

HOW SEVEN SPRINGS WERE DISCOVERED

RUN AWAY BOY LOCATED THERE

He Finds That The Waters Were Health Giving.

HANRAHAN, N. C.—One afternoon about two weeks after Eugene's first night's experience on the bosom of the Neuse, the writer was out looking for the cows. Cows roved the woods in those days, and it took four to give one gallon instead of one giving five gallons as now. I was about two miles from home and at an old Primitive Baptist church, Pleasant Plains, but it was a misnomer to some extent, for some things that had happened in this old building in former years were not very pleasant in church circles. It was here that the association split and part of the members declared themselves missionary in spirit. So they left and went with that body of ever progressive Christian workers, the Missionary Baptists. The remaining few were left to believe that whatever is to be will be, any how. The feeling was anything but pleasant for some time. I only mention this in passing to say that the old church is now entirely abandoned, but on the steps of this old building I sat me down to rest and to listen for the tinkle of the cow bell. I had been there but a short while, when I heard a voice softly calling to me from the corner of the house, the off side from the road. I went quickly around there, because I thought the voice had something of a sound that had been familiar to me. On reaching the corner I heard Eugene say from a clump of bushes nearby, "Come here, it is I, it is Eugene." Then my heart leaped for joy, but I was wonder struck, for I could not imagine how he came there. I had heard that he had run away from his master and knew that they were looking for him, but except this, I knew nothing of his whereabouts. "Step back into the bushes," he said as I approached him. "What on earth is the matter with you?" he said, "you look so different from what you did." I, too, was sallow. I said, "you, too, look so different from the way you did when you left." "Yes," he said, "but I feel so much better than I did when I came here." Then he told me of his escape and his long and lonely trip down the river, and how as he floated down one afternoon and saw those hills and beautiful moss covered oaks, he moored his boat to a bush near the south bank and climbed out and had scrambled through the thick undergrowth that hedged them in on every side. He saw some springs and being thirsty he drank freely, then he examined and found that there were seven of these in a space not more than 12 feet square. He found, too, that each of these had a different taste. He said that I was the only human that he had seen since his escape except Uncle Lige, an old colored man that helped to bury his father. Said he knew that he would not betray him and that I would not. He said when he drank of that water and felt so much better that he had determined to stay in hiding around there until he was entirely well. I must say in passing that he could have found no better hiding place at that time, for there was no trace of a path that led to the springs and the hills that surrounded them were covered with a dense coat of myrtle bushes and stately oaks. He said he had slept each night in this old church and at light each morning he would wind his way back to drink from these springs.

For fear that it may sadden some correspondent's heart, or at least give him much concern to know how Eugene obtained his food during the four weeks that he was lying in ambush and drinking of this life-giving waters, I would say to such a one that a raven in the form of Uncle Lige gave him some sweet potatoes and with his cross-bow he secured his meat. And for the benefit of the same one, would say that 40 miles in those days was a greater separation than is 500 miles now. And the man that Eugene was bound to was rich in this world's goods for those days and Eugene told me that he spoke very kindly to him and treated him very nicely that day at the court house, and he was anxious to go with him. Eugene thanked my parents so much for their kindness to him, but said he knew they could not care for all the orphans in the community just after the war. Furthermore, I would say to that same correspondent, that a more truthful epitaph was never placed on any mans tomb than is inscribed on my father's head stone. These are the words that are on his tomb: "For I was an hungered and yet gave me meat." Matt. XXV first clause of 35th verse.

Now, back to my subject. We had but a short while to talk at this meeting, because the shade of night was falling fast and at this point I heard the tinkling of a distant cow bell. So I must needs drive them home, and Eugene must get to his hiding, for well up the road that runs near by the old church we saw a man on horse back. We agreed to meet again at a different point two days from then at an earlier hour. Then he promised to lead me to the springs that had done so much for him during the weeks that he had been drinking from the. He said he was sure those waters would restore me to health, as they had about made him well.

We parted for this time, and I did so long for the time to come when we should meet again, when he should guide me to that which would restore my strength and make me feel once more that life was worth living. Please don't ask why we did not set the next day to meet, I being so anxious to gain my health. Do you ask my trouble? I answer, no one could then tell, but now we know, it was hook worm.

Another Germ Discovered

Dr. Smith of Wasington, claims that he has discovered that cancer is germ disease. Being a germ disease it will be only a matter of time till an anti-toxin for its prevention and cure will be discovered. Already the toxin for typhoid fever is being successfully used. By its use, 20,000 soldiers along the Mexican border have been kept free from a single case of fever.

NECESSITY OF ORGANIC MATTER IN THE SOIL

IMPORTANT TO THE FARMERS.

Too Much Cultivable Lands Going To Waste Through Neglect.

There are two things absolutely essential to successful farming in North Carolina. One is deep plowing, and the other is the incorporation in the soil of humus or organic matter from decaying vegetation.

We have heard a great deal about deep plowing, and, on soils which have stiff, heavy sub-soils, deep plowing, and in some cases, even sub-soiling, is entirely necessary. But we have heard all too little about the organic matter content of our soils. Indeed, some wag might say, there is not enough organic matter in most of our soils to speak about anyway, but that is just why we should begin to talk. Good plowing and a liberal amount of vegetable mould or organic matter in our soils constitute the two oars by which the agricultural boat must be driven in North Carolina. We have hitherto done most of our pulling on the plowing oar and as a result our boat has inclined to go in a circle with the result that the people of the state are shipping in tens of millions of dollars worth of food supplies every year when they should be selling more than they buy.

We are giving out no information when we say that nine-tenths of our soils are poor and unproductive. These poor soils are "known and read of all men." When we see a boy nowadays with a thin, pale, anaemic face, we are pretty apt to say he has the hookworm, by which we mean he has little red blood in his veins, low vitality, waning strength, and little ambition. His life forces are becoming weaker, he is unable to do much, we say, and his ability to do is becoming less and less every day and will finally be reduced to zero unless he is given a treatment. Keep this in mind and go twenty-five miles in almost any direction in North Carolina and you will see on every hand, fields of white, pale, sandy soils thrown out of cultivation; you will see fields of red and gray lands thrown out of cultivation. Why this abandonment of cultivable lands in North Carolina? Examine them and you will find a good amount of all the necessary mineral elements of plant food, but the humus or organic matter content is almost nothing. They have no life in them and hence cannot give life to vegetation. They are anaemic; they have hookworm, if you will allow the figure, and can do little without a treatment. The vitality of these poor lands is so low that it pays no one to cultivate them. Deep plowing alone will not do.

NORTH CAROLINA VETERANS

Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans of North Carolina.

WILMINGTON, N. C., August 2.—Hundreds of Confederate veterans from various sections of North Carolina and a number from the neighboring States are here in attendance upon a two days' session, beginning today, of the annual reunion of the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans of North Carolina. Wilmington is gayly decorated in honor of the veterans and friends. Maj-Gen. J. S. Carr presided at the opening session. Tomorrow will be held the annual parade and also the principal social events of the reunion.

The proper treatment of all these poor or abandoned lands, that are well-drained, is, first, give them a heavy dose of organic matter either in the shape of stable manure or green manure. These are the two sources of organic matter in our soil. The one is, and always has been, too limited to set much store by, while the other is, always has been, and always will be, the principal source from which we must obtain humus for the agricultural soils in North Carolina.

Next week we expect to take up the discussion of the bringing up of these poor lands in the state and will speak of the crops to be grown first in an attempt at their reformation. We want to call the attention of every man, who has poor lands on his farm, to this series of articles which will likely extend over some months.

THE SECOND YEAR OF TRAINING SCHOOL

THOSE DELIVERED LECTURES.

Teachers Received Instruction to Make Them More Efficient.

On July the 28th the East Carolina Teachers Training School closed its second school year. During this year five hundred and twenty-eight students were enrolled. This in face of the fact that the dormitories will accommodate only about two hundred students.

During the summer term three hundred and one students were enrolled. This term of eight weeks was a most successful one. In addition to the regular class room work, a series of public lectures on educational subjects was delivered. Among those who delivered addresses were the following: Dr. L. G. Gibbs, Dr. Geo. D. Strayer, Teachers College, Columbia University, Mr. I. O. Schaub, West Raleigh, Dr. Jno. A. Ferrell, Raleigh, Dr. Chas. O'H. Laughinghouse, Col. Jno. L. Cunningham, Durham, Mr. Harold Barnes, Philadelphia, Miss Edith Royster, Assistant Superintendent of Wake county schools, Raleigh, and Gov. Thos. J. Jarvis.

The student body of the summer term was composed of teachers and supervising officials.

It is the aim of the summer term of the Training School to offer to the teachers of North Carolina a course of instruction that will enable those attending the school to become more efficient. To do this it was necessary to offer a variety of courses. There were forty-six different combinations offered. These courses were such that any public school teacher having recognized his needs could take just the line of work which would supply that need and thus add to his efficiency. As far as it was practicable, the books adopted by the state were used as text-books.

The student body left a fund of $55.20 for the purchase of books for the library, thus showing by this free-will offering that they appreciate the efforts being made for them. They also presented to the president and

Most Profitable Summer Assemblies Ever Held in This Section.

PALACIOUS, Texas, August 2.—If a good attendance and attractive programme make for success the twenty first annual encampment of the Baptist Young People's Union of Texas which opened here today will be one of the most profitable summer assemblies ever held in this section. The programme covers two weeks and provides for lectures and addresses by a number of religious workers of wide prominence. Among them are Dr. S. J. Reid of Belfast, Ireland, President Brooks of Baylor University, Rev. B. H. Carroll, D. D., president of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and Rev. William J. Williamson, D. D., of St. Louis, president of the Baptist Young People's Union of America.

"We, the undersigned, wish to express our appreciation to the entire faculty of the East Carolina Teachers Training school for their guidance and untiring efforts in our behalf.

"The work has been an inspiration, has deepened in us a love for our profession and has implanted a greater desire to do and to serve. It gives us great pleasure to acknowledge the benefits received from this institution. Our best wishes go out to all who have aided in its development."

ONE OF GOD'S NOBLEST MEN

JACK MILLS, OF BLESSED MEMORY

The Work He Did Will Stand As An Eternal Monument.

HANRAHAN, N. C., Aug. 1.—No one could have been more anxious to be restored to health and vigor than was I. My oldest brother was a physician and one well posted for his day, and therefore he had access to the best counsel of his profession. So everything that medical skill could do at that time had been done, and I was still sallow, sluggish and without vigor. So surely I was more than anxious for the day to come when Eugene would lead me to the fountains of health, vigor and life that he had found, but I must needs wait until the appointed day. So while we are waiting I will tell you of a young man that was then in some of the middle or western counties of our own beloved state.

From the time that "Jack" Mills, "Uncle Jack," as he was familiarly known in his latter years, first saw the light of day, the stars twinkle by night and the moon's silvery sheen as she hangs in the heavens, God saw in him a great purpose, for indeed, from his early youth he had a fixed purpose in life, and to this end he was ever intent. In the days of his youth he remembered his Creator. From the time he could first lisp a few of the simplest words at his mother's knee he was taught at nightfall to say, "Now I lay me down to sleep" and at early morning to cast his eyes heavenward and say, "Oh, God, give me sufficient of Thy grace today to accomplish some good, in Thine own way. Let not my feet go astray, and no vile word may I think or say. A great and good man of me make, I ask it all for Jesus sake. Amen."

Thus tutored from earliest infancy, and the Holy Spirit ever striving with and for him, he early gave his life to Christ and joined the Lord's navy. This is no reflection on the branch of service that he joined, but for fear some emotional correspondent may jump on me, I would say that this name for the Missionary Baptist church was suggested by a story told on an old Methodist preacher, who after an earnest sermon was calling for all who had accepted salvation to come and join the army of the Lord. They were coming right and left and he was giving them the right hand and shouting glory, when one earnest fellow came up and said, "I want to join that army, but I want to be a member of the Missionary Baptist church." The old preacher gave him his hand but said, "You can stand over there, my brother, you want to go with the navy."

Yes, Jack Mills was a skilled mariner on the great ocean of the Christian life, one that faced many storms and one that met on every hand difficulties that seemed almost insurmountable. But with Christ as his admiral he met and surmounted them all. In early life he had that inspiration that tells us that we are all brothers and that the great "I Am" is our Father. So in early manhood he climbed that winding stairway that consists of three, five and seven steps, and leads into the inner court of that temple wherein sit together brethren who should meet upon a level and are taught to ever strive to emulate that master builder whose designs on his trestle board show brotherly love, kindness and charity to all mankind, and especially to the widow and orphan. Yea, he walked through the valley and the shadow of death, and if he feared, he was comforted by his pilot, who assured him that though he should die for the right, that though the strong hand of the "Lion of the Tribe of Judah" he should be raised again. And so he was, and in every conquest he came out victorious.

But there came a time in Jack Mills' life soon after he had gone through this experience that touched his heart more deeply, fired his zeal to greater effort, and that was destined to test his faith more severely than any thing that had ever come to him previously. So we leave him here to meditate and to pray over the lessons that he must learn from the theme suggested which came under his observation by the wayside of the road that he has so successfully traveled.

At some future time we may tell our readers how Jack Mills was led to do one of the greatest, noblest and best works of any man in our beloved South land.

Next time Eugene will appear on the scene.

ATLANTIC HOTEL NOW CROWDED

First Regiment N. C. National Guards
To Arrive August 3rd.

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., August 1.—With the seashore season yet young and the usual large August crowd not yet arrived, the season at the Atlantic Hotel, Morehead City, has been a most propitious one. The service in the hotel is now above criticism. Every comfort and convenience is provided by the management. Especially is this true of the dining room service. The menu is full of the delicacies of the sea and the truck farms nearby.

One of the earliest patrons of the hotel, known to all North Carolina, told the writer a few days ago that the present service at the Atlantic Hotel is better than at any time during the past seasons.

The social life at the Atlantic is more attractive than during any previous season. The very large crowd of guests and the presence there of many guests from the South and especially Virginia, has added much to the gaiety of the social life. Of course dancing in the mammoth ball room every morning and evening is one of the chief attractions.

Sailing and surf bathing parties, too, are very popular. No place can boast of better sailing facilities, either upon inland water or upon old ocean. The guests at the Atlantic have the choice of safe surf bathing or still water bathing in Bogue Sound.

The fishing was never better. The many daily fishing parties report unusual good luck, and the followers of Isaac Walton are many. Every facility, fishing tackle and bait, are provided by the boatmen for a reasonable charge.

The first regiment, North Carolina national guards, made up of military companies, hospital corps, etc., from the western part of the state will arrive at Camp Glenn, Thursday morning, August 3rd, for a ten days' encampment at Morehead City, and many daily fishing parties report upon the Atlantic Hotel this week.

A military german, given in honor of the first regiment, will be danced in the ball room of the Atlantic Hotel Saturday evening, August 5th.

GOOD ADVICE TO COTTON FARMERS.

THE NORFOLK-PORTSMOUTH EX.

Issues Circular Advising Against Excessive Use of Bagging.

The Norfolk and Portsmouth Cotton Exchange sent out a circular a few days ago that gives some timely advice to farmers relative to the use of bagging in putting up their cotton for market. That the farmers of this section may get the benefit of the information contained in this circular, was copying it below:

"This exchange views with alarm the abuses that have grown up in preparing cotton for market and deem it our duty to protest against these abuses, to state what they are, and how they can be corrected.

"The troubles have appeared in the last few years and have grown each year. The loss which primarily is paid by the ginners and producer of cotton, incidentally reaches the mill agents, exporters and mills. The abuses are these: First, the excessive use of bagging; second, the weight of bagging used; and third, the weight of the bales.

"Regarding the excessive use of bagging, each bale should be covered on the upper and lower sides, in the press box, and on the heads, and no more. The quantity of covering considered sufficient to cover a bale is 22 pounds, which includes bagging and bands, and any excess over this will be deducted.

"Second: As to the weight of the bagging used, it was only a few years ago when the bagging weighed 1 3-4 pounds, 2 pounds and 2 1-4 pounds to the yard, the heaviest being 2 1-2 pounds; now we hear of bagging weighing 3 and 4 pounds per yard. This is selling bagging and not cotton. We would strongly protest against anything heavier than 2 1-4 pounds, and in cases where the bagging exceeds 2 1-2 pounds we advise the ginners that just claims and deductions will be made against such excessive weight.

"Third: The light weight bales have become more in evidence as the heavy weight bagging has increased. While there are rules against bales of cotton under 400 pounds, and as all sales made for domestic and foreign shipment are required to weigh an average of 500 pounds per bale, it is urged that shipments destined to Norfolk shall average in weight as near 500 pounds per bale as possible, because on bales weighing 400 pounds or under a deduction may be due.

"These suggestions are made purely with a view of saving the producer and ginner of cotton from further loss by correcting these abuses."

Sand Clay Versus Macadam Roads.

Says the Greensboro Telegram: The original improved highways in Guilford county were macadam roads. Recently the county has been constructing some sand or sand-clay roads. The Telegram does not know definitely that the county has any standard sand-clay roads, but several miles of road have been graded and treated to a coating similar, at least, to the standard sand-clay covering. These roads are beautiful, smooth highways and it is a pleasure to travel over them. Other counties of the state are adopting the sand-clay construction in the improvement of their highways. The finest specimen of sand-clay construction the editor of The Telegram has ever seen is the road between Louisburg and Franklin in Franklin county. There are fine sand-clay roads in other counties and this material is growing in the pleasures of travel are concerned cates and road builders. As far as favor with road improvement advocates serves every purpose of the and for general utility the sand-clay macadam road. In fact it is a better road in some respects, being less wearing on stock and vehicles, perhaps, than macadam. A road of this type will not wear as long as a macadam road, but repairs will cost less; and the first cost is far less than the cost of a standard macadam highway.

Among those in this state who have been favorably impressed with the sand-clay road we find the editor of the Asheville Citizen. The Citizen believes that the macadam road is passing and that sand-clay will prove an acceptable and satisfactory substitute. Here is the line of argument used by the Citizen in favor of sand-clay roads:

"The Citizen having several times advocated the construction of sand-clay roads in this section, would call particular attention to the statement of Mr. George Stephenson, of the Kanuga club, wherein he cites the wearing superiority and economy of the sand-clay road. In building his excellent automobile road from Hendersonville to the Kanuga club, Mr. Stephenson secured the views of expert engineers and the wisdom of his final resolution to take the sand-clay is today borne out. 'Macadam,' said Mr. Stephenson to the writer, 'is not only a waste of money in the original investment, but it costs far more in upkeep than a sand-clay road. This is true in every section, and particularly in Western North Carolina, where there is the finest gravel for sand-clay construction to be found anywhere. A ten thousand dollar investment in sand-clay means just four times the length of road that you can get in macadam.'

"There is ample food for reflection here on the part of our county authorities. Experiments made in this county with sand-clay more than bear out the claims of its friends. Four times cheaper than macadam; twice, if not three times as durable, one really wonders that it should be necessary for newspapers to preach about the advantages of sand-clay. The average price per mile of macadam is $3,400, though in some sections it runs above $4,000 per mile. Sand-clay of the finest variety such as we have in this section can be put down for $800 to $900 per mile. Is it not worth consideration? Can the counties of North Carolina afford to longer use the expensive and quickly wearing macadam while the superiority of the sand-clay road is clearly demonstrated? The sand-clay road to which we referred at the beginning of this article has been down nearly three years, and to the personal knowledge of the writer, it is now in splendid condition. Indeed, it seems to improve as time goes on. Many of us in this section can instantly call to mind macadam roads which have been down only three or four years and they are now in a deplorable condition. Why then stick to macadam?"

The man who is down and out should go in and get the elevator chauffeur to take him up.

Escaped With His Life.
"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin, Port Harrelson, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything I could hear of for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C., for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." Its positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free at all druggists.

TO HARVEST THE WESTERN CROP
Farmers Are Reported to be in Need of 50,000 Harvest Hands.

MONTREAL, August 2.—The Canadian Pacific today started the first of its vesters' excursions to the West, where the farmers are reported to be in need of 50,000 harvest hands to assist in caring for the great wheat crop estimated at 200,000,000 bushels. The largest number of men hitherto sent West for harvesting was two years ago, when 26,000 made the journey. The big increase this year is due to the fact that the crop in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan promises exceptionally well, both on land that has been in cultivation for years and on the big addition acreage that has been broken up during the past two years. The railroads expect to recruit thousands of harvesters in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. It is probable that a number will also be brought out from England.

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.
And Briefly Told for The Reflector's Busy Readers.

Forsythe county's commissioners have appropriated a thousand dollars to be used in advertising the county.

CARTHAGE.—The town was shocked this afternoon about 5 o'clock when it was learned that Mr. Earle Tyson, the eighteen-year-old and only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tyson had been killed by a stroke of lightning while playing base ball on the diamond here.

RALEIGH.—One of the finest water-melons ever seen here—one that tips the scales very close to the one hundred pound notch—has been received at the governor's mansion for Governor Kitchin and his family from State Senator W. S. Cobb, of Robeson county.

WILMINGTON.—The coroner's jury summoned to investigate the shooting to death Saturday night of Frank Davis, colored, by Special Police Officer A. A. Nelms, exonerated the officer of any blame. The officer, who was committed to jail Sunday night to await the investigation, was then released.

DURHAM.—Clarence, better known as "Kid" Morris, was arrested in Cincinnati at the instance of Attorney R. O. Everett, from whom Morris is accused of having received $800 for forgery. This charge was made two years ago. Morris worked this loan through Attorney J. E. Pegram, who secured the money from Mr. Everett. The name of his sister was attached and real estate was the security for the money. The forgery was clever and got by the smartest men. It developed that there was nothing to it and Morris skipped. He has since been at large and dodged well.

SHELBY.—Mrs. W. S. Johnson, who lives 3 miles above Casar, went out into her orchard last Friday and saw a ground-hog sneaking along under an apple tree looking for food. It had gotten too far away from its hole to get back before Mrs. Johnson called the dogs. The strange animal was chased under the house and, after fighting the dogs lively for a few minutes, it was killed. Mr. Johnson came home that night and skinned the animal and is preserving its hide. It weighed between 30 and 40 pounds and is the first ground hog that has been seen in this section for years.

Lutherans Meet at Regina
REGINA, Sask., August 2.—The sessions of the annual synod meeting of the Lutheran church of this district began here today, to continue until August 10. The attendance includes several score of clerical and lay delegates from Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Memorial to Dr. Knapp.
A south-wide organization has been perfected to erect a memorial to Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, the originator of the farmers' co-operative demonstration work. Statutes in Washington and in agricultural colleges have been proposed. D. C. Barrow, of Georgia, has been elected president of the organization.

ment of our present day system of education, could well stand as such:

"In the school of tomorrow it will be boys more than books and living more than letters. It will make for the health of the body, fresh air, wholesome food, adequate exercises, and reliability; it will make for the health of the mind, sanity, alertness and reliability; it will make for the health of the spirit—habits of social justice and expressions of divine truth. Furthermore, it will direct its youth into the paths of industrial efficiency and world service."

"The schools of yesterday were so arranged as to make it convenient to teach. The school of tomorrow will be arranged to make it convenient to learn."

It would seem that the very dissatisfaction with things as they are must hold the promise of advancement.

In answer to this very demand for something better—a saner education of parent, teacher and child alike—has grown up a movement which is doing widespread, practical good in nearly every state of our Union, in fact is revolutionizing things educationally. It is the After School club of America, and organization of leading educators and experts in child training who have crystallized into one great movement all the available helps for the school and the home. The After School club of America has undertaken to bring to parents and teachers the best thought obtainable in the study and welfare of children. It places in their hands the proceedings of practically all the various societies which are working in the cause of childhood and citizenship it strives to give people an understanding of children that will be of both inspirational and practical value.

THE MOTHER, THE CHILD AND THE SCHOOL IMPORTANT SUBJECTS.
All club women, mothers and teachers will read with interest the expression of opinions given below from the pen of Mrs. R. R. Cotten, president North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs:

"All that helps the mother in the training of children; all that gives to the child higher ideals of life; all that brings into close union the home and the school should be welcomed and utilized. The After School club of America seems to have woven into one strong cord the three important factors in life, the mother, the child and the school.

"With the marvelous facilities for education along the most vital of all lines the study of training of child nature, its specialized organization to meet these special demands, and its array of child-welfare workers, who are giving time and talents to this work, the After School Club cannot fail to be a blessing to all who share its benefits.

"The home council department seems of special value, because it reaches the individual mother and helps her solve her individual problem in child training. It is the individual mother, in her universality upon whom primarily devolves the solution of radical problems, and what helps her helps all humanity.

"Hoping the After School Club

The Decline in Cotton.
In explanation of the recent very considerable decline in the price of cotton until fall contract deliveries, The New Orleans Picayune says that the fall to the 11-cent mark has been based primarily on the expectation of a very large crop this season, all indications pointing to the yield exceeding all previous records. In the fact of such prospects, and with spinners stubbornly refusing to purchase at the higher figures, there was no preventing the break that has occurred, although it is probable that values have really declined to a figure below the level actually warranted by the crop outlook, owing to the war scare which has resulted from the Morocco complications. The Picayune says it is rather unusual for prices to decline as much as they have recently so far in advance of the actual marketing of the new crop. There are still many dangers that the crop has to face before it can be said that the yield is secure. Deterioration during August, boll weevils and other pests and a premature fall may damage the present brilliant prospects, in which event present prices are sure to look extremely low. The war scare may soon subside in which event every unfavorable report as to the crop will furnish a reason for an improvement in prices. While a large crop of cotton is highly desirable this season so as to restore prosperity in the manufacturing branch of the industry, there is no sound reason for expecting a decline that would be unprofitable to the growers.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Ready For Canadian Henley.
ST. CATHARINES, ONT., August 2.—The local committee in charge of arrangements for the annual regatta of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen, to be held here Friday and Saturday next, completed the final plans today and is making preparations to handle one of the biggest crowds that ever attended the Canadian Henley. The regatta will bring together many of the speediest oarsmen on both sides of the international boundary.

Meets at Lake Geneva.
LAKE GENEVA, Wis., August 2.—Rev. J. Campbell White, Col. Elijah W. Halford and other religious workers of note are scheduled to address the summer training conference of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, which opened here today. The conference will continue its sessions until Sunday evening.

New Highway to Cross Missouri
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. Aug. 2.—Governor Hadley and the State Board of Agriculture gave a public hearing today on the matter of the proposed State road to connect St. Louis and Kansas City. Three routes are under consideration and nearly 1,000 delegates representing numerous cities and towns were on hand to urge the claims of one or another of the proposed routes.

"Comback Jim" is the title of a new song written in honor of Jimmy Callahan of the Chicago White Sox.

Detroit seems to have it on all the American League teams with the exception of New York. The Yankees have won nine of the 11 games played with the Tigers.

Henry Groh, of the Decatur team, touted as one of the speediest players ever seen in the Three-I League, has been sold for $3,500 to the New York Nationals.

Center fielder Carlisle, of the Vernon Pacific Coast League team, who recently made a triple play unassisted, formerly played with the Boston Americans and the Kansas City team.

Fred Luderus, of the Phillies, is giving Honus Wagner a battle for the batting honors in the National League.

With Tenney, Kling, Bridwell and Steinfeldt the Boston Rustlers have quite a bunch of "grand old men of baseball."

Ty Cobb's contract is out this year and the Detroit Club will most likely have to pay the Georgia "Peach" a million or two before he signs for next season.

If they don't make good as a ball team, now that they have signed a couple of Cubans and an Indian, the Cincinnati Reds can join the "Bill Show" as a congress of ball players of the world.

Reunion of Aiden Descendants.
DUXBURY, Mass., August 2.—Several hundred descendants of John Aiden and Priscilla Mullins, of Pilgrim fame, gathered here today for the eleventh annual reunion of the Aiden of America. The exercises were held on the old John Aiden homestead property. The society has secured a title to the present John Aiden house, built in 1658, where one of the ninth generation of Aidens still lives, and has an option on land occupied by the original house where John Aiden was born.

COTTON CROP REPORT.
Government Places The Figure at 89.1.
The government report issued today on the condition of the cotton crop, places it at 89.1. This is nearly four points gain over the report of last month when it was 85.9, and is about 10 points above the ten-year average of 79.2. In consequence of the improved crop reports prices continue to go lower.

SUMMER TERM CLOSES AT TRAINING SCHOOL

A REMARKABLE ENROLLMENT.

Next Regular Term Will Begin September 26th.

The summer term of East Carolina Teachers Training school closed Friday, and most of the faculty and students left for their homes.

It was in every way a most successful term, and those who attended return home well equipped for the work before them. The enrollment of the summer term reached 301. This, with the enrollment of 227 at the preceding regular term, makes a total of 528 for the school year, which is indeed remarkable for an institution whose dormitory capacity for students is only 196.

President Wright and the faculty, as well as all interested in the school, are elated over its success, as they have good cause to be. It is doing a great work and admirably fulfilling its mission of training teachers and better equipping them for school work.

The next regular term will begin September 26th, and already many applications for admission to that term have come in. The outlook is that the school will have every student it can accommodate.

TO RECEIVE ROYAL WELCOME.

This Government Will Show Him Every Courtesy.

NEW YORK, July 29.—With the exception of a few minor details the arrangements for the reception and entertainment of Admiral Count Heihachiro Togo, chief of the Navy Staff of Japan and the hero of the great sea fight of May 27 and 28, 1904, in which he annihilated the Russian fleet in the Strait of Tsugaru, are completed and the distinguished visitor, coming here from England, where he represented the Japanese Government at the coronation of King George, will be given a royal reception. Accompanied by his naval aids, Commander N. Tanizuchi, Admiral Togo sailed today from Liverpool on the Cunard Liner Lusitania, which is expected to arrive here next Friday, August 4. During the trip across the ocean Admiral Togo will occupy the royal suit on the magnificent steamer.

For several weeks the State and the Navy department have been busy arranging the plans for the reception and entertainment of Admiral Togo during the seventeen days he will spend in the United States as the guest of the nation. President Taft appointed Capt. T. M. Potts, U. S. N., as the official representative of the government and as the escort of honor of Admiral Togo during his stay in the country. Commander Hiraga, I. J. N., the naval attaché of the Japanese Embassy in Washington, will act as the official representative of the Japanese Government.

The arrangements for the reception of Admiral Togo upon his arrival in New York depends to some extent upon the time of the arrival of the Lusitania. Should the steamer arrive at night, the formal reception will be postponed until the following morning. It is hoped, however, that the big liner will arrive at daytime. In that case the saluting guns of Governor's Island will greet the Admiral with a salute of seven-es up the Hudson. Should the Lusitania arrive at night the formal salute will be postponed until Admiral Togo visits the army divisional headquarters on Governor's Island to return the visit that Major-General Grant will make to him as official representative of the army in this part of the country. Similar honors will be shown Admiral Togo on the occasion of his visit to Rear Admiral E. H. C. Leutez, U. S. N., the commander of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and by the United States warships which the Japanese admiral should visit.

It is safe to say that Admiral Togo will have little time for rest during his so-journ in the United States. During his stay in New York one public function will be followed by another. Admiral Togo will be the guest of honor at special receptions on Governor's Island, at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and other places and, regardless of a recent order of the Navy Department, will be given opportunity to inspect every part of the working plants at the Navy Yard, as well as every one of the warships, completed or in course of construction, that are at present in the yard.

In accordance with the itinerary planned, Admiral Togo, when leaving New York, will proceed to Washington, where the most elaborate arrangements for his reception and entertainment have been made. The visitor will be entertained by President Taft, Secretary of the Navy Meyer, Secretary of State Knox and other distinguished officials. He will visit Mount Vernon and place a wreath upon the tomb of Washington, and will be taken on one of the naval yachts for an inspection of the great Indian Head proving grounds. Congress appropriated $10,000 to defray the expenses of entertaining the distinguished visitor.

Admiral Togo will remain in Washington four days and part of one day will be devoted to a visit to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., where special honors will be shown the great sea fighter. From Washington Admiral Togo will return to New York, to fulfill engagements with the Japan Society of America and the Nippon Club of New York, whose guest of honor he will be. After a brief visit to Philadelphia, Admiral Togo will visit Boston, from whence he will proceed to Niagara Falls, where he will cross the line into Canada, to continue his further tour westward on Canadian soil. He will make stops at several large cities in Canada and will be entertained by the official representatives of the Dominion Government on his way to Vancouver, B. C., from which port he expects to sail for Japan about the end of August.

New Irish Song.
The "Irish Colleen" song has been popular since the days of Thomas Moore, for the Land of Shamrock has always been a country where the love of a beautiful girl attained its highest value. The men who have probably written more popular Irish songs than any other writers during the past twelve years, Messrs. Jerome and Schwartz, have just "handed the public" another Irish ballad entitled "My Irish Dearie," and, strange to say, it does not mention Killarney, the Blarney Stone, the Shamrock, Erin's Isle, the River Shannon, or the shillaly—in fact, it is an Irish song without the usual Irish trimmings. Mr. Jerome deserves credit for getting away from the old-time methods, and this song, with its splendid musical setting by Jean Schwartz, is destined to meet with great success.

CHORDS.
Dearie, my Irish dearie,
Save all your real smiles for me.
Don't let your heart grow weary, dearie;

Think of me constantly; now, dearie, don't get leary—
True love is nice and cherry.
Say that you're glad I'm here;
Hold me tight, with all your might.
Your eyes are full of love to-night,
Dearie, my Irish dear.

The love of money is said to be the root of all evil—and the poorer the soil the better it seems to thrive.

ASTONISHING THE NATIVES.

An Auto Doing Stunts in Virgin Territory.

Mr. John L. Amick, one of the popular mail carriers for Mebane has got an automobile to carry his route with. It is a Sears Roebuck machine very substantially built, and seems well adapted to the purpose for which he is using it. Mr. Amick has not got the hang of it entirely, but is learning quite rapidly. The first day he used it, it tried to go in the stable with him, and sometimes it tried to run in the creek with him. One trouble he has is to make the thing stand still until he can collect his mail. He carried out a good stout manilla rope Tuesday morning. He said he would tie the dinged thing to a tree if it did not stop trying to run off and leave him. He is stirring up some "conceptions" among the farmers on his route. One farmer took to the woods, and his wife run in the barn, but she emerged in time to tell Amick that if her husband was not back by noon, she would have her gun for him the next morning, and uncle Sam might have to make a hurry call for one of his supplies. Amick's automobile is putting ginger in everything on his route, horses and mules go over the fence in haste, that never went that way before. There is a wild time on Rfd 4 Mebane.—Mebane Leader.

E. O. Branford Comes From South Carolina To Wilson Tobacco Market

E. O. Branford, who has been a live man on the South Carolina markets for years, has gone to Wilson, N. C., where he will manage the Liberty warehouse, branch of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co. "Billy" is a hustler "from way back." Branford writes us that the crop down that way will be cut short of last year on account of the long drought, etc. However, he says, "since the fine and frequent rains three weeks ago tobacco has come out wonderfully and with good seasons for curing it looks now as if we are going to have some good tobacco."—Southern Tobacco Journal.

PRAYER LEAGUE NOT LACKING INTEREST

ATTENDANCE CONTINUES GOOD.

Interesting Subjects Discussed At Every Meeting.

"Faithfulness" was the subject at the meeting of the Men's Prayer League held in the Methodist church Sunday afternoon. Splendid talks were made by Messrs. B. S. Warren, A. B. Ellington and F. C. Harding, bringing out examples of great faithfulness and showing that "without faith it is impossible to please God." The change of successive ages until the present reign of commercialism, makes it important that those who would see the world saved must be steadfast in their faith and not swept off their feet by this trend of the commercial spirit. The departure from keeping the Sabbath holy and the decadence of family worship were two of the retrograding steps of this age. The few who are faithful must preserve Christianity.

Next Sunday afternoon at 4:30 the meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church. The subject then will be "Reward of Well Doing." Text, Galatians 6:9. Leaders, Messrs. Ernest Baker, J. L. Little and L. P. Wayne.

The attendance has kept up remarkably for the warm weather and the meetings are not lacking in interest. Herein many are showing their faithfulness.

SUBSCRIPTION MUST BE PAID.

Acceptance of a Newspaper Creates a Liability.

The courts have held that the act of a person in taking a newspaper from the postoffice makes the recipient liable for the bill. A recent decision is a case in point. A Butler, Mo., publisher sent his paper to one Charles Burge, who paid for it twice and then refused to pay for it again, claiming he had ordered the paper stopped. But the court of appeals holds that mere acceptance of the paper created a liability. It adds:

"The preparation and publication of a newspaper involves much mental and physical labor as well as an outlay of money. One who accepts the paper by continuously taking it from the post office receives a benefit and pelasure arising from labor and expenditure as fully as if he had appropriated any other product of another's labor, and by such act he must be held liable for the subscription price."

DESTROYS SLEEP.

Many Greenville People Testify to This.

You can't sleep at night. With aches and pains of a bad back—

When you have to get up from urinary troubles.

All on account of the kidneys. Set weak kidneys working aright with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of the efficiency: Mrs. James Garris, Twelfth St., Greenville, N. C., says, "I am pleased to add my endorsement to the many already given in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. For a long time I was troubled by my kidneys and I suffered intensely from backache and pains in my shoulders. Headaches and dizzy spells bothered me and I rested so poorly that when I got up in the morning, I was in no fit condition to begin my work. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills, I immediately got a supply from the John L. Wooten Drug Company and to my delight, they did me a world of good. I can now rest much better at night and my back and kidneys do not bother me."

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS IN GOLD.

Awarded to The Winners Saturday at Munford's Store.

The prize voting contest for $25 in gold, in connection with the special sale at Munford's store, came to a close Saturday evening, and the prizes were awarded in accordance with the number of votes received by the contestants.

The married ladies' prize, $10, to Mrs. Laura Langley, who lives at Pine farm, north of the river. The young ladies' prize, $10, to Miss Mattie Mills, of Black Jack. The child's prize $5, to little Miss Bruce Tucker, daughter of ex-Sheriff L. W. Tucker, of Greenville. It is useless to add that the recipients of these prizes were happy.

The special prices that have prevailed during this sale at Munford's will be continued for two weeks longer, to make room for fall goods, so there is yet opportunity for customers to get the benefit of the unusual bargains.

TOOK LEG BAIL.

William Brown Appropriated Money Order—Arrested, but Escapes.

United States Commissioner King didn't give William Brown, colored, a hearing Wednesday on the charge of getting a letter from the post office addressed to another William Brown, and using the money order found therein, for the reason that William took leg bail Saturday night. Being brought before Mr. King late Saturday the case was continued to Wednesday. While the officer was getting his hat, with his back turned, William slipped out and the officer just saw him as he landed down the steps, sprawling flat upon the sidewalk. The fall ought to have knocked the life out of him, but he got up and burned the wind.

DEMONSTRATION WORK

ABOUT WINTER COVER CROPS.

State Agent Hudson Offers Timely Suggestions on These.

A winter cover crop is one of the most important factors in southern farming, especially hill farming. A system of poor farming has so greatly exhausted the humps in the majority of the fields as to make it well nigh impossible to prevent their further depletion by the heavy rains of winter and early spring, which carry off much of the valuable elements left, onto the bottoms, and into the streams. Nature, always resourceful, has furnished certain plants which may be used to restore the depleted soils. These winter cover crops will hold our loose soils in place, and where sufficient growth is obtained, can be turned under to add humus to the soil. The sand hills and other loose soils can largely be prevented from leaching if heavy cover crops are turned under for a few years. The statement may be verified by taking new land where the plant roots and vegetable mold are still in it, or the same may be found in sod land where run to pasture for a series of years and brought back into cultivation. No washing occurs here after the heaviest rains. A good cover crop will not only prevent washing and add humus to the soil, but if clovers or vetches are used there will be nitrogen collected from the air and stored in the soil during winter, as peas and beans do in summer. The plants most suitable for cover crops are rye, vetch, crimson and bur clover. Conditions, of course, must determine which to use.

Rye.

Rye is one of the old standard winter cover crops and has been used very extensively in some sections. It has the advantage in that it is generally known, is easily planted, will grow almost at any season, will grow on the poorest soils, seed are usually cheap, and it does not require extra care in the way of inoculation as is the case with the legumes. It can be sown in the middles of the corn or cotton at last cultivation or if not convenient to sow at this time it can be done a little later in the fall. When sown early it gives a better cover for the soil and also some good grazing for the stock. Where practicable, however, as would be on the corn land, it is better to turn under stalks and other growth and plant rye on good seed bed. It is also a good plan where the soil will grow it, to mix vetch with the rye, about one bushel of rye to one-fourth bushel of vetch, using a bushel of the mixture per acre. It is better to drill seed, especially where planted in middles of corn or cotton. It is claimed that the variety known as Abruzzes, which was imported by the Agricultural Department, is best suited to South Carolina and adjacent states. There are other good native varieties which can be had at a fair price.

Oats.

Oats may be used instead of rye in many instances, and the same general rule for preparation, planting, and after treatment, may be followed as for rye. One-half to two and one-half bushels of seed should be used per acre when planted alone; one-half bushels and one-fourth bushel of the vetch when combined. Rust-proof oat seed gives the best results in nearly every part of the South. Unless the ary to furnish the rye and oat crop to get sufficient growth for the most valuable cover crop. Stable manure applied broadcast at time of planting is good for this, or the following per acre. Acid phosphate 150 pounds; cotton seed meal 150 pounds; and muriate of potash 30 pounds, thoroughly mixed and applied at time of planting.

Clovers and Vetch.

Until lands become more fertile and adapted to these crops, the best satisfaction with them can be obtained only by making a good preparation and by giving some special care in seeding and inoculating the soil.

Preparation.

Turn a few inches deeper than it has been previously plowed. If there is no rain, after this, before time of planting, a roller should be run to firm the seed bed. These crops can be sown in both corn and cotton middles where clean by scattering seed broadcast and running sweep or cultivator lightly to cover. Entire success, however, need not be looked for by this method of seeding, though some splendid results were reported from it last season. The corn lands can be put in fine condition by using a cut-away or disc harrow to cut stalks and turn top soil. Sow seed and cover with tooth harrow.

Fertilizers.

The clovers and vetch will need fertilizers to get satisfactory early growth. For this purpose stable manure stands first as it not only adds fertility but carries the bacterial inoculation so essential on soils first planted to these crops. An application at time of sowing of 300 pounds 16 per cent acid, 25 pounds muriate potash, and 75 pounds cotton seed meal or dried blood per acre will be good. The addition of the small amount of nitrogenous fertilizer will aid in giving the young plants a vigorous start. When there happens to be any acidity of the soil, air-slacked lime at the rate of 1,000 pounds, per acre, should be applied at time of preparation.

Time for Sowing

The best time for sowing crimson or bur clover is just as early in the fall as danger of summer killing of young plants is past—not later than September first. Vetch can be sown much later, though the earlier planting does better.

Amount of Seed.

About 20 pounds of crimson clover seed per acre should be used; 30 pounds bur clover in bur, or 15 pounds cleaned seed; 15 pounds vetch seed when sown with 1 bushel oats which plan is always best if the soil is good enough to allow it, 30 pounds is sown alone. Bur clover will be found to grow better as a rule from the seed planted without hulling. The inoculating germ appears to be carried with the bur. All clover seed should be covered lightly; use roller if the soil is dry at planting time.

Inoculation.

To get a satisfactory crop of crimson clover, bur clover, or vetch the first year, the soil must be inoculated. Stable manure apparently does this in some localities but the safest plan is to procure soil from a few inches below the surface, where the bacteria are more numerous, from a field which has already grown the crop, scattering broadcast over the newly planted acre. Two or three bushels per acre will answer, while more would be better.

The United States Department of Agriculture will furnish inoculating material free for any of these crops, to any who make application, full instructions as to the use being sent. It

TRUE FOR EDUCATION

ADOPTS STRONG RESOLUTIONS.

Report of Educational Committee at

That the Farmers Union of North Carolina rings true in the matter of better education, is shown by the strong resolutions, published below, that were adopted at the recent State Convention held in Salisbury.

Your committee on education asks leave to submit the following report:

First. We feel that the union has cause to rejoice over the fact that it has been helpful in widening and deepening an interest in industrial and technical education in our state. Our union holds that farm boys and farm girls have an indisputable right not only to education in the general branches of the ordinary curriculum, but to the specific instructions that will fit them to excel on the farm and in the farm home, and enable them to live in greater comfort, intellectual enjoyment and in greater wealth. We hold that education properly directed will accomplish these things, and call on the members of the locals and on the county organizations to strive mightily to place such an education within the reach of every North Carolina child.

Second. By the aid of our union, a law enabling each county that so desired it, to establish a farm life school, was framed by the last legislature. Two counties have already taken advantage of this law and several other counties are now waging campaigns to establish such schools. We ask this convention to enjoin all its officers and members to join heartily in these campaigns and put these invaluable schools on a permanent basis. We also recommend that this convention re-affirm its belief that all our rural schools should teach the fundamental principles of good farming and domestic science to our children and urge its members in each county to see that this is done. We also urge that room be made in our schools for these subjects by such economy of time in other subjects as will leave time for these branches that are so vital to young people who are to live on the farm, and that in whatever subjects it be possible, text books especially adapted to rural needs be used.

Third. We recommend as the sense of this body that every effort be made to employ for the instruction of our children the very best equipped teachers that can be found, and that salaries large enough to command such teachers be paid.

Fourth. Since under our school law the county superintendent of schools can either make or mar the efficiency of our schools, we recommend that this officer be employed for the whole of his time; that he devote his entire strength to this office, and that if possible, he be a tent teachers are needed for the teaching of agriculture in our rural life schools and in common schools, we recommend that the institutions which are fitting such teachers be authorized to give them free tuition, provided they obligate themselves to teach for at least two years.

Sixth. We ask that our school officers and our members heartily cooperate with the United States government in its conduct of corn clubs for our boys and of canning clubs for our girls.

Seventh. The value of scientific and intensive farming, as taught in farm life schools and agricultural colleges, has been fully demonstrated this year in the general drought that has prevailed throughout the state, good crops being the result where these methods have been employed. We, therefore, commend these practices to the farmers of our state.

Eight Thousand Beggars Pick up $10,000 A Day in New York.

New York is the beggar's paradise. In that great hive of the old rich, the new rich, and the get-rich-quick he cannot go wrong. If he cares to work steadily and industriously at his graft (old gypsy cant word for trade or craft), he can easily "earn" $3 or $6 a day. If he is "sloightful"—arrested—for begging, he is merely transported to a pretty, greenwarded island, swept by harbor breezes, where he sleeps in Father Kinckerbocker's bed for five or ten nights and lives like a fighting cock on three good meals a day. Thence he emerges refreshed and resumes his graft. Easy? Too easy. It's really a shame to take the money. The work is play; the sort of theatrical play we all instinctively love; to twist the face into a tragic mask, to enact the part of a long-suffering victim of ill-luck, to start this victim's heartstrings all-a-flutter with sympathy—and then to accept the victim's money with the air of a proud and patient martyr. 'Tis rare sport indeed.

Not one word of this wrong is about the deserving poor. God forbid. But one does not find the deserving poor posing in the street for alms. They hide their want and sorrow; they starve in secret; their tragedy becomes known only when the coroner reports—unless by rare chance some tireless seeker has discovered the case through search in a poor neighborhood. Indeed, the curious thing is that of the army of 7,000 or 8,000 street beggars who pick up $30,000 or $40,000 a day in the metropolis, the vast majority have drifted in from distant states. The estimate of the number of these panhandlers is by James Forbes, secretary of the National Association for the Prevention of Mendicancy. He knows. He has studied these beggars for years, not with the cold curiosity of the scientist, but with a lively human sympathy and understanding. And here's a miracle—he has actually persuaded some of the gentry to go to work, at which they can earn far less than they could make at the graft. So much can wisdom and kindness do in arousing the sense of self-respect long dormant, or perhaps never before felt, in these people of the pavement. But the few who have turned to genuine labor are but a corporal's squad as compared with the grand army still grafting.—(William Inglis, in Harper's Weekly.)

Couldn't Walk!

"I used to be troubled with a weakness peculiar to women," writes Mrs. Anna Jones, of Kenny, Ill. "For nearly a year, I could not walk, without holding my sides. I tried several different doctors, but I grew worse. Finally, our druggist advised Cardui for my complaint. I was so thin, my weight was 115. Now, I weigh 163, and I am never sick. I ride horseback as good as ever. I am in fine health at 52 years."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

We have thousands of such letters, and more are arriving daily. Such earnest testimony from those who have tried it, surely proves the great value of this vegetable, tonic medicine, for women.

Cardui relieves women's sufferings, and builds weak women up to health and strength. If you are a woman, give it a trial. It should help you, for it has helped a million others. It is made from pure, harmless, herb ingredients, which act promptly and surely on the womanly organs. It is a good tonic. Try it! Your druggist sells it.

HIGHEST IN ELEVEN YEARS.

Percentage Condition of The Cotton Crop.

The New York Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin says: Replies from 1,945 special correspondences of The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin of an average date of July 23 make the percentage condition of cotton 86.9, the highest in the eleven years of the special reports of this paper. This compares with 85.9 per cent a month ago, or a rise of 1 point and 7.7 points above the ten-year average of 79.2. As a rule reports were of a highly satisfactory nature and it is only in North Carolina, Mississippi, Louisiana and Oklahoma that cotton has lost from its high condition of last month. The deterioration in Louisiana was 5 points, where too much rain and the fear of boll weevil caused considerable apprehension; the other states suffered but little. South Carolina gained 2.5 points, Georgia, 1.1 points, Alabama, 0.8 points; Texas, 4.2 points; Arkansas, 3.9 points; and Tennessee, 4.9 points.

Dominion Trap Shooters.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 2.—The eleventh annual tournament of the Dominion of Canada Trap Shooting association is being shot off here under conditions that promise one of the most successful competitions in the history of the association. Tomorrow will be the big day of the tournament, when the events will include the individual championships and the Grand Canadian handicap, in addition to a number of team competitions.

POLITICS and POLITICIANS.

The League of Republican Clubs of Ohio will meet at Cleveland, August 19.

Kentucky Democrats will meet in Louisville, August 15, to formulate a candidate for the seat of Congressman George W. Norris.

Winfield T. Durbin, former governor of Indiana, intends to enter the race for the Republican nomination for governor again next year.

Maine has had state-wide prohibition since 1854—statutory from 1854 to 1884, and constitutional since 1884.

Walter Clyde Jones, a member of the Illinois senate, has announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor next year.

Immediately after congress adjourns Senators Martin and Swanson of Virginia, will return home to begin active campaigns for their reelection.

Maryland has a spirited three-cornered fight on for the Democratic nomination for governor, the contestants being Gov. Crothers, State Senator Arthur P. Gorman and State Senator Blair Lee.

President Taft has planned for the fall a trip to Wisconsin, home of Senator La Follette, who is spoken of as a candidate for the presidential nomination against Mr. Taft next year.

The Republican State committee of West Virginia will meet in Charleston on September 20, at which time it is likely a decision will be reached on the question of nominating the next State ticket by a State-wide primary.

It is an odd fact that all four of the Smiths in the United States senate—John Walter Smith of Maryland, William Alden Smith of Michigan, Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina and Hoke Smith of Georgia—have been elected to succeed senators who have died.

J. E. Swearinger, State superintendent of education for South Carolina, is mentioned as the possible successor of his uncle, Benjamin Ryan Tillman, in the United States senate. Mr. Swearinger has been prominent in public affairs in South Carolina for many years, notwithstanding the fact that he is totally blind.

Arkansas politicians are awaiting with much interest, not unmixed with impatience, the definite announcement of Governor Donaghey as to whether he will be a candidate for a third term as governor or make the race for United States senator against Jeff Davis, whose successor it to be chosen by the next legislature.

Governor John Burke, who is completing his third term as chief executive of North Dakota has given his friends to understand that when he quit the governorship he will retire to private life and resume the practice of law. Governor Burke is regarded as one of the most able and successful leaders the Democratic party in

BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS PROSPER

Nineteenth Annual Convention Opens Today.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 2.—Delegates from every section of the country, and representing a membership of two millions and total assets of about $800,000,000, were present at the opening here today of the nineteenth annual convention of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations. The opening session this morning, following the welcoming address and responses, was devoted to committee appointments and the annual reports of the several officers. These reports showed that the local building and loan associations have, during the past year, shared the general prosperity of the country and have done the largest business in their history. At the subsequent sessions, which will continue over tomorrow, the league will discuss numerous questions relating to the protection and promotion of building association interests. Heading the list of speakers is Dr. Charles Prand, of Paris, head of the Bureau of Assurance and Social Providence of the French government, who will be heard on the subject of "Co-operation as Applied to Home Purposes in Europe." Among the other scheduled speakers are F. N. Penniston, of Hancock, Mich.; Arthur H. Murdock, of Omaha; John C. Butterfield, of Jersey City; C. A. Royse, of Terre Haute; E. L. Kessler, of Charlotte; Clay W. Holmes, of Elmira; Charles Werno, of Chicago, and P. L. Proffit, of Monro, La. Address B. Burke, of Philadelphia, is slated for election to the presidency of the league.

Mr. Sugg is one of Greenville's best young men and very popular. He is auditor of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company, and also secretary and treasurer of The Reflector Company. His bride is one of the teachers of Greenville graded school, a most charming young lady, and exceedingly popular in both Kinston and Greenville.

They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Watermelon Party.

On Tuesday evening Misses Susie and Myrtle Warren gave a watermelon party in honor of their guests, Misses Kathleen and Leone Herbert, of Morehead City. The attendants upon the party, some over a hundred, gathered at one of the downtown drug stores and went in a body to a grove across the river bridge, where Japanese lanterns were hung, and a watermelon feast spread. It was a unique entertainment and much enjoyed by the many participants.

SIMPSON ITEMS.

What is Going On In That Section.

SIMPSON, N. C., Aug. 1, 1911.—Miss Carrie Manning of Parmele is visiting Miss Helen Wootton.

Mr. J. M. Cox has returned home from a farmers' convention at Salisbury. He reported a nice time and says he also visited the penitentiary.

Messrs Mason Edwards, C. O. Elks and H. Cannon have returned home after visiting Norfolk and Richmond.

Miss Lizzie Cox spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Leona Tucker.

There was quite a number of people at the Simpson ball grounds Saturday, P. M., to witness a ball game between Winterville and Grimesland.

It was hard to say which set of rooters did the most rooting, but Winterville won. The score stood 12 to 4 in favor of Winterville.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

OREGON TO CELEBRATE

Visitors From all of the Pacific States and from Canada.

ASTORIA, Ore., August 2.—One week hence there will be inaugurated here the Astoria Centennial Carnival for which preparations on an elaborate scale have been going forward for more than a year and are now practically completed. The carnival festivities will extend over an entire month and will embrace a wide variety of attractions. The management is in receipt of advices indicating the attendance of thousands of visitors from all of the Pacific States and from Canada and the East as well. The celebration is to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the arrival on the Pacific coast of the expedition sent from New York by John Jacob Astor. The expedition resulted in the settlement of Astoria, which gave the United States its strongest claim to the Oregon country, and also marked a chapter of American heroism and suffering that has first place in the daring annals of exploration. The little group of huts erected by the fur-traders and explorers was named Astoria in honor of the promoter of the expedition and formed the first permanent settlement in this part of the country. Though the British took possession of Astoria Port in the war of 1812 and renamed the place to Fort George, the place was restored to America after the treaty of peace with American claims of settlement unimpaired.

It Has A Heart.

The Wilmington Dispatch makes this statement and comment:

"The North Carolina Public Service company, of Greensboro, appears from a far to be one big corporation with a heart. This concern has come forward and offered to supply free to any needy sick person in its city electric fans and electric service for same during the hot weather months. It has made the offer in a broad manner, writing a letter to such effect to the physicians of Greensboro, and will even run wires for the service free of charge. It is a thoughtful, generous Christian act."

The Dispatch truly says it is a thoughtful, generous, Christian act, and it is a pleasure to record the fact. The public press usually finds—or thinks it finds—so much about all sorts of corporations to knock and complain of that an instance like this one is, indeed, refreshing. It is good, also, to know that at least some of the newspapers are broad enough and sufficiently free from prejudice to recognize an act that has heart in it, and to bestow praise where praise is due.—Greensboro News.

OUR WEEKLY LETTER FROM WASHINGTON

THE PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE.

Republican Administration Afraid of Light Being Turned On.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Another step toward carrying out campaign pledges was taken by the majority of the house of representatives when it adopted a cotton schedule which greatly reduces the tax on all kinds of cotton goods.

If the Republican senate and President Taft will permit the bill to become a law, the public will be assured of substantial reductions in prices. The bill is so framed as to be a particular boon to the poor, for the greatest reductions are made on cottons used by the middle classes and the poor. This feature of the Democratic bill is in particularly striking contrast to the Payne-Aldrich law, which levies the lowest rates on the grades of cottons used by the wealthy and the highest tax on the cottons used by the poor.

Democrats Oppose Taft Censorship.

An important measure pending before congress is House Resolution No. 5970, introduced by Congressman James T. Lloyd, of Missouri. The measure is aimed particularly at the action of the Taft administration in prohibiting postal employees from organizing, and the still more remarkable Taft policy of denying civil service employees the right to petition congress, or even to give members of congress information until it has first been censored by their superiors.

The constitution guarantees to every citizen of the United States the right to petition congress.

The Lloyd resolution occupies the novel role, therefore, of having for its purpose the restoration to government employees of rights they are entitled to under the constitution, but which rights have been taken away from them by the president in his desperate effort to prevent a further leakage of information injurious to the Republican party such as occurred in the Ballinger case.

Dr. Wiley's Goat.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, storm petrel between food dopers and the Taft administration, has been a militant government chemist for 23 years. Packers of embalmed beef are arrayed against him because of his fight against the use of benzoate of soda. Benzoate increases the profits of embalmed beef packers because it will "restore" and preserve meats that have become putrescent. The cost of manufacture of bologna and sausage may be materially reduced by using water and cereals. Water costs nothing and cereal is cheaper than meat. The result is a cheapening of the product and a lowering of the food value. But when water and cereal is used the meat begins to sour. It is to prevent his souring process that the benzoate of soda may be used. Chemists declare benzoate is of no earthly use to the manufacturer who puts pure food upon the market.

Dr. Wiley also fought the bleached flour interests to the last ditch. He exposed the injurious colorings used in candies sold to children. He stubbornly opposed the use of sulphur as a fruit preservative. He secured the removal of the tax on denatured alcohol. He exposed frauds without Speaker Champ Clark believes that the United States should grant independence to the Philippines, "both for their good and our own." Furthermore, Mr. Clark advocates early action on the subject. This is in contrast to the attitude of President Taft, who takes his position the Philippines should not be given independence "within the time of the present generation," which the Philippines interpret a meaning never.

Here is what Speaker Clark recently wrote to a friend on the subject: "The Philippines should be given their independence guaranteed by the United States and such other powers as are willing to join us. If no other powers are willing to join us, I think our own guarantee would be sufficient but I am for freeing them regardless of what the other powers do. My friend Judge Cline, of Indiana, has introduced a bill providing for their independence. I think we will pass it next winter, and then it will be up to the senate and the president."

Why Not a Roosevelt Investigation?
During the present auditing by the Democratic house of the Republican administrations for the last decade, it wouldn't be out of place to look into the Roosevelt-Harriman episode. The late railroad king raised $200,000 at Roosevelt's request to save New York for the Republicans in the Roosevelt Parker campaign.

About Railroads.

Thirty years ago the United States had 92,000 miles of railroad; today it has 240,000 miles. The capital stock then was $2,709,000,000; not it is $8,380,000,000. The bonded debt has risen from $2,530,000,000 to $9,600,000,000. The aggregate capitalization, which then was $5,402,000,000, is now $18,890,000,000 or $78,714 per mile, against $58,634 in 1880. The dividends paid have been poor. Up to 1887 they were above 2 per cent but from 1888 to 1900 they were between 1 1/2 per cent and 2 per cent. Since then there has been improvement, though 3 3/4 per cent has never been quite reached. The average rate received for carrying a ton of freight one mile was 1.225 cents in 1883, as contrasted with only 0.753 cents in 1910.

RAILROAD TAX VALUATION.

corporation Commission Raises The Assessments.

The tax valuation of railroad property in North Carolina is raised by the Corporation Commission through the quadrennial reassessment just completed from $86,780,115 to $115,296,84. The total mileage is 4,576 as compared with 4,424 included in the previous assessment.

The Atlantic Coast Line assessment raised from $28,434,900 to $32,995,57, the assessment to the mile being $4,821, whereas it was formerly $30,000 a mile. The mileage is 947.57. The Seaboard Air Line assessment raised from $12,500,000 to $17,500,00, this being $29,075.56 a mile on 1.88 miles. The former assessment as $20,268.84.

The Southern Railway assessment owned and leased lines is advanced from $34,073,201 to $46,641,76, the mileage being 1,333.08.

The Southern owns 590 miles on which the assessment is raised from 7,701,800 to $23,602,400, the assessment to the mile being increased from $30,000 to $40,004.06. The Southern operates 743.08 miles of leased lines and the assessments of these are raised from $16,371,401 to $3,039,296. Especially notable among these lines are the North Carolina railroad, assessment raised from $10,376,2 to $15,636,703; Atlantic & Adkin, increased from $1,610,800 to $1,800,000; Atlanta & Charlotte Air line, increased from $1,443,737 to $2,000,000; North Carolina Midland, from $883,080 to $1,100,000; Asheville & Craggy Mountain, and Asheville & Southern, Tallulah Falls & Adkin Railroads retain former assessments unadvanced; State University road increased from $25,049 to $30,420.

Forty-nine miscellaneous railroads having 1,694 miles of track are advanced in assessment from $11,772,14 to $18,092,421. The Norfolk Southern is advanced from $4,021,015 to $5,303,250, the Atlantic & North Carolina division from $1,233,500 to $1,479,055; Norfolk & Western from $534,544 to $1,959; Winston-Salem Southbound assessed at $1,973,000 with 87.72 miles at $22,500 a mile; Raleigh & Southport advanced from $202,500 to $375,000; Durham & Charlotte, unchanged, $128,885; Durham & Southern advanced from $75,000 to $1,217,899; Ashe and East Tennessee, unchanged, $23,850; Durham & South Carolina, unchanged, $37,500; Louisville & Nashville, unchanged, $79,260; C. C. & O. from $8,750 to $33,000; Carolina & North-eastern from $591,000 to $837,769.

NEGRO HIDING UNDER BED.
Discovered by Young Lady and Frightened Away.

Considerable excitement was occasioned in West Greenville, about 10 o'clock Sunday night, by the discovery of a negro hid under the bed in the room of a young lady. The family to whose home the incident occurred spent some time after supper on the front porch, and about 9:30 went to retire. The young lady went up stairs to her room, exchanged her dress for a wrapper and began writing a letter. Soon she detected an unusual odor in the room that was pronounced she began an investigation. Looking under the bed she saw a negro crouched there. The young lady ran out into the hall, closing the door after her and screamed. Her father hurried up stairs to her assistance, but before he reached the room the negro had rushed through a window, jumped off the front porch and made his escape. Foot prints where the negro struck the ground and ran off showed that he was barefooted. The tracks were followed to the railroad where the trail was lost.

THEY SAW THE WATER SPOUT.

And Call The Reflector To Task For Lack of Faith in Seaside Story.

Mr. J. L. Wooten, who was at Beaufort last week, gave The Reflector man a gentle chiding for poking fun at the five water spouts in one afternoon reported from Morehead City. He says the five water spouts were a reality, for he saw them distinctly from Beaufort. One of them a whopper in size, big enough to have swamped any ship in the harbor had it been in the way, but the other four were small. Mr. J. B. Kittrell backs Mr. Wooten up, for he was at Morehead at the time and saw the same five water spouts, getting a two mile nearer and better view than did Mr. Wooten. The Reflector yields the point and accepts all five of the water spouts.

FREIGHT TRAIN STRIKES AUTO.

Occupants Bruised And Machine Badly Wrecked.

This afternoon Mr. L. H. Pender, who lives in West Greenville, had started back down town in an automobile belonging to Mr. W. B. Higson. He had just run down the hill from his home to the A. C. L. railroad crossing on Fourth street, and the freight train from the north coming along then struck the automobile and threw it down the embankment. A little son of Mr. H. D. Bateman was in the automobile with Mr. Pender, and while both of them were bruised, neither was seriously hurt. The machine was quite badly wrecked.

When the Operator Says "Line Busy."

When the operator gives you the "busy" report it does not necessarily mean that some one is talking over the telephone called. The line may be busy when there is no one in office or house and when there is no possible way for the telephone to be actually in use.

It may be that some one is trying to call the same telephone, and should you or anyone else call at that time the operator would get the "busy" signal and so report. Oftentimes servants use the telephone or answer calls when no member of the family is at home, and in such cases the "busy" report is given.

The line is "busy" on a duplex station if either telephone on the line is in use. The line is "busy" on a straight line telephone when the extension station is in use.

The "busy" report is a source of annoyance to many telephone users who do not understand that the line can be busy if no one is trying to get the number, even if it is known that there is nobody at home.

We'd like to have you bear these things in mind, particularly during these hot months, when all of us are annoyed by the heat and easily exasperated.

We are taking proper precautions to make our service as near perfect as possible. Our operators are co-operating with us.

We'd like your co-operation, too.

Watching Motion Pictures.

The threat of the striking bakers to fight their employers by revealing through the medium of motion pictures the view of a large bakery in operation suggests a "sociological" use for this device and marks its progress into one of the fields of which its inventor recently spoke. Mr. Edison looks for the best results of the motion picture as a pedagogical in the public schools.

What would follow the introduction of motion pictures into the schools as a means of education? Children would undeniably be interested in such a novel method of learning a lesson. There would be no tedium connected with this phase of the day's work. How long this interest would continue is not nearly so assured, but familiarity with the motion pictures would deprive them of that element of entertainment once sufficiently strong to attract children into the halls. If the exhibitors are still to profit after the motion pictures are introduced into the schools it will be necessary for them to offer something very different from the program arranged for the children at work.

It may be that the National Board of Censorship will be compelled to interfere with the efforts of the exhibitors to put forward pictures that shall be sufficiently sensational to attract spectators to whom the pictures have become a matter of daily school routine.

It is due to the efforts of the National Board of Censorship that the pictures have been made inoffensive from a moral point of view. The eliminate vulgarity and bad taste has proved impossible, otherwise the picture of a drowning man could not have been shown in public. In case motion pictures are ever made a part of the curriculum of the public schools a rigid and efficient scrutiny will be more necessary than ever.—New York Sun.

The Modern Way.

"Will you allow me to ask you a question?" interrupted a man in the audience.

"Certainly, sir," said the lecturer. "You have given us a lot of figures about immigration, increase of wealth, the growth of trusts and all that," said the man. "Let's see what you know about figures yourself. How do you find the greatest common divisor?"

"Slowly and deliberately the orator took a glass of water.

Then he pointed his finger straight at the questioner. Lightning flashed from his eyes, and he replied in a voice that the gas jets quiver:

"Advertise for it, you ignoramus!" The audience cheered and yelled and stamped, and the wretched man who had asked the question crawled out of the hall a total wreck.—Tit Bits.

PITT COUNTY FARMERS EDUCATIONAL MEETING

DISCUSS INTERESTING MATTERS

Large Attendance of Farmers From All Sections.

A large number of farmers from all sections of the county were here today to attend the educational institute that had been arranged by Congressman John H. Small. Owing to the lack of sufficiently large hall for such a crowd, the auditorium of the Training school was kindly tendered for the use of the farmers and the meeting was held there.

The meeting was called to order by Senator R. R. Cotten and Congressman Small spoke first on the purpose of these educational meetings for farmers and the benefit to be derived from them.

Mr. A. G. Smith, of the government agricultural department, was introduced and spoke on the subject of "Drainage." He especially pointed out the need of lands being well drained, the expense attached to open ditches and the far greater advantage it would be in the saving of both time and expense by a good system of under drainage. Every farm can and should have a complete system of drainage. It is a problem the farmers must work out for themselves without looking for the government to drain their lands for them. A neighborhood or district drainage outlet, with a system of tilling emptying in to this, was recommended as providing the best drainage for the farm.

The farmers manifested much interest in what Mr. Smith said on this important subject.

Prof. C. L. Goodwin was next introduced and spoke on the control of fertility and products. He showed that conditions are largely in the hands of the farmers and they can largely increase the yield of their crops by the proper soil fertility. The root of a plant is its most important part, therefore is entitled to most attention. The work of making a crop should be done in the soil down where the roots of the plant must develop and give sustenance to that which comes above ground.

The soil must be well supplied with plant food if the plant is to produce bountifully. The roots of the plant must have air and water and humus must be retained in the soil, and these can be largely controlled by the method of cultivation and the proper use of cover crops. This address was also exceedingly interesting.

This afternoon there was an address by Prof. I. O. Schaub on farm demonstration work, followed by Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt on good roads and the organization of a county good roads association. Owing to the lateness of the hour of the afternoon meeting fuller reference to it cannot be made today.

YOUTHS CHARGED WITH MURDER

Immediately After The Crime They Visited Birmingham.

GADSDEN, Ala., Aug. 10.—Luther Thompson, Joseph Saulsbury, Wiley Goforth and C. F. Curvin, each of whom belongs to a respectable family in this section, were given a preliminary hearing today on the charge of murdering Nicholas Shentzen, the German hermit miner who was robbed and killed at Altoona several weeks ago. The murder was one of the most atrocious in the history of this country. The victim was beaten to death the night before he had intended leaving for his old home in Germany. The body, decapitated, was hidden under his cabin where it was found the following day. Immediately after the murder the four youths suspected of the crime visited Birmingham and are said to have spent considerable money. Within a day or two they disappeared. Two of the quartette were found in Shelby county and the other two were arrested in Arkansas.

Has a Copy of Mohammedan Koran.

Mr. J. R. Abe-younis showed us Tuesday afternoon a copy of the Mohammedan Koran, which he has at his store. It is the first copy of this great book the writer ever saw, and doubtless few, if any, of our readers have seen one. It is made by hand throughout, the paper being hand-made rice product, and the plates from which it is printed are all made from hand copy, decorated. Its cover is of the lapped style beautifully embellished with gold.

Another Man Dead.

It is rumored that another colored man was found dead in a ditch near Chocowinity, Tuesday evening, supposed to have been one in the row that took place on the excursion train coming from New Bern to Greenville.

The excursion train left here about 11 o'clock Tuesday night to return to New Bern, and it is said another row occurred on the way back in which a colored woman was badly cut.
