

MRS. TOM'S PART IN THE ELECTION

Governor Marshall's Wife Has the Memory for Names.

ROMANCE OF THEIR LIVES

The Notification of the Indiana Executive For Democratic Vice Presidency Honors a Record Breaker.

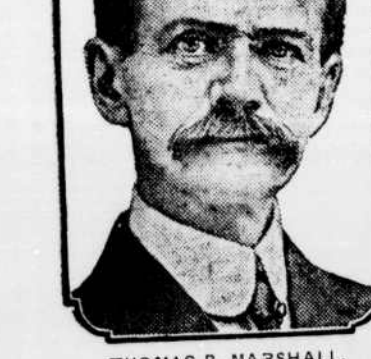

By J. C. HAMMOND.

Of Democratic National Public Bureau.

Indianapolis.—Just about the time that thousands of friends of Governor Thomas Riley Marshall were anxious for gratification on his acceptance as candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket, a smiling woman stopped before him, and if one could have heard what she whispered in his ear it would have been something like "Now, hurry in, Tom, and change your clothes."

And Tom Marshall forgot to shake hands with the enthusiastic friends who had carried out the orders of Mrs. Tom.

Indiana has honored four of her sons as vice presidential candidates on the Democratic ticket, but the crowds that greeted Governor Marshall in the big coliseum on Tuesday, the greatest in the history of the party.

The west wanted to show the east what could be done in notification happy, of course, and when a woman, her husband, she was also worried, for her husband comes mightily close to being father, husband, son and part of all in one.

And when a woman has that combination on her hands to care for his every right to be worried.

Governor Marshall will never gain any honors as a hammer thrower. He is not built that way.

While all the country was reading the vigorous words of the voters who expect Democracy to do in carrying out the pledges for the next four years it's worth while to know what part a woman is taking in the affairs of the campaign—how Tom Marshall happens to be in the position in which he stands today.

The good people of Columbia City, Ind., never thought Thomas Riley Marshall was a "marrying man." For forty years he had lived with his parents, marring both his father and mother, who were invalids, which was the reason Governor Marshall was not a marrying man. He felt his first duty was to his parents.

Meeting Mrs. Marshall.

After the death of his parents Governor Marshall directed deeper into his law practice, and one day an urgent case took him to Angola, Ind. His daughter called him to the county clerk's office, and there he met Miss Lois Kimbrough, daughter of the county clerk, who was assisting her father in the office.

From that day Governor Marshall had more business around the county clerk's office in Angola than any lawyer in half a dozen nearby counties. Governor Marshall was forty-two years of age when he was married, Mrs. Marshall being nearly twenty years his junior.

The Marshalls had been married only a few weeks when the future vice president was called to an adjoining county on a case that would consume some five or six weeks of his time.

"Now, I did not want to be starting off like that," Governor Marshall explained to a friend one day, "so I just told Mrs. Marshall that I thought she should go along. And she did."

Since then Governor Marshall has never made a trip without Mrs. Marshall going along. They have traveled all over the country together; they go to banquets and political meetings together until the friends of the Indiana executive refer to him and his wife as the "pards."

"Tom Marshall is not overacting," explained one of his friends. "While not a delicate man, his constitution is not of the most vigorous type."

"When he gets into a political battle he forgets his weakness. He gives all that is in him, and that is why he is in it. Mrs. Marshall soon discovered that the governor would become heated in making a speech and the next day his voice would be husky. She decided that he had better give up some of the handshaking and take care of his health first. So when you find him making a speech, when he has just shed he does not stand around to hear the applause of the audience. Rather, he hurries to his room and changes his clothing.

Some people have said that Tom Marshall is not a handshaking politician. He is not. His wife thinks it is more important to guard his health than to carry out the old time policy and she is correct, as she is in most of all other things.

"Home Air" Prevails.

"The Marshall home is typical of the mistress. It is a home of books, and still one does not feel 'bookish.' One of the Marshall friends said he always felt like eating when he entered the Marshall home in Columbia City of the executive mansion at Indianapolis.

Mrs. Marshall believes in a home first and the 'home air' prevails.

"If Governor Marshall ever occupied the White House people would not know that historic institution," declared an admirer. "Mrs. Marshall would have it a real home. People would feel comfortable even in the midst of the cold and glitter."

It is not only as a wife and the mistress of a home that Mrs. Marshall shows her ability. She is a politician and a clever one. She also has a remarkable memory.

Governor Marshall has earned the reputation of being in a class of story tellers all by himself. He can remember names and he forgets names.

"Yes, but I have to pay for it," replied the governor. "It's all right for you to make it out, but it's up to me to pay the fee." And he did.

Mrs. Marshall is a keen student, and, having established the practice of going with her husband on all his trips, he is short or long they make it a point to carry along some book.

Mrs. Marshall is as much of a humanitarian as the governor. A chance at some of the bills that have been passed by the 1911 Indiana legislature gives an insight into the governor.

To curtail child labor.

To regulate sale of cold storage products.

To require hygienic schoolhouses and medical examination of children.

To prevent blindness at birth.

To regulate sale of cocaine and other drugs.

To provide free treatment for by-phobias.

To establish public playgrounds.

To improve public food laws.

To protect against food sharks.

To provide police court matrons.

To prevent traffic in white slaves.

To permit night schools.

To require medical supplies as part of a fire equipment.

Governor Marshall has also played an active part in providing for protection of labor, as is exemplified by the following acts:

To create a bureau of inspection for workshops, factories, mines and boilers.

To establish free employment agencies.

To require full train crews.

To require safety devices on switch engines.

To require standard cabooses.

To require weekly wages.

And Governor Marshall has consulted with his "partner" on all these bills. He is quoted as saying a man can't go far without taking the advice of a wife—if she is his partner as well as his wife.

The divided Republican party is like the party showing against him. There will be a lot of bluster, but it will not take votes away from Wilson and Marshall.

Having exhausted his supply of adjectives in denouncing Taft, Roosevelt is now leading a campaign of denunciation of every one who does not agree with himself.

Farmers have pulled against the short end of the yoke long enough. Wilson and Marshall promise to see that the pulling is made more nearly even.

MR. W. A. TEEL HURT

Taken to a Hospital in Richmond For Treatment

On Tuesday Mr. William Teel and son, Mr. W. A. Teel, were coming to town from their home a few miles across the river. When near Parkers cross roads the girl to the horse broke. This frightened the horse, upsetting it and throwing both the occupants out. The elder Mr. Teel escaped injury, but his son suffered a dislocated hip and was also thought to be injured internally. He was taken on the evening train to a hospital in Richmond, accompanied by Dr. J. E. Nobles.

While Governor Marshall is described as a "tender hearted" executive, nevertheless, he is a fighter. He has been the old fighting sort of Virgil.

Governor Marshall is not a dodger. He has his opinion, and he lets them be known. While he is an organization man, he knows that organizations are not perfect—but they can make mistakes. If they make mistakes, he is not going to say so and get the saying over at the first possible moment.

Picnic Near Bethel

BETHEL, N. C., Aug. 26.—A merry picnic was given on Monday at Conetoe Creek in honor of Miss Ada Little, of Washington and Misses Sallie Smith and Myra Height, of Robersonville, guests at Miss Little's home.

The picnicers left Bethel about eleven o'clock in two large wagons. College yells and songs were given with much spirit on the way. Lunch was spread in a large tent and the arrival of the party was welcomed by the picnicers.

Those who composed the party were: Misses Myra Height, Sallie Smith, Ada Little, Mattie Whitehurst, Maud Marshall, H. Bullock, Velma Blount, Little Bunting and Estelle Jones; Messrs. Marvin Blount, Vance Bunting, Van Taylor, Davis McWhorter, Leighton Blount, Davis Bullock, T. A. Andrews, J. L. Gurganus, Mrs. C. O. Griffin and M. P. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Staton, chaplain.

At four o'clock the picnicers returned having had a very gay and charming time.

Athletes at Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 21.—Many star athletes from Halifax and St. John and other points are here today to compete for the twenty-fifth annual track and field championships of the Marine Provinces Amateur Athletic Association.

Probably the last excursion of this season to Norfolk will be run on Wednesday of next week, 28th, and will be under good management. An advertisement showing schedule and rates will be found in this paper. Those who go will have two days of pleasure at the interesting places and field championships of the Marine Provinces. The fare for the round trip is only $2.25.

Murderer to be Shot

RENO, Nev., Aug. 22.—Andrzej Mirkovich is to be shot to death today morning at the Nevada State Penitentiary. He is the first sentence to death by shooting ever imposed in Nevada and was made possible by the law passed by the last legislature giving a condemned man the choice of death either by hanging or shooting.

First N. C. Cotton Reaches Norfolk

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 27.—Three bales of new North Carolina cotton arrived in Norfolk yesterday, coming to J. W. Perry and Company. It came from South Mills and was brought to this city through the Dismal Swamp canal.

The arrival of the three bales today is one day earlier than North Carolina cotton reached Norfolk last year and eight days earlier than in 1910.

The grade of three bales is middling.

Good Roads Movement to be Launched by Carolina Club

OPERA HOUSE FOR GREENVILLE IS CONSIDERED

After weeks of stifling heat, during which period activities in any direction seemed to be out of the question, the Carolina Club is to resume its campaign for improvements for county and community.

It is the object of this institution to enthrone Pitt counties and Greenville toward better things and their energetic tackle of the hotel proposition has fall given evidence of what the Carolina Club can accomplish when it starts.

Just now the members are anxious to see things accomplished. Good Roads and an Opera House. As to the matter of good roads the idea has been more or less on the minds of the people for some time, but somehow or other the necessary energy to go after them has been lacking. This time, however, we expect something will be accomplished.

As to the Opera House, it is understood that a merchant who has recently purchased a choice lot in town would as soon erect an Opera House on it, than any anything else. All we want is the proper spirit from the people who later will patronize any organ.

At an early date the Carolina Club is to hold a meeting when these matters will be properly threshed out and it seems that a strong campaign will be started to get Good Roads and that Opera House.

OLD PITCHERS VERSUS YOUNG

Are Veteran Stars Preferable to

Collection of Newcomers?

WHICH WOULD MANAGER PICK?

Would He Take Marquard, Alexander, Gregg and Johnson in Preference to Mathewson, Combs, Bender, Rucker or Walsh?

By TOMMY CLARK.

It is a big league manager has his pick today between a squad of veteran pitchers and a squad of youngsters which would he select? Would he take Marquard, Alexander, Gregg, Johnson, Ford and Joe Wood in preference to Mathewson, Bender, Plank, Rucker, Combs and Walsh? The problem would drive him to the home for the mentally infirm. He would want them all. He couldn't work them all, of course. In fact, if he had either squad he would suffer embarrassment of riches, but he would most earnestly desire having the entire bunch sit on the bench if only for the purpose of looking pleasant.

Either crowd, with good support, would be capable of winning a pennant. If they were all in condition at the same time, but some managers are inclined to the belief that six star pitchers cannot be worked in turn and kept in good condition. True, the veteran club has more brawn than the younger one, but none has more than that number of heavy hitters who can be truly called stars, and they figure themselves lucky.

Baseball men, as a rule, accept without argument the proposition that Mathewson is the greatest pitcher in the world, and they base it upon the fact that he has been great for a decade. It means that the old followers of the game, while always willing to admit a young pitcher's capabilities whenever he displays them, do not place a man in the category of the truly great until he has established himself by more than one or two years' service.

Marquard, Alexander and Gregg are counted wonderful young pitchers, but they are first year men. The indications are that they are truly great, but that stamp will not be placed upon them by the baseball world until they have demonstrated their fitness for a place in the hall of fame by longer service.

Ed Walsh is certainly a great pitcher. Year after year the big spitballer has gone along and stood all tests. Napoleon Rucker is counted truly great. McGraw of the Giants claims that he is one of the best left handed of all times, and he bases it largely upon the fact that the southerner has been great during all the years of his service.

Bender and Plank will have everlasting place in the hall of fame. These, too, established their class—not one year, but year in and year out, and there is no indication that they have commenced to decline.

One of the new generation of pitchers who are still regarded in the list of youngsters, but who cannot be denied recognition as among the greatest of the time, is Walter Johnson, the Washington speed machine. There are many people who believe that Johnson is the best pitcher in the country today, but that sort of proposition would always provide a long argument.

Jack Coombs is not so much of a veteran as some of the others named with him, but he is no youngster from the standpoint of service, and he has done for the world's champion Athletics gives him the right to be mentioned with the greatest of greats.

Marquard and Gregg, left handed, have had two good years, and they former, if he continues, gives evidence of being the greatest of all southpaws. The same is true of Alexander, although he is off at a poor start this season.

CIGARETTES ARE BAD FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Has Declined Views on Subject

A CONFUSION OF NAMES

Wife of Democratic Candidate Gives Out Letter Telling Strong Stand on Smoking Habit.

New York.—For the first time since Woodrow Wilson became the Democratic presidential candidate has Mrs. Wilson appeared. She attended in person her husband's daily conference with reporters, although heretofore she has made special requests that she be not quoted nor written about in the papers.

What Mrs. Wilson wished to have fully understood was that it is she, and not her husband, who is a victim of the first lady of the land who will not, as has been said in a widely distributed interview, have packages of cigarettes in her personal desk at the White House and indulge in smoking them with her callers.

Through Governor Wilson, Mrs. Wilson asked that publicity be given to a letter she had written to the editor of the State Journal at Columbia, O., repudiating an alleged interview with her in which she defended cigarette smoking for women. The interview was published in a letter signed "American Citizen," which said:

"Dear Madam:—I can scarcely think of any greater calamity to the young women of the nation than to read such a gross and unbecoming statement as a woman writer for a syndicate of Sunday newspapers asked Mrs. Woodrow Wilson if she agreed with General Alton's opinion of the smoking of cigarettes by women. She smilingly exhibited three cigarette boxes in the corner of her desk, all but empty."

"Why shouldn't a woman smoke if she enjoys it?" she queried. "Why hasn't she just as much right to a cigarette as a man? Certainly I agree with Mrs. Alton that any existing prejudice against women smoking is to the last silly and absurd."

"Smoking cigarettes is a question of manners, not morals. It promotes good fellowship."

"Some women feel that a cigarette smokes their nerves and helps their brains to working order. Personally, I find smoking diffuses my thoughts instead of concentrating them. I enjoy it as I enjoy after dinner coffee. Both are pleasant ways of ending and finishing off; both add to conviviality and good fellowship."

The editor of the Ohio State Journal, it was clear, had been much incensed at the allegations for the cigarette habit among women attributed to Mrs. Wilson, as he wrote on Aug. 19 an editorial in which he called for the defeat of Governor Wilson or a repudiation from his wife. If there was no mistake about it, he wrote, "Mrs. Woodrow Wilson shouldn't be mistress of the White House."

If the Ohio editor was emphatic Mrs. Wilson was certainly not less so. After the reporters had said they would gladly publish her letter to the Ohio editor she asked for an hour's time in which to write one. This was what she prepared:

"Dear Sir:—I have just received a copy of the Journal and your editorial entitled 'Smoking Women,' and I beg leave to deny indignantly the statement that I approve of women smoking cigarettes. The interview upon which your editorial was based is a pure invention. I intensely dislike the cigarette smoking habit for women—in fact, so strong is my feeling on the subject that my real danger lies in being unjust and unkind in my judgment of those who differ with me in this respect."

"But certainly no woman in our household ever has or ever will smoke a cigarette apart from the bad taste of it, I believe with you that it has an extremely injurious effect on the nerves."

"(ELEANOR A. WILSON.)"

Governor Wilson, in approving the letter sent out by Mrs. Wilson, offered that the letter might prove an explanation for the interview.

"I do not think it was maliciously invented," he said. "There is a rather well known writer who signs herself Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, and she no doubt has been confused with Mrs. Wilson."

Mrs. Wilson Woodrow was formerly married to a relative of Governor Willy. As this vote puts me on the list for the second primary to be held September 7th, I ask your hearty support. If nominated I promise to serve you to the best of my ability.

Yours truly,
R. L. LITTLE.

ARMST TO DEFEND TITLE

World's Sculling Champion Practices on Thames For Meet With Barry. Great interest is being attached to the coming sculling contest between Ernest Barry, the challenger, and the present champion, Dick Armit. Though this race is scheduled to take place on July 23, Armit has been out on the Thames learning the devastating water course and hardening his muscles in preparation for the contest, in which the title and $2,500 a side are the stakes. Armit is described as a veritable Hercules whose power has been expended not only in sculling, but has also made him champion cyclist and very nearly the champion shot of England.

As yet, despite the apparent interest, Barry is finding great difficulty in raising the $2,500 which he has guaranteed to pay to Armit should he win the race. Barry is in a desperate financial straits, and is so worried by him that training is next to impossible until the source of the amount is in clear view. This guarantee was made in view of the fact that Armit wished his right to race on home waters, where the climate would naturally be strongly in his favor. Even English subjects, however, are not inclined to have a fear of the Thames' depressing fogs.

HOW HORINE WAS SAVED.

Osteopaths Prevent Operation on Jumper's Knee and Preserve Sinews. Those who admire the high jumping of the California wonder, George Horine, do not know how near the surgeon's knife came to ending the athletic career of the Stanford man.

Two or three years ago Horine twisted his knee, and in doing this a minute portion of the ligament was broken. Occasionally this lacerated the jumper, and about eight months ago he went to the doctors for advice. Nothing would satisfy them except an operation, and Horine went to Dad Moulton, his athletic mentor, to tell him that he was to undergo an operation on the knee.

Horine was liberated, but shortly afterward the knee worried him again, and he went to an osteopath for treatment. Then began a long struggle, which resulted in the injured member being entirely cured after about $80 had been expended on it. While the progress of osteopathy was working on the jumper's leg the knee looked green, but the wonderful sinews that developed so much strength.

SAYS ATHLETES ARE YELLOW
Gandil Thinks Barry Only Brave Member of Philadelphia Team.

The latest sensation in the American league, Chick Gandil of the Nationals, has come out with a statement that has caused all kinds of trouble throughout the circuit and especially between the Tigers and Athletics. He says the Athletics are yellow.

"There is but one man on the Athletics' infield who will not flinch when a baserunner is taking the bag," says Gandil. "That man is Barry. Collins, Baker and McInnis are all sleepers when you come in. Yet they are always squealing when they get hit. In my opinion Barry is the greatest player in the Athletics' lineup."

MANAGER KLING MAY QUIT.
Leader of Boston Nationals Is Said to Be Tired of Handling Braves.

The resignation of Catcher John Kling as manager of the Boston Nationals is expected within a short time, according to statements made by close friends of the backstop. These men claim that Kling has repeatedly told them of his dissatisfaction with the way he is compelled to run the Braves and has frequently expressed his disgust with what he terms the old fashioned ideas of John Montgomery Ward, president of the club.

Schulte Breaks Fifty Bats a Season. Outfielder Fred Schulte of the Chicago National league team, who last year was the best home run hitter of that organization, breaks an average of fifty bats a season. The Chicago star uses bats with the smallest handle of any that is produced. The stick is of second growth ash and weighs forty ounces.

Durnan to Ret Hackett. Fort William (Ont.) rowing enthusiasts wired Edna Durnan of Toronto and Jack Hackett of Minnesota, world-famous scullers, guaranteeing expenses to row a race on the Kaministiquia river July 20 for $1,000 a side. Durnan beat Hackett last year.

Card From Mr. Little. I desire to return my sincerest thanks and appreciation to the people of Pitt county for the handsome vote for Register of Deeds given me in the primary on Saturday, 17th. As this vote puts me on the list for the second primary to be held September 7th, I ask your hearty support. If nominated I promise to serve you to the best of my ability.

Yours truly,
R. L. LITTLE.

CONVICTS RUSH MICHIGAN PRISON

Bold Attempt to Destroy Prison and Factories

FIREMEN CALLED TO SUBDU

Rebellious Prisoners are Armed With All Manner of Weapons and Fighting Back the Attacking Police

JACKSON, Mich., Sept. 3.—Rioting convicts of Jackson prison overrunning all restraint shortly before noon today entered the prison built pens and liberated about seventy-five fellow prisoners.

An hour later the prison authorities had the convicts apparently cowed by the presence of Jackson militia companies and firemen and special officers who hurried to the scene immediately after the outbreak.

There were no fatalities, but considerable property was damaged. When the prisoners reached the yard they began ruining everything within reach and tearing they would set the factories on fire. The city fire department is now adding in an endeavor to subdue the rioters.

Hundreds of shopmen and others are on the streets surrounding the prison and the special police hastily summoned are having trouble in keeping the crowds orderly.

About 75 convicts were in the hall pens which were opened by the inmates and practically every prisoner secured weapons of some kind soon after gaining their liberty. Knives, hammers, barrel staves, etc., were used by the convicts in an endeavor to overpower the guards stationed inside the prison walls.

On seeing the fire department enter the prison yard many of the rioters fled back into the prison, while others hid in the various factory buildings, hoping to step over the walls when an opportunity presented itself. It is said that during the riot eight convicts were killed and a number of others are now at liberty.

As far as the members of the local national guard companies are rounded up they are being rushed to the prison in automobiles. All militia men going to the prison are heavily armed.

One fleeing convict, falling to halt when ordered, was shot down by a guard shortly after noon today. The prisoner was running across the yard when he was shot and he was dropped with a bullet from the gun in the hands of a deputy.

The local prison officials fear that the worst is not yet over and that the riot will spread to the grounds about the prison. The Lansing company of the M. N. G. has been ordered to this city. Every man who could be induced to act as a special guard is being rushed to the prison, first being armed.

The supply of firearms at the prison has been exhausted and heavy arms are being made on the supply in the various hardware stores of the city.

A number of newspaper correspondents are said to have been sworn in as deputies and are unable to send reports to their papers, every man being placed under oath to remain silent regarding conditions inside the walls.

ROOSEVELT GETS HIS FROM MILES

FAMOUS ARMY OFFICER SCORES HEAVILY ON THIRD PARTY LEADER, CALLS HIM "INSIPID"

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—"Adventure!" "Enterprise!" and "Domagone!" are some of the characterizations applied to Colonel Roosevelt in an attack by Nelson A. Miles, former general of the United States Army.

General Miles' estimate of the Progressive candidate for the presidency is a fair follow-up:

"Roosevelt, the pretender—claiming honors he never won, depriving away and heroic men of just fame. Roosevelt, the insolent—who defied and imperious in the political affairs of the South American Republic."

"Roosevelt—the usurper, who interferes in domestic as well as foreign affairs. Roosevelt—the demagogue, who is creating dissension and disaffection among the laboring classes."

There is no character more despicable than a hypocrite. Yet there is a man in office prosecuted only a few days ago for the same crime. He is the great majority of trusts of our country, and personally, actually helped to create and establish the most colossal trust now in existence."

The express office at Cabin Creek was broken into and boxes of ammunition and rifles were broken open by the strikers, but before they could get away with them the militia got in an appearance and captured the loot.

Two machine guns, fifteen thousand rounds of ammunition and more than a hundred rifles, consigned to a coal company, were confiscated.

All wires from the strike zone have been cut and communication between various military posts is impossible.

SPENCER, Sept. 3.—Jack Huffman, aged 25 years, one of a construction force on the Southern Railway, was killed and J. W. McPherson, a fellow workman, was seriously injured in an accident yesterday. The accident was caused by the falling of a scaffold of fifty feet in height. The scaffold was being erected by Huffman and his men. Huffman fell on his head and a heavy plank fell on his chest, inflicting a deadly blow. He was carried to a hospital and died in about two hours. His home was at Eden College, to which place his body was sent. McPherson was given medical attention and will recover.

Postmasters Assemble in Columbus. COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 4.—The national Association of Postmasters met here today for its annual convention. Numerous matters relating to the duties of the postmaster and the improvement of the postal service will be brought before the convention after it settles down to business.

The British Association. DUNDEE, Sept. 4.—The annual meeting of the British Association, which is the most important event of the year in connection with scientific research in the United Kingdom, began here today. Professor E. A. Schaffer, the eminent Edinburgh physiologist, called the gathering to order and delivered his presidential address. The address was on the subject of the origin of life and was containing the announcement of the discovery of a "karyotic" speech for the Roosevelt campaign in the Northwest.

Minnesota Awaits Roosevelt. ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 4.—The Progressive party leaders of Minnesota have completed all arrangements for Colonel Roosevelt's visit to the Twin Cities. The third party presidential candidate is scheduled to arrive here from Des Moines shortly after two o'clock, and in the open air at the Minnesota State Fair in the forenoon, and one at a luncheon in Minneapolis immediately afterward. The speech is the first of the campaign, and will last an hour, and will be a "karyotic" speech for the Roosevelt campaign in the Northwest.

Ohio Hay Dealers Organize. LIMA, O., Sept. 4.—Hay shippers from various parts of the state assembled here today and completed the organization of the Ohio Hay Shippers Association. The purpose of the association is to protect the hay producer and shipping interests with respect to transportation and marketing problems.

REBELS ARE BECOMING BOLDER
Conditions in the Border Demands Action

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Americans at Comancito are reported in danger from Mexican rebels without sufficient arms and ammunition. A messenger from a Dr. Rickerts to General W. S. Schuyler said the Americans were in desperate straits.

In a report to the War Department today General Schuyler describes the situation along the border as critical. Rebels Capture Town. The Federal forces, commanded by Major Sanchez, fled to the hills and a small garrison left behind failed to fight.

MURDER WITNESS REFUSES TO COME

Unless Otherwise Advised By His Friends

SAW HERMAN ROSENTHAL KILLED

A Night Clerk Who Was Actual Witness to the Killing, Located in England, But Refuses to Appear

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 3.—Thomas Coupe, formerly night clerk in the Carolina Club in New York city, and an eye witness to the murder of the candidate, Herman Rosenthal, was met by detectives when the steamship Lusitania docked here today.

He was not placed under arrest, but was accompanied to a hotel, where he refused to make a statement until he had consulted with friends.

Two local detectives met Coupe as he left the steamer and informed him that District Attorney Whitman, of New York, wanted him to return as a witness for the trial of Police Lieutenant Becker. He willingly accompanied them to a police station, where a consultation was held, then went to a hotel.

"I am not going back to America," said Coupe today at the police station.

Coupe expressed his reply later by saying: "The only people who could protect me are really my enemies and I doubt very much whether they are really anxious to get me back."

"I have been night manager at an expensive hotel in New York and I know something," he continued. "I can tell you there is hardly a single policeman to be relied upon. In my case I have made my pile and am glad to be home among my friends. Certainly I am not going back. To America unless my friends advise me to do so."

Afterward Coupe proceeded to Preston about 25 miles from this city, where his father has a large dry goods business.

Coupe Testified Before Grand Jury. New York, Sept. 3.—Thomas Coupe, night clerk at the Hotel Astor, was one of the few actual eye witnesses to the murder of Herman Rosenthal. He left New York last Tuesday at midnight on the Lusitania. Two days later he reached Liverpool. District Attorney Whitman had the night clerk's testimony. He had disappeared. Mr. Whitman said at the time that he feared this might hamper the beginning of attempts to split up witnesses, but he added that he had no right way of determining Coupe. It had testified before the grand jury and had been counted upon to be the stand at the trial of Becker and others charged with the murder of Rosenthal.

Exodus of Americans From Europe Began

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The rush of Americans homeward bound from Europe, which has been noticeable since the first week in August, will reach its fullest point during the next fortnight and by the end of September will have subsided into the normal westward tide of travel.

More than thirty thousand Americans will sail from English ports this week in the first and second columns. They will crowd into twenty different ships.

N. C. Bull Moosers Will Have Candidate

WHITFIELD, Va., Sept. 4.—The race of Victor Allen, one of the mountain outlaws charged with complicity in the Hillsville court house murders last March, was called for trial today. Victor Allen is the last to be tried of those taken into custody for the murders. Fred and Claude, father and son, are under death sentences. Fred Allen has been sentenced to eighteen years' imprisonment and Sidney Edwards to fifteen years. Sidney Allen and Wesley Edwards, the alleged ringleaders in the raid on the court house which killed six people, are still at large.
