NEWS THAT IS OF INTEREST TO TARHEELS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.

And Briefly Told for The Reflector's Busy Readers.

Statesville.—The whole city was shocked late this afternoon, when the news was received that Claude Laugenour was drowned at Morrison's mill pond, about four miles north of the city. A large crowd immediately went to the scene in automobiles and buggies and on bicycles. It was about 4:30 when the accident happened and the body was not recovered until about 6 o'clock.

Mr. T. R. Rouse, cashier of the Rouse Banking Company, of LaGrange, was last night appointed temporary receiver of the Bank of LaGrange by Judge Whedbee, before whom application was made at Goldsboro. The order is made returnable before Judge Peebles at Kinston June 15 to show cause why the receivership should not be made permanent. The Bank of LaGrange was closed yesterday by the corporation commission because the officers had been running it contrary to law.—Raleigh Times.

As the result of too much liquor and a disagreement with Will Weaver, a negro, Ed Pearce, a white man of the Zebulon section, is dead, and his assailant is in the Wake county jail to await trial in July for murder. The tragedy occurred at Mr. S. Z. Gill's saw mill, three and a half miles northeast of Zebulon, last evening about 4:45 o'clock. Pearce, according to the best information, began cursing the negro, who returned in kind and later struck the white man twice across the head with a pine limb, crushing the skull and causing death.—Raleigh Evening Times.

The State Optical society will meet in Asheville July 19 and 20. The State Optical and Retail Jewelers' association will meet here July 20 and 21. These meetings are held in the same place and in close succession, because of the fact that a majority of the members of the State Optical association are members of the other association. The meetings will be held at the Battery Park hotel. It is thought that about 150 members and delegates will be in attendance.

Tarboro—Judge Ward suffered a severe attack of vertigo last night and was taken to Pittman Sanitarium where he has remained all day. Court has been adjourned. Dr. Julian Baker says he will not be able to hold court this week. The last heard from the judge is that he slept some today and is improving.

The Call of The Nurse.

No calling has more rapidly advanced in public esteem the past few years than that of the trained nurse, and every movement looking to improving the efficiency, and widening the sphere of usefulness of those who adopt nursing as a life work should engage the attention and cordial approval of the public. The meeting next week of the American Society of Superintendents of Training Schools for Nurses in Boston promises to be a noteworthy occasion in the annals of the profession.

The trained nurse should be a nurse by instinct as well as by training. She should have that undefinable something about her that calms, rather than excites, the patient. She must love her work, as the true physician loves his, having an instinct for relieving the suffering.

The white-garbed angels of the hospital wards are doing a noble work. They give an air of gentleness and quiet to the sick room that robs the hospital of much of its dread, and those who have once been under their ministrations are their friends for life. All honor to the noble young women who go forth from their homes to the relief of suffering humanity.—Richmond Virginian.

New Century

No Levers. No Springs.

Always in Balance

Farmers actually want the "New Century" on account of its many distinctive features. Which are briefly: Operators weigh balances gangs. Perfectly balanced pole without even so much as a balance lever. Simplicity unequalled—not a lever, spring, ratchet or other nuisance on it. Light of draft, because it weighs less and has draft closer to shovels. Evenness of cultivation, that is, movement does not affect position of gangs. Six shovels, spring break Works perfectly in widest or narrowest rows cotton, corn, beans, peanuts, tobacco, potatoes, etc.

BANK CASHIER KILLS HIMSELF

L. V. Hart, of Tarboro Bank, Commits Suicide

A SHORTAGE IN HIS ACCOUNTS

Motive For Desperate Act Found To Have Been The Discovery That Cashier's Accounts Had Been Found Short by State Bank Examiner Doughton.

Tarboro, June 14.—A more stunned or shocked community would be hard to find than Tarboro about 2 o'clock this afternoon. Report came down the street that Luther Hart had shot himself.

At one o'clock Mr. Hart was seemingly in his usual good humor, even told a man that he would see him after dinner, to which he was on his way. Soon after reaching home his wife, who was in a room superintending the serving of dinner, when in a room above, heard a pistol shot. A hurried visit up there disclosed her unconscious husband lying prone with a wound through his head. The ball had entered just above the temple and came out just back of the ear on the other side. Physicians were sent for, but they could do nothing.

For years he has been the accommodating cashier of the Bank of Tarboro.

The motive for the suicide became known about four o'clock, just about the time Mr. Hart died.

As Bank Examiner Doughton delved into the books, he began to find entries that needed explanation. Of this he asked Braxton Hussy, the assistant cashier, who, after being plied with questions, broke down and stated that the stealing had been going on for seven years and that he was glad it was all over, that he knew the crash would come and he was glad that the suspense was over.

Solicitor Ailsbrook, apprised of this confession, swore out a warrant for

Mr. Hussey and had him bound over to court.

There are all kinds of speculations about the extent of the shortage. Mr. Hussey says he received $12,500, but no one believes that this will begin to cover the amount of the shortage. Mr. Hussey's bond was fixed at $15,000.

Mr. Hussey not only made a confession, but he also conveyed to the bank every item of property that he had.

Bank Failed to Open.

Tarboro, N. C., June 15.—The Bank of Tarboro failed to open its doors today, following the discrepancies in accounts of Cashier L. V. Hart, who suicided yesterday. The deposits of the bank are $200,000 and the capital $25,000.

HOME BOYS WIN ANOTHER GAME

It Was Almost One-Sided As Visitors Could Not Find Ball.

The Baraca team of Wilson came over Wednesday and played a game here with the Greenville team. It was practically a one-sided game, the visitors not being a match for the home boys at any point.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Greenville . . . . .303 001 000—7 11 3 Wilson . . . . .000 000 001—1 7 3 Batteries: For Greenville, Riddick and Lanier. Wilson: Kincaid, Edwards and Davis.

Struck Out: By Lanier, 5; Kincaid, 2; Edwards, 2.

SHERIFF DUDLEY CLIMBING UP.

He Finds A New Point Of Observation.

Sheriff S. I. Dudley took a climb up in the world this morning. He was seen up on the very highest timbers around the tower on top of the new court house, fully a hundred feet above ground, and with an imaginary field glass was viewing the landscape o'er. Just how far he could see or what was spied was not learned, but that he took in the territory for miles around there is no doubt. Now, ye law breakers, you had better watch your corks, or from this new lookout the sheriff will get his eye on you.

PARCELS POST MEASURE

Sub-Committee of Congress Giving It Consideration

WILL TAKE EXPRESS COMPANIES

And Operate Them By The Government In Connection With Mail Service—Exorbitant Charges of Express Companies For Carrying Small Packages.

Washington, June 15.—The sub-committee on post offices and post-roads met today and took up for consideration the Lewis bill, which provides for condemning and purchasing the express companies and adding them to the Postal system, and establishing a complete system for the quick transport of packages and the eatable products of the farm and truck garden, etc. At their last conference in Washington the representatives of the business men of the country and the farmers' granges asked congress to establish such a system, and representatives of these interests were present at the hearing before the committee today.

"There are two main reasons why the express companies must be added to the postal system," said Mr. Lewis in his argument. "First, the express company service does not reach beyond the railways to the country or the farmers, which the post office does, through the rural free delivery, which is waiting with empty wagons to receive the express packages and take them to the country stores and the farms, and carry back to the towns and the cities the produce of the farms and truck gardens for the people to eat, at living prices. Second, the contracts of the express companies with the railways give them an average transportation of three quarters of a cent a pound; and with this rate the express charges by post would be reduced from two-thirds to one-half on parcels ranging from 5 pounds to 50 pounds, and about 27 per cent. on heavier weights, as a consequence of the co-ordination of the express company plants with the post office and rural delivery, and the elimination of the express company profits, which are averaging over 50 per cent. on the investment.

"The express companies are positive hindrances and obstacles to the business of the country. The average charge for carrying a ton of express in Argentina is $6.51, and for the countries of Europe $4.12, while the average express Co. charge in the United States is $31.20. They charge 5 times as much to carry a ton of express as a ton of freight in other countries. Here the express companies charge 16 times as much. Of course, these charges simply prohibit by half or more of the traffic of the United States. Our average is less than one hundred pounds per capita while that of the other countries is over two hundred per capita, although we have far greater demand for quick transportation on account of our longer distances and more extensive business."

"We cannot have an efficient parcels post. The government cannot conduct it on mail railway transportation rates, at over four cents a pound, in competition with the express companies' paying but three-fourths of a cent a pound, excluding the weight of equipment in both cases which enables the express corporations to pay over fifty per cent. profits to themselves, although rendering no service whatever to the farmers and to points off the railways."

Mr. Lewis has worked out a system of "zones" based on scientific methods, from which a five-pound package, for instance, can be sent 1 mile for 11 cents, while the express companies now charge 25 cents a more for like distances; from Cala Maine, to San Francisco, will cost 30 cents for five pounds, and $2 for 50 pounds, as against the express company charges of 85 cents a $7.50.

With the rural free delivery a parcels post will market the farmer's produce and save them the time and labor of marketing their truck. Rates even lower than those quoted (Continued on Page 16.)

IT IS TRULY A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENT

BY A YOUNG NORTH CAROLINIAN

Pays An Eloquent Tribute To Motherhood.

Editor Reflector: I have heard it said that the most beautiful sentence in the English language was Dr. Johnson's opening sentence in his book, "Boselos" and indeed it is beautiful, but for fine sentiment, true to our best smooth flow of words, beautiful imagery and exquisite beauty, I have read nothing equal to this from Clarence Poe, of North Carolina. Writing of a departed princess of India, Arjman Borna, in whose memory her husband had erected a temple called the Taj, reported to be the most exquisite building upon earth, he says: "Arjman Borna walked the ancient way of motherhood, that way along which woman finds the testing of her soul, the mystic reach and infinite meaning of her existence as man finds his in some bitter conflict that forever frees him from the bonds of selfishness. Seven times she walked the mother's ancient way down to the gates of death and brought back a new life with her, but the eighth time she did not return." Can this sentence be surpassed? Isn't it sublime? To me it signifies that we have in North Carolina a writer and patriot such as we have never had before; one whom we should delight to praise and honor, for he will be remembered when many who now think they are great have been forgotten. Of course many of your readers have read the quotation and admired it, but many more have had no opportunity to read it and many only gave it a careless perusal, and as I was so impressed with its grandeur, sublimity and beauty I wanted others to enjoy reading it.

We do not always appreciate our great men, and often those whom we think great in a few years appear to those whose prospective is more advantageous for right judgment pignies. I may have erroneous opinions of Mr. Poe, but from my point of view he is an exceedingly promising young man, and if properly appreciated by his name and statue will one day be in the Hall of Fame. A. J. MOYE.

POISONED BY MATCHES.

babies Ate a Box Each, But Doctor Got There in Time.

Farmville, June 10.—While the two little two-year-old children of Capt. Edding Smith and Mr. Robert Barrett were playing together, their mother stepped out of the room, and they took a chair, climbed up to a bureau, in which was a gross of matches. They secured the matches, took them a box and sat down to have a feast, when discovered they had devoured the box each and were beginning on the second. Dr. Patrick was hastily summoned and told the trouble, he came prepared to battle with the poison in a few minutes, and the work of rescue began. With purging and vomiting he had their little stomachs emptied though weak, they were soon all right.

THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

PROCEEDINGS OF LAST MEETING.

Amounts of Disbursements And Collections.

At the regular June meeting of the board of county commissioners, all the members were present. The following aggregate sums were ordered paid out of the treasury: For paupers, $230.50; superintendent of health, $53.15; county home, $288.25; coroner, $42; court house, $14,526.55; bridges and ferries, $62.83; conveying prisoners and insane $85.95; court cost, $53.70; jurors, $344.50; jail, $11; capturing distillery, $20; clerk to board, $18.90; clerk court, $15.90; printing and stationery, $19.45; postage, $1.50; salaries, register of deeds, $250; clerk court, $250; sheriff, $333.33; auditor, $50; county stock law, $41.15; county roads, $287.42; Winterville stock law, $6; Delvoir roads, $18.44; Beaver Dam roads, $83.20; Bethel roads, $550.18; Greenville roads, $14.84.

The several officers tendered their reports for the past month which were approved and ordered recorded. The collections were, by register of deeds, $182.25; by clerk court, $444.96; by sheriff, $108.45.

W. A. Forbes was elected superintendent of roads for twelve months at a salary of $80 per month.

Some changes in allowances to paupers were made, and some corrections in tax list ordered.

The board also held a recess with the building committee to examine bids on furnishing the new court house and jail and to make contracts for the same. While this has not yet been completed by the committee and recorded, it is learned that furniture was bought that will be in keeping with the new court house.

ELDER G. D. ROBBERSON DEAD.

Died After An Illness Of Only Two Days.

Elder George D. Roberson, a prominent minister of the Primitive Baptist church, died Saturday night at his home in Robersonville after a brief illness, and was buried Sunday.

Elder Roberson was 67 years of age, and apparently looked the picture of health, being as splendid a specimen of physical manhood as is usually seen. Only a week previous to his death he returned from a month's trip through several northern states where he attended several associations of his denomination, and after getting home spoke of how well he had felt during that trip and how much he had enjoyed it.

Last Thursday he spent the greater part of the day out on his farm. After returning home that evening he was taken with paralysis of the muscles and nerves, and in two days had passed away. His death was indeed a shock, and a great loss to his section and to the denomination he served.

BLOUNT COLEMAN PEARCE.

Resolutions of Respect Adopted by Greenville Lodge A. F. and A. M.

Whereas, it has pleased the Supreme Architect of the Universe to remove from our midst, our late brother, Blount Coleman Pearce.

And, Whereas, the intimate relations long held by our deceased brother with the members of this lodge render it proper that we should place on record our appreciation of his services as a Mason and his merits as a man; therefore, be it resolved:

1. That while we, the members of Greenville Lodge No. 284 A. F. and A. M., bow in humble submission to the will of the Great I Am, we do not the less mourn for our brother, who has been called from labor to rest.

2. That in the death of Blount Coleman Pearce, this lodge loses its last charter member. He was always active and zealous in his work, prompt to advance the interest of the order, although he removed from this jurisdiction to another, Sanford, N. C., in 1898, yet he kept in communication with his old lodge, who was always glad to have him in their midst.

3. That in his death the state loses an esteemed, loyal and patriotic citizen, the family loses an affectionate and loving father and husband.

4. That this lodge tender its heart felt sympathy to the family and relatives of our deceased brother in their sad affliction.

5. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes, a copy be sent to the Oxford Orphan Friend, The Sanford Express, and The Daily Reflector for publication, and a copy be sent to the bereaved family.

J. M. REUSS, R. WILLIAMS, H. B. HARRISS, Committee.

The Iron Master.

"The Iron Master" photo-play at the Amuzu Theatre tonight is one of the best of its kind ever brought to Greenville and you should not miss seeing it. The program will consist of three thousand feet of film with one extra reel.

In the fine drives and views, and where a luncheon will be served. On Friday morning the editors will get an early start for Linville, stop for lunch at Grandfather mountain, getting into Linville in time to see the attractions there and do some fishing in the lake. On Saturday morning the train will be taken at Edgemont in time to make connections at Hickory, Lincolnton and Gastonia.

No meeting of the association that has ever been held offers a more delightful programme than is promised this year, and no editor, no matter how busy he is, should fail to take in the entire trip.

Wednesday Afternoon.

At 2 o'clock the editorial party will leave Lenoir for Blowing Rock, where the night will be spent. On Thursday they will be taken to Boone, where dinner will be served on the campus of the Appalachian Training School. Thursday afternoon the party will be taken back to Blowing Rock, where they will take China Wedding.

Thursday night the home of Rev. and Mrs. M. A. Adams was the scene of a beautiful twentieth anniversary. The home was tastefully decorated with flowers and potted plants, when both old and young gathered to enjoy the evening. Mr. and Miss Adams stood beneath a beautiful arch while a wedding march was played, and the married people followed by the next nearest married until all the party marched in and congratulated them. The party then went to the dining room where refreshments were served.

Quite a nice collection of handsome china was received and reviewed by the party before departing.

day after a visit in Virginia. That Elastikote roofing sold by Harrington, Barber and Company is unexcelled, taking quality and price into consideration.

ABLE LECTURE BY DR. STRAYER

Speaks to Teachers and Citizens at Training School

ADVANTAGES OF SUMMER SCHOOL

"Modern Tendencies in Public Education" Interestingly Discussed By This Able Instructor—Eastern North Carolina Fortunate in Having Him Here—Summer School Doing Splendid Work.

Dr. George D. Strayer, of Columbia University, who is one of the faculty for the summer term at East Carolina Teachers' Training School, instructing a class of school superintendents and principals on school administration, delivered a lecture in the school auditorium on Monday night, to the entire student body and a number of town people who went over to hear him.

The subject of his lecture, which was able and entertaining, was "Modern Tendencies in Public Education." He handled his subject under several headings, the first being the age of the child and its physical education and care.

He pointed out the need of gymnasiums and playgrounds, not alone for recreation but for physical development of the child; and that medical inspection, school nurses and dental clinics are necessities for the preservation of health.

He advocated open air schools, schools for the blind, the deaf and dumb, for the cripple, that these might have equal chance in life with those physically more fortunate.

Dr. Strayer also stressed the moral feature of education; that moral training is essential to character making. Parental schools, juvenile courts and reform schools were all given their place in importance.

Moral training does not reach its height in the school room unless we have moral teachers.

Then he carried his hearers on through the various needs for development of the boys and girls into a useful life; the boys should have clubs for debating, for dramatic diversion, for athletics, and training along mechanical and business lines. The girls should also have clubs for sewing, cooking, social and literary features, and their training in home making, sanitation and nursing should not be neglected.

The sphere of public education should also extend to the adult that they may be qualified for more effective work. They should have lectures, civic clubs, centers of recreation, libraries, associations of parents near their schools, so that the interest of the community may be attracted to and centered in the school.

The conditions for accomplishing these are better and broader education for children, youths and adults. Public education is not local or individual. It should be compulsory. The length of the school term should be increased to from 7 to nine months, in fact, school of some kind should be going on all the year. And the children should be compelled to attend school not less than 7 month in the year. Sentiment should also be awakened to the point of paying teachers sufficient to keep them in the work—the minimum should be a living wage—that is pay them enough during the months they teach to support them all the year. Not only should there be a longer term, but a longer school day, more hours being put in the work.

All through Dr. Strayer's lecture was filled with the best of thought, though this report only touches the outlines here and there. He is an educator of unusual ability, and the people of Eastern North Carolina are more than fortunate in his spending some weeks here in this summer school to impart instruction that will be felt through years to come in our educational work. The time is past when education is nothing but books. It is character building, home making, better equipment for life's duties and service to others, more comfort, more joy, more happiness—building not only for time but for eternity. That is what this institution here in Greenville is doing in the training of teachers.

The summer school is doing splendid work. The dormitories and town are filled with teachers taking advantage of the splendid opportunities offered here, and they are manifesting much interest in the course of instruction. It is not a time of play, but genuine school work for all in attendance.

Now Lay Me Down to Sleep.

The fire upon the hearth is low, And there is stillness everywhere Like troubled spirits, here and there The firelight shadows fluttering, and as the shadows round me creep, A childish treble breaks the bloom And softly, from a farther room Comes, "Now lay me down to sleep."

and, somehow, with that little prayer And that sweet treble in my ears, My thoughts go back to distant years, and linger with a dear one there; and, as I bear the child's amen, My mother's faith comes back to me Crouched at her side I seem to be, and mother holds my hands again.

for an hour in that dear place! O for the peace of that dear time! O for that childish trust sublime! for a glimpse of mother's face! I do not seem to be alone— Sweet magic of that treble tone— and "Now I lay me down to sleep." —Eugene Feld.

BREAKING UP A NUISANCE.

Delegation of Colored Citizens Protest Against Disorderly Houses.

A large delegation from the congregation of colored New Zion Baptist church, headed by the pastor and board of deacons, visited police headquarters the other morning and entered complaint against several negro denizens of the neighborhood of their church in Jacksonville whom they wished prosecuted for running disorderly houses. The delegation of colored citizens, both men and women was thoroughly in earnest concerning the matter and exhibited unusual willingness to testify against the negro women.

Warrants were sworn out for the alleged disturbers of the peace and it is probable that they will be given a hearing in the city court Monday. The negro delegation told of wild carousals at night in the negro settlements and declared that they were unable to worship at their church in peace on account of the terrible disturbance.

This action on the part of the citizens of Greensboro's negro settlements establishes a precedent and if continued its results will be far reaching. Members of the delegation this morning complained of the fact that no such houses are allowed to be conducted in this city by white women, but if they would properly consider the fault lies wholly with the better class of negroes.

Heretofore great difficulty has been experienced in successfully prosecuting even the worst negro criminals because they either have the other members of their race in a certain fear of them, or for some other reason testimony which may be relied upon is hard to obtain. If the negroes who really desire law and order will help to see that it is observed the negro settlements will soon be cleared which infest them and they will be

NEW YORK'S SAFE FOURTH. Parade of Nations Is One Of The Features Of Program.

Mayor Gaynor's "safe and sane Fourth of July" committee is arranging for local celebrations in every one of the five boroughs, and, where necessary, at several centers in each of them. Isaac V. Seligman, treasurer of the committee, believes that plenty of funds will be forthcoming as soon as the citizens realize what is being planned.

In Manhattan there will be exercises in the morning in front of the city hall, at which Mayor Gaynor expects to preside. It is hoped that the principal speakers will be Gov. Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, and the new Secretary of War, Henry L. Stimson. As at all the celebrations organized by the committee, the Declaration of Independence will be read.

The National Guard will not parade this year, but Dr. George F. Knuz, chairman of the committee, has organized instead a novel parade. A procession of the nations" is to be held all around the City Hall Park. Every nationality in Manhattan is to be represented by an entire family, the head of which will carry the colors of the country in which he was born. It has been suggested that the general committee offer a prize for the largest family in line. England, Scotland, Ireland, Italy, France, the German empire, Austria-Hungary, Russia, Norway, Sweden and the Balkan States are among the countries to be represented, and the procession will pass before the mayor and the invited guests before the regular proceedings begin.— New York Times.

THE REMODELED CITY BY THE SEA

THE RESORT MADE BEAUTIFUL. The New Virginia Beach In All Its Glory And Attractiveness.

Norfolk, Va., June 13.—With the completion of the vast improvements as planned and already under construction by the Norfolk Southern railroad, former patrons of Virginia Beach will not recognize the place.

While in the past this resort has always had an interest and characteristics all its own, yet the new Virginia Beach will be so far in advance of its former self as to practically have its existence in a new resort world.

Thousands of dollars are being spent this year by the Norfolk Southern Railroad for permanent buildings and wonderful improvements at the beach. Thousands of additional dollars are planned for and being spent by the citizens and residents of the beach to create additional improvements and advantages for this city by the sea.

The mammoth new casino that is already under construction at Virginia Beach will cost the Norfolk Southern over $50,000 in its erection alone. This casino will establish a new standard for summer resort amusement parks. It is over 600 feet in length and 125 feet in width, containing a spacious pavilion, a mammoth and modern equipped cafe and grill room, convention hall, a large airy ball room, and commodious and well equipped bath houses. The ball room is 110 feet in length by 75 feet in width, enclosed in glass and surrounded by a spacious veranda. The casino building throughout is unique in style and attractiveness. Of the bungalow type, with its spacious verandas, connecting open hall ways and surrounded beautiful walks and parked areas, it will indeed be a place beautiful.

But the casino is not the only great accommodation feature at Virginia Beach. There are numerous summer hotels and cottages which vie with each other in appointment, neatness and attractiveness. The rates at the several hotels and cottages are sufficiently low-priced to satisfy every one, when the excellent service is taken into consideration, the wonder is how these rates can be so reasonable.

Virginia Beach is truly the "Newport of the South." At the same time is noted for its cosmopolitan ways. The rapid increase of interest in this resort and the wonderful increase in its population are the causes which has lead to the planned expenditures already under way in the way of increased buildings, added conveniences and magnificent improvements that will this year add to the attractiveness of the place.

The Norfolk Southern Railroad has prepared a neat folder which fully describes the advantages, scenery and accommodations at this popular resort. This folder also gives a list of the hotels and cottages, and rates for accommodations of all kinds. These folders may be obtained from any of the Norfolk Southern agents and representatives, or can be secured by writing the general passenger agent, W. W. Croxton, Norfolk, Virginia.

THE SKIMMED MILK QUESTION AGAIN

MR. HEARNE DEFENDS DR. WILEY Explain This To The "Skimmed Milk" Baby.

Editor Reflector: Not a great many of your readers may recall an article credited to the New York Times as it appeared in The Daily Reflector of May 27. Fewer still, perhaps, retained an impression from it sufficiently definite to fully appreciate a communication in your issue of June 9th. If the reader should take a humorous view of Mr. Harris' contentions, he should not miss a re-reading of The Time's article. Mr. Harris betrays no effort in this direction, however, his intentions, apparently, being altogether instructive, and as serious as possible. For this reason his letter should bear a second reading and a comparison with the article to which it refers.

Letter of Mr. Harris:

New York, June 9, 1911.

Editor Reflector: Greenville, N. C. I was interested in reading in your May 27th issue an article with the caption "Skimmed milk crusade," in which you quote Doctor Wiley as follows: "Dr. Wiley says he is convinced that the lives of almost an unlimited number of infants are endangered every day by the use of such milk."

Dr. Wiley has evidently changed mind since he published the second edition—revised and enlarged—of "Foods and their adulterations." He says in said book on page 176 "skimmed milk," "the residue which is left from the removal of cream is known as skimmed milk. Skimmed milk contains the principal part of the nitrogenous constituents of milk, the greater quantity of its sugar and a very large quantity of its mineral matter. It is a very valuable food product, lacking only the element of fat. Naturally the composition of skimmed milk would be that of milk corrected for the abstraction of fat. It contains some little fat when prepared by the gravity method and only a very small portion when separated mechanically. The abstraction of the fat increases the relative proportion of sugar and casein."

On page 181 he states "Buttermilk." It does not differ greatly in its chemical properties from skimmed milk, although there is a slight difference in the relative percentages of the milk solids in cream as compared with the same constituents in whole milk."

On page 499 he states "Infants foods." If sweet milk does not meet the requirements, sour milk or buttermilk properly modified may be used."

It is evident from the above quotations that skimmed milk is a nutritious substance, and that it is also necessary to modify cow's milk prior to feeding it to an infant.

Yours truly,

H. L. HARRIS.

The Times Article:

"A crusade against manufacturers of condensed skimmed milk who misrepresent their product, has been started by the Department of Agriculture.

"Dr. Wiley has recommended that certain manufacturers be prosecuted

GRIMMERSBURG OFFERS CHALLENGE

FOR EXHIBIT AT COUNTY FAIR. Let Us Hear From The Neighborhood That Will Take Them Up.

Editor Reflector: I hope the committee on premiums of the Pitt County Fair Association will give a blue ribbon at least to the neighborhood that makes the most creditable all round exhibit. The State fair offers premiums to county and farm exhibits. We might, it appears to me, limit ours to neighborhoods and individual farms.

Grimmesburg (I don't mean Grimesland, as your printer made me say in a former article) challenges any other neighborhood in the county to compete with her. We want the space immediately to the left of the main entrance to the warehouse and would like for our competitor to be upon the right.

We will have in this display tobacco, cotton, corn, peanuts, soja beans, oats, wheat, rye, (?) potatoes white and sweet, collards and pop corn, hogs, cows, fat cattle, sheep, home-raised horses. Let us hear through the paper from the neighborhood which is willing to compete. By the way, I forgot to mention the exhibit in which we take most pride—boys and girls, young men and young women, to the manor born and brought up, of course. We have ten farms all upon one road extending about two miles in our burg.

A. J. MOYE.

for violation of the pure food law and it is probable that proceedings against them will be started within the next few days. "As a result of an investigation of the condensed milk situation, which has been in progress, at the Bureau of Chemistry for some time, Dr. Wiley says he is convinced that the lives of an almost unlimited number of infants are endangered every day by the use of such milk.

"This department is doing everything it can to stop the sale of condensed skimmed milk," said Dr. Wiley. "Its effect throughout the country on infant mortality can only be estimated, but I do know that it endangers the life of every child to whom it is given."—New York Times.

Does it appear that Dr. Wiley has "changed his mind," or that Mr. H. L. Harris, conscious that "the hand is quicker than the eye," slyly substituted "skimmed milk" for that other article which has interested the Bureau of Chemistry?"

After a careful reading of the above letter, isn't it delicious to find that the article with which it belabors poor Dr. Wiley doesn't say a solitary word about "skimmed milk"?

The Daily Reflector of May 26th said editorily:

"It is now up to the skimmed milk condensers to get acquainted with Dr. Wiley and the Agricultural Department." Did The Reflector have in mind the method adopted by Mr. Harris—a study of "Foods And Their Adulterations?"

W. A. B. HEARNE.

THE HOME BOYS WIN AND HER GAME

SCORE, GRENVILLE, 7; AURORA, 0.

Another Snappy Game With Some Good Features.

In the second game between Greenville and Aurora, played in the park here Thursday afternoon, the home boys again came out winners in a score of 7 to 0. Aurora has a good team, and do as fine field work as any can show, but they are weak at the bat, and their being shut out was due mainly to inability to find the balls off Greenville's pitchers.

The features of Thursday's game were the home run of Jordan, bringing in two men, the home run by Lutterloh and the superb fielding of Litchfield for Aurora. With one foot on the fence he caught with one hand a fly that would have been a park ball, as pretty a catch as was ever seen on any diamond.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Greenville . . . 311 000 011—7 6 2
Aurora . . . . . 000 000 000—0 2 4

Batteries: Greenville, Ragsdale and Riddick; Aurora, Holiday and Thompson.

Struckout by Ragsdale 4, base on balls 3; struckout by Holiday 4, base on balls 2.

SEES END OF TROLLEY CARS.

Tells National Electrical Association of His Latest Invention.

Thomas A. Edison was the guest of honor yesterday, the third day of the convention of the National Electrical Light Association. Mr. Edison bowed his thanks and Mr. Samuel Isull read a set speech for him. Afterward the inventor said he was ready with the inventions of which he had spoken before—the storage battery that will run a car or wagon and the motion picture machine with the words spoken as the action proceeds.

"The storage battery for a wagon," said he, "is operating on a butcher's wagon in Orange. It costs 25 cents to run it 17 miles. You recharge it at the end of every trip with an ordinary feed wire. The battery is fitted under the seat.

"The surface car is being operated at Concord, N. C., and they are laughing at the rest of the United States for using trolley cars. It runs very cheaply."

Of the moving picture and talking machine combination, the inventor said he and his associates were nearly ready to place it upon the market.

"We have a theatre in the Bronx with a stage bigger than the Metropolitan opera house. We have about 60 actors going through new dramas. They talk into a megaphone. We have about forty dramas. All that is to be done is to get the business end straightened out and they will be in the moving picture shows.

"We've not applied it to the Shakespeare dramas yet, but it will get there. It will be good for every kind of drama. We've had tests of it and it's all right."

When asked if the trolley car was going to be "put out of business," he said: "Certainly. After awhile there won't be any more trolleys."

Edison said that his was the first electric light convention he had ever attended, although he invented the electric light in 1874.—New York American.

Buying Patent Rights.

We advise our readers not to buy patent rights. There is some humbuggery connected with ninety-nine of every hundred of them and in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the buyer either cannot or will not work profitably the hundredth right. So there is hardly a possibility of success with them. We have known hundreds who bought patent rights, but do not know a single case where money was made. If there is such big money in them it looks like some purchaser would succeed with his right. We are glad to note that people do not buy patent rights so readily as they did years ago. We have known people to buy farm rights and some have even mortgaged their lands to buy state rights. What is a patent right? It is just a privilege to sell some new thing. Sometimes it is a patent fence, or a churn or a quilter or a knitting machine or a combination tool. All kinds of patent rights have been sold. There is no telling what kind of thing some fellow will come around with. We are not writing against agents. They have put many valuable articles in the homes of the people. If you want and are sure it is all right, then buy it but do not buy the privilege of selling something. We once heard of a man who sold a farm near a town for the privilege of selling tombstones in a certain county, when in fact as an American citizen he was born with the right to sell tombstones in that county. When you invest your money be sure you are getting something for it. Most men who buy patent rights soon discover that they have paid out good money for a fortune which will never come. Have you bought a patent right? Then you have been humbugged and the best thing to do is to go along at your regular work and think and say as little about it as possible. If you have been humbugged do not try to humbug others. Just remember that you have met a man, too shrewd for you—one, who has fleeced you.—Smithfield Herald.

Root, of The Guards.

Reporting the Canadian trade agreement with the Root amendment, the senate finance committee is true to a long record of distinguished plutocratic service. That committee is the very citadel of the interests. In its rooms tariffs written by the trusts are O. K.'d, jokers intended to nullify wise legislation are contrived, and amendments deadly to reform are drawn and forwarded.

Without the sinister backing of a group as carefully chosen as this, Elihu Root's adroit amendment would have little notice. It is clearly enough the paper trusts' amendment, but the hopes of all the trusts hang upon it, for if accepted by the senate it opens a way to kill reciprocity and block progress. The senate may eliminate it, but that will take time, and time is valuable to trusts as well as to men who fight for life.

Owing to circumstances not pleasant to recall, the fatal amendment is presented by Mr. Root and affects the paper trade, whereas if there had been no scandal in Illinois it might easily have appeared in the immaculate hand of Mr. Lorimer and related only to lumber. We cannot congratulate Mr. Root upon the company that he keeps, but here are some compensations in the fact that if reciprocity is to be assassinated the man put forward to do the job cannot be said to owe his election senator to bribery by the trust that will profit by it. Even if the amendment had merit its purpose is to prevent and not to perfect an agreement. Its adoption may mean the failure of the movement. The disposition of the lumber and paper trusts on our northern boundary will then be re-established. Every other trust in the land will be confirmed in its exortions. That will be a trust victory, indeed, for if this reform comes to naught it will be the people and their president, and not a political party merely, that will be discredited and humiliated.—New York World.

Many Horses Get Too Much Hay.

Experience and observation have convinced the writer that we feed very much more hay to our driving and hard-working horses than is best for them, and these observations are supported, theoretically, by the small stomach of the horse, the fact that he must work hard while digesting his feed and the experimental evidence that he does not digest coarse feeds so well when at hard or fast work. On the other hand, it must not be inferred that the horse does not need a certain amount of hay or roughage. There is a general rule that the horse should have from 1 to 1 1/2 pounds of roughage to every 100 pounds of weight, daily. For work, there may be no objection to his receiving the larger amount—1 1/2 pounds daily for every 100 pounds of his weight—if hays are cheaper than concentrates, but for the hard-working horse, the smaller amount—1 pound daily for every 100 pounds of his weight—is better. We are not able to quote definite experimental evidence to support our experience and observation, but we feel pretty safe in stating that this smaller amount of the roughage and giving all of it at the night feed, give better results than the roughage the horses will eat, or able to eat, during the time they are in the stable, morning, noon and night. With the driving or saddle-horse, especially, we feel morally certain this is true. We would, therefore, advise against the feeding of hay in the morning or at noon, and only a moderate amount at night—not over 10 pounds to a horse weighing 1,000 pounds.—Tait Butler, in Progressive Farmer.

PRAYING FOR RAIN.

Who opposes praying for rain? Bishop Doane, of Albany, urged his clergy and people to pray God to "send a joyful rain upon his inheritance and refresh it, since it is dry, to the great comfort of his unworthy servants, and to the glory of his name." And the next day it poured.—Raleigh News and Observer.

This reminds us of something that happened in Pitt county some years ago. It was in the midst of a severe drought, and at several churches the people assembled to pray for rain. In one neighborhood there were two churches not very far apart—Primitive Baptist and Methodist. The Primitives gathered one day in their meeting house and prayed for rain. It did not rain that day, and they quite naturally accepted it as so fore-ordained. A day or two following this the Methodists met in their church to pray for rain. Before they got back home there was rain sure enough, a regular downpour that filled ditches and washed away the bridges.

The Saturday following the Primitive preacher came to town, as he usually did on Saturdays when he had no preaching appointment. Bunches of folks gathered here and there discussing the big rain and the condition of crops. A friend who did not mind joking him said to the preacher, "Brother, the Methodists seemed to beat you on praying for rain." "Yes," he answered, "but just look what a rain they got. They always overdo everything they go at."

Another thing this calls attention to is that there is now in Greenville a tent, on the lot on Fifth street between Cotanch and the Training School campus, in which what are called Holiness preachers have been holding services every night for the last few weeks. It has been a subject of comment on the streets during the last few days that in these services the preacher prayed that it might not rain on any tobacco field before the 15th of June, by which time, without rain, he expected all the tobacco plants would die. The 15th of June is nearly here, and there has not been any rain of consequence yet.

"open Sunday." Greenville does not need the "open Sunday," and those who do not want to see the Sabbath desecrated with the carrying on of such business, should be equally active as are the advocates of the measure.

LADIES SHOULD BE RESPECTED.

What has become of the manliness of the men? The man who is a gentleman in all that term implies will not be unmindful of the feelings of ladies, nor will he do anything that will cause them embarrassment. One thing going on in Greenville that is occasioning much complaint, and should be stopped at once, is the congregating of men at Five Points, especially on Sundays, to watch the ladies of the Training School as they pass going to and from church. It is really like the ladies were having to run the gauntlet of inspection, and not a few of them have stayed away from church on Sundays and remained in the dormitories at the school rather than face such embarrassment. The men thus congregating and watching the ladies pass may be more due to thoughtlessness than the intention of being disrespectful. The ladies are entitled to every respect and courtesy, and these should be accorded them, but it is neither respectful nor courteous to congregate on the street to watch them when they pass. The real gentleman stands ready at all times to both respect and protect an unprotected lady, and the ladies at the Training School being without the protection for the time being of their fathers and brothers, makes it more incumbent upon the men of Greenville to accord this. We believe this mention of the matter will be sufficient to remove the cause for complaint.

Every time in recent years that there has been a change in the board of aldermen of Greenville, there have been renewed efforts to get repealed the ordinance relative to business on the Sabbath and permit places selling cold drinks, cigars, etc., to have "open Sundays." In view of the beginning of a new fiscal year on the first of July, when several new aldermen will be on the board, those wanting the change have already begun an active campaign for the

Mrs. Carrie Nation, who made much reputation as a "saloon smasher" and had quite an eventful career died Friday night in Lavenworth, Kans. She was as well known as any woman in the country, though her repu-utation was not the kind that most women would envy.

Talk about a mixed up affair, or one that is likely to get mixed in the long run, a double marriage that took place in Austin, Texas, Sunday, is it. The brides were twin sisters, of Texas, and so much alike that their most intimate friends cannot tell them apart, while the bride grooms are twin brothers, of Missouri, and as much alike as two peas. At the marriage the brothers were dressed exactly alike, as were the sisters, and the only way the latter could be distinguished was by carrying different colored bouquets. As the brothers had only known the sisters about a year, if the two couples live near together they may get so mixed up as to be unable to tell "tother from which."

A Boston school marm who has followed the profession of teaching for forty-nine years, and in all those years never landed a man, (it may be that she did not want one) in delivering an address to young women school teachers said that flirting "will do much to rest a tired mind after the arduous duties of the school room." Yes, and it sometimes brings about a state of affairs in which there is no rest at all.

You do not have to look far to see that great changes have taken place in Greenville and in Pitt county in the last few years. While progress has been made morally, socially, educationally and commercially, agricultural has kept even pace with it, and farms and country homes have shown wonderful improvements. And all this is but the beginning of an era of progress which the next few years will show. Just keep your eye on Pitt county.

Those towns that want to swing around to "open" Sundays and let certain lines of business be done on the Sabbath as on other days, ought to take a day off and memorize the Fourth Commandment. Some business men want to do business on Sunday, but "what doth it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" The sight of a dollar makes some people forget that God yet rules the universe.

That awful tragedy in Tarboro, Wednesday, shows that men in positions of trust where the handling of money belonging to other people is involved, cannot filch this money and apply it to their own use without their misdoings being discovered sooner or later. When men do such deeds they not only waste their own lives, oftimes leading to self-destruction as with one of the parties in this case, but they also bring misery and suffering upon others. Oh, that men would think of these things and not permit themselves to be led into acts of dishonesty.

Even if the drought is a long one, keep cheerful. Rain is coming after a while, and crops will be better than many anticipate. Nobody hereabouts is going to starve for the lack of something to eat. Let the farmers keep the grass out of their crops, and the business men hustle for more business, and the fall will find you all getting along as well as ever. Don't waste the time grumbling, but keep busy.

Mayor Gaynor, of New York, paid a handsome tribute to the Southerners who attended the Cotton Seed Crushers' convention in that city. In delivering the address of welcome to the delegates, he took occasion to say:

"We have 100,000 votes of Southern people, who now live here. Let me tell you they are the best votes we have. They have brought with them the pure political sentiment of the South. They vote right every time in local affairs to put the rascals out."

The Henderson Gold Leaf is responsible for the following: "Have you ever observed how little talent and standing it takes to be a first class 'knocker?' You will find that in about nine cases out of every ten the fellow who has accomplished little for himself and done less for the community in which he lives is the one who wants to 'knock' everybody and every thing. When you find that you are just bound to give vent to your pent up feeling by doing some 'knocking' get you some sort of an implement and go to the field and knock clods."

The poor man holds in his power that which is most important not only to himself but to the rich man for he helps himself and makes his more fortunate neighbor richer without increasing the burden on either when he votes for good roads. How is this? It is an old tale; we have told it over and over—it is by the increase in values caused by good roads. The bonds voted in every community for good roads have never cost a cent, the increase in valuation have more than paid them.—Ashboro Courier.

There is one man essential to the welfare of this or any other town. The average every day citizen who lives within his means, cares little for social functions or society shining, who pays his debts, is the man after all who is helping most to build up this and every other town. He is not only the kind of man who is making this town but he is the man who will keep it going. This fellow about whom we are talking is the salt of the earth. Sometimes he is a store keeper, a shop hand or day laborer, sometimes he is a professional man. No matter what his station in life; he is always on the job and can be depended on.—Asheboro Courier.

A Turtle 400 Years Old.

Four hundred years ago, according to estimates, Indians, with their crude fishing devices, might have tried to catch a large turtle that appeared at times in the Chesapeake Bay, but it eluded generation after generation of red men, white sailors and oyster fishers until a few days ago, when it was finally captured and sent to a fish merchant in Homestead. It will make soup for 100 persons or more. The turtle, weighting 317 pounds and measuring nearly five feet in diameter across its shell was captured in the Choptank river, near Choptank Md., and created a sensation in that town. According to the owner, there are 17,000 barnacles on its shell.—Pittsburg Post.

Noah Attacked.

The Wilmington Star invades the realm of forgotten years to shower forth anathemas upon the head of north anathemas upon the head of north not killing the two flies he carried with him into the ark. There are, as the lawyers, say, ex-enuating circumstances" which should weigh with the jury in the case. In the first place Noah was 600 years old when he took charge of the Ark, a fact in itself which should excuse him from the ignoble task of slaying insects. Besides, with such a cosmopolitan jumble of fowls, fishes and beasts on hand it is but natural that the very multiplicity of detail work should make but natural the slight oversight complained of, Noah, did his duty as commanded, and he was ordered to preserve rather than destroy. If the present generation is equally well there would not be a fly left to tell the story in a fortnight. It is useless to attempt to burden down the shades of the departed responsibility for sins of omission of the present generation.—Charlotte News.

The Model School.

We have been attracted by an article contributed to The Carolina Union Farmer, by Mr. W. T. Swanson, describing a model school which he has discovered at George, on the Tar river, in Northhampton county. It is called a high school and Miss Hannah Starr is the principal. But it is of the work of Miss Margaret Brown, an assistant, that Mr. Swanson chiefly talks. Miss Brown, he says, knows what the world wants, viz: people who can do things and do not mind doing them. He tells us that she has laid off the back ground of the school plot into thirty-six gardens, about 8 by 16 feet, and numbered them. She has left a narrow walk between the gardens for the pupils to stand and work. A narrow walk is laid between the tiers of the gardens for a passage. Each of the thirty-six children is assigned to a garden corresponding to his or her member on the plat book. Each pupil is left to choose such plants as desired, but the teacher carefully inspects all seeds brought. The little gardeners are shown how to fertilize the gardens with barn manure. The ground was previously plowed as deep as circumstances would permit. The manure was thoroughly mixed with the soils, then dug and hoed, till the surface was as fine and smooth as a salad bed. Each pupil was required to do his or her own work. When the seeds were presented she told the gardeners how far apart to plant the seed and how deep to cover them. She is not a boss, but a mild cheerful, sweet director.

Then there is David H. Brown, a graduate from the West Town Agricultural School of Pennsylvania, who has charge of the Ear Row Contest among the large boys. His field lies still to the rear of the garden department. The rows are laid off about as usual. The plat is heavily manured and well plowed and harrowed. Each boy has his own row. All of these rows are fertilized with the fertilizer ingredients just alike. Each boy chooses his own variety of seed corn, and the plat is to be cultivated just the same all over. The same number of stalks are to be left in each row. Strict account is to be kept of everything, and the boy who gets the most pounds of shelled corn takes the prize, and of course, his corn to be considered the best variety. It seems to us that through Mr. Swanson, The Carolina Union Farmer has discovered the model school.—Charlotte Chronicle.

People Who Leave The South Make A Mistake.

Johnson City, Tenn., June 10.—W. D. Roberts, secretary of the "Back Home" Association, this city, asks all Southern people to send a copy of their local newspaper to him and also to J. A. T. Bacon, Manager, Southern States Information Bureau, 5403 Keystone Avenue, Seattle, Washington, especially when it contains matter relating to agricultural improvement and development in the South, marking such items. Mr. Roberts wishes to reprint them in the "Back Home" Magazine, and Mr. Bacon will give them out to people who want to know about the South.

Ralph A. Parlier, formerly of Le noir, N. C., writes from Everett, Washington, as follows:
"Taxes are extremely high here, and if I get in shape to buy a farm, it will be in the South. I think Mr. Bacon, of Seattle, is exactly right about people making a mistake coming here from the South. As he says, the 'land sharks' first sell you land at from $100 to $500 an acre, and then it costs from $150 to $300 an acre to put it in shape. This country is suited for raising only a few things, such as potatoes, turnips, berries and garden truck. Wheat raised here is not used for flour, but for stock feed. The potatoes we have here are not as good as those raised in the South. People who buy land should buy in the South where everything that grows can be raised."

The Fly Season.

At about the same period of the year when it becomes necessary to begin talking about sane Fourth of July celebrations, the house fly also comes up as unfinished business. The scientific has proved the dangerous qualities of the fly and has also pointed the way to exterminate it most effectively. To screen the doors and windows is good as far as it goes, and to kill the flies that succeed in running the blockades and getting into the house is also good; but the best way is to out-Herod Herod by killing the firstborn flies before they are born. Each individual fly travels only a short distance from the place of his birth, and the places that serve as hatching grounds are few and easily determined. Flies are hatched in piles of refuse and decaying organic matter, animal or vegetable—in fact, almost any place that is nasty and offensive to the senses of people of clean habits. If you keep your premises free from such material, there will be no flies in your immediate neighborhood, and you may be escaping typhoid fever and summer complaints and other ills that are in the list of the alleged harmless little fly.—Omaha World-Herald.

WILD INDIANS IN CALIFORNIA.

Remnant of a Tribe Has Kept Itself Hidden for Forty Years.

The discovery of the remnant of a tribe of Indians hiding in a wild and unsettled portion of Tehama county by scientists from the University of California has held to the keenest interest among anthropologists, and an effort is being made to have the government of the United States take charge of the remaining members.

Prof. A. L. Kroeber of the department of anthropology of the University of California, writes:

"That there should be a tribe of entirely wild Indians at this date in so thickly settled a state as California seems absolutely incredible.

When the first rumor of the untamed aborigines in Tehama county reached the University of California, it was known at once who the Indians must be if they existed at all, for the so-called Komo or Mill Creek tribe of this region had long been regarded as one of the smallest and at the same time most unique tribes in California. But as this band was last seen in 1870, the possibility of their having been able to keep themselves entirely hidden for forty years was remote.

"An expedition headed by T. T. Waterman, an instructor in the department of anthropology was out a month and whole after the most strenuous kind of work and most vigilant care they were unable to meet any of the Indians in person they brought back evidence which indisputably proves their existence.

"The tract which they inhabit is only a few miles square and an easy day's journey from Vina on the Shasta route of the Southern Pacific railroad. It is without question the roughest and most impenetrable stretch of country in California. The Indians know every inch of this territory. As soon as one of their trails becomes worn they abandon it for less visible paths. The trails go under brush instead of through it, so that the Indians do most of their traveling on hands and knees. This prevents the stock which occasionally strays into the region from following the trails and beating them out.

"If limbs have to be removed the Indians cut them with old saws or knives that they have stolen from neighboring ranchers, so as to avoid the sound of chopping with an ax, which might lead to their being located.

"As the country which they inhabit is absolutely useless even to cattle it is practically never entered. The few ranchers that cross the country prefer to travel around the tract instead of through it.—San Francisco Chronicle.

THE "OPEN SUNDAY" WILL BE DISCUSSED AT THE MEN'S PRAYER LEAGUE.

The Aldermen Especially Invited to be Present Next Sunday.

The Men's Prayer League has now for about seven months been holding meetings each Sunday afternoon, and the good it has done the men who attend, and through them the community, has been very apparent. Subjects are announced a week in advance and three leaders appointed to open the discussion on it, others present having the privilege to speak as they desire. Those who have attended the meetings have been impressed with the subjects and character of these discussions, as they have been of such trend as to inspire and uplift men to a higher life, making them better Christians and better citizens.

Quite naturally the members of the league are interested in matters that affect the moral well being of the community, and as just now the town is threatened with what is called the "open Sunday" the effort being made to get the aldermen to permit places selling cold drinks, cigars, etc., to keep open on Sundays and carry on their business then as on other days. So the subject selected for discussion at the league meeting next Sunday is, "Is the Open Sunday in Keeping With God's Law?" The text is Exodus 20:8-11, with the following references also given for reading on the subject: Exodus 31:13-15 and 35:2, Ezekiel 20:12 and 44:24, Matthew 5:17, John 13:17 and James 4:17.

The leaders appointed for this discussion are Prof. H. E. Austin, Dr. J. W. Bryan and Mayor F. M. Wooten, and many others are expected to take part in it. The meeting will be held in the Christian church at 4:30 o'clock p. m., and all men of the town are invited to be present, with special invitations to the aldermen of both the present and incoming boards, the ministers, Baraca classes, Sunday school officers and official members of the churches. It is intended that the meeting shall show the sentiment of Greenville on this question.

There was a very good meeting of the league the past Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian church when the subject was "The Treasure House." The leaders, Messrs. W. J. Brown, B. S. Warren and B. W. Moseley, gave splendid talks, as did also some others who followed them. Be sure that you read up on the text and references for next Sunday, and attend the meeting in the Christian church.

Let Them Talk.

Some folks are kicking because Woodrow Wilson is going around the country making speeches. Gracious! If the man would sit down and keep a still tongue we'd never know what's in him. The country wants to know right now what all the presidential timber stands for, and, if the gentleman can afford to talk, it's for the people to listen and size them up by what he says. That's the way we found out a whole lot of things on Col. Bryan, Col. Roosevelt, Judge Taft and Captain Hobson.—Wilmington Star.

LAW OF COTTON DRAFTS.

Suits Will be Brought Against Bank for Recovery of Million Dollars.

Pending litigation upon the recovery of money lost as a result of fraudulent cotton bills of lading is being watched with much interest by the Federal Judge Noyes overruling the demurrer in the case of Anthony S. Hanny against the Guaranty Tr. Company has alarmed some of foreign exchange men; while the firmance by the appellate division the lower court's decision in Spr & Co.'s suit against the Hanover National Bank, holding the bank liable, has had the effect of making bankers feel that there is little chance of their being compelled to make good the losses sustained by theceptors of the drafts accompanied the spurious bills of lading. As matter of fact, the banks do know exactly where they stand, and in the event that Judge Noye's ruling is sustained by the higher tribunals it is expected that they will be obliged "to make good" drafts aggregating several millions of dollars. Both the Springs suit and the Hanny suit were test cases, the former having been brought in the Federal court and the latter in the State court. Inasmuch as the decision of the appellate division in the Spr suit was unanimous, an appeal can not be taken unless permission is granted. Should it be refused, the decision rendered last Friday will stand as the law of New York State. The draft in this case was a "draft" and it made no reference to the bills of lading; and the court held that "when Springs & Co. accepted it, they became obligated pay according to the acceptance New York Journal of Commerce.

Why Dread Typhoid?

Secretary Stimson has set a good example to the army by having himself vaccinated against typhoid. All the officers and men of the present maneuver camps have been vaccinated, with the result that not a man has taken typhoid—the dreaded disease of camps—remains entirely absent. It is sad to think how many thousands of sick American soldiers and how many hundreds of deaths could have been saved if this new preventive had been available at the time of the Spanish war. A considerable proportion of the army is now vaccinated against typhoid, and the Surgeon general has recommended vaccination be made compulsory.

What is good for the soldi health is good for the civilian's well. Typhoid vaccine prepared reliable firms under government supervision is now on the market. The three injections at about ten intervals cause very slight discomfort, some people experiencing only a local soreness or stiffness. There is no sore, no bandage or anything of the kind beyond, in most cases, a green or two of fever for twenty-four hours and the naturally discomfiting but not incapacitating effects. Immunity, which is not absolute, very high—all but absolute against typhoid, and we hope to see many others here and hereabout. They will have their doctors vaccinate them without delay.—Charlotte Observer.

to the phone, and thus two people are stopped from their business to do what one could have done in half the time. This may seem insignificant to some people, but it means a great deal to people who are busy. Be considerate of the other fellow when you use a phone, and have in mind to put the person called to as little inconvenience as possible, just as you would like for others to do when you are the one called.

COMMISSIONER YOUNG'S REPORT.
Great Sums Saved to State by Salary System.
State Insurance Commissioner J. R. Young is now preparing his report and in it he treats of the matter of revenue. In his report it is shown that since the department was formed in 1899 there has been collected and paid into the state treasury a total of $2,237,256.25.
But the point in his report that is more striking than this, is that it is shown that great sums have been saved to the state by the salary system, which would otherwise have gone to individuals by the fee system. In the report the astonishing statement is made that since 1899, under the fee system, there would have been paid out $171,875.94 for the supervising of insurance companies, or an average of $14,322.86 each year. Commissioner Young in his report says this amount before the salary system supplanted the fee system, would have gone into the office of the secretary of the state and that it would have paid in more than the total cost of the department, including all salaries and other expenses. The revenue section of the report shows to what a large amount the supervising of insurance companies in North Carolina has grown. In 1899-1900 the receipts were $91,973.49. In 1910-1911 they had been multiplied 300 per cent, showing a total of $275,300.08. And without the fee system there would each year have gone great sums for transacting the business. The amount collected for the year prior to the organization of the department (1899) was $84,879.28. It is also worthy of note, as of interest in showing one of the advantages of the department, that there has been collected and paid into the state treasury of the amount that would have under the old law gone to the secretary of state as his fees or compensation for supervising insurance companies the sum of $171,875.94. This shows an average of $14,322.86 annually and more than the total cost of the department, including all salaries and other expenses.—Stateville Landmark.

NEW DORMITORY FOR SCHOOL.

Excursionists Return—Former Citizens Referred to The Scriptures.

Ayden, N. C., June 13.—The Odd Fellows officers for the ensuing term are:

- G. F. Cooper, N. G.
- Dr. W. H. Dixon, V. G.
- E. A. Garris, Sec.
- H. G. Burton, Fin. Sec.
- J. R. Smith, Treas.

Forest fires are burning in the community of Elm Grove church.

A protracted meeting is now in progress at the Methodist church. Rev. Mr. Hocutt, of Hookerton, is assisting Mr. Caraway. We hope much good may result from this meeting.

Messrs. W. B. Alexander, Leon McGlohorn, J. A. Harrington, Richard Wingate and Jesse Hart have all returned from Florida. They report a pleasant, hot and dusty trip, also that ham sandwiches were 15 cents, shaves 15 cents, coca-colas 10 cents per glass. Mr. Wingate was taken sick and did not go any further than Jacksonville. They stopped over at Savannah and saw Jake Killrain and John L. Sullivan fight three rounds according to rules.

There must be a prophet at Morehead, Mr. W. F. Hart writes that he went out fishing and landed 27 trout weighing 3 pounds each. At the same time his lantern fell over board. He reported this to a fellow fisherman and the next day his friend was trawling along and thinking he was making a fine haul, and upon investigation found it to be the lost lantern. Read the 6th chapter of 2nd Kings, 1st to 7th verse.

The saw mill machinery, lumber, log carts, etc., of Mr. W. J. Braxton, were burned Saturday evening and was a total loss. This makes the second time this mill plant has been burned recently.

The trustees of the Baptist Seminary have let the contract to Mr. J. A. Griffin to build a dormitory, which will be up to date and contain about 20 rooms. They also contemplate overhauling the present school building, making it much larger and more convenient.

We claim that North Carolina troops were the first at Bethel, furthest at Gettysburg and the last to lay down their arms at Appomattox. This, no doubt, is true. We have received a letter from Sergeant Merzy, showing the people of Ayden and Pitt county what metal Robert Lester Jones is made of. This letter will speak for itself. This is the same young man who distinguished himself a few months ago, by saving a town from a destructive fire. This young officer is the son of Mr. Monk Jones, who once lived near Harrington's Cross Roads.

The game of ball with Bethel Friday was a farce, Ayden winning by the score of 12 to 0. The feature of the game was the home run of Dewey, for Ayden.

Mrs. Pennie Garris, mother of Mr. A. B. Garris, fell a few days ago and sustained injuries from which she died yesterday. She was buried today at Garris' Memorial church. Rev. E. T. Phillips conducted the obsequies. She was a Miss Kittrell, and married Mr. Sylvester Garris.

Mr. R. H. Garris, of Ayden, has purchased a four passenger Overland touring car.

Messrs. J. R. Turnage and A. E. Garris returned about noon today with a handsome touring car for Mr. R. H. Garris, which is the first one bought in our neighborhood.

Ode To A Street Sprinkler.

Sprinkle, sprinkle, little cart,
How I wonder where thou art,
When the dust is high and dry,
Never can I find you nigh.
When the clouded sun is set,
And the streets with rain are wet,
Then you wing your little flight;
Sprinkle, sprinkle, left and right.

RIVER STAGE AND RAIN.

Figures Showing The Condition of Both Here.

Mr. R. M. Hearne, who is the government observer of the river and rain fall for this point, has furnished The Reflector some interesting figures.

On Monday, 12, the water in Tar river stood at 2.9, the lowest level reached this year.

The rainfall on the 12th was .22. Between June 1st and 12th the fall had been .21, making a total of only .43 (.7 less than half an inch) for the twelve days. During the month of May it was 1.50.

The government thermometer on Monday registered 98 in the shade on the north side of the house, the highest record so far this year.

NOW IN FULL BAST AT WRIGHTSVILLE LARGE ARRIVAL OF GUESTS.

Neat Compliment To A North Carolina Girl.

Wrightsville Beach, June 12.—With the arrival of some 150 guests who have made reservations at the Seashore Hotel, as well as a number of others who came to spend week-end at the beach, the realization that the summer season is upon us has been brought to our minds, and as of yore, the surf is dotted with bathers, while the Banks Channel is once more alive with pretty little sail boats, launches, etc., the whole scene being one of pleasure and society.

The past week has been marked by many fishing and sailing parties, notable among these being a fishing party given by Judge R. B. Peebles, at which time several gentlemen partook of his hospitality to enjoy a few hours on the briny deep, indulging in the fine sport of deep sea fishing. Among the guests was Mr. W. C. Carrington, of Spartanburg, who for several seasons past has been one of the most ardent sportsmen, and one who each year visits the Seashore Hotel, from time to time during the season. The party went out in the "Virgie May" and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all present.

One of the most pleasing features of the music at the Seashore Hotel last evening was the rendition of "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie," which catchy little song came out some years ago, when it was dedicated to Miss Pearl Fort, of Pikeville, and which was most beautifully rendered by Miss Tully, one of the members of the orchestra at the Seashore. Miss Tully sang this song in compliment to Col. W. B. Fort, of Pikeville, who is well and favorably known throughout this state, and who is a most welcome guest at the Seashore Hotel. Miss Fort is the attractive daughter of Col. Fort, and the little compliment was greatly appreciated by him, while the splendid music furnished by the orchestra was much enjoyed by all who were present.

A large crowd of Wilmingtonians, as well as practically all of the guests on the beach attended the beautiful week-end dance at Lumina on Saturday evening, when Kneitssal's splendid orchestra furnished most exquisite dance music, and all things tended to make this one of the most delightful dances of the early summer season.

Wrightsville Beach, June 14.—One of the most delightful dances in the history of Lumina took place on Monday evening, when the Tidewater Power Co. entertained in honor of the little folks, they being given the exclusive use of the ball room, until nine o'clock, when the grand march was formed, and attractive souvenirs were presented to the children, these being little sail boats, full rigged, and it is unnecessary to say that the children were greatly pleased.

Another delightful dance took place at Lumina on Tuesday evening, when the grown folks were also given a souvenir dance by the Tidewater Co. at which time many guests from the city, as well as the visitors and residents of the beach availed themselves of the opportunity to spend a delightful evening at this splendid resort.

One of the most successful and at the same time one of the most enjoyable fishing parties of the season was given on Monday, when a party of gentlemen, guests of the Seashore Hotel, went out in the sharpie "Virgie May" to the Five Mile Rocks, where several hours were spent in deep sea fishing. Those in the party were as follows: Mr. E. Reeves, of New York; Mr. W. C. Carrington, of Spartanburg, S. C.; Mr. M. F. Ritcher, of Concord, and several others. Between 150 and 200 members of the finny tribe were landed, and the fishermen are enthusiastic over the success of their trip.

Residents of the beach are glad to learn that a large number of Georgians will visit here on June 28th, when an excursion will be run from Atlanta, in two sections, one solid section of sleepers and one of coaches. The trip will be for a ten-day visit to Wrightsville, and it is estimated that there will be between 1200 and 1500 Georgians who will take advantage of this splendid opportunity to visit Wrightsville Beach.

Mr. S. S. Lanier, of Birmingham, Ala., entertained about 20 guests in the private dining room of the Seashore Hotel, at a very delightful dinner, a few days ago, given complimentary to the representatives of the various coal companies registered at this popular hostelry. These gentlemen are here trying to secure the contracts for coal for the A. C. R. Railroad Company. The dinner was greatly enjoyed by all present, and is but one of the many pleasant social functions which will be given at Wrightsville Beach, from time to time, throughout the season.

GALLOWAY'S X ROADS

The Happenings Down in Chicod Township.

Galloway's X Roads, June 15.—Rev. Mr. Caraway filled his regular appointment at Salem Sunday afternoon. The farmers say their crops are suffering much for the need of rain, especially tobacco.

Mr. J. C. Galloway made a trip over to Hookerton Friday. He also attended the meeting of the Farmers' Union Saturday at Farmville.

Mr. Charlie Elks, one of our old home boys, who has been at work in South Carolina, returned last week. We are glad to have him with us again.

Mr. M. C. Tyson is all smiles—it's a boy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hudson and daughter, Miss Maggie, attended church at Red Banks Sunday.

Mr. G. S. Porter went to Greenville Monday.

Mr. H. H. Porter was all smiles today. He was driving his new buggy.

Mr. G. S. Porter says his screen doors are proving to be right much benefit to his soda fountain.

Messrs. Mason Edwards and Harvie Cannon say they like to work in a store as long as they have the pleasure of waiting on so many pretty girls.

PE-RU-NA USED FOR KIDNEY CATARRH.

Gen. A. F. Hawley, of Washington, D. C., writes: "I have used Peruna and find it very beneficial for kidney trouble, and especially good for coughs, colds and catarrhal troubles."

Gen. A. F. Hawley.

William Bailey.

Kidney Trouble for Nearly Thirty Years.

William Bailey, Past Col. Enc. No. 69, Union Veteran Legion, and prominently identified with many of the great labor protective associations in Chicago and New York, and secretary of one of the largest associations in the former city, had for nearly thirty years been afflicted with kidney troubles.

Within a short period he has been persuaded to try Peruna, and his present healthy condition is attributed to his judicious use of that great remedy. Washington climate is notoriously bad for kidney and liver troubles, yet by a judicious use of the remedy he is now quite cured and in excellent physical condition.

This brief statement of facts, without exaggeration or hyperbole, appears to tell the whole story, which the Peruna Company is authorized to use, if it so chooses, believing, as I do, that by so doing it will be for the general good.

William Bailey, 58 I St., N. E., Washington, D. C.

Kidneys Affected—Back Weak.

Mr. M. Broderick, Secretary and Treasurer Local Union No. 406, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, writes from 435 E. 46th St., Chicago, Ill., as follows:

"I have been suffering from a weak back and kidney trouble for some time, and have been able to find relief only through the use of Peruna.

"During the winter season I usually keep a bottle of your medicine in the house, and by taking a dose at night I am feeling fine the next morning.

"Some of my friends assure me that Peruna is equally as good for their various ailments as it is for my complaint; but I do know that for kidney trouble and suffering from a weak back it has no equal."

Cold Settled in Kidneys.

Mr. Joseph Klee, 215 East 4th St., Topeka, Kas., writes:

"My wife took Peruna for liver trouble and a run-down condition incident to the same. A few bottles built up her health and strength.

"I took Peruna for a cold which settled in my kidneys, giving me much pain. In two weeks I was much better, and in a few months I was well."

For Liver and Kidneys.

Mr. W. H. Armistead, Cumberland, C. H., Va., writes:

"Your Peruna has cured me of chronic catarrh of long standing. I thank you so much for your advice. I think it is a great medicine. It will do all that you recommend it to do. Besides, I can recommend it to cure all liver and kidney troubles."

Chronic Kidney Trouble.

Judge C. J. Park, R. F. D. 1, Buckhead, Ga., writes:

"For a long time I was troubled with catarrh of the kidneys, and after taking Peruna I feel like a new man. I think it the greatest catarrh medicine of the age, and believe it will cure any case of catarrh on record."

STOKESTOWN ITEMS.

Crops, News Items and Personal Notes.

Stokestown, N. C., June 13.—Mr. L. B. Stokes went to Ayden Friday morning.

It is "dry some" down this way. Tobacco is small and a poor stand. Some cotton is nice, while some is not up sufficient to chop.

Mr. John D. Stokes, who has been quite sick, is able to be out again. Mr. and Mrs. Heber Stokes spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives down in Craven.

Mr. Hassan Sheaban, of Ayden, spent Thursday night here.

We boast of having as good public roads as any section in the county. But they certainly need sprinkling occasionally in this dry weather.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Stokes went to Grimesland Saturday to visit relatives and returned Sunday.

Mr. Jack Mels and family from near Simpson, spent Saturday night and Sunday at Mr. D. C. Stokes'.

We had a large crowd at Sunday school Sunday afternoon.

INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

United Society Christian Endeavor, July 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 1911.

On account of the above occasion, the Atlantic Coast Line will sell round trip tickets on July 3, 4, and 5, from Greenville to Atlantic City at $16.75, with return limit July 19, but tickets may be extended to August 15, by depositing with joint agent and payment of $1.

For further particulars, schedules, reservations, etc., apply to W. H. Ward, ticket agent, Greenville, N. C., or address T. C. White, general passenger agent; W. J. Craig, Passenger traffic manager, Wilmington, N. C.

Try An Advertisement.

If the merchants would do more advertising, they would find business better, even if it is the dull time of year. When people do not have much to spend they are on the lookout to invest it to the best advantage, and the advertiser who holds out the best inducements to them will get this trade.

THOUSANDS COMING BACK TO SOUTHERN STATES

"BACK HOME" MOVEMENT

Inquiries From Scattered Southerners Wanting to Return.

Atlanta, S. C., June 10.—Papers all over the South are carrying letters from Southern people in the West and Northwest, which thousands who are coming back to the South. The secretary of the "Back Home" Association, W. D. Roberts, Johnson City, Tenn., has been for several months gathering the addresses of people who have gone west. He says inquiries for farm lands and for rates are coming at the rate of fifty a day, most of them from former Southern people. Many of them, he says, requests that information be given to their friends in various sections of the West. Thousands of individuals and boards of trade in the South are working in this "Back Home" movement. Every mail to the West carries hundreds of letters and pieces of literature which set forth the advantages of this country and a direct personal appeal to its natives to come back to their own home states. Even the women are at work; mothers are writing to their children and sisters to their brothers, all telling of the great development of the South.

On the first of July the "Back Home" Association will begin publishing an organ for circulation among the million of Southerners in other states. It will be called the "Back Home" Magazine. An announcement of it sent to the West has brought a great many requests for copies.

A GREAT PHYSICIAN.

What He Said of Germs That Cause Disease.

M. Pasteur, sometimes called the Greatest Physician often said "I believe that we shall one day rid the world of all diseases that is caused by germs."

Of all the diseases caused by germs catarrh is one of the most persistent and loathsome. Catarrh can be cured, but only by destroying the germs.

Breathe HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mei) and cure catarrh by killing the germs. The HYOMEI method is the only sensible method, because you breathe the highly antiseptic and germ killing air directly over the entire membrane infested with catarrh germs.

HYOMEI will cure catarrh. There may be some complicated cases where it will fail, but the chances are ten to one in its favor, and the sufferer from catarrh takes no risk, because HYOMEI is a guaranteed remedy, and it doesn't cure White's Drug Store will refund the purchase price.

HYOMEI will also give instant relief and cure in bronchitis, coughs, colds and croup. A complete outfit, including hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs only $1. If you now own a Hyomei inhaler you can get a bottle of HYOMEI for 50 cents.

Abstract of a Report on The Present Sanitary Condition of Thirty-Two American Cities Prepared by Hiram J. Messenger, F. A. S., Actuary of the Travelers Insurance Company, Hartford, Conn.

New York, June 9.—That at least thirty per cent. of the population in various cities of this country equipped with good water supply systems maintain well water that is subject to contamination, was stated in a report of a special investigation of the sanitary condition of thirty-two American cities, submitted to the Association of Life Insurance Presidents to-day by Hiram J. Messenger, actuary, Hartford, Conn. In cities with systems the population living in houses unconnected with sewers ran at about forty per cent.

Cities investigated are with one or two exceptions in the South and Middle West, and are as follows: Newburg, Roanoke, Knoxville, Chattanooga, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Bloomington, Springfield, St. Louis, Memphis, Little Rock, Vicksburg, New Orleans, Mobile, Montgomery, Birmingham, Atlanta, Macon, Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Sanannah, Charleston, Augusta, Columbia, Charlotte, Danville, Richmond, New York and Hartford.

In addition to water supply and sewerage systems, the principal points investigated covered disposal of garbage, inspection of milk, meats and fishable provisions; board of health finances for maintaining sanitary conditions; laboratory equipment and work of the department of bacteriology; climatic conditions; location of and natural character of surrounding country; character of city government; character of people, in special reference as to whether not they appreciate the importance of maintaining proper health conditions and whether or not there is a general public sentiment that can be brought to bear upon the city government in regard to such questions.

The evidence found practically everywhere (particularly through the Southern States) showed that there has been a most wonderful improvement in the general sanitary conditions during the last ten or twenty years, as a rule, are spending as much money in improvements affecting the general health of the city as the North.

It was found that as a rule most cities visited had a fairly good supply of city water. The important question in regard to the city water supply is not so much the character of the water furnished by the city systems, but the extent to which the inhabitants use the city water and the extent to which they use of some other source of water.

In regard to the disposal of garbage in most cities were unsatisfactory. The most sanitary way of disposing of garbage is probably to burn it. About half a dozen of the cities investigated had incineration plants and as a rule these plants were working in a reasonably satisfactory manner—and if they were not it was generally because the work of collecting the garbage for burning was subject to political influences with unfavorable results. In the great majority of cases the garbage is dumped on vacant lots, frequently within the city limits and sometimes not far from the heart of the city.

"Ordinances for inspection of milk, meats and perishable provisions were quite general, and it is clear that they are being enforced with increasing effectiveness every year; but successful work of this kind depends mainly upon three things—freedom from political control, a competent and particularly a courageous board of health and a strong public opinion in favor of thorough enforcement of the work.

"In a large city in the South one of the great public markets was visited and the conditions were simply revolting. Great quantities of meat, vegetables and more or less over-ripe fruit were displayed in an open market extending for two blocks, with no kind of protection for the perishable provisions. Never were such swarms of flies seen before. In one case a big piece of meat was so covered with flies that it was really difficult to make out what it was. Fortunately, a movement is on foot to have this market done away with. All public markets of the kind ought to be abolished. It is impossible to maintain sanitary conditions as long as such things exist."

The report urged the organization of sanitary clubs in every city in the country and it was suggested that the Association of Life Insurance Presidents take the lead in this work through its agents, medical examiners and other representatives in different communities.

THE BEAUTIES OF EASTERN CAROLINA

ALONG THE HISTORIC NEUSE.

The Great Handiwork of Nature Displayed.

Hanrahan N. C., June 12, 1911.

I have watched her with peculiar admiration and intensified interest from where she merges into the Trent near that historic though not very progressive old town of New Bern. And I don't wonder that her people are not as progressive commercially as are some others, when I contemplate the sublime grandeur and alluring beauties of nature that her people daily and hourly behold. Yes, I have watched the old Neuse from there to near her fountain head, and I have yet to see one spot along her banks and in her channel that failed to enrapture me with the one thought of God's great love to man and all of His creation. I have watched on her north side the fertile land with abundant crops of cotton, corn and golden grain. I have gazed upon her stately oaks hung with that long gray moss as they seemed to typify strength and love, wrestling beneath and even supporting old age. I have watched her wild flowers and clinging roses, seemingly planted to cheer the lonely boatman who away from home, wife and prattling children, guides his boat that carries our commerce.

I have watched her southern banks with little lowlands and far from the fertility of soil; having running almost parallel with her channel and about one mile from her banks, from seashore to well up towards her source, a belt of sand bearing only small black jacks and wire grass, but here and there and not separated by much space the yellow jessamine vine, scattered, it seems as are the foot prints on the sands of time to cheer a forlorn and perhaps a fallen traveler, who seeing might take courage and go on. But of all the beautiful spots that I have seen situated on this or any other river, is the one about mid way between Goldsboro and Kinston and half a mile above the little village of White Hall, made historic by one battle during the Civil war. On the north spreads out that fertile valley, and on its south bank is a range of hills scattered here and there, but just at this spot are seven of these looming up from its bank and seemingly purposely arranged in a half circle as if placed there for eternal vigilance to keep with a strict injunction to ever watch and never to sleep, and guard with safety the same number of springs that find their source in your bosom and send their life giving waters from your feet to mingle a few yards distant with the somewhat red waters of the Neuse lest some one bent with years and wrecked with life's burdens and financial or other cares, should slip in, drink and be made young again, and thereby be cheated out of heaven for many years.

'Twas three miles north of this spot and on that sand belt, that this scribbler first saw the light, heard the chickens cackle and crow, and the birds warble out their sweetest lays. I must digress just here to say, that it was here by the banks and on the same side of this river, about 35 miles east of there, and in a spot almost as beautiful as is that at Sevon Springs, where was born and reared a queen of beauty, love and force. So powerful was her brow and keen the arrow that when it was aimed at our worthy superintendent its force and cutting point went straight to his venerable heart. Perhaps this accounts for his great love, well guided zeal, fatherly devotion and never flagging energy for the uplift of all the people, and especially those of Pitt. It takes deep sorrow and keen disappointments to bring out the best there is in a great and good man. This perhaps learned our professor another lesson, that a man does not have to ride in the finest carriages, drive at the most costly hotels, and make the greatest display to win that love that is worthy of his bestowal, but by riding in whatever is most convenient, or going on foot if needs be, yes, and eating and sleeping in some of the most humble homes, doing anything in any way for God that he has won the highest regards of not one, but of all the people. So the hand of Providence was guiding its professor, and what was her great loss has been our state's and Pitt county's eternal gain.

Rats Took Corn From Mules.

On Shylock's principle, "You take my life when you take the means whereby I live," rats came very near eating up Mr. J. L. Tomberlin's mules on his farm, five miles south of town. For some time he had been noticing that his mules were falling off more rapidly than they should have, even in work time and hot weather. One day last week he discovered the cause, which was nothing less than the rats were eating the corn which he fed to the mules, literally robbing them of their meals. By watching he found that the rats, which were of immense size, swarmed out as soon as he had put the corn in the box for the mules and left the stable, and dragged the whole ears away to their hiding places and devoured it. He saw them carrying it off and he also found an immense pile of cobs hidden away under the barn, where they had devoured it. He lost no time in setting upon the rats and smote them with clubs, dogs and even a shot gun. After the slaughter he found that 129 had been killed. Fortunately his crib was rat-proof, or he would have had no corn to feed the mules in the first place.—Monroe Journal.

promised, by having the rural and city carriers assemble the small consignments of the individual shippers and utilize the fast freight service on trunk lines, with passenger trains on the branch roads to hurry the stuff to destination, at the regular fast freight rates. The post office will recoup itself by securing carload rates for the assembled shipments, while the small shippers get their advantage over the present conditions by having their collect and delivery system for practically nothing.

PITT COUNTY BOY TO THE FRONT

PROVES HIMSELF A REAL HERO.

Goes Out in a Capsized Boat and Saves Six People.

The letter published below should have appeared in our Ayden correspondence Tuesday, but through an oversight the correspondent failed to get it in with his other copy, so it is published here:

Fort Hancock N. J., June 9, 1911.
Mr. R. W. Smith, Correspondent,
The Eastern Reflector,

Dear Sir:

Having sent an article to your valued paper a few months ago concerning Lance Corporal Lester Jones, of the Coast Artillery Corps, of Fort Wadesworth, I now take the pleasure to call your attention to another exploit equally heroic.

Since I wrote you before, the company of which he is a member, has changed station to Fort Hancock, N. J. Here again this brave son of North Carolina distinguished himself. While taking a walk one evening by the beach he saw out in the bay a boat in apparent distress. While he was getting a boat ready in which to go out in, the boat turned over. With all possible speed he put out to the capsized craft and got there just in time to save the lives of six helpless people. This, I think, ought to be brought to the attention of his friends and relatives at home. Like all real heroes, he himself, would never say anything about the matter. I being a son of North Carolina, things of this sort make my heart swell with pride. Hoping to see this in an early issue of your valued paper, I remain, a constant reader,

MICHAEL J. MEEZY,
Bread Sergeant, Co. "B" Artillery.

EXCAVATION CAVES IN.

Buried Ferd Barnhill And Gives Him Close Call.

Tuesday afternoon while workmen were excavating for the sewer on Sutton lane, there was a cave-in that came near resulting seriously. At a point where the ditch was about ten feet deep, Ferd Barnhill, colored, foreman of the street hands was at work at the bottom of it, when within a moments warning the ditch caved in and he was completely buried under a huge pile of dirt. Other hands happened to be near and they quickly dug Ferd out of his grave. Fortunately he received no injury, except slight bruises, but it gave him a close call.

SEEKING RELEASE OF FORMER LEGISLATOR

PITT COUNTY IN KANSAS JAIL

Asks Governor of Oklahoma to Intercede in Behalf of W. J. Nichols.

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 13.—Governor Cruce received a letter Monday from the secretary of state of North Carolina, asking his assistance in securing the release from the Federal prison at Lavenworth, Kan., of W. J. Nichols, a former member of the North Carolina legislature. Nichols was convicted of violating the postal laws, under the name of C. L. Jackson, in connection with the operation of the Little Crater Crude Burner Company. Nichols sold county rights for the sale of a new patent crude oil burner, maintaining headquarters at El Reno. Through the efforts of Postmaster E. E. Brown, of Oklahoma City, the Federal authorities were induced to start prosecutions for using the mails to defraud. Nichols handled thousands of dollars as a result of his scheme, but was convicted and sentenced to serve two years. A short time ago Nichols wrote the governor, accusing the Federal officials of the western district of Oklahoma and Postmaster McCoy, of Guthrie having conspired to railroad him to jail.—Charlotte Observer.

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR BANK OF TARBORO

BANK HOPELESSLY WRECKED.

Mr. Ed. Pennington in Charge and Investigation Proceeds.

Late Monday afternoon Judge Ward who is still at the hospital gradually convalescing, or rather growing much stronger, so that he does not feel that dizziness when in an upright position, upon the recommendation of Chairman McNeil, of the Corporation Commission appointed Ed. Pennington, cashier of the Farmers Banking and Trust Co., receiver of the Bank of Tarboro, pending a suit instituted to wind up the affairs of that institution.

The order making the appointment required a bond of $30,000 and that he should enter upon his duties as soon as qualified. This was done. By noon the bond was given and Mr. Pennington took charge.

But the examiners are still at work and hope to complete their labors tomorrow.

The condition of the bank cannot yet be approximated. There are so many overdrafts and checks paid but never charged to accounts that no one can tell till there has been a more close inspection of all the books and, probably many suits.

What the checks paid meant when not credited is yet to be ascertained. They may have been drawn with the knowledge that they had or should have had a balance to their credit. Or they may have been some of the many good natured accommodations of the cashier out of the trust fund in his charge.

Receiver Pennington probably will have an expert accountant to go over every account of the bank, and then barring results of litigation the condition will be known.

Not much news has developed or come to the surface since last issue unless it be evidence of greater recklessness and the efforts to rob, or defraud any and every one that had money in the bank or could be induced to put their funds therein.

Examiner Doughton does little talking for publication and what one ob-

READY FOR CORONATION.

Final Decorations And Finishing Touches Put on Today.

By Cable to The Reflector.
London, June 21.—Final orders were issued today to 45,000 troops which will participate in the coronation. King George received all foreign envoys and ministers at Buckingham Palace last night. The last decorations were put up today and all finishing touches made for the coronation.

London, June 21.—The rehearsal of the coronation ceremony was held in West Minister Abbey today.

Taft on The Go.

By Wire to The Reflector.
New York, June 21.—President Taft leaves New York this morning for New Haven, after spending the night with Henry W. Taft.

tains is by inference. He promptly told the Southerner man that the bank books, he called them padded, showed deposits of $104,000, loans $145,000, yet on his report to the corporation commission it is alleged that the deposits are apparently $200,000.

These with $60,000 borrowed from banks make liabilities that padded books showing $145,000 loans with questionable security in less or more cases cannot overcome. But let it not be inferred that these figures disclose all liabilities or assets. They are given to show that as far as possible the depositors' money was appreciated, and these padded books show that at least $100,000 of deposits went into the maelstrom of reckless speculation.

To the stockholders Mr. Doughton has promised to make a report tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Unless there was something sensational street talk would not be interesting. Most every thing has been voiced out except the safety deposit box he had in the bank. The key is to be brought here tomorrow and then more ills than even sensations, if not more ills than ever resulted from the opening of Pandora's box are predicted.—Tarboro Southerner, June 20th.

TODAY'S EVENTS IN NATIONAL CAPITOL

ANOTHER MESSAGE FROM TAIT.

Mrs. Lea Improving — Havemeyer Says Gobble Small Concerns

By Wire to The Reflector.

Washington, June 21.—President Taft sent a special message to congress urging an amendment to the pure food law, making the penalty severer for misbranding drugs.

Senator Root spoke in favor of his amendment to the reciprocity bill. Horace Havemeyer continued his testimony before the committee investigating the Sugar Trust. He declared that it was better for the small business concerns to be gobbled up by the trusts than that they should fail.

Mrs. Lea, wife of Senator Lea, of Tennessee, to save whose life the senator had a quart of his blood infused into her body, is much better today with great hope of her ultimate recovery. The senator is also recovering from the loss of his blood.

TRIAL WILL COLLAPSE

Government Cannot Sustain Charges Against Camorristis.

By Cable to The Reflector.
Viterbo, Italy, June 21.—Because witnesses have failed to substantiate the government charges against the Camorristis, it is predicted that the cases will collapse and the prisoners be freed.
