

Steel Trust Will Not Show Documents

Evidence Has Been Furnished That Other Important Papers Have Been Destroyed

PLEAD THAT PAPERS WOULD DISCLOSE PRIVATE BUSINESS

NEW YORK, May 14.—The refusal of the attorneys of the United States Steel corporation to produce certain papers wanted by the government and the discovery that other documents which the corporation was subpoenaed to produce had either been destroyed, or could not be found, furnished the sensation of today's hearings of the government's suit to dissolve the corporation under the Sherman anti-trust act.

The papers which the corporation attorneys refused to produce are two contracts between the American Sheet and Tin Plate company, a subsidiary of the corporation and the American Can company, whereby the can company is alleged to have secured its supply of tin plate at preferential prices. D. C. Ried and Judge William H. Moore, directors of the steel corporation, are also directors of the can company.

"We decline to produce these contracts," announced R. V. Lindabury, chief counsel for the corporation, "on the ground that they disclose the company's private business affairs with one of its customers."

The refusal would stand, Mr. Lindabury stated, until the right of the government to possession of the documents had been ruled upon by the United States circuit court judges, to whom the testimony in the suit would be certified.

The documents destroyed or missing consisted of contracts between the American Tin Plate company and the manufacturers of tin plate machinery, whereby it is alleged the use of the machinery of competitors of the steel "trust" subsidiary was prevented; of an alleged five-year contract between the tin plate company and the Sharon Steel company for taking the latter's output of similar machinery, and of a contract to have been made by the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, secretary and treasurer of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, who had been subpoenaed to produce the contracts, testified that he himself destroyed the machinery contracts without authority of the board of directors.

High Tribute to Senator Simmons On Tariff Bills

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 8.—Tariff discussion was started in the Senate Tuesday when Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, ranking member on the Finance Committee, fired the opening gun of the tariff schedule, which is one of a series of bills which the Senate will be called upon to enact at this session. The bill, which is the same as reported by the Democratic House, reduces the rates on metals and the manufacturing therefrom an average of about 25 per cent to an average of about 25 per cent, and it passed will place these articles upon a revenue basis, but at the same time allow reasonable competition within the zone where foreign competition is not made impossible by transportation cost.

"We decline to produce these contracts," announced R. V. Lindabury, chief counsel for the corporation, "on the ground that they disclose the company's private business affairs with one of its customers."

The refusal would stand, Mr. Lindabury stated, until the right of the government to possession of the documents had been ruled upon by the United States circuit court judges, to whom the testimony in the suit would be certified.

The documents destroyed or missing consisted of contracts between the American Tin Plate company and the manufacturers of tin plate machinery, whereby it is alleged the use of the machinery of competitors of the steel "trust" subsidiary was prevented; of an alleged five-year contract between the tin plate company and the Sharon Steel company for taking the latter's output of similar machinery, and of a contract to have been made by the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, secretary and treasurer of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, who had been subpoenaed to produce the contracts, testified that he himself destroyed the machinery contracts without authority of the board of directors.

A MEASURE OF MERIT.

Greenville Citizens Should Weigh This Evidence.

Proof of merit lies in the evidence. Convincing evidence in Greenville is not the testimony of strangers. But the endorsement of Greenville people.

That's the kind of proof given here. The statement of a Greenville citizen.

Mrs. Jane L. Godwin, 146 Dickinson avenue, Greenville, N. C., says "I feel justified in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills in return for the benefit I received from their use. For a long time my back ached and I had dizzy spells and headaches. The kidney secretions also annoyed me and I had pains through my loins. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box from the John L. Wooten Drug Co., and their use as directed relieved me. I can now rest much better at night and my condition has improved in every way."

TAFT GRINS NO MORE AS REPORTS FROM HOME STATE FAVOR ROOSEVELT

COLUMBUS, O., May 21.—On the face of the early returns in Ohio's first presidential preference primary a statement issued by him at Cleveland insisted that Governor Wilson had carried Ohio by a vote of 2 to 1. Taft and Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, led Governor Harmon of Ohio, on the Democratic ticket by about the same percentage.

These returns, however, were given on a basis of complete figures from little more than 250 precincts out of a total of 5,192 precincts in the state.

President Taft appeared to have carried Cincinnati by a large margin, and also Toledo and Dayton, among the larger cities. This was more than offset by the vote given Colonel Roosevelt in Cleveland and other cities. The Roosevelt lead in the Republican ticket by 2 to 2 over Taft and Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, led Governor Harmon of Ohio, on the Democratic ticket by about the same percentage.

Underwood Leads.

WILMINGTON.—Certain Wilson papers throughout the state perist in making misleading statements that Wilson carried New Hanover. The night of the primary the Wilson leaders only claimed thirty-five delegates and in this number were two from a country precinct that had not been heard from. When the vote from the precinct in question was received both were for Underwood.

Says Reports Shows the State for Underwood.

LEXINGTON.—Reports from different sections of North Carolina, says H. B. Varner, indicates that Hon. Oscar W. Underwood has won the state 24 votes to the Baltimore convention beyond any question. The only hope of the Wilson forces is to use the party machinery to manipulate the delegates and suppress the will of the people at the county convention, Saturday, May 25.

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN FOR INDUSTRIAL BETTERMENT

Employers and Workers Gather at 17 Annual Convention of National Association of Manufacturers

Several thousand employers, factory superintendents, managers and workmen from every section of the country gathered at the seventeenth Annual Convention of the National Association of Manufacturers of the United States at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel New York City, on May 20, 21 and 22. The convention marks the opening of the greatest constructive campaign ever inaugurated in this country to improve the efficiency of American industrial methods by educating both workers and employers. The employers, their assistants and the workmen will meet, for instance, on the common ground that industrial accidents are their mutual enemies.

Among the special features which were arranged for the occasion three motion picture films, each of which has its own lesson on the cause, effect and remedy. The first shows the occurrence of an accident in a factory with its attendant injury and the logical effect of the casualty both upon the worker and his family or relatives. This film was especially prepared for the National Association of Manufacturers and was followed by a film showing the practical application and the use of accident prevention devices on a great number of machines in the plant of the Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing Company, of Providence, Rhode Island. The pictures prove as clearly as would a personal visit of inspection to any plant the practicability of adopting remedies for at least seventy-five per cent of the total number of industrial accidents which occur in the United States every year.

The other motion picture film is entitled "Insuring Safety at Sea," and comprises the result of a careful investigation into the field of practical life-saving apparatus, as promoted by the various trans-Atlantic steamship companies. The pictures also include some of the latest and most adaptable forms of rescue apparatus which are of particular interest at this time.

This convention was the first of a series which the Association will hold primarily for educational purposes, on the question of promoting industrial efficiency. For more than two years the organization has been actively engaged in the field of accident prevention and compensation for the workers; during that period its Committee on Accident Prevention and Workmen's Compensation has completed and published in book form the result of an exhaustive first-hand study of the various European safety appliances, and systems of workmen's compensation insurance. The work has been widely commended and its recommendations have rendered valuable assistance to the numerous State Commissions considering the subject for purposes of legislation. The Committee has also given much personal assistance to those bodies and will make a full report at the convention.

Besides the motion picture films there was arranged in the Colonial Room of the hotel an Accident Prevention Exhibition, consisting of six most 2,000 photographs, a large number of working methods of safety appliances and the greater portion of the safety-at-sea apparatus shown in the motion pictures. The Wisconsin State Industrial Commission has contributed to the photographic exhibition, and the United States Steel Corporation has arranged an extensive array of working models from its various plants. The trans-Atlantic steamship companies will have experts on hand to explain the details of the safety-at-sea exhibition.

Addresses on the various branches of the efficiency campaign were delivered by Fred C. Schwedman and James A. Emery, of the Association's Workmen's Compensation, together with Committee on Accident Prevention and an address by J. Philip Bird, general manager of the Association. A special department of cooperative information has also been organized to afford the employers in attendance, an opportunity further to equip their plants and understand the operation of practically safety appliances.

Another branch in the national campaign to promote the welfare and efficiency of employe and workers which will be touched on at the coming convention is the question of fire prevention. In this connection there will be a symposium of information recently obtained from the fire chiefs of more than twenty of the largest cities in the country, giving their views on the practical methods of reducing the annual losses of fire. This symposium was presided over by Frank H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Protection Association. The report of a special committee on the regulation of the sales and high explosives was also received.

Another feature in the motion picture entertainment was the presentation of a highly instructive film showing the actual construction and present state of the Panama Canal. This was accompanied by an address by Charles A. Conant, of New York, on the relation of the Panama Canal to commerce and transportation, as well as its probable effect on our American trade with South and Central America.

John Kirby, Jr., of Dayton, Ohio, president of the Association delivered his annual address and officers were elected for the ensuing year. Among the committee reports which were received at the convention, are Industrial Education, Immigration, Patents, Banking and Currency, Merchant Marine and Union Label. The Convention closed with the annual banquet on the evening of May 22nd.

WILL DEMOCRATS INVITE DEFEAT?

Surely no well informed Democrat can be deluded into the belief that it would be party policy to nominate a reactionary. While the division in the Republican ranks seems to insure success, unless the Baltimore convention makes some egregious mistake, still the party's chance of success rests entirely upon the nomination of a progressive Democrat, upon a progressive platform. In no possible contingency would it be polite to nominate a man suspected of reactionary tendencies.

The Republican national convention may do one of three things and no one at this time can say which. It may nominate President Taft, but if it does so, it will be through the influence of the southern delegates, for Mr. Taft is not likely to have a majority of the delegates from the northern states. In case Mr. Taft is nominated the progressive Republicans—that is, the rank and file—would be likely to support any Democrat known to be progressive; but as between Mr. Taft and a reactionary Democrat, they would naturally prefer Mr. Taft, and thus, with the slump that would follow among progressive Democrats, would insure Mr. Taft's election.

But the Chicago convention may nominate Mr. Roosevelt for a third term, in which case the nomination of a reactionary Democrat would be equally fatal because Mr. Roosevelt would draw enough progressive Democrats to offset his loss among the stand-pat Republicans, so that his election would be assured. The nomination of a progressive Democrat, on the other hand, would insure the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt, because a progressive vote, and the Republicans who oppose Mr. Roosevelt would have nowhere else to go and would vote the Democratic ticket from necessity. But a third contingency is possible. The fight between Taft and Roosevelt has become so bitter, that they may be put aside and a dark horse nominated. If LaFollette should happen to be the lucky man, it would take a very strong progressive Democrat to hold all of the Democratic votes. A reactionary Democrat would be defeated before the battle was begun. If the dark horse proved to be a man satisfactory to both the Roosevelt and the Taft element, Democratic chances would be very much lessened and no one could hope for success, unless he was in a position to take advantage of the progressive sentiment of the country—a reactionary would have no possible show of election. This is the situation as yet, one must clearly see who will give a moment's time to the serious consideration of politics.

Why, then, are the Democrats willing to invite defeat by encouraging the candidacy of a reactionary? It is easy enough to understand the tactics of Wall street, because Wall street has no politics. It does not matter to Wall street whether the president is a Democrat or Republican, provided, he goes to Wall street for advice. What Wall street wants is to nominate both tickets and then elect the Republican ticket; for it is beyond Wall street's power to elect the Democratic ticket, even if it wanted to. It can not throw its entire influence to the Democratic ticket, for however satisfactory the candidate himself may be to Wall street, Wall street is afraid of the Democratic president could not carry out Wall street's policies, even if he used all the patronage in his effort to do so. The most that Wall street could do is to nominate a Democrat who would be easily defeated; and having nominated a man whom the rank and file of the party would not support, it would then abandon him to his fate, and leave the party where it left it in 1904.

Can it be possible that the Democrats who have fought so loyally for twenty years against the predatory interests, can be duped at this time, and are they willing to throw away the best chance they have had of victory, merely to please the element that has brought defeat to the party for sixteen years? Will the Democrats risk the election of Mr. Roosevelt for a third term, with all that means in the overthrow of the traditions of the nation? Will they, by nominating a reactionary, enable Mr. Taft to regain the confidence of the people—confidence which he has lost as few presidents have lost it?

The road would seem to be a plain one—leading to victory, with all that victory would mean to our party. Both principle and policy point the way. The party needs only to have faith in the wisdom of doing right, it needs only to stand firm and to be in the confidence that its splendid fight has won.

If the Republicans had authorized the Democrats to map out a course for the Republican party with the view of securing the overwhelming defeat of that party, a Democratic committee could not have advised all of the mistakes that the Republican leaders have made and the Democrats would not have been ashamed to ask the president and the ex-president to enter into the unseemly fight in which they are now engaged. Surely the circumstances favor the Democrats, unless the Democrats themselves deliberately destroy the hope of Democratic victory and they can destroy it in but one way, viz., by surrender to the interests, by retreat from the high position that they have occupied, by compromise with those who are exploiting the masses.

Another of North Carolina's truest and best men passed in the death of Hon. Richard H. Battle, of Raleigh, which occurred Sunday night. He was nearly 77 years of age and had been much in public. The state loses in the death of such a useful man as he had been.

At Ayden Friday we heard a citizen say there were not enough hammers in town to do the work now being going up and they had to send off after more. We like to hear a man hammer that way for his home town.

Sometimes when a hat is kicked a brick is found under it.

TRAINING SCHOOL OVERTURN.
The people of Greenville owe it to the school, to their town and to themselves to open their homes a few weeks for the benefit of East Carolina Teachers Training school. Recently President Wright published a card calling upon the citizens of the town to provide for boarding as many students as possible during the summer term, as the applications from students were far more numerous than the dormitories of the school could possibly accommodate. He informs us that not one-third enough responses came from the people of the town and unless more responses come early it is going to be necessary to turn away a large number of students who are seeking the benefit of the summer course for teachers at this school. Right now there are more than a hundred applications in excess of the number provided for and more applications are coming in every mail. The citizens of the town should gladly come to the aid of the school in such a time as this and provide accommodations for the overflow of students.

Those who have a spare room or two, or who can take a few of the pupils to board, should send in their names with particulars to President Wright at once.

And let us all hope that the next legislature will see the needs of this school and make it an appropriation large enough to provide sufficient dormitories to take care of the students who seek admission there. The school is doing the best work of any educational institution of the state, without exception. It is the one school in North Carolina that adheres strictly to its mission, training teachers to teach in the public schools and those desiring to receive its excellent advantages and equip themselves for this great work are making more demand upon it than its present facilities can meet. Until the legislature does its duty and supplies the needs of the school, the people of the town should heed the call for help and come to the rescue in times of emergency.

In the township primary here Saturday afternoon the only idea displayed in the selection of delegates to the county convention was based on the who the delegate favored for United States senator. There would have been some reasonableness in this if either the county convention or the coming state convention had any bearing upon who is to be senator. As the senatorial matter is to be settled in a state primary, the question should have no place in the conventions. The party has more important matters before it this year than who is to be senator.

It is less than two weeks to the town election and one alderman for each ward is to be chosen, yet so far there is little being said as to who they shall be. We hope no talk of the matter does not mean that the people feel little or no interest in who is to conduct the affairs of the town. Greenville is certainly a town of sufficient importance for the people to be interested in this matter.

New Jersey is rather hard on felines of the female persuasion, having put a tax of $1 each on them on the ground that they kill more birds than the males. About the next step they will be wanting to impose a tax on females of the human race on the ground that more birds are killed to make plumage for their head gear than for the males.

We hope the little interest so far shown in candidates for aldermen to be voted for on the first Monday in June, does not mean that the people feel no concern about it. There are no places of more importance to the people of the town, and the best men should be selected for them.

A Fredericksburg, Va., man was sentenced to jail for one minute. That gave him time enough to draw a long breath.

MOSQUITOES.
What They Do, How They Do It, and How to Prevent Them.
Mosquito prospects are fine this season—for the mosquito. All they need is a little more time. They will do the rest. Wet weather, with abundance of water standing about in ponds, swamps, puddles, rain barrels, old tin cans, bottles, dishes, rain spouting, etc., furnishes ideal mosquito conditions. Add to this from one to two weeks of warm weather and the result will be marvellous. Thousands of mosquitoes will appear as if by magic.

What Mosquitoes Do.
Of course a few will bite you while others will hum and buzz around your ears in a tortuous way when you wish to sleep, rest, or read. But this is the least of the trouble. What they may do is to inject the infest amount of malarial germs into your blood. That will give you malarial chills and fever for months or years, make you generally inefficient, impoverish your blood and make you the easy prey of scores of other diseases that you would not otherwise contract.

Approximately 550 North Carolinians died of malaria last year and several times as many died of other diseases because their bodies were in such an "all-run-down" condition, due to malaria and the mosquito bite, that they contracted every other disease to which they were at all liable.

How to Prevent Mosquitoes.
Fortunately the mosquito is not a great traveler. He usually resides within from one hundred to five hundred feet of his birthplace. Winds may occasionally drive him further away, but like the fly, he is very domestic. Therein lies our cue? Destroy his breeding places around our homes and we have turned the trick. If the average householder in the city could have removed all his old tin cans, bottles, tins, barrels, buckets and other vessels containing water, if he would examine his roof spouting and cellar to see that there is no stale water, and if he would either fill or drain low wet holes, his mosquito pests would be decreased over half. If he can succeed in getting his neighbors on both sides to do the same thing, he will have less than a fourth of an average mosquito crop. If he can get all the people in his block to abolish all their mosquito breeding places and keep them abolished for the summer, he will not have one mosquito where he had ten last year when the entire town learns to follow suit, mosquitoes will be found only in the museums.

But perhaps you have no near-by neighbor, or he does not know about mosquitoes, or does not care to know. You can still win out. Simply abolish all of your mosquito breeding places—both inside and outside the house—screen the doors and windows with fine screen, not less than eight teen meshes to the inch and kill the mosquitoes that get into the house. Mosquitoes and flies are easily stupefied by burning pyrethrum or "insect powder". When stupefied they can be easily swept up and destroyed. In bed rooms further precautions may be taken by having the beds screened with fine mosquito netting. The state board of health, at Raleigh, publishes a free pamphlet on the mosquito and malaria, which tells all about the pest and the disease he produces. Write for it.

In his speech here a few days ago Attorney General T. W. Bickett said: "It takes more courage to face a company of creditors than it does to face a regiment of soldiers". And there were not a few men in the audience who fully agreed with the speaker.

WHO SHALL NAME DEMOCRAT'S CANDIDATE?
A philosophy that enables us to accept the verdict of the ballot in South Carolina and elsewhere with a fair degree of equanimity—with neither gloom in reverse, nor "floating" in success—is not proof against a feeling of outrage at the mental contemplation of an agent representing a syndicate of men whose interests probably ran over the billion dollar line, sitting in an office in New York and attempting to manipulate the Southern states in their preference for a Democratic president as he would move the pawns upon a chess board.

Woodrow Wilson made the charge that there is a powerful "money trust" that controls the credits and consequently dictates where and where not in this great country there may be great industrial developments. Woodrow Wilson is opposed to the pernicious tariff system that saps financial strength from the millions to suckle the favored few.

Stupendous, therefore, is the power of those whom Wilson has offended in his championship of the people's cause. Those who fear him are closely organized. Let us suppose that the spokesmen for a thousand million dollars come together—as they may readily do any day in New York—and determine that the election of a progressive Democrat whose motto is to publicity and equal rights, would reduce the value of their illegitimate capital ten per centum, or $100,000,000 and that to prevent his nomination they feel justified in investing one-half of one per centum of their capitalization or five million dollars.

These gentlemen who control immense interests know nothing about politics and are free to express their disinclination to mix in "such a dirty business," but several of them do know "just the man" to handle their money and direct the campaign in their interest. In other campaigns, industrial and political, that man has been their manager and distributed their half millions in most satisfactory manner. He knows all the public men in the country and is a past-master at "publicity". Let us imagine, then, that he whom we shall designate, for the sake of brevity, as C., is called into consultation and put in charge of the fighting forces. He is given a schedule of subscriptions money to be called for pro rata, as needed. The twenty-million-dollar man in the syndicate pledges himself for $100,000; the fifty-million-dollar man is jotted down for $250,000.

Any special orders for the agent of aristocracy of the plunderbund, with five million dollars to spend and forty odd states of this Union as his field? Nothing except, "Defeat Woodrow Wilson in the Baltimore Convention." Whom do the members of the syndicate wish elected President of the United States? None but Taft.

To defeat Woodrow Wilson in the Baltimore convention, indeed to prevent his winning on the first ballot, it was absolutely necessary to push the fortunes of other Democrats in localities where those Democrats are strongest and so wear away Wilson's strength. And it is along this line the work has been done. That idea of the newspaper supplements to blanket the South harmonizes perfectly with C's bold publicity work.

Some of the foregoing is inference; all is logical. We do know those interests referred to are separately opposed to Wilson. We do not know they contributed several millions to defeat him. We do know that in other cases where those people fought that was their exact form of fighting. We do not know that C. is handling the funds. We do know that he has handled immense sums for those interests in other cases. We do know that C. is actively interested in the fight against Wilson last fall and that he was in the confidence of Colonel George Harvey during the Wilson-Harvey-Watterson incident.

STANDARD, May 15.—Mr. Willie Young of Murry and Miss Tyson, of Custer, were married Sunday evening at 4:30 at the home of Mr. Stricklen, near Arthur.

There was a picnic at Lank's school house, Saturday, May 11th, given by the Farmers Union and their friends. Those that attended from around here that we know of were, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McArthur and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Hemby and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, Mr. Charles Baldrice and Miss Verona Hemby and Mr. J. A. Tucker. The above report a very pleasant evening with a large crowd and plenty of good things to eat. Now why not the people of Standard all come together and have a picnic like there was last May, which was as nice as could be had any where.

Cool drinks and fine cigars at the fountain of Peoples Supply Company. We learn that the I. O. R. M. order here is going to have an ice cream supper in a few weeks and is thinking of asking every one around here to come and spend another pleasant evening.

We are glad to hear that Miss Mary Wainright, who is in Washington hospital, is gradually improving. We hope it will not be very long before she will be with us. Miss Maggie Tucker, the daughter of Mrs. N. E. Tucker, went to Philadelphia hospital Saturday for an operation upon her throat. At this time we hear that her mother received a message saying that she was getting along fine. We all miss Miss Maggie and hope she will soon be with her mother and friends. If you have anything to sell try the Standard Items for the people around your home will look to see what is happening around their neighborhood.

The taking of evidence will start tomorrow morning when court convenes at 9:30 o'clock. The jury is composed of the following men: J. B. Wert, J. B. Merritt, Jesse Hunt, P. B. Ward, T. B. Ward, W. M. Maxwell, J. F. Young, J. L. Everett, D. Dalton, C. E. Freeman and B. B. Souther. All the jurors are farmers, with the exception of Mr. Souther, who is foreman of the Henderson county chain gang. World's Congress of Navigation.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 21.—Delegates representing more than 20 nations and consisting of the most noted experts in inland and ocean navigation, from all respective countries have already arrived in this city and additional delegations are to reach Philadelphia today and tomorrow in time for the opening on the twelfth international congress of navigation, on Thursday. In accordance with the arrangements of the local committee in charge of the congress the greater part of tomorrow will be devoted to a general reception and mutual introduction of the delegates. The congress will hold its first general meeting at the Metropolitan Opera House on Thursday and it is expected that President Taft, who has accepted the honorary presidency and has promised to attend the opening session, will deliver the opening address. Responsons will be made by M. Alexis Dupont of Brussels, a high officer of the Belgian Engineer Corps, who is one of the former presidents of the international congress.

This time will be the first time that one of these congresses is held in the United States. Previous congresses have all been held in Europe, the last at St. Petersburg in 1908. Preceding this there have been similar congresses at intervals of three or four years in Belgium, France, Italy, Germany, Holland and Austria. With each congress interest and attendance increased as the nations realized the valuable work being done. The discussions of these gatherings from the best experts of all nations, has been a problem that may arise, because they represent the world's best consensus of opinion of the greatest experts.

The invitation to hold the twelfth congress in America, was accepted with enthusiasm, because this country has a large and rapidly increasing field for the construction of navigation experts and a great number of new and highly important problems growing out of the Panama Canal, Cape Cod Canal and the numerous inland and waterways planned or in course of construction in the United States. The recent Titanic disaster has made the safety of ocean travel a subject of the most intense interest to all seafaring nations and the discussion of the various problems suggested by the unfortunate event will form part of the program of the congress. The subject of attention of the congress for some time, in view of the many new and exceedingly important questions to be considered during the five day's sessions of the Congress and in view, also, of the unusually large attendance, it is expected that this congress will greatly surpass its predecessors in interest and importance.

Tommy Burns to Re-Enter Ring.
EDMONTON, Alta., May 22.—Tommy Burns will don his fighting togs here tomorrow night and engage in the first ring battle he has had since he lost the championship to Jack Johnson, at Sydney, Australia, more than three years ago. His opponent will be Jack Connell, Edmonton Athletic club has signed the two for a ten-round fight. Burns has been quietly training for some time in the States, and is going after Sam Langford and some of the other big ones if his bout with Connell indicates that he is able to retain his oldtime form. Connell, like Burns, is a Canadian product, though he has done most of his fighting outside the country. Those who have watched him train think well of his abilities and many predict that he will be able to stay the ten rounds with the former champion.

Political News From Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 20.—(Special)—Despite the palpable unfairness of the Associated Press, which in its editorializing and then tried to leave in doubt an overwhelming Wilson victory in Texas, which left untold in its news dispatches a victory won by Wilson in South Carolina and which sought to give victories to Speaker Clark in its dispatches from New Hampshire and Michigan, that he did not win, Gov. Wilson got the best of the results in the recent election of delegates to the Baltimore convention.

The Associated Press and the Hearst news service have taken the lead in the unfair and discriminatory treatment of Gov. Wilson's candidacy in its dispatches. Last night the Associated Press quoted the Clark leader in Michigan as saying that 22 of the 29 delegates from that state favored Speaker Clark's nomination, yet it ignored the mention of Gov. Wilson's campaign manager, who was admitted to the same consideration and who rightly claimed one-half of the delegation. The Associated Press has sided with the allies from the very beginning. Bolder still is the big interest controlled Press of the East, which exploits the other candidates and either ignores or misrepresents Gov. Wilson's candidacy.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., May 16.—There was a couple of young folks in our neighborhood decided that they would get married last Saturday night and went to a neighbor's house and sent two boys after the preacher. While they were gone they decided that they would not get married now and two more boys went to tell the preacher not to come. They missed him and he came but was disappointed. If they get married here they wish them good luck.

E. C. T. S. Cannot Accommodate Teachers and Students.
Unless the people of the city respond more liberally to the urgent call of President Wright, of the East Carolina Teachers Training School, for accommodation to teachers and students who are anxious to attend the summer term, there will be a large number who will have to be turned away for the lack of this accommodation. It is to be regretted that Greenville cannot furnish private homes for those who want to come here to attend the summer term and we believe that it is the duty of those who can do it to do a little sacrifice, to furnish the accommodation demanded. Let everybody do their best and report at once to Prof. Wright as we believe there are yet many homes who can care for many of these teachers and students.

He declares that if he should be elected to the senate he would make a strong fight for the passage of laws which would prevent the shipment of liquor from wet territories into the dry States.

The national convention of Socialists at Indianapolis has called attention to the rapid growth of this party and its increasing influence in American politics. In 1892, when the Socialists first appeared on the national ticket, their presidential candidate polled 29,000 votes was just under 500,000. This year a vote of over 2,000,000 is prophesied, or about one-seventh of the ballots of the country.

Attempt to Grab Rich Oil Lands

Attorney General Wickersham Profers Serious Charges Against Southern Pacific

OFFICIALS CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO GRAB

WASHINGTON, May 29.—In a public statement, Attorney General Wickersham today declared that the government's suit against the Southern Pacific company, for the recovery of valuable oil lands in Southern California has developed "sensational and startling discoveries." Testimony by witnesses subpoenaed by the government, he says, "presents a remarkable picture of criminal conspiracy among high officials of the Southern Pacific company to acquire from the United States, under an agricultural grant, oil lands valued at $15,000,000."

The statement was issued after a conference between attorney general and Willis N. Mills, his special assistant in charge of the case, concerning recent important developments in the suit.

The proceedings were instituted by direction of Mr. Wickersham in December, 1910, to test aside patents and revert in the government title to lands in the Elk Hills country of the McKittrick oil district, Kern county, California.

Maxton Bank Erects Large Clock.

MAXTON.—The clock tower on the bank of Robeson building is receiving its finishing touches this week and the clock has been placed in position, nothing now lacking but adjusting some parts of the mechanism when our people are to have "the time of day" without the asking. The clock cost about $500 and from the top whose citizens doubtless can hear the striking of the clock, although seven of the tower can be seen Laurinburg miles distant.

Indication That Taft Will Bolt

PLANS ARE BEING MADE TO THAT EFFECT

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 27.—With indications tonight pointing to the control of the Republican State convention here tomorrow by the Lyon-Roosevelt forces and prospects of a split in the ranks of the McGregg-Taft faction, the preliminaries of a Taft defection were mapped out today by the opposing sides.

While many of the Taft delegates concede the power to the Roosevelt men, the followers of McGregg give credit early today in a demand for recognition of the contesting delegations which Chairman Cecil A. Lyon, one of the State Executive Committee, had declared "irregular contests," because of lack of affidavits and failures to file within a given time.

Late in the day several of these contests were heard.

The claims of 17 contesting delegations, classed as "regular," were heard this afternoon, giving on the whole an additional advantage to the followers of Lyon and Roosevelt. Chairman Lyon, who is the avowed leader of the Roosevelt forces, claimed 127 votes in the convention tomorrow before the contests were settled this afternoon.

H. E. McGregg, Taft campaign manager in Texas, claims 84 instructed delegates for the President.

RALEIGH.—It is considered here that the county conventions throughout the state, held by the North Carolina Democracy clearly demonstrated the fact that there will be no string tie to the North Carolina delegates to the national convention at Baltimore.

PLANS ARE BEING MADE TO THAT EFFECT

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 27.—With indications tonight pointing to the control of the Republican State convention here tomorrow by the Lyon-Roosevelt forces and prospects of a split in the ranks of the McGregg-Taft faction, the preliminaries of a Taft defection were mapped out today by the opposing sides.

While many of the Taft delegates concede the power to the Roosevelt men, the followers of McGregg give credit early today in a demand for recognition of the contesting delegations which Chairman Cecil A. Lyon, one of the State Executive Committee, had declared "irregular contests," because of lack of affidavits and failures to file within a given time.

Late in the day several of these contests were heard.

The claims of 17 contesting delegations, classed as "regular," were heard this afternoon, giving on the whole an additional advantage to the followers of Lyon and Roosevelt. Chairman Lyon, who is the avowed leader of the Roosevelt forces, claimed 127 votes in the convention tomorrow before the contests were settled this afternoon.

H. E. McGregg, Taft campaign manager in Texas, claims 84 instructed delegates for the President.
