Set of Ware FREE!

If you call at our store during our MAJESTIC DEMONSTRATION WEEK and allow us to show you the many advantages and superior qualities of the Great MAJESTIC RANGE, and will purchase one at the regular price, we will give you FREE the beautiful and useful Souvenir Set of Ware illustrated in this advertisement. This ware is made to match the quality of the Majestic Ranges, and we know all ladies will see the beauty and utility of this set, especially the first three pieces, which are entirely new and cannot be had alone by purchase, except at a very high price. The Prices of Majestic Ranges are the same, but we give the set FREE with each Majestic Range bought during the Demonstration week only.

Reasons Why the Great Majestic You Should Buy

- 1st.—It has the reputation of being the best range money can buy.
  - 2nd.—It not only has the reputation but IS the BEST range made, and we will prove this to you if you will let us.
  - 3rd.—It is constructed of malleable iron, material you can't beat, and of Charcoal Iron, material that resists rust 300 per cent greater than steel riveted together air tight. No heat escapes or cold air enters the range, thus uses very little fuel to do perfect work.
  - 4th.—The reservoir alone is worth the price of range over any other reservoir made. It boils 15 gallons of water; is heated like a tea kettle, with pocket against left hand lining, and is movable and sets on frame, hence cannot wear out. When water gets too hot it can be moved away from fire.
- MAJESTIC RANGES use less fuel; heat more water—and, heat it hotter; costs practically nothing for repairs; lasts three times as long; bakes better; easier to keep clean and gives better satisfaction than any other range on the market. If you know positively that the above statements are true, wouldn't you buy a Majestic at once?
- COME IN DEMONSTRATION WEEK AND WE'LL PROVE IT TO YOU.

THEY VISIT THE TRAINING SCHOOL

EDUCATIONAL COMMITTEE OF LEGISLATURE IN GREENVILLE

FOURTEEN MEMBERS IN THE PARTY

They Are Met at Depot by Citizens and Taken Direct to the School—Inspect the Buildings and Equipment and Look Into Needs of the Institution.

The educational committee of the senate and house of the general assembly of North Carolina, visited Greenville today to inspect East Carolina Teachers' Training School and look into the needs of the institution. The party arrived on the 8:40 Norfolk Southern train and were met at the depot by citizens with carriages and automobiles and taken direct to the school.

Those of the educational committee who come are Senators Baggett, of Harnett; Sigmon, of Burke; Armstrong, of Montgomery; Ivie, of Rockingham; Cox, of Jackson; Cotten, of Pitt; Hyatt, of Yancy; Hicks, of Granville; Representatives Spainhour, of Burke, chairman of house committee; Johnson, of Orange; Brown, of Jackson; Thorne, of Pitt; Smith, of Caswell; Kendrick, of Gaston.

With the committee inspecting the school are State Superintendent of Education J. Y. Joyner. Hon. Y. T. Ormond and ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis, members of the executive committee of the board of trustees.

As soon as the visitors reached the school they were taken out to the refectory for breakfast. The committee then made a thorough inspection of the entire school plant, closely observing the buildings and equipment throughout every department.

Mr. H. A. White, president of the chamber of commerce, was introduced to the committee, by President Wright and in a few remarks welcomed them to Greenville. He stated that this institution was the pride not only of the city of Greenville, but that the entire county took interest in and fostered it. He invited the committee an invitation to visit the town after they had finished inspecting the school.

Assembling in the president's office in the administration building, chairman Spainhour called the committee to order, and asked for suggestions for the needs of the school by those connected with it. Governor Jarvis made a statement as the founding of the school, and the part the county of Pitt and town of Greenville took in establishing it, these giving $98,000 while the first State appropriation was only $15,000. The State later made an appropriation of $50,000, making a total of $163,000 the State has put in the plant. He then briefly told of the erection and furnishing of the buildings, and the work of the school since its opening.

President Wright also spoke to the committee, giving items of expense of the school and other information as to the course of study and work of the student body.

At 12:30 o'clock the entire school assembled in the auditorium where the students sang several songs. After brief remarks by President Wright, this part of the meeting was turned over to Representative Spainhour, chairman of the house educational committee. He spoke briefly, and then introduced other members of the committee who made short addresses, declaring their interest in the educational work and expressing pride at what they had found in this school here, and pledged themselves to do what they could for this school.

Senator Hicks said he had been anxious to come here, because his county, Granville, had given some of her best people to Pitt, and referred especially to Prof. Ragsdale, our county superintendent and the splendid work he had done in the educational advancement of Eastern North Carolina.

Interesting talks were made by Senators Baggett, Ivie and Armstrong and Representatives Johnson and Brown. The others would have talked, for they had been greatly welcomed them to Greenville. He

NOTES FROM THE UNIVERSITY

CHAPEL HILL VICTORIOUS IN FIRST BASKET BALL GAME

REV. B. W. SPILMAN'S ADDRESSES

University Y. M. C. A. Sent Large Delegation—Twenty Three Baseball Games Scheduled—Team for The Coming Season Not a Very Strong One.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 31.—The University was victorious in her first game of basketball played in the gymnasium Friday night with Virginia Christian College. The score was 42 to 21. The local quintet showed unexpected team work in the second half and proceeded to pile up the score.

Everybody interested in the success of Carolina athletic teams is delighted at the announcement that Mr. Branch Boccock has signed up to coach the varsity football team next year. Mr. Boccock has coached the V. P. I. team for the last two years and has turned out some great teams up there. He is well acquainted with climatic conditions in the South and is better fitted to handle a team of Southern boys than a Northern coach. He graduated from Georgetown University where he also studied law until he received his license.

Rev. B. W. Spilman, Baptist Sunday school evangelist, delivered addresses at the Baptist church last Sunday. He made a strong plea for Sunday school workers to re-double their efforts to keep the big boy interested in Sunday school. Mr. Spilman devotes his entire time to Sunday school work among the colleges and universities of the South and East.

The Chapel Hill Y. M. C. A. sent a delegation of ten men including Mr. E. P. Hall, general secretary, to the Inter-state convention of Young Men's Christian Associations which met in Raleigh the last three days of the week just closed. This was as large a delegation as was sent by any college in North Carolina and South Carolina. The Chapel Hill association is in a flourishing condition now. There are 325 men in the athletic group, and the Missionary group, which was organized last year, numbered 245 and plan to send a still larger figure this year.

Manager E. F. McCulloch has announced the schedule for the baseball team. There are 23 games, 11 of which are to be played in Chapel Hill, Oak Ridge, Wake Forest, Davidson, Guilford, South Carolina, V. P. I. and the Univ. of Virginia, all have arranged games. The two Virginia games will be played in Greensboro and Charlotte, April 5 and 9th, and the third game in Charlottesville, April 21st.

The outlook for material for the team is bright. In addition to the four Old Guard members of last year's varsity it is thought that he will play his position. This is Captain Hackney, of Wilson.

EXPLOSION OF DYNAMITE JARS NEW YORK

Dynamite Explodes on Vessel in New York Harbor.

Wire to The Reflector
New York, Feb. 1.—A mysterious explosion that broke windows throughout the financial district occurred on a pier in Jersey City today when a car load of dynamite exploded. Officials of the railroad report a number of persons injured but are unable to say if there were any fatalities. The entire downtown section of New York was shaken as though by an earthquake. A late report says explosion was on a schooner off the pier loaded with dynamite.

Rear Admiral Spurry Dead.

By Wire to The Reflector
Washington, Feb. 1. Rear Admiral Charles F. Spurry, died today of pneumonia. He was 63 years old and retired from service in September 1909. He commanded the battleship fleet on its world cruise after Admiral Evans relinquished command.

POOR PRINT

Life or Death?

It is June, 1910.

In our imagination we are in one of the modern air ships, touring the globe. We have seen the beautiful forests of the continent of Europe, and of Great Britain. With ecstatic joy we view the marvelous conifers on the mountains and hills of New England; the "Palisades" of the Hudson fill us with amusement! At the sight of the Catskill mountains we stand in awe and learn how little we are! Before the broad expanse of New York, and the monarchs we uncover our heads! Onward we go, down the Susquehanna, up the Juniata, over the Alleghenies—ablaze with glory of the rhododendron and mountain laurel, amid and beneath the deciduous trees and shrubs. Across the broad, undulating expanse of what is now known as Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana we now sail, almost breathless as the thought of no figures to describe the numbers of arboreal monarchs! Northerly we swing over the great prairies of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, and we exclaim, "Here the trees are innumerable; lumber that is utterly inexhaustible!"

We take our flight to the gulf states, and, behold, plineries without end! To the west we speed our way and as we gaze upon the great red-woods of the Pacific slope and try to contemplate the majesty of the trees that crown the hills and glorify these valleys, we find our souls lost in wonder, love and praise of Him who has manifested Himself to us all in these—His wondrous works. Everywhere, on our charming trip, the woodland resounded with the notes of untold millions of joyous songsters. In all the rivers, lakes, bays and brooklets, fishes gambled in numbers of which the mind is incapable of computing, and forest and plain were alive with the merry hum of the wild bee. This is life! But hush, horror!

Two hundred years have elapsed. Here we are at Augusta, Me. Now for another western trip. "All aboard!"

Over the mountains once graced by the beautiful hues of pine, spruce, hemlock, etc., are seen only bare rock and stumps of the trees of long ago. The hills, valleys and plains of the eastern and middle states have been stripped of their forests, the trees shipped abroad, floated away in the streams, burned up. All the lands have been plundered, exhausted, robbed! The plineries of the north are gone; those of the south will have disappeared in twenty years and those of the great Pacific coast in fifty years, so say conservative thoughtful men. The spongy floor of the sloping forest, which one received and held the water and fed the springs, is now bare and hard and, like the roof of a house, pitches the water into the hollows, washing the humus and best soil before it to the river, and from the river to the ocean bed. In the myriads of streams which once graced the native forests, and in which sported and played the fishes so well remembered by the pioneers, no water now flows but are gravel beds in summer—and the highway of the torrential floods in thunder storms, to destroy the banks, sweep away the crops of valleys, and inundate towns once considered high and dry.

The main rivers are being poisoned by acids or filth from the "Factories." We have entered the bowels of the earth and extracted the coal, gas and ores. Man has plundered the surface of the earth, but replaced nothing. It looks as if the powers of hell had been let loose to send hither the hordes of all nations to cut down, destroy, burn up and annihilate everything on the surface and under the surface of that once beautiful land lying between the surging breakers of the Atlantic and the peaceful surface of the Pacific.

With such proceedings, the exhausted land will soon fail to respond to the hand of toil; soon there will be neither fish nor game. Trees are the most noble creatures on this mundane sphere. They are absolutely "independent." They plunge their roots down among the inanimate materials slowly dissolve the rocks and minerals and carry this to the factories (the leaves) where it is converted into the substance with which it builds itself. Oh, wondrous benefactors. But, we about whom we prate and preach and pray, murder some other creature and appropriate its life, to build our own carcass and construct our diminutive brain.

The trees, wondrous creation! for thousands of years have made their own foliage and then, annually, returned it to the bosom of the earth to enrich its surface. We, robbers, plunderers, have not only destroyed the forests that made the fertile hills and plains, but with gun and every murderous device we have destroyed the birds which protect the trees. Their "homes," the native woodlands, have been destroyed. There is no place for them to nest or rest. Hundreds of thousands of them, if not millions, annually freeze or starve to death. The accursed English sparrow, the cat, crow, bluejay and other foes are annihilating the songsters. And yet, on these native birds we depend almost entirely for the preservation of our trees. Even the wild bees are destroyed. Insects are increasing so alarmingly that a single decade might bring us all face to face with starvation. We have "unbalanced nature," broken her laws. "Sin is the transgression of law," and "the wages of sin is death! To prevent a dire calamity to the world, "The Bird and Tree Band of America" is founded.

BOY GETS TRIP TO WASHINGTON

FATHER WANTS OTHER BOYS TO HAVE SIMILAR TRIPS

FAVORS CORN GROWING CONTEST

Moses Moye, Who Was in The Boys' Corn Contest, Taken by His Father to Washington, and has Delightful Experiences—Some Incidents of The Trip.

Farmville, N. C., Jan. 30, 1911.

Editor Reflector:

I am anxious for you to succeed in your efforts to send one boy from each township to Washington, D. C., next December. I wish to let the people in the county know why I am so inclined.

Last spring when my son, Moses F. Moye, joined the boys' corn club, I realized that in all probability he would not be the successful boy in the State, I offered him a trip to Washington if he would make 75 bushels upon his acre. As I had never been able to make over 30 bushels, I felt that I was not running much risk of having it to pay.

But Moses went to work with much enthusiasm, and when he was ready to gather his corn I had a barbecue and invited my neighbors to come and help gather and measure the corn. Prof. Ragsdale and Demonstrator J. F. Evans were also present and they found that he had made 88 bushels and three pecks of corn. So I was in it for a trip to the capital.

Saturday night preceding the 12th of December, I saw in the Caucasian that Ernest Starnes, of Hickory, was the successful contestant and that he would go to Washington upon the 12th of December.

As I could find no announcement in any other paper, I thought possibly the Caucasian had made a mistake, but Moses was so anxious to go that I should have started to Washington on the 12th, but I was sick and did not start until the morning after the 15th.

We went via Norfolk by N. S. railroad and from there we took a steamer upon which we took supper. I wanted him to see a supper such as they serve from boats of that kind. This supper was a revelation to him, the size of the beef steaks and the prices charged for the same. The small number of oysters served and the manner of serving them was indeed interesting to him.

The boat ride was enjoyed, and the next morning when we looked out of the window the whole landscape was covered in snow which caused us to think we had reached Washington at the wrong time, but the snow gave us very little trouble, as we did not mind the cold. In fact, we did not suffer at all on account of cold.

Upon leaving the boat we took a street car for a ride clear through the city and amused ourselves by looking at the show windows and the merchandise upon the side walks, etc. After securing a room for the night, we went up to the capital and met Representative Kitchin, who was very kind to us and sent a page with us to our congressman's office, who was not in, but his amiable secretary made an appointment for us at 4 o'clock p. m.

We then retraced our steps through the subway (the first subway he or I had ever seen) to the house of representatives, but as it was some time before the house would meet we amused ourselves by exploring the building, returning in time to see Uncle Joe Cannon call the house to order and hear the blind chaplain lead in prayer and some member introduce a resolution to adjourn because a member of the house had died the day before.

Then we went to the senate chamber and saw Sunny James Sherman presiding and heard Senator Life Young deliver his maiden speech.

Then we went to the library just across the street, and such a fine place it is that I wish every person in Pitt county could visit it. From here we boarded a car for Washington monument, upon the car was a woman who had on a fur coat, who was very nice to us by telling us the names of the notable places as we passed them.

The views from the monument pleased the boy more than anything that he saw while he was from home. From here we went again to visit our congressman who was affability itself and placed us in touch with the boys from the States. We missed seeing the president because we missed Mr. Small in the morning. However, we saw the famous east room and the conservatory, etc.

We spent the next day visiting with these boys and I am able truthfully to say that Ernest Starnes, the N. C. boy, made a better impression upon me than any of the boys, with the possible exception of Henry, of Louisiana.

My boy had such a nice time and is so enthusiastic in his effort to make one hundred bushels of corn next year, causes me to wish other boys to have the pleasure of this trip.

A. J. MOYE.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Increasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

T. R. Moore, 918 Evans St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, for I have used them with the greatest benefit. I was troubled with lameness in my back and my kidneys did not do their work as they should. I got Doan's Kidney Pills from the John L. Wooten Drug Co., and I had not used them long before I received relief. I can say that this remedy acts just as represented.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

JENKINS-MANNING.

Happy Marriage of Popular Couple at Parmele.

Parmele, N. C., Feb. 1.—A very pretty marriage took place at the home of Mrs. Maniza Manning, near Parmele, on Tuesday, January 31st, at 4:30 o'clock, when her daughter, Lucy Elizabeth, became the bride of Mr. John Robert Jenkins, of Oakley, N. C.

The home was tastefully decorated with ivy and evergreens and was filled with friends of the contracting couple. The bride wore the hour array of the consummation of the marriage.

Just before the bridal party entered the parlor Mrs. H. V. Stinson, of Bethel, very sweetly rendered "Meditation," and then Miss Maunie Wakehurst charmingly sang "O, Promise Me." Promptly as Lohengrin's Wedding March pealed forth the bridal party entered in the following order: Miss Myrtle Harrison, of Washington, with Mr. T. A. Andrews, of Bethel, Miss Pearl Jenkins with Dr. M. P. Manning.

Then came the groom with his best man and brother, Mr. Ben. Jenkins, and the bride with her sister, Miss Carrie Manning as maid of honor, who were met in front of a lovely arch of evergreens and ivy by the Rev. J. W. Autrey, who in very eloquent and impressive language united them in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The bride was handsomely attired in a green traveling suit with hat and gloves to match, and carried white carnations and lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor wore light blue messaline and carried pinks and white carnations.

The other bridesmaids wore cream serge and carried pink carnations.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Maniza Manning and an unusually charming lady and counts her friends by the score. The groom is from one of the best families in Martin and Pitt counties and a successful merchant of Oakley.

The presents received were many and handsome, attesting the high esteem in which the young couple were held.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple drove to Parmele and took the train for the nation's capital and other places of interest.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Five White and Eight Colored the Past Week.

Register of Deeds Moore issued the following marriage licenses last week:

White.

Robert Hyman and Emma Bryant. C. L. Thigpen and Huldah Keel. J. R. Jenkins and Lucy Manning. Arthur Cash and Ella Sermons. Herman Roebuck and Bertha K. Baruhill.

Colored.

Elijah Taft and Nettie Lang. Levi Dixon and Tempie Brown. Rome Carr and Annie Harris. Joe Henry Wilson and Maggie Barnes.

Willie Blount and Lela Ellis. Patrick Smith and Catherine Bunn.

John Barrett and Bessie Mays. Isaac Sutton and Rosa Fisher.

Most of us are willing to believe that our vanity is merely proper pride.

A Curious Ruling.

A decision handed down last week in an Omaha court with regard to the paying of alimony is more interesting than comprehensive. The Nebraska judge ruled that the marriage of a divorced man automatically canceled any obligation to pay alimony to a former wife, regardless of the terms of the alimony decree. The suit has been appealed and the ruling of the higher courts is reported to be eagerly anticipated not only by the legal fraternity in Nebraska, but by lawyers everywhere. The decision strikes the layman as rather peculiar. The reasons set forth state that by re-marriage a man establishes a new home community in which his former wife has no legal interest and that to this new home community his obligations are paramount. If the decision is upheld there would seem to be required a greater tightening of the laws against the marriage of divorced persons. Otherwise future grants of alimony are likely to be so much judicial breath wasted, inasmuch as the ex-husband has the easiest imaginable path out of the obligation. It would be a simple and obvious device to go through a form of marriage which would be perfectly legal and yet mean no more to the contracting couple than a few minutes' association in a magistrate's office and the payment of a stipulated price by the man and woman. The decision illustrates one of the many phases of the divorce problem which are calling insistently and incessantly for sweeping reform.—Charlotte Observer.

Nevada A True State.

North Carolina extends to Nevada hands of appreciation and esteem, Governor Oddie, the Nevada delegation in congress and Chief Justice Brewer have wholeheartedly opposed the attempted fraud; the legislature has unanimously passed an act to relieve the State authorities from the disgraceful necessity of accepting bonds, after a mandamus reluctantly granted by the State Supreme court, for suit against North Carolina lobbyists for the speculative syndicate which brought up these carpet-bag issues and their efforts entirely without avail. Self-respect and the comity of state outweighed a $400,000 bribe—through to a State which has considerably less population than North Carolina's two most populous counties the proportions of this bribe were large. Again the reformers have only trouble and expense for their pains.—Charlotte Observer.

Hope Well Items.

Hope Well, N. C., Jan. 31.—We have organized a Sunday school at Hope Well, but the weather was so bad not many could attend Sunday.

Mr. J. S. Cox and Miss Leola Cox were visiting Miss Charity Worthington Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Phillips and Miss Alice Phillips attended the union at Bethany Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Max McLawhorn, Miss Helen and Miss Ina McLawhorn, were visiting at Mr. Richard Worthington's Sunday.

Mr. J. R. Worthington spent Sunday near Farmville.

Misses Maggie and Julia Smith and Lela Stox were visiting in Greenville the past week.

One of the very best rolls for breakfast is a prompt roll out of bed.

WHAT THE LAW MAKERS ARE DOING

PROCEEDINGS OF THE N. C. GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TUESDAY WAS A VERY QUIET DAY

Senate Considers Hoke County Bill—House Takes Income Tax as a Special Order—Very Few New Bills.

Senate—Wednesday.

The senate considered as a special order the bill to increase the governor's salary to $6,000.

Senator Graham thought it unwise to single out any state officer and raise the salary, but rather that a general salary increase be considered. He said he had introduced a bill seeking to provide for the present deficit in the state treasury and that he would oppose the increase to $6,000, and would offer an amendment making the governor's salary $5,000. He said in his boyhood days he lived in the governor's mansion, when the governor received a salary of $2,000. He felt that a salary of $5,000 would be sufficient for the governor.

Among the new bills introduced were:

Pharr, of Mecklenburg: Amend the general insurance laws of North Carolina; also amend the general insurance laws regulating classes of insurance.

Bassett of Edgecombe: Relative to receipts and disbursements of public money.

Graham of Orange: Provided for the settlement, registration, transfer, and assurance of real-estate in North Carolina.

Parham of Wayne: Exempt practicing dentists from jury service.

Sikes of Wake: Encourage road building in North Carolina.

Coxe, of Jackson: Raise revenue for the protection of the forests of North Carolina.

Ivie of Rockingham: Allow owners of mortgages when listing property to deduct the amount of mortgages.

Cotten of Pitt: Provide for settlement, registration, transfer, and assurance of real estate.

Starbuck of Forsyth: Require copy of appraisal for purchase by surviving partner and schedule of liabilities to be filed with the clerk; also amend section 1137 of Revisal.

House—Wednesday.

A special order of the house was the bill providing for submitting to a vote of the people the calling of a convention to revise the constitution of the state.

Among the new bills introduced were:

Battle: To authorize towns to amend and frame their own charter

Battle: Relating to payment of wages due to infant employes of factories.

Williams of Buncombe: To provide regulation for railroad companies relative to employment of conductors and requiring full crews on all trains.

Mooring: To provide township meeting houses.

Hoffer: To regulate the delivery of malt within the state of North Carolina.

Brown of Jackson: To make appropriation for Cullomee Industrial School.

Richardson: To amend the divorce law.

Quickel: To amend the law of 1909 relating to non-resident license to hunt.

Ray: To amend the revival by inserting the word felony in place of misdemeanor in certain sections.

McGill: To amend the laws of 1909 relating to concentrated feed for stock.

Senate—Thursday.

The senate showed that it is afraid of the men who own dogs, and Senator Cotten's dog tax bill when called up on its second reading, was tabled by a vote of 22 to 16.

Senator Cotten, arguing for the bill contended that its passage would mean a reduction in cases of hydrophobia, losses of sheep, and at least $90,000 per year in the school fund. He was supported by Senator McLaughlin, chairman of the committee on propositions and grievances to which the bill was referred, and which reported it without prejudice. The great majority, however, contends that such a measure is not advocated by farmers, for it would but work additional hardships upon them, and amendments galore were offered to exempt districts from its operations.

The champion of the dog was Senator Hicks, who said that down in his district they all wanted their dogs left all their ancient privileges. The speech of Senator Vest to the faithfulness of the dog even unto death was read by Senator Martin, of Buncombe at the request of a Sandy Mush citizen, whose wife deserted him years ago, and now had nothing but his dog.

Among the important bills introduced was another by Senator Cotten, this to prevent the manufacture and sale of any but safety matches.

House—Thursday.

The house considered the bill to amend the divorce law. The committee had reported unfavorably on this bill, but a minority report was also made, and after discussion the latter was adopted by a large majority, and the bill passed its second reading.

Among the new bills introduced were:

Battle: To establish Hens for licensed livery stable keepers.

Battle: To amend the law relating to statistics of leaf tobacco.

Pitt: To amend the Revisal, relating to public holidays.

Roberts: To provide for better enforcement of liability of stockholders in state banks.

Mitchell: To allow commissioner of agriculture to contract for printing required for its own operation.

Marcom: To enlarge the powers of the boards of county commissioners.

Grier: To establish a State Highway commission.

Thorne: To allow Farmville to issue bonds.

Pace: To amend the Revisal so as to allow railroads to give transportation to widows and minors of deceased employes and to employees who are out of work.

Senate—Friday.

The most important bills introduced in the senate yesterday were those of Dr. Sikes, to establish traveling and public libraries and to submit to the people the question of changing the constitution so as to confer upon the governor the veto power.

Another important bill was Senator Bellamy's, to protect the interest of defendants in criminal cases by preventing the premature exposure of testimony taken by coroners.

A joint resolution, introduced by Senator Armstrong, to pay to the widow of the late Representative John L. Stewart, of Montgomery county, the sum of $250, the per diem which he would have received at the end of the session, passed, upon the statement that no election will be held for the selection of a successor.

A minority report by W. R. Land, of the Torrens Land Title commission, appointed two years ago, was submitted by Senator Hobgood. The report contends that there is no necessity in North Carolina for such a system, and argued at some length against it.

Senator Boyd's bill for the creation of a state building commission and the erection of an administration building at a cost not to exceed one million dollars was discussed briefly and made a special order for Wednesday, February 8th.

House—Friday.

The house had a busy session for about four hours, passing many local bills and discussing various measures.

Among the new bills introduced were these:

Kirkman: Minority report of commission on Torrens Land Title system.

Britt: To prohibit the use of automatic shot guns in hunting quail and other game.

Alsbaugh: To amend the law relating to pensions of ex-Confederate soldiers.

Kellum: Relating to granting of certificates to public accountants.

Kellum: To prevent the shipment of coots and rice birds from the State

Williams, of Buncombe: To provide for maintenance of public libraries.

Williams, of Buncombe: To provide for establishment of traveling libraries.

Senate—Monday

The senate had only a brief session and the most important matter presented was a bill to establish a teachers' training school in western North Carolina. The bill provides for an appropriation of $25,000 for building and equipment and $10,000 annually for maintenance. The county or community getting the school required to pledge an amount at least as large as that appropriated by the state.

Senator Cotten introduced the bill authorizing the commissioners of Pitt county to issue bonds to build a court house and a jail. This bill is to validate the sale of bonds recently made by the commissioners for $75,000 for this purpose.

On Saturday Senator Cotten introduced the bill authorizing the people of Greenville township to issue bonds not exceeding $50,000 to build good roads in the township.

House—Monday.

Representative Thorne introduced a bill similar to the one in the senate validating the sale of bonds by the commissioners of Pitt county.

The only new bills not purely of a local nature were:

Norman: To amend the laws of 1907 relative to divorce.

Carr of Duplin: To protect the forests of the state from fire.

Wall: To prohibit sale of merchandise in any state buildings and grounds on Sunday.

Alfred: To amend the revival of 1905 relative to sampling commercial feed.

Senate—Tuesday.

In the way of new bills there was mighty little doing in the senate, which may be the best thing. The bills introduced were all of a local nature.

A special order for the day was the bill to create Hoke county out of portions of Robeson and Cumberland. The bill brought out a long discussion.

House—Tuesday.

The house also had a special order to consider, the federal income tax.

There were several new bills, practically all of a local nature. The only exceptions were:

Carr: To provide for a monument to the women of the Confederacy.

Rawls of Pamlico: To tax dogs in the state and protect people from hydrophobia.

Thompson: To establish a North Carolina school for the feeble-minded.

UNBALANCED MIND.

Boating Through North Carolina—Arrested as Suspicious Character.

Atlanta, Feb. 1.—Hurt by a fall from a fast moving train, his mind affected by recent financial losses, and believing that detectives are after him, Telamon Smith Cuyler, of New York and Atlanta, authority on fashions and literature, is trudging through North Carolina with friends in pursuit. Cuyler left New York for Atlanta Saturday with a bundle of bonds worth $22,000 in his possession.

He was moving at a rapid rate and was arrested as suspicious character, but was released.

Found Guilty of Libel.

London, Feb. 1.—A prison sentence of one year was today imposed upon Edward F. Myleus, after he was found guilty of criminally libeling King George. Myleus published in his paper the assertion that the king, while prince of Wales, had morganically married and that several children had resulted from the union. He was tried on these counts and convicted on all of them.

Fatal Wreck on the Southern Ry. By Wire to The Reflector.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 1.—The New York and Memphis special on the Southern Railway was wrecked today, killing two persons and injuring fifteen others. The wreck is believed to have been caused by robbers.

Narrow Escape From Death. By Wire to The Reflector.

Altoona, Pa., Feb. 1.—Fire broke out in the Mercy Hospital here today, imperiling the lives of scores of persons and throwing the patients into a panic. Sick persons were carried to the streets by firemen and there were a number of narrow escapes from death.

Collection for "Lee's Nigger.

Rev. W. MacLee, the colored preacher who is here asking aid to finish rebuilding his church in Virginia that was destroyed by fire, was given $1.35 by the Memorial Baptist Sunday school here Sunday morning. The old man expressed himself as very proud of this collection.

Have Live Stock on the Farm.

The price of both hogs and cattle has decreased rapidly during the recent weeks, but live stock are still selling at profitable prices for the man who breeds and feeds regularly each year. Hogs, at even 5 cents a pound live weight, are profitable for any man who grows them in a common-sense, business way, and they are still selling for 7 cents. In the past we have gone into the raising of live stock and bought our foundation herds on a high market and sold out at a loss when prices swung to the other extreme. Those who have recently bought breeding hogs or cattle should not become alarmed. Fluctuations in prices always have occurred, and may be expected to continue, but the man who goes on raising good stock year after year, so that he can profit by the high prices when they come, has always found them a profitable farm crop. Hogs may go still lower, and probably will, but they will not go so low that the Southern farmer who raises them on legumes, which the hogs gather, and a small amount of corn can not still make pork at a profit.—Progressive Farmer.

WHO WILL PAY THE ROAD TAX

IF BONDS ARE ISSUED TO BUILD ROADS

ALL OVER GREENVILLE TOWNSHIP

Some Figures Taken From the Tax List of the Township Showing Separate Valuation for Greenville, That Portion of Township Outside The Town, and Corporations, and The Tax Each Pays.

A few days ago The Reflector printed the full text of the bill adopted by the citizens of the township in a mass meeting, to submit to the legislature asking that the township be permitted to vote on the question of issuing bonds not to exceed $50,000, to build good roads in the township. The bill carried the names of the men selected to compose the board of road trustees. These men, who were nominated in the open mass meeting were named not alone because they were prominent in the community and made a success in their private affairs, but also that the portion of the township in which each resided might have representation on the board.

In the same issue was an editorial giving the tax value of the property in the township, with a calculation showing what the present road tax of 15 cents on each $100 valuation will produce, and how the amount so raised, $4,178.42, would pay the $2,500 interest on the bonds, set aside $600 annually for a sinking fund, and leave a balance annually of $1,078.42 that could be used for maintenance of the roads. The $600 annual sinking fund invested at 6 per cent, will in thirty years, raise an amount more than sufficient to pay off the bonds.

A further calculation has been made, that we give here, showing the division of the taxable property of the township, and what proportion of the taxes these divisions pay. Of the $2,785,619 of property listed in the entire township, the town of Greenville has 1,474,001 all the remainder of the township outside of Greenville $699,502, railroads and other corporations $612,116. On these at a tax of 15 cents, the town of Greenville will pay $2,211, the remainder of the township $1,049.25, and the corporations $918.17. These figures are given that the people can see just what is before them in the proposition to issue bonds to build good roads in the township.

DR. W. H. WAKEFIELD, OF CHARLOTTE. will be in Greenville, at Hotel Bertha, on Wednesday, February 15th, one day only. His practice is limited to the medical and surgical treatment of diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and fitting glasses. 125-3tw

Two Splendid Sermons. Rev. J. C. Shire, of Wilson, preached two delightful sermons in the Presbyterian church here Sunday morning and night. His sermon at the morning service was especially a masterly one, his subject being "The Final Perseverance of the Saints."

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES.

Matters of General Interest That Transpire.

Greenville, N. C., Jan. 27, 1911. Folders giving information concerning the spring course for teachers, which begins March 14th, have been issued.

The cooking class is proving a great success. Much pleasure as well as profit is being derived from the work.

Class spirit has developed rapidly since the completion of the class organizations under faculty advisers. The classes are planning for various social affairs during the spring. Misses Muffy and Bishop will give an informal musical to the students on Saturday evening.

Prof. C. W. Wilson will attend the meeting of the North Carolina Association of City Public School Superintendents and Principals, which meets in Raleigh January 26-27. He is secretary of the association.

Miss Dabney, teacher of primary methods, has charge of one section of the first grade of the Greenville graded school for half the day during the absence of the regular teacher. The senior class is observing her work. Two members of this class have recently done substitute work in this school.

The observance of Lee's birthday was marked by an earnest, true appreciation of the meaning of the day. The school sang appropriate songs with spirit. Miss Sallie Joyner Davis teacher of history, made an excellent talk on Lee, stressing his character, spirit and ideals touching only lightly but skilfully upon his career of action. Her talk showed fine discrimination and appreciation of her subject.

The second biennial report of the board of trustees has been issued. This is a complete report of the affairs of the institution its receipts and expenditures, the work done and proposed to be done including the urgent needs of the school for the next two years. The report shows that during the year and a half since the opening six hundred and ninety-one students have been enrolled, three hundred and thirty of whom were summer school students. Nearly four hundred of these are now teaching in the public schools. This proves that the school is fulfilling the mission for which it was established.

BICYCLE AND CART COLLIDE.

Boy Thrown on Pavement and Painfully Hurt.

About 3 o'clock this afternoon Master Charlie White, son of Mr. S. T. White, was riding his bicycle at a fast speed down Evans street, and upon reaching the corner at Five Points, was run into by a cart being driven in the opposite direction by a colored man. Charlie was thrown to the pavement with violent force that rendered him unconscious for the time, and his wheel was considerably wrecked. He was taken up and carried into the office of Dr. E. A. Moye, where upon examination it was found that no bones were broken but he was badly bruised and suffering much from the shock.

The colored man who was driving the cart was placed under arrest pending the development of the evidence to this boy.

RURAL CARRIERS GET INCREASE.

House Agrees Upon Amendment to Postoffice Bill.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The rural mail carriers of the country, some 40,000 in number, benefit to the extent of nearly $4,000,000 as the result of an amendment agreed to by the house during the closing moments of the debate on the postoffice appropriation bill.

The postoffice appropriation bill, as passed, carries approximately $257,000,000. With the exception of the provision that after July 1, 1916, no mail cars except those of steel construction shall be used, and that authorizing an increase of salary for the rural mail carriers, the bill is substantially the same as that agreed on by the postoffice committee.

Representative Bartlett of Georgia, started the successful fight for an increase of the compensation paid the rural mail carriers. He offered an amendment providing that the salaries of these carriers should be increased from $900 to $1,000 a year. After Representatives Edwards, Hughes and Adams of Georgia, and Cullop and Cox of Indiana, and Borden of Missouri—in addition to numerous others—had spoken in favor of the "overworked and underpaid" rural carriers, Chairman Weeks, of the postoffice committee, agreed to accept the amendment, and the increase was carried by a unanimous vote.

The $100 a year increase applies to all standard route carriers, of which there are 28,000. There are, in addition, 12,000 rural carriers who will receive proportionate increases, according to the lengths of the routes traversed. The total increase to the bill, it is estimated, will be between $2,500,000 and $4,000,000.

BASE BALL LEAGUE.

Opportunity for Greenville to Come in It.

Does Greenville want ball this summer? If so it is up to the fans. A proposition confronts us. Kingston, Grifton and Ayden having submitted the proposition. Those towns want Greenville to come in and form a league. It is the purpose to make it self-supporting, play only home talent and only two games a week in each town. The league to open about June 15th and close August 15th. The Greenville fans expect to meet at an early date and decide whether or not to enter. It is now up to the Greenville to say whether or not we will enjoy the national sport this summer.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1911.

It is not the loudest talker who always accomplishes most.

Are you for Greenville? Then show it by your works.

People should be getting enough idea of bad roads now to want good ones.

It will not surprise us much if the present legislature fails to establish any new county at all.

There are a lot of them who think better of senator Jeff Davis since he said it.

The Farmers' Union says sheep are preferable to dogs, but the legislature say they will take the dog.

Ecuador and Peru are having a little spat between themselves. Both of them need spanking.

Beginning February first, up stairs sleeping in Pullman cars will come a little lower than down stairs.

The dogs are barking more than ever. Must have heard from the legislature and feel that they have a right to.

Latham the French aviator, says flying has become so common that he is going to quit the game and go back home.

Greenville near-beer joints closed sometime ago. Those in other parts of the State had as well make up their minds to do likewise.

After the ground hog has his day out he gets ready for Washington's birthday.

Some people are so non-progressive in their ideas that it is a wonder they are satisfied to live in anything but log houses.

The harem skirt is said to be the latest. We are waiting for Cowan, of the Wilmington Dispatch, to enlighten us as to what it is.

The fellow who is always kicking his town ought to get his toes padded. Then there would be less danger of hurting either his toes or the town.

Some people get on "the other side" of a question just for the popularity they think it brings them, and not because of a principal involved.

As there is hardly a newspaper in North Carolina that is not talking good roads, the evidence is pretty strong that the people are much interested in the question.

From recent happenings, both the Standard Oil Company, and the dog, can feel that they are it in North Carolina. At any rate the law is with them.

The legislature has selected ground hog day, Feb. 2nd, at night, to consider the near-beer bill. Near-beer had as well make up his mind to go back in the hole.

An Ohio man advertised that he would sell himself to the woman who made the highest bid. There need be no surprise in that, since it has come to light that so many Ohioans are for sale.

The Reflector has shown that to have good roads in Greenville township will add nothing to the taxes that people now pay. At the same time it will save the heavy indirect tax that bad roads impose.

For several months Greenville has been entitled, by virtue of her post office receipts, to free delivery of mail. But we doubt if the government lifts a figure toward giving Greenville that delivery until Greenville puts herself in shape to receive it.

When men can have a good thing and not pay a cent more for it than bad things cost them, it looks like reason to take the former. That is just the situation when it comes to the matter of having good roads in Greenville township.

We would hate very much to have the community in which we live and get our living brand us as a man always opposed to progress and against the best interest of the community. Yet there are some men who wear such a stamp.

Senator Jeff Davis gave Marion Butler a whack he will likely remember. He showed up Butler's role of hanging around to press claims for the fat fees in them. This following the drubbing that North Carolina gave Butler last fall must make him very sore.

The Wilmington Star boils a barrel of logic down in this one brief sentence: "The biggest knocker is the one who kills more time than anything else." You will find the gentleman in every town, with nothing to do but go around and knock every good thing that comes along. The occupied man is busy trying to build up his community.

As the report has not come yet, we are wondering what class the census figures has Greenville in. Yet there is no worry about it, for as the town had a population of 2565 in the census of 1900, and has done some growing since that, we are satisfied that it will not be less than 2023 this time. See?

At their mid-winter meeting in Winston-Salem, the editors adopted resolutions favoring State aid to good roads, conservation of natural resources and public health, a liberal appropriation by the legislature for Stonewall Jackson Training School, and urging North Carolina senators to support a bill to stop the government from printing stamped envelopes. As a rule editors go after the right things.

We understand that complaints have been made about the bad condition of some of the roads in Greenville township over which some of the rural mails have to be carried. If such a condition continues there is danger of some of the rural free delivery routes being discontinued. This is another reason why the people living on these routes should favor the building of good roads as quick as possible.

There are men in Pitt county who a little less than four years ago took sides against issuing bonds to establish East Carolina Teachers' Training School, with the expectation of landing in office before now on the popularity such opposition won for them. Those same men today could not get votes enough to be township constable if they tried. In less than four years from now the same thing can be said of some of the opponents to bonds for good roads.

Representative G. M. Mooring, of Pitt, has introduced in the legislature a bill to provide houses in the several townships for holding public meetings. This is a wise measure. There ought to be some suitable place in every township for all assemblies of a public nature, and these buildings could be provided without any great expense. A fixed place for holding township conventions, elections and meetings of a general public nature, would be a great convenience to the people.

Speaking of Editors Cowan and Whichard the Raleigh Times says: "Sorrel tops are not contagious and we see no reason why they should have any 'effect' on the surroundings." We assume that the word, "contagious" is used advisably and that in this connection it has no bearing on the question of heredity.—Greensboro News.

Headredity is the word you want, Bob. While they are not "contagious" they do have some "effect on the surroundings." For proof just look how every jealous fellow keeps trailing Cowan and us because we outshine 'em.

Mr. Tax Payer of Greenville township, pack these figures back good and hard in your mind: The 15 cents on the $100 valuation you are now paying as a road tax, and getting no roads for—the money will pay the interest on a bond issue of $50,000 to build good roads all over the township, set aside a sinking fund sufficient to pay off the bonds when they are due, and provide some over $1,000 a year to maintain the roads after they are built. So the only difference between having bad roads and good roads is to apply a different method of expending the 15 cents road tax you are already paying—and not let it be practically wasted every year.

What effect does the hookworm have on the color of the hair? Patton, of the Charlotte News, says it causes red hair, but Cowan, of the Wilmington Dispatch, resents the allegation and threatens to show the allegator a thing or two. We also expect to see Whichard, of the Greenville Reflector, for obvious reasons, come to the defense of the red-headed man. Patton, however, has been making a special study of hookworm and may be able to defend his position.—Raleigh Times.

Go way, boy, and quit such silly questions. We had red hair before this hookworm business was ever born. But, by way of information according to the theorizers, hookworms have a hanking after pale, sallow folks, and don't waste breath trying to catch the florid kind.

Mr. Citizen, of Greenville township: If a candidate for public office solicits your support and you give it, you are simply aiding a friend to obtain something he desires. If that same man should solicit you to oppose a measure or sign a petition opposing a measure that means a great deal for you and yours, you should hesitate, investigate the proposition and after careful consideration of the benefits obtained by said measure for yourself, decline to become a party to an act that is to your own detriment.

PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS.

But one city in the Carolinas has more than 50,000 population and only three others exceed 25,000. On the other hand, there are quite a number of towns ranging from the latter figures down to 4,000 or 5,000 which may confidently look for extended growth during the next decade. During this period of emergence into the city type these towns will do well to look carefully into how they are growing, as well as how fast. Certain public improvements are comparatively easy to secure before the community has become closely built up, but become increasingly difficult as the population increases. Among the most important of these matters is the subject of public playgrounds for the children.

On Saturday a large and convenient playground was opened in the city of Spartanburg, largely as a result of the efforts of the civic league, and on Monday a charter was issued to a Greensboro organization which has a similar end in view. It is not too soon for communities much smaller to begin work on the idea. As long as there are vacant lots available by the half dozen the matter is not pressing, but when these vacant lots one after another are taken up for building purposes it becomes a serious question as to how sufficient room is to be found for the recreation of the younger generation. We hope that the excellent example of Spartanburg and Greensboro will find many imitators.—Charlotte Observer.

This is a question: The Reflector has many times tried to get Greenville interested in, but so far without result. It is something that will be harder to procure the longer it is neglected. Every town of any consequence ought to have, a public playground of some kind, a park or place suitable for outdoor recreation. Some of these days Greenville will feel the need of this much more than is now apparent, and then a suitable place may be hard to procure, if at all. It would be better to get to work on it while there is some possibility of succeeding.

TOWNSHIP ROAD BILL.

The Greenville township road bill that was ratified at the mass meeting of citizens held in the city hall on Monday night of last week provides that the same cannot become a law until a majority of the voters in the township have expressed themselves as favorable to the measure. Under the provisions of the bill an election will be held in the near future for the purpose of allowing the people to pass on the merits of same. We understand that a few citizens who oppose it are circulating a petition for signatures in which our representatives are asked not to allow the people to express themselves on this all important question. It looks like the opponents of the measure are afraid of the electorate. It is the people's money that is being spent, let them say how it shall be spent, and we will have a government of the people, by the people, for the people. Representatives of the people in the general assembly never hesitate to give them an opportunity to vote on a question where it is evident that a large portion of their constituency demand it.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE IN ROADS.
If two railroads running from Greenville to Norfolk solicited your shipment of cotton, and one of them agreed to land four bales in Norfolk for $1.00, and the other would land only one bale for $1.00, by which road would you ship if you had twelve bales? Now this same twelve bales of cotton has to be brought to the railroad station over some sort of country road before you can ship it. Over a good hard surfaced road you can haul five or six bales per load with a two-horse team, while you can haul only two, or possibly three, over these same roads in their present condition. Do you want to change these sandy roads to good ones? It will not cost you any more in taxes, because the same rate of 15 cents on the $100 valuation you are now paying will be sufficient to make this change if properly applied.

PENNY WISE AND POUND FOOLISH
There are men who have no hesitancy about giving a direct mortgage to buy a farm, to build a house, to buy a horse, a buggy, a piano, to run their crops, or even to get a washing machine right. Yet those same men will lift their hands in horror at the suggestion of giving an indirect mortgage to build good roads, even when they will never be called upon to pay the principal and only their proportional part of the interest. At the same time the mortgage for the good roads, while not adding anything to their taxes, will save them enough on the wear and tear of horses and vehicles and lost time to enable them to pay off their direct individual mortgage. If they would look at the situation logically, they should be able to see it in this light. But we will always have some people who are "penny wise and pound foolish."

It is strange that some people who would be the greatest beneficiaries of good roads should be opposed to them.
Man's rights are curtailed, but there is no tail at all to the rights of the cur.
The man who favors progress and improvements should not be afraid to show his colors.
Curdy should take along a little more grease next time.

MISS LAURA COX TELLS OF HER WORK IN MEXICO

A REAL FISH STORY THAT IS TRUE

Progress of Pupils in the Missionary School—They Learn English Rapidly—How To Handle The Obstinate—She Enjoys Weekly Visits of The Reflector.

Ave. 16, Num. 2, Guaymas, Mexico, Jan. 20, 1911.
My Dear Reflector:

I am greatly, yes, greatly, indebted to some one for the dear old paper of my native county, for I have received the "weekly" regular since I've been in Mexico. I am sure no one at home or abroad delights more in reading its pages. Of course, I get news from a number of friends, but I'm always very eager to see The Reflector.

Well, may I give you some notes that have been very interesting to me and I feel sure that they will be of interest to some, if not all of you. Allow me to tell you a fish story first and then I'll give you some interesting facts about the natives of Mexico. Here goes my story: It's a real fish story, but unlike many others in that it is a true one, although it may sound like it is not. One day before Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. Marrs had a number of friends to visit them and in the afternoon they invited me to join them and take a boat ride. I am always ready to go, you know, so of course I said (con mucho gusto) with great pleasure. I was ready in a few minutes, so we started. After we had gone some distance from land we looked across the bay and saw a number of men in boats fishing. Our captain took us over to them so that we might see them catch fish. Just before we reached the fishing boats we passed a gang of pelicans, I am quite sure there were 150 or 200 in the gang. To me they were perfectly beautiful as they swam across the gulf. As you all know, they are larger than a swan and have very large bills. These were the color of a turkey. Well, now to my fish story. When we finally reached the place where they were fishing, we were very much interested in "the fishermen's luck." In a few minutes one caught a fish 1 1/2 yards long and wide in proportion. It was so large he had to kill it with a club before taking it in the boat. I thought that was an extremely large fish, but one day since then I saw a man on the street with one thrown across his shoulder and while the main part of its body was on the man's shoulder its tail almost touched the ground.

Christmas Bells, Christmas Bells, Oh, the story that their chiming tells; Christmas Bells, Christmas Bells, Hear the music of the grand old bells.
Most of the children in the English work are doing nicely. I have to handle some of them as though they were glass almost, for they are so quick to get angry. When one gets off I have to let him entirely alone till he gets cool. That is the only way I can manage them at all. I had to hold a boy not long ago to keep him from going home. We have to do all sorts of ways to let them know we are their friends. Ordinarily they are all O. K.

One day this week I was reading a very simple little story to my 3rd grade and one of the grown girls heard me say, "For Jesus Christ's sake," and she said "Who is Jesus Christ?" You can imagine how my heart went out to her. She is a very dear girl, and if I can only be the means of helping to bring her to the true light, I'll be so happy. We have to be very careful, of course what we do and say. Sometimes its very hard to know, but we have to lift our eyes and look to the hills as did David, for we know that God is a present helper and will guide His children in the right paths.

If at any time any of you feel that you have the time, I'll be glad to hear from any of you. I am always glad to hear from my old State.

ville and took the work there. As I sat and listened I thought "What hath God done for these people." Only a few years ago without the true gospel and now singing His praises with all their soul. The missionaries say that when one is turned to the true Christ that they are the bitterest foe the Roman Catholic have. We finally reached the shore and all felt that it was an afternoon well spent.

Now, may I tell you a few things about our school? On Friday night before Christmas we had a short program and a Christmas tree for the children. In the English department, of which I have charge, there are about twenty-five pupils. Their parents are so anxious for them to learn English, I felt that part of the exercises should be given by my pupils. So Mrs. Marrs, in her own sweet Christian way, came to my rescue and composed a song for me and I wish you could have heard them singing it with me. They did not understand all its meaning, of course, but they were perfectly delighted with the idea of singing in English, and sang like little birds. That night I was afraid to leave them alone so I sang with them and if you could have seen the smiles on the parents faces as I did, you would have felt amply paid for all the trouble you had taken with them. Next day I was down town and one lady came up to me and said "How long have you been teaching those children?" I said since the first of October. She thought it was wonderful to see the progress they had made and said they were very much surprised when they began singing in English the night before. The song was so pretty I must give you the chorus. (Tune, "Bring Them In.")

NEGRO PRISONER ESCAPES

Sheriff Nunn Leaves Prisoner in Custody of Hack Driver.

Boston Boyd, a negro prisoner who was brought to this city from Greenville by Sheriff Nunn last night to be incarcerated in the jail here for safe keeping for the Pitt county authorities, escaped from the sheriff right at the jail door and has not yet been apprehended. Sheriff Nunn brought Boyd from Greenville on the Coast Line train Monday evening, and summoning Marion Parker, a hack man, engaged him to carry him and the prisoner to the jail. On the jail yard the sheriff alighted, and deputizing Parker to look after the prisoner went into his office for the keys to the jail. The prisoner was handcuffed and the hack was standing under the glare of the electric light in the jail yard. When he got into his office, he looked through the window and saw a man running with his hands held together in front of him. Suspecting at once that it was his prisoner escaping, Sheriff Nunn gave chase, but Boyd disappeared in the darkness back of the King building opposite the court house.

The sheriff was a little slow to realize that the running man was the prisoner escaping, as he saw no one following him, nor did he hear any outcry. He had left the negro in charge of the hack driver, but the hackman was not following the escaping negro when the sheriff saw him. The fact that the runner held his hands together in front of him aroused the sheriff's suspicions. But the negro had made a good gateway before anything was heard from the hackman. Diligent search was made by the sheriff and the city policemen after the escape but Boyd could not be found.

Boyd was bound over to the Superior court of Pitt county on the charge of stealing clothing from a store in Greenville. Sheriff Nunn has offered a reward of $25 for his capture.—Kinston Free Press.

Rochdale Hems.

Rochdale, N. C., Jan. 26.—Mr. Tom Smith, of Middlesex, came in Tuesday to visit relatives.

Mrs. Daisy Pittman, of Falkland, and Miss Della Smith, of Simpson, visited at Mr. F. M. Smith's last week.

Mrs. Liss McLawhorn returned to Ayden Friday.

Miss Agnes Smith, of the East Carolina Teachers Training School, attended the Gay-Smith marriage Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McLawhorn visited relatives near Ayden Thursday.

Mr. C. L. Tyson and children, of Renston, visited relatives here Friday and Saturday.

Miss Mittle Smith visited relatives at Renston Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. T. E. Little went to Wilson Saturday.

Miss Trilby Smith went to Snow Hill Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gay, of Farmville, visited at Mr. F. M. Smith's Sunday.

 "I'll be hanged!" said the picture.
 "I'll be damned!" said the stream.

GOVERNOR AND MRS. KITCHIN

At Home To Assembly January 26th, 1911.

Raleigh, Jan. 26.—The governor's mansion presented a scene of splendor and brilliance this evening, the occasion being the biennial reception of the governor and his wife in honor of the members of the general assembly and state officers. Governor and Mrs. Kitchin had made elaborate arrangements for this event, which proved to be one of the most elegant social functions ever given in this city. Besides Governor and Mrs. Kitchin, those in the receiving circle were the various state officers and their wives, President Newland, of the senate and his wife, and Speaker Jowd, of the house, and Mrs. Dowd. During the evening the mansion was thronged with handsomely gowned women and men in evening dress, the guests including many of the most prominent society people of all parts of the state. This reception will for a long time be cherished as a fond memory with all who attended.

Gay-Smith.

An event of much interest to society in Farmville and at Smitlatown, was consummated in the marriage of Miss Rosa Debie Smith to Mr. Walter G. Gay, on the afternoon of Wednesday, January 13th, at the elegant country home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Marion Smith.

The parlor was darkened and pink shaded lights lent enchantment to the airy like maize of ferns and evergreens so artistically arranged. A white wedding bell was suspended from the center of an arch of evergreens, beneath which the ceremony was performed.

Just as the strains of the "Bridal chorus" from "Midsummer night's Dream" by Mendelssohn, so skillfully rendered by a Falkland musician, Mrs. Pittman, were heard, the bridal party entered in the following order: Miss Cena Nichols with Mr. David Smith, Miss Etta Gay, a sister of the groom, with Mr. Billy Parker, of Falkland, Miss Carrie Belle Smith with Mr. B. A. Joyner.

Then came the dame of honor, the sister of the bride, Mrs. McLawhorn, of Ayden, just preceding the bride entered her little sister, Miss Callie Smith, carrying the wedding ring. Mr. Walter Gay entered the parlor with his best men, Mr. Jasper Shackelford. The bride carrying a large bouquet of white carnations, then came in with her maid of honor, Miss Agnes Smith. Mr. H. E. Tripp in a most impressive manner performed the ceremony, during which "Flower Song" was played.

The brides maids were attractive in white, while the maid of honor was becomingly gowned in blue silk with elbow white kid gloves. The bride was beautifully attired in a white messaline gown, white gloves, and white slippers.

After the conclusion of the marriage rites, the bridal party went to the home of the groom's father, near Farmville, where a course luncheon was served.

The numerous and valuable presents received by the bride attests the popularity of the couple.

SEND THE BOYS TO WASHINGTON CITY

LET'S HAVE TOWNSHIP BOYS CORN CONTESTS

PITT COUNTY CAN TAKE THE LEAD

Some Woman in Each Township can Easily Raise the Necessary Amount—Will Only Require About $30 for Each Boy—Will be a Great Incentive to Corn Growing.

There is at the present time more enthusiasm among the farmers relative to corn culture, than there has ever been since Pitt county has had an existence. This is a good omen and it would be well to yearly encourage this enthusiasm. There is no better way to do this than to interest more of the boys of the county in the boys' corn contest. In furtherance of this idea it is suggested that some patriotic woman in each township in the county interest herself enough in the future farmers of this splendid county to raise sufficient money to give one boy from each township a trip to Washington, D. C., next December.

Mrs. R. R. Cotton will see to it that the successful boy in Falkland township has the pleasure of this most enjoyable trip. Mrs. F. E. Elks, of Grimesland, will raise the money for the most industrious boy of Chicod township. Who will volunteer to try to raise the necessary funds for the other townships?

Any who are willing to aid in this laudable undertaking, can send their names to Miss Henriette Moye, Farmville, N. C., who will furnish any explanation and suggest plans by which this problem can be solved.

Prof. W. H. Ragsdale is in hearty sympathy with this movement, and, if his health will permit, will accompany the party and be their chaperone and guide. Also our excellent congressman, Hon. John H. Small, will give the movement encouragement and will show the boys all the civility possible for one who is wise in the ways of Washington City.

We calculate that thirty dollars will be sufficient for the round trip.

Let's encourage the boys and women, for what women in the county would not be proud to have her boy enjoy such an educational outing, men, for what woman in the county a free trip from the State at large is so small that it is not much incentive for him to really try, but the probabilities of his succeeding in the

The possibility of a bay betting incentive to work is enhanced many fold.

This contest will be under the same rules governing the State boys' corn contest, with probably one or two exceptions, which will be mentioned later.

The Reflector wants to see Pitt county the first to adopt this township plan. We would like to have suggestions from all parts of the county in regard to such a contest. The time to start such a movement is now.

If a man needs a loan it doesn't take him long to discover who his friends are.

FOR GOOD ROADS.

Letter From Mr. J. W. Allen Shows How He Stands.

Greenville, N. C., Jan. 30, 1911. Editor Reflector:

I want to state through your columns that I am heretofore in favor of good roads, because I think that our people couldn't have anything that would profit them more than that. I am in favor of issuing bonds to build them, because I know there is no other way to get them unless we issue bonds. I think the proposed bill is just what we want, and I hope every good man in the township will get out and try to get the proposed bill through. I intend to do all I can for the good road proposition as you have it started.

Trusting that you will carry this issue, I am,

Yours very truly,
J. W. ALLEN.

MEN'S PRAYER LEAGUE

Sunday's Meeting was Very Interesting and Helpful.

Though Sunday afternoon was rainy, it did not have much effect upon the men's prayer league and there was a good attendance at the meeting in the Christian church. This shows that the men are interested in the league and are getting good to themselves out of it.

The subject for this meeting was "Pure Religion" and the leaders, Messrs. J. L. Jackson, C. M. Jones and R. C. Flanagan gave discussions of it that impressed all with their excellence. Each one treated the subject most interestingly.

Next Sunday it is proposed to hold an experience meeting when the subject will be "Personal Testimony," the text for the day being part of Luke 8:39 and Luke 24:49. The leaders are Messrs. J. S. Cockrell, W. J. Peel and T. E. Hooker. A number of others are expected to give testimony at this meeting. The meeting will be in the Baptist church at 8:30 o'clock.

Majestic Range Demonstration.

The demonstration of the famous Majestic range began today at the store of Hart & Hadley, and will continue all of this week. Mr. C. C. Panye, a representative from the Majestic factory in St. Louis, is here in charge of the demonstration and will take pleasure in explaining the good qualities of the range. All visitors to the store during the demonstration will be served hot coffee and biscuits made on the range. All purchasers of a range this week will be presented a free set of the ware advertised in another page.

Notice to Parents and Children!

I find it necessary to take some steps to stop persons from riding bicycles on the side walks in the town. Among the most frequent violators are children. I appeal to the parents of the town to take their children in charge that they must stop this violation. Otherwise, I shall be compelled to deal with them as with other violators.

J. T. SMITH,
Chief of Police.

Nobody wants to be as good as he thinks everybody else ought to be. Temptation always gets an introduction to you under some other name.

Good Roads.

The movement for "good roads" is progressive everywhere. Hardly a state or a section where associations are not being organized and steps being taken looking forward to the building of better roads.

The Pennsylvania state highway department, with the help of the state college, is going to run a special car through different sections of the state with instructions to give lectures on improved road building. The Philadelphia Press says: "The state department of agriculture and the state college have been highly successful in a similar effort to spread a knowledge of improved methods of agriculture, attracting the earnest and thoughtful interest of farmers everywhere, and there can be no reason why such means of spreading information regarding good roads should be quite as valuable and profitable. The best enlightenment as to the advantage of good roads are the improved roads themselves but these demonstrations are not yet possible in sections where improvement has once been advanced. The people of Pennsylvania have learned a great deal on this subject in the past few years—a subject to which much indifference was formerly shown—but they cannot know too much about it, for it is a matter of vital importance, to the commonwealth."

It would be a splendid idea if this plan could be carried out through this section. The state department with county assistance and the co-operation of the great railway system could easily arrange for the "good roads institute" and it would be of immense value to the state.—Concord Tribune.

A Sanitary Hobble Skirt.

All things happen for the best—even the hobble skirt. A French student recently found precedent for these bizarre garments by discovering that they were worn thousands of years ago by the ladies of old Judea. But precedent is not always of itself a justification. Even Solomon had his follies and some of great Noah's methods would be rightly spurned by the captain of the Lusitania.

What real reason lies behind the hobble skirt? What real need or safeguard does it serve?

A London physician has come forward with the answer.

To this man of science was recently brought an ordinary skirt, the old-fashioned kind that trails the ground about its wearer's feet. He put it under his microscope, his acids and what-not, when to his horror he found that it harbored nine million, four thousand and thirty germs. Such is the peril in which woman-kind walks.

Now, the hobble skirt, it is argued, by virtue of its peculiar tightness and elevation about the ankles, prevents this accumulation of wicked microbes. It holds itself aloof from the common earth and so escapes contamination.

FORESTRY CONVENTION.

Meets in Raleigh on February 1st, 1911.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 20.—A very interesting program has been arranged for the forestry convention to be held in Raleigh on February 1st. The meetings will be held in the rooms of the chamber of commerce on Fayetteville street, the morning session beginning at 10.30, the afternoon session at 3 and the night session at 8.30. It is expected that there will be an illustrated lecture at the night session to which all interested in forestry are cordially invited. One of the most important addresses will be by Hon. A. Gaskill, forester of the State of New Jersey, who has had a great deal of experience in forest fire protection and has probably inaugurated one of the best systems of State forest fire protection now in force. He will discuss this question very thoroughly and take up the advantages that North Carolina will derive by protecting her forests from fires.

Governor W. W. Kitchin will make the address of welcome. Mr. W. S. Lee, vice-president of the Southern Power Co., will discuss the subject "Forest Fire Prevention as a Regulator of Stream Flow." Mr. Thomas Ivey, of Fayetteville, will take up the question of "Revenue for Forest Fire Protection." Mr. J. B. Blades, one of the large lumbermen of eastern North Carolina, will discuss "The Lumberman and Practical Forestry"; Mr. J. S. Holmes, forester of the North Carolina geological and economical survey, will speak on "Forest Fire Laws in North Carolina and other States;" the question of "Reforestation of the waste and cut-over lands of the State" will be discussed by Joseph Hyde Pratt, State geologist. Hon. J. Elmwood Cox, of High Point, will speak on the subject "Dependence of the Furniture Industry on the Local Supply of Timber." A number of railroads have shown their interest in the subject by appointing certain of their representatives as delegates to the convention.

The outlook is very promising for a large and enthusiastic attendance. All citizens who are interested in forestry measures are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

HOOKERTON UNION MEETING.

Holds Interesting Session With The Christian Church.

The Hookerton union convened in Greenville, January 27-29, 1911. On Friday evening a sermon was delivered by Rev. Horace Settle, of Wilson. Ayden, N. C., Jan. 23.—Nick Harris, a young man who has been invalid for several months with complication arising from a cut he received while timbering last year, died here Friday and will be buried today.

Miss Jean Morrison, of Portsmouth who has been visiting Mrs. R. W. Smith, left Friday for Belhaven, preparatory for the spring millinery season.

McCall's Magazine and fashion sheets complimentary at J. R. Smith Company's.

Mr. James Tripp, who left Pitt county about 30 years ago for the golden west and located at El Paso, Texas, is here on a visit. He is quite a talker and his experience has been an eventful one during that period.

Mr. R. C. Davis, of South Ayden, is quite sick with pneumonia.

Let us furnish your home with nice new oak furniture so cheap.—J. R. Smith Company.

Capt. Johnson is able to be out again.

The North Carolina Christian Missionary Convention will meet in Ayden this fall. So take notice, raise a few extra pigs, calves and chickens, plant a few acres of cotton and tobacco to buy furniture and build additional shed rooms, so as to entertain all the guests and sustain the reputation of our county for its unjudged hospitality. We expect a large gathering of God's people on that occasion.

Roofing, iron galvanizing, rubber, and paper at J. R. Smith Company's.

What could a roller flour mill do in Ayden?

Next Tuesday night at the Seminary, "Resolved, That the love of money has more influence over the mind of men than pretty Ayden girls." Everybody come.

Dr. J. C. Caldwell, president of the Atlantic Christian College, will preach in the Christian church here Sunday night. The college quartette will accompany him. Prof. Muller is manager in charge of the music.

Rev. Mr. Caraway, of the M. E. church, will preach a special sermon in that church to the Odd Fellows next fourth Sunday at 2.30 p. m. Every member is requested to be present on this occasion. Mr. Caraway was educated at the Odd Fellows school at Goldsboro and the fraternity can well afford to be proud of him.

Mrs. Alonzo Hill, of Virginia, is visiting Mrs. J. B. Gardner.

Car each of cement and brick. Call, write or phone us.—J. R. Smith Company.

Mr. W. T. Hart left Friday for a visit to Snow Hill.

Mr. Alfred Forbes and wife spent Sunday in town.

Prof. Koonce is attending a meeting of the nobles in Raleigh this week.

Rev. J. R. Tingle left Saturday for the Roanoke Union in Hyde county.

Ayden, N. C., Feb. 1.—Alfonzo (Bud) Hart and Leonard Tripp left last Tuesday for the machine shops at Columbia S. C. Leonard returned by the first train after arriving here, singing "There's no place like home."

White shad were on the market Saturday and backs sold for $1.00 each. They were caught at Pitch Kettle.

Rev. J. H. Griffith, of Kinston, was here yesterday placing tombs at the grave of the late John Allen Lewis Templeton.

By J. C. Caldwell preached Sunday night in the Christian church on the "Ten Virgins" and delighted his hearers.

A small son of Mr. James E. Jones fell from a bicycle Monday evening and broke his arm.

Our hardware department is more complete than ever. See us for anything in that line.—J. R. Smith Co.

Mr. Alex Dawson spent Friday night in town, with Mr. W. F. Hart.

Mrs. Will Hart and children returned from Snow Hill Monday. Her mother accompanied her.

Furniture, stoves, matting and oil cloth. See us before you buy, we will tell you a secret.—J. R. Smith Company.

There is a chair factory in the rear of Kittrells stables. A Creole making rustic chairs and settees of willow, seems to find a ready demand for all he can make.

A full line of cart wheels, cart bodies, box or dump, also any repair work done, either wood or iron. See us.—J. R. Smith Company.

His honor, Mayor Parkick, had to convene his court Sunday to try some of the offenders of Saturday night, and re-convened Monday morning to try the residue.

We are informed that a small change in the stock law fence would be quite a saving to the tax payers of Pitt county. If a line of fence was run from the gate near Mr. Isreal Moore's to the old Green Mill run near Greenville, only a distance of 12 miles would save 73 miles of fence, or from the same starting point to Grimesland, a distance of 19 miles, would do away with near 100 miles of fence. We believe this matter is worthy of deep consideration by Messrs. Cotten, Thorne, and Mooring. We are sure they are not such men as the representative from Surry county.

Rev. M. Caraway will preach a special sermon to the Odd Fellows the fourth Sunday in February at 3 o'clock, p. m., in the M. E. church. Everybody invited.

A full line of coffins, caskets, copper lined trappings, shrouds, etc.—J. R. Smith Company.

Prof. Ragdale was here Monday looking after the school interest.

Dr. J. H. Mewlorn, the oculist, or eye doctor, will be here Monday. Be sure to come and have your eyes treated and fitted with Dr. Hawk's glasses.—J. R. Smith Company.

Mr. E. T. Mosley, of Kinston, spent Sunday here with his daughter,

A Growing Evil. The author, David Graham Phillips, is the latest victim of the bullet of an assassin, but, fortunately, there is still a slight hope for his recovery. Without wanting to be heartless, we might add that it is regrettable that the man who fired the shot then turned the pistol on himself with fatal effects. Fortunately, we say, because the wealthy and, in a way, prominent, had he lived, would no doubt have furnished the country with another instance of the sickening spectacle of a trial with a plea of insanity, with scientific experts on one side testifying one thing and socialized experts of equal experience on the other side qualifying another thing. One side would have the prisoner absolutely insane and immune from punishment, and the other would have him a common criminal.

How often sure things turn out to have been uncertainties. Anyway, a man's consent does not keep him awake at night.

PERUNA TONIC FOR COUGHS, COLDS, CATARRH.

PERUNA Drug Co., Columbus, Ohio. Gentlemen: I have used Peruna and find that it cannot be equaled as a tonic, as well as a cure for coughs, colds and catarrh.

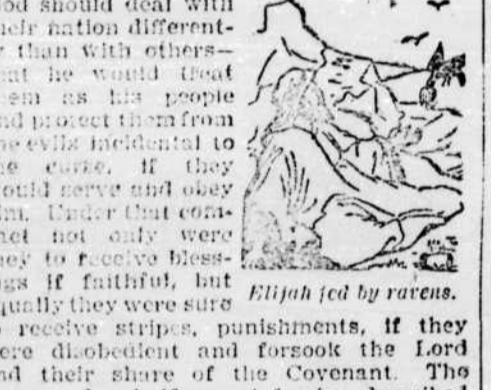

Mr. C. Happy, Harbin, Ray Co., Mo., writes: "I can safely recommend Peruna as a remedy that will cure all catarrhal troubles. It was of great benefit to me, as it cured me of catarrh of the throat, and I took a very bad cold and had a gripe last February. It settled in my throat and lungs. I took three bottles of Peruna and it cured me. I highly recommend it to all who are sick, and I am glad to add my endorsement to that of others." Mr. L. Clifford Figg, Jr., 2929 East Marshall St., Richmond, Va., writes that when he gets a cold he takes Peruna, and it soon drives out of his system. For several years he was not entirely well, but Peruna completely cured him. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets.

OLD TESTAMENT TIMES BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDIES

THREE AND A HALF YEARS WITHOUT RAIN I Kings 17:1-16—February 5

"They that seek the Lord shall not want any thing."—Ps. 34:10.

When the Prophet was God's messenger, the approaching King Ahaz, and his wife, and the ten tribes of Israel who supported them. As we have seen, victuals and poultry flourished from a time with national prosperity. Then there came a change, a drought for three years and a special deprivation of Divine providence—a retribution or punishment upon Israel. We do not wish to convey the thought that every drought, famine, pestilence, etc., should be considered a judgment from the Almighty. The whole world is under Divine sentence or condemnation of death, and God permits earthquakes, drought, famine, pestilence, without sending them, except that in a general way they stand related to the present reign of sin and death, as of the curse not yet lifted. But in the case of Israel matters were different. At Mt. Sinai Israel entered into a covenant relationship with God and he with them. The special terms of that Covenant were that God should protect and bless them, and they should obey him. That is the significance of the Lord's statement through the Prophet, "Is there evil in the city and the Lord hath not done it?" Some have mistakenly interpreted this to mean that God holds himself responsible for all the moral evils of mankind. Quite to the contrary, the Lord declares respecting his own Government that "His way is perfect." The word evil in this text is old style English, signifying any disaster or trouble or affliction. With the Israelites God wished it to be clearly understood that he was responsible, both for their blessings and for their tribulations, all of which were intended to purify them.

Elijah the Prophet. Under Divine guidance, Elijah, at the King Ahaz, clothed according to his custom, in exceedingly plain garments. In the name of the Lord he reproved the King for the idolatry practiced in his kingdom and announced what the Lord had said. He considered a vain boast; namely, that there would be neither rain nor dew in the land of Israel until Elijah would command it. And the drought came as the Prophet of the Lord predicted. As months grew into years and the drought continued, the king caused search to be made for Elijah, with a view to either entreaty or threatening him, to the intent that the drought might be broken. But Elijah, under the Lord's direction, secreted himself near the Brook Cherith, where the ravens brought him food morning and evening until the brook dried up and, under the Lord's direction, Elijah went elsewhere.

While this story that the ravens fed Elijah sounds mythical, it has its parallel in the story of a young man sick in prison, to whom a raven brought food. Bishop Stanley's History of Bibles tells of another incident thus: "Coming into the inn yard one evening, he saw a raven perched on the top of a favourite Newfoundland dog, and while we were examining the injury, Ralph, the raven, looked on also. That night the dog was tied up under the manger with my horse and the raven not only brought him food but brought him bones and attended him with particular marks of kindness."

There must be a cause for this. Is the church losing its power to draw people to it? We shall not attempt to answer this question, and ask it only for the purpose of bringing the subject to the attention of those better qualified to find a remedy.—Roanoke-Chowan Times.

Home of a poor widow, to whom the drought and continued scarcity had proved a great trial. She had a little coarse flour left, which alone stood between herself and her son and starvation, so far as she could discern. The Prophet, meeting her, asked for a drink of water and a small cake of bread. This was a severe test to the woman's faith and generosity. She explained the situation, indicating her desire to accede to the Prophet's wishes, yet loath to part with her all. Elijah replied, Fear not. Bake for yourself and for your son, but the first cake make for me and bring to me. Then he explained to her the Lord's message: "The barrel of meal shall not waste, neither shall the cruise of oil fail until the day that the Lord sendeth rain upon the earth." The word of the Lord was fulfilled. Miraculously the supplies were increased. He by little, but as rendered his people.

"They that seek the Lord shall not want any thing."—Ps. 34:10. The Lord loveth a generous giver. Those who give out, and those who give gradually miss, therefore, much of the Lord's blessing. We should not be foolish in our giving; but, while we have evidence that there is need, and particularly if the needy one be a child of God, we can well divide even our necessities with such. Our reward will be a realization of Divine approval and an increase in ourselves of the mind of the Lord. To such the Lord's promise is of his superabounding care. The Scriptures declare: "There is that scattereth and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is proper and it tendeth to poverty." This which a scattered or divided her slender supply and thereby she increased it for many days, in harmony with this text. Our Golden Rule, also, should not be forgotten: "They that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing."—shall not lack anything good for them. The Lord in his wisdom may not give them riches or prominence. They must trust to his wisdom, his judgment, as to what things will be for their best, their highest good.

Sunday and Church Attendance. This paragraph is from an editorial in the Roanoke-Chowan Post: "We note with deep concern the report made by the corresponding secretary of the board of Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church that there are 8,000,000 young people in the United States between 12 and 18 years of age who are not attending Sunday school."

It is interesting that so large a number of our young people remain in the Sunday schools. The attendance contrast to a few years ago. What does this mean? This subject is one not to be lightly passed over. There must be some cause for it.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH DEDICATED SUNDAY

ABLE DEDICATORY SERMON BY DR. J. C. CALDWELL

BUILDING ENTIRELY FREE OF DEBT

Large Congregation Attend the Exercises—Splendid Singing by Local Choir and Quartette From Atlantic Christian College—Brief History of The Church in Greenville.

Yesterday was a day of much importance to the local Christian church. Since the church was built in the early summer of 1901, there has been an indebtedness upon the building. The liquidation of the debt was practically provided for, before yesterday, but it remained to complete the debt actually yesterday, and in addition to provide practically for all other outstanding indebtedness. This aim was so nearly realized that it is believed that it will be but a short time until all the indebtedness of the church shall have been wiped out.

The Christian church was organized in Greenville, on October 18th, 1900, at the home of Mr. Travis Hooker, which was at that time on Dickinson avenue, near where the church now stands. Rev. Dennis W. Davis was called as minister at that time, and preached the first sermon in the present building, the first Sunday in June, 1901.

Rev. Chas. C. Ware, Pastor.

Following the pastorate of Mr. Davis was that of W. E. Powell, of Newport News, Va. In October 1904, Mr. H. H. Moore was called to their ministry. In November 1906, he was succeeded by D. W. Arnold, who served three years and a half. Three months ago the congregation called Chas. C. Ware, of Lexington, Ky., a graduate of Kentucky University, class of '07, and who has preached for seven years in the South.

The auditorium of the church yesterday was crowded to the limit and as many more were turned away. The sermon by Dr. J. C. Caldwell was listened to with rapt attention. His text, "I came to bear witness of the Truth."

The building is now entirely free from debt, in which fact the congregation and their many friends rejoice.

Many people from the country and neighboring towns were here to attend the dedicatory exercises.

Following is the program:
1.—Organ Prelude.
2.—Quartette—"O Be Joyful."—Bassford—Misses Settle and Bowen;

impressed with what they had seen in the school, but there was not time at the conclusion of the talks in the auditorium, Senator Hicks offered the following resolution, which the committee unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the State of North Carolina owes a debt of gratitude to the county of Pitt and the city of Greenville, and to Governor Jarvis and his associates, for this magnificent institution dedicated to the State.

"Resolved, second, That this committee will work for the full appropriation asked for by the president and board of directors."

This was greeted with great applause by the entire school. President Wright thanked the committee for all the words of praise they had expressed for the school, and asked the pupils to sing in conclusion "Carolina" which they did with spirit.

The committee were then taken to dinner with the school, and spent the remainder of the afternoon, until time to leave on the 4.56 train, in being shown the town.

The committee enjoyed their visit to the school and Greenville, and the school and town were delighted to have them.

CONTEST CLOSES FEBRUARY 14

ONLY FEW DAYS LEFT TO SECURE VOTES

LAST BONUS OFFER CLOSES TODAY

Mr. C. S. Carr, Cashier of the Greenville Banking & Trust Company; Mayor F. M. Wooten and Attorney F. C. Harding.

Herewith The Reflector gives the names of the gentlemen who have been selected to act as judges of the contest and to count the votes and award the prizes. The names of these gentlemen are a sufficient guarantee, if any is needed, that the close of the contest will be marked by absolute fairness, and the interest of every candidate safeguarded.

The judges will take charge of the ballot box promptly at 12 o'clock noon, Tuesday, February 14th. The actual canvass of the votes will then begin and will be conducted as rapidly as possible. The judges will announce the winners as soon as the votes are counted. The candidates friends who have promised to help them by subscribing, or paying their back subscription and voting for them, should do so before the close of this bonus period—at 8 o'clock, p. m., February 10th. The regular scale of votes will only be given after that date.

This contest is going to be won by the candidates who know no such word as "quit." The ones who fight out to a finish are the ones who will be handsomely rewarded.

Four Killed by Gas.

By Wire to The Reflector. New York, Feb. 8.—Four people were killed by escaping gas today in Brooklyn. The four were dead when physicians arrived and others in the house were affected.

GOV. KITCHIN RECOMMENDS ROAD BONDS

The First Step to Progress in Any County is Improving its Public High-Ways

"I recommend that the appropriation to the geological and economic survey be increased from $10,000 to $15,000 to enable the State to furnish proper engineering aid to districts in order that drainage may be more rapidly prompted, and also that an additional $20,000 be appropriated for the better promotion of good roads, in order that competent and suitable advice and engineering services may be rendered in improving the public highways. In order to insure the greatest benefit in the expenditure of this latter sum, I recommend the creation of a good roads commission of five members, three of whom shall be the State geologist, a professor of civil engineering of the State University and a professor of civil engineering of the college of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. We have ample cause for congratulation in the development of good roads throughout the State, progress in this respect being notable in most of the counties, and its beneficial result recognized in all. But the movement is still in its infancy except in possibly a dozen counties. Nothing will at like cost more greatly increase our country wealth and contribute to the comfort of the people than the wider extension of good roads. "I recommend that every county, upon a vote of a majority of its qualified voters, be authorized to issue for the purpose of constructing good roads, bonds to an amount not exceeding five per cent. of its taxable values, to run for thirty years, bearing 5 per cent. interest coupons, for the payment of which and to provide a sinking fund, a sufficient special tax shall be levied, and that the State treasurer upon approval of the governor and council of State upon recommendation of the good roads commission, or board of geologic and economic survey, as the case may be, be authorized to issue a like sum of four per cent. State bonds, the proceeds of which shall be used to purchase such county bonds at par value, accounts to be kept in the treasurer's office, charging the counties with all money paid to them and necessary expenses of the transaction and with all interest paid on such State bonds, and crediting the counties with all premiums received on State bonds and all county bond coupons paid, and whenever a balance to the credit of any county is sufficient to do so such county shall be paid off or purchased and cancelled and delivered to such county."

Morse Loses His Gain.

By Wire to The Reflector. Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 8.—Charles W. Morse loses twenty days off from prison sentence which he had gained for good behavior. He was found with money in his possession and made contradictory statements as to where he got it.

A New Use for the Telephone.

Cecil was accustomed to hearing his mother telephone for nearly everything she needed. One day as he entered the pantry a little mouse scampered across the floor. Very much frightened he jumped up and down screaming, "Oh, mother, phone for the cat! Please mother phone for the cat!—Success Magazine.

A Shooting Affray at Fayetteville—A Tree Felling on Farmer Kibb Hill—Greensboro Citizens Vote for Commission Form of Government.

Mr. George Woody, an industrious farmer of Hickory Nut township, Chatham county, died early Sunday morning from injuries received by having a tree cut down on him accidentally by negroes who were racing at a tree "chopping frolic" Friday. His leg was broken and his body badly mangled. Mr. Woody was in the 74th year of his age and was a Confederate veteran.

Fayetteville, Feb. 7.—A shooting affair occurred on Hay street this city, about 2:30 o'clock when J. L. S. Beckwith, a furniture collector, shot John Q. Barnes, an employe of the Atlantic Coast Line. The trouble grew out of an account which Barnes owed the furniture company.

Greensboro, Feb. 7.—By a two to one vote today, the citizens of Greensboro adopted a commission form of government, the vote being 693 for and 353 against, making a majority of 340 for the new form of government.

Black Hand Revenge.

By Wire to The Reflector. Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 8.—Because he was a traitor to the Black Hand and sold his services to the government to spy on his friends, Samuel Laitha, an Italian, was shot today by two other Italians.
