A WORD TO EXHIBITORS
Get Your Fowls Ready For The County Fair
Greenville, N. C., Oct. 21, 1912.
Editor Reflector:
Since it is settled that we are to have the Pitt county fair and I am on the committee that manages the poultry department, I wish to say to exhibitors that the county who intend to exhibit their favorites that I have at my office the latest revised edition of "The American Standard of Poultry," which I or Mr. M. H. White, also on the committee, will be glad to let them look over and copy the written description of their pets. This book contains full page half tone illustrations of all the recognized breeds of land and water fowls and is the authority by which all American poultry shows are judged. I will also be glad to offer assistance in the selection of the best specimens of their favorite breed. Let everybody bring some of their best, since young and old are interested in beautiful fowls.

GREAT EASTERN CAROLINA FAIR
Will Be Held in New Bern Next Week
Everything has been completed for the Great Eastern Carolina Fair which will take place October 29th, 30th, and November 1st, 1912.
Tuesday, October 29th will be "Military Day." Every Naval Reserve and militia company in Eastern North Carolina have been invited to participate in the military exercise that will take place this day. Ten companies have all ready signified that they will be here.
The parade will start down town and on arrival at the fair ground will be formally opened with a speech by Governor Francis D. Winston. Immediately after the speech there will take place a military contest followed by a sham battle.
Wednesday, October 30th, will be "Educational Day." Tickets, allowing free admission for this day have been issued to each school child in Eastern North Carolina. If there is a teacher who has not received these tickets, please notify J. Leon Williams, secretary of the fair, New Bern, N. C., at once and tickets will be mailed to them. There will be all kinds of sports for the children.
Thursday, October 31st, will be the "Big Day." There will be an automobile parade in the morning. At 12 o'clock will take place the horse show. At 2:30 a foot ball game between New Bern and second team of A. and M. College.
Friday, November 1st, will be the "Farmers Day." This is the day the farmers will race their horses. Each day there will be the finest list of attractions ever offered the public in Eastern North Carolina.
The Great Eastern Carolina Fair is no fake and will have everything in advertised, so you can't afford to miss this opportunity to see the greatest Fair ever pulled off in Eastern North Carolina.

Stubborn Case
"I was under the treatment of two doctors," writes Mrs. R. L. Phillips, of Indian Valley, Va., "and they pronounced my case a very stubborn one, of woefully weakness. I was not able to sit up, when I commenced to take Cardui."
I used it about one week, before I saw much change. Now, the severe pain, that had been in my side for yrs., has gone, and I don't suffer at all. I am feeling better than in a long time, and can't speak too highly of Cardui."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic
If you are one of those ailing women who suffer from any of the troubles so common to women.
Cardui is a builder of womanly strength. Composed of purely vegetable ingredients, it acts quickly on the womanly system, building up womanly strength, toning up the womanly nerves, and regulating the womanly system. Cardui has been in successful use for more than 50 years. Thousands of ladies have written to tell of the benefit they received from it. Try it for your troubles. Begin today.

Guerrilla Warfare Carried on by Peasants
ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 29.—The strong Turkish fortress of Verria has been placed absolutely at the mercy of the invading Greek army which has captured the Triptoamas defiles forming the key to the situation. The capture of the town of Verria itself is only a question of hours. The whole of the Turkish army around Monastir will be cut off when Verria falls and will be unable to communicate either with Saloniki or any other point.
Verria lies to the north of the town of Servia on the way to Saloniki, to which city a railroad runs.
Allies Control Turkish Roads
London, Oct. 29.—The plan of campaign of the Balkan allies appears to be working with almost perfect smoothness. This is due, according to military critics, to the unpreparedness of the Turkish army.
The armies of Bulgaria, Servia, Greece and Montenegro are now in possession of a large portion of the Balkan railroad and are controlling the wagon roads, while those lines and roads which they do not actually command they are threatening.
Interest in the war still centers largely in the eastern area below Adrianople, where Nazim Pasha, the Turkish minister of war and commander in chief with four armies corps, is holding the line from Tehoria to Lule Burgas.
According to the latest reports he has been seen the task of trying to stem the advance of the victorious Bulgarian troops and he is credited with the statement that he will return the victory or perish in the attempt. Nazim Pasha appears to occupy a perilous position with the Bulgarians on his right flank at Eski-Baba cutting him off from the army of Adrianople, while the destruction of the bridge over the Thoria river prevents him from obtaining reinforcements and supplies from Constantinople.
Should the great turning movement now being attempted by the Bulgarians be successful, Nazim Pasha might be driven to the west toward Saloniki, leaving Constantinople at the mercy of the invaders.
In the meantime the Greek, Serbian and Bulgarian armies are moving upon Saloniki. The Greeks already are within striking distance of the Turkish town of Verria, only fifty miles from Saloniki on the railroad from Monastir.

THREE YOUNG ROBBERS HOLD UP ANDRIFFLE TRAIN
DARING EXPRESS ROBBERY PERPETUATED BY 3 YOUTHS WHO MAKE THEIR ESCAPE
BANDITS WERE ALL UNDER 25 YEARS

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 29.—Three youthful robbers held up a south-bound Missouri, Kansas and Texas train south of Eufala today, compelled the engineer to detach the express and baggage cars and run them ahead, then they blasted and rifled the express safe.
Company officials believe the robbers got several hundred dollars.
By setting fire to a trestle near the town of Wirth the bandits had no trouble in flagging the train to a halt.
Although the flames threatened to destroy the trestle before their work was accomplished the robbers worked deliberately.
Covering the engineer and fireman with their revolvers they ordered them from the locomotive cab. J. A. Delan, the train conductor, leaped from the coach and he was lined up beside the engine. A portor also fell a victim to his curiosity and was made to stand beside the conductor.
While one robber held the line of employes the other two uncoupled the engine, baggage and express cars from the coaches. They then ordered the trainmen into the cab and ordered the engineer to open the throttle. The locomotive, pulling the two cars, slid across the burning bridge. What remained of the structure fell into the water a minute after the cars had passed. The passenger coaches were left standing at the brink of the stream.
Half a mile on the other side of the bridge the bandits ordered the engineer to stop. The safe in the express car was dynamited and ransacked.
Their work completed, the robbers fled to the wood-covered hills with their plunder. Express officials fear several thousand dollars was stolen.
The alarm was soon given and posse were sent from Crowder and Eufala. Other posse left an hour later on special trains from McAlester and Muskogee. According to the descriptions given each of the bandits was less than 25 years old.
Eye witnesses claim to have seen one of the robbers twice make trips from the express safe, each time with his arms piled high with sealed packages of currency. Possesmen found the outer wrapper of one of these packages which had contained $3,000 consigned by the Southwestern National Bank of Commerce, of Kansas City to the National Bank of Greenville, Texas.

POLITICAL SPEAKING DRAWS IN GRIFTON
GOOD SIZED CROWD GATHERED TO HEAR DISCUSSION ON POLITICAL MATTERS OF INTEREST
MAYOR F. M. WOOTEN THE SPEAKER

Although Mayor Wooten does not come from Texas he was the Lion Star at the political speaking in Grifton last night. Through an unfortunate series of circumstances, entirely unavoidable, the different county candidates scheduled to address the people of Grifton, were unable to reach that town last night.
Mr. F. M. Wooten, however, journeyed to that provocative centre and delivered a strong address in behalf of Democracy. To an audience numbered about one hundred Mr. Wooten explained the fate of the candidates to appear and in a speech close to an hour long discussed national and county politics and policies clearly showing the duty and necessity of every good citizen to turn out in the approaching election and defend the only party that has outlived the political storms which this county has undergone. The party that for the last hundred years has been really by and for the people.
Mayor Wooten dwelt at length on the evils of a tariff as enforced under a Republican administration, making it impossible for a man to have the same chance in any enterprise to accomplish that which has been achieved by the few favored ones at the shade of a tariff with high protection.
He urged every one present to be diligent in all matters concerning the government of this country, emphasizing that no matter how humble one's position his share in the management of the affairs of the nation was as important as the duty of a stockholder in any company towards the company of which he is a part. The audience lent its undivided attention to our townsmen, who in closing his speech clearly showed to a ridicule that recently set upon the rule in Pitt-County-shout.

BODY OF INFLUENTIAL CHOCHOWINITY FARMER FOUND ON THE ROAD
WASHINGTON, N. C., Oct. 28.—The dead body of Prof Woldemar, a prominent and influential farmer of Chochowinity township this county, was found by the roadside late yesterday afternoon, just before dark, near Blount's Creek, about eighteen miles south of this city. His horse and harness were found without a driver some little distance away by some children and this led to a search, which resulted in finding the body.

AS ELECTION DRAWS NEAR TAFT CALLS COUNCIL OF HIS LEADERS
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—A short meeting of the Cabinet was held today just before President Taft left for New York to hold a final conference with Republican leaders and to witness the marching tomorrow of the battleship New York.
The conference will be held at the Hotel Manhattan tonight. Chairman Hill, of the Republican National Committee; C. P. Taft and Henry W. Taft, brothers of the president, and other leaders are expected to be present. The president will leave New York at midnight Wednesday, arriving in Washington early Thursday.
The cabinet meeting today brought only three members to the executive offices, Secretary Knox, Secretary Stimson and Secretary Meyer. There was a general discussion of important topics, but details of departmental and other questions were left for future meetings.
The illness of Vice President Sherman was discussed and sorrow was expressed by the president and members of his official family.
SHOOTS MASKED BOY HE MEETS LATE AT NIGHT COMING HOME
RALEIGH, Oct. 29.—Frank Powers, aged eighteen years, lies seriously wounded in the Wake Forest County hospital as the result of two pistol wounds inflicted by Gordon H. Rhodes, a freshman of the college.
Powers is the son of a prominent physician, but not a member of the student body. Rhodes declared that the shooting occurred about midnight at the hotel where he was staying. He returned from a party, meeting Powers and a companion, both of whom were masked. The companion fled and his name has not been ascertained.

ALLIED ARMIES ISOLATE ADRIANOPOLE FROM REST OF THE SULTAN'S SOLDIERS
Servians and Bulgarians sure that Stronghold will be Captured in a few days, Rendering Movement of Turkish Troops near border an Impossibility—Allies Capture 10,000 Prisoners.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Since the capture of the town of Eski-Baba by the Bulgarian troops very little news has been received from that region where the future of Turkey in Europe may be decided within a few days.
A short message from Sofia, however, says the Bulgarians have seized a Turkish military train on the way from Cudguntinople to Adrianople. This indicates that the Bulgarian invaders have cut the railroad, isolating Adrianople from its base, accomplishing one of the greatest strokes of the campaign.
The Bulgarians have been pushing forward, according to the latest Bulgarian reports from the eastern side of the hope of entirely destroying the Turkish army defeated at Kirk-Klieshek.
At the same time the Bulgarian armies are carrying out a wide, sweeping movement, reaching almost to the shores of the Black Sea and still other Bulgarian columns are completing the circle around Adrianople. How far these combined movements have been successful the outside world is not informed, but the Bulgarians assert that the fate of Adrianople is practically sealed.
Despite the perils of the situation, however, the Turks have not lost hope of retrieving themselves. According to a dispatch from Constantinople received here today by way of Kus-tentje, Roumania, sufficient Turkish reinforcements have now reached the frontier to enable the Turkish command-in-chief to assume the offensive. It is stated that three Turkish columns are to be supported by other Turkish troops being taken by water to the Turkish ports on the Black Sea. Whether they will be in time to do any good is doubtful.
The despatch says, too, that the Turks have recaptured Marza from the Bulgarians. In view of the big events in the eastern region of the theatre of war the achievements of the Servian army have been somewhat lost sight of.
The Servians, from whom Europe did not expect much, are now in possession of virtually the whole of old Servia and in conjunction with the Montenegrians, hold the best part of the district of Novapazar. The Servian columns have obtained possession of the Turkish railroad from Mitovitz, its northern terminus, to the town of Ipek. Its capture of Pen-topigleda is considered of the utmost importance for with Pen-topigleda in Greek hands the whole country to the north is easily accessible to the advance of the Greek army and the way also is left open to Janina, the Turkish base in the far western region.
The Greek plan is clearly to effect a junction of the Greek armies and then march on Saloniki. The Greek crown prince's army is now within striking distance of that portress.
In the first place of course, the Greeks must sever communication between Monastir and Saloniki, and they might send a force against the former place.

Mr. Thompson Was Murdered at His Very Home
GREENSBORO, Oct. 29.—George G. Thompson, division freight agent of the Southern Railway, with offices here, was shot and killed by W. R. Blair, his secretary, shortly after noon today.
The shooting which occurred at the home of Blair, in a fashionable section of the city, caused a big local sensation. Blair was taken into custody by a policeman and accompanied by his wife, went to police headquarters. A doctor was summoned immediately afterwards and an effort is now being made to remove Blair to a local sanitarium for treatment.
Blair had not reported at his desk for several days and this morning Mr. Thompson addressed a note of dismissal. Blair in turn sent another note back to Thompson. A few minutes later Thompson received a telephone call and immediately left his office. In the meantime Blair instructed his servant to close up the house. Mrs. Blair was not at home at the time.
Later Thompson arrived and neighbors were startled by the sound of four shots. Blair forced the door open and the mutilated body of Mr. Thompson lay on the floor. Blair crouched in one corner of the library and muttered, "I've killed my best friend."

SMALL AUDIENCE REINFORCED

Presidential Elector Makes Strong Plea For Democracy And Is Listened To Attentively

As previously announced and according to schedule arranged by the committee, the Democratic county candidates journeyed to Bethel Saturday morning, and in the early afternoon held the Democratic rally in the steps of the A. C. L. depot. The crowd, at first despatching because of its small number, was gradually increased as the different candidates spoke and when Hon. F. C. Harding, the presidential elector for the first district, began his discussion of national affairs and the bearing upon them of the coming election, a large number had assembled to hear the speaker.

Mr. C. T. Carson, one of Bethel's staunchest Democrats, acted as introducer and acquitted himself fittingly. Mr. Harlow, of the nominees for legislator, made the nomination for speaker and in a few words thanked the people of Bethel township for their generous support in his behalf in the last primary and promised to give them his best service if successful in the coming election. Wilson and Dr. Cox, nominees for county treasurer and for the house, respectively, followed Mr. Bell with modestly short speeches of the nature of Mr. Bell's and then Mr. D. M. Clark also a nominee for the house was presented. Mr. Clark on his part, thanking the good people for their support but went into a clear discussion of county affairs, emphasizing the need of a progressive Democracy; a Democracy that would represent the people wherever and whenever the people are to be represented. He made his stand clear in what touches such questions as the fence law, etc., advocating the policy of always submitting to a vote of the people such questions as directly affect the people and unquestionably submitting to the issue of their vote. In several occasions Mr. Clark introduced a few stories in a familiar footing with the audience. The speaker went beyond county and state politics and touched on the border of national issues taking stock of the unsteady struggle between the leaders of the two other parties. Mr. Clark was loudly applauded.

Mr. Harding was the next and last speaker and although by the time he made his speech there were probably 150 to 200 people in the audience, it is to be regretted that all the voters of Bethel township found it impossible to be there, as our distinguished townsman delivered one of the greatest speeches he ever made and he has a just reputation as a strong orator.

Mr. Harding took advantage of the opportunity to explain a few phases of county politics, although he said it was there to discuss national issues. In a perfectly clear manner he explained the pliancy of the idea that Pitt county was "bossed" or that citizens had been elected in the county. He told that the Democratic committee of the county had always respected the people and had never made it possible for the people to express their choice and elect whoever the people thought were best fitted for the contested offices. He cited facts to prove his statements and his journey into county politics must have cleared many a mind in Bethel township. In his discussion of national affairs Mr. Harding was most eloquent and making for a basis of his speech a few quotations from the history that so affects the South, he showed the opposing party to a shameful disadvantage. Roosevelt's position after the Chicago convention which refused to return him the victor; his next step to again battle for the country or his welfare had nothing to do with his anxiety to win. Nothing but personal greed prompted him on. Taft's inability to "cope" with such issues as importantly and directly affects the people of this nation; his apathy when the welfare of the people was concerned. The shameful treatment of the south, half a century ago, when a Republican government sent a Republican military dictator to change our laws and make us submit to a Republican régime. Everything meant that the south had only one point to win and that was the point where Demo-

Panics Occur Without Regard to Tariff Revision—Business Men Directing the "Wilson Campaign."

To the Merchants and Business Men of the United States:
Mr. John Wanamaker has issued a "note of warning" against the "destruction of industries" which he says will follow the election of Woodrow Wilson.

To talk back twenty years in American industry is to deal with ancient history. During this score of years American industries have advanced to the point where they are a comparison even with 1890 is ridiculous. In that year our exports of manufactures in actual value, today they are at the rate of twelve hundred millions, a gain of 600 per cent.

How is disaster to come from the competition on our ground of those who sell with whom we are successfully competing on their ground? It is a poor time to try distress when we are exporting steel manufactures to the rate of a million dollars daily.

Mr. Wanamaker quotes from various sources certain records of distress, but he neglects to say that every one of them bears a date not less than six months before the tariff bill of 1894 became a law and as a matter of fact, before its terms were known.

The truth is that neither a Republican administration nor a high tariff is any protection against panics, and they occur, as everybody knows, except Mr. Wanamaker, quite without regard to tariff changes. Our very worst panics have occurred under Republican administrations.

Mr. Wanamaker's letter is his failure to refer to existing conditions. He promises all sorts of disaster in a very general way, but has nothing to say about current facts of industry. For example, it has been well known since 1893 that the public demanded the downward revision of the tariff which Mr. Taft promised and later denied.

A Democratic house of representatives was elected in 1890 on that special issue. That house passed a series of laws which have since been repealed. It was the purpose of this law to take a long sleep and find out what morning whether or not he was elected president of the United States. The governor watched a workman in a telegraph instrument in his name today by courtesy of a telegraph company.

On each of these measures a number of Progressive Republicans voted with the Democrats. One of these bills reduced the duty on steel schedules and is pending. The steel industry has revived, prices are advancing and straight out of all from Mr. Wanamaker's point of view, large investments are now being made in new steel plants.

If the danger that Mr. Wanamaker foresees is real, how is it that these foreseers have not been so busy in the past? How is it that manufacturers all over the country are increasing their plants? Mr. Wanamaker seems ignorant also of the actual labor conditions. High wages are not necessarily a sign of prosperity. As Professor Fisher points out, a century and a half ago laborers in Rhode Island received a wage of $10 daily, but it took four days' work to buy a pair of shoes. Nor are high wages the result of the protective tariff. The Lawrence strike brought out this fact vividly. There the textile manufacturers have a very high protective tariff to favor them, but the wages of their employees were to be miserably low. A fair comparison is that between England and Germany, both thickly populated, one having no protection and the other high protection. How do wages stand in these countries today? Those in Germany are 17 per cent lower than English wages, and not only so, but the cost of living in Germany is 17 per cent higher, so that the protected German workman earns the smaller wage and pays the higher cost.

Free Trade Body.
Is it not truly ridiculous for Mr. Wanamaker to raise the bogey of free trade? No party advocates that. Mr. Wanamaker must know that the Democratic cause and woolen mills are not the same measures in any sense.

ITS' YOUR CAMPAIGN; IT NEEDS YOUR HELP

If the Democratic campaign fund were being drawn from multimillionaire contributors anxious to purchase legislative favors at the expense of the people there would be no need to appeal to the voters at large for the investment proceeds. That would be the case in a contest between the victims and the beneficiaries of tariff extortion and trust monopoly, however, must be furnished in the main by persons of comparatively small means, and the contributors to the Democratic campaign fund must make up by strength of numbers what they individually lack in length of purse.

The recent statement of the chairman of the Democratic general finance committee showed that 77,125 individuals have contributed in the aggregate about $300,000, and that about $750,000 more is needed for the legitimate expenses of the campaign. That would mean a small sum to a candidate who could pass around the hat among four trust magnates and get it back with $150,000 profit. How do you suppose the supporters of Woodrow Wilson's candidacy, and everybody should chip in according to his means without waiting to see what his neighbor is going to do about it.

Look at these two men. They have been to market their cotton. One put his money in the bank and the other one didn't. They were held up on the way home. EUROPEAN SYSTEM WORKING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—President Taft continued his campaign for farmers cooperative banks and agricultural credits today by making reply to letters that have reached the White House intimating that the plan would benefit only the big large sum to the supporters of Woodrow Wilson's candidacy, and everybody should chip in according to his means without waiting to see what his neighbor is going to do about it.

The size of the average deposit for these institutions is around $370, said the president. The average loan they make amounts to only $150 and the membership of the Raiffeisen banks average 95 members. It is plainly evident from these figures that this is not a big farmers plan. In my letter to the governors the first recommendation which I made for the adoption of a cooperative credit in this county will be of great advantage to the small farmer.

The success of the Democratic ticket on Nov. 5 is dependent wholly upon the activities of your loyal working Democrats. And we are depending upon you with absolute confidence. I know that the responsibilities are heavy, but I further know that the results will justify this confidence which we place in you. The way to attain the most effective results is to have each voting district so thoroughly organized that every Democratic voter will be brought to the polls on election day and will vote the Democratic ticket. When elections are lost to the Democrats it is generally because the Democratic vote has not been brought out. Will you surely see to it that all your Democrats vote this year?

"Wolf! Wolf!"
I take the liberty of calling your attention to the fact that the Democratic platform of 1908 declared for a revision of the tariff. It seems to me that the only question before the American people now is, Who will give them the downward revision for which they made a new demand in 1910, when a Democratic congress was overwhelmingly elected? It is clear that the only man in the race who will stand for an intelligent revision downward is Woodrow Wilson and the only party which will give it is the Democratic Party.

HON. OSCAR W. UNDERWOOD REPORTS:

Men's cotton half hose valued at eighty cents per dozen pairs wholesale are taxed under the present law at the equivalent ad valorem rate of about 92 per cent. The Democratic cotton bill proposed to reduce this to 40 per cent.

It proposed to reduce the tax on cotton thread from an equivalent rate of 34 per cent to 15 per cent. A suit of ready-made cotton clothing valued at the foreign port of 6 is taxed under our present law 50 per cent ad valorem or $3 a suit. This Democratic bill proposed to reduce this tax to 20 per cent and save the consumer $1.20 per suit.

The bill revising the metal schedule reduced the average rate of duty on cotton thread from 33.35 per cent (imports of 1910) to 22.42 per cent. This revision, it is estimated, would have saved the American consumer in a twelve month period more than $80,000,000.

The revision of the chemical schedule would have effected a saving to American consumers of about $17,000,000 by reducing the price of all chemicals and at the same time the revenue for the government would have been increased.

The bill placing sugar on the free list would have saved during a year not less than $15,000,000 to the consumer. The tariff tax on sugar amounts to about 1 1/2 cents per pound. The amount of sugar consumed in the United States in 1911 was about 7,662,000,000 pounds and the application of 1 1/2 cents per pound to this consumption affords the estimate of $115,000,000 as representing the saving to the people.

The House passed a bill providing for an excise tax on incomes, thereby transferring a considerable portion of the tax burdens to the wealthy, which are escaping their proper proportion.

The excise bill passed by the House provides for the extension of the Corporation Tax law so as to include individuals, firms and copartnerships. It accomplishes the very desirable purpose of transferring tax burdens to the shoulders of the wealthy, who have heretofore escaped from a proper share of taxation for the support of the government.

The present burden of indirect taxation falls upon people having incomes of less than $2,000 per year. A man whose net earnings amount to but $5,000 per year would under this bill pay no tax. A man earning $10,000 per year would pay nothing on the first $5,000 and $50 per year on the second $5,000.

HON. OSCAR W. UNDERWOOD REPORTS:

The Farmers' Free List bill, passed by the House, would have saved the people $390,000,000 annually. This bill removed the duty from agricultural implements, of which $165,000,000 worth were imported during the last fiscal year; sewing machines, reaper wire, bagging and cotton ties, leather, laths, shingles, flour, salt, lumber, shoes, etc.

Under our tariff law a barrel of flour valued at $4 abroad is taxed 25 per cent ad valorem at our ports, or $1 on the barrel. This bill removed the entire tax.

Beef valued at $5.30 per 100 pounds abroad pays a tariff tax equivalent to 25.88 per cent or $150 per 100 pounds. This bill proposed to remove this entire tax.

The Democratic wool bill proposed to reduce the average rate of duty on wool manufactures from 90.10 per cent to 48.35 per cent. President Taft's veto of this measure means that the American people will pay $50,000,000 more for their clothes this year than they would have if President Taft had signed it.

A wool that valued at $1 abroad and taxed 75 cents upon its entry into the United States, under the present tariff law, would have been taxed only 49 cents.

Flannel underwear valued at $27 per dozen suits is taxed under the present law at the equivalent ad valorem rate of about 106 per cent. The Democratic bill proposed to reduce this to 49 per cent. A suit of ready-made woolen clothing worth in Europe $10 is taxed under the present law at the equivalent ad valorem rate of 75 per cent, or $7.50. The Democratic bill proposed to reduce this tax from 75 to 49 per cent and save the consumer $2.60 per suit.

The cotton bill reduced the duties on cotton manufactures from 48.12 per cent to 27.06 per cent, a reduction of the tariff burdens under this schedule from not less than $200,000,000 to about $112,000,000 for a year, or a saving of about $88,000,000 for a twelve month period.

WOODROW WILSON

In Woodrow Wilson the Democratic party has a nominee for the presidency whom it presents to the country in full assurance that he is, in a peculiar manner, the choice not only of the party but also of thousands who have heretofore voted another ticket.

Mr. Wilson's nomination was the result of a popular demand such as never before swept a national convention—a demand spontaneous and organic, wide, which it was impossible to resist.

Yet Governor Wilson is a new man in public life. It is less than two years ago that he made his first campaign speech as a candidate. He is unique, as a political leader, in the fact that he comes into the public view only in middle life, with his philosophy fully formed; it has been formed in the privacy of forty years of constant study and investigation. From the first, constantly and deliberately that investigation had busied itself with existing facts, not with theories, and it is a mere statement of the truth to say that no man has ever mastered the subject of government or its practical side and especially of the government of the United States in connection with the particular political and social problem of the United States more thoroughly than Woodrow Wilson mastered it before he was called from his study to a political office, the governorship of New Jersey. His first acts in the governor's chair aroused the surprise of the whole country and his administration progressed, swiftly and awakened the realization that a new type of man and leader had appeared on the political stage. Within eighteen months after he had taken the oath of his first public office, he was named by acclamation for the chief magistracy of the land.

Every Democrat in Pitt county should feel interested in maintaining the county's representation in future state and district conventions. The number of delegates to which the county will be entitled in conventions for the next four years will be based on the vote for governor in the election next Tuesday. Pitt's convention vote is large enough to wield much influence and to hold this strength there should be a large vote on Tuesday. Keep this in mind and be sure that you go to the polls and vote.

You just can't please everybody. Some who wanted the state executive committee to modify the ruling in as to eligibility to vote in the senatorial primary, are now kicking about it. They even claim that it will let down the bare for Republicans to vote in the primary. The question now is how large to make the majority.

If you do not want to throw your vote away next Tuesday vote for the Republican in the place of the one marked off, he can't vote in the primary.

We heard one man, not a resident of Greenville either, say that he had three small children and was going to start saving accounts for them by taking a share for each one of them in The Home Building and Loan Association's new series that opens next Saturday. That man is right.

Because Wilson, Craig and the entire county ticket are sure of election next Tuesday is no excuse for any Democrat staying at home and not voting. Every one should go out and help make the majority as large as possible.

How strange it is some people think others have no right to opinions differing from their own. People can hold different views and yet be just as honest as the other in their convictions.

Governor Wilson says he had rather get a good night's sleep on the night of election than to sit up and hear the election news. That is a definite preference to express, for he knows in advance that it is going to be good news.

Do not let the campaign make you lose your head. All will need to be doing business together after the election and there are other things as important as politics.

The Charlotte Chronicle is worrying because the equinoctial storm does not come alone. Just wait a few days. The Republicans will find one on November 5th.

If the Republicans ever do get another chance in North Carolina, how they will make use of the abuse Democracy—a demand spontaneous and organic, wide, which it was impossible to resist.

The Greensboro News says the senatorial contest will not go to the tenth inning. Certainly not, it will be called at the close of the 5th.

With Secretary of State Grimes, Congressman Small and Senator Simmons all to speak, this will be a big week politically for Pitt county.

Now they are accusing cockroaches and bedbugs of carrying typhoid germs. Then swat the cockroaches and bedbugs.

Some folks had as well be making up their minds to get sorry for things they have said during the election.

The statement of expenses of the senatorial candidates shows that the campaign is costing them something.

If the Republicans ever do get another chance in North Carolina, how they will make use of the abuse Democracy—a demand spontaneous and organic, wide, which it was impossible to resist.

The Greensboro News says the senatorial contest will not go to the tenth inning. Certainly not, it will be called at the close of the 5th.

With Secretary of State Grimes, Congressman Small and Senator Simmons all to speak, this will be a big week politically for Pitt county.

Now they are accusing cockroaches and bedbugs of carrying typhoid germs. Then swat the cockroaches and bedbugs.

Do you reckon a buggy is sick when it throws up mud? Or are they merely limiting some political speakers.

Some candidates might be looking around with a view of engaging a trained nurse for the morning after the election.

Let this also be a campaign week for shares in the new series of the Home Building and Loan Association which opens next Saturday.

Some folks had as well be making up their minds to get sorry for things they have said during the election.

The statement of expenses of the senatorial candidates shows that the campaign is costing them something.

Oyster Brak dispatches state that other cranks are trying to reach the ex-president.

There are going to be some surprised people on the morning after the election.

When you go to vote next Tuesday watch your tickets carefully and be sure that you have the right kind.

Laboratory success is certain. The question now is how large to make the majority.

If you do not want to throw your vote away next Tuesday vote for the Republican in the place of the one marked off, he can't vote in the primary.

We heard one man, not a resident of Greenville either, say that he had three small children and was going to start saving accounts for them by taking a share for each one of them in The Home Building and Loan Association's new series that opens next Saturday. That man is right.

Because Wilson, Craig and the entire county ticket are sure of election next Tuesday is no excuse for any Democrat staying at home and not voting. Every one should go out and help make the majority as large as possible.

How strange it is some people think others have no right to opinions differing from their own. People can hold different views and yet be just as honest as the other in their convictions.

Governor Wilson says he had rather get a good night's sleep on the night of election than to sit up and hear the election news. That is a definite preference to express, for he knows in advance that it is going to be good news.

Do not let the campaign make you lose your head. All will need to be doing business together after the election and there are other things as important as politics.

The Charlotte Chronicle is worrying because the equinoctial storm does not come alone. Just wait a few days. The Republicans will find one on November 5th.

As to a local stock law, I say now and have always said that the people effected by that law should be given a vote to determine whether or not they wanted the law. I believe this is the most equitable and the only way to settle this question and I do not hesitate to say that if I represent Pitt county in the legislature I will do all in my power to submit this troublesome question to a vote of those affected by it.

To do more than this is to take the matter out of the people's hands, where it justly belongs, and place it at the discretion of a few.

I have been asked to say what I will do if elected to the legislature about the stock law fence south of Greenville, about which there has been so much trouble. I now repeat and say in the most positive tones, that I will vote for a law to give the people interested an opportunity to vote on the question as to whether the fence shall remain where it is or be removed.

The Democratic doctrine is the majority rules, and I submit how we are to ever know whether a local fence law is wanted or not so long as one legislature makes it and another repeals it, without submitting it to a vote of the people. Such a state of affairs might go on indefinitely and we would arrive at no solution of the question, and those vitally interested be kept in constant turmoil and doubt as to how to protect their crops and stock.

The people themselves must have an opportunity to ratify or repeal this law at the ballot box. To allow this law to stand without a vote is an injustice to a part of our people, yet to repeal it without submitting it to the people, is an injustice to others. The majority must rule. That is good Democracy.

I have tried to state clearly my position regarding the stock law question. I say now positively it is the position I will maintain regardless of faction or influence. It is identical in position I took before the primary election— you supported me then and I have a right to expect you to support me now.

I appeal to you to support the entire Democratic ticket. You nominated this ticket in the primary. It is certainly the duty of every man who took part in that primary to vote the entire ticket.

Respectfully,
D. M. CLARK.

SORDID TALE OF T. R.'S FUND

Treasurer Sheldon and J. P. Morgan Tell of Millions Subscribed in 1904.

BIG FAVORS IN RETURN

Frick, Gould and Morgan Gave $100,000 Each—Corporations Gave 73 1/2 Per Cent. of Entire Amount Received.

John D. Archbold's statement that the Standard Oil Company contributed $100,000 to Mr. Roosevelt's campaign fund in 1904 was confirmed by George R. Sheldon, who succeeded Cornelius N. Bliss as treasurer of the Republican national committee.

Not only did the Standard Oil Company give $100,000 to elect Mr. Roosevelt president, but J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. gave $100,000, H. C. Frick gave $100,000 and George Gould gave another $100,000. Mr. Sheldon testified that 73 1/2 per cent of Mr. Roosevelt's total campaign fund was contributed by corporations.

Naturally these people gave their money freely to the Roosevelt campaign fund.

Testifying that he had contributed $150,000 to the Roosevelt campaign fund in 1904 because he was "especially interested," Mr. J. P. Morgan added, "The only interest we had was in the welfare of the public."

Mr. Morgan emphasized his devotion to Mr. Roosevelt's political fortunes by the further statement that J. P. Morgan & Co.'s usual contribution to the public campaign funds was only $100,000; that he never heard of any donation by his firm to the Democrats; that when Mr. Taft was a candidate in 1908 the sum subscribed was $50,000 and that this year neither he nor his banking house had subscribed a dollar.

How It Was All Done. To grasp these pregnant facts we have only to recall a little modern history. In 1904 Mr. Roosevelt had his bureau of corporations in working order. Mr. Cortelyou, lately in control of the secretary of commerce and labor, had been made chairman of the national republican committee. He and Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer, were collecting money. As George R. Sheldon, Mr. Bliss' successor, says, 73 1/2 per cent of the funds received came from the benefited corporations.

If we do not find in these disclosures a sufficient explanation of J. P. Morgan & Co.'s "special interest" in Mr. Roosevelt's election, it is possible that later events may reveal it.

Mr. Roosevelt never prosecuted J. P. Morgan & Co.'s steel trust. He emphatically stopped the proceedings instituted by others against J. P. Morgan & Co.'s harvest trust. When the case of the steel trust was turned over to J. P. Morgan & Co. a steel trust, before breakfast one morning and licensed them, in violation of law, to absorb the Tennessee Coal and Iron and steel departments and the whole enterprise. He made Herbert Satterlee, J. P. Morgan's son-in-law, assistant secretary of the navy. In a letter to the general public he testified to the "Morgan interests" which have been so friendly to us. "Never before was the 'public welfare' so cheaply protected.

Extent of Morgan's interests. The "Morgan interests" are not confined to J. P. Morgan & Co. by any means. The Morgan interests comprehend life insurance companies, banks and trust companies, railroads and manufacturing enterprises. If the parent house increased its regular Republican contribution in 1904 because of its "special interest" we may easily imagine that the policy was widely imitated by affiliated corporations and individuals. Perhaps in this almost unexampled favor by the Morgan interests we shall find an explanation of the Roosevelt administration hostility to the Standard Oil interests, which have not always agreed with J. P. Morgan & Co. concerning the welfare of the public.

It may be that the senate committee will be able to throw more light on this point, but it can hardly add anything to the scandal of the Morgan-Roosevelt alliance. It was Mr. Roosevelt who opened up to J. P. Morgan & Co. its business. It was Mr. Roosevelt who persuaded J. P. Morgan & Co. to plunge deeply into politics. It was Mr. Roosevelt who, consulting "his old confidant," J. P. Morgan & Co. in the White House, not until Mr. Roosevelt had lost control of the republican machinery and the law providing for publicity of campaign contributions had gone into effect did J. P. Morgan & Co. disappear from the list of regular contributors to the colossal corruption funds of the Republican party. Are J. P. Morgan & Co. now operating politically under cover of their recent partner, George W. Perkins?—New York World.

ALLEN CLANSMEN IN DEATH CHAMBER

FAMOUS VIRGINIA OF LAWS APPARENTLY DO NOT REALIZE HOW SHORT HOURS OF LIFE ARE TO THEM

TAKEN TO AWAIT DEATH IN CHAIR

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 16—Floyd Allen and Claude Allen, his son, have been brought from Roanoke jail to the state penitentiary here arriving early this morning to suffer electrocution November 22 for their part in the murder of the court officers at Hillville last March.

They marched spiritedly to the death cages, ate a hearty breakfast and talked animatedly with their guards.

Floyd Allen's wife, mother of Claude this morning issued a public appeal for funds to aid her in an effort to save the men from death.

She states that the family resources have been exhausted by the trial.

Floyd Allen was on crutches, the result of injury to his leg in the general shooting. Claude Swanson Allen, bandouliered, clean cut features head erect, smiling and pleasant, walked with a firm tread and helped his uncle enter the carriage which had been brought to convey them to the prison.

Did you sleep on the way to this city? Claude was asked.

Why no. I enjoyed chatting with these gentlemen, referring to the two guards who went after them.

Claude Allen was handcuffed to his father's right side and was as handsome a man as a day's travel could disclose. He wore a neat suit of black cloth with bear neatly combed white turndown collar and black tie.

The men gave absolutely no trouble to the guards the officers saying the reason of the Allen's talk was to give while coming to this city and were pleasant in every way.

The fact that the prisoners were coming was not known but many of those who came from points between Roanoke and this city gathered at the penitentiary to get a last look at the condemned men.
