makes editorial comment on the fact that 764 ladies visited a Wilmington store on a single day to look at and try on new hats. For a similar purpose a Greenville store had 609 visitors on a single day, and Greenville is hardly more than one-fifth as large as Wilmington.

It seems difficult to get all the people of a community to agree on a matter that is largely in their interest, and could not fail to prove beneficial. There was a meeting of Farmville township citizens here Tuesday, to take some action in regard to a proposition to train upper Centennial creek, but the division of sentiment was so strong that the proposition was withdrawn.

The Democratic State executive committee nominated Col. W. P. Wood, of Randolph county, for State auditor to succeed the late Dr. B. F. Dixon. There were twelve candidates for the nomination and seventeen ballots were taken before a nomination was reached. Col. Wood is a Confederate veteran, has been treasurer of his county and represented his district in the State senate.

The Whiting Lumber Company, doing large timber operations in Graham county, has purchased practically all of the property in Robbinsville, a town of 300 population and the county seat. The company wanted the site of the town for the location large mills and lumber yard, and paid fabulous prices for some of the lots there. Everything but the court house and church lots were purchased and negotiations for these are in progress. Buying a whole town is something unusual.

The Wilson Times says the near-Mount Olive orphan home solicitor has been working the town again. For years men, women and girls have been going around begging money to build orphan homes near Mount Olive and near Clinton, but nobody hears anything about the homes being built—at least for orphans. They are always going to be built. We mention this so that if the solicitors come to Greenville, as they have done several times, our people may now how to protect themselves from being imposed upon. Street begging from door to door ought not to be allowed anyway.

The Slavery of Taxation.

Who gets the benefit of the protective tariff which taxes the masses on an average of nearly 45 per cent. on practically everything they purchase, some of the Aldrich schedules calling for a tax as high as 150 per cent. Why, those who are authorized by the tariff law to fix the prices for nearly everything we eat and wear, thus placing the people at the mercy of trusts and combines, get the benefits. They subscribe enormous amounts of money to keep in power the party which levies that tariff so they can exploit the people.

Is it possible that the majority of the people will vote to continue the Republican party in power so it can perpetuate the infamous system which burdens the average man and moderate earner for the benefit of the classes which keep the masses working for them? There is no more than one kind of slavery, but the system which puts a tax on what labor industry and enterprise produces, and which puts a tax on consumers, all for the benefit of one class of the people, is a system of slavery that seems to be voluntarily imposed by voters who are supposed to be intelligent. If the voters could not help themselves it would be quite a different thing, but they can go to the polls and obtain freedom for themselves by casting their ballots for Democratic representatives in congress.

It is true that some of the multi-millionaire beneficiaries have secured seats in the senate and house by purchase, bribery and corruption, but there ought to be enough of the spirit of independence and civic intelligence left in the people to enable them to elect enough congressmen to outvote the special interests which dominate congress under Republicanism. If the people actually intend and desire to pay any kind of taxes for the benefit of the favorite interest they should at least send their own representatives to congress so they can pass their own tariff law. Certainly they should not be content to leave it to such multi-millionaire representatives as Senator Aldrich and others who represent plutocracy and not the people.

We often wonder if a voter has a correct idea of his liberty when he goes to the polls and votes for a party the legislation of which is so plainly framed in opposition to his interests. If you do vote that way or are contemplating doing so, it is time for you to call a halt on yourself.—Wilmington Dispatch.

The Overshadowing Issue of the State

The rambling and indefinite attacks of Republican speakers on the Democratic State administration show that these orators are unable to put their hands upon a single failure of the party, and in the minds of thoughtful men the question is constantly arising, "Why are they so anxious to capture the legislature?" Do they dare to promise better government? Do they dare declare any definite program? The real purpose is being rapidly disclosed, and it is a baneful purpose. It is a still hunt, but doubtless well devised and financed scheme by Mr. Butler and his backers to force the people of North Carolina to pay the bonds that the State has declared over and over that it will never pay. Nearly every Southern State that was controlled by Republicans prior to 1876 was looted of everything in sight and bonds were issued as fast as the presses could turn them out, and the carpet-bag and the scalawag thieves in control of those state governments disposed of them for a song, for their enrichment. The State got little or nothing from these issues and when the reconstruction knaves were driven from power and the white people came back in control of their own affairs, these fraudulent and dishonest bonds were repudiated, and all and all men who know how they were issued approved the repudiation. There are now outstanding of such bonds more than a hundred million dollars owned by syndicates who are willing to risk a little money to try to compel southern States to pay them. In 1879, Colonel William L. Saunders estimated that North Carolina owed (if the bonds were not fraudulent) seventeen million dollars on the special tax bonds alone. Inspired by the action of Butler and Russell in working a fraud upon the jurisdiction of the Supreme court, the syndicates holding these bonds have been seeking to extort payment by following that precedent, which they helped to secure, for the bigger game of the special tax bonds. To that end, their agents have offered to make large presents of these special tax bonds to any State that would bring suit against the State of North Carolina. They tricked the Rhode Island legislature into accepting a donation of these fraudulent bonds in an act that compelled that state to bring suit against the State of North Carolina; but when Governor Kitchen brought all the facts to the attention of the governor and the people of Rhode Island, the act was repealed and the bonds returned. Rhode Island repudiated the attempt to make it a collecting agent of fraudulent bonds. But the bond syndicate is not idle. It is trying to induce some other state to accept what Michigan, New York and Rhode Island spurned. If they could, through Butler, secure control of the legislature of North Carolina, they would not need to make donations and bring suits, for they are confident that the man who while senator took a fee to prosecute a suit against his State would not hesitate as a private citizen and the leader of his party, to find a way to enable them to secure money from North Carolina for a part, at least, of the special tax bonds. Who, in view of Butler's moral treason, while he was senator, believes he would hesitate to again help to sue, harass, and extort money from the State? In 1906, the Blackburn forces warned the people of North Carolina to beware of the Butler-Pettigrew bond scheme, and in 1910 the Greensboro News, Republican organ, said: "Many people want to know if the holders of the fraudulent State bonds are behind Marion Butler in his efforts to get control of North Carolina."

The One Crop Theory.

The Greenville, S. C., News is said to be promulgating the theory that cotton being a monopoly in the South, should be planted to the exclusion of other crops. It seems to think that any diversification is all wrong. The News forgets that for the first thirty years after the civil war the South did not diversify much with the following results: For the first ten years succeeding the war, the South made an average annual production of 12,500,000 bales of cotton which sold at 25 cents per pound, making $300,000,000. In the second decade is made 5,000,000 bales sold for 12 cents per pound and received the same $300,000,000. In the third decade it made 10,000,000 bales of cotton, got 6 cents per pound for it, and pocketed the same old $300,000,000 annually. These figures are rough average figures, but they are near enough to the mark to illustrate the principle that producing one crop and nothing but that crop will not do.

In the fourth decade, after quite a number of cotton mills were built, after the idea of diversification got a fair hold, the South made 10,000,000 bales of cotton, the same as in the third decade, and got $600,000,000. It seems that the world is always willing to take so much cotton at a fixed price. More cotton means less money and less cotton means more money.

The world will take 10,000,000 bales of cotton at 10 cents per pound, whereas, it will take 15,000,000 not exceeding 10 cents per pound. It seems irrational to talk about making 15,000,000 for the same approximate sum of money that 10,000,000 will bring. If we propose to use the monopoly to the best advantage for the home people, we had best make the equation so that we will produce the least quantity of cotton for the best sum. As a matter of fact the South has never been a one crop country. It has sometimes overdone the cotton business, but it has always been a big producer in other fields.

In regard to the staple crops, the South is by the rest of the country, somewhat as the Texan claims for Texas, to-wit: More sugar than Louisiana; more horses than Kentucky; more mules than Missouri; more wheat than Minnesota; more corn than Kansas; more cattle than Wisconsin, and more cotton than any other two states in the Union. The South has always been a country of diversified crops. If we should approximately single out cotton and produce all we could cotton would fall to 3 cents per pound. There is easily such a thing as too much of a good thing, and all cotton for the South would certainly be too much of a good thing for the whole world.—Charlotte News.

The Spirit of Democracy.

Everywhere in North Carolina the glad cries of Democracy are heard. In every county in the State, Democratic speakers are on the stump, explaining to the people and pointing them to the right path. This augurs well for deepest interest being shown, but, especially when one looks over the list of speakers it presents something stronger. The personnel shows that not only are prominent men, and men, too of massive intellectual capacities, on the stump, having forsaken their business in order to preach Democratic doctrine, so that North Carolina will not go backward, but that the number includes many able Democrats who ran for the nominations of their party and were defeated. This latter vividly and well exemplifies great devotion to Democratic principles. Man after man who was defeated for some nomination is on the stump in North Carolina preaching Democratic doctrine. This shows as nothing else could, that Democracy is not love for office, a greed for gold, but that the man who has it in his heart stands for its principles in rainy weather, as well as in fair, and that he is going to always battle for it. It is such a spirit that makes North Carolina roll-up a big Democratic majority every two years. It is such a spirit that is going to carry the country Democratic in November.—Wilmington Dispatch.

Market Your Own Tobacco.

There is considerable complaint coming from certain sections of the bright belts on account of tobacco buying in the country. We have always thought with good reasons, for so thinking that the practice was a bad one, both for the farmer and the buyer. Certainly for the farmer, who will generally make a mistake by selling his tobacco at home for some one to come along and by it. From our general observation the regular buyers on the markets are always disposed to help the farmer by paying the highest possible prices for tobacco and if the farmer will handle his tobacco well and market it in good condition he may at all times feel assured of the best market prices. Right here and now is a good time to again press upon our farmer friends the importance of making preparations for handling their tobacco at home. For such arrangements the investment will be small, and the results always profitable. Why not be your own master and prepare your own storage houses, handle your tobacco well and make it judiciously?—Southern Tobacco Journal

Moist Air Saves Fuel.

Dryness of the air tempts to overheating of the living rooms, for dry air increases the evaporation of perspiration from the skin, thereby increasing the sensation of chilliness. Dry air at seventy five degrees will feel about as chilly as moist air at sixty-five degrees. Stoves, coils and furnaces should always have open vessels of water exposed to evaporation for the purpose of properly moistening the air. This moistening of the air will prove a saving of both coal bills and doctor's bills.—Designer.

A woman is blamed for the downfall of King Manuel of Portugal. Of course, every fellow from Adam down to Manuel has had to have somebody to put the blame on.—Wilmington Star.

Grown-ups and Children.

See a man who stops to pat some little child on the head, whose heart is touched when the tears stream down the little one's face, and you behold a man whose thoughts are tender, whose heart throbs for humanity, who loves his fellowman. In the hurry and hustle of the day there are, of course, tender hearted men who cannot stop to heed the little people of this life, but upon the one who does notice the child can be placed that stamp of approval. Its a safe bet that such a man is frank and honest. Alas, too little attention is paid to children of this life. Of course, not always parents, though there are many such who race or whirl through life to the detriment of childhood—innocent, defenseless childhood. There is sometimes the mother who cares so much for the gay way that she becomes fretful of her child; there are others, fathers and mothers, who appear naturally indifferent, and then the drunken father. Children raised in the atmosphere of either seldom win success. Wealth may supply education and there may be ability for education to be reared upon, but the warm glow in the heart is lacking. The same applies largely to the indifferent parents, and the drunken father not only sets his child a bad example, but he makes the battle of life harder and casts gloom into the heart, which acts as a handicap through life.

Sons of the drunken father sometimes succeed, due to the tender, constant urging, the beautiful teachings of a mother, and they deserve credit, but the chance to reach success this way is slim. On the other hand, what a strong incentive, what a firm rock have the children to stand upon whose parents are attentive and who take an interest in them. This applies to the poorest as well as to the richest. Many of the greatest men of the country came from the ranks of the poor, but the back of them had a loving mother, who lightened their burdens and urged them on with tender words and warm kisses from withered lips, with hands.

The problem of how to raise children is large and deep, and, of course, no parents want to be told how they should bring up their own. Still there are some things that can be said that will take root in the mind, if the mind is a fair one, that will touch the heart if the heart has tender cords running through it. There are some, many of the old days, no doubt, who still lean on the proposition of not sparing the rod, but many modern day parents do not believe in this. For instance, in California, the mother and father of nine children have never whipped one of their youngsters. Instead, when the child is naughty it is deprived of some pleasure it like best, and often is kept away from play. They find that the best of punishment, and the entire family is happy. The way of this California couple is well worth thinking about, and we believe that many parents, who may pooch-pooch suggestions, will nevertheless give it consideration.—Wilmington Dispatch.

London's Big Bell.

"Big Ben," the bell in Westminster clock tower, London, is known the world over, but it is incorrectly named. Sir Benjamin Hall, the first commissioner of works, during whose tenure of office the clock was erected, had far less to do with it than Lord Grimthorpe, who designed it, and was the moving spirit in its erection. In justice to him it should be known as "Old Grim."

Ten Things to do This Month.

- (1) Sow oats; begin wheat sowing; keep working all lands for these crops until ready to sow; treat seed, if smutty, with bluestone or formalin.
- (2) Keep on planting cover and pasture crops, vetch, crimson clover, rape, rye, tritlings.
- (3) Gather in the corn; get the fodder or stover and all the hay possible under shelter or in good stacks.
- (4) Keep the cotton picked as it ripens; put it under shelter after it is baled; in boll weevil territory get ready to destroy the stalks as soon as possible.
- (5) Prepare for the storing of winter vegetables and fruits; see if it will not pay to build a potato house.
- (6) Fix a shelter, if there is none, for the farm tools, and keep them in the dry next winter.
- (7) Push the hogs—they should be gaining rapidly now; give all young stock, especially the colts and dairy calves, special attention.
- (8) Do some fall plowing; get out stumps and bushes; drain wet spots; prepare for better crops next year.
- (9) Prepare to set out some fruit trees, also some berries and grapes; plant winter-growing vegetables.
- (10) Look after the house and yard also plant some shrubbery and vines; do needed repairing and painting; arrange a more convenient water supply for the coming winter.—Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer and Gazette.

Bill and Teddy.

Had Teddy Roosevelt never been president of these United States we confess we should regard him as the coming man; the things he is saying and the things he says he wants done appeal strongly to a large part of the nation; but he was president once; he had the power to do these things or know the reason that they were not done, but did he do anything? Not by a blame sight! Occasionally he would break aloose and pretend that he was going to do something, then old Joe Cannon and the other bosses would quickly read the riot act to him and Roosevelt would be real good. If ever he is elected president again he will do the same thing. All his big talk is pure rot. Only last week he got down on his knees to Mr. Taft and begged him to help him in New York. Taft helped him, but he made Roosevelt endorse the Aldrich tariff bill. Who would have thought Taft had so much grit?—Greensboro Record.

Have Learned not to be Hambugged.

Times are more prosperous than they have been since the war and people are better able to buy what they want than in former years, but they are also more intelligent and know how to spend their money more wisely. As an evidence of this fact, a crowd of sewing machine agents came down from Washington, D. C., a few weeks ago and had a car load of machines shipped to Marshallville which they intended selling our people at $65 each, as they once could do. But after a week or two of hard labor they probably decided that the folks of this section were 'on to the racket' and proceeded to load the machines on a car and make headquarters elsewhere.—Marshallville Home.

MR. HENRY A. BLOW DEAD.

A Confederate Veteran and Former Post Master.

Mr. Henry A. Blow, a well known citizen of Greenville died today about 1 p. m. He had been sick only a few days, and his death was rather unexpected. He was about 63 years old. He married a Miss Boddie of Nash county. She died several years ago. There are six children living, Mrs. W. B. Wilson, of Greenville; Mr. W. J. Blow, of Wilmington; Miss Fannie Blow, of Littleton; Mr. T. G. Blow, of Washington; Mrs. Nonie Blow, of Greensboro, and Mrs. Strickland, Nashville. He is also survived by one brother, Mr. A. L. Blow and one sister, Mrs. M. D. Higgs, both of Greenville.

Mr. Blow was a Confederate soldier and has been secretary of the Bryan Grimes Camp of Confederate veterans of Pitt county several years. He was post master of Greenville under Cleveland's first administration. He was recently nominated for justice of the peace.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best-known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. ## Comparative Tobacco Sales.

Kinston reports September sales of tobacco as 3,149,584 pounds for $280,362.07, an average of $9 per hundred. Total sales to October 1st, 3,622,373 for $10,730.10.

Greenville's sales for September was 3,415,031 pounds at an average of $10.06 per hundred. Total sales to October 1st, 3,742,144 pounds at an average of $9.77 per hundred. Wilson's September sales were 4,755,264 pounds at an average of $9.74 per hundred. The total sales to October 1st, were 5,525,958 pounds at an average of $9.43 per hundred.

Mr. Spilman Sunday.

Rev. B. W. Spilman, of Kinston, visited Memorial Baptist church Sunday and occupied the pulpit at both morning and evening services, preaching excellent sermons. In the beginning of his ministry seventeen years ago, the church here was among the first that he served. He has visited Greenville several times since and the people always hear him gladly. Of recent years, he has not been actively in the ministry, being secretary of the Sunday school board of the Southern Baptist convention and his time being devoted mainly to that work.

CYCLONE FORMATION.

The Mechanical Laws Are the Same as in a Whirlpool.

Any one can make the exact counterpart of a cyclone if he so desires. Of course a cyclone is caused by the air over a big area getting warm and light with small pressure. This air consequently tries to rise almost in a body and leaves a partial vacuum behind, but the outside cold air rushes in from all sides. Now, it is a scientific and mechanical truth that when a fluid runs in from all sides toward a central point it causes a whirlpool or rotation of the fluid. The exact analogy of a cyclone, then, although with the fluid water instead of air, is seen when the stopper is pulled out of the bottom of a basin full of water. An almost perfect vacuum, as far as the water is concerned, is caused by the water immediately over the stopper running out. The rest of the water rushes in from all directions, and a whirlpool is the result. There is one difference here from the air cyclone.
In the air the force with which it rushes toward the center greatly compresses the air whirling at that point and makes it very dense—so dense, in fact, that a straw carried in the central whirl can be driven into a big block of wood without bending. Of course in a whirlpool the water is not compressed, remaining practically the same in density all the time. That is one highly important property of water; it is practically incompressible.
Nevertheless it is very interesting to see the whirl form in a basin and know that the mechanical laws are the same as in the formation of a cyclone many miles wide.—Harper's Weekly.

NEW JERSEY TEA.

Red Root, That Did Good Service in Revolutionary Days.

You housekeepers of today whose favorite brands of Orange Pekoe, English Breakfast, India and Ceylon, etc., diffuse their fragrance over your tea table would hardly suppose that tea, or, rather, a fairly good substitute for it, was once made from the leaves of one of our prettiest New Jersey wild flowers. Yet so it was in the old turbulent days of the American Revolution, when they had so much trouble over the imported article and used various beverages as substitutes for that to which they had become accustomed.

New Jersey tea, or red root, as it is also called, is a low growing shrub with many branches, seldom over three feet high, and is found from Canada to Florida, growing usually in dry wooded sections. It is very abundant in New Jersey, for which it is named. It blooms profusely in July and is so showy, with its many pan-cled white blossoms, as to be quite worth a place in the gardens as an ornamental shrub. It has a dark red root, with leaves downy beneath and very much veined, by which it is easily distinguished from the pure tea. An infusion of the leaves prepared in the same manner as the genuine article has somewhat the taste of ordinary grades of the tea of the orient, but is not supposed to possess any of its stimulating properties.—Exchange.

Bulwer Lytton and His Chorus.

The Princess von Racovitsa met Bulwer Lytton in the Riviera toward the end of the fifties. He was then, she says in her autobiography, "past his first youth; his fame was at its zenith. He seemed to me antediluvian, with his long dyed curls and his old fashioned dress. He dressed exactly in the fashion of the twenties, with long coats reaching to the ankles, knee breeches and long colored waistcoats.
Also he appeared always with a young lady who adored him and who was followed by a manservant carrying a harp. She sat at his feet and appeared, as he did, in the costume of 1850, with long flowing curls, called Anglaises. He read aloud from his own works, and in especially poetic passages his 'Alice' accompanied him with arpeggios on the harp."

A Tree Climbing Dog.

A government official in Bavaria connected with the forestry department has a wonderful dog, which is as clever at climbing trees as a cat. If his master fastens a handkerchief up in the treetops the animal will clamber up after it in the nimblest way and never fails to bring it down. He was taught by his mother, who was famous as a tree climber. The clever animal has won several medals by his extraordinary talent and takes particular delight in climbing silver birches, not the easiest tree in the world to scale, for the trunk is particularly smooth and slippery.—Wide World Magazine.

Rheumatism!

Not one case in ten requires internal treatment.

Where there is no swelling or fever Noah's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal remedy.

One trial will convince you.
Noah's Liniment penetrates; requires but little rubbing.

Here's the Proof

Mr. W. R. Taylor, a resident of Richmond, Va., writes: "For the past four years I have been traveling Eastern North Carolina, where I contracted malaria and rheumatism. Recently I have used Noah's Liniment with beneficial results, and take pleasure in recommending same to anyone suffering with rheumatism."

"I caught cold and had a severe attack of rheumatism in my left shoulder and could not raise my arm without much pain. I was persuaded to try Noah's Liniment, and in less than a week was entirely free from pain. I feel justified in speaking of it in the highest terms. A. Crooker, Dorchester, Mass."

Advertising Rates on Application

Winterville, N. C., Oct. 10.—Messrs. R. L. Abbott, J. L. Rollins, and Eugene Cannon, went to Ayden Wednesday night.

Mr. J. F. Oyner, the Norfolk photographer, is in Winterville and will remain for about two or three weeks.

The Bank of Winterville furnishes cashier's checks free of charge. That is the safest way to send money, and at absolutely no cost.

Mr. J. A. H. Edwards, the traveling man who was stricken with paralysis last Wednesday night, is still unconscious and is in a critical condition. His wife and father are with him and all is being done for his recovery.

Later—Mr. Edwards died early this morning, and his remains were taken by the morning train to Dunn.

If you wish to buy a cheap farm, see A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company.

The country is in a very prosperous condition now. As a proof of it, the farmers are making deposits in the Bank of Winterville for safe keeping until needed. These deposits have over doubled in the last month.

Mr. J. L. Jackson, of Greenville, spent Thursday night in town.

The Ayden Manufacturing Company are selling quite a number of box body cars and wagon boddies. This reminds us that it must be time to house corn and haul cotton to the gin.

Messrs. W. L. House, J. F. Harrington, Heber McLawhorn and Eugene Cannon, made a trip to Greenville Friday night to see the show.

Mr. A. O. Beddard is paying the highest prices for chickens and eggs.

When you put up your heater, don't use old pipe, it might fire your house, A. W. Ange & Company have plenty of new pipe all sizes.

Mr. L. L. Kittrell made a special business trip to Greenville show day.

Don't forget the nice buggy robes at A. W. Ange & Company's. They are cheap and good, too.

Go to Harrington, Barber & Company for your bagging and ties, reversible disc harrows and stalk cutters.

Mr. M. B. Bryan went to Greenville Friday evening.

You would save money to see Harrington, Barber & Company for hay presses.

Mr. C. T. Cox went to Greenville Friday.

The latest magazines and McCalls patterns at Harrington, Barber & Company's.

Messrs. J. R. Johnson and daughter, Esther, made a trip to Munford's big sale at Greenville Saturday.

If you are ready to sell your seed when you have your cotton ginned, the Pitt County Oil Company will give you the highest cash price, for meal exchange that can be gotten anywhere.

If you are not already ginning your cotton with the Pitt County Oil Company, bring them a bale on trial and they will prove to you their superior advantage in patronizing them.

Winterville, N. C., Oct. 12.—Mr. R. L. Abbott, the clever bookkeeper for the Pitt County Oil Co., went to Grifton Saturday night.

You don't have to wait long for your cotton. They unload it with a suction elevator and load the bale on your wagon without a struggle on your part.—The Pitt County Oil Company.

Messrs. D. D. McLawhorn and J. L. Rollins went to Ayden Sunday night and took the fresh air back.

The A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company has just received a car load of splendid buggy material.

Mr. J. A. H. Edwards died Sunday night and was taken to Spring Hope Monday morning. Messrs W. L. House, G. A. Kittrell and Mrs. J. H. Dixon, accompanied the remains with the bereaved wife.

If you want what you want when you want it, go to Harrington, Barber & Company, and get the real bargains.

Miss Elizabeth Adams spent Sunday evening in the country with Miss Helen Dixon.

The Pitt County Oil Company won't lack but just a little giving all seed are worth. Call on them for prices.

Messrs. Roy "Theodore" Cox and Eugene Cannon attended church at Ayden last night.

Hunsucker buggies have been constantly going out from the factory lately. We predict this will lead to more marriages.

Miss Kate Chapman, who has been teaching at Gold Point, came home last night, on account of sickness in her school. We are glad to have her with us again for a while.

Several of our young people want to attend "The Sins of The Father," at Wilson tonight, but on account of not being able to get standing room, they decided to stay at home.

Miss Clyde Chapman spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Lizzie Cox.

Mr. J. T. Oyner, the Norfolk photographer, is still here, and is doing good work, give him a call.

Prof. F. C. Nye went to Greenville Saturday to attend the teachers' association.

The Negro in Politics.

There is a chapter in the Republican campaign text-book, published by the congressional campaign committee, entitled "Our Colored Citizens" which can only be described as disgusting in its appeal for the negro vote. It is certain North Carolina Republicans will not ask for the circulation of his campaign book in the State, for a perusal of this particular chapter would cause many well meaning Republicans to either stay away from the polls or to vote the Democratic ticket.

There is one gem culled from the chapter entitled "Our Colored Citizens" that is typical of many in the book on which the Republican party is making its fight for control of the next congress:

"The platform adopted by the Republican party at Chicago, in 1908, contains a plank which stands squarely and unequivocally for all the civil and political rights of the Afro-American people.

"There is to be no question in the mind of any honorable, thinking, sane Afro-American as to which party he should support in this campaign. No truer sentiment has ever been uttered than that of the great Douglas, when he said:

"The Republican party is the ship; all else the sea."

One of the proud boasts of the Republican campaign bees is that there are 14,397 negroes in the employ of the Federal government, and that they receive in salaries each year the sum of $8,557,621. Of course, credit for the appointment of the negroes to office is claimed by the campaign book for the Republican party.

North Carolina Republicans can never say anything about "raising the nigger issue" after this. About the only thing that Chairman McKinlay, Mr. Moehrd, and the other members of the Republican campaign committee overlooked is the victory of Jack Johnson, at Reno.—Concord Tribune.

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause break down. You can't over-tax stomach, liver kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters, the matchless tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c at all druggists.

Rotation in Office.

The principle of rotation in office was one very earnestly advocated by Thomas Jefferson, and it is interesting to see that his opinions on the subject are now being quoted with approval in many parts of our territory. There is no doubt that the principle of rotation is wise and healthful, but there are one or two modifying facts which our voters should keep in mind.

In the first place, a very sharp distinction should be made between the offices in which merely routine work is done, such as those of sheriff, treasurer, register of deeds, auditor, secretary of state, etc., on one hand and, on the other hand, offices requiring a high degree of constructive ability and technical skill such as commissioner of agriculture, superintendent of education, supervisor of roads, health commissioner, etc., etc. Formerly most officers of this class it is certainly important that a distinction be made between the two types. Of course, no inefficient man ought to be kept in any office because he is supposed to have experience in it, but we hope our Progressive Farmer readers will see to it that the wise principle of rotation is not carried to unwise extremes. Dr. S. C. Mitchell, of the University of South Carolina, declared the other day that while it was originally said that there were three departments of government, legislative, executive, and judicial, we now recognize four—legislative executive, judicial, and educational. In the executive offices, the mere execution of political and financial machinery, it is well to have rotation, but when a really able man has been found for the management of the schools, the roads, public health work, or agricultural development, there is no more reason for making frequent changes than there is for changing the professors in the State University.

In short, let us have as much rotation as the people wish in the executive offices, but less in legislative offices where influence comes with experience; still less in judicial offices, and least of all, perhaps, in the educational offices—provided in each case that the officer be a really able man who is doing his work well.—Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer and Gazette.

NOTES FROM THE UNIVERSITY.

Local Self-Government Organized Among the Student Body.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 10.—The different classes of the University have elected their presidents and the University council, the student organ of self-government, will soon inaugurate itself for the years work.

The student body of the University is probably more nearly absolutely self-governing than that of any other institution in the country. The University council has legal existence delegated it by the board of trustees last commencement. Student self-government began here with the literary societies in the olden time when membership was compulsory and the laws governing the society men reached the entire body of students. The literary societies lost their grip on the college with the removal of the membership requirement and the faculty had to take up the work of ruling the boys. Gradually the Democratic spirit in North Carolina manifested itself in the evolution of student self-government in Chapel Hill. The chief instrument in this development was the honor system. The sentiment of the college first took unto itself the right to deal with cheating on examination. The students forced a man to leave first for cheating and gradually added other offenses to the list with which it dealt on its own authority. By last spring the student council was expelling men found guilty of the charge of gambling, cheating, hazing, drinking. A complication arose when a man expelled by the council was re-instated by the faculty. A committee of students asked the trustees for official recognition of the council. This the trustees gave and the student body of the University of North Carolina is now a self-governing democracy, just as real and just and as sound as any community government in the state.

The officers of the council this year are Archie Dees, president of the senior class, ex-officio chairman; G. W. Thompson, representative from the senior class; A. B. Folger, president of the junior class; R. W. Scott, president of the sophomore class; C. B. Ruffin, representative from the law class; F. J. Hunnicut, president of the second year pharmacy class; and G. A. Wheeler, president of the second year medical class.

Millions know its matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hayfever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. ### Mr. William Staton Dead.

A telephone message from Bethel this morning announced the sudden death of Mr. William Staton, of that town. Mr. Staton was about 60 years of age, and while he had been a cripple nearly all his life, he was thought to be in usual health until yesterday.

Besides his wife, Mr. Staton is survived by three children, Mr. H. V. Staton and Mrs. William Carson, of Bethel and Mr. V. E. Staton, of Greenville. He also leaves two brothers, Mr. Robert Staton, of Bethel, and Mr. Kenneth Staton, of House; and four sisters, Mrs. Ashley Whichard, of Greenville, Mrs. W. G. Keel, of Bethel, Mrs. Allie House, of Scotland Neck, and Miss Maggie H. Staton, of Bethel.

Mr. Helton, the Republican candidate for solicitor, talks about the saving to the people if school books are furnished free, as is proposed. It is just as well to remember in this connection that these so-called free school books would have to be paid for out of the public treasury and the taxes to pay for them would be collected out of the people.—Statesville Land-mark.

A BOLD STAND AGAINST EXISTING EVILS.

REV. J. H. SHORE'S STRONG SERMON SUNDAY NIGHT.

Says Officers Do Not Enforce Prohibition Laws and Church Members Responsible.

The sermon Sunday night by Rev. J. H. Shore, in Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, from the subject, "A Man Wanted," was one of the strongest that the people of Greenville have ever heard. Mr. Shore said that God was looking for a man to stand in the gap that was being made by negroes and a few low down white men in Greenville, and unless a man could be found the conditions in Greenville would be even worse than they are now. That the voters of Greenville elected men as aldermen who were in sympathy with the prohibition law, so would not try to enforce it. The responsibility was placed upon the church members, who did not live up to their profession, that they could elect the right kind of men if they desired to do so. That the progress of the world was marked with wide stones made by men whom God had found who would stand in the gap made by sin.

"How can the prohibition laws be enforced in any town, whose mayor, aldermen and policemen are on the side of whiskey, and do not exert themselves to stop the sale of it?" was one of the clinching questions the minister asked. He said that on Saturday night he was run against by a man who was so drunk that he should not have been allowed on the streets, yet that drunken man was not taken in charge by an officer. He said that he had also been reliably informed that on a recent Saturday night in Greenville, several young men came out of a place where near-beer is sold, and they were so drunk that they could not go home. You find the same class of men hanging around the near-beer places who were formerly seen around the bar rooms.

Mr. Shore also referred to numerous social evils existing in Greenville, and said the responsibility for these rested largely upon the homes. Parents have little knowledge of their children and the company they keep, and that they failed to instruct their children in the teachings of the Scriptures. He expressed the opinion that there were very few family altars in Greenville. Parents are responsible for this, and God will hold them accountable for it.

A large congregation heard this sermon, and Mr. Shore gave them something to ponder over.

School in Rural Districts.

"Nothing indicates so clearly the progress that North Carolina is making as the discussions at the State Farmers' Convention," truly declares North Carolina Education. Wonderful crops last year and greater crops this year where there was proper effort were told of. "Fifty acres of land producing an average yield of 46 bushels to the acre, 124 bushels of corn to the acre, a 76-pound boy making 76 bushels of corn to the acre—these are items that tell the story. This success led to the logical conclusions that poverty and ignorance are closely related. Nature has done much by the land. What has man done? What can man do? The items above tell of the vast possibilities in the land and what an intelligent man can do. The farmers in session discussed this very thing, and the opinion prevailed very largely that the school term should be increased to eight months. Here is section 2 of the educational platform adopted by the teachers' assembly.

"We favor a constitutional amendment opening the way for the gradual increase of the school term in every district from a requirements of four months to eight months.

"With the teachers and the farmers of the State in favor of an eight months' school term, all that is necessary for the accomplishment of it is a strong and vigorous leadership. Who will champion it in the next general assembly?

Editor Brooks' expression shows which way the wind is blowing. It is undoubtedly true that no class of people can utilize educational opportunities to greater advantage than the farmer, especially since agricultural courses have been introduced in the schools. If all our farmers were educated men, scientifically trained, the soil under cultivation at present would give forth returns two to four-fold what it is yielding now. Not only would the farmer profit by this but everybody else as well.

The eight months school term for the rural sections is coming and it will not be long arriving. North Carolina is arousing herself like a giant. She is just beginning to realize her tremendous possibilities and as this realization is breaking upon her she is beginning to act.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Good Roads.

One of the big days of the State fair this year will be "Good Roads Day," Wednesday, October 15th. Road machinery of all kinds, the most modern and up-to-date that has been devised as a result of the recent agitation for good roads, will be on exhibition and working. This good roads demonstration has been worked up for a long time, and with the utmost diligence and it will be one of the chief educational features of the fair of 1910. The plan is to provide stone on the ground for crushing purposes, and a space 400 by 30 feet has been laid off for the construction of a modern road in sections by the different lines of machinery exhibited, so that each manufacturer can demonstrate his system of road making before the very eyes of the visitors.

It Saved His Leg.

SORT OF MAN BUTLER IS.

How He Has Betrayed Every Party That Trusteth Him.

Is the memory of the people collectively less liable to hold important past events than that of an individual? And if a man is not to be properly and correctly judged by his past record, by what shall he be judged? Can the people of any party place confidence in a man who has been traitor to another party?

When Marion Butler was a Democratic state senator from Sampson county, he was a brilliant, dashing young man and at once attracted attention. A group of Democrats were one day discussing him, having read what the newspapers were saying of him, and there was expression of almost unanimous opinion that he was the most promising of young Democrats in the state. But one man present—also a Democrat—who had been silent, spoke up, and quoting from memory, after the lapse of some 20 years, this is about the language he used:

"I can't agree with you gentlemen, in regard to Marion Butler. It is true that he is bright and daring and shrewd. It will not be many years before he will show his true character and those who are praising him now will be cursing him."

Prophetic words or words spoken from the knowledge gained from intimate relationship and experience, no matter which. Refresh your memory as to the sequel.

About two years later, when the Democratic party nominated an Alliance man, Elias Carr (in 1892) for governor, Butler wrote on editorial in his paper, The Caucasian, then published at Clinton urging the Alliance people to stand by the Democratic nominee and not to join the third—or People's—party, then "in process of formation, urging such course on the ground that they could not hope to succeed in the third party movement except through the sufferance of the Republican party, both now and hereafter.

Listen! Two weeks after the date of the paper containing that appeal written by Marion Butler, he was chairman of the Populist convention in Raleigh that nominated Pat Exum for governor against the farmer candidate, Elias Carr. In your mind you trace the events of the succeeding years and the part played by Butler in those events. After a few years his political star went down and he left taking up his abode in Washington city, from which place he has used his foxy and traitorous ingenuity to knife his former associates and allies back here in North Carolina returning every convention year to throw into the ranks of the Republican party all the bitterness and discord it was possible for him to discharge.

And this year he has hobbled up again.

Think of it gentlemen in the fields, the mill, the shop and the business office. A gumshoe politician from away from home has "come back," and in ease and luxury sits complacently stroking his pointed beard, and with cool breezes and cool drinks galore in a far-famed summer resort is promulgating plans and schemes to dupe you—you, who in the dust and din and smoke and toll of the earning your daily bread, have not the time to study the dark and devious ways and to distinguish between a real patriot and servant of the party and a traitor.—Greensboro News, Republican.

MEN'S LIVES NARROWER.

Concentration Prevents the Fullest Enjoyment.

Sometimes I think men have very much less capacity for large living than women, says Erman J. Ridgway, in the Delineator for November. Men concentrate better, perhaps, but the effect is not all desirable.

Men live one at a time. In early manhood they live in the future—a life of dreams, visions, hopes, sentiment. In middle age they live in the present. Concentrating on their life work. Making a record. Cashing in only dreams. Little time for sentiment. In old age they live mostly in the past. Timid, in their waning power, they essay no mighty deeds, but dream over the dreams and fight over the fights of their splendid days. Is it not so?

How different from a woman's life—or it seems to me. If I have observed truly, women live their lives from young womanhood to the beautiful finish. Every day is all-round, complete and lived to the limit. No day passes without its trol thro' the past.

So sad, so sweet,
The days that are no more.
No day passes without its dreams for other days to be. And each passing day, however, active in the tasks of every day—nay, every hour of every passing day—in a woman's life it seems to me, the heart life, the life of sentiment, keeps step with the mind life and the body life.

What a pity men cannot live this threefold life! What a pity for the men! But especially, what a pity for the women! How often must women be hurt by the apparent hardness or indifference or forgetful mates!

Many times I have seen the pain in the eyes of unloved-for women in the presence of the rare and rarely-cared-for women. And how a man robs himself when he no longer shows how much he really cares! For men do care. No man would barter his wife for honor and riches is compelled to choose. He believes he can have her and them. He believes she will enjoy them too. He feels that she is part of him, that they are one. Of course they are not if he is going to take it for granted.

E. C. T. S. NOTES

First Anniversary—New Teachers' Arrival—Y. W. C. A. Organized

On the morning of October 5th, the first anniversary of the opening of the school, appropriate exercises were held in the assembly hall. Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, who was influential in establishing the school, spoke on "The Growth of Education in Eastern North Carolina," comparing the schools of Pitt county of ten years ago, with those of today. The "Father of East Carolina Teachers' Training School," ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis, gave a history of the establishment of the school. In little more than two years after the ground was broken, six buildings had been erected and a years successful work completed.

Miss May Muffy, until recently one of the supervisors of public school music in the Baltimore schools, has accepted the position of director of public school music. She has studied for several years in Peabody conservatory.

Miss Orpah Dabney has arrived to take charge of primary methods. She is a graduate of Columbia University and has had experience in teaching in both rural and city schools. She comes to us from Petersburg, Va. Miss Elizabeth Pugh, takes Mrs. Ogden's place as teacher of household economics. Miss Pugh is a graduate of Stout Institute, Menomone, Wis., a training school for domestic science and manual training of teachers. She has been teaching in the Louisiana Industrial school, at Ruston, La.

We sincerely regret to lose Mrs. Ogden. Her work has been of a high order. She will return to her home in Delaware.

The Y. W. C. A. opened with bright prospects. Many of the old members are back and are bending every effort to get every new student to join the association. On the evening of Oct. 3rd, an impressive installation service was held. Forty-five new members were installed. Excellent talks were made by President Wright and Mrs. Beckwith. The Y. W. C. A. is doing good work in furthering the social uplift of the school. Two receptions have been given on Saturday evenings.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

Thought to Have Connection With Blowing up Los Angeles Times.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 12.—George Wallace is under arrest here pending an investigation of his alleged connection with the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building with a bomb. Wallace is supposed to be a miner familiar with working with dynamite. He was arrested while in the post office, and it is said attempted to destroy two letters when officers seized him. When pieced together one of the letters showed that he left Los Angeles suddenly the day after the explosion occurred.

King Manuel Goes to England.

By Cable to The Reflector.

London, Oct. 12.—The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert left here today for Gibraltar to bring Manuel, the king of Portugal and his mother to England to make their future home. The royal yacht was sent at the personal direction of King George. A warship will probably accompany the yacht from Gibraltar back here.

PEACE MAKER KILLED.

Ben Gray Shot While Trying to Stop a Fight.

On the evening of October 10th, on the J. A. James farm, in Bethel township, Carstarphen Bullock killed Ben Gray. Bullock and Cornelius Best had some trouble, Gray was trying to keep them from fighting. It seemed that the fuss was about Mr. Bullock and Best renewed the fuss when Gray tried to stop it again and in the attempt by Best to strike Bullock. Bullock drew his pistol and after snapping several times it fired, the ball hitting Gray in the back. He lived about ten minutes. Bullock immediately left for parts unknown and has not been arrested. They were all negroes.

Suit for $150,000.

A big suit is on here now and being tried in the office of Messrs. Lucas & Spruill in this city, it being an action against Messrs. J. G. White & Company, big railroad contractors, to recover $150,000 alleged to be due Messrs. Good, Hart & Co., sub-contractors.

It will be remembered that Messrs. Good, Hart & Company were the first sub-contractors and threw the first dirt here on the new road. They brought a lot of Italians with them, but these soon tired of the job and returned north. Their part of the contract was completed with labor obtained in this locality.

The road went in the hands of a receiver, and Messrs. J. G. White & Company at that time alleged they could not pay their sub-contractors because they had been unable to collect from the road by virtue of the receivership and its inability to pay. Whether Messrs. J. G. White & Company ever received the entire amount of their claim against the Norfolk Southern, we are unable to say, but Good, Hart & Company claim they did not settle with them and are therefore suing to recover.

Mr. L. R. Varner, of Kinston, is the referee, and the plaintiff is represented by Messrs. Pou & Finch, and the defendants by Messrs. Lucas & Spruill. There are a number of witnesses here from Chicago, New York and Pennsylvania. It will require several days to take evidence.—Wilson Times.

Rochdale Items.

Rochdale, N. C., Oct. 11.—Mr. T. E. Little went to Wilson Saturday morning to spend some time.

Miss Agnes Smith visited Miss Ruberta Fannagan near Farmville, Saturday and Sunday.

Misses Sallie Smith and Ama Willoughby went to Wilson Saturday and returned Monday.

Mr. Leon Tyson and sister, Miss Janie, of Kinston, visited their grandmother, Mrs. Anna Willoughby, Saturday and Sunday.

Carpenters have commenced work on the Christian church at Arthur.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McLawhorn visited relatives near Winterville Saturday and Sunday.

A bazaar will be given at Smith's school house Friday night, October 21st, for the benefit of the Christian church. Refreshments will be served. The public are cordially invited to attend.

Hang onto old friends until you see how the new bunch is going to pan out.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Greenville People Know How to Save It.

Many Greenville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. The following statement leaves no ground for doubt.

Mrs. S. A. Simmons, 504 Heritage St., Kinston, N. C., says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be an effective remedy for kidney trouble and headache. My back pained me for a long time and my kidneys were much disordered. I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and procuring a box, I began using them. They benefited me in every way and I am now free from backache and am able to rest well; in fact, I feel better in every way. I am glad to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WELLMAN DID NOT FLY.

His Backers Are Withdrawing Their Support.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 12.—Walter Wellman did not start to fly across the Atlantic today. His balloon was made ready but Wellman said the wind was too high. A great crowd had gathered to see him start, but all were pessimistic and a few smiled derisively when Wellman appeared.

Members of the hotel men association declared at noon that they had withdrawn from the venture and refused to bear further responsibility for the proposed aerial jaunt.

Observing Columbus Day.

By Wire to The Reflector.

New York, Oct. 12.—The 413th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus was observed on an elaborate scale here today. There were two big parades and a dozen smaller ones. Cotton and stock exchanges, banks and many stores were closed.

The Democratic county candidates will be at Grimesland next Saturday, 15th. Congressman John H. Small will be with them and speak.

Savannah, Oct. 19.—For five hundred miles from southern points the Florida Atlantic coast has been battered by the hurricane for thirty-six hours. The storm is still raging on land and sea. The gale at times exceeds the velocity of hundred miles per hour. All communication with Savannah is cut off. The hurricane is sweeping up the coast cutting off town after town from connection.

rolling a huge tidal wave over coast towns, leaving a swal of death in its wake and causing a property loss almost incalculable. Jacksonville, Brunswick, Ga., and Savannah are entirely cut off from communication with the world. Stories of untold damage to property and loss of life are coming in from all sections. Numerous boats are believed to be lost.

Sick Juror Delays Trial.

By Cable to The Reflector.

London, Oct. 19.—The trial of Dr. H. H. C. Ippen, charged with the murder of his wife, was delayed two hours today by the sudden illness of a juror. At the time the juror was stricken Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, was on the stand. The same mighty multitude crushed the historic court house. Crippen had a great deal to say to his counsel and apparently was not worried.

JUDGE LANDIS CALLS PACKERS.

They Must Enter Pleas on or Before December 10th.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Judge Landis today ordered the nine millionaire packers to enter their pleas on or before December 10th. Attorneys Maynor & Miller appeared for the packers while United States District Attorney Sims and James Wilkerson appeared for the government. The packers are indicted with formation of the alleged beef trust.

In The Cotton Belt.

The New Orleans Picayune reports in its weekly review of the weather and the crops, that owing to the admitted lateness of the cotton crop all over the belt, the weather situation has become more than ever important for so late a period in the season. The unusually warm and summery weather during September undoubtedly did a great deal towards pushing ahead the latest portion of the crop and the cooler weather of the past week, unaccompanied by frost, will no doubt help rapid maturing. There was a fair amount of rain in the belt during the past seven days, and in some districts the rainfall was excessive. While picking and marketing have been delayed, the crop has been otherwise benefited. The past week has developed practically the first cool spell of the season; but the temperature nowhere reached any where near the frost point, and, of course no harm was done. Owing to the lateness of the crop, the date of the first killing frost becomes of uncommon importance. A late frost would add materially to the yield, while an early frost would be disastrous to backward cotton. So far the season has been backward and temperatures higher than customary. While this gives no assurance of a late arrival of winter, it has created hope that he first killing frost may be delayed. If October is passed through without a killing frost it will mean much for the season's cotton yield.—Charlotte Chronicle.

AFTER THE NEW YORK BRIBERS

Investigation Started Today—One Ex Senator Refused to Testify

By Wire to The Reflector.

New York, Oct. 19.—The legislative investigation into the attempt to defeat the anti-race track betting bills by the use of $500,000 bribe money, began today. A sensational story of corruption is expected. Ex state Senator Benn Coger will appear at the trial. The names of many prominent city officials will be disclosed as the men who gave out money to have the bill defeated.

New York, Oct. 19.—Frank J. Gardner

ex-state senator, under indictment charged with attempted bribery, baffled the legislative investigators today by refusing to answer any question on the ground that it might tend to degrade and incriminate him.

Ex-State Senator Otto Folker testified that he had been offered six thousand dollars to vote against the anti-betting bills and twelve thousand of this sum was offered by Gardner.

Passing Over Pomona.

'Greensboro, Oct. 18.—Mr. Andrew Joyner left tonight for Washington, N. C., upon the receipt of a telegram announcing that his oldest sister, Miss Lucy Joyner, who is in a hospital there is dying.

Soaring high above the earth with the speed of the wind, a heavier than air machine, supposedly a biplane, sailed over Pomona yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock and greatly disturbed the tranquility of that little suburban village. They saw it coming, it was over them and it disappeared leaving only a thin trail of gasoline smoke across the sky to tell where it had been.—Greensboro News

The Church and Advertising

The church as much as anything else, requires publicity in order to promote its best aims, to win success in the world.

There has prevailed, and is in much less degree today, a sentiment that the church in advertising its merits as a place for people to attend, was transgressing upon its sanctity. Never was graver error, for the Master's instructions to His followers was publicity to the world, and it was when the church fell into more or less secrecy, failed to avail itself of means to attract, that it lost its force to bring man within its walls. The church notice of services, day, hour and place, has brought in many a man, who otherwise would not have gone to a religious service. The publication of a song service, of some distinguished singer, or quartet, often a sacred instrumental concert has brought in men and women who would not have come, if they had not been thus publicly attracted.

The voice from the pulpit will fail in large measure, unless there be the outside notice calling attention to what the pulpit has to declare to a starving multitude, hungry for divine food. It is the church publicity, its advertising that brings in those who may come to scoff, but finding that the church is honest and sincere in its advertising, will remain to pray.—New Bern Sun.

WELLMAN WILL TRY AGAIN

New Balloon will Be Built for Next Effort

By Wire to The Reflector.

New York, Oct. 19.—Wellman is planning to head another trans Atlantic expedition. This is indicated in a message from him today. His next balloon will be built along different lines from the ill fated America. It will be longer and more powerful, minus the equilibrium which caused all the trouble. Steamer bringing Wellman and crew back will arrive in New York this afternoon.
