

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE OPENING

THE ATTENDANCE VERY LARGE.

Changes in The Faculty—Plans for The Session's Athletics.

WAKE FOREST, N. C., Sept. 11.—Wake Forest College opened Tuesday, September 5th, with the largest total registration in the history of the college. There was quite a number of old and new men present in chapel on the first day.

The exercises on Tuesday morning at chapel, were conducted by the college Chaplain, Rev. Walter N. Johnson. He delivered a splendid address on "Knowing and Undertaking."

Dr. Poteat also spoke to the new men, explaining the ideals and purposes of the college.

There has been one change in the personnel of the faculty, Dr. Jay B. Hubbell has been elected associate professor of English language to succeed Dr. Edward Payson Morton. Dr. Hubbell is a graduate of Richmond College, having taught for one year in the University of North Carolina, and having taken special work at Columbia University. Wake Forest is fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Hubbell.

Miss Iola Temple, head nurse of the Morehead City hospital, has been elected to succeed Miss Halsey as head nurse of the college hospital, while Mr. E. B. Earnshaw, the bursar, has been made superintendent of the hospital.

Mr. Herbert Poteat, who has been recently elected to the chair of Latin in the college, as successor of the late Prof. J. B. Carlyle, has been spending the summer at Wake Forest. Prof. Poteat has been working on his entries for the degree of Ph. D. at Columbia University. He will leave shortly to resume his engagement with the Hotchkiss school. Having been granted a year's leave of absence by the board of trustees, he will not take up his work here until the beginning of the season 1912-13.

There is at present under construction here a fire proof vault adjoining the business office for the safe keeping of the college records and other valuable books and papers.

The college is repairing and putting in a better system of water works, which will add considerable improvement to the college.

Tuesday morning after chapel exercises, there was a call meeting of the student body for the purpose of stirring up interest and enthusiasm for foot ball this year. A number of speeches made by several old men, which set on fire the hearts of many of the fellows. With this spirit and the coaching of Thompson, who for the past five years has helped A. and M. to put out a winning team, Wake Forest is hoping to follow in the steps of A. and M. and show the colleges of the state what she has and what she can do. Coach Thompson had a large number of men on the athletic field this afternoon. He has gone into the work with his heart and he is also making the men get down to business at once—no play now, but hard work and training.

Up to this date some over three hundred and fifty students have registered, and they are still coming in on nearly every train. Indeed, the prospects are that Wake Forest will have a larger student body this year

HIGHER, HIGHER!

The Gum And Gentry Continue On Top.

Farmer Friends: Look at these high sales at the Gum, Friday, Sept. 7. I am making them every day. Bring me your next load and I will make them for you.

For Cox & Gorham—92 @ 11 3-4, 84 @ 11 3-4, 170 @ 12, 34 @ 14 3-4, 128 @ 15 1-2, 22 @ 19 1-2, 30 @ 19. Average, $13.56.

For Walter Mills—100 @ 20, 320 @ 15. Average, $16.20.

For David McLawhorn—98 @ 14 1-2, 58 @ 24, 120 @ 21, 120 @ 15 1-2, 120 @ 13, 12 @ 24. Average, $17.10.

For J. E. Paramore—90 @ 11, 72 @ 15, 100 @ 21, 120 @ 24, 56 @ 19 1-2, 20 @ 32. Average, $19.38.

For Luther Tripp—24 @ 11 3-4, 44 @ 16, 84 @ 15, 56 @ 18 1-2, 120 @ 22, 116 @ 26, 90 @ 29. Average, $22.04.

For Tally & Briley—56 @ 21, 26 @ 25, 24 @ 23, 114 @ 16, 94 @ 12, 24 @ 18 1-2, 48 @ 13. Average $16.50.

For J. B. Oakley—224 @ 12, 60 @ 15, 28 @ 15, 14 @ 20, 34 @ 20. Average, $13.80.

For Z. B. Loftin—146 @ 18, 164 @ 21 1-2, 152 @ 19, 320 @ 15 1-2. Average, $17.08.

Bring your next load to the Gum and let me show you what high prices really are.

J. J. GENTRY, Manager.

ROCHDALE ITEMS.

Newsy Happenings Out in Beaver Dam.

ROCHDALE, N. C., Sept. 13.—Miss Callie Smith returned from a visit in Farmville last Wednesday.

Mr. Leslie Smith spent a few days of last week in Ayden visiting his sister.

Miss Trilby Smith returned from Snow Hill Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Laughinghouse are visiting at Cobdale.

Mr. Joe Smith returned to Richmond Monday to resume his studies in a medical college.

Master Dail Laughinghouse, of Greenville, is visiting at Cobdale farm.

Mrs. F. W. Smith and son, Mack, went to Farmville Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Tyson, of Renton, were visiting relatives here Monday.

Mr. Robert Jones left Tuesday for Trinity College.

Mr. James Joyner and Master Ben. A. Atkinson left Tuesday for Plymouth.

A Deadly Comparison.

It must be admitted that Rudyard Kipling makes one pretty good point against closer relations on Canada's part with the United States when he contrasts our one hundred and fifty murders to the million with Canada's three.—Charlotte Observer.

than any previous year.

Misses Dora and Louise Haynes, who have been visiting Mrs. Crozier, returned to their home in Augusta, Ga., today.

Managers Marton, of foot ball, Turner, of basket ball, Burton, of base ball, and Langston, of track, meet tonight with the alumni athletic committee to make plans for this year's athletics. It will be announced later as to what these will be.

Miss Louise P. Hines, who is now at Philadelphia doing special study, was elected by the board of trustees today as librarian of the college.

How To Get More Out Of Your Hay Crop

WHETHER you feed or sell your hay, it should be baled. Baled hay takes up much less room and nets a better price than loose hay. It is always ready for any market at top price, while loose hay must be sold near home, at whatever you can get.

I C H HAY PRESSES

have many points of strength, simplicity, and convenience found in no other presses. They are equipped with a compound lever and a toggle joint plunger, which gives them great compressing power. A 500 pound pull on the sweep of a 16x18 I H C press gives 76,800 pounds pressure in the bale chamber.

The bed reach is only 4 inches high and very narrow. The bale chamber is very low—easy to reach over to tie the bale.

If you examine an I C H hay press you will appreciate its value as a money saver and money maker.

For I H C hay presses, clover leaf manure spreaders, weber wagons and all other farm machinery and hardware, call on

Hart & Hadley

Greenville, N. C.

Quality Counts

Royster stock and Poultry Powders

Manufactured by

L. P. ROYSTER, OXFORD, N. C.

Is the best Stock and Poultry Powder used. Always gives results. Guaranteed cholera cure for hogs. Sold by J. W. Bryan, Greenville, and other dealers

NOTICE.

North Carolina.—Pitt County. In the Superior Court—Before D. C. Moore, clerk.
E. E. Griffin and wife) Julia F. Griffin, M.) Cherry and wife, Annie) Cherry, and E. H. Foley,) vs.
William F. Cherry.

By virtue of a decree of the Superior court of Pitt county, made by D. C. Moore, clerk, in the above entitled special proceeding, on the 11th day of September, 1911, the undersigned commissioner will, on the 16th day of October, 1911, at 12 o'clock, noon, expose to public sale, before the court house door in Greenville, Pitt county, North Carolina, to the highest bidder, for cash, the following described parcel of land, to-wit: Lying and being in the town of Greenville, situate on the north side of Third street and west side of Cotanch street, adjoining Third street on the south and Cotanch on the east, and lot known as the W. H. Harrington lot on the north, and lot known as the Shelburn lot on the west, containing 1-2 acre, more or less, and being the lot upon which Mrs. Mary Foley formerly resided.

This sale is to be made for the purpose of making partition among the heirs-at-law of Mrs. Mary Foley.

This the 11th day of September, 1911.

F. C. HARDING,
Commissioner.

Agriculture is the Most Useful, the Most Healthful, the Most Noble Employment of Man.—George Washington.

Volume XXXII.

GREENVILLE, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1911.

Number 38.

ENROLLMENT WILL PASS THE FIVE HUNDRED MARK

GRADED SCHOOL LARGE OPENING

Strong Corps of Teachers for The Present Session.

The graded schools of Greenville opened this morning at nine o'clock. No lessons were attempted; the children were assigned to their rooms, the promotion cards collected, book lists distributed and then they were dismissed for the day. Tomorrow the recitations begin.

The rolls have not yet been completed, and the exact number in attendance cannot be given today. There were present this morning between four hundred and twenty-five and four hundred and fifty. The increase in number over this time last year is about seven per cent. It is now certain that the enrollment in the school will exceed five hundred this year.

All the teachers were present, except the teacher of the second division of the first grade. She will arrive at an early date.

The corps of teachers this year is as follows:

First grade—Miss Mooring.
Advanced first—Mrs. F. M. Wooten (Substitute).
Second A—Miss Gregory.
Second B—Miss Morrison.
Third A—Miss Knight.
Third-Fourth B—Miss Alexander.
Fourth—Miss Olive.
Fifth—Miss Tyson.
Sixth—Miss Sheridan.
Seventh—Miss Keeter.
Drawing—Miss Tucker.
High School—Miss Meares.
Miss Cox.
Music—Miss Saucerman, Miss Carr.

Excursions.

The Mighty Haag Railroad shows have arranged round trip excursion rates on all lines to Greenville where the Mighty Haag Railroad shows exhibit on Sept. 29. Don't fail to avail yourself of the opportunity of seeing the only first-class trained animal show in America. Remember that $50,000 have been expended by the Haag shows in parade features alone.

IT WILL PAY YOU.

Tobacco Farmers, Handle Your Tobacco With Care.

Standing on the warehouse floor a few days ago, a buyer remarked to me that he had just bought some tobacco on the floor that was grown by a very good farmer, but that the way it was graded and put on the market damaged the sale of it from two or three cents a pound. Said this buyer: "You are frequently making suggestions to the tobacco farmers which I think are good, if they would observe them, but you could not do anything that would pay them so well for the amount of expense and trouble as to get them to handle their tobacco better." In this sentence, this particular farmer happened to be a man who has perfect control of his farm, and if he were to exercise himself, could have his tobacco delivered in just such condition as to demand the best market price, and when I reminded him of what the buyer had said about his tobacco, his immediate reply was: "I don't doubt it; for I could tell at a glance that my tobacco was not handled as well as the other tobacco on the floor, and called the attention of my tenants to it."

Tobacco should be graded and hung on sticks in proper order, and then when put in bulk, the proper way to make it look well when put on the warehouse floor is to have a wide, heavy board, and as each stick of tobacco is bulked, straighten out the leaves and press it down with this board at the end of each day's grading. The tobacco ought to have a reasonable amount of weight on it, so that the leaves are all straightened out, and if offered in this condition on the market, the leaves all stand out straight and show to the best possible advantage. Neatness in all things on the farm pays and pays well, but in no particular instance do I believe it would pay better than in the particular manner of handling tobacco.

O. L. JOYNER.

If a woman admits that she really loves her husband a lot of other married women pretend to feel sorry for her.

ANNIVERSARY OF H. B. HARRISS.

Large Number of Friends And Associates Gather With Him.

The 19th of September was the fifty-fifth birthday of our townsman, Mr. H. Bentley Harriss, and much to his surprise his good wife went about making preparations to have a number of his friends enjoy a few hours with them on this date. The dining room was most artistically arranged, the decorations being of golden rod and scarlet sage. There were fifty-five burning tapers, representing the fifty-five years of his life. A barbecued pig occupied the space between the burning candles, bearing the dates 1856-1911.

There was a guessing contest as to what the pig represented, in which all the guests participated. Mr. R. W. King being the successful winner in guessing "up-to-date," was presented with a box of cigars. Dr. Laughinghouse, being the winner of the booby prize, was presented with a box of cigarettes.

The table was presided over by the hostess, Mrs. H. B. Harriss, and her sister, Mrs. W. J. Turnage, and the good things served were too numerous to mention. Every one present enjoyed to the fullest the hospitality, and all wish Mr. Harriss many more years of prosperity and happiness.

Those present were Messrs. J. A. Lang, W. J. Turnage, W. M. Moore, J. C. Lanier, B. F. Tyson, E. H. Shelburn, R. C. Flanagan, Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, F. M. Wooten, O. L. Joyner, R. W. King, J. M. Reuss, H. T. King, J. L. Carper, Dr. T. G. Basnight, Ollen Warren, R. L. Humber, and Charles Cobb.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the direction with each bottle, a cure can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by all dealers.

Italy now imports more than fifty million dollars' worth of cotton each year. Hence the government is carefully fostering all attempts to produce a native crop.

HELD FOR FORGERY.

Robert Smith Arrested for Attempting to Get bad Check Cashed.

This morning Policeman G. A. Clark arrested one Robert Smith, of New Bern, for attempting to pass a forged check. Smith knew our candy man, Joseph Hatem, in New Bern, and was in his store right yesterday. The statement furnished The Reflector is that going to the desk to write a letter he secured one of Mr. Hatem's checks with his name printed thereon, filled it out for $20.00, signed Mr. Hatem's name, and this morning attempted to get it cashed at the National Bank. Mr. James, suspicious something wrong, as the signature was not Mr. Hatem's writing, started over to see about it. Smith left the bank and disappeared. Later Mr. Clark found him and arrested him. He will have a hearing tomorrow morning before Mayor Wooten, being out on bond until then.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

A Revival To Begin On October Second.

The Christian church on Dickinson avenue, will have a series of evangelistic meetings, beginning October 2, conducted by Rev. H. C. Bobbitt, minister of the Christian church at Rocky Mount. Mr. Bobbitt is an evangelist of large experience, and this year has held very successful meetings at Washington, Farmville, and Wilson, and it is expected that the church here will be much profited by his service. Everyone will be cordially welcomed at these evangelistic services.

Funeral of Mrs. Whichard.

The funeral of Mrs. V. H. Whichard who died Saturday morning, took place Sunday afternoon in Cherry Hill cemetery and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The service was conducted by Rev. C. M. Rock, assisted by Rev. C. C. Ware. The pall-bearers were Messrs. C. W. Hearne, F. M. Wooten, R. C. Flanagan, O. L. Joyner, Charles Cobb, G. E. Harris, J. J. Harrington, W. B. Wilson, R. L. Humber, A. L. Blow, B. B. Sugg, J. C. Tyson and J. L. Starkey.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

Tampa, Fla., has 10,000 cigar makers.

Beginning May 1, 1912, Cleveland lathers will receive $5 per day.

Toronto, Canada labor men may enter municipal contests next January.

Some of the diamond "cleavers" of Amsterdam receive as much as $120 per week.

The Building Trades Council of Los Angeles is conducting a free employment bureau.

The average age at which factory employes begin work in Hungary and Spain is ten years.

Boston Stationery Firemen's union has established a school for members in general steam engineering.

The city council of Murphysboro, Ill., passed a resolution giving preference to union labor on all city work.

Nearly 60 per cent. of the steel trust employes are foreign born, and nearly two-thirds of these are of the Slavic race.

Since 1878 the Cigarmakers' International union has paid out in sick, death, strike and out-of-work benefits more than $7,000,000.

The French minister of labor and social thrift has instituted a permanent committee for studying the indications approaching periods of industrial unemployment.

The United Association of Plumbers by an agreement entered into without friction, has established the eight-hour day at Springfield, O. This makes nine crafts in the city now enjoying the shorter workday.

Activity in trade union movements continues all over Germany in nearly all cases the men are winning, and a steady all-round advance both in the reduction of hours and in the increase of wages is practically certain.

In Los Angeles, Cal., the Garment Workers' union has more than doubled its membership within the last year and practically every union garment worker is employed, so great is the demand for the garment workers' label.

During the last ten years nearly ten thousand cracker bakers have been eliminated from the trade union movement through the tactics of the cracker trust, which is said to be financed by the same men interested in the steel trust.

An agreement has been concluded by the theatre managers and the Theatrical Stage Employers' union of Toronto, Ont., as the result of which the members of the union will receive a uniform average increase in wages amounting to 25 per cent.

The workmen's compensation laws of California and Wisconsin went into effect on September 1. They make the employers liable for any injury sustained by an employee in the performance of his duty, abolish the contributory negligence and fellow servant defenses in actions for damages brought by injured employees and pro-

Scotland and Township Plan.

This is the way it is going all over the state. Says the Wilmington Star: "Laurel Hill township, Scotland county, sets the pace for voting bonds to build good roads. The Laurinburg Exchange of Thursday, states that on Tuesday a $50,000 bond issue carried almost unanimously at a special election. Only three votes were cast against progress. All the Scotland townships have now voted road bonds, the aggregate issue being $130,000. It would be useless to compliment the people of Scotland for their progressiveness. Their enthusiasm for improved highways, backed by township issues of from $20,000 to $50,000 in all townships, speaks for itself. Scotland is a magnificent county, and its good roads will make it an ideal county." First thing you know Scotland will be up with Iredell, and Iredell leads the state as a bond voting county.—Charlotte Chronicle.

How It Halls in Michigan.

"Some of the hallstones were picked up and weighed from ten to eighteen ounces and many measuring from twelve to seventeen inches in circumference, although it was a very serious affair and many being scared almost to death, it was a sight worth seeing when they were dropping into Sand Lake, the water splashing from eighteen to twenty-five feet high, one hallstone coming through the air if weighed would weigh at least twenty pounds, when it struck the water it made a splash fully ten feet wide, and when it came down resembled a half cake of ice, cattle in fields ran wild in all directions, and it was almost impossible for man to take any chances. In many cases the hall dropped through the roof of buildings making a hole large enough for a child of four years to crawl through.—Sand Lake Herald.

Partridge Adopted Chicks.

Mr. Timothy Vanderford, who lives on Dr. Morrison's place two miles west of town, found in his meadow several days ago a mother partridge tenderly hovering over two small chicks, and when the burly man came in close range, the mother-bird began a terrible fluttering and issued defiant sounds from its little throat, until after the little biddies had been caught. The chicks were taken to the house, and it is said that the bird followed them and visits their little prison—for they were so wild that cooping was necessary to keep them on the barn-yard premises. The chickens are about five weeks old, and cannot be accounted for as to how and why the bird adopted them.—Mooreville Enterprise.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

vides for a system of compulsory industrial insurance. In Wisconsin nearly one hundred industrial concerns have already signified their acceptance of the law.

The Bank of Greenville

Capital Stock 50,000.00
Greenville, N. C.

A Record of 20 Years of Successful Banking

Among our directors are men who have made a remarkable success of their own business. Having been successful with theirs, they will handle yours with safety.

Directors:

R. L. DAVIS, of R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville, N. C.
J. A. ANDREWS, Greenville, N. C.
W. E. PROCTOR, of J. O. Proctor & Bro., Grimesland, N. C.
R. W. KING, Greenville, N. C.
J. R. MOYE, General Merchant, Greenville, N. C.
J. G. MOYE, General Merchant, Greenville, N. C.
R. R. FLEMING, Pactolus, N. C.
S. T. HOOKER, Prop. Liberty Warehouse, Greenville, N. C.
R. A. FOUNTAIN, of Fountain & Co., Fountain, N. C.
B. W. MOSELEY, of Moseley Bros., Greenville, N. C.
W. B. WILSON, Merchandise Broker, Greenville, N. C.
JAMES L. LITTLE, Greenville, N. C.

A small account opened now may grow into a large one—Accounts Invited

R. L. DAVIS, President JAMES L. LITTLE, Cashier.
S. T. HOOKER, V-Pres. H. D. BATEMAN, Asst Cashier.

When You Want to Buy a

PIANO

See Sam White Piano Co.
Greenville, North Carolina.

They will sell you a first class instrument cheap and on easy terms. They are home people and will treat you right. Visit our store.

The Sam White Piano Co.

When in need of cheap Coffins, go Gardner's Repair Shop. He sells them from $1.50, up. I make them from good material. I also frame pictures, and sell glass cut to any size. First-class repairs done on buggies, carts and wagons, by competent workmen. Gardner's Repair Shop Better a close-mouthed friend than a close-fitted enemy.

THE MODERN BARBER SHOP

S. J. NOBLES

Nicely furnished, everything clean and attractive, working the very best barbers. Second to none.

OPPOSITE J. R. & J. G. MOYE.

Domestic economy is taught in the school of matrimony.

HOW HUSSEY GOT THE MONEY

HE MAKES A FULL STATEMENT.

Began By Taking Small Sums, Because His Salary Was Small.

Reflector readers are familiar with the bank defalcation at Tarboro, with the suicide of Cashier L. V. Hart, and the arrest of Assistant Cashier E. B. Hussey, who was tried at Tarboro this week and got eighteen months in the penitentiary. At the trial Hussey made a full confession which is taken from the Tarboro Southerner, as follows:

The defendant then made a statement which in substance was about as follows:

He admitted telling Mr. Shackelford that he was short $12,500, and that when he did so he felt better than he had in three or four years, that the disclosure of his defalcations would have been told before had not the cashier, L. V. Hart, prevailed upon him not to do so, telling him not to show the white feather, that he would take care of him, that he was able to do so and could.

He began service in the bank on the first Saturday in September, 1897, as runner and had remained in its service till the collapse.

His peculations began seven years or more ago when J. J. Hines was cashier. That before L. V. Hart was promoted to cashier, Mr. Green going to Tennessee, he was then found $2,000 short, part of which was due to speculating in cotton. His speculated altogether three times. First time with Green and lost $1,700 or $1,800. The second time with L. V. Hart, and lost $575, and the third time with Green, and lost between $700 and $800.

His stealing began when he was receiving only $12.50 per month. By taking $5 and $10 at the time, averaging $5 per month. That when his salary was doubled he continued in his wrong doing. To Judge Ward's inquiry why he stole, he said that because he did not think he was being paid enough salary.

He said he had been engaged in a few enterprizes and lost money on each venture. These were cotton, timber and land ventures.

He had turned over to the bank every piece of property that he owned, except his household goods, amounting to between $7,000 and $8,000.

His actual abstractions were $11,900, the other $600 he had charged up for interest on the money he had taken.

A Baby Camel.

The Mighty Haag Railroad shows have the youngest living baby camel in captivity today, having been born in winter quarters at Shreveport, prior to the shows leaving there. The baby without doubt is the finest specimen of Siberian camel that can be found in America today. The camel has been named after General Lee, and bids fair have as tender a spot in the hearts of the amusement going people as did its name-sake in the hearts of the American public.

When visiting the Mighty Haag Railroad shows, which exhibit at Greenville, September 29th, don't miss seeing the baby camel.

You can't offend a homely woman by telling her she isn't.

MISS JENNIE HERNDON.

Died at Watts Hospital of a Complication of Diseases.

Miss Jennie, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Herndon, died at Watts hospital this morning at 2 o'clock.

Miss Herndon was a native of Wake county. She was graduated in Elon College in 1896 and afterwards was a member of the college faculty, teaching elocution and expression. For a number of years, Miss Herndon was secretary of the alumni association, having the honor of delivering the address to the alumni association in 1910. Miss Herndon also taught in Greensboro one year and in Greenville, N. C., two years and was elected a member of the graded school faculty of Durham, but illness prevented her from beginning her new duties this year.

Miss Herndon had been ill for three months with a complication of diseases, and, five weeks ago, was taken to the hospital.

Miss Herndon had made many friends throughout the state, and was deeply loved by all who knew her.

She is survived by her mother and father, two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Moffit, of Asheboro, and Mrs. W. K. Scott, of Winston-Salem, and by one brother, Mr. Carl M. Herndon, of Durham.

The funeral services will be held from the Christian church Sunday afternoon at 3:30, conducted by Rev. J. O. Atkinson, of Elon College, and Dr. W. S. Long, of Chapel Hill.

The pall-bearers will be Professor Smith, Dr. Carr, Prof. Ragsdale and Mr. Brown, of Greenville; Professor W. P. Lawrence, of Elon College, and Mr. Claude Edwards, of Durham. The floral bearers will be Dr. L. M. Edwards, D. L. Boone, Paul Edwards and Dr. McPherson.—Durham Sun.

Help Enforce Prohibition.

If you want to see North Carolina's prohibition law respected as it should be, even by its enemies, then let its friends get in after the blind tigers and put them out of business. If our officers are careless about enforcing the law, then get in after the officers and make them do their duty or put them out of office. But if, on the other hand, they are disposed to do their duty, give them all the support and backing they need. If the friends and advocates of al aw can not be depended upon to help enforce it, to whom are the officers to look for support when the test comes? Don't criticise them when they have tried to enforce the law, but have fallen short of what you may have expected or demanded of them, but give them only the more loyal and earnest support and thereby encourage them to a more diligent and faithful performance of duty. Her ein North Carolina we are too much given to depending altogether upon the officers to enforce the law while we stand off and criticise instead of backing them. This is one reason why there are so many unpunished violators of the prohibition law in our state.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

Late Melons.

We do not recall a year in which so many fine watermelons were coming in as late in the season as now.

Literature that improves the mind is what people want their children to read because they never would themselves.

John Robinson's circus is heading this way and will be along some time in October.

Condensed Statement of

The National Bank

GRENVILLE, NORTH CAR.

At Close of Business September 1, 1911.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts	$229,064.16
Overdrafts	3,201.18
U. S. bonds	21,000.00
Stocks and bonds	2,500.00
Furniture and fixtures	7,136.00
Ex. for Clearing house	3,639.84
Cash and due from banks	33,278.02
5 per cent fund	1,050.00
Total ..	$300,869.50

LIABILITIES.

Capital ..	$ 50,000.00
Surplus ..	10,000.00
Profits ..	1,810.55
Circulation ..	21,000.00
Band account ..	21,000.00
Rediscout ..	81,275.09
Dividends unpaid ..	91.42
Cashier's checks ..	426.41
Deposits ..	115,240.12
Total ..	$300,869.50

Atlantic Coast Line

The Standard Railroad of the South Ramifies the "Nation's Garden Spot" through the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Florida

Four Famous Trains: "New York and Florida Special." (January and April) "Florida and West Indian Limited," "Palmetto Limited," "Coast Line Florida Mail."

Dining cars—a la carte service. All year around through car service from New York to both Port Tampa and Knights Key, connecting with steamships to and from Havana.

For beautifully illustrated booklets and copy of the "Purple Folder" address,

W. J. Craig, T. C. White,
P. T. M. G. P. A.
Wilmington, N. C.

Roofing and Sheet Metal Work

For Slate or Tin, Tin Shop Repair Work, and Flues in Season, See

J. J. JENKINS 'Phone 76, Greenville, N. C.

J. S. MOORING

General Merchandise

Buyer of Cotton and Country Produce

FIVE POINTS, GREENVILLE, N. C.

The Reflector Want Ads Bring Results

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT IN CHARGE OF C. T. COX

Authorized Agent of The Carolina Home and Farm and The Eastern Reflector for Winterville and vicinity
Advertising Rates on Application

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Sept. 14.—

Mr. F. F. Cox left Saturday for Wake Forest, where he will spend a few days and from there he will go to the Columbia University of New York to finish his course in medicine.

Pay your bills by check, which makes the best kind of a receipt and thus avoid the worry and danger attending the carrying of large sums of money. Bank of Winterville.

Mr. J. B. Williams, of Snow Hill, was a pleasant visitor in town Sunday.

Our dry goods and notions are arriving daily. Come and look before you buy. A. W. Ange & Co.

On Friday night of last week the Winterville High School had three days of fun, they were given a stroll and every one seemed to have their part of the fun.

The 25c counter at Harrington, Barber & Co.'s, consisting of white lined enameled ware for the kitchen is worth your while to stop and take a look at. It has never been equalled in town.

Mr. J. A. Jarrell, of Grifton, was in town Sunday.

A. W. Ange & Company can sell you matting from 12 1-2 cents per yard up. See them before buying.

Mrs. J. F. Stokes and children, of Greenville, spent Sunday at the home of Dr. B. T. Cox.

The A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company carries a complete line of buggy harness. They have in a new lot now. Come in and look them over.

The series of meetings at Reedy Branch church closed Saturday night with nineteen additions to the church. They were baptised in Forbes mill pond Sunday morning.

Harrington, Barber & Company are carrying a large assortment of ladies' dress goods.

Miss Sibyl Taylor returned to her home near Kinston Sunday evening, after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. J. L. Rollins.

Farm fence, poultry fence, barbed wire, and staples for sale by A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company.

Mr. G. G. Dixon left Monday morning for Richmond to study medicine.

See those men's shirts and ties at Harrington, Barber & Co.'s.

Mr. D. S. Chapman left Monday for Trinity to take up the ministry.

Have you decided about the kind of buggy you are going to get this fall? Come down and talk with Hunsucker and look over the buggies manufactured by the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. and it will help you to decide.

Mrs. F. C. Fox, of Randleman, is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Bryan.

Harrington, Barber & Co. have just received a car load of flour, and prices right.

Mrs. F. M. Crawford returned Monday from Stantonsburg, where she spent some time with her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Edmondson.

The wagon you contemplate buying, we know you want it to have strong wheels, and a strong gear. There is no wagon made that has stronger and more durable wheels than the "Tar Heel" wagon. Prices are right, too. Cart wheels are made of same material. Call on the A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company, Winterville, N. C., and they will show you more superior qualities about their "Tar Heel" wagons and carts.

Miss Ethel Carroll left yesterday for Raleigh, where she teaches in Meredith College.

There will be services at St. Luke's Episcopal church Sunday at 11 a. m. and again at 3:30 p. m., by Rev. W. J. Fulford, of Ayden. Everybody invited.

Misses Bertha Carroll, Helen Adams and Myrtle Metawhorn left yesterday for Raleigh to attend Meredith College.

Miss Venetia Cox left today for Battleboro, where she teaches.

Miss Jeanette Cox left today for Greensboro, where she resumes her studies.

Winterville is still needing a good, first-class barber. Some extra inducements are awaiting the right man.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Sept. 16.—Mrs. A. G. Cox spent two days of this week in Kinston.

Have you ever noticed the striking difference between a minister and an undertaker? Well, the minister pleads with you to prepare to die, while the undertaker prepares for you to die. You can get a nice coffin or casket from the A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company. They have made preparation to serve you. They furnish excellent hearse service also.

Miss Sallie Pickett Oldham gave a recital at the school building Thursday night, and it was thoroughly enjoyed by every one who attended it.

When you are ready to buy your porcelain lined enameled ware or grey ware for your cook room, just come and inspect Harrington, Barber & Co.'s 25-cent table and the bargain will be closed without further investigation.

Miss Olivia G. Cox went to Raleigh yesterday.

The Union Mercantile Company are opening up the nicest line of underwear you have ever heard of, both for ladies and gents, children and misses. Look at their line before buying.

We were glad to see Mr. J. B. Kittrell, of Greenville, in town Tuesday. John is one of our Winterville men.

Winterville is one of the best manufacturing towns in Eastern Carolina. It is a model home for the laboring man. The social privileges of the town are his, and there is no extravagant expenditures of the town to be met, and the every style of living is of the most economical plan. With these advantages the laborer can manufacture products and easily meet competition from other places. It is not wise to attempt business unless you have some advantage.

See the nice rugs at A. W. Ange & Co.'s. They are cheap.

Mr. C. S. Smith returned Monday from Raleigh, where he took Mrs. John Venters.

Just a word to the hunters. We carry a good line of loaded shells, smokeless or black powder, also we carry guns to shoot them with, Stevens' breech loaders. Come and see us for prices. Union Mercantile Co.

Mr. C. E. Langston left his week to enter school at Chapel Hill.

The best values ever offered for a dime are at Harrington, Barber & Co.'s store. Come and see them.

Mrs. R. W. Dail spent Wednesday in Ayden visiting friends.

Well, it just looks like every body is buying a Hunsucker buggy. Don't worry though, for fear that you won't be able to get one, for the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. has made extensive preparations for their manufacture. It would be wise to see them and let them know your wants before the big rush comes.

Miss Sarah Barber and "Laughing" Theodore visited Ayden Wednesday evening.

Miss Olivia G. Cox returned Monday evening from Raleigh.

Limé and cement at A. W. Ange

& Co.'s.

went over to Ayden yesterday evening and played a game of ball with the Ayden boys, and left them counting 4 to 0 in favor of Winterville.

We still call your attention to our trade deal, for every 50 cents worth of cash trade we give you a ticket worth 10 cents, and a guess at the $30 watch. It's going your way, get your part of it while it is going. Union Mercantile Company.

Miss Sarah Barker left this morning to spend some time at Chocowinity.

If you look through a bank account you can always see prosperity ahead. A bank account opens the way to all things prosperous. Open an account today and you will lay the first foundation stone for a fortune. Bank of Winterville.

Several of our people attended the picnic at Johnson's Mills yesterday.

Get your paint from Harrington, Barber & Co. They have just received a large shipment and can furnish you in all the leading colors.

The Baraca class of the Sunday school will have charge of the services Sunday night. Come out and hear their program.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Sept. 20.—Mr. H. T. Oglesby went to Kinston Saturday night and returned Monday morning.

Lamps, lamp chimneys and the spring wire adjustable burner, at Harrington, Barber & Co.'s.

Mr. J. R. Ross and family, of Ayden, spent Sunday in town.

The bank is the financial heart of the community. Upon its circulation depends your prosperity. Do your part towards keeping it throbbing and we will do ours. Bank of Winterville.

Rev. W. J. Fulford, of Ayden, filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning and evening.

Bring your corn and wheat to Harrington, Barber & Co.'s mill and get it ground any day.

Rev. M. A. Adams filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning and at the close of the service he baptised five into the membership of Ayden church.

We have a nice line of dress goods just in. Come and examine our stock before you buy. A. W. Ange & Co.

Misses Alma and Jessie Cannon, of near Ayden, spent Sunday in town.

Harrington, Barber & Co. will be pleased to show you their line of ladies' dress goods. They have a large stock and prices are as low as one could ask.

Mr. W. J. Bullock, assistant cashier of the Bank of Grifton, was a pleasant visitor in town Sunday.

Buggies, buggies, buggies! is what the farmers want. They want quality with them, too. We know that, and we are making this fact a point. Come to see us, we can suit you. A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company.

Mr. Willie Moore, of Ayden, spent Sunday in town with friends.

Mr. J. D. Cox is spending a few days at home this week.

A beautiful assortment of rugs in floral and animal patterns at Harrington, Barber & Co.'s.

Mr. M. B. Bryan, of Kinston, was in town Monday.

Misses Lizzie Cox and Pearl Hester and Mr. C. T. Cox visited in the country Monday evening. They reported a nice time.

Get the best 8-ounce duck for making cotton sheets at Harrington, Barber & Co.'s.

Miss Olivia G. Cox returned Monday evening from Raleigh.

TO DISCUSS EXTRA FARE QUESTION

WILL CONTINUE SEVERAL DAYS.

It Has Been Suggested That a Quarter of a Cent per Mile be Added.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 19.—The fifty-sixth annual convention of the American Association of General Passenger and Ticket Agents began its sessions here today with Colonel Samuel Moody, passenger traffic manager of the Pennsylvania railroad, presiding. The convention will continue for several days. One of the timely topics to be discussed is the recommendation that railroad passengers be charged extra for using high-class equipment. It has been suggested that a quarter of a cent a mile be added to the price of a ticket for a passenger using an observation or a parlor car. In support of the proposal it is contended that the railroads expend large amounts to furnish this class of travelers fast train service, luxurious surroundings, and special attention of various kinds. The association will thoroughly discuss the matter, but any action it may take will be purely advisory in its nature.

A notable feature of the convention will be the banquet tomorrow night. Among those scheduled to speak at the banquet are James J. Hill, president of the Pennsylvania system, Vice President Daly, of the New York Central lines, and several representatives of government railroads in France and Germany.

DOUBLE SALES TOBACCO.

Asked by The Business Men of The Town.

To the Tobacco Board of Trade of the Town of Greenville:

We, the undersigned citizens and business men of the town of Greenville, believing it to be for the best interest of the tobacco market, and knowing it to be for the best interest of all other business in our town, respectfully petition your honorable body to put on double sales at once. September 19, 1911.

J. R. & J. G. Moye, Frank Wilson, D. W. Hardee, B. G. & J. R. Abeyounis, W. H. Ricks, A. B. Ellington & Co., J. H. Boyd, Jr., W. L. Hall, W. J. Hardee, Patrick & Staton, S. M. Schultz, Palley & Bowen, J. S. Mooring, J. L. Wooten Drug Co., Gornio Shoe Co., C. H. Forbes, Carr & Atkins Hardware Co., J. E. Williams, W. E. Haywood, H. Bentley Harris, J. S. Cockrell, C. T. Munford, Taft & Boyd Furniture Co., Hart & Hadley, C. S. Forbes, Taft & VanDyke, J. L. Starkey, B. F. McLemore, Jesse Speight.

The Haag Shows Unloading.

To those who have never seen a big show unloading from its trains of cars a grand sight is in store for them on Sept. 29th, when the Mighty Haag Railroad shows will arrive here. To those who have seen shows unload they will see something very interesting in the system of the Haag Shows, which is an improvement on the usual shows unloading.

The shows will arrive about 4:30 o'clock from Washington, and will start to unload about five o'clock and will exhibit here afternoon and evening on September 29th.

COL. J. B. STICKNEY.

At One Time A Resident of Pitt County.

At eight o'clock last evening, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Annie Green, in the 84th year of his age, the spirit of Col. J. B. Stickney passed in the Great Beyond.

Only a few minutes before his death he seemed in unusual good spirits, chatting with his family and neighbors. The end came suddenly and peacefully for "he fell on sleep."

At 4:30 this afternoon from St. Timothy's Episcopal church the funeral was held, attended by a large concourse of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by Rev. Edwards, the rector of the parish.

As a mark of respect to his memory, the court house bell was tolled a half hour, from 4:30 to 5, while the services were being conducted.

Colonel Stickney was universally beloved and respected by all of our people, and though we all understand that he has rounded out the full measure of a life well spent in the cause of his Master and as a guiding star of a bright example to all the people, yet we are loathe to give up his kindly presence and noble spirit, which as it came near, made you feel that truly that is a Father of Israel and a good man is among us.

The deceased was born in Greensboro, Alabama, in 1827. He moved from there to Pitt county, where for 15 years he resided, serving the county with honor and distinction for two successive terms in the state legislature. He was also a leading farmer, for he loved the soil and believed that Dame nature would liberally reward all those who treated her kindly.

He has been a resident of Wilson for 35 years and a loyal citizen of our community, always interested in whatever made for its progress as far as his means would permit. He was happily married to Miss Satterthwaite, of Beaufort county. His wife being the only daughter of Mr. F. B. Satterthwaite. This union was blessed by one child who survives him.—Wilson Times.

A MAN WHO HELPS OTHERS.

Mr. Joyner's Contributions Widely Copied and Read.

That Mr. O. L. Joyner, president of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company, is a recognized authority on the tobacco situation and agricultural topics, is shown from the fact that his contributions to The Reflector are widely copied by trade papers, both tobacco and agricultural journals. His recent communication advising farmers to sell their tobacco on warehouse floors, has been taken up by the tobacco journals especially and given broad circulation for its wisdom and soundness. Ever since Mr. Joyner became identified with the tobacco industry as a warehouseman back in 1891, he has not only labored personally to do what he thought was best for the tobacco grower, but also with his contributions through the press, has given timely information and advice to the farmers that has been of incalculable benefit to them. And the farmers never go wrong in following his advice.

Probably more men would retire to their closets to pray if the family skeleton didn't take up so much room.

HOPE WELL ITEMS.

A Bunch of Personal Notes in That Neighborhood.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Sept. 19.—Rev. M. A. Adams closed a meeting at Hope Well Friday night with four additions.

Miss Annie Stokes, of Wall street, spent last week with Misses Lela, Lula and Mae Stox.

Miss Mary Kittrell, of Greenville, spent last week with Misses Maggie and Julia Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke McGlohorn, of Greene county, spent last Monday night with Mrs. McGlohorn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Smith.

Mr. Joe Pollard spent Friday at Mr. W. G. Smith's.

Miss Minnie Mae Whitehead, of Winterville, was the guest of Miss Leona Cox last week.

Mr. J. R. Cox went to Kinston last Thursday.

Mr. B. T. Cannon returned to Greenville today.

Mr. D. T. Cox entered school at Winterville Monday.

Glad to know that Mr. Josephus Cox is improving.

Mr. Roscoe Cox went to Greenville Friday.

A large crowd around here attended the picnic at St. John's Friday.

Mr. Guy Langston, of Kinston, spent Sunday with Mr. Oscar Manning.

Miss Julia Sumerel, of Ayden, is spending the week with Miss Fannie Smith.

Miss Lottie Ellis, of Pink Hill, spent Saturday night with Miss Clara Smith.

Mr. Ernest Cox and Miss Eva Vincent were visiting at Mr. Benj. Stox's.

Mr. Joe Barber and Mr. Sam Vincent was visiting at Mr. Benj. Stox's Sunday.

Mr. L. J. Stox spent Sunday in Craven county.

Mr. Joe Cannon, of South Carolina, is spending some time with his uncle, Mr. Erastus Cannon.

Mr. B. F. Stokes, of Stokestown, spent Sunday at Mr. Benj. Stox's.

The Parade.

Mighty Haag Railroad shows parade Too much cannot be said of the which takes place daily on the public streets free for everybody and is one mile in length and introducing features never attempted by any other show for their street pageant. No parade is complete without a callopie and Mr. Haag has spared no expense in this everlasting feature of the parade. Not only have the Haag shows one of the finest callopies in the world but have been fortunate enough to secure the services of Signor Lamont who is considered the premier of callopie players, and will certainly gladden the hearts of the children, and everybody as well with up-to-date selections. They will appear in Greenville September 29.

Death Down His Umbrella.

Joseph Ingles, 47 years old, a dairy hand, was killed instantly by lightning while crossing a field near Kansas City Sunday.

Ingles carried an umbrella with a steel rod. He left his home to walk across the field to his work at the Morris dairy. Lightning struck the steel rod of the umbrella, ran down it and entered his body near the shoulder where the rod touched.

A man never realizes how many faults he has until he gets married—then his wife tells him.

THE SHORTEST SPEECH.

It Was Delivered By Caesar and Consisted of One Word.

Julius Caesar holds the record for brevity of convincing speech.

The story is told that while Caesar was in the midst of his struggle for the mastery of the Roman empire the soldiers of his favorite Tenth legion mutinied. He appeared before them, and, uttering the one word "Quirites," paused.

That word means, of course, "citizens," but to the veterans to whom it was addressed it meant a great deal more. It was the special term used in addressing Roman voters assembled in a purely civic capacity, not as soldiers but as civilians.

To the mutinous soldiers it meant that the great commander, whom they had followed for ten long years from the Alps to the Thames and from the Rhine to the Pyrenees and across the Rubicon, disowned them as soldiers and dismissed them from his victorious service.

Realizing its meaning, the story goes, the mutineers were appalled. Battle scared veterans burst into tears, implored their leader to pardon them and infected summary punishment upon the inciters of the mutiny as a proof of their repentance.

Swanson Sets Precedent.

Until former Governor Swanson was nominated for the United States senate by a big majority at the recent primary it had been the case in Virginia that after a man filled the gubernatorial chair he was never again honored by the people. In support of this a contemporary says:

"Many times in recent years governors of Virginia have aspired to election to the United States senate after or during their terms or have cherished ambitions to wear the toga, even if they were not avowed aspirants.

"General Lee and Governor McKinney were both voted for as senatorial aspirants in 1893, but both were beaten. Governor O'Ferrill was known to have cherished senatorial aspirations when he was governor, but he guessed wrong on the currency question in 1896 and was hopelessly out of the running thereafter. Gov. Tyler was a candidate for the senate in 1899. In 1905 Governor Montague, who had been working during his entire term as governor to insure his election to the senate in 1905 and in whose supposed interest the primary agitation was begun and that plan of nominating devised, was beaten in a popular primary for the senate.

"The long array of precedents had given rise to a popular belief that the governorship was the door to political retirement in this state. It has remained for Mr. Swanson to break this hitherto unbroken line of precedents and win the coveted honor before the people over a man of unquestioned ability and one who already had a seat in the other branch of congress.—Norfolk Ledger Dispatch.

Mr. Reuben S. James Dead.

Mr. Reuben S. James died at his home, three and a half miles north of Bethel, on the 9th inst., after a long illness, having been confined to his bed near two years with Bright's disease. He was about sixty-five years old and left a widow and seven children. He was a substantial farmer, a good citizen and a hard working, useful man.

Young Women

Read what Cardui did for Miss Myria Engler, of Faribault, Minn. She says: "Let me tell you how much good Cardui has done me. As a young girl, I always had to suffer so much with all kind of pain. Sometimes, I was so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet. I got a bottle of Cardui, at the drug store, and as soon as I had taken a few doses, I began to feel better. Today, I feel as well as anyone can."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Are you a woman? Then you are subject to a large number of troubles and irregularities, peculiar to women, which, in time, often lead to more serious trouble.

A tonic is needed to help you over the hard places, to relieve weakness, headache, and other unnecessary pains, the signs of weak nerves and over-work.

For a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic.

You will never regret it, for it will certainly help you. Ask your druggist about it. He knows. He sells it.

Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent free. J. 56

SPENT AFTERNOON LOCKED IN STOCKADE

And the Three Hours Seemed Like Weeks

THE DOOR WAS SHUT AND BARRED

Some Towns, Like Individuals, Allow The Door of Opportunity to Be Closed Against Them—Ordained That Poor and Rich Dwell Together.

HANRAHAN, N. C., Sept. 15.—And the door was shut, securely locked and barred. Once I was in the state prison, or on Cledonia farm, for that is where the authorities send most of the common clod hoppers because tilling the soil is more in harmony with what all such were intended for. But I was a trusty from the time I reached there until I left. They even allowed me to eat at the same table and to occupy at night the same building with the superintendent of that farm. In fact, in some cases my edict was more rigidly obeyed than was the command of the superintendent. But I tried never to abuse my privilege because they allowed me some freedom. So day after day I went on enjoying the freedom of all that surrounded that vast farm with its 100 mules, its fine cows and pictures of hogs. I watched the clover grow, the vast acres of cotton spring from that fertile soil and take on its different stages of development; the corn, how proudly it leaped up, spread out its long green blades and waved its golden tassels in the sunlight, then the white and red hair or silks shot out from where the blade joins on to the stalk. Beauty! Yes, if any one could look on such a farm and not sigh for a life of liberty, I can't understand his make-up.

But, alas, this was a place where to most of these men there was only a dream of the past. Day after day I had seen those men in their striped clothes march out at the first glimpse of the sun in the morning, and at noon march back to eat their meal and rest one hour, and then at the tap of the bell march back to their work twenty in a squad, ever watched and strictly guarded. At night in the same manner they were marched back, and into the stockades they went and the gate was shut. Then to his bath each one must go, after which each in regular order repaired to the table and partook of his meal without a word. If he wanted more food his hand went up and it was given him. Supper finished, then to the stronger walls each one must march, and there they were counted and the door was shut, securely locked and barred. This looked to me as though it was hard to bear, but I did not, nor could I, realize what it meant until one afternoon I was real busy in the ward and did not think about its being the warden's afternoon off. It was his business to see that all the prisoners left in were locked up before he left. So when I finished my work and went to the door to make my exit, behold the door was shut and locked. It was then that I was more anxious to get out than I had ever been; not that I had any special business outside or that I was afraid of any of the prisoners, but I was locked in and knew that I must stay there until the warden returned. Miserable I was for three hours that seemed like weeks to me, except the shadows of night did not hover about me while in there securely locked.

Since then I have thought how many men, towns and communities allow the door of opportunity to be shut, and barred against them, yea, and their children, because the warden, which is the hand of progress, warned them that unless they get out and get a move on them the door will be shut. And still they heed not the warning, many afraid that if they move forward they might help some one else; others refusing to move out because they were born crying and out of sorts with the whole world around them; others hold the two dollars, the first they ever made, so close to their eyes that they cannot see a stack of gold if it were just in front of them.

I have in mind one town, or at least it might have been a town, for tall and broad mansions and even palaces were built, and almost, if not all of the aristocrats of the county moved there and money was lavished to beautify and adorn each home. A town where only those who lived in luxury and ease were allowed to dwell. Horny hands of toil were excluded from what the dwellers therein supposed was an ideal place to dwell. But their dream of happiness and bliss was of short duration. Soon envy and strife sprang up among them as to which could outshine the other, and then one by one they began to look for other parts, until the last vestige of that once aristocratic place had vanished and today only duds and other creeping things therein dwell. The door was shut and they were miserable. Why? Because God ordained that the poor and the rich should dwell together in brotherly love and each be a support for the other. It takes the mud sill to build a structure for a mill. It takes the grimy faced miner to dig the coal to warm the king's palace. It takes the brown, sunburned, horny-handed farmer to produce the luxuries with which to furnish the financier's table. The factory girl can be a lady and still go daily to her loom to weave the cloth that must clothe the rich and the poor. Yes, the man of wealth is a great necessity. So let's each and all join hands and march with one step in the same direction, that of mercy to our beast and comfort to our fellow man.

Would you be merry and happy each day?
Then get in the throng to build our highway.
Would you 'gainst misery continue to butt?
Growl at progress, till the door is shut?
U-KNOW.

Death of Mrs. Hanrahan.

Mrs. Sarah Hanrahan, the widow of the late W. H. Hanrahan, died at her home, Pleasant Hill, near Grifton, N. C., Friday, 15th. The remains will be brought to New Bern this afternoon to be interred in Cedar Grove cemetery tomorrow, Sunday. The deceased was a Sainly Christian woman of venerable age, and a devoted communicant of the Episcopal church.—New Bern Sun.

Mrs. Hanrahan was the widow of W. H. Hanrahan, and was a Miss Worthington, of a prominent family. She is the last in the county to bear the name.

New Goods

We have received already, many large shipments of Fall Goods, but each day we continue to receive more and more. Each department in our Big Store is fairly overflowing with the good things we have to offer, but your attention is called especially to the following values:

Laces

All-Over Lace, Point de Paris Torchons, Baby Irish, Straight Bands, in Ecru and White, French and German Val. All the latest designs. Prices 3c per yard up.

Suitings

any quality, any pattern, and design at any price that anyone may desire. Something for every class and every age. Prices from 7c to $1.50 per yard.

Fancy Dress Gingham

We have the swellest and most beautiful asst. this season that we have ever shown Every color in checks, stripes, small, large and Fancy Plaides. If you desire something pretty and new, we have it. Prices 10, 12 1-2 and 15c per yard.

J. R. & J. G. MOYE'S Department Store

For High Prices On Cotton and Cotton Seed See MOSELEY BROTHERS

Royster stock and Poutry Powders

Manufactured by

L. P. ROYSTER, OXFORD, N. C.

Is the best Stock and Poultry Powder used. Always gives results. Guaranteed cholera cure for hogs. Sold by J. W. Bryan, Greenville, and other dealers

HOW TO TAKE BEST CARE OF LAND

VALUE OF WINTER COVER CROPS

Prevent Land From Washing As Well As Make it More Productive.

Every farmer owes it to himself, to his family and to posterity, to take the best care of his land that he possibly can; to maintain its fertility and to keep it from washing away.

Investigators, whether scientists or practical farmers, have found that winter cover crops of any kind prevent land, in a large measure, from washing, and when turned under the following spring make it more productive than if no crop had grown on it.

An experiment covering a number of years, in one of the north western states, showed that more plant food was lost from the land during the months when no crops were grown on it than was taken off in the regular summer crops. If this was true in that state where they have long and cold winters when leaching is impossible for weeks at a time, how much more could it be true in North Carolina with her open winters when plant food can be leached from our soils almost any week, during our winter months.

A ton of green rye contains, according to good authorities, about 6.6 pounds nitrogen, 3 pounds phosphoric acid, and 14.6 pounds potash. A ton of green wheat contains 10.8 pounds nitrogen, 2 pounds phosphoric acid, and 14 pounds potash. Green oats contain just a little less plant food than does green wheat. A ton of green crimson clover contains 8.6 pounds nitrogen, 2.6 phosphoric acid, and 9.8 pounds potash. Red clover, bur clover and the vetches contain more plant food in their green state than crimson clover does. The wheat and rye mentioned above was probably grown on fertile land which explains their high percentage of nitrogen, for it is an established fact that crops grown on rich land contain more nitrogen than when grown on poor land. For that reason grain grown on rich land has higher feeding value than that grown on poor land. It may be well for us to remember this when growing grain for our own feeding purposes.

Rye, wheat and oats take nitrogen from the soil and store it in the plant, thus saving much of this costly element of plant food that would otherwise be leached from the land by our winter rains. The stools or bunches and their roots and leaves retard the flow of water and act as brakes which will prevent to a large degree the washing of our rolling lands. The clovers save the land from washing in the same way and in addition to this are beneficial by being able to take nitrogen from the air through the agency of bacteria which adds to the fertility of the soil. But to grow these latter crops successfully the soil must contain the bacteria peculiar to the particular crop grown.

It has been the experience of many of our farmers that any crop grown after a winter cover crop, when turned under at the proper time in the spring, and disked well before and after turning, will produce a great deal more, often as much as 50 per cent more, than if no winter cover crop had been grown. The seed for a cover crop will cost from one to five dollars an acre according to kind and quantity of seed used. This should save to the soil and add to the next year's crop more than twice the cost of the cover crop.

Sow at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds crimson clover seed per acre and cover lightly with harrow or cultivator. These can be sowed in growing crops, on stubble-land, or after peas. Sow from 20 to 30 pounds of vetch per acre, if sown with small grain, and if sown alone put from 40 to 50 pounds per acre. Rye should be sown at the rate of one to one and a half bushels per acre.

An application of manure, or from 200 to 500 pounds acid phosphate per acre and 25 to 50 pounds muriate of potash on sandy or gray land, will be helpful to the clovers and vetches. For rye or other small grain it may be better to add 2 per cent nitrogen to the above.

It is now time to commence putting these crops in. When put in cotton fields it is better to sow immediately after the pickers, as in that way no cotton will be knocked out in covering the seed.

Put in the crop that will succeed best in your locality and experiment with other crops in a small way until you are assured they will make satisfactory growth on your land and under your conditions.

T. B. PARKER,
Director Co-operative Experiments,
N. C. State Department of Agriculture.

No Need To Stop Work.

When your doctor orders you to stop work, it staggers you, "I can't you say. You know you are weak, run-down and failing in health, day by day, but you must work as long as you can stand. What you need is Electric Bitters to give tone, strength and vigor to your system, to prevent breakdown and build you up. Don't be weak, sickly or ailing when Electric Bitters will benefit you from the first dose. Thousands bless them for their glorious health and strength. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c at all druggists.

New Industries.

The Chattanooga Tradesman, for the week ending September 13, reports the following new industries established in North Carolina:

Lenoir—$50,000 furniture factory.
Walkertown—$5,000 telephone company.
Greensboro—$25,000 realty company; $250,000 bank.
High Point—$125,000 knitting mill.
Shallotte—$25,000 bank.
Bayboro—$200,000 land and realty company.

Jollying Cost $10,000.

A Kansas traveling man jollied a pretty waitress in a hotel which he "made" regularly, with an idea that it would secure him better service. The thrifty Hebe has just finished suing him for a broken heart and the jury fixed the damages at $10,000. It would seem from this very up-to-date but veracious fable that it is quite possible to carry this "jollying" matter too far.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Not A Word of Scandal.

W. P. Spangh, of Manville, Wyo., who marred the call of a neighbor on Mrs. said: "she told me Dr. Kink's New Life Pills had cured her of obstinate kidney trouble, and made her feel like a new woman." Easy, but sure remedy for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 25c at all druggists.

PROFESSIONAL AND BUSINESS CARDS.

W. F. EVANS ATTORNEY AT LAW

Office opposite R. L. Smith & Co.'s Stables, and next door to John Flanagan Buggy Co's new building
Greenville, N. Carolina

N. W. OUTLAW ATTORNEY AT LAW

(Office formerly occupied by J. L. Fleming)
Greenville, N. Carolina

W. C. Dresbach, D. M. Clark
DRESBACH & CLARK
Civil Engineers and Surveyors
Greenville, N. Carolina

S. J. EVERETT ATTORNEY AT LAW

In Shelburn Building
Greenville, N. Carolina

L. L. Moore, W. H. Long
MOORE & LONG
ATTORNEYS AT LAW
Greenville, N. Carolina

DR. R. L. CARR
DENTIST
Greenville, N. Carolina

HARRY SKINNER
LAWYER
Greenville, N. Carolina

H. W. CARTER, M. D.
Practice limited to diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.
Washington, N. C. Greenville, N. C.
Greenville office with Dr. D. L. James.
Hours: 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Mondays.

ALBION DUNN
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Office in Shelburn building, Third St.
Practices wherever his services are desired
Greenville, N. Carolina

H. S. WARD, C. C. PIERCE
Washington, N. C. Greenville, N. C.
WARD & PIERCE
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW
Greenville, N. C.
Practice in all the Courts.
Office in Wooten building, on Third street.

D. M. CLARK
Attorney at Law.
Office of Dresbach and Clark
Greenville, N. C.

Central Barber Shop

HERBERT EDMONDS,
Proprietor

Located in main business of town, Four chairs in operation and each one presided over by a skilled barber Ladies waited in at their home

Littleton Female College

Our fall term will begin September 20, 1911.
For catalogue, address,
The Littleton Female College
Littleton, N. C.

S. M. Schultz

Established 1875

Wholesale and Retail Grocer and Furniture dealer. Cash paid for Hides, Fur, Cotton Seed, Oil Barrels, Turkeys, Eggs, Oak Bedsteads, Mattresses, etc. Suits, Baby Carriages, Go-Carts, Parlor Suits, Tables, Lounges, Seals, P. Lori and Gail & Ax Snuff, High Life tobacco, Key West Cigars, Henry George Cigars, Canned Cherries, Peaches, Apples, Syrup, Jelly, Meat, Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Soap, Lye, Magic Food, Matches, Oil, Cotton Seed Meal and Hulls, Garden Seeds, Oranges, Apples, Nuts, Candies, Dried Apples, Peaches, Prunes, Currants, Raisins, Glass and Chinaware, Woodenware, Cakes and Crackers, Macaroni, Cheese, best Butter, New Royal Sewing machines and numerous other goods. Quality and quantity cheap for cash. Come to see me.

Phone Number 55

S. M. Schultz

Wm. E. Haywood

314 Evans Street.

Dealer in Heavy and Fancy Groceries, Fruit and Produce a Specialty, Irish Potatoes, Cabbage, Oranges, Lemons, Bananas, Apples, Canned Goods a Variety, Oats, Grain and Feed.

Highest market prices paid for Produce and Eggs.

STILL WITH The Mutual Life Insurance Company of N. Y.

Assets (Jan. 1, 1911) $572,859,062.98
Insurance in Force (Jan. 1, 1911) 1,464,024,396
Annual Income (1910) 83,981,241.98
Paid to Policy Holders to date (Jan. 1, 1911) 56,751,062.28

H. Bentley Harriss

M. G. BRYAN Winterville, N. C.

Handles Tombstones and Monuments of all kinds. Also, all kind of Iron and Farm Fence... See him before buying... He will save you money.

WANTED!

10,000 HORSES AND MULES to be shod that have never been shod by
A MASTER HORSE SHOER
Just bring them to Winslow's Stables.
WILL GORHAM

A fool and his money remind one of a bald man and his hair.

THE CAROLINA HOME and FARM and EASTERN REFLECTOR

(Once a week)

Published by
THE REFLECTOR COMPANY, Inc.
D. J. WHICHARD, Editor.
GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA.

Subscription, one year, . . . $1.00
Six months,50

Advertising rates may be had upon application at the business office in The Reflector Building, corner Evans and Third streets.

All cards of thanks and resolutions of respect will be charged for at 1 cent per word.

Communications advertising candidates will be charged for at three cents per line, up to fifty lines.

Entered as second class matter August 20, 1910, at the post office at Greenville, North Carolina, under act of March 3, 1879.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1911.

ELECTRICAL DEVELOPMENT.

The Reflector has recently been saying something along the line of electrical development and the great possibilities to come from it. The South is making great strides in this direction, and in this connection it is interesting to note that the Daily Bulletin of the Baltimore Manufacturers Record, reports the organization of a great company with a capital of $27,000,000 to develop electricity in Georgia. Several local electric and water powers have been acquired, and starting out from Atlanta all the surrounding country is to be electrically connected and supplied with power.

North Carolina is waking up along this line, and through it can be seen the greatest development ever dreamed of. The day is coming when not only all our power for manufacturing and other work will be supplied by electricity fed from great central plants, but a great network of interurban trolley roads will bring all towns and communities together almost like one great city. The Piedmont section of the state, and as far eastward as Raleigh, is being covered with this electric power, and the towns and country further east offer too inviting a field to be left out. It is coming down this way and we should get in line for it.

THE PRICE OF PICKING COTTON.

Mr. E. E. Hilliard writes a timely article to the Scotland Neck Commonwealth in regard to the want of an understanding among farmers as to the price for picking cotton. He says:

Farmers should have a thorough understanding in each community concerning the price for picking cotton and should, under all circumstances, abide by it. It is altogether unfair for any farmer to send his wagons around where the cotton pickers live and make the offer of five cents per hundred more than others are giving and thus move a squad of cotton pickers from one man's field to another, and in the interest of community harmony, I offer the plea to the farmers of Scotland Neck and community, that they will all abstain from such course. If it becomes necessary and right to raise the price for picking cotton, let it be understood among all, and let all raise alike at the same time. Whatever be the price let us all pay the same thing together and thus be fair each to the other.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has adopted a policy of giving out reliable statements concerning all accidents and other matters of news value in which the public are interested. These reports are given out promptly and can always be depended upon. Heretofore, frequently, when a newspaper calls up for information one of the heads of the corporation will reply "Nothing for publication," believing that such news would be covered up. The Baltimore & Ohio believe that certain information the public has a right to have and it will be given, and accurately. Other roads might well afford to adopt this policy. When a reporter goes after a news item he is apt to get something, and it is to the interest of the railroads to give the public correct information.

How it is that so many men—some of them old, some young—can stay mostly drunk most of the time and live, no one is able to understand. A constant swigging of the stuff, even when it is the best to be had, will fix one. Drinking what they call liquor to be had these days and living is one thing the medical society should look into.—Greensboro Record.

Another fellow writing just like he was talking about something in Greenville. Must have been turning his spy glass down this way.

It is all right for people to want money if they adopt honest methods to get it, but it is all wrong for them to want it bad enough to resort to dishonesty. A Salisbury young man undertook to extract five thousand dollars from a banker by means of black hand, and instead of getting the money he got in jail.

Oh, these shrewd Republicans. Because the Democratic congress practiced some retrenchment in reducing government expenses, they claim that because of a shortage of clerical help the contributions of public buildings throughout the country will have to be delayed.

A Greene county farmer told us the farmers in his neighborhood have sold practically all of their tobacco in bulk to country buyers. Those farmers have lost money, and the country buyers will make enough out of the deal to live on a year. We do not understand why farmers will work hard to make a crop and then give away all the profit on it.

With sugar so high the preserve crop will likely be smaller than usual.

About the best way we can imagine to stop this divorce business, is to give every couple one that wants it, but make it a penitentiary offense for either of them to marry again during the life time of the other. This will come very near putting an end to it.

The hobble skirt is getting in its work. A dispatch tells of nine women being in a capsized boat. Seven of them were saved, but two who had on hobble skirts which prevented them from swimming, were drowned.

Every town needs factories. If they haven't any the people of that town are somewhat cannibalistic. They are living off each other.—Wilmington Dispatch.

That sounds just like it was written for Greenville.

Governor Judson Harmon, of Ohio, will be one of the drawing cards at the coming state fair, having accepted an invitation to attend and deliver a speech.

A Chicago man spent a night in prison because of a spat he had with his wife. He declared it was the first quiet night he had spent in the thirteen years he had been married.

It would be some relief to the balance of the country to know for a certainty whether Maine has gone wet or dry. Reports have first one way and then the other.

A long between seasons strip of weather, in which there will be little use for the ice man and no use for the coal man, would help out conditions greatly and make a better prospect for something being left for Christmas.

The confession of Assistant Cashier Hussey, of Tarboro, shows the danger of those in responsible positions ever starting out to steal. They will be caught sooner or later.

They have a different way of doing things among the elite of New York. Up there a woman eloped with another man with the consent of her husband.

If New York could not stand the Beulah Binford pictures, surely no other place in the country should hesitate about what to do.

The appearance of the army worm in a number of North Carolina counties is giving much concern to cotton growers.

A man doesn't worry so much about what's going to happen to him in the next world after he has been bumped and knocked around this one for about 50 years.

The recent wave of crime in North Carolina needs to be nipped in the bud.

Two circuses this fall ought to make Pitt county folks happy.

Comet gazers are not seeing much.

And Thaw is soon to make another fight for his release from the asylum. He is where he ought to stay.

President Taft is making lots of speeches on his trip, but his explanations fail to do much explaining.

Here is wishing them a good year at the graded school, both teachers and pupils.

They are rowing in Vienna over the high cost of living. Guess the price of Vienna sausage must have gone up.

The main facts and subsequent arrests continue to seem just ahead in that Hendersonville matter, but not caught up with.

With grape hulls, banana peelings and fast automobiles on the paved streets, pedestrians find a difficult passage.

The hand of the assassin is yet abroad in the land, as is evidenced by the shooting to death of Premier Stolpin, in Russia.

The Charlotte Chronicle avers that the girl who is coming back to parting her hair in the middle, looks sweeter than ever.

The prohibition election in Maine is a reminder of the Cleveland-Blaine vote in 1884. Takes a long time to know exactly who is ahead.

It is just as natural for people to look in The Reflector as it is to go to the post office or mail box for their mail. And it is what they nearly all do.

Maybe spilling all that molasses in New Orleans will be an excuse for the advance of that kind of sweetening in keeping with the price of sugar.

Some of these days Greenville may have a country club or suburban park, or both. If anybody should get interested in this any time soon The Reflector would like to give them some pointers.

North Carolina might well afford to take lessons from Virginia in the selection of juries to try capital cases. North Carolina has been first in many things, but Virginia is far ahead of us in this one.

The latest figures of the Maine election indicate a majority in favor of renewing the prohibition clause from the state constitution. This does not mean that prohibition is abolished in that state, nor does it give the liquor sellers the privilege of getting into business again.

LOCAL PATRIOTISM.

We would like for Greenville folks to read this over two or three times, and then put it away to read some more. It sounds just like it might have been written for Greenville.

It is singular how so many people will yell themselves hoarse rooting for the home ball team, who would not give a dollar to establish a new industry here, nor would they bother to suggest to friends contemplating removal that this would be a good town to live in.

The intense partisanship manifested in any athletic sports in behalf of the players indicates a large sentiment of home loyalty. It is an unselfish sentiment, excellent so far as it goes. The men on the bleachers do not get a nickel addition to their wages because home boys win.

Of course in some cases the cheering men may have money on the game. Yet our observation is that the better is too worried to cheer. It is the man who wants the home team to win from simple home loyalty that makes the noise.

Why is it that this most commendable sentiment is so abounding under such circumstances, and so lacking when there is still more vital need for its expression.

The cities that have grown populous, powerful, wealthy, that have become great centers of industrial life and cherished locations for residence, have become so because some small group of men loved the soil of those localities, longed to have them true to high ideals, had faith in their future, had the self sacrifice to keep pulling all the time for business and civic advances. And they had no time or breath to spend in mere criticism.

The mainspring of this action is a home patriotism differing only from that of the crowd at the ball game, in having a bigger field for its expression.

We may not all of us do big things for this city. Not all of us can be presidents of boards of trade or land new industries. But if everyone of us took every possible occasion to say that this is a mighty good place to live and do business in, a wide spreading circle of home patriotism would be let loose, the final reach of which would be incalculable.—Concord Tribune.

The city should be run within its income, the same as any other large business enterprise. The people are the stockholders in the city and no large amount of money should be expended for any purpose without the people having some say so about it.—New Bern Sun.

But the trouble is public matters are not looked after as carefully as are private matters and are not likely to be until people are put in office who have to give their whole attention to what they engage to do. That is one reason why municipalities should have a commission form of government.

People raise a cry against Spanish bull fights because of their cruelty, yet have little to say against automobile races that kill scores of men.

Likewise the government shows great concern over cattle ticks and hog cholera because of the animals they take off, yet encourages and fosters the liquor business that poisons and destroys human beings by the thousands, which shows that mere esteem is held for cattle and hogs than for mankind.

There are certainly some people who recognize the value of The Reflector as an advertising medium. For proof just watch the advertising columns from day to day. These advertisers would not be putting good money in it unless it paid them to do so.

The Durham Herald says if the Democrats do not win this time they will miss about the best chance they have had in years. It certainly looks that way.

Maine ought to pull herself together and put up a 40,000 prohibition majority like was done in North Carolina. Then the thing would be settled.

There are already enough candidates out for one thing and another to make it easy for picnic occasions to secure speakers.

Don't get scared at the first cool breath of fall. There is more warm weather to come yet.

It is a dull week in Wilmington that does not mark the killing of one negro by another.

There are other pools beside the whirlpool, and some of them just as bad.

It reminds you to look up the third piece to the suit.

A difference of a million bales in cotton crop estimates shows how far

Now forget John Jacob and Madeleine.

Large Machinery Dealers.

We had no idea that Hart & Hadley, hardware dealers here, were handling such large quantities of farm machinery until we looked in their warehouse today. Besides the two large warehouses in the rear of their store down town, they have a large storage house out near the Norfolk Southern depot in and around which are eight car loads of different kinds of machinery. They handle anything in machinery and implements that is needed about the farm, and buying in car lots enables them to make the lowest prices.

Digestion and Assimilation.

It is not the quantity of food taken but the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions naturally. For sale by all dealers.

A man begins to think he has a genius for politics just as soon as he is introduced to a boss.

Foxhall and The Star.

I want to say to the tobacco farmers of Pitt and adjoining counties that no better sales have ever been made on the Greenville market than are now being made every day at the Star warehouse, and my patrons realize that they can receive the highest dollar for their tobacco when selling on the Star floor.

You will find every one connected with the Star knows and attends to his own business. You will also find no better lighted warehouse in the state, and that everyone associated with me, appreciates the patronage given us, and that nothing is left undone for the comfort and convenience of our patrons. These reasons, together with the fact that the Star has always led in high prices and is today leading, should convince every farmer who can possibly sell at Greenville, to bring his tobacco to the Star warehouse.

All this talk about the Star leading in high prices only because it sells the best tobacco raised, is made to deceive the farmers. While it is true that I do sell a large percentage of the best tobacco sold on the Greenville market, it is also true that the Star leads them all on all kinds of tobacco.

Bring me your next load, and I will show you that the best sales are made at the Star.

F. D. FOXHALL, Manager.

9 20-1td-1tw-

Welcomed Jail.

There are to be found men who are apparently satisfied with almost anything that comes their way, but it is not often an individual appears who is grateful for being incarcerated in jail.

But Chicago, which has every sort of freak, along with a great many excellent people, reports such a case. His name is Henry Burg, and his occupation is making pianos. He has been married thirteen years (observe the unlucky number) and he states that the first night of quiet sleep in all that time was enjoyed by him in jail last week.

The Burgs, according to the husband, were having their regular nightly quarrel. This time it approached the verge of a fight, and the wife threatened to call the police, but Burg forestalled her and called them himself. They took him to court, where a number of relatives offered to bail him out. "No you don't," said Burg, "I'm going to stay right here and get a quiet night's rest. It's coming to me after thirteen years."

Then he turned to the judge and asked that judicial individual whether he would not rather go to jail than listen to woman. But the judge, being a married man himself, very prudently kept silent and Burg went off to enjoy his night's rest.—Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch.

Onions Did It.

Hettie Green, the richest woman in the world, was given up to die many years ago and a trustee was appointed for her estate. She began to eat onions and keeps it up to this day. She says this is what saved her. She has lived to bury three trustees. Meantime she has been adding to her wealth.—Exchange.

Court House Illuminated.

Early Tuesday night the electric lights in the new court house were tested and made a beautiful illumination. The building is wired throughout and the chandeliers and electric fittings are very handsome.

THE LAWYER'S OPINION.

For Printing and Cheap Papare Positive Detriments to any Business.

The "American Printer" assists the trade by smart suggestions for printers' advertisements, such as a series of "Think it over" paragraphs, of which the following is a typical one:

"Think it over. Can any printing be too good, whether to advertise harmonicas or pianos, bolts or locomotives? Isn't the object to draw attention, interest, resolution and finally action—the act of purchase? Does the man advertising bolts desire less to sell them than he who makes pianos?"

The suggestion entitled "The Lawyer's Opinion" is well worth reproduction.

"A Kansas City corporation had a controversy with a firm doing business in an eastern city, and having received a letter threatening suit took it to their attorney for consultation.

"The lawyer, a plain blunt spoken man, looking at the sheet of paper on which the letter was written, said, 'Why will you do business with third-rate people, you ought to know that in doing so you are inviting trouble.' But," answered the client, 'the firm is not third-rate; they are quoted as being worth a million dollars.' 'I don't care how they are rated,' replied the lawyer, 'they may have ten million dollars and I would still say they are third-rate in feeling, character and dealings, because their third-rate stationery tells on them. Look at it! cheap paper, dauby printing. No business house of any self-respect would use it. You can generally tell the character of a concern by the stationery they use. Better settle and be done with them, and hereafter don't do business with such cheap people.'"

"The above is no fairy tale but an actual occurrence, and we could furnish the names of the parties to the transaction. We cite it only for the purpose of illustrating that poor printing, be it in catalog, booklet, folder or office stationery is a positive detriment to any business."—The Barnhart Flyer.

Why Rome Celebrates.

ROME, Sept. 20.—This being the semi-centennial year of Italian independence, today's celebration of the anniversary of the fall of the temporal power of the papacy and the Italian occupation of Rome was conducted on an unusually elaborate scale. A crowd of more than 50,000 persons visited the historic Porta Pia and others made pilgrimages to the monuments of Victor Emmanuel, Garibaldi, Cavour, Mazzini and other leaders in the struggle for Italian unity.

Anniversary of Paoli.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 20.—On the monument grounds near Malvern the customary exercises were held today in commemoration of the 134 anniversary of the "Massacre of Paoli," in which the American troops under "Mad Anthony" Wayne, in their retreat from Brandywine, were attacked in the night by the British and routed with great slaughter.

The International Re-Insurance Co. of Vienna, Austria, has filed with the state commissioner of insurance application to do business in North Carolina. This makes 145 fire insurance companies doing business in this state under state license. Ten years ago there were only about 50 companies.

SOME VITAL NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

Why the President Vetoes the Tariff Revision Bills

THE GAG RULE PUT ON EMPLOYEES

Philippine Independence to Come After Nine Years — President Brooks Promises Relative to the Statehood Question.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner).
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—On his swing around the circle President Taft will tell the people it was necessary for him to prevent a reduction of the cost of living by vetoing the tariff bills, because the tariff board hadn't reported.

Here is some tariff board history that the president will probably not refer to:

The tariff board was created Sept. 26, 1909. On June 7, 1911, twenty-one months later, congress called for whatever data the board had collected on the cost of manufacturing wool, and was informed the board had nothing to report. What was the tariff board doing during these twenty-one months?

Soon after the appointment of the board, its chairman, Henry C. Emery, established headquarters in the private residence of Frederick Hale, son of ex-Senator Eugene Hale, of Maine, who has been known for years as one of the most powerful defenders of ultra protection.

In October, 1910, it was announced that "the work of the tariff board" was to be "boomed" at a series of banquets. Then for three months the banqueting campaign occupied the time and attention of the board. The two most important banquets at which the members of the board were wined and dined were given by the Arkwright club, the leading association of high protection manufacturing of the country, and the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, the wards of Schedule K. The plan adopted for estimating costs is the plan which, at the dinner given by the beneficiaries of the wool schedule, Emery was advised to adopt. That plan practically amounts to this: The tariff board will supply the woolen manufacturers with a sample of woolen cloth and a card, and the manufacturers will patriotically jot down their version as to the cost of manufacturing will patriotically jot down

It was a year after the board was created before it started to investigate the manufacturing end of the wool tariff. And this is the board for whose report all tariff revision must be held up.

Government by Stealth.
The Taft administration is even unpopular with the army of government employees in Washington. While they are not saying anything publicly, the government clerks are bitter because of the many rules inaugurated under Mr. Taft, which interfere with their personal liberty and deprive them of rights guaranteed to all citizens by the constitution itself. If the clerks should protest against their conditions, even to congress, they would lay themselves liable to discharge. The object of the administration in resorting to these harsh gag rule methods is to prevent a leakage of information injurious to the Republican party such as occurred in the Ballinger case.

The following official order signed by George Otis Smith, director of the geological survey, gives an idea of Russian-like censorship attempted in one department: "Rule 2. That no interview shall be granted without securing from the person soliciting the same a promise that he will, before submitting the material to his publication office, present a copy of his manuscript to the director for approval." So far as is known among newspaper men in Washington, nothing so drastic as this in the way of press censorship was ever attempted before in America.

Taft's Opening.

Senator Cummins, of Iowa, has formulated a bill of particulars wherein President Taft has offended. Some of the president's offenses cited are: His position on the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, his position on the bill for the further regulation of interstate common carriers, his position on the change made in the postal savings law, his attitude on the control and disposition of our public domain, his position on the proposed income tax law, his position on the Canadian reciprocity bill, his work for the peace treaties, his vetoes of the woolen schedule, the free list bill and the resolution admitting New Mexico and Arizona as states. This list embraces nearly everything in Philippine independence in nine years! This is the definite promise contained in a joint resolution fathered by Judge Cyrus Cline, of Indiana, which resolution Speaker Champ Clark declares will in all probability be passed by the house this winter. Judge Cline's plan provides that the Filipinos shall be permitted to elect the upper branch of the Philippine legislature in 1915, adopt in 1917 a constitution to be approved by the United States, and then comes the definite promise that by July, 1920—nine years hence—the United States shall withdraw sovereignty over the islands and give them full independence.

In the early days of the extra session five members of the committee on territories visited the president and laid before him the draft of a resolution admitting New Mexico and Arizona into the union as states. The resolution provided that the recall proposition should be submitted to the people of Arizona and that the majority should decide whether it would be wise to retain it in the Arizona constitution or not. The bill was so framed that neither congress nor the president would have to go on record as to the merits of the recall. President Taft gave every congressman present to understand he would sign this bill. The committee, Republicans and Democrats alike, left the white house with a definite understanding to this end.

These members made the statement on the floor of the house that the president had agreed to sign the bill, and it was passed by both houses of congress. But the president changed his mind and vetoed the bill. He has not yet explained why. Philippines and permit the Filipino people to establish an independent representative government.

Library Hours.

The hours for the opening of the public library have been changed to between 4 and 6 p. m., same days as heretofore.

WE ARE NOW OPENING UP A CAR LOAD OF

Buck's Cook Stoves

and Ranges. The great White enamel line of Buck's Cook Stoves are fully guaranteed to bake.

We have also received a fine line of Mirrors and Pictures, the frames are all new and differ from the old ones.

Leather Couches to please you. Come to see us.
Yours truly, Taft & VanDyke

L. H. PENDER

S. T. HICKS

New Plumbing Firm

We are prepared to do all kinds of up-to-date Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating. Our Mr. Hicks is a first class practical plumber and has just finished up the plumbing in the new Pitt County Court House. We are prepared also to estimate the cost of and installing water works systems in country residences and farm houses.

Repairing Promptly Attended To.

We are here to serve if you want good work done and first class fixtures installed. We will not put in any other. We ask a share of your patronage.

PENDER & HICKS

Sanitars

Phone No. 60

SEE THAT YOUR TICKET READS VIA

Chesapeake Line To Baltimore

Elegantly Appointed Steamers. Perfect Dining Service. All Outside State Rooms. Steamers leave Norfolk daily (Except Sunday) 6:15 p. m. from foot of Jackson St., arrive Baltimore at 7:00 a. m. Direct connection made with rail lines for all points. For further particulars call or write

F. R. McMillin, T.P.A., 95 Granby St. Norfolk, Va.

East Carolina Teachers Training School

A state school to train teachers for the public schools of North Carolina. Every energy is directed to this one purpose. Tuition free to all who agree to teach. Fall term begins September 26, 1911. For catalogue and other information, address

Robt. H. Wright, President

Greenville, N. C.

You can expect good sales when you sell with C. R. Townsend at the Planters Warehouse, Farmville, N. C.

THE GREAT PROBLEMS OF OUR CITIES

National Municipal Congress Meets in Chicago

HOW TO GET THE BEST GOVERNMENT

Many Questions for Consideration—Economy, Taxation, Schools and Many Subjects Before The Congress—Many Notable Men Present.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Official representatives of municipalities in all parts of the United States and Canada and a few representing large cities in several foreign countries are gathering here to attend the International Municipal Congress and Exposition which will open at the Coliseum next Monday. The congress, as its name implies, is an international character, is planned upon a large scale and promises to be the largest and most instructive event of this kind ever held in this country. Experts of worldwide fame and known ability in matters pertaining to municipal government will be in attendance at the congress and will deliver addresses on many subjects of vital interest to municipalities generally. The congress is considered the most comprehensive attempt ever made to bring together the most intelligent and capable educators in all lines of municipal endeavor.

As to the exposition of municipal methods and systems, which will be held at the Coliseum during the two weeks of the congress, it is believed that by making possible comparisons between various communities with reference to their systems of government, their notable accomplishments in the past and their plans for the future, it will create a spirit of rivalry and civic pride that will do much for the advancement of municipal reform and betterment.

Many of the large cities of the United States have made special efforts and will be represented by special exhibitions, giving a complete and highly instructive presentation of the organization of each municipality, its system of administration, the scope and arrangement of its working plan, the methods employed to insure the greatest efficiency at the smallest cost and with the minimum of friction; the manner of keeping books and records, of collecting taxes and statistics and scores of other matters of interest to every large or small municipality, be it in the United States or in the Dominion of Canada or in some country across the sea.

The formal opening of the congress and of the exposition will be held next Monday noon at the congress hall of the Coliseum. There will be addresses by John M. Ewen, chairman of the exposition; John MacVicar, commissioner general of the congress; Harry A. Wheeler, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce; Mayor Carter H. Harrison of Chicago; Hon. Darius A. Brown, president of the league of American Municipalities and Mayor of Kansas City, Mo.; Hon. William J. Gaynor, Mayor of New York City; Hon. John E. Heyburn, Mayor of Philadelphia and Hon. James Fitzgerald, Mayor of Boston.

During the session of the congress there will be general meetings every afternoon while every evening there will be displays of moving pictures to illustrate talks on various American and European cities. The forenoon sessions which will be held in the First Regiment Armory.

In accordance with the program arranged for the two weeks of the congress one or more distinct subjects will come up for consideration and discussion at each of the meetings and experts and authorities on these subjects will present their views, as based upon their observation and experience. Among the subjects thus to be considered will be City Charters; Municipal Accounting and Efficiency. The Business End of a City Government; City Planning; Paving; Public Utilities; Taxation; The City for the People; Control of the Milk Supply; Advertising Value of a Healthy City; Protection of Water and Disposal of Sewerage; Police and Fire Service; Reduction of Fire Waste; Parks and Playgrounds; Building Codes; Public Schools; Public Libraries; Control of Sanitation and School Inspection; Yard Sewerage; Stables and Slaughter Houses; Equalizing Taxation Restriction of a City's Taxing Power; Methods of Collecting Taxes and their Disbursements; Franchises; Municipal Ownership; Street Lighting; Docks and Water Transportation and many others of equal importance.

The list of speakers scheduled to deliver addresses on various subjects under discussion includes many of the most noted and capable students and experts in the various branches of municipal activity, men whose names are known throughout this country and even far beyond the boundaries of the United States, where large cities are confronted with difficult municipal problems.

Hawaiian Music.

It is not an unusual thing for the writer of a book or play to visit the country in which he desires to locate the plot of his work, but for two song writers to do so in order to be able to write a song true to nature is going some. For this reason Percy Wenrich and Edward Madden, the writers of "Rainbow" and "Silver Bell," published by Jerome H. Remick & Co., spent two weeks in Honolulu getting the atmosphere and color for their new Hawaiian song, My Hula Hula Love. That they will be amply repaid for the time, trouble and expense incurred is already assured, for the song at once became a phenomenal success in New York, Chicago and Boston, where it has been introduced by some of the big vaudeville stars. The music is wonderfully sweet and catchy and Mr. Wenrich claims that it is similar in some of its measures to Hawaiian music. Since Hawaii has become one of the possessions of the United States, very little of its music has been heard here, but Messrs. Madden and Wenrich have made a collection of the music and legends of that wonderful country and intend to embody it in a new comic opera shortly to be produced in New York by a syndicate. The chorus of My Hula Hula Love embodies a few words of language of the Hawaiians, which adds to its novelty and attractiveness.

CHORUS.

Hula, oh Hawaii Hula, smile on your own Zinga Zula.
Moon shines above, sweet jungle dove; For you my love song is ringing, for you my bolo is swinging.
Come be my Hula, Hula love.

Silence may be golden or it may indicate guilt.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Eddie Foy will probably appear in a play called "A Nighth Out".

Lottie Williams will use "The Church Lady" as a vaudeville sketch. Isabel Irving will be leading lady with Kyrel Bellew in "The Mollusc". Sadie Martinot, who has recovered her health, will return to the vaudeville stage.

Rosina Henley, daughter of the late E. J. Henley, is to play a part in "The Deep Purple."

George Bevan is to star in "The Story of the Rose". Marie Pavay will be his leading lady.

Percy Haswell has finished her stock engagement in Toronto after a very successful season.

J. Hartley Manners, author of "The House Next Door," has just finished another play for J. E. Dobson.

Hazel Kirke has been engaged by Lew Fields for the prima donna role in his forthcoming production of "The Bigamist".

Martha Morton is making a dramatic version of Harold MacGrath's book, "Hearts and Masks," for the use of Henry B. Harris.

Frederick Landis, a brother of United States Judge Landis of Chicago has written a play, which William A. Brady may produce.

Lillian Spencer, who has been in Maude Adams' company, is to have the soubrette role in "The Duchess," in which Fritz Scheff will star.

"The Outsiders" is the title given by Charles Klein to his latest play which is to be produced by the Author Producing Company in November.

The Schuberts have accepted for production in the early part of the present season Lucille La Verne's dramatization of Will N. Harben's novel, "Ann Boyd".

The dramatization of "He Fell in Love With His Wife" will be called "Patners," and the leading players of the company will be May Buckley and Frederick Burton.

The young bride of John Barrymore is to join his company this season under the stage name of Katherine Blythe, the latter being one of her husband's family names.

The beautiful legend of "Sister Beatrice," dramatized by Maeterlinck, is now to be turned into an opera, though the book will not be taken from the Maeterlinck play.

Elsie Leslie, who used to be "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "The Prince and the Pauper" and other juvenile heroes, is a real grown-up leading lady now and has the part of Lady Clarissa in "Disraeli".

May Robson, in collaboration with Charles T. Dazey, has written a play, called "The Three Lights," which deals with the subject of heredity in a humorous way. The play is to be produced in New York in the near future.

Waiting For You.

You good people who are taking The Reflector, and who are now selling cotton and tobacco, keep it in mind to come along to the newspaper man and get a subscription receipt. Do not wait for us to send you a statement, but look at the date after your name on the paper and you can tell how much you owe. We need money now, and need it bad, so ask you to show your appreciation of the paper by paying promptly.

DON'T SUFFER WITH

Neuralgia

when a 25 cent bottle of Noah's Liniment is guaranteed to drive this terror away—or money refunded. At the first twinge, applied as directed, Noah's Liniment will give immediate and effectual relief. It quiets the nerves and scatters the congestion, penetrates and requires very little rubbing.

Noah's Liniment is the best remedy for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lame Back, Stiff Joints and Muscles, Sore Throat, Colds, Strains, Sprains, Cuts, Bruises, Colic, Cramps, Neuralgia, Toothache, and all Nerve, Bone and Muscle Aches and Pains. The genuine has Noah's Ark on every package and looks like this out, but has RED band on front of package and "Noah's Liniment" always in RED ink. Beware of imitations. Large bottle, 25 cents, and sold by all dealers in medicine. Guaranteed or money refunded by Noah Remedy Co., Inc., Richmond, Va.

BACK FROM OKLAHOMA.

Mr. Cox Attended The National Farmers' Union—Took Side Trips.

Mr. J. Marshall Cox, of Chicod, one of the delegates to the meeting of the National Farmers' union, at Shawnee, Oklahoma, got back a day or two ago. He had a fine trip and enjoyed it, saw a fine country and fine people, but says he likes Pitt county best.

Mr. Cox left home in time to see the country. He made some stops, one of which was Hot Springs, Arkansas. He indulged in a hot bath, and says some other hot country must be mighty close, there.

At Shawnee he found delegates from almost every state, every one a total stranger, except the other one from this state. He was very much impressed with the meeting and its action. There was great unanimity in the determination to get better prices. He says it was a great meeting. Returning he stopped at Montgomery, Alabama, to take part in the great meeting being held there by merchants, bankers, farmers, professional men and others in the interest of financing the cotton this fall.

Mr. Cox says Oklahoma is a fine country, but crops are not good on account of the dry weather. Cotton will be short and corn has suffered, too. He also saw much fine country en route, going and coming.

A Dreadful Sight.

to H. J. Barnum, of Freeville, N. Y., was the fever-sore that had plagued his life for years in spite of many remedies he tried. At last he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve and wrote: "It has entirely healed with scarcely a scar left." Heals Burns, Boils, Eczema, Cuts, Bruises, Swellings, Corns and Piles like magic. Only 25c at all druggists.

WAKE FOREST

COLLEGE NOTES

STARTS OFF THE YEAR'S WORK.

Classes and Societies Organize—Some Important Committees Appointed.

WAKE FOREST, N. C., Sept. 18.—On Friday the senior class met and elected the following men as officers for this year: M. A. Huggins, president; C. L. Betts, vice president; H. D. Ward, secretary; T. E. Bobbitt, treasurer; W. B. Edwards, historian; L. G. Bullard, prophet; D. S. Kennedy, poet; J. C. Jones, statistician; P. P. Green, testator.

Last Saturday morning, by the action of the two societies, the following men were appointed as members of the debate council for this year: S. C. Hilliard, of the Phi Society, president; Scruges, of Eu Society, secretary; Sharp, of Phi Society; R. R. Blanton, of Eu Society; J. C. Jones, of Eu Society.

On Monday the junior class met and elected the following men as officers for its class this year: S. G. Stanley, president; B. Holding, vice-president; Harvard, secretary, Wyatt, treasurer; Bancom, poet; Waff, historian; Marsh, prophet.

Tuesday the student body elected the following men as members of the senate committee: J. C. Cabanis, chairman; J. C. Jones, J. M. Rice, S. A. Edgerton, H. Beam, N. S. Pruitt, G. N. Howard, A. R. Phillips, R. Benton, and E. P. Yates. This list of men are to look after the welfare and care of the freshmen class, also to deal with any form of hazing indulged in by any member of the student body. Through this committee some more of his good thoughts of the great and good old Book that has so wonderfully held together the nations of the world, as they put into their government the teachings of the Bible.

Just a few days ago the student body elected the following men as members of the honorary committee, whose business is to eliminate and put out of the student body all firms of cheating and dishonesty: J. A. Ellis, chairman; M. L. Barnes, W. J. Crain, W. G. Pruitt, A. L. Allen, A. J. Hutchins, A. H. Martin, E. D. Johnson, N. O. Williams and E. W. Lane.

Miss Elmore Reonick, of Evansville, Ind., is visiting Mrs. Crazier.

The plans of the managers of the athletics of Wake Forest College have developed, and it is quite pleasant to let this news go out to the friends of the college. On Wednesday we had a campaign for the purpose of raising one thousand dollars from the student body, so as to build a better foundation for the athletics in our college. At the close of the day we had raised by subscriptions from the students, one thousand dollars and seventy cents ($1,000.70). This means more to the college than any step the students heretofore have taken.

Mr. Herbert Potat left today for New York City, where he will work for the next nine months.

Mr. J. Turner leaves tomorrow for Atlanta, where he resumes his work as Y. M. C. A. secretary at the University of Georgia.

To show that there is really and truly a great spirit among the fellows and that there is more unity in the student body now than at any time heretofore in the history of the college, it is only necessary to mention the happy and delightful occasion of Friday evening of last week. The Y. M. C. A. gave a banquet in honor of the present freshmen class. On this occasion Mr. R. S. Pruitt spoke to the fellows on "The Value of the Two Societies." Dr. Potat spoke on "Youth." His address was strongly and impressively put, showing the energy and power of youth, and the great possibilities that are wrapped up in every youth of today. Too, he showed the great door of opportunity that is now inviting the youths of today to come in and prepare for the noble and true life—the Christian, the Christ life. Mr. Turner, Y. M. C. A. secretary in the University of Georgia, also delivered a strong and impressing talk on "Character."

A FOOL THERE WAS.

A fool there was, and he had a place. Where he worked each day at a printer's case.

His fingers nimble, his movement quick,

And the type flew quickly in his stick; His work well done, his case kept sleek;

He drew a steady eighteen a week.

One day in the office he saw the boss Making an estimate; figuring cost; One dollar an hour for the compo's time

Went down on the sheet; said he,

"that's fine,

Eighteen a week is all I get;

There's money made on that work,

I'll bet."

So he said to himself, "I'll open a shop,

To reap of the profits a larger crop.

I'll count composition at half that cost;

And land many orders the boss has lost.

So he went to the bank and drew out his hoard

And bought the best outfit that he could afford.

He worked with energy day and night

At prices the poor fool thought were right;

Forgetting that types wear out some day,

And for their replacement there's money to pay;

That rent and fuel and light and power

All add their share to the cost per hour;

That his plant grew less in value each

day,

And fire insurance was also to pay;

That the money invested should interest bring,

As it would if invested in some other thing,

That his pay-roll counted nine hours

a day,

But only for six his customers pay.

That the salary he drew was but pay for his work

Which he surely earned now, for a loss he don't shrink.

A fool there was, and many perhaps,

Of these deluded, and misguided chaps

Not only "was" but are today,

Still grinding on in the same old way.

With their nose to the stone, at a rapid pace

Losing the cash they'd saved at the case.

But an end must come, and who can tell

How soon the poor fool will be up in—well—

A fool there was and fools there be;

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF

The Greenville Banking & Trust Co

In the State of North Carolina, at the close of business, September 1, 1911.

RESOURCES.		LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts	$228,652.94	Capital stock paid in	$ 75,000.00
Overdrafts	1,311.46	Undivided profits, less cur-
All other stocks, bonds and		rent expenses and taxes
mortgages	1,227.96	paid	2,423.14
Furniture and fixtures	4,115.86	Notes and bills rediscount-
Demand loans	25,000.00	ed	11,718.69
Due from banks and bank-		Bills payable	75,000.00
ers	23,950.71	Time certificates
Cash items	2,164.00	of deposit	45,074.63
Silver coin, including all		Deposits subject
minor coin currency	732.88	to check	81,092.25
National bank notes and		Due to banks
other U. S. notes	6,310.00	and bankers ..	2,746.21
		Cashier's checks
		outstanding ..	410.84
			129,333.98
Total ..	$293,465.81	Total ..	$293,465.81

State of North Carolina, County of Pitt, ss:

I C. S. Carr, cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

C. S. CARR, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 9th day of September, 1911.

Correct—Attest:

ANDREW J. MOORE,

Notary Public.

My commission expires March 31, 1913.

R. L. SMITH,

C. T. MUNFORD,

R. C. FLANAGAN,

Directors.

School Books For 1911-12

Everything in School and General Stationery Supplies at lowest possible prices, also a complete line of Holiday Goods and Toys, China, Glass, Tinware, Etc.

A. B. ELLINGTON & COMPANY

The Home of Women's Fashions
Pulley & Bowen

Greenville, : : North Carolina

Perhaps among them there's you and me.

—W. H. Richards.

Bailey's Retirement.

Senator Bailey's asserted intention not to seek re-election to the United States senate from Texas has caused widespread comment. He has for some time been one of the most criticised men in America.

"With still eighteen months to serve it is extremely doubtful if he could retain his seat for another term. Like Senator Hale, of Maine, last year, and probably from the same misgivings, he displays discretion in not courting defeat," says the New York World.

"At no time would Senator Bailey's retirement have caused less regret throughout the country. His public career has been disappointing. When he entered the house in 1891 at the age of 28, he immediately commanded attention. Of handsome appearance, a facile and forceful speaker, who passed for an orator, with gifts of intellect of an unusual order, he was altogether a brilliant and attractive figure. At thirty-four he was the nominee of the Democrats for speaker of the house. In 1901, at the age of thirty-seven, he was elected to the senate, a promotion fully justified by his talents and his record.

"For the last ten years Bailey's reputation has been steadily crumbling away. In 1907 he had a hard and bitter fight for re-election to the senate, that promised a harder one next year if he had not given timely notice of withdrawal from public life.

"By the lack of sincerity Senator Bailey has trifled away his opportunities. At a critical moment he wanted the courage or the conscience to be frank with his constituents in regard to his private relations with Standard Oil interests: With what looked like sheer perversity he made himself a constant embarrassment to his party in principle, he espoused the worst causes, made himself Lorimer's leading advocate and voted for excessive protection when the tariff was under revision."—Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch.

Big A. C. L. Strike.

Between 350 and 375 members of the Car Workers union at the A. C. L. shops walked out at 9 o'clock this morning. The men at the Florence shops went out yesterday, went back to work this morning and went out again immediately afterwards. Union leaders say that by nightfall the walk-out will have extended over the entire A. C. L. system. The men say there will be a general strike unless their demands are granted.—Rocky Mount Record.

HELPFUL WORDS.

From A Greenville Citizen.

Is your back lame and painful? Does it ache, especially after exertion?

Is there a soreness in the kidney region?

These symptoms indicate weak kidneys!

There is danger in delay.

Weak kidneys fast get weaker.

Give your trouble prompt attention.

Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly.

They strengthen weak kidneys.

Read this Greenville testimony.

J. J. Perkins, 426 Fourth street,

Greenville, N. C., says: "I am confident that Doan's Kidney Pills are a good kidney medicine, and I feel justified in recommending them. My supply was obtained from the John

L. Wooten Drug Co. and the results of their use showed that they can be relied upon to bring relief from kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo,

New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

OUTWITTED OFFICERS.

Hid in River and Breathed Through a Quill—Still Doing Business.

A Lee county moonshiner who had been up to Siler City (like London's town) to dispose of his sawpaw to thirty Chathamites and who was leisurely returning home found himself pursued by a band of revenue officers.

In his flight for safety he soon stumbled upon the northern bank of Deep River. There was no bridge or boat in sight; he could not swim, Uncle

Sam's men were close behind him, and he knew that if he let the officers catch him Judge Connor's court was ahead of him and he would probably have to wear stripes the balance of his days. Ben Hur in the heat of the chariot race with the Roman never made his plans more quickly or executed them more effectively than did this dispenser of Lee county corn juice. Somebody who had smacked his lips over his moonshine betrayed him but he would outwit the whole layout. With his knife he hastily cut one of the reeds that grew on the bank of the river. Then he stopped up his ears and nostrils with wet clay from the margin of the stream, took the reed into his mouth and waded out into deep water, where he remained submerged, with upturned face, but allowing the upper end of the reed to project above the surface.

On came the revenue officers following the moonshiner's track to the brink of the river. The officers remained waiting on the river bank for half an hour, but no sign of the moonshiner appeared. They concluded at last that he was a sorcerer who had vanished into thin air. Then they disappeared and the moonshiner, who had been under water all this time, breathing through his reed, came out. He managed to keep under cover and make his way back to a more comfortable place of safety in Lee.

Bound Over to Court.

At the preliminary hearing before Justice C. D. Rountree on Friday afternoon, Mr. W. W. Moore was bound over to Superior court in two cases, one for assault and one for selling liquor.

NEW MULLETS AT S. M. SCHULTZ.

Legal Notices

North Carolina.—Pitt County. In the Superior Court, August term, 1911.

The Nicola Lumber Com-pany vs.

W. J. Kittrell, surviving partner of Keene & Kittrell, W. J. Kittrell, individually, and R. H. Garris, mortgagee.

By virtue of the powers contained in a certain decree, entered in the above entitled cause, by Hon. Frank

Carter, judge riding the Third Judicial District, on the 25th day of August, 1911, the undersigned will expose for sale, before the court house door, in Greenville, North Carolina, on Monday, the 4th day of October, 1911, the following described personal and real estate, to-wit:

1st. That certain tract, piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Gritton, described as follows, "Lying and being in the town of Gritton, state aforsaid, Contentnea Neck township, and described and defined as follows,

to-wit: Lying on the south side of Moccasin river, bounded on the east by John Leary's line to Lenoir street, up said street to Nottingham and Wren's line, thence with said line to Moccasin river; then down said river to John Leary's line, containing three and one-half acres, more or less."

2nd. One fifty-horse power Atlas engine and boiler; one grist mill with all appliances, fixtures and equipments connected therewith made by B. S.

Starr; one shingle machine and saw;

one Curtis saw husk, Mandrell and Simon saw, all belting, pulleys, shaft-ing and milling fixtures of whatsoever name known or called situated and located on the lot of land described above.

3rd. One—horse power Erie Engine and boiler; one Edger machine; one log hauling machine; one old field log kiln piping and all fixtures appertaining to said dry kiln; one 40-horse power re-saw and boiler; one

Clark Center Crank Engine 10x12;

one Baldwin Tutthill and Bolton Band

Saw Filing Machine and six band saws for the re-saw, together with a lot of wire cable and rafting dogs used in rafting and delivering the logs to the mill and a lot of appliances used with the said filling machine, also all machinery and personal property that is in any wise connected with the milling plant of the late Keene and Kittrell and W. J. Kittrell, including

TO DECIDE FATE OF RECIPROCITY

THE SITUATION AT A GLANCE.

The Hottest Campaign Canada Has Witnessed in a Long Time.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 20.—The hottest political campaign Canada has witnessed since the days of Sir John McDonald and the National Policy was brought to a whirlwind finish today with rallies and speechmaking in virtually every city, town and hamlet from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Tomorrow the electors throughout the country will express their political preferences and on their verdict depends the fate of the Liberal government, which, under the leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, has been in office for fifteen years, and also the fate of the proposed reciprocity pact with the United States, from which Sir Wilfrid stands sponsor.

If Sir Wilfrid returns to power, the reciprocity bill will be passed soon after the re-assembling of parliament next month, and at an agreed date both Canada and the United States will put the necessary tariff changes into effect.

If the opposition wins a majority, Robert L. Borden, its leader, will become premier, reciprocity will be dropped and Canada will remain a high tariff country desirous of continuing the present tariff relations with the United States.

The polls will open at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and close at 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Unless the voting at large is unusually close it is expected that the outcome will be known by 10 p. m. (Atlantic time).

The campaign is the last in which Premier Laurier will participate, according to his declaration made at the beginning of the struggle. If he wins the contest, he will hold office continuously for a longer period than Sir John MacDonald.

The campaign has been hotly contested in all the provinces, and although conditions in certain sections of the Dominion are regarded as highly favorable to the Liberal party the result cannot be accurately forecasted. Upon the whole, disinterested observers seem inclined to the opinion that the government will carry the country by a reduced majority.

The claims of the two sides on the eve of the election are about as follows: The opposition declare they will gain seats from the government in the Maritime provinces—Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island—in Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia, while Saskatchewan and Alberta will remain with the government as at present. The Liberals, on the contrary, maintain that they will increase their present large majority in the French-Canadian sections of Quebec and the Maritime provinces, and will make gains in Ontario and throughout the West.

Practically the reciprocity agreement with the United States has been the sole issue of the campaign. The Liberal press and Liberal speakers have argued its material advantages, while the opposition has denied its material advantages and the compact as inimical to the commercial unity and national independence of Canada, as a movement towards Continentalism, and as a far step towards separation from the mother country.

The Conservative campaigners have confined themselves largely to the sentimental side of the reciprocity question. The British flag, the maintenance of British connection unweakened, and protests against closer relations with the United States have formed the basis of Conservative speeches. The Liberals, on the other hand, have sought to keep the fiscal aspect of reciprocity to the front and have accounted as absurd the contention of the Conservatives that reciprocity will lead Canada away from England and to the United States.

It is conceded that if the Conservatives have succeeded in convincing a majority of the electors that reciprocity tends toward annexation the government will be defeated. It likewise seems certain that if the government speakers have satisfied the voters that annexation is impossible, the government will be returned by a substantial majority and the reciprocity agreement ratified.

The French-Canadian province of Quebec is regarded as the pivotal province in the election. Here Henri Dourasse, the opposition nationalist leader, has vigorously denounced Premier Laurier as too imperialistic. Through his paper, Le Devoir, of Montreal, and in speeches, he has declared that Laurier betrayed Canadian independence to Great Britain by enacting a law for the creation of a navy, which eventually will lead to the conscription of the young men of Canada.

In addition to Bourassa the conspicuous opponents of the government's return are Clifford Sifton, former member of the Laurier cabinet; Robert Rogers, minister of public works in the Manitoba government and head of the conservative organization in the Prairie West; Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia, and Premier Hazen, of New Brunswick.

Liberal governments are in power in Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Saskatchewan and Alberta. They have given the government and reciprocity all possible aid in the campaign.

Conducts a Good Sale.

Although a comparative stranger in Greenville, Mr. J. J. Gentry has been conducting his sales in such a way at the Gum warehouse as to cause favorable comment by those who have witnessed his sales. Mr. Gentry is comparatively a young man, strong physically, and his manner of conducting his sales shows that he knows his business from start to finish. He is a hard worker, and never leaves a pile of tobacco as long as there is a prospect of getting a bid on it. A farmer who was on his sale a few days ago, was heard to remark: "That fellow Gentry is going to win his way in Greenville."

For bowel complaints in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil. It is certain to effect a cure and when reduced with water and sweetened is pleasant to take. No physician can prescribe a better remedy. For sale by all dealers.

Our New Attorney-at-Law.

Mr. D. M. Clark was admitted to practice law in the Superior courts of North Carolina Monday. Mr. Clark was granted his license recently. He was presented to the court by Mr. A. L. Blow and took the oath before Judge Carter.

How To Get More Out Of Your Hay Crop

WHETHER you feed or sell your hay, it should be baled. Baled hay takes up much less room and nets a better price than loose hay. It is always ready for any market at top price, while loose hay must be sold near home, at whatever you can get.

I H C HAY PRESS

have many points of strength, simplicity, and convenience found in no other presses. They are equipped with a compound lever and a toggle joint plunger, which gives them great compressing power. A 500 pound pull on the sweep of a 16x18 I H C press gives 76,800 pounds pressure in the bale chamber.

The bed reach is only 4 inches high and very narrow. The bale chamber is very low—easy to reach over to tie the bale.

If you examine an I H C hay press you will appreciate its value as a money saver and money maker.

For I H C hay presses, clover leaf manure spreaders, weber wagons and all other farm machinery and hardware, call on

Hart & Hadley

Greenville, N. C.

Quality Counts

The Witty Irishman.

An Irishman wanted an empty bottle in which to mix a solution, and went to a druggist to buy one. Selecting one that answered his purpose, he asked how much it was.

"Well," said the clerk, "if you want the empty bottle it'll be one cent, but if you have anything put in it we don't charge anything for it."

"Sure, that's fair enough," observed the Irishman; "put in a cork."—Exchange.

Child's Nose Cut in Two.

Late Tuesday afternoon a little son of Mr. D. L. Smith, one of the rural mail carriers out from Grimesland, was playing in the yard with a tin bucket. The little fellow fell over on the bucket, striking his nose across the chime, and cut his nose in two. He was taken to a physician in Ayden for the wound to be sewed up.

Tell the average man a joke and he will say, "That reminds me." Then he'll get busy and you will have to listen, and it serves you right.

Three Things for Men.

There are more than three, of course, but C. T. Munford wants to impress the fact that his big store is especially strong on three things for men and boys.

When it comes to clothes, he has the Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes, that stand at the head of the class. They are of the right quality and shades for fall and winter, and they are made right. The man or boy in one of these suits will look right.

Then he has the 5-ply linen collars and cuffs, the very best made, and they can be had nowhere else.

Lion Brand shirts are known everywhere and are not surpassed by any. The man or boy does the right thing for himself in going to Munford's for these articles.

Rattlesnake Killed.

On Sunday morning a colored man who lives on the farm of Sheriff S. I. Dudley, about five miles from town, found a large rattlesnake in his yard and killed it. The snake had nine rattles.

The Carolina Home and Farm and The Eastern Reflector

Agriculture is the Most Useful, the Most Healthful, the Most Noble Employment of Man.—George Washington.

Volume XXXII.

GREENVILLE, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1911.

Number 39.

HOW EASY IT IS TO FOLLOW ERROR

A MISPRINT IN S. S. SERVICE.

And Preachers, Through Force of Habit, Offer Strange Prayers.

HANRAHAN, N. C., Sept. 27.—How few of us, even those who read, ever stop one moment to think on what we have read.

In the Methodist literature each month has an opening service laid down. The opening service for August among other things had a verse, a couplet of this verse read something like this:

"If I can cool one ache or pain,
Then I shall not live in vain."

Evidently the author of these lines wrote, or intended to say, soothe one ache or pain, but a typographical error made him say cool instead of soothe. During the past month I attended several Sunday schools that used this opening service, and each and every one read it just as printed, "If I can cool one ache or pain." Without a wonder the Methodist Sunday school of your city read this for the whole month of August without once thinking that a pain is not something to be cooled.

A while ago I heard a preacher get up and preach a powerful sermon, urging sinners to repent and be saved just now and made much effort to impress all who had not accepted Christ that now is the day to accept Him and to be saved. And then he called the congregation to prayer and made a most feeling prayer and wound it up by asking God for Christ's sake to at last save us all in heaven. When he had closed his service I asked him when a man was saved? He said when he confessed Christ and accepted Him as his Savior. Then I said why do three-fourths of your preachers always wind up your prayers by asking God to save us at last? He said "force of habit; we did not think." Just as many who are called on when the husband has been taken and a widow left, I have heard preachers of note pray that God would be a Father to the fatherless and a husband to the widow; God cannot be, and has never promised to be a husband to the widow. He can and has promised to be a Father to the fatherless and a friend to the widow, but not a husband.

So in my last, my bad copy and not the operator, made me say that "only dudes and other creeping things existed where once stood a town built up entirely of the aristocracy of that county." I meant to convey the idea that that town was entirely depopulated by all human beings, and that only doodles, little insects that live in the sand, and other creeping things now inhabited that once proud and beautiful town. And not that the offspring of those people were dudes and creeping things. The Rev. S. B. Pattisholl, of the M. E. church, south, closed a series of meetings at this place last Sunday night. He reorganized a church, reclaiming part of the old members that were scattered like sheep without a shepherd when the church went down. He also received four who had never been connected with any church. Quite an interest through his earnest preaching had been aroused among our people, but he had to close his meeting here Sunday night to begin a protracted meeting at Gum Swamp. May much good be accomplished.

U-KNOW.

[The way we got dudes out of doodles was you put "u" instead of "oo."—Opr].

The Colored School.

The Industrial graded school, for colored race, of which C. M. Epps is principal, will begin its ninth session Monday, October 2. The last session was a decided success and the principal, assisted by Amy D. Bowen, and Claudine Edmonds, will use every means to carry the work to greater success.

For bowel complaints in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil. It is certain to effect a cure and when reduced with water and sweetened is pleasant to take. No physician can prescribe a better remedy. For sale by all dealers.

STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE

WILL AID PITT COUNTY FAIR.

With Liberal Donation To The Premium List.

President J. L. Wooten, of the Pitt County Fair Association, has received a letter from the State Agricultural Department, advising that the department will come to the aid of the county association in making a donation to the premium list of the county fair. This donation from the state promises to be a liberal one, and still further assures the success of the county fair to be held on the 2nd and 3rd of November. In addition to the donation by the State Department of Agriculture for the general exhibits at the county fair, they make a special donation for exhibits in the women's department.

At the meeting of the governing board of the county fair to be held on Friday, the premium list will be revised to include the donation of the State Department of Agriculture. In the meantime the people of the county should be getting something ready to exhibit at the fair. Do everything you can to help make this first fair a success, and to show what Pitt county can do in the way of a display of farm products, stock, poultry, pantry supplies, fruits, vegetables, and woman's work.

A GREAT MEETING.

To Be Held in Greenville Next Sunday Night.

Rev. R. L. Davis, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of the state, will visit Greenville next Sunday night and address the people of this community at a union service to be held in the Memorial Baptist church. Mr. Davis will tell why the jugs, the blind tigers and the near-beer saloons must go. Everybody—men, women and children—are invited to hear him.

The man who agrees with us is a mighty level-headed fellow.

TAFT LAYS CORNER STONE.

Finds City Profusely Dressed in Patriotic Attire.

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 27.—WI President Taft arrived this morning on his day's schedule, he found city profusely dressed in patriotic attire and an enormous crowd on hand to do him honor. A party of distinguished representatives of the state Kansas accompanied the president from Hutchinson, while another party of state and city officials and leading citizens of Topeka was in waiting the station to greet him when stepped from his special train. At the welcome formalities had been included the president was taken charge by the reception committee and escorted by a parade through gayly decorated streets of the downtown district. At the conclusion, the parade the president delivered brief address at the laying of corner stone for the State Sold Memorial Hall to be erected in city. At the conclusion of the programme the presidential train for Atchison and Leavenworth.

HIGH PRICES.

Foxhall Has Highest Average of Season.

Yesterday the average made at Star warehouse was unquestioned the highest made during the pre season. The entire sale, including scrap, averaged nearly 15 cents challenge any warehouse in the to beat this.

Elsewhere in this paper, you see an itemized list of a few of sales which we made, and which are making every day. Come on your next load, for you know the Star beats them all when it comes to getting the most for your tobacco.

F. D. FOXHALL, Manager
Star Warehouse

Diarrhoea is always more or prevalent during September. Be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy prompt and effectual. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers.