

ANOTHER WRITER FROM HANRAHAN

TALKS OF THINGS DOWN THERE.

Says Our Regular Correspondent Don't See What Is Going On.

HANRAHAN, N. C., Aug. 10, 1911.
Editor Reflector:

I really believe that there is something within almost every person that makes us want to see our names in print, or we want to see something in print that we have written. This earnest desire has been denied me, for it really seems that I can't say or do anything that is worthy of notice. If I go to the city the reporter never sees me, and if I stay home and plow your correspondent from this place takes no notice of it.

If I speak in opposition to building good roads and the one who we all think writes from this place hears me, he will say, "Well, what was land worth here before the railroad was built, and what is it worth today?" and I am bound to admit that it is worth ten fold more than it was before the railroad was built. Then he says "How much easier it is for horses to carry a load on good roads than over such as we have today, and who will have the taxes to pay?" Then I am bound to admit that those who own the property will have the burden to bear and that their property will be more than doubled in value if good roads are secured, and I, who don't own any property, will not have half as much burden to bear as I have now in meeting on the roads pretending to work, when really little good is done. But there are a few who can't exactly see things as I am beginning to see them now.

I tell you the honest truth, Mr. Editor, I did say some right rough things about that Training school, and for a while I thought your correspondent from this place would do more towards pleasing the people if he had said things hard about it, and I told him so, but he never says very much unless you get him wound up and then he just defends a principal that he knows is right if the world were to oppose him. When I gave him my idea about that Training school he just showed me the great benefit it is to every lady, and especially to the children that are growing up to be trained for life's work by giving them competent teachers. So I have come over on that side and that is why I am asking space of you.

Your correspondent has not been saying enough about the progress our community is making. Sir, for fifteen years I have known this community, and there was not even a Sunday school in it and now for nearly two years, without an intermission for summer or winter, we have had a Sunday school that would do credit to any community. And still your regular correspondent says nothing about it. We all think that the one who writes from here is the superintendent of the Sunday school. So I guess that is the reason he never mentions the work that is being done along this line. But I am a looker-on, so I tell you, it would do you good to come some Sunday at 4 p. m., and see what a Sunday school our country people can have because we are all united on this one thing. Get in your automobile and come some Sunday afternoon. I don't believe it would scare us much, and if it did, we had as well begin to get used to it, for soon we will see them everywhere, even at Hanrahan. But our house is too small to hold our congregation or the children that attend school here and must be enlarged. So we sent the "Bigone" (everybody in this community knows that is W. S. McLawhorn) up to see the board of education to see if they could enlarge it for us, but they said they had let us have all that they could when they built the neat house that we have. Our people, one and all, say that we must have a larger house, so they are just chipping in work, material and some money, and we are going to enlarge any way. Now, if any one who reads this feels desirous of helping in a worthy cause, just send your contribution to the postmaster or to W. S. McLawhorn, or to the "Bigone," Hanrahan, N. C., and it will be thankfully received and rightly applied towards enlarging our house. We just must have more house.

Now, Mr. Editor, we wrote you once before, and because we couldn't write as good a hand as the other fellow, or for some other cause, you threw it with the other scrap paper. Please don't do that this time, and if you will send a few sample copies of this issue to the "Big one" he might get you some more subscribers. He is a great talker and takes hold of everything along progressive lines.

UNKNOW.

How He Got The Name.

A negro was in town a few days ago with a load of hay, and forgetting the party's name whom the hay was for, made some inquiry to see if he could in any way get at the name again. He was questioned in the matter, and being asked what the name sounded like, replied, "It was something like Christmas, Thanksgiving, or the Fourth of July," whereupon his questioner replied "It must have been Holiday." "Yes, sir, dat's it," replied the darkey.

Drought Killed Trees.

One of the effects of the drought of 1911 just becoming apparent is the number of trees showing dead brown leaves. Almost every piece of woodland to be seen is spotted with these trees. The oak seems to have been less able to stand the drought than any other variety of tree. The destruction of the trees from this cause is said to have been heavier in Anson than in any other county in the state, though Cabarrus lost heavily. —Charlotte Chronicle.

Will Add County Census.

Mr. H. T. King is compiling a condensed report of the population of Pitt county, as shown by the last census, which will be added as a supplement page to his History of Pitt County, which he recently published in book form. This will make his book practically complete. As has been said before in these columns, every citizen ought to have a copy of this history.

"Weber"

King of all Farm Wagons.

The man who uses Weber wagons will use no other. His judgment is good. Why not follow his advice? We have a Weber wagon awaiting your inspection. If you want to save yourself money, investigate. For sixty-six years the Weber has been the pride of all users. Use one and let it be your pride. We have literature concerning this wagon that we want you to call for. Call to-day. Let us talk over the wagon proposition. If you don't buy, you will know the merits of the Weber wagon and will be in position to know a good wagon when you see it. Get a Weber and you will get the rest. We have what you want. We will be glad to see you any time.

BIG RAT KILLING ON THE FARM

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN CROPS.

Thinks The Picnic Dinner Not A Good Idea.

AYDEN, N. C., Aug. 15, 1911.
Editor Reflector:

It is now just one month since the drought was broken in our immediate locality. On the 12th of July we had a very good rain and on the 13th I went to your town, Mr. Editor, and on the way noticed it had rained very little with you, and for some distance out toward our home. Before I got back home I was caught in the rain near at home and it proved to be a right large rain. From that time down to now we have had from one to two big rains each week, with the exception of one week. We had some tobacco to get drowned. The water in our hog lot well rose three or four feet and is now plentiful. So it was a little strange to us to see so much in the papers about the scarcity of water in Charlotte and Raleigh just at the time we were having an excess. We see from friend A. J. M's letter in last week's paper that he must not have had the rain we have.

Our crops have improved wonderfully and we are now housing a much better crop of tobacco than we have had for two or three years. I don't mean to say it is good, but better than for the two or three previous years, on account of so much rain for those years.

Think friend Moye better abandon the dinner idea in connection with the fair, as it will make a handicap to the ladies who have to prepare it and there will be too many interested in the dinner and not the fair. I think farmers make a mistake of spreading big dinners to the public because the harvest looks favorable.

I and the two boys had quite a little fun a few days since rounding up and killing rats. The corn pile got pretty delicate in the barn, and it looked like the rats got hungry and were trying to eat it all up. So I called the boys up and we had a rat killing. We got them all run into a place just under the floor on

NEWS THAT IS OF INTEREST TO TAR HEELS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.

And Briefly Told for The Reflector's Busy Readers.

RALEIGH.—Mr. Job P. Wyatt, a prominent merchant of this city, who cut his throat Friday in a moment of melancholia due to ill health, died this morning at 9:40 o'clock.

ASHEVILLE.—According to W. C. Watts, of Elk Park, in the new county of Avery, the "town" of Newlands has been selected as the county seat of Avery and will soon be laid out for a town. The commissioners were given 65 acres for the site.

GIBSON.—Randolph Rachels, who was helping put up Z. V. Pates' gin-nery at this place, fell from a scaffold and was killed today about 10 o'clock. His head was crushed and neck broken. He was about 24 years old, and leaves a wife and one child.

top of the back sill to the barn, then I had one of the boys to put a piece of wood pump piping at one hole and one boy remained in the barn to run them back from that way while I punched them with a ploe and made them run into the piping. We got ten without much trouble and took the piping and held one end over a barrel with water in it so as to make sure of them as they ran out. But we had to twist them out like twisting a rabbit out of a hollow. We killed some while running up the posts, etc., and wound up with 21 dead, enough to eat corn enough every night to feed one team at least one meal.

Writing about tobacco, I would say I have been making it for 20 years, at least, and have been sitting up with it from midnight 'till day a good part of the time, and in that time have never made but three or four crops that amounted to much. A good crop is seldom made. We have been curing three weeks now and just finished topping our last today. Will be curing three weeks more if the worms don't finish it up before then. W. A. DARDEN.

BEST TO ISSUE BONDS FOR GOOD ROADS

STRONG ARGUMENT IN ITS FAVOR

The Same Road Tax Now Paid Will Provide for The Bonds.

Editor Reflector:

The voters of Greenville township are about to pass upon the question of issuing bonds for the building of sand-clay roads. There has been some tendency to discuss the question with feeling and to enter into personalities. It strikes me that it is entirely a business proposition, and we, as voters, should so consider it.

The question seems to be this: Shall we continue to pay a road tax of 15 cents and have improved roads or shall we pay the same tax and by borrowing $50,000 with a bond issue have a modern road system? The bill makes twenty cents the largest tax that can be levied and provides that there shall be laid aside each year out of this tax a sum sufficient to pay the bonds when they become due.

Experts and practical business men say that the fifteen cents tax now levied and collected, if properly applied, will pay the interest on the bonds, provide a sinking fund and pay the expense of maintaining the roads.

Let every voter figure on the proposition for himself.

We now pay a road tax of fifteen cents, a sand and mud tax of many dollars; and we can borrow the money and use it to pay back the amount borrowed with everything to gain for the community.

The sand-clay road is a permanent improvement, is cheaper, and for all purposes is regarded as equal to the macadam road.

WILLIAMSTON POLICEMAN SHOT FROM AMBUSH

DIES OF WOUND AN HOUR LATER

Negro Named Brad Bagley Charged With The Murder.

A telephone message from Williamston to The Reflector gives particulars of a murder which occurred in that town Tuesday night. While on his way home about 9 o'clock, Chief of Police W. R. White, was shot from ambush and died about an hour later.

People passing saw a negro, named Brad Bagley, run from the scene of the shooting, and he was arrested. A gun was also found that is thought to belong to Bradley. Another strong circumstance against the negro is that Policeman White arrested him about a week ago for selling whiskey, and this is thought to be the reason that Bagley waylaid and shot the officer.

Bagley was placed in jail immediately after his arrest. At first there was much excitement with considerable sentiment to lynch the assassin, but the better temper of the people prevailed and it was deemed best to let the law take its course.

The coroner's inquest and preliminary trial were held today, and Bagley was remanded to jail to await the action of the grand jury at the next term of Superior court.

Seemed to Give Him a new Stomach.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngpeters, Editor of the Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by all dealers.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

Alla Nazimova will appear next season under the management of Charles Frohman in a new play from the French.

The coming season Wm. A. Brady will make two musical productions, "The Violet Widow," by Dorothy Turner, and "The Merry Bachelor," by two well-known writers.

Early in October the first New York production of George Broadhurst's latest play, "Bought and Paid For," will be made, with Charles Richman in the leading male role.

When Wm. A. Brady produces "The Earth" at the Playhouse, New York, Mrs. J. Bernard Fagan, wife of the author, will have a part. The leading role will be played by Grace George.

Ethel Barrymore's first New York engagement in "The Witness for the Defense," will be played at the Empire Theatre, following the season of John Drew. Her leading man will be A. E. Anson.

Wm. Brady has acquired the American rights to "The Gods of the Mountain," a sensational short play by Lord Dunsany, which has been running at the Haymarket Theatre, London, for six months.

In November a new American melodrama will be produced at the Manhattan Opera House, New York. The scenes of the play are laid in New York City and the Far East. There will be more than fifty speaking parts.

Edmund Pollock, an English actor, has been engaged for the role of Dallas Brown in "Seven Days." Mr. Pollock, who will make his first appearance in this country in that play, is a brother of Allan Pollock, the original Dallas Brown.

Mrs. Annie Pixley, the mother of Gus Pixley and the late Annie Pixley, died at her home in New York the other day, of old age. In the days when Annie Pixley appeared in "Miss," her mother made it a rule never to miss a performance.

COTTON GOODS OF N. C.

The Census Bureau's Tentative summary For 1910. WASHINGTON, D. C., August 14.—A preliminary statement of the general results of the thirteenth United States census of manufacturers of cotton goods, including cotton small wares, of North Carolina, was issued today by Census Director Durand. It contains a summary comparing the figures for 1904 and 1909 by totals, prepared under the direction of William M. Stewart, chief statistician for manufacturers, bureau of the census. The figures are subject to such revision as may be necessary after a further examination of the original report.

The summary shows percentages of increase as follows: 69 per cent in the capital and in the value added by manufacture; 62 per cent in the salaries and wages; 54 per cent in the value of products; 47 per cent in the cost of materials used; 39 per cent in the number of salaried officials and clerks; 32 per cent in the number of establishments; 30 per cent in the average number of wage earners employed; and 23 per cent in the miscellaneous expenses.

There were 281 establishments in 1909, as compared with 212 in 1904, an increase of 69, or 32 per cent. The value of product in 1909 was $72,680,000 and $47,254,000 in 1904, an increase of $25,426,000 or 54 per cent. The average per establishment was approximately $259,000 in 1909 and about $223,000 in 1904.

The value of product represents their selling value or price at the plants as actually turned out by the factories during the census year, and does not necessarily have any relation to the amount of sales for that year. The value under this head also include the amount received for work done on materials furnished by others.

NECESSITY OF ORGANIC MATTER IN SOIL

MORE GOOD ADVICE TO FARMERS

Methods For Improving The Soil Fertility.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 11.—We do not advise the use of any leguminous crop in the treatment of these poor lands the first season. You will do well to get a good growth of rye on the land and in order to do this you may have to use one or two hundred pounds of some good grade of commercial fertilizer. Begin in the fall. If the land is rather heavy, break it as deeply as your teams can pull it but do not sub-soil. Sow a bushel and a half of rye per acre and use home grown seed if you can possibly get it, at any rate, get seed grown in North Carolina.

In the spring, if the season is good and the rye is growing off nicely, it might be well to clip it when it first comes into head, in order to let it make a second growth. Your main object now is to secure a large amount of vegetable matter to be planted under. Therefore, leave the clippings on the ground while the rye makes its second growth. When the second growth begins to bloom, run a heavy roller over the ground; follow this roller with a good, sharp disc harrow, and disc the land until the rye is cut into bits. Then turn it under as deeply as your teams can pull it, provided, the land is not too wet. The plowing should be about eight inches deep. After plowing, set the disc harrow at a slight angle and run over it another time in order to break clods and pulverize the surface. Let the land lie about a month and seed it to cowpeas, using, if necessary, about 100 pounds of acid phosphate to the acre. When the peas have made their growth, roll and run the disc harrow over them about twice; cut them to pieces and plow them under deeply and let the land lie until it is time to sow rye again. Sow rye and crimson clover after the peas. The following spring treat the rye as you did before—clipping, rolling, discing, plowing. You should clip just before the crimson clover comes into head, or, be sure not to clip the clover when you clip the rye. The second growth is likely to come off about when the clover is ready to turn under. Then roll, disc, and plow as above directed. Now, wait for a good rain and disc the surface twice and prepare to plant corn.

You have now worked this land one year without getting a crop—that is, you began last fall a year ago, planted it to crops this summer and fall, plowed them all under and this spring you are growing corn on a piece of land which perhaps has not been farmed in ten years, and you are going to get more corn off of it this year, in all probability, than you have been getting off of your best acres on other parts of the farm, and you will have done it all by deep plowing and green manuring, with the addition of a little cheap commercial fertilizer. Your land is now brought up. The value has changed from say $5 an acre to $40 an acre for actual farming purposes.

Next week we shall continue this discussion of rye as a green manure, and hope to bring before you some interesting facts which we have not been able to bring out in the above discussion.

MARTIN COUNTY FOR TICKS.

Something to Cap Pitt's Snake Stories.

A man from Martin county came over into a certain section of Pitt the other day, and a discussion arose between him and a Pitt countian as to the merits of the two counties. The Pitt man produced recent copies of The Reflector and showed the visitor the Duldey cow horn snake story and the Fleming snake hen nest story, and was told to go ahead of that if he could.

"Oh, well," remarked the visitor, "we ain't so much on cow's horns, snakes and eggs, but when it comes to cattle ticks, Martin can beat the world. One of my neighbors turned a cow and a calf out to graze. The cow wore a large bell. When the cow did not come up the man went to look for her. He heard the bell, and followed the sound of it to find that a big tick had eaten the cow and was sitting on a stump ringing the bell for the calf to come up and make the next meal."

The Antiquity of Man.

It has been known during a long time that in western Europe a man existed during the glacial epoch. We now know that the great ice age consisted of different glacial times separated by interglacial times. In glacial times the snow line dropped 3,000 or 4,000 feet below its present level in the Alps, whereas in interglacial times it lay about 1,000 feet higher than at present. Thus the temperature seems to have been higher in the interglacial periods than it is now.

There is abundant evidence, in the opening of Penck, that man existed during the beginning of the last glacial epoch. There is some reason for thinking that at least 20,000 years have elapsed since the last glaciation and that the man whose jawbone was found in 1909 near Heidelberg lived 200,000 years ago.—Scientific American.

Escaped With His Life.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin, Port Harrelson, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything I could hear of for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C., for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." Its positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free at all druggists.

If a man found a million dollars it wouldn't be very long before he began grumbling because it wasn't two.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT IN CHARGE OF C. T. COX

Authorized Agent of The Carolina Home and Farm and The Eastern Reflector for Winterville and vicinity
Advertising Rates on Application

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Aug. 12.—Mr. Herbert Cox spent several days this week out of town, much to his sorrow.

Mr. O. W. Rollins, of Ayden, is in town on the sick list. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Harrington, Barber & Company are selling their stock of Torchon laces, val. laces and Hamburg edgings at a greatly reduced price in order to make room for their fall stock.

Rev. C. O. Armstrong is holding a series of meetings in the Free Will Baptist church this week. Everybody invited to attend.

Mrs. F. M. Crawford left Wednesday evening for Stantonsburg to spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Edmondson.

There was a terrible slaughter at the Union Mercantile Co.'s store last Wednesday when the prices on pants were cut all to pieces. The result is that $4 pants are now being sold for $2.98, $3 pants at $2.25, $2.25 pants at $1.98, $2 pants at $1.49, and so on. There may be more trouble any time, because the manager, Mr. Harper, declares that he will sell out at the above price if he has to call in troops to keep things quiet.

Prof. F. C. Nye made a business trip to Greenville Thursday.

Mr. C. T. Cox and Miss Ida Belle Williams spent Wednesday evening at Rountrees.

Cotton seed meal and hulls at A. W. Ange & Co.'s.

Miss Fannie Sutton, of Greensboro, came in Friday morning to spend a day or two with friends.

Harrington Barber & Co. are selling out their stock of hats at and below cost to make room for new ones, for cash you can get a bargain while they last.

Mr. Marcellus Smith and daughter, Miss Helen, of Farmville, spent Friday in town.

Don't forget the cheap Hamburg at A. W. Ange & Co.'s.

Our Winterville correspondent for the Pitt County News is getting to be quite a big-hearted fellow in the girl line. He has until now been satisfied with a few in number, but on Thursday night his heart grew extra large, and he got up all the young girls in town and strolled out to Mr. H. B. McLawhorn's tobacco barn, and the writer was informed they spent a pleasant evening. But I expect the watermelons fared but common.

Bring your corn and wheat to Harrington, Barber & Co.'s mill any day, and get your corn manufactured into good meal and your wheat manufactured into good flour.

Mrs. E. E. Cox and daughter, Miss Hulda, left Thursday to spend some time at Seven Springs.

For durability quality and style, something that will please the old man, the young man and the boy, the old lady, the young lady and the girl, the Union Mercantile Co. has just received and opened a most up-to-date line of shoes. Come and see us and we will make you glad in prices as we bought them to sell and not to keep.

Mr. M. G. Bryan made a trip to Kinston yesterday.

Rev. C. J. Harris left this morning for Trent, Pamlico county, where he holds services tomorrow.

Prof. F. C. Nye and his two children, Beatrice and Bruce, left this afternoon for Morehead City, where he will talk at the Baptist church Sunday morning and night in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Theo. B. Davis.

Rev. H. J. Langston will preach at the Baptist church in Washington Sunday morning and night in the absence of the pastor Rev. J. A. Sullivan.

A new piano for the music department of Winterville High School has just arrived. Many improvements will be made in the equipment of the recitation rooms and a number of new books will be added to the library. Miss Nannie Braxton, the matron of the girls' dormitory, is at home from her well earned vacation.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Aug. 16.—Rev. M. A. Adams returned Saturday morning from Piney Grove, in Jones county, where he held a series of meetings and 34 were added to the church.

See Harrington, Barber & Company for your bill of paint. They can supply you with the best paint and the lowest prices.

Miss Ethel Bowling returned home Saturday evening after spending a few days with friends here.

When you want the best lard and the best flour at the lowest prices, see Harrington, Barber & Company.

Mr. H. J. Langston left Saturday for Washington, where he conducted services Sunday.

The Union Mercantile Company has just received a nice line of ready-made clothing. Something that will please the young men as well as the old ones. They also want you to inspect their made-to-order garments, which are sure to please.

Misses Kate and Clyde Chapman left Saturday to spend a few days with friends at Coxville.

There will be services at St. Luke's Episcopal church next Sunday at 4 p. m., by Rev. W. J. Fulford, of Ayden, who has charge of the work here, Ayden and St. John's. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

See Harrington, Barber & Company for your low-priced hats for men and boys.

Misses Mamie Chapman and Rosa Causey spent Sunday and Monday with friends in Ayden.

We are just opening up the most attractive line of ties, string or four-in-hand. The young boys or men should come and make their selection before they are picked over. Union Mercantile Company.

Messrs. Ola Tucker and Hugh Smith, of Greenville, were in our town Sunday evening.

Harrington, Barber & Company are selling their stock of shoes at a very low price for cash.

Miss Winnie Scott, of Kinston, is visiting at Mr. A. D. Johnson's.

Messrs. A. W. Ange & Company are reducing prices on shoes to make room for fall stock. See them, they are cheap.

Messrs. B. F. Doughty and son, of Kinston, spent Sunday here with Mr. O. C. Doughty.

A crowd of our young people attended the ball game at Greenville yesterday.

Miss Ida Belle Williams, who for sometime has been visiting Miss Sarah Barker, returned to her home at Wharton yesterday. She made a great many friends, who will be glad to see her come again.

Several of our young people attended the Odd Fellows orphans singing class at Ayden Monday night. They report a good concert and the children to be well trained and kept.

If you need material to make cotton sheets, see A. W. Ange & Co.

Prof. Jno. R. Carroll and Mr. O. C. Doughty went to Hookerton yesterday. Prof. Carroll went in interest of the school, which was quite successful.

Mrs. Amanda Oglesby, of Dover, is visiting her son, Mr. H. T. Oglesby.

The Baraca class had an outing last night. Will tell you more about it later.

Prof. F. C. Nye left this morning for Belcross, in interest of the school, which opens August 28.

Demand For Good Boys.
There is a demand for good boys. The boy who is honest, earnest and industrious, will not be long out of a job. There are lots of prosperous business men, merchants and mechanics, who are constantly on the outlook for good boys. They do not look for them on the streets, however, but in some sort of employment. They have no use for an idle boy. He is apt to make an idle man.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

ENDS LIFE IN HOTEL ROOM.
Benj. K. Ryder, of Littleton, Shoots Bullet Through His Heart.

Placing the muzzle of a 22-calibre revolver, of a cheap make, to his heart yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock, in his room in the Lynnhaven Hotel, Benjamin K. Ryder, 30 years of age, of Littleton, N. C., a traveling salesman for a patent medicine house, pulled the trigger and caused his immediate death.

The body was found across the bed by a negro bell boy, who had been sent to the room of Ryder to call him, he having expressed a desire early in the afternoon to catch a Baltimore boat. No cause has as yet been assigned for the suicide. The dead man did not leave any instructions with reference to the disposition of his body. He has a wife residing in Littleton.

Ryder often visited Norfolk. He went to the Lynnhaven Hotel last Saturday and was assigned to room No. 221. He was seen about the hotel lobby several times yesterday and appeared to be in the best of spirits. During the afternoon the traveling salesman went to his apartment after leaving a call for 5 o'clock.

No one heard the shot fired. When the bell boy knocked on the door and did not get a response the office was notified and investigation followed. Ryder had on his under clothing, shoes and top shirt. The pistol was at his side. Evidently, he propped himself up with the pillows and placing the pistol at his side, fired the fatal shot. There were powder burns on his clothing, but not a visible sign of a death struggle.

A search was made of the clothing and effects of the dead man, but no note or letter was found written by him. There were several letters in his pockets, written by Mrs. Ryder, his wife. The baggage of the dead man consisted of two suit cases.

The police department was notified and Chief Kizer made a personal investigation. Coroner Knight afterwards viewed the body and ordered it turned over to Undertaker H. D. Oliver to be prepared for burial. The family was communicated with last night by the hotel and the body will be shipped to Littleton today. Coroner Knight stated last night that he did not know whether an inquest will be held over the remains. This will be decided upon by Dr. Knight this morning. There are no suspicions of foul play.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

The Song of the Mystic.

I walk down the valley of silence—
Down the dim, voiceless valley—
Alone.

And I hear not the fall of a footstep
Around me, save God's and my own,
And the hush of my heart is as holy
As hovers where angels have flown!

Long ago I was weary of voices
Whose music my heart could not win;

Long ago I was weary of places
That fretted my soul with their din;
Long ago I was weary of places
Where I met but the human—and sin.

In the hush of the valley of silence
I dreamed all the songs that I sung;
And the music floats down the dim valley.

Till each finds a word for a wing,
That to hearts like the dove of the deluge,

A message of peace they may bring.

Do you ask me the place of the valley,
Ye hearts that are sorrowed by care?

It lieth afar between mountains,
And one is the dark mount of sorrow
And one the bright mountain of prayer.

Dudley-Tucker Wedding This Morning.

At 7:30 o'clock this morning at the home of Mr. C. M. Tucker, father of the bride, two miles from Greenville, Mr. S. I. Dudley, sheriff of Pitt county, and Miss Alma Tucker were joined in marriage by Elder M. T. Lawrence, of Robersonville.

A large number of friends both from the town and surrounding country were present to witness the ceremony and offer congratulations to the popular couple.

The display of bridal presents was very large and handsome.

Sheriff Dudley and his bride left on the 8:17 Atlantic Coast Line train for a tour to Washington City and Baltimore.

Whichard-Carroll Announcement.

An engagement which will be of interest in this state and Virginia is that of Miss Pattie Carroll, of this city, to Mr. Walter Whichard, of Norfolk, Va. The wedding will take place in October.

Miss Carroll is one of North Carolina's most popular young ladies, while Mr. Whichard is prominent in both business and social circles of Norfolk.—Raleigh News and Observer.

This announcement is of much interest to Reflector readers, Mr. Whichard being a native of Pitt county and a son of the late Mr. W. R. Whichard. He went to Norfolk some years ago and is president of the firm of Whichard Bros. Co., who are doing a large wholesale dry goods business.

THE GAIETY THEATRE.

Last Night Far Surpassed Others As Feature Photography.

The class of pictures the above mentioned theatre are exhibiting are increasing in excellence as much so as their attendance. For last night far surpassed all others as feature photography and first class pictures, one of the most highly praised was that of "The Still Alarm," which received applause from start to finish and was pronounced to be one of the best that has ever been exhibited in Greenville.

The Greenville people now have one of the best advantages to witness an educational subject that they have ever had, and they are becoming more popular every day. They are a class of pictures that are different from what we have been heretofore seeing and are worthy of any one's time in witnessing their high class performance.

We especially call your attention to their programme for tonight that appears daily on third page, and judging from the criticism that they have received elsewhere, it will be another feature night with them.

Greenville now has a good picture show and something that is more educational as a whole than an entertainment, and is worthy of a liberal patronage in order to live up to their past.

Personal Notices.

Editor Way, of the Henderson Gold Leaf, has announced the inauguration, in his shop, of a novel scheme of reform in the matter of printing personal notices. He thus refers to it editorially:

The Gold Leaf has come to the conclusion that it can find a better use for its news columns than to fill them up from week to week and month to month with the doings and movements of people who have not enough pride in their own community to help support a good local paper. There are people in this community who will twist around in various ways to get their names or some little thing they have done in the paper and then go over and borrow their neighbor's paper to see what it said about them.

Those who support their home paper loyally should always have the right of way in its columns, and so far as the Gold Leaf is concerned this will hereafter be its policy.

Now, then, there is a bit of shop talk that might be made the topic of much discussion. The result will be interesting. In the first place, how is Editor Way going to determine the merits of each case? If a notice is sent in that Miss Sallie Smith has gone to Grassville to visit her old school chum, Miss Annie Jones, how is the editor to determine whether Dick, Tom or Harry Smith is the father of Miss Sallie, or whether she is the daughter of a widow, and has a brother who takes the paper in another town. And is Buck, Jim or Alex. Jones the father of Miss Annie? And if a young fellow gets

OUR WEEKLY LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL

SOME VITAL WASHINGTON NEWS.

Matters That Give The Falsehood to Republican Principles.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner).
WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Are the American people competent to rule? And if they are competent, have they the right under the constitution to do so?

Here are two vital questions directly involved in a veto by President Taft of the Flood resolution granting statehood to Arizona and New Mexico—territories which have these many years been eligible to admission as states, but which have been barred out, first, because certain big interests in the territories desired it, and second, because the Republicans feared Arizona would send Democratic senators to congress.

The impression that the White House press bureau (Secretary Hilles, manager), would have go out to the country is that the veto was made necessary by the Flood resolution which established the recall. This is erroneous. The fact is, both branches of congress were careful not to go on record either for or against the recall. The resolution, simply gives the people or Arizona the right of local self government; the right to vote on the question of recall, and to themselves determine whether they desire the recall.

So the president is not vetoing the recall of judges when he vetoes statehood. What he really is vetoing is the right of the people or Arizona to decide for themselves the form of Republican government under which they wish to live. "You folks in Arizona are not intelligent enough to select the form of government under which you are to live," is the ultimatum the president lays down by vetoing the statehood resolution. Mr. Taft would have his will prevail instead of the will of two-thirds of the people of Arizona.

A White House Influence.

In the haze of scandal that hangs over the Taft administration, the form of Charles P. Taft, capitalist, busy multiplying his dollars, is plainly discernible. As the curtain is lifted on each succeeding scene of scandal the president is in evidence, and around him, shaping his course, are men who know exactly what they want; men who are the acknowledged agents of the forces that are trying to shape humanity to the dollar.

When he was elected he inspired many who are known as progressives with the belief that he had made his choice between public and private interests. Perhaps he had. But always before his mental vision he must naturally see his brother and his brother's wealth. From his nativity, wealth and its emblems have been the be-all and end-all of this son of plutocracy. Yet he has a good heart. His great handicap is that he has these men who know what they want around him—men to whom the public good is the last consideration.

Therefore it would seem that it matters little what large schemes are planned or prophesied, so long as Mr. Taft sits in the executive chair. The president has as little chance to succeed as the executive of the nation, as a man in any other walk of life might have if he tried to serve two masters.

Canadians Are Wary.

The Republican argument that a high tariff is necessary to maintain "the high American wage" is shown up as a farce, by the presence in several American manufacturing communities of agents of Canadian manufacturers, who are gathering figures to show that Canada cannot compete against American wages.

The Canadians, for instance, are learning that men work in the steel mills twelve hours a day, and seven days a week for a dollar and a half a day. It is because they do not wish to compete against the cheap foreign immigrant labor employed by the steel and other trusts that some of the Canadians are urging the defeat of reciprocity.

And yet, the Republican protectionists have argued all these years that the great danger of American labor was the possibility that it might have to compete with cheap labor of other countries. The information gathered by the Canadians knocks the logs from under that ancient contention, so far as Canada is concerned, at least.

National Road Building To Be Democratic Policy.

Speaker Clark plans to make good roads an issue of the next campaign. As a member of the Lincoln Memorial commission Mr. Clark is advocating the building of a great highway from Washington to Gettysburg, "as the nucleus of a great system of national roads built by the government in co-operation with the states." The majority of the commission favors a marble arch in Washington, which the speaker says would form a fine meeting place for English sparrows, but which would not fit in with the practical character of the great Lincoln. The speaker has induced the president to defer action until legislation can be passed permitting the building of the road. He will then work for the adoption by the government of a national road building policy.

Wickersham An Issue.

That Attorney General Wickersham will become a campaign issue by 1912 is regarded as certain by those who are looking ahead. Wickersham has permitted Taft to be besmirched in the Pinchot and other matters. Wickersham was on the side of Ballinger against Pinchot just as he is at present against Dr. Wiley. Developments in the steel trust investigation furnished fresh evidence that Wickersham exemplifies the alliance between the Republican party and monopolists. In the opinion of many the sequence of all this will be that Taft will get many a whack over Wickersham's shoulder.

Competition or Trusts? Which?

When the Sherman anti-trust law was passed legislation was directed toward the prohibition or destruction of monopolies. Roosevelt, Taft and Wickersham have not the idea of trust dissolution. They advocate instead that the existence of the trusts be recognized and legalized, but that their greed be curbed by government regulation. It remains to be seen whether the people are ready to confess that the competitive system is obsolete; to abandon a system which affords free reign for individual enterprise, and to establish in its place a centralized government with the business of the whole country in its hands.

Get The Habit

The department store habit is growing stronger and stronger all the time, and you need not be surprised, when you realize the many advantages to be derived from trading at a store that can supply you with all the necessities and most of the luxuries of life, without the needless worry and fatigue of shopping at one store for Dry Goods, another store for Notions, and still another for Groceries, etc.

Come To See Us

Our many departments are complete in every respect, and we guarantee you satisfaction in both quality and price. Now is the time to get the habit. Make our department store your headquarters for everything you need, and save both time and money. Don't hesitate, but come or phone, No. 100.

A Gambler a Poor Citizen.

A gambler is about as undesirable citizen as a community can have. He produces nothing, helps nothing, contributes nothing in the activities of the community. His advancement means the retrogression of his fellows. If he be a professional the man who does business with him in a professional way is fleeced. It matters not that the fleecing is done according to the rules of the game. It is the same result to the victim. If a man's business be gambling, and he lives by his profession, he is living at the expense of the public, or that portion of it which comes into business relations with him. He gives nothing of worth in return. He holds the law in contempt in his flagrant violation of it. His example is pernicious. His life is a failure. His end is destruction. All in all, he is a very sorry citizen.—Union Times.

It is said that man's secretiveness is responsible for woman's curiosity.

The Tariff Board.

It is strange how the so-called tariff board continues to withhold all information upon the woolen schedule after having supposedly been at work upon this schedule for more than a year. In fact, the tariff board has done almost nothing thus far except furnish a few statistics upon the production of wood pulp and paper. It has seemingly idled and has certainly procrastinated, though liberally plied with funds. Those of us who apprehended that the tariff board was constituted for the special purpose of discrediting the tariff commission idea find our fears at least not weakened by the result. Just at present it appears to be playing politics for the administration's benefit as truly as the Democratic leaders—without any pretense of non-partisanship and with the cotton schedule as the worst performance—have been playing politics for their own.—Charlotte Observer.

MEN'S PRAYER LEAGUE.

A Rallying Day Planned for Next Sunday.

The extremely warm weather has had its effect on the Men's Prayer League, as on everything else that requires an effort for people to get out, and while the attendance in the Christian church Sunday afternoon was the smallest for some time, the meeting was nevertheless an interesting one. Only one of the appointed leaders, Mr. Wiley Brown, was present, and after a good talk by him on the subject "Sufficiency of Grace," two or three others made short talks that well filled out the program.

President C. W. Wilson, who has been at Columbia University for several weeks, and some other absentees who have been more or less prominent in the meetings, are expected back by next Sunday, and it is proposed to make that somewhat of a rallying day for the league and a large attendance is desired. The meeting that day will be held in the Baptist church at 4:30 p. m. Subject, "A Faultless Life." Text Daniel 6:4. Leaders, Messrs. H. B. Smith, E. A. Moye and T. J. Jarvis.

ODD FELLOWS' ORPHAN HOME

Singing Class Makes Their First Visit to Greenville.

The singing class of the Odd Fellows' orphan home, at Goldsboro, spent Saturday and Sunday in Greenville. There were twelve children in the class in charge of Mr. Avant and Miss Parham. It was the first visit of this class to Greenville, and our people in no small degree enjoyed this visit from the children.

Saturday night the class gave a concert in the auditorium of East Carolina Teachers' Training school, and on Sunday night they sang at the service in the Methodist church. They were a bright group of children and showed that they are receiving excellent training at the home. In a short talk at the Sunday night service Dr. D. L. James told something of the work being done by the Odd Fellows at their home, and made a beautiful appeal for the children. The receipts from this visit to Greenville amounted to about $50.

SKULL BADLY FRACTURED

Mr. Joe Bland Strikes Mr. Heber Roberson.

On Friday afternoon Messrs. Joe Bland and Heber Roberson were hauling logs in Carolina township. They had a falling out about something, and Mr. Bland struck Mr. Roberson on the head with a large stick. Nothing serious was thought of the blow at first, Mr. Roberson continuing his work an hour or two afterwards, but later he sank into unconsciousness. He was examined by a physician and his skull found to be badly fractured. Mr. Roberson has been carried to a hospital in Washington and his condition is critical.

ARRESTED IN NORFOLK.

Two Negroes Admit Having Killed Another on Excursion Train.

Frederick Leroy Stanley and Marion Harrauld, both negroes, are locked up in the Second police precinct station, charged with murder, the crime having been committed in Washington, N. C., last Tuesday on an excursion train. Their victim was Oscar Hill, also colored.

Early last night a negro put in his appearance at the uptown police station and informed Sergeant Dozier, in charge, that two negroes who had killed another in North Carolina were in the black belt.

Sergeant Gwynn, Police Detective Strawhand, Patrolmen Jones and Trueblood were detailed on the case and within a short while they brought in the two negroes. Both admitted their guilt and produced the gun which was used in killing Hill.

The North Carolina authorities have been notified of the arrest and officers are expected to arrive today for the prisoners.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

This is the murder that was committed last Tuesday on the negro excursion coming from New Bern to Greenville. The negroes arrested in Norfolk were taken to New Bern by officers Sunday.

SEVENTY-TWO HUNDRED PEOPLE

Treated For Hookworm Disease In Twenty Days in Four Counties.

In the counties of Sampson, Robeson, Columbus and Halifax 7260 victims of hookworm disease have been treated at the state and county dispensaries. Nearly double this number have been examined. During the first five days the dispensaries were open only 615 cases were treated, whereas during the last five days 2808 were treated. During the twenty days there were treated in Sampson 1682 cases; in Robeson 1352; in Columbus 3047; and in Halifax in 12 days 1169 cases.

The county board of education, to show their spirit of co-operation, are having sanitary privies installed at all the school houses being used as dispensaries.

After about two weeks the dispensary work will move into new counties. Cumberland, Onslow, Wayne and Northampton counties have made the necessary provision to have the dispensaries next. The commissioners and people generally are highly pleased with the work of the dispensaries.

FIRE IN WASHINGTON.

Mill Of Eureka Lumber Company Destroyed.

A telephone message from Washington brings information of the destruction by fire of the mill of the Eureka Lumber Company, one of the largest plants of the kind in the state. The fire was discovered about half past three o'clock this morning by the night watchman, who said it started in some way about the boiler room. The loss is estimated from $35,000 to $50,000 with insurance about $15,000. The destruction of the mill is a heavy loss.

BETHEL ITEMS.

Personal Notes And A Delightful Porch Party.

BETHEL, N. C., August 12.—Miss Susie and Judith Monk, of Norfolk, are visiting their friend, Miss Esther Jones.

Miss Jane Kittrell, of Ayden, is the guest of Miss Lillian Bunting.

In a unique game of ball, the Bethel team was yesterday defeated by the Edgecombe County Club.

Heavy rains in this section Tuesday evening have brightened up the outlook for crops considerably. The wind here was not enough to do any damage.

Two score St. Bethelians enjoyed the hospitality of the Conetoe lodge of the Modern Woodmen of America at their annual picnic dinner on Wednesday, and report that they were entertained on a grand scale.

Miss Mary Smith, of Windsor, spent yesterday in Bethel.

Delightful Porch Party.

The many friends of Miss Lillie Bunting were delightfully entertained last evening at her new home on Pelasant street, in honor of her guest, Miss Jane Kittrell, of Ayden.

The features of the evening were the classic rendition of the "Sexie from Lircia," and other selections by Miss Kittrell, and the singing of Miss Cuthrell.

Among those present were Misses Jane Kittrell, of Ayden; Susie and Judith Monk, of Norfolk; Lucie Cuthrell, of Rocky Mount; Winnie McWharther, Esther Jones, Ida Bullock, Jennie Jones, Minnie Mae Whitehead, Ruth Carson and Maude Barnhill; and Messrs. J. M. Cutrell, J. E. Cuthrell, Walter Cuthrell and Dr. Edwards of Rocky Mount; Fred Moye, Marvin Blount, Leighton Blount, Walter Whichard, Theo. Thames, of Tarboro; T. R. Anderson and Dr. C. O. Griffin.

GRIMESLAND ITEMS.

The Happenings In And Around The City.

GRIMESLAND, N. C., Aug. 12.—Miss Nannie Tucker, of Winterville, is visiting Miss Mary Proctor.

Mrs. Adrian Dudley and children are visiting relatives at Ayden.

Miss Mamie Ruth Pollard, of Farmville, who has been visiting Miss Earl Proctor, has returned home.

Messrs. H. A. White and Ben. Taylor, of Greenville, were visitors in our town yesterday.

Mr. L. F. Holliday and family, of Dunn, are guests at the home of Mr. Holliday's mother, Mrs. Anna Holliday.

Mrs. E. M. Jones left Sunday for a visit near Pactolus at her old home.

Mrs. Scott Galloway is visiting her sister at Simpson.

Large crowds are attending the choir practice at the Christian church this week. We are getting ready for the big Tyndall meeting that is to be held here in a few days.

Mr. F. A. Elks is all smiles—it's a girl.

Dr. C. M. Jones left Tuesday for Raleigh to carry Mr. A. B. Hudson to the hospital in that city. A few days ago Mr. Hudson fell from a building and was badly hurt. His condition for a while was thought serious. We are glad to state that he is some better.

DIRE DISTRESS.

It Is Near at Hand to Hundreds Of Greenville Readers.

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is the kidney's cry for help.

Neglect hurrying to their aid. Means that urinary troubles follow quickly.

Dire distress—Bright's disease.

Mrs. Joseph Fornes, 1116 S. Washington street, Greenville, N. C., says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills with the most satisfactory results and I know that they are a good kidney medicine. About a year ago I was very much troubled by symptoms of kidney complaint. I suffered from dull, nagging backaches and I also had headaches and pains through my kidneys. Dizzy spells annoyed me and I noticed that the kidney secretions were unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the John L. Wooten Drug Co., brought me prompt relief and a short time ago when I again used them, they acted as effectively as before. I know that this preparation lives up to the claims made for it."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

NEGRO FINDS MONEY.

Refused to Give it Up and Went to Jail.

On Friday Frank Hopkins, a colored man here, lost a $10 bill in the lobby of the post office. A little later Mr. J. W. Brown, one of the post office clerks, saw Louis Allen, colored, pick the money up from the floor. Mr. Brown asked Allen to give up the money which he refused to do. Frank later went back to the office looking for the money and Mr. Brown told him of seeing Allen pick up the money. Hopkins then went and found Allen who denied having the money or knowing anything about it. Hopkins obtained a warrant for Allen who was given a hearing before Justice H. Harding and committed to jail.

House Fly is Typhoid Fly.

"The insect we now call the house fly should be termed 'typhoid fly' in order to call attention to the danger of allowing it to continue to breed unchecked," says L. O. Howard, of the department of agriculture's bureau of entomology in a farmers' bulletin just issued. Prof. Howard says a careful screening of windows and doors during the summer, supplemented with fly catching devices, is the surest preventative of disease through those germ bearing insects. The sanitary keeping of stables would do much toward eradicating the fly, he says. The health departments of municipalities are urged to take such remedial measures.

TAKE FIRE ALARM.

Reflection the Cause of the Excitement.

Yellow must have been or "lunary" Friday night. There was a cry of "fire" in the southwest section of the town. The cry was taken up along the avenue until it reached the square, when the gong-rim on all chimed in the clatter. The excitement turned out, every one people were gathered was apt, those spending the home got out to join the streets, here everybody looking out the avenue to look at the most of them yelling as they went.

But there was not any fire. Whoever started the racket had seen the reflection of the rising moon on a window, and thinking there was fire inside the house lifted up his voice and alarmed the natives. It was a hot night for such a run, and the crowd shed floods of perspiration on the way back.

Caught in the Act.

Policeman G. A. Clark has captured another "blind tiger," in the person of Dempsey Ruffin, a colored blacksmith here. He was caught in the act of selling liquor and the case was so plain against him that he was bound over to court.

Reasons Why Some People Do Not Attend Church.

Why do so many people not attend church? I will give some of the reasons that were lately given to me by different parties:

One man said: "Well, I used to go to church regularly, but I now have to work so hard through the week that when Sunday comes I just have to rest."

Another said: "I like to go to church, but the last time I went the preacher was asking for a lot of money to endow some college and his appeal was so strong that it made me feel like I was a poor church member if I did not respond, and I didn't have fifty cents. So I decided not to go again until I got a little money on hand to respond to the next call that was sure to come."

The next man was a merchant, and he said: "The last time I went to church there was a man sitting on the front seat who had beat me out of ten dollars, so I got disgusted, and thought that if religion did not make a man pay his just debts it was a mighty poor thing."

The next man was a non-professor of religion whom I asked to go to church, and after he went he said: "The preacher sure did go after them, but that hypocrite in the choir that sang the solo did not bat his eyes. When you people get such stuff as that out of your choirs and front seats I will attend church."

Next I asked a woman why she did not attend church and take the children, and she said: "Nothing would give me more pleasure than to go to church, but my husband works on a small salary and it takes all he can make to buy food and sufficient clothing even sufficient to stay at home and I will not take them for other children to laugh at."

The next man said: "I did not like the last preacher. He paid more attention to the man who paid the most money."

I told him his excuse wouldn't apply to the present pastor and he admitted that his only reason now for not going was general cussedness. These are the excuses given by actual persons. So you see that the church of Christ must be either a drawing or a driving force. The Master said, "And if I be lifted up I will draw all men to me." Are we lifting Him up sufficiently? Jesus Christ is the embodiment of all that is right. If the church will lift up that principle in all her dealings, and require it to be lifted up among her members, one with another, the question of why so few people attend church will not be so often asked. But so many church members lift up the other force. I will illustrate. The other day a professor of religion went into a store and joined a crowd that were drinking. They said, "Come on old friend and take a drink." He did so and in a few minutes was leading the conversation in the most vulgar language I ever heard. He was casting his professed pearls before swine and they were trampling them under foot. Jesus Christ left the power with men, and said "Occupy till I come."

Christ said he would draw all men if He were lifted up. The church is far from drawing all men. Is it not, therefore, possible that the church is not lifting Him up sufficiently?—Observer.

There isn't much the matter with a man who has a horror of making trouble for his friend.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK

TAFT TO GO TO OCEAN GROVE.

The Political Calendar Calls for Many Meetings of Interest.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12.—President Taft is scheduled to go to Ocean Grove, N. J., Tuesday to address the Methodist camp meeting there and later in the week he expects to go to Beverly to begin his belated summer vacation.

Admiral Togo, whose visit to the United States is attracting much attention, will remain in New York City until Wednesday when he will go to Boston. He will remain in Boston two days, visiting the Charlestown navy yard, Harvard University and other places of interest in the vicinity, departing Friday evening for Niagara Falls.

The annual month of rifle competitions for the picked shots of all branches of the United States service and the militia organizations of the different states will begin on the ranges at Camp Perry Monday with the opening of the twenty-ninth tournament of the National Rifle Association and the ninth matches of the National Board for the promotion of rifle practice.

The political calendar of the week calls for several meetings of interest to the leaders of both parties. Kentucky Democrats will assemble in Louisville Tuesday to formulate the platform on which the state ticket will make the fight for election next fall. In Nebraska on the same day the state primaries of all parties will be held for the nomination of candidates for the minor state offices to be filled at the next election. At Harrisburg there is to be a meeting of the Democratic state central committee of Pennsylvania to consider proposed changes in the party rules and to carry out the plan for the redistricting of the state. At the same time and place there is to be a meeting of Democratic editors to form a state league. At Columbus, O., an outing is to be held by the Jefferson Club with William J. Bryan as the guest of honor. The club is an "insurgent" Democratic organization and is understood to be opposed to Governor Harmon, of Ohio, for the presidential nomination.

The conventions of the week will include those of the International Typographical Union at San Francisco, the American Press Humorists' Association at Boston, the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union at Toledo, the Loyal Order of Moose at Detroit, the American Pharmaceutical Association at Boston, and the National Negro Business League at Little Rock.

SCHWAB TOLD SECRET.

How Great Steel Magnate Acted When Telling of Trust's Birth.

Chas. M. Schwab yesterday proclaimed himself the father of the United States Steel Corporation. It was in his brain that the giant combine had birth, and it was the financial genius of J. Piermont Morgan that gave it sustenance.

This was told by Mr. Schwab to the Congressional committee investigating the steel trust. He declared it was the first time he has ever told of the genius of the corporation. As its first president he helped nurture it into lusty strength. That it was not a trust he protested with an earnestness bordering on eloquence. Although now at the head of the combine's most powerful rival, the Bethlehem Steel Company, he had not one word of criticism to make.

Mr. Schwab's attitude was aggressive, his manner was frank, and at times he turned upon his inquisitors and shot questions at them which they could not answer, or at least, did not. Judge Bartlett wanted to know why, if the cost of production in the United States was no greater than in foreign countries, Germany could land its steel in Pittsburgh cheaper than the domestic product, but he failed to find out.

"If Germany or some other foreign country should invade this market with cut prices would you meet the cuts?" he asked.

"Undoubtedly we all would," quickly replied Mr. Schwab.—New York American.

DELIGHTS AT MOREHEAD.

Social and Fishing Parties all the While.

ATLANTIC HOTEL, Morehead City, Aug. 11th.—When they are not fishing, sailing or bathing, the guests of the Atlantic Hotel find time for social diversion and card parties are the order of the day. One of the most delightful of these social events was the party given by Mrs. W. L. Kennedy yesterday afternoon to the other lady guests of the hotel. The guests were bidden to wear kimonos and make themselves comfortable while the men folks were out fishing. Delectable refreshments were served and the occasion was altogether enjoyable.

Many of the ladies are taking advantage of the beautiful moonlight nights for sailing and fishing parties. A party including Mrs. H. Montague, of Winston-Salem, Mrs. Cunningham and others went out Tuesday night and returned with a string that made some of the old fishermen green with envy.

The prettiest string of trout taken from Bogue sound this summer was brought in Tuesday night by Messrs. E. L. Williamson, of Burlington, T. Alex. Baxter and a party of friends. Mr. Williamson's prize catch weighed eight pounds, and the others were a little smaller.

The sultry August weather of the inland country is bringing crowds to the seashore and they prospect now that if the influx continues Manager Baxter will be forced to extend his season.

One More To Kinston.

Deputy Sheriff K. W. Cobb today took a negro over to jail in Kinston. The negro had been on a drunk and used a gun too freely down on the Avon farm.

OUR AYDEN DEPARTMENT

IN CHARGE OF C. L. PARKER

Authorized Agent of The Carolina Home and Farm and the Eastern Reflector for Ayden and vicinity. Advertising rates furnished

AYDEN, N. C., Aug. 11.—Mr. R. W. Smith and family returned from Morehead City Tuesday.

Miss Jennie Turnage, who has been visiting at Kinston, came home Thursday.

Miss Mary Whitehurst returned to her home Tuesday, after spending a week with Miss Mary Smith.

Mr. Luke McLawhorn, one of Contentnea township's oldest and best citizens, died suddenly Wednesday morning about sun rise, while out feeding his stock. He was taken with a pain in his heart, he returned to his house, his wife rang the farm bell, neighbors came, but he died before he could be placed on the bed. He was buried Thursday. Mr. McLawhorn was a constant member of the Free Will Baptist church, a true devout temperance man. He was twice married, but left no children. Peace to his ashes.

About 3 o'clock Thursday morning Mr. Reddin E. Jackson was at his tobacco barn, nodding, and was attacked by a vicious dog. Mr. Jackson tried to keep him off by throwing a truck canvas over him, but he recovered and made for him again, and in the scuffle, it being dark, the dog bit him on the leg. Mr. Jackson caught him by the hind foot and slammed him on the ground, and calling for help some colored boys came to his rescue and shot the dog, killing him. Mr. Jackson and his brother, Mr. Blaney Jackson, took the dog to Ayden. Dr. M. T. Frizzelle sent the head to a specialist at Raleigh. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Jackson, who is a very worthy and prosperous young farmer, of Jackson-town.

Mr. Henry W. Lilly, father of our townsman, Mr. Frank Lilly, died on August 2. He was an active member of the Methodist church and the Farmers Union. He started in life a poor boy, and being with very limited education amassed a neat little fortune. He possibly owned one of the best farms in Craven county.

Mr. Grover McLawhorn has traded his house and lot on Venters Heights to Mr. Geo. Prescott for his home on Lee street. Mr. McLawhorn is now in South Carolina and contemplates moving his family there soon.

Mr. Alfred Forbes, superintendent of county convict force, is confined to his home with fever.

The Ayden Christian church has called Rev. H. C. Bowen, of Belhaven, as its pastor another year for his full time. He will locate here and begin his work about October 1st.

Mr. W. H. Harris and wife, who have been visiting their daughter at Rocky Mount, came home Monday.

Mr. J. B. Pearce returned from Black Mountain Thursday, where he had been to visit Mr. J. J. Hines, who is there for his health. He reports that Mr. Hines is improving.

Mrs. J. S. Hines left Wednesday to visit her son, Mr. J. J. Hines, at Black Mountain.

Mrs. Adrian Dudley and children, of Grimesland, are visiting at the home of Mr. J. S. Hines.

Mr. H. G. Mumford lost a nice mule Saturday night from over feeding on green corn.

Mr. B. F. James, who has been here on a visit to his son, J. Carl James, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. Richard Wingate tells us the destroying hand passed through Farmville not long since and killed 17 dogs in one night. That is killing 'em some.

Mr. W. J. Boyd is confined to his room with rheumatism.

The Baptists had a fine picnic at St. Abram Spring yesterday.

Yes, we spent a week at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hart, in Morehead and was treated like a statesman. Mr. Hart took us out to all the places of amusement—Cape Lookout, the light house, Fort Macon, the Life Saving station, the surf, Camp Glenn, the grave of Capt.

Enviousness a Big Handicap.

Among the ill winds that chill the heart and lash to fury the mind may also be classed that sharp, fretful, agonizing feeling known as envy. It does not belong at the foot of the class either, because its work of wreckage entitles it to a position well up towards the head. So many people grow discontented through envy. The evolution is many-fold, but rapid. First comes wishing, then longing, next sullenness, followed by a spirit of don't care, which in turn quickly reaches the climax of greediness and unhappiness. A person must learn to push aside the feeling of envy if he or she would be happy and ascend to greater heights. As to intellectual attainments it will never be in the scope of human possibility for all to walk on the same level, and there is no likelihood that the time will ever come when all will be on the same footing as to riches, unless ambition is to be eliminated from the world and mortals are to become mere mechanical toys. Some are always going to have more than others, and this will furnish fertile soil for envy to grow upon, unless people take a common sense view of it. Such an understanding will mean vastly more happiness in the world, with corresponding success. Discontentment utterly incapacitates the mind for work and every day that is allowed to slip by is a day less for real enjoyment, is a day further away from the goal. Many people miss achievement because their minds are distorted by envy—wishing and longing to have what other people have, and thereby getting fretful. Disaster has also grimly emerged out of enviousness. The wife seeing what her neighbor has often gets discontented then reckless, and the happiness of the fireside is wrecked. Instead, the wife and the husband, with light hearts and determined minds, should put their shoulders to the same wheel and push together towards the goal. In nine cases out of ten their united action will in time gain for them those comforts, and, perhaps, all the luxuries they crave.—Wilmington Dispatch.

AN ALLIGATOR'S NEST.

Messrs. John Bennett and "Tuck" Savage Made Interesting Find.

Disavowing at the outset any designs upon Col. Wade Harris' Mendenhall Medal, the Star chronicles here the particulars of a most interesting find made yesterday at Carolina Beach by Mr. John N. Bennett and Constable W. B. Savage, of this city. When enjoying an outing in what is known as the "Big Pond," in the sound, above Mr. H. A. Kure's place, they came upon an alligator's nest from which they took 42 alligator eggs in the process of hatching. Mr. Bennett brought some of the eggs to the city and last night in the Star office in the presence of a number of gentlemen, cracked one of the shells and disengaged from the thin, filmy formation just inside the shell, a young alligator, fully eight inches in length and exhibiting every sign of life. The alligator lays her eggs in the marshes and covers them with a formation of mud, mud and sticks where the sun is allowed to hatch the youngsters out, according to the alligatorists in this neck-o'-the-woods, and the nest unearthed yesterday contained eggs almost ready for the hatching. To the uninitiated, the breaking of the shell and the production of the young alligator last night was a most interesting spectacle.—Wilmington Star.

We Must Make Our Hay.

Talking about making cotton, tobacco, peanuts, and your other cash crops, there is no reason why we should not add corn and hay to our general money products. We have started out well as a corn growing country and we must not stop until North Carolina produces all its own corn and some to spare for other consumers. At one time it was believed that the noble horse would disappear before the chug wagon, but a census bulletin shows otherwise. There are much larger numbers of horses and mules in the country than there ever was, and, strange to say, their value is greater than at any time in the history of the country. However, industry has progressed on marvelous scale in the last 14 years. About 18 ago a few crude machines were used but at the present time millions of dollars are invested in their manufacture and the industry gives employment in various ways to hundreds of thousands of men.—Wilmington

A Costly Mistake.

In the opinion of The Post the state makes a costly mistake in changing its school text-books every five years, or rather in having a commission pass upon these books every five years, which amounts largely to the same, since 60 per cent. of the books were changed by the commission which concluded its work Saturday. The change, it is estimated, will cost the parents of the state $60,000 a year, a paltry sum it may be said when divided up among all, but it is at the same time throwing away money, and the state is wrong in placing this expense on the public. Besides this, there is the commission to pay at $5 per day, which amounts to something. Then, too, if the change of books was of any great advantage to the school there might be some excuse for it. Not since the old "blue back" speller and Davies arithmetics have been discarded have there been any spellers or arithmetics used in the schools that excelled them, and the folly of changing is too apparent for discussion. The Post stands squarely against these changes of school books until it sees better reason than giving patronage to some favorite book concern or to some author who knows as much about the real value of his book in the school room as Jack rabbit does about a kangaroo's nest.—Salisbury Post.

The Horse Holds His Own.

At the present time there are 350,000 automobiles in the United States and the money invested in the amounts to a fabulous sum. It is stated, however, that we are on the eve of a still greater use of motor vehicle, and the record shows that the number now in use will be increased by 10,000 automobiles in the next twelve months. At one time it was believed that the noble horse would disappear before the chug wagon, but a census bulletin shows otherwise. There are much larger numbers of horses and mules in the country than there ever was, and, strange to say, their value is greater than at any time in the history of the country. However, industry has progressed on marvelous scale in the last 14 years. About 18 ago a few crude machines were used but at the present time millions of dollars are invested in their manufacture and the industry gives employment in various ways to hundreds of thousands of men.—Wilmington

An Honest Debt.

An honest debt is never out according to God's bookkeeping. obligation of restitution is a permanent obligation, says the Trans- and while a temporary inability to pay excuses one for the time of reimbursing the unpaid creditor remains a conscientious burden until fully discharged. The parable of the unjust servant might furnish a profitable subject for meditation for those inclined to be forgetful in this matter; like him they are very apt to be exacting toward those who owe them anything, refusing to their fellows what they ask for themselves; see what happens to him. "His Lord became angry, delivered him to the torturers until he paid all the debt."—Ex.

Don't Suffer!

"I had been troubled, a little, for nearly 7 years," writes Mrs. L. Fincher, in a letter from Peavy, Ala., "but I was not taken down, until March, when I went to bed and had to have a doctor. He did all he could for me, but I got no better. I hurt all over, and I could not rest. At last, I tried Cardui, and soon I began to improve. Now I am in very good health, and able to do all my housework."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

You may wonder why Cardui is so successful, after other remedies have failed. The answer is that Cardui is successful, because it is composed of scientific ingredients, that act curatively on the womanly system. It is a medicine for women, and for women only. It builds, strengthens, and restores weak and ailing women, to health and happiness.

If you suffer like Mrs. Fincher did, take Cardui. It will surely do for you, what it did for her. At all druggists.

FALKLAND AND BRUCE.

Post Offices Will Not Be Discontinued.

For some days past the rumor had been going around that the post offices at Falkland and Bruce, in this county would be discontinued the first of September, the patrons of those offices to be supplied by rural delivery routes after that date. The attention of Congressman Small was called to the matter, and as usual, he got busy in behalf of the people of his district. A telegram from him today says that the order to discontinue those offices has been revoked, and they will be continued as before. Falkland has been a post office for perhaps 75 years, and is among the oldest in the county.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

The next national convention of the Socialist party probably will be held in Milwaukee.

The Socialists of Massachusetts have nominated a complete state ticket, headed by James F. Carey, of Haverhill, for governor.

In all probability the Democrats of Arkansas will determine the state's choice for the presidential nomination at the regular primary election next March.

At a Democratic barbecue in Boston next month Governor Harmon, of Ohio, will deliver the first address he has made in the east since he became a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

When the Illinois Federation of Labor meets in annual session in Springfield in October steps will probably be taken to create a new political party, for the primary purpose of improving labor conditions.

There is said to be a possibility that Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, will not be a candidate for re-election next year. He will be 70 years old at the expiration of his present term, in March, 1913, which date will mark the close of eighteen years of consecutive service in the senate.

The National Progressive Democratic League is to be formally launched within a few weeks, when articles of incorporation will be filed at Trenton, N. J. Colonel William C. Liller, of Indianapolis, is at the head of the organization, which is to be to the Democratic party what the National Republican Progressive League, organized last year, is to the Republican party.

Gov. Drummond Was Hung.

When Mr. F. A. Linney addressed the North Carolina editors at Boone a few weeks ago he referred to an ex-governor of North Carolina who was hanged. The publication of Mr. Linney's address aroused some inquiry on this point and inquiry has been made of the Landmark as to the name of the governor who suffered this ignominious fate. A friend of the Landmark who is studious and an enquiring turn of mind, has looked up the matter and finds that the governor was Drummond, the first governor of the state. The story is told in Mrs. Spencer's "First Steps in North Carolina History," and is as follows:

"In 1664 the Lords Proprietors appointed the first governor for Carolina, or rather for Albemarle country. He was William Drummond, a Scotchman by birth, who came from Virginia and was a friend of Governor Berkeley. As he was our first governor, it is pleasant to know that he was a man of good character and highly esteemed and of a good family. We know very little of the years in which he ruled the Albemarle country. He returned to Virginia afterward, and ten years later he became engaged in a serious rebellion of the Virginia people against their governor. Berkeley was getting old and very hard and tyrannical, and odious to the colonists after having been a popular and excellent governor for more than 30 years. They rose against him in 1776 in what is called 'Bacon's Rebellion,' and were beaten and forced to submit, and Berkeley took a base revenge by hanging all the leaders who came into his hands. Among them was ex-Governor Drummond, who had been his friend, but who felt it his duty to oppose his tyranny. The vindictive old man showed no mercy. He made a low bow to his prisoner and with cruel words of hatred told him he should be hung in half an hour. And so he was, as soon as a gallows could be built. Drummond died calmly and full of courage, believing that he died in a good cause. This was the sad end of the man who had been the first governor of our state. But for all that, he was a good and a brave man, and his name stands much higher than Berkeley's. It is of no consequence how a man dies if he has lived well. Berkeley died within that same year in England, where had had gone to explain away his barbarous conduct, but the king refused to see him or to forgive him for his cruelty. He is said to have died of a broken heart," but it is not likely that he had much heart to break. The lake in the Great Dismal Swamp between North Carolina and Virginia was named in honor of Governor Drummond."

So it will be seen that while the first governor of North Carolina met death by hanging, he was the victim of a tyrant and his offense was resistance to tyranny. By all accounts he was a good man and guilty of no crime.—Statesville Landmark.

THE TOBACCO CROP.

The Government Estimates of Tobacco August 1, 1911.

The total production of the principal crops of the United States for 1911, as indicated by their condition on August 1, reported by the United States Department of Agriculture, is as follows:

Under this head is given 600,588,000 pounds of tobacco for 1911; 984,439,000 pounds in 1910; a shortage of 383,851,000 pounds.

Condition and Indicated Yield.

Condition, 68.0 per cent. of a normal, compared with 72.4 per cent. on July 1. 78.5 per cent. in 1910 and 82.2 per cent. the ten year average. Indicated yield per acre, 672.4 pounds, compared with 797.8 pounds in 1910 and 826 pounds, the five year average.

Interesting figures from the Western Tobacco Journal's correspondent at Antwerp, Belgium, last week show that in the past ten years there has accumulated a shortage of 121,000,000 pounds—in other words, for the period named the increase in manufacturers and exports against the United States crop show this considerable deficit instead of excess as had been the experience up to about four years ago. This accumulated shortage added to the prospective shortage of 1911 crop makes a total shrinkage in supply of 504,851,000 pounds.

Things That Go Together.

Merchants with taste do not habitually display hams and ribbons in the same showcase; neither do they cantaloupes, dairy butter and horse-shoes. Still we are not prepared to charge a local dealer who exhibits in the same window a miscellaneous assortment of dice, revolvers and hand-cuffs, with doing violence to the eternal fitness of things. If they do not go together, how come it?—Charlotte Observer.

MORE ABOUT THE SEVEN SPRINGS

A PLACE OF NATURAL BEAUTY.

Prophecy For The Great Highway Across The Continent.

HANRAHAN, N. C., Aug. 12, 1911.

If my visions could upward soar, Till I should view heavens brightest shore; Then God's love I could not explore, His mercy endureth for evermore.

One who has been through the thrall tenfold worse than death, haggard, worn, depressed, and ever feeling that surely the hand of God was laid heavily upon them, (for we often accuse a kind Providence of things that are due to our own gross ignorance or neglect), and then as we grow older and realize how through His mysterious ways God often brings an obscure boy through hardships and suffering to lead the way to that source of help that has not only blessed us but will continue to bless untold numbers that shall come after us, surely we are forced to exclaim God is merciful and good.

As soon as I was sure that Eugene was entirely out of reach of any who might betray him, I told my father how much better I felt when I had drank of that Seven Springs water that Eugene had led me to, and that there must be a road opened sufficient for me to get to them with a horse. So he took two colored men and went immediately and opened a way to them. Each day thereafter for about five weeks I found my way to these springs, and there drank and was restored to health and vigor. Little was said about them, even for years, for the country round about was thinly settled and my home was in a somewhat obscure place. But occasionally those who had seen my sorrow look now saw that it had changed into the bloom of health. So on inquiry they found that the waters of these springs had done it. As mines of great worth develop slow, but after a while the shaft sinks low and the gold that has been so long hidden from the use of man is revealed, refined and purified, and is put into circulation, so with the wonderful waters combining curative properties that no human chemist can combine for centuries lay hidden, and are yet comparatively unknown, but they are beginning to come into notice, and ere long the inhabitants of distant states and even other nations who are longing for health, will flock to them as they do to no other source of comfort or health. It will not be very long before some Rockefeller or Carnegie, worn, tired and longing for some drink that will revive them, will on their magnificent car, drive on the great highway from Beaufort N. C., to San Francisco, Cal., and must needs pass by these wonderful springs. Some of these great financiers will be attracted by the wonderful beauties that nature has thrown around these elixirs of life, they will be so enchanted by the natural scenery that they will halt, and once they have imbibed of these waters they will never rest until they have spent their millions developing and artistically beautifying this lovely spot. And these men who are so much interested in the eradication of hookworm will develop these springs and the pilgrims will come from the four ends of the earth to see, drink and be made well, especially those who are suffering from hook worm or that dreaded malady, indigestion.

This is a prophecy that ere long will be fulfilled. An highway shall be there, a way that shall lead from the surging billows of the great Atlantic to the peaceful shores of the mighty Pacific. Yes, and this highway must run almost parallel with the charming banks of the enchanting Neuse. First, because this undeveloped river courses its way along the most direct route for the great highway, and second, because in the formation of the earth the great I Am looked down through the ages and saw the progressive spirit of the North Carolina people of this age, and He made this river with its sand belt along one bank and its splendid clay soil all the way along the northern bank and with its channel furnishing abundant waters with which to mix these two elements. Our state will be at little cost to build this highway from the extreme eastern to western border and when this is done Tennessee will run gasoline cars along this way and partake of what we once thought worthless sand, and will carry it into her borders and build, and thus the work will move on until our continent will be opened by this one mighty highway. Then some genius will see with an eye of faith (that means things my work) underneath this sand belt rivers of oil, and by means of his foresight applied by some one's capital, great oil wells will be explored that will furnish the power to drive all the transporting cars over this way that shall not only carry our traveling public but our rich commerce. No ravenous beast shall walk thereon and only the most thorough bred horses will travel upon it, because the burden of commerce will be transported by gasoline or electric power, and there will be no need to burden beasts of any kind to carry our produce and only those who have horses and who will care for their comfort, need hook them up, because it will be much easier and much more rapidly done to move our commerce by the aforesaid power.

So then the poor, as well as the rich, can traverse this mighty continent and see what wonderful things the Lord of heaven and earth hath done for the children of men, and much of this through the instrumentality of man.

Eugene has a son out in the far West who is fast developing into one of the greatest electricians and civil engineers of his age. So no doubt he will be a great factor in planning, surveying and building this highway. The next two years will see our State and the South develop as she has not in a century before, and this portion of our State, especially, because near here flows the river that carries the life-giving waters of Seven Springs.

A Rapid Growth.

The Chronicle is glad to note the rapid growth of the Farmers Union, for it is a business body, having nothing to do with politics, or politicians. Against these influences its doors are firmly barred. This week's issue of The Carolina Union Farmer says official reports at the recent meeting in Salisbury showed that a little more than ten thousand new members have been received into the Farmers Union in North Carolina since the December meeting at Greensboro and fourteen county unions have been organized during the past six months. "In gain of membership North Carolina stands so far ahead of any other state in the Union that it places this state in a class by itself," says The Carolina Union Farmer. "And it is gratifying to note that in nearly every locality where the Farmers Union has been planted it has enlisted in its membership the progressive and active men of the vicinity—the intelligent and broad-minded farmers who know what kind of organized commercial conditions must be met, and who stand ready to co-operate for the uplift of the community and for the protection of their own financial interests from the ravages of organized greed. While our numerical strength in North Carolina is something to be proud of, our real strength exists in the character and intelligence of our leading members, and wherever the right kind of local leadership has been brought into service the local unions have been planted upon an enduring foundation." The growth of this organization in North Carolina has been remarkable. To the individual efforts of Organizer Green, much of this success is due, but the State Union is fortunate in having enlisted the services and the faith of the strongest men in their respective localities.

COUNTY GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED

AT FARMERS MEETING THURSDAY

Resolution of Thanks for Use of Training School.

The afternoon session of the Farmers Educational meeting, Thursday, was no less interesting than the morning session, the farmers taking the advice of Congressman Small to stay through all the sessions and get all the benefit possible therefrom.

Prof. I. O. Schaub, of the Agricultural Department, spoke of the cooperative demonstration work throughout the state, and showed the advantage of this to the farmers. There are many Pitt county farmers engaged in this work under the supervision of County Agent J. F. Evans, and they are enthusiastic over it.

Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt spoke on the subject of good roads and the different methods of constructing them, and referred to the ease and comparative cheapness with which Pitt county can build roads.

Following his address a county good roads association was organized with the following officers:

President—R. R. Cotten. Vice-President—C. T. Munford. Secretary and Treasurer—H. A. White.

Directors—R. R. Cotten, C. T. Munford, H. A. White, L. J. Chapman, A. G. Cox, J. P. Juinerly.

Before the meeting adjourned the following was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Farmers Educational meeting express thanks to President Wright, of the East Carolina Teachers Training school, for the use of the auditorium for holding this meeting.

Harmon Avoids Bryan.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 14.—The Jefferson club, the insurgent Democratic organization of Franklin county, held its annual outing at Olentangy park today with William J. Bryan as the guest of honor and principal speaker. Governor Harmon declined an invitation to attend the gathering. The reason for his declination, according to his friends, was his desire not to meet face to face in his own state capital in the Nebraska leader, who has openly declared war upon him as a presidential candidate.

Mr. A. S. Walker Dead.

Mr. A. S. Walker, a Confederate veteran, died Friday at Davirston, Edgecombe county, and the remains were brought here today for interment in Cherry Hill cemetery. Mr. Walker was nearly 67 years of age, a native of Mecklenburg county, and moved to Pitt soon after the war. He married a Miss Tyson in this county, and the widow and six children survive him.

Marriage Licenses.

Register of Deeds Moore issued four marriage licenses the past week, all for colored couples, as follows: William Little and Iona Highsmith. Louis Johnson and Ethel Speight. Ben R. Carr and Bethany Boddie. John Dilda and Julia Ward.

Kill More Than Wild Beasts.

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Money back, if not satisfied. Only 50c at all druggists.

NEGRO BOY KILLED.

Slain By Another Boy of Same Race.

Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, county coroner, was called out to the Windham farm, in Fakland township, to hold an inquest Monday afternoon. The facts as brought out at the inquest are about as follows:

On Sunday, August 13th, Heber Harris, colored, aged 13, was shot and killed. Mack Harris, aged 12 or 14 years, said that Heber shot himself. Alex Daniel, aged 13, said he saw the shooting, that Mack was in the house and when Heber came up Mack raised the gun and shot Heber; then Mack ran across the cotton patch and came back after a while with his mother and father.

The coroner's jury thought there was sufficient cause for Mack to be held for investigation by the grand jury, hence their verdict was that Heber Harris came to his death from a gun shot wound inflicted by Mack Harris.

Number 34.

GREENVILLE WINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP

COAST LINE LEAGUE PENNANT.

The Season Has Come To An End.

The Coast Line League season has closed with Greenville the proud possessor of the pennant. This league was composed of teams of Greenville, Ayden, Grifton and Kinston. It started out to have only home boys as players, but as the season went on some of the best college stars in the state were secured.

In the first part of the pennant race Greenville so outdistanced the others, that a call was made when eleven games had been played, Greenville losing only one. There was a start then for another series of twelve games, each of the teams having been materially strengthened. This second series ended with a tie between Greenville and Ayden, which the latter refused to play off and the pennant was awarded to Greenville.

The two teams, however, arranged for three post season games to be played here this week on successive days, and Greenville also came out winner in these.

While all of the teams had hired players it can be said to the credit of Greenville that her team used more home boys than any other in the league. In no game played were less than four home boys put up. All of the teams did well and played good ball. Some of the games were as brilliant as any of the crack leagues could produce. The out-of-town players on the Greenville team all proved to be clever gentlemen, and they helped to make a wide reputation for their team. They made many friends here.

Small Scrap.
Mr. J. F. King and a colored man, Tom Brooks, who works for him in his livery stables, had some words Tuesday that resulted in a scrap. Mr. King struck Tom over the eye, and Tom, getting one of Mr. King's fingers in his mouth, chewed down on it. That stopped the fracas.

MAD DOGS AROUND FARMVILLE

Several Canines Killed—One Bites a Horse.

A few weeks ago there was some excitement in and around Farmville over the appearance of mad dogs. The discussion grew pretty warm over whether or not there should be a slaughter of dogs, and when 23 dogs were found dead in a very short time the fighting stage was almost reached among the owners, about the only thing that prevented fighting sure enough being that nobody knew who to hold responsible for the death of his dog.

Now a squeal has come, some days ago a dog belonging to Mr. Will Thigpen bit one of his horses on the nose, only making a slight wound. Mr. Thigpen doctored the horse's nose and shut up the dog to await development. In a few days the dog went mad when Mr. Thigpen killed it and also another dog belonging to him. As a safeguard against danger from the horse, he has built a log pen in the woods and confined the horse in this pen until he can see if the horse goes mad.

FRONTIER DAY CARNIVAL.

The Entire City Elaborately Decorated in Honor of Celebration.

CHEYENNE, Wyoming, Aug. 23.—Excursion trains from as far distant as Omaha, Kansas City and Denver arrived here today with crowds of visitors to the Frontier Day carnival. The carnival is the fiftyth annual affair of its kind held in Cheyenne and every indication points to the largest crowd ever entertained here. The festivities will continue until the end of the week. The programme provides for numerous parades, races, pageants and competitions of various sorts in which hundreds of cowboys and Indians will participate. The entire city is elaborately decorated in honor of the celebration and among the residents and visitors alike the carnival spirit reigns supreme.

Too many people waste their time in condemning the work of others, instead of spending it in trying to improve their own.

A SUGGESTION AS TO GOOD ROADS

KEEP TRYING AND NOT GIVE UP

Place A Good Man As Superintendent Of All Road Work.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Aug. 22, 1911 Editor Reflector:

I am in favor of good roads, and have been reading some of the articles about good roads, hoping that some move might be made that would open the way for the work to begin; but bonds seem to keep the way blocked, for we can't get bonds and we can't get them out of the way to try something else.

I read the article in your paper where Mr. X. Y. Z., had discovered a plan to build the roads by bonds and to pay the interest on the bonds, and a part of the bonds each year, by using our present funds, that we collect from the taxes.

Well, I expect he was about right, but I had to wonder how he was going to keep the roads repaired, for I am sure that it will take more labor to keep the good roads repaired than we spend at this time on our roads. So it occurs to me that we might need all our present tax money to keep the roads repaired.

I have also read the other articles in your paper about what the legislature did and what others did, but they seem to be of an explosive nature, and I expect threw more dirt out of the road than in it. Let's keep trying and not give up, even if we have to make the roads without bonds. Let us amend our present system and start to work. Perhaps we can begin to plan in such a way that results will soon follow. I would suggest that we have the best practical man we can get for county superintendent of roads and let him have control of all labor overseers that are subject to road duties, and let him have them work full time, and as they work let them work to the best interest of the road by giving the proper drainage and shape to the road bed. Then, I would suggest that the county superintendent have control over the chain gang force to work them where it is not convenient for the overseer and his force to work. We might also let him have partial control of X. Y. Z's tax money, and instead of letting it be used to pay bond interest let it be used to buy the best tools and machines available, and let these be used among the overseers or chain gang, or any where else for the improvement of the road. Then if there is tax money still on hand, it might be used to hire special labor to be used on the roads where it might be used to the best advantage. We might be very lengthy in suggesting plans as to how this work might be scheduled so the county superintendent might be with the work all over the county to see that the road bed might be in proper shape for the machines, and how the labor might be kept at duty. But this can be looked after later.

If something like this could be done we might call a mass meeting at an early date to discuss plans, and also to get some unity among the people.

A. B. C.

[As the writer of the above seems to have overlooked where "X. Y. Z's" calculation pointed out that $2,487.50 would be available for maintenance and improvement of roads each year, we reproduce that part of the article for information.]

The property of Greenville township as valued for taxation this year is in round numbers, $3,500,000. The road tax is 15 cents on each $100 property valuation, and 45 cents on each poll. The income from this tax is as follows:

$3,500,000 property at 15 cents per $100	$5,250.00
750 polls at 45 cents each ..	337.50
Total income	$5,587.50
Apply this amount under the bond issue:
$50,000 at 5 per cent. interest per annum	$2,500.00
Amount set aside each year and put on interest to pay bonds at maturity as provided for in bill	600.00
Amount then available for maintenance and improvement of roads each year.	2,487.50
	$5,587.50
