The Origin of Royster Fertilizers.

Mr. Royster believed that success awaited the Manufacturer of Fertilizers who would place quality above other considerations. This was Mr. Royster's idea Twenty-seven years ago and this is his idea to-day; the result has been that it requires Eight Factories to supply the demand for Royster Fertilizers.

Why Not Turn This Tide.

During the year just ended one hundred and fifty thousand people of the United States, many of whom are farmers and nearly all of whom come from hardy Teutonic stock, moved across the northwestern border and settled in Canada. They will become citizens of that country, developing its wilderness, enriching its agriculture and adding to its national strength.

One hundred and fifty thousand producers of wealth have left us within a single twelve months. The number is considerably greater than it was in 1909 and, according to the forecast of the Canadian immigration department, it will be greater still at the end of 1911.

Such a record is of vital concern to every quarter of the Union and particularly so to the South. For it is in this section that these thousands of land seekers should logically settle. It would be a conservative estimate to say that the emigration to Canada last year meant a loss of one hundred million dollars to our own country. A nation has no asset more valuable than the man who works. Labor is of itself a source of community wealth and social welfare. Every farmer that moves from a country, not overcrowded, is a loss to that country.

And he is likewise a gain to land whither he goes. Had the tide of emigration from the northwest been southward instead of toward Canada our whole union would be richer today and our own section would be incalculably so.

The South neither desires nor needs that sort of immigration which flows in from the muck piles of the Old World, but she should welcome the men whose veins hold the blood of her own forebears and whose honest industry would add to the wealth of her harvests.

The immigration department of Canada is carrying on a vigorous systematic campaign to secure settlers from our northwestern states. Herein lies a truly, golden suggestion for the South.—Atlanta Journal.

Government Finances Show Some Improvement

The coming of a new year finds the finances of the United States Treasury far improved over the condition which the business of 1910 was begun, having spent in that year $26,000,000 more than it had taken in. That sum took no account of the extraordinary expenditures for the Panama canal.

The beginning of 1911 finds the deficit reduced to $6,000,000, and the total deficit, including Panama expenditures, reduced to almost $26,000,000 on all accounts—practically half of what it was a year ago.

The year closes with about $86,000,000 in the general fund and a working balance of $34,000,000 in the Treasury offices, both considerably lower than a year ago. This is considered by Treasury officials a remarkable showing in the face of the fact that more than $130,000,000 has been for the canal construction.

President John Candley Cobb called the convention to order and addresses were made by leader of tariff reform, including Senator Beveridge, of Indiana; Representative McCall, of Massachusetts; and Henry C. ### Wisconsin Senator Guilty.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 11.—The committee of the state senate appointed by the legislature two years ago to investigate alleged corruption in the election of Isaac Stephens, multi-millionaire lumber man, to the United States senate today filed its report charging Stephens with violation of the corrupt practices act and many specific irregularities.

Enormous Express Business.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Jan. 11.—Night riders partially wrecked the tobacco warehouse of A. R. Roberston early today with dynamite. The explosion shook buildings all over the town and aroused citizens, but the culprits escaped.

Cotton in a Weevil Field.

Mr. James B. Allen, a farmer of Port Gibson, Miss., has been experimenting with the cultivation of cotton in the boll weevil belt. Through intensified cultivation, fertilization and the use of powdered arsenate of lead, he claims to have put the weevil out of business. Mr. Allen furnishes The New Orleans Picayune with a detailed report of his experiment, which was made on land where previously the weevil had made all cotton cultivation unprofitable. The Picayune says that the cotton in which thirteen varieties entered into the experiment, was planted under ordinary conditions, in well cultivated and highly fertilized soil, and after the squares commenced to form the plants were treated with the powdered arsenate of lead, after as many of the weevils as possible were picked off by hand. The good results which these experiments show in pounds of lint and seed per acre and the excellent money returns, hold out high hopes that if other farmers in the boll weevil districts adopt the same measures they will achieve signal success. It shows that some advancement has been made in the problem of growing cotton and weevils at the same time.—Charlotte Chronicle.

According to the sayings of old fishermen, that a freshet in the river between new and old Christmas, foretells a good run of shad, that very desirable fish ought to be plentiful this spring.

Needle Taken From Side of Kinston Child Where it had Worked Through From Inside—Presiding Elder Chaffin, of Raleigh District Dead—Lousburg Man Loses Arm in Cotton Gin.

Responding to the fretful cries of one George William Lane, the year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Lane summoned a physician and had the child examined. The examination disclosed the fact that there was a piece of needle working out of the child's side. Several weeks ago the child had complained of pain in its side and the needle was taken from the body. The needle was 12 inches from the point and the child had complained of pain since.

For many days throughout the year will come a great shock of the team of the death of Presiding Elder W. E. Chaffin, of the Raleigh district, which occurred at his home at Raleigh, N. C., on Monday, Jan. 17, 1911. He was 82 years of age and had been a member of the church for 60 years. He died after a long illness which he seemed to be holding his own and until shortly before his death which came almost suddenly. He was taken ill just one week ago today.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Louisburg, Jan. 17.—Mr. T. P. Alfred, about 60 years of age, while operating Griffin & Beasley's cotton gin, in this place yesterday, became entangled in the machinery, and had his left arm and that side of his body terribly mangled, the left arm being amputated above the elbow by Dr. J. E. Malone. His condition is not entirely satisfactory, it is said. He has a wife and a number of children.

BILL NYE DAY IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF N. C.

To Pay Tribute to Dead Humorist (th, Wednesday in February.

Raleigh, Jan. 17. Wednesday February 22, has been appointed by Hon. Y. Joyner, state Superintendent of Public Instruction, as "Bill Nye day" in the public schools of North Carolina. A special hour will be set aside on that day for the teachers to read to the pupils a biography of Bill Nye, and a brief program of his writings to be carried out.

Mr. Joyner has been in conference with the Bill Nye memorial committee of the North Carolina Press Association for some time, and the final arrangement were completed today after a conference with J. P. Cook, treasurer of the committee. The program for use in the schools, embracing the instructions from the state superintendent to the county superintendents and the teachers, will be sent out by the committee in a few days. Incidentally the agreement contemplates voluntary contributions from the school children to the Bill Nye memorial fund, which is to be applied to the erection of a handsome building at the State Normal School, Manual Training School at Concord. Every child in the state, including a public school, will be asked to contribute one penny, or more, to the fund on Bill Nye day, which will be applied to this purpose.

The superintendent is taking the greatest interest in this great enterprise and was responded nobly to the petition of the committee, a list of names of schools, prepared by the committee, as well as all the editors of the state, who are deeply interested in the memorial cause.

GREENVILLE HAS MEN OF THE HOUR

THE PRAYER LEAGUE IS SHOWING WHO THEY ARE A LARGER ATTENDANCE SUNDAY

Interest in the League increases and the subjects discussed are helpful to all present—Not a man so far named as leader has failed to respond.

The men of Greenville are growing more enthused over the prayer leagues that are held each Sunday afternoon, alternating at the different churches, and the attendance in the Methodist church the past Sunday was the best of any meeting held. The league that was an outgrowth of the meeting held here by Dr. Black in November, has now been going on for eight weeks, and it is remarkable that not one of the three different leaders appointed for each Sunday has so far failed to respond. With many of these leaders it was their first effort to make a talk in public, but in the manner in which they have met the occasion has shown their willingness and interest in advancing the Christian life of the community and in trying to uplift others.

President C. W. Wilson makes an ideal presiding officer of the league, and adds interest to it with his helpful remarks between the talks of the leaders and in directing the meeting. The subject for Sunday afternoon was "The Man of the Hour" with Messrs. W. E. Hooker, D. M. Clark and E. H. Thomas leaders. It would have done any man good to hear their talks, and also those of ex-Governor Jarvis and Mr. G. E. Harris that followed. They were all full of inspiration as to meeting the needs of the hour, and how men should live to do this.

The meeting next Sunday will be held in the Presbyterian church. Subject, "Paid in Full." Text, Luke 19:8 and John 8:36. Leaders Messrs. J. A. Bland, J. L. Rawls and Wiley Brown.

All men who want to spend a pleasant and profitable hour Sunday afternoons, should attend these meetings. In addition to the excellent talks, there is also good singing.

JANUARY TERM PITT SUPERIOR COURT

JUDGE GARLAND S. FERGUSON PRESIDING

THERE ARE MANY CASES FOR TRIAL

Grand Jury Drawn and Notes on Judge Ferguson's Charge—He Makes Strong Points on Personal and Property Rights and Laws Affecting Society.

The January term of Pitt Superior court for the trial of criminal cases convened this morning with Judge Garland S. Ferguson presiding and Mr. F. G. James representing the State for Solicitor Abernethy who was unable to get here the first day of court.

The following were drawn as the grand jury: M. T. Spear, foreman; H. M. Stokes, E. S. Norman, George Williams, R. L. Johnson, J. R. Tugwell, Gray Moore, Ollen Warren, Jr., J. A. Teel, F. V. Johnston, Wm. McArthur, S. J. Parker, R. J. Little, J. E. King, E. B. Garris, I. J. Frizzelle, W. S. Williams, R. L. Matthews.

Judge Ferguson said in his charge that for the last eight years he had traveled over the State of North Carolina, and is convinced that there is much to be learned about the State. We have a great State in wealth, population and material progress. We have a law abiding citizenship as a whole, but still there are those who want to have their own way without respect to the rights of others. Therefore it is necessary for us to have courts to suppress the evil dispositions of some men.

A term of court should be looked forward to with a feeling of confidence by all law abiding citizens, as a time when offenders shall be dealt with according to their misdoings. Our forefathers deemed it wise to place the executions of the law in the hands of the citizens. No person can be brought to trial except through the citizenship of his State, a jury of whom is selected to hear the sworn evidence against the offenders and these must pass upon his guilt or innocence. It depends therefore, upon the citizens whether a community shall have law and order.

Judge Ferguson then went into the crimes against personal rights and liberties property, society, and such as affect the general welfare of the people. As to character he said the chief glory of the State is the honor of its men and virtue of its women. Character comes from years of right living and right thinking. The man who accumulates such character contributes more to his State than can be measured in money, and he has the right of protection to his character. The same is true as to the virtue of our women and the law says this must not be assailed.

We get our first principles of government in the home. Every man has the right to make regulations for the government of his own home, and when he has proper rules for the government of himself and his family, there is less need for law and reformatories.

We are not a people who live each

STIMULUS TO CORN GROWING.

Southern Boys to Have Exhibit at Columbus Corn Exposition.

Washington, Jan. 14.—"The 100 boys in the Southern States who have raised the best corn crop during the past year will be given an opportunity to exhibit ten ears at the National Corn Exposition, to be held at Columbus, Ohio, January 30, to February 11th," said Dr. Clarence J. Owens, commissioner of agriculture and immigration of the Southern Commercial Congress in a recent interview.

"There are 46000 boys belonging to the 'Corn Clubs' in the Southern States, and the Southern Commercial Congress, co-operating with the United States department of agriculture, will pay for the transportation of exhibits of the 100 most successful boy 'corn raisers' to the exposition grounds. The selection of the exhibits will be done by the county and state agents of the farm demonstration work of the department of agriculture. We hope to bring together exhibits from 100 acres whose total output was 12,000 bushels.

"The boys' corn clubs throughout the South had wonderful success last year, and Dr. S. A. Knapp, of the department of agriculture who is directly in charge of farm demonstration work, anticipates even better results next year.

"Believing in the tremendous and wonderful resource of the South, the Southern Commercial Congress is actively co-operating with the United States department of agriculture in disseminating correct information, and is watching very carefully the publication of bulletins which may be of value to the Southern farmer, so that they may be brought to his attention immediately upon publication. The department has recently issued two valuable bulletins, No. 415 "Corn and Corn Raising," and No. 416, "Seed Corn," which may be had upon application to our Washington office.

Dr. Owens is now making a trip through the Southern States, visiting each governor, regarding state committees of fifteen business men to represent the state at the great meeting of the Southern Commercial Congress to be held in Atlanta, March 8, 9 and 10. Governor Mann, of Virginia and Governor Glascock, of West Virginia and Governor Wilson, of Kentucky, are each heading such committees.

Home Enterprises.

When you buy goods in some distant city that could be had as well at home, you miss the chance to make a business ally in your own town who sooner or later may be very useful.

If the mistress of a home on a swell street goes to the metropolis for her fine feathers, soon the wife of the clerk and the laborer will be sending their dollars to build up some congested center.

In college a passion of loyalty creates enthusiasm for athletic teams leads to fervent backing of all common enterprises and binds men together in after life.

Could we but get that feeling of loyalty to our home town, based both on the personal advantages of business reciprocity between individual citizens and on real affection for the institutions and enterprises of the place we call home, our city would advance with the vim of college life.—Concord Tribune.

TWAIN'S THREE SHIRTS.

"Everybody that knew Mark Twain recognized that in a matter of business he was the veriest child," said the clerk of a hotel where Mr. Clemens used to put up.

"I remember that one day after his wife's death, when her estate was being settled up, he came down stairs one morning to receive an official looking letter from one of the administrators. He opened it slowly and stood for a long time studying the figures on an inclosure.

"'Good Lord!'" he finally exclaimed. 'Do I owe them $28,000 or do they owe me $18,000?' He passed the paper over to me, and when I told him the balance was in his favor he seemed greatly relieved.

"Once he was unintentionally instrumental in getting our cashier fired. Mr. Clemens was in the habit of getting $50 of $100 a day from the office. Sometimes he would get it without a draft and sometimes his secretary would come down stairs with him and cash a check. After he had gone home on one of his visits we sent him a bill. We got an answer saying the bill was too small, for he had drawn $100 more than he had been debited with. This made the proprietor angry and he fired the cashier on the spot. It afterwards turned out that on the morning hat Mr. Clemens had drawn this particular $100 his secretary immediately afterward had given the cashier a check for $100, so that there was no entry on the book.

"One day when Mr. Clemens walked in and signed his name I asked him how long he expected to stay. 'I'll tell you, he replied, leaning over the counter. 'It depends on the weather and my shirts. I've one shirt on and two in my grip. As soon as they all get dirty I am going back home.—New York Sun.

THE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The January Meeting Largely Attended and Interesting.

At 10.30 the Pitt County Teachers' Association assembled in the auditorium of the graded school building. The devotional exercises were conducted by Prof. H. B. Smith, president of the association.

Prof. H. H. McLean, superintendent of the Farmville graded school, made announcement in regard to the reading course. The programme was then taken up. Prof. Ray Funderburke, superintendent of the Grafton graded school, made a very interesting talk on the first half of the Sanitary Primer prescribed in the State reading course for teachers for this year. Prof. H. L. Koonce, superintendent of the Ayden graded school also made a strong talk on the second part of the Sanitary Primer. These two addresses were exceedingly interesting and practical.

The next was the lecture of Prof. H. E. Austin of the Training School. He was at his best and showed himself master of his theme.

The weather was fine and a large number of teachers were present. On account of sickness, Prof. Ragsdale was not able to be present. We missed him so much and truly hope that he will be fully recovered in a few days.

Why do people drink to excess? Why do they put something in their mouths to excite their brains away and so destroy their reason for the moment ...

There would be no need of prohibition law if men could pass by a jug of liquor and not drink it, and there would be no need of jails and penitentiaries if people would behave and learn to control themselves.

A man is not a man unless he resists temptation, and if he is not doing this he is not a man at all.

It is so about all other temptations. The trouble is with us ...

FARMVILLE NOTES.

The Graded School Competing for Prizes.

The graded school has several pupils who have entered the contest for the prize offered by the North Carolina Committee of the American Peace and Arbitration League. The prizes offered are three four-year scholarships; one at the University, one at Bingham's at Asheville, and one at Bingham's at Mebaneville. There is also a county prize equal to $250.00 cash value. The school is hopeful of winning more than one prize. The school has a library of over 300 volumes, has had a library course all winter, and has an enrollment now larger than last year, and more are expected. Professor McLean is using a loose leaf record, copyrighted by himself, that is very complete, simple and meets school requirements far better than the old ordinary blanks so commonly used. Farmville is not troubling about what its census will show, but is going ahead, building and doing. The oil mill has been at work some weeks. Other enterprises are contemplated for the future. Many fine residences adorn its streets.

Stray Taken Up.

I have taken up two hogs, both black color, one weighing about 100 pounds, unmarked; the other weighing about 60 pounds, marked swallow fork in each ear. Owner can get same by proving ownership and paying charges.

TWO MASONIC LODGES, GREENVILLE

GRAND LODGE PETITIONED FOR SECOND LODGE CHARTER

NEW LODGE TAKES AN OLD NAME

Some Masonic History in Pitt County—Sharon Was Name of First Lodge Under North Carolina Jurisdiction, But Crown Point Existed Earlier Under Jurisdiction of Massachusetts.

Masonry has had such growth in Greenville, the lodge here reaching a membership of 125 and upwards, that it has been deemed advisable to institute another lodge of that order here. To this end a petition has been prepared to forward to the grand lodge of the State asking for a charter for the new lodge, this petition being recommended by the present lodge.

Those who will take their demit from the old lodge to institute the new one held a preliminary meeting, Monday afternoon, to recommend a name and the first officers of the new lodge to embody in the petition to the grand lodge for a charter. The name chosen was Sharon Lodge, and the officers recommended are as follows:

The reason that the name Sharon was selected for the new lodge is because there is some tradition about the first lodge instituted in Pitt county under the jurisdiction of North Carolina. Old Sharon lodge, like some others existing in the South at the time, went down during the civil war, and when Masonry was revived in Greenville after the war, the lodge then took the name of Greenville Lodge, No. 284, and has since continued by that name.

While old Sharon lodge was the first instituted in Pitt county under the grand jurisdiction of North Carolina, it is a matter of history that a lodge existed in the county many years earlier, in fact prior to the revolutionary period. A lodge, said to be even the first that existed in North Carolina, was at Crown Point, Pitt county, which was instituted under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts, and while records of that lodge were lost during the revolutionary war, the present grand lodge of North Carolina has records showing that Crown Point Lodge paid its dues to grand lodge of Massachusetts for the years 1767-'68.

The Hoggish Consumption of Hog Meat.

When asked how the health of the community was, a few months ago, a well known physician of this place replied: "It is splendid. Very little sickness, but hog killing time is now here and there will be something doing before long." Do you ever stop to consider the fact that a large percent of the disorders of the human body are caused by eating meat? Especially is this true among children. We have seen small boys eat enough sausage for two grown people and then cry because they didn't have enough—and it wasn't long before they cried again. This time because they had too much. It is a fact that hog meat is the most unhealthful article that we use daily. It might not deal so badly with our system if we would eat the proper amount and quit, but it seems to be the tendency of too many people, when they start to eating hog meat to carry the nature of the hog itself. I am claimed by some that we invade into our very nature the qualities of animals whose flesh we feed upon. If this be true, then is it any wonder that we so often overrate ourselves when we sit down to a dinner of pork? These are things for us to think about. Certainly parents should see to it that children are properly fed, whether their food consists of hog meat or of something else.—Marshville Home.

CATARRH

The little Hyomei (pronounce it High-o-me inhale) is made of hard rubber, and can easily be carried in pocket or purse. It will last a lifetime. Into this inhaler you pour a few drops of magical HYOMEI. This is absorbed by the antiseptic gauze within, and now you are ready to breathe it in over the germ-infested membrane, where it will speedily begin its work of killing catarrh germs. HYOMEI is made of Australian eucalyptus combined with other antiseptics, and is very pleasant to breathe. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, croup, coughs and colds, or money back. It cleans out a stuffed-up head in two minutes. Sold by druggists everywhere. Complete outfit, including indestructible pocket inhaler and one bottle of HYOMEI, $1.00. And remember, if you need a second bottle of HYOMEI, druggists will sell it to you for only 50 cents. Free trial bottle of HYOMEI N. Y.

CHILD BURNED.

Helen Verne, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Erwin, of Beaver Dam, was seriously though not necessarily fatally, burned at their home last Friday. Mrs. Erwin had just gone out leaving the little girl in the house, when the latter ran out screaming and covered in flames. Mrs. Erwin threw a bucket of water on her and then rolled her on the ground, extinguishing the flames, but not before the child had been burned from foot to head on her left side, the flesh being burned to a crisp in some places.

The Reflector is Read.

When a business man advertises he wants to know, and has the right to know, that his advertisement is read. He can rest assured on this point when he places his advertisement in The Reflector. This paper has a circulation to be proud of, and any advertiser can know at any time how many people his advertisement goes to. For the quantity and quality of this circulation the advertising rate is very low, and the advertiser always gets more than the worth of his money.

Unable to Guess.

The Reflector received a letter from Snow Hill asking that a subscriber's paper be changed to that office, R. F. D. 6. As no name was signed to the letter of course we do not know who it is that wants his paper changed. Asking that the address be changed a person should give both the old and new post offices, and sign his name.

New Grocery Business.

Mr. J. L. Carper, who recently moved back to Greenville from Williamston, where he lived last year, has purchased the Tunstall stock and will carry on business at the same stand on Dickinson avenue. He is putting in a nice line of groceries and will cater to the best trade.

Woodland Items.

Woodland, N. C., Jan. 13.—We are having a struggle with the measles in our neighborhood at present.

Mrs. W. L. Nobles, of Ayden, spent a part of last week with her parents.

Mr. Lonnie Baker, of Greenville, spent Sunday at Mr. A. W. Barber's. Mrs. Puss Barber is spending a while with her son, Mr. A. W. Barber.

Mr. J. P. Woodard, of Greenville, E. C. T. T. S., came out Saturday to fill his appointment at Piney Grove Sunday.

Hog killings are about over around here for this season.

Mr. Roy Sutton, who had measles sometime ago, took cold on it which developed into typhoid pneumonia. He is very low. We hope he will recover.

We are having fine weather for working folks like myself, but yet it don't make us work.

They All Want Good Roads.

No more important meeting has been held in the county in years than that which will assemble in Wentworth next Saturday to consider the question of improving our public roads. It is a problem lying at the foundation of social, educational, moral and material betterment. The roads are the avenues of neighborly intercourse, commerce, school attendance, religious gatherings, etc. Rich and poor, white and black, are helped or hindered by them. The mud tax is a tax not only on our horses and wagons, but on our social well-being. There is only one way out of the difficulty and that is to build good roads. They will cost us something; they would not be worth having if they didn't cost something. But the benefits will far outweigh the burdens. Rockingham is one of the greatest counties in North Carolina and only needs good roads to prepare the way for greater achievements in the future. Let the meeting at Wentworth adopt a conservative and business like policy and appeal to the good sense of the voters to put it through.—Reidsville Weekly.

Mr. J. R. McLawhorn Dead.

A telephone message from Ayden this morning announces the death of Mr. J. R. McLawhorn, which occurred Thursday night about 11 o'clock. He had been in bad health for some time with what was supposed to have been pellagra. He was a member of the Christian church at Roundtree's, and also a Mason. The funeral will take place tomorrow with Masonic honors. Mr. McLawhorn was a good citizen and neighbor, and well thought of by all.

Training Future Farmers.

Discussion first, its practical application later. We have been talking for some little time in North Carolina about the necessity of taking more pains to adapt the education of our country boys and girls to the probable requirements of farm life. The gist of this discussion is admirably condensed in a paragraph from the recent annual report of Superintendent C. W. Massey, of the Durham county schools. The education of the farmer," says Mr. Massey, "should be as broad in its scope and as thorough in every sense as that of the business man in the city but his environment and work are different. His education should fit him to appreciate and enjoy the one and successfully to carry on the other. To this end agriculture and domestic science should be taught in a practical way in all of our country schools. Teach our young people that there is something worth while on the farm. Teach them how and where to locate their home and how to take care of a home properly. Teach the boys how to take the 'worn-out' hillsides all up the gullies and render them fertile and productive once more. Teach them how to select and prepare the soil for the various crops raised on the farms, how to select seeds, how and when to plant, how to cultivate, how to harvest and how to market the various farm products." Precisely in line with this excellent outline is the step which has just been taken by the Guilford county commissioners in arranging for the installation of a superintendent of domestic science, a commissioner of agriculture and a superintendent of sanitation to devote their entire time to Guilford county. "These officers," says a dispatch, "will teach their respective branches in the high schools during the session and in the summer will hold institutes in parts of the county not touched by the high schools. The tuition and institutes will be free of cost to the pupils."

Thus Guilford is getting ready to put into practice the recommendations made to the Durham teachers by their superintendent. In the natural course of events the latter county will not long delay in following Guilford's example in respect to placing these important matters under the direct control of teachers who will be enabled to give their entire time to looking after them. Guilford and Durham have set an excellent pace for the other ninety-six. Who will be the next to follow their lead?—Charlotte Observer.

Young Men Wanted

Nearly every business man in Rich Square (and in most every other town) has been watching the boys and young men of their acquaintance for several months with a view to employing one or more at good wages for this year. The young men who keep bad company, smoke cigarettes and get drunk are shunned, not wanted to serve in responsible places. We happen to know that several good business men have been puzzled about whom to employ. They want steady young men, and these are in demand.—Rich Square Times.

Many teachers were here today attending the meeting of the association.

Their Increasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

T. R. Moore, 918 Evans St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, for I have used them with the greatest benefit. I was troubled with lameness in my back and my kidneys did not do their work as they should. I got Doan's Kidney Pills from the John L. Weston Drug Co., and I had not used them long before I received relief. I can say that this remedy acts just as represented."

Changes in The Renting System.

The first reform in rent contracts that I would urge is the inclusion of a clause requiring the tenant to sow cowpeas on every acre from which he harvests wheat or oats and to sow cowpeas in all corn grown on upland, as well as in bottom land corn in some localities. There would probably be little difficulty in getting most tenants to consent to this, provided the cowpea seed were on hand at the time when planting should be done. As a matter of fact, most tenants have no cowpea seed at that time even if some has been gathered in the fall. Therefore, the most practical method of enforcing this desirable change is for the landlord to agree to provide the cowpea seed, at the expense of the tenant. However, even if the landlord should have to furnish the cowpeas free, he would be the gainer in the long run by reason of the improved condition of his land.

Any tenant complying fully with this, and with other stipulations intended to make his farming more effective, should be offered inducements for full compliance. The most just one would be to stipulate that as long as such progressive methods were practiced the tenant should have preference over all other tenants to renew the lease from year to year. Indeed, if the character and financial backing of even the humblest tenant should justify the landlord in entering into a contract for several years, a long lease would in the end be far better for both parties and of great advantage to the public.—J. F. Duggar, in Raleigh Progressive Farmer and Gazette.

He is Always Right.

Hon. John H. Small was the only congressman from North Carolina who voted right the other day on the Cannon matter. He voted as he voted in the last congress, and was consistent. The Democrats who changed made a big mistake.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Democratic Victory Brings A New Era in Maine.

In the World Almanac for 1911 a statement is made as to the progress of the prohibition movement. This statement is printed with the information that it was "revised by the Associated Prohibition Press." It is said that the movement "made substantial progress in every section of the United States during the year 1910." It is added: "On November 8 the question of constitutional prohibition was decided by a direct vote of the people in Florida, Missouri, Oklahoma and Oregon. These are the first states, except Alabama (November, 1901), to consider the constitutional phase of prohibition by referendum, for twenty years."

We do not think this is a fair statement, as one would conclude from it that constitutional prohibition had prevailed in the States named, whereas, the contrary is true, constitutional prohibition being defeated in every one of these States. But, we are told, in spite of the fact that the Federal reports indicate "an increasing consumption of liquor, the last twelve months have witnessed radical strengthening of organization among the forces opposed to the drink traffic and the year 1910 closes with the liquor question nearer the center of the political stage and a more vital issue in a score of States than for many years past." This would seem to indicate that after all it is a political rather than a temperance question, and we are not at all surprised at the confession.

This, however, only in passing. Our immediate purpose is to say something about the State of Maine, which has had State prohibition since 1854, and of this State, the Associated Prohibition Press says in The World Almanac that the "nullifying Republican State administration" was "defeated September, 1910; first time in thirty years; better enforcement expected." In his inaugural address, Governor Plaisted, the new Democratic governor, after noting that the Democratic party had promised to submit to popular vote the question of constitutional prohibition, remarked: "No fair-minded man can refrain from feelings of disgust at the failure of the Anti-Liquor law. Not only has the purpose failed of accomplishment but hypocrisy, corruption and disrespect for law have been begotten."

This is a fearful arraignment of morality by legislation after fifty-seven years of actual trial and in a State which has always been noted for the law-abiding character of its people.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Increase Should be Given

The bill calling for an increase of salary for the governor of North Carolina should pass. It cannot be charged as a partizan measure, because an advance in salary could not apply to the present incumbent. It could only become effective with the next governor, and whether that chief executive would be a Democrat or Republican would be for the people to say, and they would say, too, before the increase was placed in effect. The present salary of $4,000 per annum is too small for the great State of North Carolina to give its governor. Both parties should want to raise the pay.—Wilmington Dispatch.

After God, created the world men began the work of recreating it.

Government Against the Printers.

The newspapers of the land are being desieged with news articles sent out from various departments of the state and national government and a kind of press bureau service is becoming a distinct feature. Usually speaking, the matter is so voluminous that only a few papers can handle it, and yet much of it would be of value if it were in a more condensed form. All of which suggests to our mind that if the thousands upon thousands of dollars spent each year in printing useless books, reports, bulletins and the like, which comparatively few people read, were diverted and a portion thereof given to the newspapers, these papers could arrange for such increase and the people of the whole country would get benefit therefrom. Uncle Sam is not "tooting fair" with the printers generally. The high tariff has placed paper at enormous prices; the post office department makes stringent rules on postage; and the government is a direct competitor with every job printing plant in the country in the printing of private envelopes. Let some mind devise a method whereby both a saving to the government and practical benefit to the people will result.—Albermarle Enterprise.

The Champion Kicker.

There is some people who are just literally kicking their way through life. They were born kicking, and have never stopped since. A little kicking now and then is relished by the fellow who wants something righted, or a wrong corrected. A good kicker, with his feet, however, is a valuable adjunct to a foot ball team. So there are kickers and kickers in this world.

But the champion kicker has been discovered. He was released from the Ohio penitentiary the other day after serving a sentence of three years for burglary and larceny, having been sent up from Cleveland. He kicked about everything and anything every time he got a chance to kick, and when released from the pen he kicked about the railway schedule because a train didn't leave for an hour and he had to wait. He kicked so hard that he was finally told to go to the station and wait for fear the officials might take the notion and lock him up.

The happiest moment in the lives of some men is when they are making others about them miserable by their fault-finding.—Durham Sun.

TRY THIS

It is Curing Thousands Daily, and Saves Time and Money

Get a bowl three quarters full of boiling water, and a towel. Pour into the water a teaspoonful of HYOMEI (pronounced High-o-me). Put your head over the bowl and cover both head and bowl with towel. Breathe the vapor that arises for two minutes, and presto! your head is as clear as a bell, and the tightness in the chest is gone. Nothing like it to break up a heavy cold, cure sore throat or drive away a cough. It's pleasant cure. You'll enjoy breathing Hyomei. You'll feel at once its soothing, healing and beneficial effects as it passes over the inflamed and irritated membrane. 50 cents a bottle, at druggists everywhere. Ask for extra bottle Hyomei Inhalant.

The Cotton Picker.

A Chicago mechanic named Cambell, backed and helped by Mr. Theodore Price, the well-known cotton merchant of New York, has invented a cotton picking machine known as "the Cambell-Price cotton picker," about which those interested are very enthusiastic. Long before the event this paper predicted the flying machine. It has with equal confidence predicted a cotton picker. Perhaps there are those who think the invention of the flying machine the more interesting of the two but this is scarcely the case. The flying machine may be more picturesque but it is at present a plaything and will remain so for a long time to come.

In the cotton picker the welfare of the world in matters of clothing is involved. It costs now about $125,000,000 to pick the cotton crop. The picking is all done by hand work. The picking must be done in a limited time, approximately 120 days in each year. The power used is finger power, somewhat as hand sewing is finger power. If man power or horse power or engine power could be applied to cotton picking as it has been to sewing, the economy would be fully as great. With a good, economic cotton picker and gasoline power to operate it, the cost of picking the American crop of say 12,500,000 bales should not exceed $25,000,000—a saving over the present cost of $100,000,000 annually. There are difficulties in the way, of course, but the prize is too big to call these difficulties insurmountable.

The owners of the Cambell-Price machine claim that it will pick 6,000 pounds of cotton in a day and that the cost of hand picking. We have not learned how much cotton is left behind in the field after the picker has done its work. The Cambell-Price may be the beginning of the real cotton picker. Its ultimate form, by whomsoever invented, will be a development as was the case with the locomotive, the mower and reaper, the sewing machine and other similar inventions. One word of criticism would seem to be conservative—they claim too much. The new machine—according to the inventor's story—is not only a cotton picker but a chopper and cultivator. A picker that will pick clean and economically is enough. There is a possible saving of $100,000,000 a year when it is brought to do its work as well as the sewing machine does and that ought to satisfy.

We are confident that the cotton picker will come yet—perhaps the beginning has already come. C. T. Mason of Sumter, S. C., made a picker about twenty years ago which gave more promise than any we have yet seen put out to practical test.—Charlotte Observer.

STUDENTS IN THE MIDST OF EXAMINATIONS

THE ATHLETIC EVENTS TO FOLLOW

Schedule of Basket Ball Games—Valuable Acquisitions to The Library—University Faculty Rank High Among Scientists Of The Country.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 17.—At the meeting of the State Historical and Literary Association held in Raleigh, January 12, Professor E. K. Graham, head of the department of English and dean of the academic school, was elected president for the coming year.

Examination began today and for the next ten days there will be little doing except "boning" on the part of the students. But things will liven up immediately after this period ends. The night of the last day of examinations the University will engage in the first inter-collegiate game of basket ball of her athletic history. The schedule opens with Wake Forest, and includes games with Tennessee, Charlotte and Durham Y. M. C. A.'s, Virginia Christian College, Guilford and two games with the University of Virginia, one in Chapel Hill and one in Charlottesville. The main purpose of the team this season is to get the sport established. The men are in most cases green, but they hope in spite of their inexperience, to make a creditable showing.

The ball schedule will be published during the next week. The last few days have been very warm and the players have availed themselves of an opportunity for a little preliminary practice before the examinations. Captain Hackney will call out his men for steady work just as soon as examinations close. Coach Clancey will report in Chapel Hill the first week in February.

The University library has recently made some valuable acquisitions. In December through some friend of the University, a copy of the original constitution of the Ku Klux Klan, printed in Pulaski, Tenn., in 1863, was obtained. There are only two other documents in the United States The library has also secured a copy of the rare work, Catesby's Natural History of the Carolinas, Florida and the Bahama Islands. The work is in two large folio volumes, magnificently illustrated. It was published in London in 1754. This is the only copy of the work in North Carolina.

Dr. L. R. Wilson, librarian of the University library, was elected chairman of the library department of the Southern Educational Association at the meeting held in Chattanooga, December 27th to 29th.

Of the seven North Carolina scientists who were given a place among the one thousand best scientists in the United States, six are members of the University faculty. Making a ratio between the number of inhabitants and the number of scientists in this one thousand, Chapel Hill comes second in the list of the towns of the whole country.

JUDGE WHEDBEE IN WAKE

Makes Favorable Impression on People

Wake county Superior court for the trial of the criminal doct began a session of two weeks yesterday, presiding over it being Judge H. W. Whedbee, of Greenville, who holds his first court in Wake county.

Already Judge Whedbee has made a most favorable impression upon the Wake county bar and the public. His charge yesterday to the grand jury was an able one, and dealt in direct terms with the work of the grand jury and the crimes which are indictable. He directed attention to the crimes in the sales of near beer, cigarettes to minors, saying also that no matter what is the opinion as to the prohibition law that it is the duty of the grand jury to see that it is enforced. His review of crimes that are indictable was clear and explicit. —Raleigh News and Observer.

Battleship Delaware Reaches Port With Dead Soldiers.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Norfolk, Jan. 18.—With her flag at half mast, a veritable ship of death, the battleship Delaware arrived here today from Guantanamo. She had on board the eight men who were killed and one seriously injured from boiler explosion yesterday. Several others were slightly injured. The vessel's arrival here was delayed by the snow storm and gale. It was compelled to anchor and wait several hours for the gale to die down.

THE TOWNSHIP GOOD ROADS BILL

FULL TEXT OF THE PROPOSED BILL

It Provides for Creation of Board of Road Trustees Who Shall be Authorized to Issue Bonds to a Amount Not Exceeding $50,000 to Build Roads in the Township.

A mass meeting of the citizens of Greenville township was held in the City Hall, Monday night, to hear read and discuss the proposed bill for a bond issue to build good roads in the township. There were present a hundred people in the meeting representing all classes—merchants, professional men, farmers, laborers—in fact, every calling and interest, making it in reality a representative meeting of the township.

Mr. E. G. Flanagan was made chairman of the mass meeting, and Mr. D. J. Whichard secretary. A rough draught of the proposed bill was read by sections and opened for discussion, amendment and adoption or rejection as the meeting might decide. The first section was tabled for the time being until all other sections of the bill should be passed, then that section was again taken up and in open meeting the gentlemen suggested to form the board of road trustees were nominated and chosen and their names inserted in this section.

The meeting was quite a lengthy one, there being much speech making and discussion of the various sections of the proposed bill. The bill finally adopted for submission to the general assembly is as follows: A Bill to be an Act to Provide Good Roads in Greenville Township, Pitt County:

Section 1. That J. G. Moye, J. F. Evans, J. S. Mooring, L. A. Randolph,

L. G. Moye, J. W. Allen, J. G. Taylor, B. B. Ficklen, G. W. Stokes, L. A. Mayo, J. L. Evans and R. L. Smith, are hereby constituted a board of trustees for the public roads of Greenville township in Pitt county. The first four shall hold the said office of trustees for six years, the next four for four years, and the last four for two years. At the expiration of the terms of any, their successors shall be elected for six years by the county board of commissioners of Pitt county. All vacancies caused by death, resignation or removal from the said township, shall be filled, for the unexpired term by the remaining members of said board. Provided, that the position of trustee shall not constitute an office within the meaning of article seven, section fourteen of the constitution of North Carolina. Section 2. That the said board of trustees and their successors, shall have the same name and style of the board of Road Trustees of Greenville Township, and by that name may sue and be sued, make contracts, acquire real and personal property, by gift, purchase or device; hold, exchange and sell the same, and exercise such other rights and privileges as are incident to other municipal corporations.

Section 3. That it shall be the duty of the said board of trustees to take control and management of the roads of said Greenville township, and said trustees are hereby vested with all the rights and powers for such control and management as are now vested and exercised by the board of county commissioners of Pitt county, provided nothing in this Act shall be construed to apply to bridges over Tar river.

Section 4. The board of trustees shall annually elect a chairman and secretary and treasurer. The treasurer shall have charge of all road funds of the township, and shall be required to give bond in sufficient amount to cover funds coming into his hands. The board of trustees shall annually elect three of their number, who shall constitute and be known as the executive committee. This committee shall meet at stated intervals, as may be directed by the

TWO YEARS' RECORD OF STATE PRISON

UNDER MANAGEMENT OF Supt. J. J. LAUGHINGHOUSE

LARGE INCREASE IN THE RECEIPTS

General Improvement About Prison and State Farms—Comparison of Different Crops Shows Better Health Record of Those in Eastern Than Those in West.

Superintendent J. J. Laughinghouse in his report to the governor for the State prison, reviews the work of the institution since he assumed charge on July 7, 1909, and gives a full and complete report of receipts and expenditures. He reports that his inventory of December 31st, 1910, showed a large appreciation of the State's property by substitution of young fine mules and horses for the old worn-out stock and the latest improved farming implements for old and out of date implements that were discarded by all practical farmers a decade ago.

In his report he states that he does not take into account articles produced and consumed on the farm, as these values balance themselves, but that the number of convicts has gradually decreased for the past ten years, because of chain-gangs in many counties, only the diseased and infirm coming from these and that this system continues that in a few years the prison population will be decrept. The receipts, he states, "show the fact that we have earned and paid into the treasury over double the amounts of any preceding two years, we at the same time show an increase in expenditures," that "this was inevitable when we consider the run-down condition of the stock and buildings" that improved kind of agricultural implements have saved during the cultivating season $100 a day. In detail he gives the improvements in buildings and stock, and tells of about more worth of time in repairing the State of the State farm to contain 3,000 acres of valuable land. The health condition on the farm is the best ever given by the State. The number of prisoners in the State prison is 236 to 499, and there were four deaths in the past two years, one a man 75 years old, and no case of typhoid fever in that time. From S. J. Busbee's camp in Eastern North Carolina, where there are 75 men, there were four deaths in 1909, one in 1910. From the Charles railroad camp in eastern North Carolina, with 75 to 80 men, there were no deaths from sickness in two years. From D. H. Carver's railroad camp in Hyde county, there were two deaths in 1909, one in 1910. An old man of 70 years whose death was from heart trouble, a few minutes after eating a hearty meal at the railroad camp in Elkin, Western North Carolina, with 75 men generally, there was one death in 1909 and one in 1910. As to this camp in Western North Carolina, Superintendent Laughinghouse says there were more deaths and more losses from sickness than at camps in any other part of the State, which goes to show the healthy conditions in Eastern North Carolina.

In regard to the health conditions, from the report of Dr. F. M. Register, physician to State farm, the following is taken: "Our health record has been so good for the last two years that I must call your attention to it" and tells of the interest of the officials in health conditions. That in the past two years there were four deaths out of nearly 600 prisoners, none among sixty or more employees and no typhoid fever but he attributes "this record of health to driven pumps, thereby getting pure water, good food, sanitary surroundings, regular hours, and last but not least, everything thoroughly screened from flies and mosquitoes" and that "I believe that the eastern part of the State will compare with any other part, if people will use driven pumps and thoroughly screen their premises." The malaria, he says, is in a great measure prevented.
