DR. POTEAT AT E. C. T. I. S.

President of Wake Forest Speaks On "Conservation of Life"

MUSICAL PROGRAM PRECEEDS HIM

Though rain made the night disagreeable one to be out, a considerable number of town people gathered with the students in the auditorium of East Carolina Teachers Training school, Monday night, to hear the lecture of Dr. William Louis Poteat, president of Wake Forest College. The lecture was preceded by an excellent musical program of four numbers under the direction of Miss Muffy. These were: Chorus—"Unfold, Ye Portals," by the school. Solo—"Azare Eyes," Miss Arlene Joyner. Chorus—"Lullaby," by the school. Prof. C. W. Wilson introduced the speaker of the evening. He referred to Dr. Poteat as a former teacher of his at Wake Forest, and said the personal and professional resources of the speaker were most appropriate. Dr. Poteat's subject was "Conservation of Life," and it was a fruitful topic presented with great force and interest by a master mind. He said we often speak of our resources of material things, at the same time forgetting the personal. The wealth of a nation does not consist of property, territory or provinces, but of people. Human labor gives value to all raw material. The world of land and sea have no meaning aside from a human standpoint. We boast of the greatness of our nation, but the test is what does it produce in manhood and womanhood. Likewise we boast of a religion, but even there the same test is made. If it does not develop a better manhood and womanhood we are to be about ten feet from the door. The great test of all things is manhood and womanhood and there is no material wealth aside from men, women and children. Our personal wealth is our only life. The future of the present is shown in it all but the wealth we have no recourse when we use them. Iron that is put into ships, bridges, engines and machinery is not wasted. Timber that is cut and used in building our homes is not wasted. Coal that is consumed in manufactures, power or heat is not wasted. People die when they ought not to die, and one-third of the people die of preventable diseases. Then we should prevent these diseases. Life is not as long as it ought to be, as the average length of duration shows. Another cause of personal wealth is the low tone of our civilization that is possessed here. The speaker referred to Fletcher, Osler and bookwork treatment, and said the newspapers of the land had many sins to answer for in the fun attempted to be made of these. Another cause of waste of personal wealth is the perpetuation of a degenerate type of manhood. Some are born into the world with defeat stamped upon them; and some succeed in spite of every handicap, but these are the exception. Here he referred to the dopist, the school fraud, the vicious criminal by nature, and declared that such should not be allowed to marry and perpetuate their degeneracy. Some one might ask if he favored legislation or medical control and investigation of proper subjects for the marriage relation. Not at all. These things should be governed by public conscience. Public opinion can develop a new type of manhood by saving the waste. The soul of all improvement is the improvement of the soul. Society is impossible unless every unit of society submits to the law of society. Every individual should co-operate with every movement and influence for a higher type of manhood and the conservation of our personal wealth.

CHRISTMAS ACROSS THE BORDER

Apartado 150, Guaymas, Mex. "The Christmas holidays for us at Guaymas and other thoughts. What a noise in the patio! What was the meaning of all that? Ah! I recollect, that was the last day of school before the holidays and the people were gathering to see and hear what the little folks had to say in their "Christmas Fiesta," as they anxiously waited for Santa Claus to come and give them a stocking stuf of with goodies. Many of the dear little people and grown ones too, had no conception of "St. Nick," so they waited and eagerly watched to see what kind of a piece of humanity would appear. How their eyes sparkled and danced with delight as he appeared on the scene and delivered his speech of welcome ending with "A Merry Christmas to all." A jolly man was he. (My! how the wind blew whistling a merry tune as it came around the North corner of the building, giving the audience a full blast in the key of "F" as it passed by). After Santa had given each little girl and boy a little gift they with their little hearts bubbling over with joy, said goodnight and went to their different homes some of which were very humble, to dream of his coming again. A happy thought that. Those of us who attend the Sunday School and go to church have only a beginning of the pleasures that were to come to us during the holidays for Mr. and Mrs. Marrs, who are as gentle as doves but wise as Solomon, had a feast in store for us in that we had a most delightful evening in their home January 1st, 1912. As is the custom of the church we had a "watch meeting in the little mission chapel that night. Many good things were said. The native pastor gave us a very interesting talk on "God's Handiwork," after which Mr. Marrs gave a very instructive, as well as impressive one, on "Redeeming the Time." How important the meeting closed with an invitation to enter the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marrs which they had beautifully decorated with pot-plantains, flowers and fragrances of Mexico, and there Mr. Marrs gave the Mexican flag floating in the breeze. In the center of the "Portal" on one side was the picture of President Madero draped with flags and ribbon. After a contest in which the boys were victorious, we were very cordially invited to take seats on the benches which had been made immaculate by the dainty touch of Mrs. Marrs. My! What a feast of hot tamales, coffee, chocolate and cakes. (Mr. Marrs says Christmas comes but once a year but some of us would not object if it came twice). After refreshments were a part of the past Mr. Marrs in his own jolly way introduced the old-fashioned game we used to play when boys and girls. This "Being Introduced to the Queen." This of course, was new to the Mexican boys and girls such fun as we had. The poor boys took such heavy falls not only in body but in pride. My! it was great. Next came the "breaking of the olla." This, after being filled with candies, nuts, etc., was fastened to a hook in the ceiling in such a way as to be about ten feet from the floor. Each applicant was taken to it and allowed to look at it then blindfolded and turned around like a spinning top three or four times and was then given the pleasure of trying to break it with a cane. Much fun was shown in it all but the zenith was reached when the successful applicant broke it and the contents began falling here and there. What a conglomeration of words were heard as the children began to pick up candy, etc., filling mouths, hands and pockets.

Someone has said that everything but a circle comes to an end, so the hour of departure came all too soon and at eleven Mr. and Mrs. Marrs in their own sweet Christian way began singing the old familiar song: "God be with you till we meet again." The crowd joined them and it seemed to me that with more melody and sweetness than ever before. At the close of this beautiful hymn we had a prayer by the native pastor after which the voices of our host and hostess rang out joyous and clear, "Feliz ano nuevo." (Happy New Year). We left (then not only expressing our appreciation to them for such a delightful evening but a silent prayer of thankfulness was given to our Master for the blessings of the Christmas holidays of 1911.

Now, may I add just a few thoughts for your prayerful consideration during the coming days? Mexico is a land of great change in the time of unrest. We can't tell what the future will be. The child of tomorrow in Mexico is an important individual and should be given careful, yes, very careful consideration. Every child ought to be free to be a child. We must learn to appreciate what childhood is. The mothers of the future are the children of today. How important that they be taught the things that will be of vital importance for the future. The child of tomorrow must have a mother. Some one has said that all great moral forces are dependent on upon great mothers. How many great men do you know who did not have great mothers? Nay, verily, I dare say your answer is "not one." How dear the name of mother.

Let the Mexican child with his average intelligence have a chance and see that Mexico will be a better place from 1912. God hasten the day when all of our people will say the truest sense of the word. "Build me a house by the road and let me be a friend of man." The child of tomorrow in Mexico must have teachers whose lives are consecrated and filled with the spirit of the Master who is the Great Teacher of us all. She must make the moments count for the child who is moulder human character. This reminds me of a little sentence I wrote on the board some time ago. "A stick in time saves nine." Before I had finished writing it several hands had been given up when I asked "why," they said, "What does that mean?" I explained to them and without an exception every one began to examine her dress

Dr. Poteat's lecture was from the mind and heart of a profound thinker, and even the humorous touches now and then illustrated a strong point. He held the closest attention of his audience, and none heard him without personal benefit. The school is to be congratulated for securing so able a man in its lecture course, for such words as Dr. Poteat uttered can but uplift to a higher ideal of life and more perfect manhood.

Extension of Southbound.
Winston-Salem, Feb. 7.—The proposed extension of the Winston-Salem Southbound Railroad from its south-side tracks up to and through the town of Salem was approved so far as applied to property outside the town by the county commissioners today. The petition had already been presented and approved regarding property rights-of-way in Salem itself. The approval of the county commissioners was conditioned on the approval of the county road supervisors but their consent will be forthcoming, it is expected. The project of extension will give the Southbound a terminal freight station in Salem closer to shippers and will mean much for the road and also for the accommodation of shippers.

Raleigh Aroused Over Law Enforcement.
Raleigh, Feb. 7.—It is definitely decided to hold a big law enforcement rally to declare a dividend on its common stock, Mr. Duke said he had advised that, in view of the large payments in cash which the company had recently been compelled to make in the retirement of its bonds and for other purposes required by the court's decree, it would be wise to pay no dividend on its common stock at present, and that the directors had concurred in this opinion.

NO FEAR OF CONTAGIOUS DISEASES IN SCHOOL.

Information has come to me from what I believe to be reliable sources, that there are fears in the minds of children in the graded school infected with contagious diseases. I desire to say that we have exercised all the precautions we could to protect the children, and thus far we have been successful. There are no contagious diseases of any kind in the school, and I have no fears that there will be any epidemic.

In this connection I wish to say that the state law prohibits persons sending to public schools children infected with any kind of contagious diseases. Parents would do well to take note of this, as there is a penalty attached for violation.

I should like to ask people to inquire of me, or of the physicians, wherever they have fears about all such rumors as the one of which I write. First-hand information is always best. There are persons in this, as in every other community, who rely on rumors and hear-says, and as a result much confusion arises. Out of confusion nothing but harm comes to grow people, and the case of children to evil results are extremely injurious.

Miss Lillian Fountain Entertained in Honor of Bride.

Mrs. Robert Wyatt, formerly Miss Christian Rennie, of Norfolk, who has just come to the city a bride, was the guest of honor at a charming afternoon reception given yesterday by Miss Lillian Fountain, at her home on North Blount street.

Between seventy-five and a hundred guests were present, the occasion being a most delightful one. Miss Fountain's hospitality was greatly enjoyed while the guests were charmed with Miss Wyatt, who is being cordially welcomed by her old friends in the city and is making many new ones.

At the door little Miss Ruth Fountain and Julia Ross received the cards.

In the receiving line were Mrs. J. L. Fountain, who wore a gown of black crepe and velvet; Miss Lillian Fountain, in pink; the guest of honor, Mrs. Wyatt, in a gown of real lace over yellow satin. The others in the line were Mrs. Wyatt's sister, Miss Edith Cecil Rennie, of Norfolk, who was maid of honor at the wedding, wearing her gown for that occasion of pink crepe de chine; and Miss Wilson of Kingston, in pink. The actual cost of subsistence was dropped net over what which were as bride's maid at the wedding.

In the dining room dainty refreshments were served by Misses Elizabeth Fountain, Frances Park, Mildred Wyatt and Naomi Alford.

The decorations throughout the house were in pink, the greens of the house in the receiving line harmonizing beautifully with this color scheme. In the dining room pink and white sweet peas formed the centerpiece of the daintily appointed table.

As the initial event given in Mrs. Wyatt's honor the reception was altogether delightful and will be followed by other affairs in her home. —Raleigh Evening Times.

IT WAS NOT A JOKE.

But The Officer Did A Very Human Act.

Saturday some of the friends of Deputy Sheriff Ernest Dudley thought they had a good joke on him and were waiting for him to come to the office and say a joke, after all, even though the officer might have been embarrassed for the time being while performing a duty that embodied a real act of humanity. It came about this way:

Officer Dudley was commissioned to take a demoted colored woman to the state hospital in Goldsboro. The woman had a 4-month-old baby and the infant was taken along with her. Reaching the hospital the officer was informed, much to his chagrin, that the baby could not be received there, no alternative was left but to take charge of the baby and bring it back to Greenville. Those not up to the situation might have wondered why a white man was traveling alone with a negro baby in his arms all right, brought that baby home all right.

The reflector man was down at Grimesland, Wednesday, and was glad to find that the people there are not cast down because of the fire that swept away half of the business section of the town about a month ago but have made up their minds to rebuild. Mr. H. H. Proctor and the Clark brothers have already decided to put up two double brick stores and are only waiting for spring weather to begin building. Dr. Hudson will also build a brick office and drug store, and others will soon be following with new buildings.

Mr Cannon Gets Information.

Uncle Joe Cannon, "High Protection Joe," wanted to know when the Democratic metal bid was before the House, why such articles as sewing machines had been placed on the free list. Chairman Underwood of the Democratic Ways and Means Committee, courteously supplied the ex-speaker with the desired information.

"I have placed these articles on the free list for the benefit of the American people," said Mr. Underwood. "The uncontrived testimony shows that sewing machines are being sold to the rich and poor alike in this country for from $23 to $45 a machine and yet are being laid down freight paid, in the Orient for $8.75. "We are not ashamed to go to the American people and say that when an article is manufactured in this country so cheaply that it can compete in all the markets in the world, we are willing to place it on the free list for the benefit of our own people."

The metal bid passed by the Democrats making reduction on all metals goods averaging 35 per cent and L. A NEW LEAF

PETER COOPER, who when yet alive, gave $630,000 to fund Cooper Union in New York City, earned only $25 a year for the first two years he was in that city. He was an apprentice to a coachmaker. He SAVED $20 the first two years and put it in the bank.

DR. D. H. HILL
AT TRAINING SCHOOL.

President of A. And M. Delivers Address on Sidney Lanier

COMMEMORATING POET'S BIRTHDAY

The Sidney Lanier Literary Society of the Training School celebrated the seventeenth anniversary of the birth of Sidney Lanier by giving the school and the public an opportunity to hear an address on this great southern poet by one of the state's greatest scholars and most polished speakers, Dr. D. H. Hill, president of the A. and M. College.

Miss Marguerite Davis, president of the Lanier society, had charge of the program. Three choruses, two by the school and one by the Lanier society, were sung.

Miss Davis then, with grace and dignity, introduced the speaker.

Dr. Hill gave a sympathetic appreciation and interpretation of Sidney Lanier as a man, musician and poet. He brought his audience to a deeper understanding of the great spirit who, handicapped by disease and poverty, brought poetry and music close together and whose gospel was "beauty is holiness and holiness beauty."

After the address the Lanier society received in the library in honor of Dr. Hill.

HAS TWO ACCIDENTS

Loses Part of His Finger in One of Them.

Saturday was an unlucky day for Mr. R. E. Overton, one of the employees of the Lumber Company. Early that morning he was working at the anvil in the forge room, when a piece of red hot iron flew out of the tongs in which he was holding it and struck him in the face about an inch below the eye, burning him quite painfully. Later in the day just before noon he was adjusting a machine when his right hand was caught in the gearing. His little finger was so mangled that the end of it had to be amputated, and the next finger was also badly crushed. Dr. L. C. Skinner looked after his injuries.

Shocking Sounds.

In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warn of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape those dangerous maladies, drops, diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see back-ache fly and all your best feelings return. "My son received great benefit from their use," writes Peter Bondy, South Rockwood, Mich. "It is certainly a great kidney medicine." Try it. 50 cents at all druggists.

Driver Badly Hurt.

Sam Kinion, who works for Mr. J. E. Winslow, was severely hurt Sunday by one of the horses at the stables. In approaching one of them, the animal kicked and struck Kinion on the right hand, badly hurting it and further breaking some bones in his arm. Kinion is suffering a great deal from his hurts.

CAMPAIGN PREPARATIONS

Republican Senators and Representatives Meet.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—Today's joint caucus of Republican senators and representatives to ratify the selection of the members of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee marks the first active step in the Republican national campaign of 1912. From this time on the political machinery will move with an ever increasing velocity until the climax is reached with the casting of the ballots in November.

The Republicans plan to begin the practical work of this campaign a day earlier this year than in 1904 or 1908. No attempt is made to conceal the fact that they expect a much more difficult campaign than in either of those years. The party is less harmonious than it was in the contents of four and eight year ago, while the Democrats have more encouragement to make a harder fight now than they have had at any previous time since 1896.

Tobacco Expert.

Mr. W. M. Lunn, a government tobacco expert, who has been carrying on experiments to ascertain the best fertilizer to be used for the production of the leaf as well as soil best adapted, etc., in South Carolina, arrived in Greenville Thursday to carry on his work in this state in the government station in this neighborhood. He has still charge of the station in South Carolina, but will devote a great deal of his time to our state. Mrs. Lunn came here with him.

Wilson Released on Bond.

Nurkin J. Nurkin, who surrendered to Sheriff Sharp Friday afternoon, is out on a $500 bond. He says the News and Observer and other papers have done him an injustice by stating that he is wanted in Chase City, Va., for the larceny of a diamond ring in South Carolina. "The town ought to look clean this never been in South Carolina and I don't know where Chase City is."

ALDERMEN MEET.

Proposition to Lease Town Commons Fronting River.

The board of aldermen met in regular monthly session Thursday night, with the mayor and six members of the board present.

The committee reported that a horse and rubber boots and coats had been purchased for the use of the fire department. It was also recommended that the town commons be provided in the city hall, and the committee was instructed to fix the rooms as early as possible.

The meeting committee had no reports.

The committee to whom was referred the proposition of J. Benjamin Higgs to lease the town commons fronting on the river, for a term of ninety years, made the following report which was adopted:

1. That the town of Greenville grant to any person, persons, firm or corporation doing an interstate transportation business, a portion of said property, or the whole thereof, if necessary, free of charge, for the purpose of constructing a wharf, building warehouses, and erecting any other structure of whatever nature necessary for the proper conduct of said business.
2. That said person, persons, company or corporation doing said business, shall keep and maintain, year by year, a regular and continuous water transportation service, said service not to be interrupted or delayed except for natural causes, such as insufficient water in Tar river any other unavoidable accident.
3. That said person, persons, firm or corporation shall transport to and from the town of Greenville all kinds of commodities carried by railroads and other public carriers.
4. That the privilege granted shall be co-extensive with regular, continuous and adequate transportation service, except as hereinafter stated.
5. That for insufficient or inadequate service the privilege granted shall be forfeited, and the right denied said person, persons, firm or corporation the further use of said property, upon the town through its mayor giving six months' notice of such withdrawal of said privilege.
6. D. Overton was elected building inspector.

The water and light commission was instructed to put 6-inch pipe on Ninth street from Evans street to Co-natch street at the expense of the town.

Maude Owens was granted license to run a restaurant in the Darden building on Dickinson avenue.

A committee was appointed to collect for the paving on Fourth street. The officers made their reports for the past month.

Bills as approved by the finance committee were ordered paid.

The meeting took a recess until Tuesday night, 6th.

He Thanked the Judge.

Wilson.—Yesterday when the case of W. A. Fretwell against the Atlantic Coast Line for damages, was called, it was determined by Judge Justice that there was no ground for suit and the case was promptly nol. prosequi. When this was done, Mr. Fretwell, who had no attorney, arose and asked another case he had on the calendar be withdrawn. His request was granted, and there will be no suit against the Southern Express company so far as Mr. Fretwell is concerned. In withdrawing the last suit the plaintiff thanked Judge Justice, but went out muttering, no doubt, thinking that all the world is against him in an effort to "bust the trusts."

Begins Tour of South.

It was the first conference of his present tour which will take twelve days and extend as far west as New Orleans. Mr. Watson was accompanied by J. G. Anderson, of Rock Hill, S. C., originator of the scheme which proposes to get pladges from planters to reduce next year's acreage to 60 per cent of the area planted the past season.

Don't judge a Manure Spreader by Looks

Every Manure Spreader is not a Cloverleaf that looks like one. You can't judge a Manure Spreader by its looks because there are many features which are found in the construction of one machine that are not found in others. Cloverleaf Manure Spreaders are the most easily operated, the strongest and best machines on the market. If you will examine one critically you will agree with us that the is the best machine you ever looked at. Drop in. Let us discuss the manure spreader proposition. Let us explain the many meritorious features found in Cloverleaf construction. Better still, buy one, then you will be in a better position to know why you can't judge a manure spreader by its looks. If you are not ready to buy, call and get a catalogue. NOT MUCH.

"We ought to" was the keynote of all short speeches made Monday night at the meeting of the Carolina Club. To us it sounded very much like the wide known sign, "Unaeda Buisuit," only in our case it should be "Weneda Hotel."

We tried to keep up counting the number of times this "Weneda hotel" was said by different members at that meeting. Along the 200 odd we got dizzy and stopped. Only three of the business men in the Carolina Club Monday night made a noise like money and if only the rest had signified a willingness to imitate that noise we might have today announced that the hotel proposition was a "go." As it is we are very sorry to say that the hotel seems to be as far away today as the proverbial mirage that spurs the desert traveler to doing a few more miles to find out that the cool, inviting oasis is still a few more miles further down the sandy waste.

The mirage-hotel is practically as far away today as when the question was first put to the members of the club. With only this difference: it has helped to find out that individuals with the smaller capital at their disposal are the only ones willing to see Greenville take a step that will undoubtedly bring progress to the town.

One of the speakers at last night's meeting expressed the opinion that Greenville would never be able to bring factories or industries of which we stand in such great need if we are to grow and prosper, unless we have a modern hotel in which to favorably impress the future investor. We heartily agree with the gentleman. We have always advocated that Greenville need factories, but we likewise have engaged in a live campaign to interest the people in the hotel proposition and have given all the publicity we could. We believe in the hotel as the stepping stone to our future progress and believing in it as we do, we're sorry the negative result of last night's meeting.

It would seem as if those that are in a position to invest are rather afraid that somebody else is going to make a little more than themselves. We can't see where they get this idea. But granted that somebody else was going to make "that" little better. Is not the investment offered worth the consideration?

It was shown last night that the property, as it stands now, has been paid 10 per cent for a number of years. Is it possible for it to continue to pay 10 per cent, with improvements on the same property? The logical way to reason would be if it pays 10 per cent as it stands, that improvements would increase the paying percentage. But, even if it did not pay anymore, is 10 per cent such a small gain in an investment? We think it is worth the trouble. And it should not take any wide-awake business man of this community to think with us.

ing to attain any degree of progress. Every business man should find a place in which he will be exactly at the same level with the other business men, and then the tracking of such enterprises as we are discussing now, would be mere play.

We never will have factories in Greenville unless we have the hotel. We need so much and we never will have that hotel unless the business men get together and stay together.

And for any sake do not let us again say "We need a hotel," but let us instead put it "We'll soon have a hotel."

BLIND TIGERS.

Although North Carolina has been largely a dry state for so long, it seems that only now has any desire been evinced by the people to enforce a law which of their own accord was passed.

The state-wide movement for a really dry state is bringing to light a state of affairs which has greatly shocked the prohibitionists. As an aftermath of the Anti-Saloon League convention in Raleigh last week, one blind tiger came to the front and in tones of the greatest respect for the law which he had been breaking with some degree of success, has thrown himself into the mercy of justice.

This particular blind tiger was not brought to justice by a policeman, a city magistrate or any other man vested with authority. It remained for one of the local pastors to take the authorities into action and no sooner had a private, or almost a private citizen, "got busy" the desired effect was felt.

When the Rev. R. L. Davis made his famous spread of whiskey samples before the astonished Raleigh people, the authorities assumed an air of offended innocence and insisted that the preacher turn informant and help them catch the law-breakers.

This act, which was referred to as a grand stand play by some of the press, came a little too late. To anybody acquainted with local conditions in any large sized town in North Carolina, the stand taken by the authorities must have appeared more like a pantomime than anything else. As if the authorities needed any such private information to run down blind tigers!

It would be "one safe bet" to say that should the authorities care to look into the matter there would be no room in the local "coolers" for the stationary and itinerant whiskey merchants that are defying the prohibition law.

Some two or three years ago it seemed to Mayor Gwynn, of New York, that it would be a great idea to put on the lid as tight as it had never been before in Gotham. At least he let everybody understand it that way. Some good, honest policemen (oh, yes, there are some in New York) thought Epictetus was in real earnest and made the awful mistake of locking up two or three saloon keepers that had their family door entrances open on Sunday. For which honest work he was transferred without comment. The sleuth from County Cork kept up the good work in his new territory, and another transfer followed. About the fifth transfer he was "wised up" by another Irishman who had been on the force a little longer and now he can hold any battle he wants to. Of course his ideas of honest politicians are somewhat different.

Perhaps the case in our state is not exactly the same. Yet, have you ever heard of blind tigers being prosecuted? We certainly have. Who protects them? It is easy to answer this question. The negligence of the authorities which we appoint and pay if it pays 10 per cent as it stands, that negligence is the best protection that any blind tiger wants.

We wonder how it would turn out were the authorities to offer a reward for every case of a blind tiger being convicted.

When blind tigers find out that the law is going to be enforced, there will be a diminishing of violators. And when a sufficient strong prohibition sentiment gets behind those whose duty it is to enforce the laws, there will be more enforcement. Put these things together and it will be seen that upon every citizen rests some duty.

GOOD REASONS FOR GOOD ROADS.

The Tarboro Southerner calls attention to a set of good reasons for good roads. The Ohio Good Roads Federation published them some time ago, but as Conger says, they are just as good for Ohio as Edgecombe county; likewise Pitt county and, in fact, every county that suffers through its bad roads.

They are all "perfectly good" reasons and bring out the value of good roads individually, which is, perhaps, the best way to show how the people of a county will be benefited by building good roads:

1. If you are a farmer, because your farm will increase in value, you can raise more profitable crops, your cost of hauling will be lower, you can market your products when prices are best, your children can get to school, your family can attend church, your physician will be in closer touch with you, your boys and girls will stay on the farm, you will have better mail service, more social life and happier conditions all around.
2. If you are a merchant, because good roads enlarge your trading radius and make it possible for purchasers to reach you every day in the year, and thereby increase your sales.
3. If you represent a chamber of commerce or a board of trade, because the public roads are commercial feeders to the cities, and every improvement to these roads means a greater prosperity to the cities through increased agricultural production and greater stimulus to all industries.

4. If you are a highway official because you are striving for better, more efficient road construction and maintenance, and more efficient road administration.

5. If you are a railroad man, because improved roads mean greater production, consequently more traffic, prevent freight congestion, bring more industries, more roads, more tourists.

6. If you are an automobile user, because you can get the benefit of your machinery every day in the year, your repair bills will be lower, long and better tours will be possible at all seasons of the year.

7. If you are a dealer in farm products and implements, because you can receive the products and deliver the implements at all times.

8. If you are an automobile manufacturer, because every mile of improved roads means a greater demand for both pleasure and commercial cars, increases wealth, and consequently the power to purchase.

9. If you are a publisher or editor, because improved roads make wider circulation possible, increases advertising by attracting commercial enterprises, and because road improvement is the most important economic question of the age.

10. If you are a manufacturer of road machinery or road materials, because road improvement means business.

11. If you are the proprietor of a hotel, because improved roads mean more tourist and more commercial travelers. New England, with its system of good roads, got $60,000,000 a year from tourists alone.

12. If you are a banker, because good roads will increase agriculture, and manufacture, depositors, and dividends.

13. If you are a progressive citizen, because you cannot progress so long as your state and nation remain in the mud.

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR.

We have received at The Reflector office a copy of the Christian Science Monitor of the 19th of January, and sincerely thank the sender for the courtesy. We are always glad to see such good papers on our table and try in our spare time to study them for the benefit of our readers.

We carefully read marked article, or rather excerpt from article, by Elbert Hubbard. It is very kind of the good Fra to speak in such a nice way of a publication like the Monitor; we are rather afraid that the head of the Roycrofters is a little inconsistent in what he says. The "yellows," as he calls them, have printed his name under countless articles, product of his fertile and gifted pen and no doubt that the owner of those "yellows" has signed many a fat check to help the Fra to materialize his ideals. This is where the inconsistency comes in. For everybody knows full well that Elbert Hubbard has written much, or rather is writing much, for the owner of what is considered the acme of yellow journalism in the States.

On the other hand, the Monitor can well afford its policy of eliminating from its pages anything that savors of the emotional or morbid, for the organ of the Scientists gets the well merited support of many followers of the famous Mary Baker G. Eddy. The Fra says that many of the readers of the Monitor are not Scientists. Perhaps he is right, perhaps not, but the greater majority are, and where a paper is read by a great many people the manufacturer or merchant is advertising printed. And we certainly are with him in that respect.

A QUESTION OF FENCE.

The Reflector has been asked several times to say something about the stock law muddle in this county, but it is one of those knotty problems that we hardly know how to approach or what to say about it after it is approached. There are two sides to the question, in fact many sides, and all sides want to go to the bat at the same time.

About the best information is that the last legislature near the time of closing enacted an additional stock law bill for Pitt county, subjecting to the rules and regulations governing stock laws already existing or to hereafter exist in the county. The biggest feature about this new stock law bill was that it did away with about 75 miles of zig-zag fence and provided for a 16-mile straight fence to do the same service, the saving to the tax payers by this shorter fence to keep up being in the proportion of 16 to 75. The provisions of this bill, however, were not to become effective until nearly one year after the legislature adjourned, or to be exact on the first of January, 1912.

In the meantime there has been something doing. Of course there were people who the old crooked fence left on the outside of the stock law territory whom the straight fence would bring on the inside. This was where they did not want to be, hence the controversy. Through all the year there was talking with occasional meetings and speech-making in opposition to the new stock law.

When the time came for the board of county commissioners to put the machinery of the bill in order and have the new fence built in accordance therewith, the opponents rallied for a fight. Injunctions were sought against the fence being built across certain lands, and this coming up before Judge O. H. Allen at the recent court, he deeming that the commissioners were in the bounds of the law in such cases, dissolved the injunction.

There was another rally of opposition with more injunctive suits, this time going even further than building the fence across forbidden lands, and also enjoining the levying of tax in the prescribed new stock law territory or the use of stock law funds already on hand for the old territory. These latter injunctions are to come up for a hearing before court in New Bern about the middle of this month, and nobody knows what the final outcome will be.

This is all we know about the stock law muddle, and if we have not got it right it is because of not knowing for the authorities to look into.

THE EXPRESS COMPANIES.

Now and again the government wakes up to the possibilities of exerting some of its power in favor of the common people. Witness the sugar trust, the meat trust, the bath-tub trust, etc., etc. Towards prosecuting these corporations the government spends large sums of money and after lapses of time in which much useful work could be accomplished, if same time was invested in an earnest prosecution of the combines, they (the corporations) hang on to some technicality and "everybody's happy." The American people keep on footing the bill.

We have been passed now that the express companies are to receive a severe jolt at the hands of the government, and like the beginning of all other prosecutions, this one has started off by the handing to the public of figures that are calculated to fire the most even tempered and meek citizen.

All of us that have had anything said by express have more than a faint idea of how we have been flummoxed out of money and all of us are mighty glad to hear that something is to be done to protect us in this particular line. But, we do hope that during their stay with us every visiting lady had the heartiest wishes from the people of Greenville and that every day they felt the cordiality of our town for their presence. In closing his address Mayor Wooten told a little story that greatly amused his audience.

Mrs. R. R. Cotton then introduced Mrs. E. O. Jeffries, who in the name of the End of the Century Club, spoke to the visiting ladies for the pleasure they all felt in having them with us; of the importance of having them come to help our clubs and lend their presence prestige to the cause they advocated. She said that whatever place woman had heretofore occupied, such gatherings as this one should be to the truth rather than to play up to the advertisers. Its purpose was noble, its deficit great, and its conclusion rapid.

However, we are not talking about that Sun, but about that other Sol which has shined in Durham so brightly and which we sincerely hope will keep on shining to do credit to North Carolina newspaperdom.

We equally trust that its new management will continue to publish the Sun along the same lines that have put it where it stands today, and that we will look into its pages in the future as we have in the past with the same degree of pride at having such a creditable paper for a contemporary.

Dodson's Liver-Tone is a Safe Medicine to Take the Place of too Powerful Calomel.

In the days when calomel was the only liver remedy a torpid liver, or a spell of biliousness was a serious thing. Calomel is a powerful mineral substance that compels the liver, no matter how weak it is, to do its work, but does nothing to strengthen the liver and a large dose—sometimes the usual dose—may cause salivation. Dodson's Liver-Tone is a builder that strengthens the liver while making it do its work. It is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and has no after effect and is perfectly suited for children as well as grown people. You don't have to be careful what you eat.

Moye's Pharmacy will sell you a bottle and guarantee it to give you perfect satisfaction. If it doesn't you can get your money back simply by asking for it.

DOING THEIR DUTY. Scores of Greenville Readers Are Learning the Duty of Kidneys. To filter the blood is the kidney's duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick. Backache and many kidney ills follow. Help the kidneys do their work. Doan's Kidney Pills have cured thousands of severe cases. Proof in the following: W. A. Respage, 221 E. Fourth street, Washington, N. C., says, "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and I know that they can be relied upon to cure a lame and aching back and correct trouble with the kidney secretions. For some time my kidneys did not do their work as they should. I was subject to backaches and had pains when passing the kidney secretions. I used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills as directed and they gave me relief. That was nearly a year ago and I have had no need of a kidney medicine since."

TRIED BEFORE MAYOR WOOTEN THIS MORNING. The following cases were tried before Mayor F. M. Wooten this morning: Willie Fleming, colored, for vagrancy, sentenced to 30 days on the road. Some Willie Fleming, accused of the larceny of $10 by Nile Stoker, came about something like a Fleming offered to sell Stokes a "perfectly good booze" for 30 cents. Fleming refused and had the change. He went away and had a lapse of memory which only came back to him this morning. He was bound over to the Superior court. Lee Gregory, colored, vagrancy, 30 days on the road. Biddle Whitchard, vagrancy, 30 days on the road. Mayor Wooten may change the sentence passed on Whitchard. Biddle having helped in the recovery of the $10 annexed by Fleming. Washington Mayo, who seems to have taken over the throne of the late Doc Williams, selling liquor. Case postponed until tomorrow in order to obtain more evidence. Mattie Sutton, a "colored lady" caught red handed with a petticoat purloined from B. Shubanks store on New York, sole agents for the United States. H. C. Kinsal, for being drunk and disorderly. Fined $5 and costs.

Breaking World's Plowing Record!

That a full acre of ground can be turned in less than five minutes with one outfit seems an impossibility, but to those who have seen it done it appears easy. It is a fact that one long ago the world's record for plowing six acres was broken on the great farm of Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., when an acre was turned evenly and perfectly in the astonishing time of only 4 minutes and 15 seconds. This was done by a 50 Base Oliver Engine Gang Plow made by the celebrated plow concern of that name in South Bend, Indiana's great and growing manufacturing city. Three 30 horse-power tractors supplied the motive power.

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF COLORED WOMAN Husband Tells Coroner Woman Was Killed By A. C. L. Train SMALL SCRATCH ONLY WOUND FOUND

Death resulting from an unknown cause was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury in the case of Mary Taylor, the colored woman who came to her death last Saturday afternoon in the proximity of the Atlantic Coast Line tracks, one mile from Ayden, at a place called Swift Creek bridge. According to the husband's story, he, James Taylor and his wife, Mary, were returning home from Ayden Saturday afternoon when the passenger train due in Greenville at 6:30 came upon them. They were walking toward the rails and as the train approached them, Taylor quickly leaped the tracks; but although this may seem strange, he made no attempt to drag his wife with him. Taylor asserts that his wife was struck by the train and that death was instantaneous. Upon an examination being made by the coroner, Dr. Laughlin, the only wound that could be discovered was a slight scratch on the chin. It will probably never be known what really caused Mary Taylor's death. Something that is strongly suspected as that both were under the influence of liquor at the time.

From Lumberton to Greenville. It has been four years since I have written a line to the Advocate about myself or my work. I want my friends to know, however, that I am still in the land of the living and trying to do something for the Master.

Nothing was more foreign to my thoughts than coming to Greenville, I am sure no one could have been better pleased, and if every preacher and his family have been as cordially received as we have, certainly joy and gladness reign in every Methodist parsonage throughout the conference. We have not received a half-dozen poundings like our friend and relative down in Sampson, for we have not learned the art of the hypnotist, but when we arrived the party was well liked and all things necessary, much of which still remains. The people of Greenville certainly know how to make their preacher feel at home. The social atmosphere is refreshing and as the religious enthusiasm exceptional.

After (Club Bar) Rooms. The Winston-Salem Journal gives a long account of the case in Forsyth court against the Forsyth Club Company and its incorporators, L. H. Davis and J. E. Pepper. The solicitor established the case of the prosecution by their receipts from the railroad over which the alleged whiskey and beer were shipped, and there was a lengthy and technical attempt to prevent the proving of the signature of the parties indicted. The policemen examined told of the many signs of whiskey-dealing they saw in the building at the time of the arrest. It is presumed, says the Journal, from the exceptions made by the attorneys for the defendants that it is their purpose to carry the case to a higher court. Good. The people wish to have the club whiskey selling carried to the Supreme court for a re-hearing. That phase of evasion of law has grown rapidly since the 3-to-2 decision that the hope of enforcing law in club towns lies in the reversal of that decision as to old cases. As to the specially equipped new clubs, organized by parties who make money by it, there is not room to doubt that the Supreme court will by a united vote punish such transparent violation of the prohibition law.

Horrible Discovery Made in Tenement House of Stinking Town NO CONNECTION WITH MILL STRIKERS Police Discovered Late Last Night the Bodies of Two White Men and Women in Tenement House of Massachusetts Town. Murder Committed in the Heart of the City. Two Bodies Identified. LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 2—A mysterious quadruple murder in which two men and two women were killed was revealed tonight by the discovery of the bodies of the victims in a tenement house in the heart of the city.

Police Discovered Late Last Night the Bodies of Two White Men and Women in Tenement House of Massachusetts Town. Murder Committed in the Heart of the City. Two Bodies Identified. The dead are: Mrs. Annie Denis, aged 25 years; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pavia, aged 30 years respectively, and an unknown man. A disturbance was heard in the Pavia apartment about 3 o'clock this morning by the family which lives downstairs but no investigation was made. When no member of the household appeared during the day, the police were called in. The body of the unknown man was found in the kitchen with the throat cut and knife wounds in his body. In a corner were the bodies of Joseph Pavia and his wife both of whom had evidently met death during a bloody battle for their lives. In a bedroom adjoining was found the body of Mrs. Denis. Her throat had been cut.

A HAPPY HOME Tatt's Pills

Is one where health abounds. With impure blood there cannot be good health. With a disordered LIVER there cannot be good blood. Tatt's Pills revivify the torpid LIVER and restore its natural action. A healthy LIVER means pure blood. Pure blood means health. Health means happiness. Take no Substitute. All Drugstores. The Benefit of Railroads. Yesterday's News contained a local story to the effect that there is a likelihood of the Atlantic Coast Line extending its lines to Charlotte. Such reports have often gone forth, and while today there is no assurance that such extension will be made soon, it is generally believed that before many years go by this great railway will include Charlotte on its route.

The past year has witnessed great things for the city. The coming of the interurban to the Norfolk Southern will usher in a new era of industrial activity. Not a business interest in the city but what will share the benefits of accelerated business. Atlanta is a good example of what railroads and men can do for a town. If Atlanta is today the most progressive city in the South it is chiefly because of her men and her railroads.

Governor Jarvis, who only a short time ago celebrated his 78th birthday, still carries a level head. Asked yesterday what he thought of all this correspondence about Wilson, he said it was to be deprecated; that in this good year or any other year, it was poor politics for Democrats to fight each other when all their time should be devoted to fighting the common enemy. Never was a greater truth expressed. When Governor Jarvis recalled what the old blacksmith said—"There are so many ways for a man to play the fool that he cannot miss them all."—Greensboro Daily Record.

Mr. H. B. Smith Conducts Y. W. C. A. Services. Mr. H. B. Smith, superintendent of the Sunday schools, conducted Y. W. C. A. services at the Training school on Sunday evening. His theme was Bible Study. He lamented the great ignorance and neglect of intelligent study of the Bible. The homes have turned the matter largely over to the Sunday schools and young men. This is due to the fact that the study is largely promulgated; chapters are studied rather than books. He stressed the literary side of the Bible, calling attention to the Bible as a library of the classic forms of literature. He read a clipping illustrating the amazing, but appalling, ignorance of the Bible on the part of students. The association has three Bible study classes with an enrollment of sixty. One was being conducted by the Marine Corps Officer on Trial. PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—A court-martial with Col. George Barnard presiding convened at the Philadelphia navy yard today for the trial of the Marine Corps Officer on Trial.
