

A CALCULATION REVISED.

North Carolina Will Go Forward in Good Roads Building.

State Geologist Joseph Hyde Pratt has recently issued some good road figures to which it may be profitable to devote special attention. During 1910 the total mileage in North Carolina which was specially surfaced—sand-clay, gravel and macadam included—amounted to 859 miles. Adding the mileage reported from the various counties, there are in this state 46,850 miles of public road, of which 4,618 miles have been improved. This leaves more than 42,000 miles still lacking permanent improvement. At the rate of 850 miles a year it will require in the neighborhood of half a century to complete the task which the good roads enthusiasts have set themselves.

Such a reflection would be somewhat discouraging were it not for the fact that the figures quoted do not by any means tell the whole story. No one conversant with the situation believes that North Carolina will have to wait anything like fifty years for a State-wide system of good roads. In the first place, there are thousands of miles of roads which need only the persistent and intelligent use of the split-log drag to put them in excellent condition considering the amount of traffic passing over them. "This little machine," says Dr. Pratt, "will enable any county to maintain its dirt roads in first-class condition at very small expense." Under the circumstances the rapid spread of knowledge and appreciation of the split-log drag is of first importance to the good roads cause. County after county is taking it up, and when its use shall have become uniform the period of fifty years referred to will have been materially reduced.

Again, no one believes that 859 miles is the best North Carolina can do in the way of annual road building. The movement is still comparatively young and much of the hard work of former years has not yet borne fruit. A little later the annual mileage built will increase by leaps and bounds. Counties a little backward now will become converted by the example of more aggressive neighbors. "There is not a single instance of a prosperous county," reports a correspondence of the Statesville Landmark who has traveled the state from ocean to mountains within the past three years, "where there has been no effort toward the betterment of the public highways. In every county where there has been considerable effort put forth in building good roads there is an alertness and a business air that are felt at once by the observant traveler."

Such a spirit is invariably contagious. It will spread with increasing force until approximately every township in North Carolina is alive to the importance of maintaining the best possible highways. There will not be required more than a few years to give the state a substantial system provided each well-informed man does his duty in preaching and practicing the gospel of good roads. Therefore it will be merely a matter of keeping the roads in condition—a task which must by no means be overlooked but which in the nature of the case will be very much less difficult than the one will succeed.—Charlotte Observer.

Too Low in Both States.

North Carolina land is assessed for taxation at an average of $6.30 an acre. From what we know of the state the valuation is ridiculously low. Thus may be accounted for the fact that the annual revenues of the state have shown a deficiency as against necessary expenditures. Nor does so low an assessment furnish an attractive advertisement for agricultural settlers from other sections. We have not the figures at hand to show the conditions in Virginia. But if they are similar, there is need for both the lawmakers and the courts to sit up and take notice.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

Number 14.

Boys Corn Contest in Pitt County--Prizes will be Given

The county committee composed of Messrs. W. H. Ragsdale, A. J. Moye, J. F. Evans, R. L. Little and D. J. Whichard, having general supervision of the "Boys' Corn Club" for the contest in Pitt county this year, met Friday afternoon in the office of Superintendent Ragsdale to look further into the details of the contest.

It was decided to give township prizes, as well as general prizes, to the boys who make the best showing. The leading township prizes will be a trip to Washington City for one boy from each township. We can imagine nothing that should be more stimulus to the boys than this trip to the nation's capital, and certainly nothing that the county can do would be a better advertisement for the county. Prof. Ragsdale will go with the boys and have charge of them on the trip. It will be a great education to the boys who win this trip.

In order for a township to be eligible in this trip to Washington contest, there must be not less than three boys in the township to enter the contest and the winning boy must make not less than 65 bushels of corn on his acre. In all other respects the contest will be governed by the rules laid down by the agricultural department for boys' corn contests.

In addition to the trip to Washington, there will be several other prizes in every township, a prize committee consisting of Messrs. O. L. Joyner, B. M. Lewis, J. B. Jucker, H. G. Mumford and M. T. Spier, to have charge of the classification of the other prizes, fuller particulars of which will be made later. Every boy in the county who is to be in the contest should send in his name to Prof. Ragsdale before April 15th.

The following committees have also been appointed to look after the work in their respective townships: Beaver Dam: G. T. Tyson, Ivey Smith, William McArthur.

Belvoir: R. A. Parker, D. C. Barrow, D. J. Holland.
Bethel: S. M. Jones, J. J. Carson, S. C. Whitehurst.
Carolina: L. R. Whichard, S. A. Congleton, C. G. Little.
Chicod: J. C. Galloway, S. A. Stokes, J. J. Elks.
Contentnea: J. B. Speight, R. W. Smith, J. Mc.Dixon.
Falkland: W. H. Moore, Dr. Jenness Morrill, T. L. Williams.

Farmville: C. R. Townsend, S. M. Pitt.

Smith, Moses Moye.

Greenville: J. G. Moye, M. G. Moye, S. I. Fleming.

Pactolus: J. J. Satterthwaite, R. L. Woolard, R. R. Fleming.

Swift Creek: L. J. Chapman, W. T. Price, J. A. Stokes.

It is the duty of the township committees to interest the boys in their respective townships to enter the contest, and to solicit subscriptions in their township to send the winning boy in their township on the trip to Washington. The expenses of each boy for the entire trip will be about $30. People in the various townships who want to contribute other prizes can let this be known to the township committee who will report it to the prize committee. Already a large list of other prizes that have been offered is in the hands of the prize committee, and the outlook is that Pitt is going to have the most interesting corn growing contest of any county in the state. Remember that last year, with no special effort in that direction, the boys of Pitt county won more state diplomas for corn growing than any other county, nine of these diplomas coming to Pitt.

This year the Farmers' Union of the county has also offered a cash prize of $25 to the boy who raises the most corn. This is a special prize and will not interfere with the same boy who wins that, getting a trip to Washington.

It is proposed also after the crops are gathered next fall to have in Greenville a special day of exhibits of crops, stock, poultry, fruits dairy products, etc., in which all of the county will be asked to take part, and the farmers, both boys and men, should have an eye to getting their best products ready for this exhibit. It is going to be made a big day for Pitt county, and on that day the prizes in the boys' corn growing contest will be awarded.

To get all the work for the boys' contest fully arranged the township committees named above and the prize committee are asked to meet with the county committee in Greenville on Friday, April 14th, at 10:30 a. m. Let everyone of the committees come then and unite in helping to make this a great year in Pitt county farming.

Open-Air Schools.

The old Greek custom of teaching children in the open air and of letting them imbibe sunshine along with knowledge is being revived in the United States. Since January 1, 1907, sixty-five out-of-door schools have been established in this country, according to an announcement made in a recent bulletin issued by the National Association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis.

The original purpose of such schools was the care of children who have weak lungs or who are afflicted with tuberculosis, and in this particular field substantial good has been accomplished. It is not improbable, however, that eventually the open-air school will be employed for many other classes of weakly children, or even for robust children.

Dr. Luther H. Gulick is quoted in the current issue of the Literary Digest as saying:

Two or more years ago, my attention was called to the astonishing and unfortunate condition of the throats and tonsils of school children and the number of children who had adenoids. This led, through a series of investigations, to a general study of the air which we breathe in buildings. This air we all know is somehow or other, is not as good for us, even under the best conditions of ventilation, as the open air. For example, children in open-air schools systematically show greater increases in the number of red corpuscles during the school term than during vacation.

It is thus evident that the open-air school is by no means a fad, or even an experiment; but that it is justified by thorough-going scientific records. Numbers of children have been cured diseases of the throat, many have been saved from tuberculosis, and practically all those taught in the open air have developed a higher degree of mental alertness.

The National Association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis estimates that there should be one open-air school for every twenty-five thousand of the population, particularly in cities.—Atlanta Journal.

DIRECT PRIMA ANECDOTE.

Chicagoan Tells of Tactics Used by Wife and Daughters.

Here is a short political story with a certain real virtue and a moral: Mr. Charles E. Merriam has been receiving lately a very noticeable support from the Republican organization of the 19th ward. As this territory is credited to the Hon. Chris. Mamer, on the county central committee, Mr. Merriam and his counselors could not quite see why its "regulars" should be working their heads off for good government. They knew that the Hon. Chris was a good party man and they expected him to prove true to the ticket. But they knew, too, that he was human and they hardly expected him to run out an aggressive champion for Merriam. The nominee was thoroughly puzzled. Finally he remarked that Miss Mamer, Chris' daughter, was a student in one of his classes out at the University of Chicago. "And a good one she was, too." He wondered if she could have anything to do with the little mystery.

Yesterday Chris appeared in person at the Grand Pacific Hotel—as, by the way, most of the big Republicans in Chicago are doing—and proclaimed his allegiance to Merriam with unmistakable heartiness. His face, however, bore a rather whimsical smile. "You see," he exclaimed, "they got my goat. First, my daughter came out for Merriam, and then my wife. And when a man's wife and daughter are out getting votes for a candidate, he'd better get into line himself if he expects any peace at home at all."

The virtue of this little tale is that it is perfectly true.—Chicago Evening Post.

SKETCHES OF PITT COUNTY.

Opinion By An Observer of History Writing.

Greenville, N. C., March 28, 1911. I have examined Mr. King's "Sketches of Pitt County," and I am pleased to commend the book to the citizens of the county and to the public generally. The author has collected much historical data, a great deal of which is not now in the possession of any other person. He has transformed these data into a well-written and a well-connected story of the history of Pitt county.

So far as I am able to determine, Mr. King has discriminated well between tradition and facts. The book seems to be written with an honest desire to be fair and just, and I think the author has succeeded well in this particular.

I trust the book will have a liberal sale. Pitt county is rich in history, but so far as I know, this is the first attempt to rescue it by putting it in book form.

"Sketches of Pitt County" is well worth the price. I hope the author will be well rewarded for his effort, and that much interest will be aroused from a wide reading of the book. Our people, and Southern people generally, are not as much interested in their rich and glorious history as they should be.

MYSTIC SHRINE.

Will Meet at New Bern, N. C., May Twelfth.

Among the number of organizations officially slated to meet in Eastern North Carolina in the next two months is Oasis Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., which will meet in New Bern N. C., May 12th, for a Ceremonial Session. Don't forget the date. The railroads will give special rates to all Nobles.

This will give all members of Oasis Temple in Eastern Carolina an excellent opportunity to attend the session, and every member should get busy at once and secure as much "fresh meat" as possible for this occasion.

There will be "something doing" every minute, and all who desire to ride the goat, shoot the shute, or refuse to take good advice, will surely be accommodated. Don't tell your wife you are going for she will know you have been somewhere, and so will all who come.

The New Bern Nobles will do things that will make a lasting impression on all present, especially on the candidates, who had better leave their Sunday clothes at home, and be that much ahead of the game. They should at least wear a smile and try to keep it on all night, as it is a lovely thing on nobles.

New Order of Political Campaign in Charlotte.

The new order of campaigning in Charlotte is attracting much attention. Says The Lenoir News: "The political campaign that has been waging in Charlotte for some time, is unique in that the respective candidates for mayor have conducted a publicity fight through the columns of the papers just as advertising matter. Each side has had good space in the papers and they have kept it full of plain and practical statements, defining the positions of the men they are trying to elect and what they stand for. Aside from the issues involved the information given to the tax-payers has been of a very valuable nature. This strikes us as the most sensible way to conduct a campaign and we congratulate the people of Charlotte upon the decency and lack of venom and spite that the campaign thus far has shown." The municipal campaign in Charlotte, this year, is being conducted on business principles and it is proving satisfactory all around.—Charlotte Chronicle.

MEN'S PRAYER LEAGUE.

The Good It is Doing Grows More Apparent.

"What are we living for?" was the subject discussed in the meeting of the Men's Prayer League in the Baptist church Sunday afternoon, and those present gained a higher conception of the duties of life, that our aim should be sympathy, service and helpfulness to others. Messrs. E. L. Daughtridge and A. D. Dupree both led with splendid practical talks. The other leader was absent, but his place was filled with several short talks that were helpful.

The meeting next Sunday afternoon will be held in the Methodist church. Subject, "Using Our Talents." Text, Matt. 25:14-31. Leaders, Messrs. W. M. Pugh, R. E. Overton and E. A. Moye.

FAMILY RE-UNION.

At The Home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Ward.

Written for The Reflector.

On Tuesday, March 26th, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Ward, about six miles from Greenville, was the scene of much happiness and pleasure.

Mrs. Ward had as her guests on this occasion, her entire family. It was a happy sight to see together once more two sisters and two brothers and their families.

About eleven o'clock they had all arrived, where a cordial welcome awaited each one. Then for a while each one related the happenings since last meeting.

Promptly at one o'clock they were all invited to the dining room, where all were assembled, while Mr. Ward in a most beautiful and impressive manner returned thanks for the noon-day meal and especially asked God's blessing on those present and a happy meeting hereafter.

A bounteous dinner was served. Those seated at the table were: Mr. and Mrs. F. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Moore, of Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Moore, of Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Outerbridge, of Greenville; Mrs. Mary E. Daniel, of Roanoke Rapids.

About four o'clock we began to say good bye, hoping to meet again, and expressing the pleasure and happiness to our hostess of this occasion.

STIRRING CALL TO THE PEOPLE.

A Responsibility Laid Upon Citizens and Officers Everywhere.

To the Friends of Temperance and Good Government:—The fact that North Carolina now has written upon her statute books laws, which prohibit the manufacture and sale of liquor, lays the responsibility upon citizens and officers in every community to execute these laws. Let no one believe for one minute that the lawless liquor traffic has a conscience that will lead them voluntarily to obey. The experience of all law-abiding communities teaches us that it is necessary to use the strong arm of the law and compel obedience. The way the average citizen in our country enforces law is by electing officers, who stand for enforcement, and just at this time, I want to emphasize the necessity of citizens using their franchise in the election of the right sort of officers. It is not enough that we have good laws, we must have faithful and efficient officers to make these laws effective, and the making of the officer lies with citizens.

During this spring many towns and cities will be electing their officers, and now is the time for our temperance forces to be at work. See to it that such men are nominated and elected as will guarantee the execution of law. It is the duty of every citizen to give some time and attention to the matter of government, and it shows a lack of patriotism, if not selfishness for men to be so wrapped up in personal or business affairs that they will not give some thought to the selection and election of men, who are to manage their local government.

If the enforcement of the prohibition law in your community is not what it ought to be, see that you use your influence to secure officers, who will make it good and then give an honest effort to be true to their official trust.

Supt. Anti-Saloon League.

Charm in Garden.

Charm is an exquisite quality in a garden, but as rare and elusive as a hermit thrush. It comes of itself when plants are happily placed, feel at home in the garden, and begin to be on terms of friendly intimacy with every one. Mere expenditures are powerless to bring it in. The garden may be a blaze of color and an admirably arranged show case of handsome plants, but it will be as soundless brass or a tinkling cymbal if the love for the plants is not there, while the simplest of garden may have an abiding and incapable charm if the gardener has a real love for it. When our gardens are loved there will be no question about their being charming—Frances Duncan, in Century.

Winterville, N. C., April 5.—The Baraca class of Winterville Baptist church was entertained by an excellent program arranged by the social committee, last Saturday night. Several good speeches were made by the members. After the speeches ice cream and cake were served. All present seemed to enjoy it and showed a new spirit in the Baraca movement.

CATARRH DESTROYED MY APPETITE.

PERUNA rarely fails to restore the appetite. Immediately upon beginning the use of Peruna patients begin to eat and digest. This is the universal testimony, coming from all parts of the civilized world.

Catarrh is a very frequent cause of loss of appetite and disturbed digestion. The beneficial influence of Peruna on catarrh completely restores the appetite in such cases.

To prod the digestive organs with medicines that are merely stimulants is a poor way to remedy such cases.

"I am now cured and cheerful in spirits, all through the agency of Peruna, which has cured me effectually and restored my appetite."

"My only regret is that I did not use Peruna sooner and I would have avoided all my previous suffering and misery."
—Mr. Joseph H. Conlan.

Removed Catarrh, Restored Appetite.

Mr. Joseph H. Conlan, 487 7th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I suffered from catarrh which completely destroyed my appetite and weakened my entire system."

"I am now cured and cheerful in spirits, all through the agency of Peruna, which has cured me effectually and restored my appetite."

"My only regret is that I did not use Peruna sooner and I would have avoided all my previous suffering and misery."

Torpid Liver, Stomach Trouble.
Mr. James O'Byrne, 630 Madison St., Topeka, Kas., conductor Sante Fe Railway and member Order of Railway Conductors, writes:

"I suffered with a torpid liver and stomach trouble, which made my complexion very sallow, and I felt miserable and tired all the time."

"An aunt wrote me that she was taking Peruna with such good results that she advised me to try it, and I finally bought a bottle, although I disliked to take patent medicines."

"However, I found Peruna very agreeable to take, and effective, as I felt better in a week. I took only five bottles in all and I found that was all I needed."

"I am most grateful to you for what your medicine has done for me."

Dysentery Entirely Relieved.
Mr. W. N. Casey, Leamington, Ill., writes:

"In two weeks after beginning your treatment I was well. I used nine bottles of Peruna. My case was bowel trouble or dysentery."

"I also tried Peruna for a cough, according to directions, and it exceeded any cough syrup I ever used."

"I wish every one afflicted would give Peruna a trial."

Pe-ru-na as a Tonic.
Capt. R. B. Smith, Greensboro, Ga., writes:

"After using several bottles of Peruna I can recommend it as one of the best catarrh medicines on the market. As a tonic it has no equal."

"Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Catarrh of Stomach.
Mr. Henry Neely, First Lieutenant, Co. "F," 8th R. Regiment, O. V. I., Box 623, Trenton, Mo., writes: "I suffered for years with catarrh of the stomach. Seeing an advertisement of Peruna, I bought a bottle and every dose made me feel better. Seven bottles completely cured me."

ENTERTAINS

Complimentary to the Senior Class of the High School.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Tyson was the scene of much merriment and fun-making on last Friday evening, when their daughter, Miss Annie Leonard, entertained complimentary to the seniors of the high school.

This elegant home was very artistic in its suggestive decorations. The color scheme, pink and green, was noticeable in the arrangement of the class colors, colored candles, cut flowers and pot plants. Soft lights vied with youth and beauty in lending tone and happiness to the picture.

The hostess was assisted in receiving by Misses Christine Tyson and Amine King. They led the guests to the punch bowl where Miss Pattle Wooten and Mr. Seth Hooker served delightful punch.

Score cards were then given each one present, and a lively game of "Senior" followed. This served as a wit sharpener for the novel April fool contest, in which Miss Mary Lucy Dupree was the fortunate winner. The prize was a bouquet of pink carnations and ferns, tied with the class ribbons.

Just at this time most tempting refreshments, consisting of cream and cake, salted almonds and mints, were served in quite unique manner. Pink cream was formed in miniature green flower pots which bore the class colors, as favors. The mints, which were also pink and green, were contained in either pink or green booklets.

As there yet remained a short time to the credit of young society, it was joyfully spent with music and short games, ere good nights were spoken and sincere appreciations said.

Those assisting the hostess in the courtesies of the evening were her mother and sisters, Mesdames Hall and Hooker. Miss Tyson makes such a charming hostess that the seniors and few special friends present are eager to repeat so happy an occasion.

OLD TESTAMENT TIMES BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDIES

SURROUNDED BY HEAVENLY HOSTS

II Kings 6:8-23—April 9

"He shall give his angels charge over thee to keep thee in all thy ways."—Psalm 91:11.

WAR was declared by Syria against Israel the invaders sought to gain an entrance into Israel's army

In the mountain passes, but God through the Prophet Elisha forewarned the Israelites. When this had happened several times the Syrian king concluded that there were traitors amongst his counsellors, but was angered. Not the Prophet Elisha surely warns Israel's king of anything that you plan secretly.

Learning that the Prophet was lying at Dothan, near the Syrian border, the king sent a detachment of soldiers to capture him. They came by night. Elisha's servant, arising early, saw that the little city was surrounded. He ran to his master in fear, but the latter, unperturbed, answered, Fear not; for they that be with us are more than they that be with them. These words sounded strangely untrue to the servant, until the Prophet prayed for him an opening of eyes, which revealed a vision of angels, chariots and horses, with the appearance of fire.

The lesson to us is that whoever are God's servants, and wherever they may be, Divine power, like a mighty army, surrounds them. Modern inventions and discoveries are more and more revealing to us secrets of nature and hinting at far more beyond. Whoever has knowledge of wireless telegraphy, X-rays, radium, etc., can readily believe that the Almighty God may have thousands of agencies and powers invisible to men whereby he can work all things according as he pleases.

"The Angel of the Lord Encampeth Round About Them That Fear Him and Delivereth Them."

Angels are beings of a grade a little higher than man—beings with spirit bodies instead of flesh bodies. "Thou madest man a little lower than the angels." The Scriptures declare that the angels are sent forth to minister to or serve all those who are heirs of salvation. They encamp around about God's servants in the sense that Divine agency and power are everywhere and ready at any instant to be exercised as much as need be for the accomplishment of God's will. The same God who willed that Elisha should flee before Jezebel arranged that Elisha should be specially protected. But we are to remember that only those who are in covenant relationship with God are under this special watch-care and protection.

We are to remember also that there are fallen angels, called "wicked spirits," and that these are on the alert to entrap and ensnare humanity through spirit mediums, spirit rappings, tipplings, clairvoyants, ouija boards, etc. God's people are warned against these, and they in turn should warn the world of the great danger resulting from any association with these fallen angels, who misrepresent themselves to be our dead friends.

Many are being misled by these evil spirits. They have introduced various false doctrines and continually seek to entrap the human will and, if possible, to gain control over it through obsession. Carlyle is one of the main baits to the hook of spiritism.

Spiritists, including mediums, are being deceived. They think that they converse with the dead. They will indeed acknowledge that there are "wicked spirits," "lying spirits," as the Bible says; but they do not acknowledge that they are all wicked. The fact is that they have only partially realized the depth of Satan's power and deceit.

Comparatively Few Have Yet Learned of God's Love

Only God's consecrated people have yet learned of his love, and they very imperfectly. The tactics of Satan and his demon hosts for centuries has been to blind the whole world and, as much as possible, God's people respecting his true character. By misrepresentations of the Scriptures and some interpolations and some mistranslations they have succeeded to a wonderful degree in putting light for darkness and darkness for light. This is shown in the creeds of all denominations—some in a greater and some in a less degree.

A century or more ago, when the creeds were believed more fully than today, the effect was terribly demoralizing. Good men and women under the delusions of those creeds tortured one another, often to death, with thumb-screws, racks, burning-irons, the stake, etc. Their hearts were not so much worse, perhaps, than ours; but their heads were more deluded. Believing thoroughly in the doctrine of eternal torment, etc., they sought to copy this misconception of the Divine character and dealing.

Her Name Not Taken Off.

Forty-seven years ago, on April 13, 1864, Abraham Lincoln paused in the cares of civil war to pen a personal letter to the Postmaster-General, asking that official to employ Miss Susan Dugger, a belle of Carlinville, Ill. who was the sole support of her brother, a soldier crippled at Shiloh. Miss Dugger got a position and preserved the letter carefully.

Secretary MacVeagh after reading the same letter, the paper of which has turned yellow with age, and the ink dim, ordered that Miss Dugger's name be not dropped from the treasury's list of employees though she has now been ill more than a year. When an employee has been absent without pay that length of time it is customary to strike the name from the rolls. She is now seventy years old.

Miss Dugger was long ago transferred from the post office to the treasury and became an expert in detecting counterfeit money.—N. Y. World.

DIXIE BRIDE IN N. Y. TO "MEET MASSENBURGS"

FOUND IN PENN. R. R. STATION.

Says Her Husband Told Her if They Were Not at "Depot" Anybody Could Direct Her.

Much mystery surrounds the case of a youthful and very pretty bride from Dixie Land who was last night sent to the Almshouse on Blackwell's Island, pending an investigation by the State Board of Charities.

The youthful woman said her name was Laina Massenburg, that she was nineteen years old, a native of Kittrell, N. C., a small village of Vance county, and that she had been married in the town of her birth to the young man whose name she now bears.

The marriage, according to the girl, took place ten days ago. Then on Friday last—it may be noted that the day was not April 1—her husband told her to go to New York, and that if his relatives did not meet her at the "depot" to inquire for them and any one would direct her to their house. He himself was so busy that he could not accompany her, but he wanted her to meet his folks, and he would join her very soon.

Early Sunday morning a demure figure attired in a neat traveling dress and wearing a picture hat alighted from a train in the Pennsylvania Terminal and sat down on a bench to await the arrival of the Messenburgs. None came. The hours went by and the shades of evening fell.

The weary watcher became very hungry and finally found courage to ask a negro porter if he knew where the Massenburgs lived. The darkey showed his white teeth in a broad grin, and explained how big New York is, and how little any one knew of any one else.

The distraught girl broke down. The porter invoked the assistance of Mrs. Hess of the Travelers' Aid Society, who brought the waif to the Municipal Lodging House at No. 438, East Twenty First street. There she told Superintendent Yorke and Mrs. Hess her story.

For some reason of her own the girl would not give but scant information about her husband. She would not say what his occupation is, but admitted that she had known him for "some time." Asked if she had a marriage certificate she said not, but that her husband did.

Superintendent Yorke communicated with the State Board of Charities, and was ordered to send the girl to the almshouse and that she might be kept there pending the investigation which the board has instituted.

Kittrell is a village of only 80 inhabitants. The girl reached town with only $75 in her purse.—New York World.

NORTH CAROLINA ITEMS.

Newsy Happenings Throughout The State.

The annual meeting of the Master Builders Exchange was held in the assembly room of the Selwyn Hotel this morning. The North Carolina branch of this organization has 80 members and among its members are the most prominent contractors and supply men in the state.—Charlotte Chronicle.

While proceeding toward Marshall Sunday night about seven thirty with Nathan and Miller Gunter, two brothers under arrest charged with retailing, Deputy Sheriff C. H. Briggs and Guard Ayers were waylaid by two brothers of the prisoners, Riley and Elisha Gunter, and both of the officers were seriously injured while the prisoners and the two assailants made their escape.—Asheville Citizen.

Raleigh, April 4.—It was learned here tonight that the name of Frank Carter, of Asheville, is being urged before Governor Kitchin for judge of the fifteenth district to succeed the late Judge J. S. Adams. Carter, who is one of the ablest lawyers of Asheville, is now a candidate before the Democratic primaries to be held April 11 for police justice. Other names will undoubtedly be presented. Ex-Judge J. D. Murphy is said to be a receptive candidate.

That the peach crop in North Carolina is not nearly so badly damaged as was at first feared following the recent cold and severe frosts is the information coming in to State Horticulturist W. M. Mutt, at the State Department of Agriculture. He says that letters from the owners of the big commercial orchards around Southern Pines are to the effect that they still have in that section from half to three-quarters of a crop, with the expectation, on this basis, that the quality of the fruit will be exceptionally good, owing to the thinning of the burden for the trees.

Deed for the historic Alexander lands in Hopewell township, near Cornelius, was today recorded, and the colored reformatory for the state is assured. The land was purchased some time ago from Mr. W. D. Book, the deal being consummated by the real estate firm of W. T. Wilkinson & Company. The Reformatory Association, which owes to a large extent its formation to the energetic efforts of Business Manager Watson, agrees to pay $10,260 for the property. There is now $3,000 on hand and this fund will be used in remodeling the present buildings on the land for the accommodation of incorrigibles who are forwarded from various courts. The lands referred to were the property of Dr. J. B. Alexander.—Charlotte News.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

How It Originated, What It Is And Its Application.

The Monroe doctrine, said to be involved in the Mexican situation, takes its name from President James Monroe, who in his message to congress in 1823 first formally stated it. It has been regarded as the corollary of Washington's policy of non-entanglement in European affairs. One implied our keeping out of European affairs; the other Europe keeping out of American affairs.

As originally stated it applied to the boundary dispute in the northwest in which Russia, Great Britain and the United States were interested. Russia assumed to exclude foreigners from disputed territory extending to the fifty-first parallel of latitude. President Monroe said:

"The occasion has been judged proper for asserting a principle in which the rights and interests of the United States are involved, that the American continents, by the free and independent conditions which they have assumed and maintained, are henceforth not to be considered as subject for future colonization by any European powers."

This controversy was settled in 1825 by treaty with Russia. This part of the doctrine was again formulated by President John Quincy Adams in 1826 in proposed instructions to the delegates from the United States to the Panama congress.

The second part of the doctrine, dealing with non-intervention by Europe as the first dealt with non-colonization by Europe, related to the proposed action of the Holy Alliance (Russia, Austria and Prussia), as announced by the congress of Verona in 1822, directed against the system of representative government in Europe and aimed at the reimposition of the Spanish yoke on the South American colonies then in revolt, the independence of which had already been recognized by the United States. This action by the European powers threatened British commercial interests in the Latin-American states and England proposed to the United States a joint declaration against the action of the alliance. Without waiting for a reply from Washington, London notified the French government of its opposition. President Monroe's declaration followed promptly. He said:

"We owe it, therefore, to candor and the amicable relations existing between the United States and these powers to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies and dependencies of any European power we have not interfered nor shall we interfere. But with the governments who have declared their independence and manifested it and whose independence we have on great consideration and just principles acknowledged we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them or in any other manner controlling their destiny than as a manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States."

Before that Jefferson had said: "Our first and fundamental maxim should be never to entangle ourselves in the broils of Europe. Our second, never to suffer Europe to intermeddle in cis-Atlantic affairs."

President Polk in 1845 said: "It should be distinctly announced to the world as our settled policy that no future European colony or domain shall with our consent be planted or established in any part of the North American continent."

The doctrine has never received express legislative sanction, but rests upon the declared policies of administration, voiced by the presidents. The interference of the United States in Mexico, compelling the withdrawal of the French in 1866; President Cleveland's warning to Great Britain in connection with the Venezuelan boundary dispute in 1893 and the practical acknowledgment of the doctrine by the European powers in the Venezuelan blockade in 1903 during Castro's presidency, are illustrations of the actual assertion of the doctrine that the United States opposes any permanent occupation of additional territory on this continent by a European power.—Baltimore Sun.

The Tariff of Canadian Lumber.

The proposed legislation pursuant to the reciprocity agreement with Canada puts rough lumber on the free list. The present law taxes it $1.25 a thousand feet; the Dingley law taxed it $2. On planed lumber, however, the proposed law retains charges ranging from 50 cents a thousand for lumber planed on one side to $1.50 for lumber planed and finished on four sides. All these rates, except possibly the 50 cents for lumber planed on one side, exceed the whole cost of planing. For lumber planed on four sides, the duty may be two or three times the whole cost of planing.

Shingles were taxed 30 cents a thousand by the Dingley act, and were raised to 50 cents by the present law. The proposed law would reduce them to 30 cents, the Dingley rate. Lath paid 25 cents a thousand under the Dingley act; they pay 20 cents at present; the proposed law puts them at 10 cents.

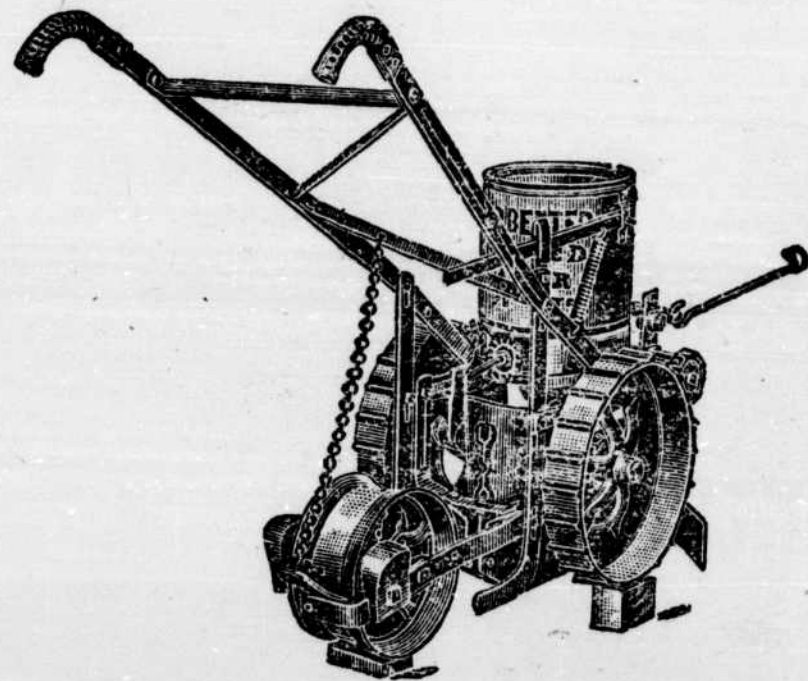

Telegraph poles, pickets, and staves pay 10 per cent. at present. The proposed law puts them on the free list.

While the present law reduced the Dingley rates on sawed lumber, the change in the quality imported was not great. Imports of sawed lumber were 1,008,993,000 feet in 1906, 769,267,000 in 1908, and 950,269,000 in 1910. The latter quantity sawed in the United States—American Review of Reviews.

The Spelling Bee.

Editor Archibald Johnson, of Charity and Children, lately returned from a visit to Scotland county, tells of an organized spelling bee in Laurinburg, in which the best speller was given a cup as a prize. This cup was secured by a small tax on each school, and will be held by the school whose representative wins it until he may lose out in a subsequent contest. Of the spelling bee which Editor Johnson attended he says: "The contest consisted of ten words followed by a spelling match, the winner making the best mark in the two exercises. The former was written, the latter oral, and thus the real merit of the speller was revealed. Fred Bowen was the hero of the day. His age is 14 and he is in the seventh grade of the Snead's Grove school. We give the top of the morning to Fred, and hope he will enjoy the victory he has won. Such a victory means more than forty baseball scores, and in after years Fred will see it plain and clear, and so will his neighbors." Scotland county is going to send out some good spellers to the high schools and universities. The spelling bee, conducted along that line, is a valuable institution.—Charlotte Chronicle.

TELEPHONES IN GERMANY.

Operators Protected by Civil Service Rules.

Usually the German telephone girl gets her job through a civil service examination and hangs on to it for life. Her average age on entering the occupation must be near thirty. As she can stay until she is seventy (but no longer) one sees many operators, says the Telephone Review, whose age it would be ungallant to guess.

Novices go to a training school, but are paid while there, and the drill in practical operation is complicated with a good many technicalities of construction. On entering an exchange an operator is paid about sixty cents a day. An increase of four cents a day each year is made until the eighth or ninth, when she is established and can not be discharged without considerable red tape. When she has worked up to $450 a year, and $450 additional for house rent, she stays at that pay until retired on pension.

On the back of each operator's chair are two bags, a black one to hold head set and service property, and a brown one for her lunch and personal belongings. Operators freely talk back to a hostile subscriber and pleasantly pass the time of day with a friendly one. They apparently talk to one another with little restraint while at the board.

Working hours are about ten a day. Girls work the board from six o'clock in the morning until ten o'clock at night. Night operation is by men, paid double wages, and they repair cords and work about the board as well as answer calls, for the night traffic is very light.

Supervisors are not so numerous as with us, and handle fifteen to twenty-five operators upon lines that do not tend to produce the quick service our public is accustomed to. The cardinal virtue of the German service is its cheapness, and the cardinal defect its leisureliness.

Berlin calls average two and a half cents apiece, and it is possible to talk nearly four hundred miles for twenty-five cents. But the German exchequer, of course, bears the burden of a deficit, on the same plan as Uncle Sam's post office.

One excellent practice universal in Germany Americans might well adopt. Telephone managers here are now trying to bring subscribers to identify themselves when answering the telephone. Every German does it, for instead of saying "Hello," the form of answering is invariably "Hier Karl Schmidt," or "This is Karl Schmidt."

Long distance operators identify themselves by their towns, so that when Frankfurt-on-the-Main is rung up from Berlin, the operator says, "This is Miss Frankfort" or "Hier Fraulien Frankfort." The "Fraulein" is never left off.

While long distance is cheap, it is also crowded through the day, and considerable time is needed to get a message through as a rule. The Berlin operators of long distances speak several languages, as they are working with French, Italian, Russian, Swedish, Dutch and other operators.

The Ober-Inspektor at Berlin gave one amusing fact on this point. While all his operators handling traffic to Paris speak French, learned in the thorough German fashion, only one or two long distance operators at Paris condescend to speak German. Some of the exchanges have comfortable lunchrooms, where coffee is served to the operators and all will

TO PRESERVE HISTORY.

Committee Appointed to Meet April 4th to Perfect Plans.

At the last meeting of the Pitt County Teachers' Association, Miss Sallie Joyner Davis, of the Training School faculty, read an excellent paper on the preservation of historic records. Miss Davis deplored the great loss each year of historical data here and there over the state which cannot be restored, and appealed to the teachers to do what they could to awaken interest in this phase of duty. At the conclusion of the reading of the paper a motion was made and unanimously adopted, that a committee be appointed to begin the collection and preservation of historical information in Pitt county.

It has seemed best to appoint a central committee, and at a meeting of the central committee the entire committee can be appointed.

I wish to appoint the following persons: Miss Sallie Joyner Davis, Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, President R. H. Wright, Miss Eula Cox, and Mrs. F. M. Wooten.

I ask that these persons meet with me in the office of the graded school next Tuesday afternoon, at four o'clock, to appoint the other members of the committee, and to perfect plans for the work we hope to do.

SUMMER TERM AT TRAINING SCHOOL

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED.
SPLENDID FACULTY SECURED

LEADING EDUCATORS OF COUNTRY

Dr. George D. Strayer, of Columbia University, to Give Special Lectures—School Offers Unsurpassed Opportunities in Teacher Training.

Arrangements have about been completed for the summer term of the East Carolina Teachers' Training School. It will begin on the 6th of June and continue for two months. The attendance last year was very large, reaching about three hundred for this one term. More applications are already in for the coming term than had been received up to this time last year. So satisfactory was the work done before that a considerable number of those who took this course will return for the coming term.

President Wright is alert at all times to get the very best for the school. The truth of this statement will be clearly seen in the selection of the faculty for this summer term. Each and every member was selected with a view to special fitness for the work assigned.

The following persons constitute the faculty for the term beginning June 6th:

School Administration and Supervision: Dr. Geo. D. Strayer, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City.

Pedagogy: Prof. Harold Barnes, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City.

Latin: Prof. H. P. Harding, City Schools, Charlotte, N. C.

Mathematics: Miss Estelle Davis, City Schools, Washington, N. C.

Primary Methods: Miss Miriam McFadyen, Clarkton Schools, Clarkton, N. C.

The following are members of the regular faculty of the East Carolina Teachers' Training School and will be in charge of the department indicated:

History: Miss Sallie Joyner Davis.

Science: Prof. H. E. Austin.

Household Economics: Miss Elizabeth Pugh.

Drawing: Miss Kate W. Lewis.

Public School Music: Miss May R. B. Muffy.

School Management: Prof. W. H. Ragsdale.

Bursar: Prof. C. W. Wilson.

Lady Principal: Mrs. Kate R. Beckwith.

President Wright will also be present during the entire term and will have direct personal supervision of the entire school.

Dr. Geo. D. Strayer, who will give the course on school administration and supervision for superintendents and high school principals, comes to the institution from Teachers College, New York. He is a teacher of national reputation and has no superior in this field of work. Besides his work in Teachers College, he has had considerable experience in giving this course in a number of summer terms at our best institutions. Departments of mathematics and primary methods, come to us with the Many North Carolinians who have taken the course under him in Teachers College, will bear testimony to the fact that he is a great teacher with a fine personality.

Prof. Barnes in charge of the course of pedagogy, who comes from the same college, has had a wide experience in the work. He has been a member of the faculty of some of our most noted summer schools, in addition to the great work he has done in Teachers College.

Misses Davis and McFadyen, in the highest recommendations as specially prepared, both by training and practice, for this work. Miss Davis has had successful experience in mathematics in high school work, and Miss McFadyen has done considerable institute work in addition to her regular work in the school room.

The other members of the faculty are all teachers in the regular work of this school, this fact, itself, being the highest testimony of their unqualified and absolute fitness for their respective positions.

The teachers who are planning to take this summer term of this splendid school, are to be congratulated upon the opportunities that are offered them. In our judgment the work that is being done by this school for the teachers who are really and actually engaged in the work of teaching now in the public schools, will tell more in the uplift of the individual schools in the various counties than any other work which is now being undertaken. If North Carolina is to advance educationally in the near future, something must be done in offering opportunities for better preparation to the teachers who now have charge of her schools. This institution is giving these opportunities, and we desire to see a large number of our teachers avail themselves of the privilege of better and more thorough preparation for their work.

Cures Colds, Coughs and Catarrh.

If you, dear reader, could spend an hour looking over a few of the thousands of testimonials that we have on file, you would not go on suffering from catarrh, that disgusting disease that will surely sap your vitality and weaken your entire system if allowed to continue.

You would have just as much faith in HYOMEI as we have, and we have so much confidence in its wonderful curative virtue that it is sold the country over under a positive guarantee to cure catarrh, croup, sore throat, coughs and colds or money back.

No stomach dosing when you breathe HYOMEI. Just pour a few drops of the liquid into the inhaler, and breathe it in.

It is mighty pleasant to use; it opens up those stuffed-up nostrils in two minutes and makes your head feel as clear as a bell in a short time.

Breathe HYOMEI and kill the catarrh germs. It's the only way to cure catarrh. It's the only way to get rid of that constant hawking, snuffing and spitting.

A complete HYOMEI outfit, which includes a bottle of HYOMEI and a hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1. If you already own a Hyomei inhaler you can get an extra bottle of HYOMEI for 50 cents. Sold by Coward & Wooten. 3 17,27 47

YOUNG ETHNA LANGLEY DRAGGED TO DEATH

MULE HE WAS RIDING RUNS AWAY
Boy Dragged Half Mile and Lives But Few Minutes.

A horrible fatal accident occurred this morning at the home of Mr. T. E. Langley, about three miles from town. His son, Ethna, 12 years old, was out in the field plowing a mule. A shower of rain came up when the boy unhitched the mule, got on the animal's back, and started to ride to the house.

The mule became frightened and run away, throwing the boy off his back. In falling off the mule one of Ethna's feet became entangled in the trace chain, and he was dragged behind the running mule for nearly half a mile, the mule not stopping until he reached the gate.

Members of the family saw the mule run up to the gate and found Ethna with his foot still entangled in the trace chain. The boy breathed but a few times, life having been beaten and dragged out of him.

First Ride on Train.

Mr. Eason Jones, who lives near Bethel, came over to Greenville today on the Atlantic Coast Line train. The remarkable thing about this is that it was the first time Mr. Jones ever rode on a train, and he is 56 years old.

ANOTHER WAR GAME.

By Wire to The Reflector.

On Board U. S. S. Mayflower off Virginia Capes, April 3.—The annual battle of the Atlantic fleet off the capes will begin this afternoon when fourteen battleships under command of Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder, will fire their big guns at targets representing war ships of the enemy. Twenty-five vessels of the navy are on the scene of the battle forty miles off Virginia capes. The four divisions of the fleet are spread over a distance of forty or forty-five miles.

TROUBLE IN COAL FIELDS.

And Troops Are Dispatched to Quell Violence.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Lithbridge, Alberta, April 3.—Troops were ordered in readiness today for transportation to the coal fields of Alberta and British Columbia, where more than 800 men are on a strike at ten mines. Heavy detachments of mounted police are already on way. The striking miners are threatening violence.

Ayden, N. C., March 31.—Messrs. David Smith and Thomas Hooker spent Wednesday in town.

Miss Addie Johnson who once ran a millinery store here, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Annie Coward, who has been spending a few days in Greenville, returned Wednesday. Miss Lula Taylor accompanied her.

Misses Vivian Roberson and Louise Satterthwaite spent Tuesday night with Miss Lee Nichols in Ghent.

We never saw so many old chickens on the market. We saw one coop consisting of five roosters and two hens, yet, they sold high.

Mr. O. W. Rollins is off for a few days to recuperate.

Remember our spring opening on April 4th and 5th. A line of the most stylish millinery ever shown in Ayden will be on display.—Mrs. Lillie Forrest.

Mr. J. R. Turnage made a business trip to Vanceboro Friday.

Messrs. J. A. Davis and J. R. Tingle, Messes Gladys and Dawson, all went up to Greenville Friday.

Saturday evening while returning from Ayden in company with another man, Mr. Joe Carter was thrown from his buggy, falling across the wheels, and sustaining such injuries that congestion of the bowels set in, from which he died last Tuesday. Mr. Carter was an industrious farmer.

Prof. E. C. Brooks, of Trinity College, Durham, will address the people of Ayden next Thursday night. He was born and raised near Grifton, in Lenoir county, and our eastern people feel proud of her distinguished son. We may well expect a treat in store for us next Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Our city fathers are having the canal running through town cleaned out, getting ready for spring.

Miss Olive Berry has been on the sick list for the last few days.

Owing to sickness of the teacher, Miss Minnie McClasky, the school in the primary department at the Seminary has been closed for the present.

Just received a car of Thomas phosphate.—E. Turnage Sons Co.

Anything in hardware—J. R. Smith Company.

Mr. H. E. Ormond and son, of Ormondsville, spent Thursday in town.

Ayden, N. C., April 5.—Mr. J. J. Stokes' faithful dray horse violated the speed limit Saturday, by running away, knocking a few posts from the front shelter of Tripp, Hart & Co.

Prof. E. C. Books will speak here Thursday night in the Methodist church. There is a treat in store for all who hear him. His equal is hard to find and his superior as a statesman and educator is yet to show up.

Mr. Joe J. Lawrence tells us he heard a Contentnea farmer and stock raiser say that he had corn that would produce an ear of corn for each blade of fodder. This is prolific some.

Mr. Sam Jones has just returned from a visit to the fertile lands of Virginia, and seemed well pleased with the hospitality accorded him, but said there was nothing to compare with the opportunities that Pitt county afforded in farming lands.

Mr. J. M. C. Nelson returned last week from a prospecting trip to Jacksonville and other points in Florida, and told us that land had recently advanced from 40 to 60 per cent. in the community he visited.

Robt. Dawson, a worthy colored man, is sick with pneumonia and his wife and several children have just recovered from the same malady.

Mrs. F. T. Carr and daughter, of Willow Green, spent Saturday in Ghent, visiting Mrs. C. A. Blount.

Mr. Joe Williams, of Greenville, spent Sunday here.

We have a letter from relatives down in Florida, stating that the storms this winter have badly damaged the young peach and fig orchards. They are now feasting on garden peas, Irish potatoes, beans and other vegetables, also says she enjoys the Ayden column in The Reflector as she once lived in our town, and likes to hear from the home folks.

Mr. J. B. Patrick has moved his part of the stock of merchandise of L. H. Worthington & Co. to the brick store of Henry Stokes on Lee street. Sheheen, the Assyrian, has moved back in the original hive of Assyrians, on West avenue.

Mr. Exum Dail, has been appointed delegate to represent the Odd Fellows lodge here at the Grand Lodge to be held next May in Winston-Salem.

Hardware, a full line, mill supplies, oil, paints, lime and cement, windows and doors, car of nails.—J. R. Smith Company.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Ayden was held today and declared a handsome dividend. This institution is well officered and is a great benefactor to the community, as well as to the stockholders.

Mr. Jesse Cannon has been appointed tax collector for Contentnea township.

Marshall A. Hudson, of Syracuse, New York, will speak in Ayden Friday night, April 7th, at the Methodist church. Mr. Hudson is the founder of the Baraca movement and one of the most successful organizers and leaders of men in his age. Probably no other man has ever initiated a movement of this kind that has accomplished so much in so short a time. The people of Ayden and of Pitt county are indeed fortunate to have an opportunity to hear him. There will be no charge for the lecture and a hearty welcome is given to the public.

The board of education met yesterday and made a deed to the commissioners of the town of Ayden and their successors in office, for the present Ayden graded school property, provided that the bonds are carried at the election on the 11th of April. The Ayden graded school will be conducted entirely by local government. The deed is now in the hands of the Bank of Ayden awaiting the results of the election.

BIRD AND MOUSE WIN CASE.

Predict Good Fortune For Judge And Master Goes Free.

The talk of the average parakeet always has appealed to Magistrate House. For years he has welcomed it as a relief from the arguments of countless lawyerettes who appear before him in squadron formation several times a day. He has been known to stop an absolutely strange parakeet on the street just to hear its views on current topics. They do say that Magistrate House has a speaking acquaintance with more parakeets than any other magistrate. But, of course, this is only hearsay and wouldn't be admitted as evidence in any court.

Welcome, interest, and satisfaction were written in every fold of the magistrate's countenance when Police man Chester A. Peterson brought George Feldman, of 304 Watkins street, with one parakeet and one mouse, into the Jefferson Market court yesterday. Feldman was represented as having fallen so far below the place of human probity as to sell fortunes in the street without a license. Magistrate House couldn't see the prisoner on account of the parakeet, which nestled on his arm, and he asked what the bird had to do with it. It was plain from his tone that no matter what happened to the prisoner the bird would escape.

"How do you tell fortunes with birds?" he asked. Feldman proceeded to exemplify. He spread out a tray filled with little pink and white envelopes, and suggested that the parakeet tell the magistrate's fortune. The bird hopped about the tray and finally picked up with its beak a white envelope and offered it to the magistrate. The court opened it and found a message of hope, career, and optimism, which made him smile like a section of watermelon.

"I knew those birds were all right," he remarked.

Then a small black mouse was produced from Feldman's pocket and asked to verify the bird's prediction. The mouse ran about the tray and picked up a pink envelope, which was handed to Magistrate House. This also contained an optimistic report. "That's enough," said the jurist. "You are discharged. Only get a license so you won't have any more trouble."—New York Herald

Midnight in The Ozarks.

And yet sleepless Hiram Scranton, of Clay City, Ill., coughed and coughed. He was in the mountains on the advice of five doctors, who said he had consumption, but found no help in the climate, and started home, hearing of Dr. King's New Discovery, he began to use it. "I believe it saved my life," he writes, "for it made a new man of me, so that I can now do good work again." For all lung diseases, coughs, colds la grippe, asthma, croup, whoopingcough, hay fever, hemorrhages, hoarseness or quinsy, its the best known remedy. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. JUDGE HARRY W. WHEDBEE AT WAKE SUPERIOR COURT

DISPATCHES BUSINESS RAPIDLY

Would Not Let Lawyers Criticize Jurors For Their Verdict.

Judge Harry W. Whedbee held a criminal term of superior court in Wake county last week, and dispatched business so rapidly that in commenting upon it the Raleigh News and Observer says:

Wake county Superior court made a record for itself this week, and the credit for it goes to Judge H. W. Whedbee, of Greenville, and Solicitor Herbert E. Norris, of Raleigh. This record is that in place of a two-weeks term the business of the court was so expedited that it practically ended last night, and only some motions will be heard this morning, five days being used in place of twelve.

At the close of the session yesterday Judge Whedbee announced that the jury was discharged, and authorized that notice be given to the jurors summoned for the second week that they need not attend, that the March term was over and there would be no court next week. With 101 cases on the docket at the beginning of the court there were 24 during the week a total of 125 cases. That the business of the court has been thus expedited is a matter for congratulation to the officers.

The News and Observer also gives the following sensation that occurred during the last day of the court, after a man had been convicted of running a "blind tiger." It says:

Following the argument in which Col. Harris and Mr. W. C. Harris spoke vigorously for their client and Solicitor Norris made a strong speech for the prosecution, the jury after being out about 30 minutes brought in a verdict of guilty and recommended the mercy of the court.

At this Col. Harris moved that prayer for judgment be continued to the next term and that Mitchell be allowed to go on bond to show at the next term that he had been of good behavior. This was overruled by Judge Whedbee.

Then Col. Harris asked that judgment be suspended on the payment of costs, or at most that a small fine be imposed with costs. This was disallowed by the court.

After this refusal Col. Harris, in strong language expressed his disapproval of the verdict of the jury, that he believed his client to be innocent and that he did not think any one should be convicted on the testimony offered by the state, and especially by such men as Mr. Moore whom he knew to be unworthy of belief.

At this Judge Whedbee stopped Col. Harris and said that he thought the jury was entirely justified by the evidence in rendering its verdict, which was eminently just and right. He stated that in his opinion Mitchell was undoubtedly guilty and that the jury should not be criticized by counsel, but that it should be commended and that he desired to thank it for its verdict.

Col. Harris again expressed his disapproval of the verdict and said that in his opinion it was absolutely unwarranted and that he had a contempt for men on a jury who had not the backbone to stand out for what they believed to be right and consent to a verdict which they believed ought not to be rendered.

Judge Whedbee again told Col.

Harris in emphatic language that he could not permit him to thus criticize a jury which did not have the opportunity of defending itself and that nothing more must be said along that line.

One of the jury at this point said that Col. Harris was taking an advantage of the jury and treating it unjustly.

The court replied: "That is true, but the court will not permit it again. On the other hand, gentlemen of the jury, I commend you for the manly course you have pursued in this matter, and the court desires to thank you in its behalf and on behalf of the public for the verdict you have rendered in this case. The court desires to say further that it affords it greater pleasure to say that you have rendered faithful and honest service as jurors at this term, and that the people of Wake county are indebted to you. In my experience on the bench I have not always seen juries that deserve commendation, but you do and I am very glad to express it." Judge Whedbee then sentenced Mitchell to three months on the roads.

The Clean Newspaper.

The moral, intellectual welfare and progress of the world, is sustained by the eternal vigilance and untiring effort of those who appreciate the responsibility of Christian civilization. The first question for a man going into newspaper work to decide is: "Shall I join the crowd that is tugging up the hill of human endeavor and getting beneficent results, or shall I go the easy way—join those coasting down the hill of life without any plan or having anything definite to accomplish?" A newspaper should have objects, definite aims and definite results for which it should strive, and all its writing and other force should be earnest soldiers in the cause. Public opinion may daily with a passing popular fancy, but in the end, Christian public opinion puts aside the cheap passing sensation, and supports the earnest efforts of men and newspaper that have a purpose. A good newspaper is taken into the fortress of the home and endures. The cheap, sensational paper, must grow cheaper, more sensational and panders more to unclean appetites. Instead of acquiring popularity, as it often seems to be doing for the time, it is gradually acquiring the contempt and disgust of wholesome sentiment. It is the clean-minded clientele which has the money to pay with. The unclean, sensational paper cannot find a clientele except in densely populated cities like New York and other metropolitan centers where great hordes gather—Charlotte Chronicle.

Saved His Mother's Life.

"Four doctors had given me up," writes Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., "and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. I did so, and they have done me a world of good. I will always praise them." Electric Bitters is a priceless blessing to women troubled with fainting and dizzy spells, backache, headache, weakness, debility, constipation or kidney disorders. Use them and gain new health strength and vigor. They're guaranteed to satisfy or money refunded. Only 50 cents at all druggists.

NEWSPAPER PRESS FOR SALE.

Having placed an order for a new fast newspaper and book press, to be installed the middle of April, we have a newspaper press that will be sold at a bargain for delivery May 1st.

It is a Monona Leverless Press, large enough to print four 6-column pages, or two 9-column pages and has steam fixtures so that it can be run either by hand or power. Been in use six years.

It is a splendid press for a weekly paper and is in good condition to do many years good service. We used a press from the same factory for 17 years before installing this one, printing a daily paper with small circulation about 10 years of that time. Its speed, 800 an hour, is too slow for a daily paper with the present circulation of The Reflector, and for that reason we are having to displace it with a faster press.

Any one interested and wanting a good press for a weekly newspaper, can see this press at work every day in the Reflector building, before our new press is installed. Any one who cannot come to see it at work and examine it, can get particulars by addressing

HOISTING ENGINE MOVES ITSELF

And The Job Was Done Very Quickly.

The workmen who are putting up the new court house and jail have been using a hoisting engine to lift the material up to the high walls. So far this engine has been stationed between the two buildings, so that material could be quickly handled to both. The hoisting work on the jail being completed, and the workmen needing the engine at the front of the court house, they set to work to move it. And they did not do a thing but just make that engine move itself. The long hoisting cable was run out and fastened securely, and the engine was set to work. It just wound that cable around the pulley and the engine went skidding along to where the workmen wanted it. It's all in knowing how to do a thing.

POOR PRINT

BARACAS ARE DOING A GREAT AND GOOD WORK

METHODIST CLASS OFFICERS.

The Blues Delightfully Entertain The Reds.

The Methodist Baraca class with a large attendance last Sunday morning, elected the following officers for the ensuing term of six months:

President—H. E. Austin.
Vice-president—D. M. Clark.
Secretary—Adrian Brown.
Assistant Secretary—K. W. Cobb.
Treasurer—A. C. Holloman.
Teacher—Rev. J. H. Shore.
Assistant Teacher—Wiley Brown.
Press Reporter—J. B. James.

Following close on the election of officers, the Blue team on Monday night entertained the Reds at an excellent banquet held in the Sunday school room of the church.

While waiting for the guests to all arrive Mr. A. B. Ellington rendered some very fine selections on his large phonograph, which were greatly enjoyed by every one. This was followed by the meeting coming to order with Mr. G. E. Harris in the chair, presiding as captain of the Blues. Besides some excellent and complimentary, as well as amusing, side talks by Mr. Harris, Mr. J. B. James, ex-president of the class, spoke very appropriately on the "Importance of attending to the little things in life," and gave several apt illustrations that forcibly impressed his point upon the audience. Mr. James has made the class an excellent president, and although we have to release him from these obligations, it makes us glad to know that his good work will still go on.

After some remarks by Mr. Harris that made every one feel good, Mr. Austin, the successor of Mr. James, was called upon for a speech on "Class Organization." To this Mr. Austin responded, in his usual delightful way, creating much amusement by his jokes, and finally closing with a tribute to the high standard of success that had been obtained by the class, and pleading that every one co-operate with him in making its regular attendance still larger, and in doing a greater good than it has ever done. Prof. Austin is just the man the class needs, and by selecting such a man as president the class is doing itself much credit.

Mr. D. M. Clark, the newly elected vice president, was next called on and delivered an earnest, thoughtful address on "The History and Purposes of the Baraca Organization." Mr. Clark's deep interest in the moral, as well as the material interest of the community, is well known and that his speech touched responsive chord in the hearts of his hearers, was shown by the enthusiastic applause it received.

After the speech-making was over, delightful refreshments were served, while Mr. Ellington's phonograph reproduced the voices of a fine quartette, very similar to some of those heard in the choirs of our churches.

The banquet was a great success and afforded the participants much pleasure. The Red team will have to do great things next month to keep up with the pace the Blues have set.

Those skeptics who do not believe the church and its strongest arm—the Baraca—is doing a great work, should come out to some of these

The Origin of Royster Fertilizers.

Mr. Royster believed that success awaited the Manufacturer of Fertilizers who would place quality above other considerations. This was Mr. Royster's idea Twenty-seven years ago and this is his idea to-day; the result has been that it requires Eight Factories to supply the demand for Royster Fertilizers.

EXPERIMENTAL FARMS IN EASTERN CAROLINA

TO SPECIALIZE FORAGE CROPS.

The Norfolk Southern Railroad Establishing Experimental Farms.

Believing that there are many valuable agricultural possibilities in the tidewater section of North Carolina that are not yet properly developed, the Norfolk Southern Railroad has set about demonstrating the foundation facts for such belief. Early last fall that railroad took up with the secretary of the North Carolina board of agriculture the matter of establishing experimental farms in various representative districts in the eastern part of the state. The proposed plan was to make these experimental farms joint operating propositions between the state board of agriculture, the Norfolk Southern Railroad and the enterprising farmers of Eastern North Carolina.

As a result of these negotiations, the Norfolk Southern has already established several experimental farms, which will begin demonstration operations this spring. One of these is located on the farm of J. L. DeCormis, two miles north of Shawboro; another on the farm of S. W. Wilkinson, at Wilkinson station, about seven miles from Belhaven; and another on the farm of Chas. Briggs, one-half mile north of Pinetown and another on the farm of J. A. Miller, about five miles southeast from New Bern and near Thurman station.

They expect to establish still other farms yet this season, and plans are that several more will be added during the second year after these first farms get under way.

The work taken up this first year will mainly be the demonstration of possibilities in growing forage crops, and the experiments will be the testing out of the many different grasses and other rough feed crops. Among these will be tests in the following: Alfalfa, fall sown, and alfalfa spring sown; alsike clover; sapling clover and red clover; mixed grasses and clovers; timothy; soja beans, cow peas; teosinte; pearl millet and German millet. Plots of one-tenth acre each will be sown representing these different forage crops. Besides these, one-half acre will be used in variety tests of cotton, and one-half acre in variety tests of corn.

The working plan for these experimental farms is that the state department of agriculture furnishes the seed and fertilizer for the experiments, the farmer will furnish the labor and the land for conducting same, and as a remuneration for his services he receives the entire crop proceeds.

The Land and Industrial Department of the Norfolk Southern Railroad will have entire supervision of this work, lay out the plots and keep close observation of the different tests. Accurate records of costs and crop yields will also be kept and published in the railroad literature that will be issued from time to time.

One condition that the railroad company exacts is that all these experimental farms must be located facing the railroad, where they can be seen from passing trains, and they must also be located upon public roads that they may serve the purpose of observation by all the people in the local counties.

Valuable information calculations will undoubtedly result from these experimental farms and the Norfolk Southern Railroad company is to be commended for their enterprise in establishing this kind of work in the state. They are surely the leaders in the locating of these experimental farms as a part of the railroad demonstration work and it is expected that other railroads will follow the good example set by the Norfolk Southern.

MACHINE DROPS IN SEA.

French Aviator Comes to Grief Trying New Machine.

By Cable to The Reflector.

Nice France, April 12.—M. Begue, inventor and aviator, came to grief today in a trial flight in his new hydro aeroplane. The machine dropped in the Mediterranean Sea near Marseilles, while Begue was making his flight and was destroyed. The aviator was rescued by a torpedo boat.

TWO MARRIAGES OF SCOTLAND NECK COUPLES

ONE OCCURRED ON THE TRAIN.

"Uncle Tommy" Tells of Things Around His New Home.

Scotland Neck, N. C., April 12.—A few days ago there were two marriages in Halifax county, one of which took place in the Baptist church in Scotland Neck. This was Mr. Charlie Shields to Miss Pauline Tillery, both of Scotland Neck. They were married at 9 o'clock by Rev. Mr. Powers and left on the 9:38 train amid showers of rice and congratulations for the northern cities to spend their honeymoon. I can't do justice in trying to describe the decorations of the church, but suffice it to say that everything was beautiful.

Now, I will tell you of one of the most novel marriages that took place in the same day (or night rather) in the same county, that we ever heard of. Mr. Paul Vaughan and Miss Laura Bell, of Scotland Neck, left on the evening train for Halifax to get married there and before they reached Spring Hill there was a slight wreck of the train and it looked like they would have to stay there all night. Some of the crowd procured a hand car and went to Spring Hill and woke up a justice of the peace, took him to the scene and he married the couple on the train while standing between two seats. When the wreck was repaired they went on their way rejoicing. It is said they went to Richmond to spend their honeymoon.

The cotton seed oil mill and guano factory are doing an extensive business here, which makes it very convenient for the farmers in this section.

I think the humbugs, such as the fortune teller, the monkey and his boss and the unknown tongue people, have disbanded and left.

Mr. Madry's large brick store that is going up on Main street reminds us from a distance of a new court house.

My work is gardening. I have two gardens to cultivate and enjoy the work fine. I was late planting but guess I will have gardens to boast of after a while.

ANOTHER RECIPROCITY BILL.

Introduced in Congress by Representative Underwood.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Washington, April 12.—Representative Underwood, the Democratic leader, as soon as the house met today, introduced a Canadian reciprocity bill which is, with minor exceptions, the same as the McCall bill introduced at the last session. At the same time he introduced a bill placing various articles on the free list. The only change from the McCall bill is a clause asking the president to negotiate with Canada if possible for further concessions.

FOUND THREE CHECKS.

They Are Part of the Lorimer "Slush" Fund.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Springfield, Ill., April 12.—Three checks totalling nearly $50,000 are said to have been found for investigators for the Helm committee and they have been proved to be part of the collections of $100,000 in the Lorimer co-operative fund. While none of the committee would discuss this new phase of case, it was reported that the checks were of vital importance to the inquiry. The committee meets again tomorrow.
