A Doomed Institution.
It is significant of the changing conditions of the country that one of the New York newspapers—Colliers—has begun to discuss the question as to what occupation shall be provided for the saloon-keeper when the present-day saloon goes, as it must. Even in the large cities of the country the handwriting is seen on the wall. The open saloon is disappearing from the land and the time is not far away when it will be unknown in the United States. The dispensation of whiskey through the open saloon is a species of traffic that is destined for final disappearance. Whiskey will for a time after the disappearance of the saloon be obtainable in some way, but it is not reasonable to suppose that it will continue any great length of time, for the traffic in it will be made unprofitable, and it is peddled now mainly for the money that is in the business. The process of the elimination of the saloon will be slow, that of the riding the country of liquor will be still slower, but no two ends are more certain of final accomplishment. It is certain we shall never again see the open saloon in North Carolina. It is equally certain that in time this institution will be searched for in vain in any state in the Union.—Charlotte Observer.

Woodridge N. Ferris
Woodridge N. Ferris, who was inaugurated governor of Michigan last week, was born in Spencer, N. Y., January 6, 1853. His education was received principally at the normal school in Oswego, N. Y., which was supplemented by a year of study in the medical department of the University of Michigan. Deciding that education work would be more to his liking than the practice of medicine, Mr. Ferris quit the university to accept a position as principal of a business college in Freeport, Ill. After spending about ten years with business institutes in various Illinois cities, the future governor removed to Big Rapids, Mich., which city has since been his home. In Big Rapids he established a business college which proved very successful and enabled its founder to embark in industrial and financial enterprises from which he later accumulated a fortune.

Begin the New Year Right
By request, we print the following on "Courtesy Over the Telephone": There is a most careful way of beginning a telephone conversation that which is the correct thing to do, many people are now adopting. It is the courteous and direct method because it saves useless words, confusion and uncertainty. It runs: The telephone bell rings and the person answering it says: "Morton and Company, Mr. Baker speaking." The person calling then says: "Mr. Wood, of Curtis and Company, wishes to talk with Mr. White." When Mr. White picks up the receiver he knows Mr. Wood is on the other end of the line and without any unnecessary and needless "Hello's" he at once greets him with the refreshing and courteous salutation, "Good morning, Mr. Wood!" This saves the genial handshake that Mr. Wood would have received had he called in person upon Mr. White.

A far higher degree of telephone courtesy would be obtained if the face to face idea were more generally held in mind by those who use the telephone. The fact that a line of wire and two shining instruments separate you from the person to whom you are talking, takes some of the sting out of unkind words.

Telephone courtesy begins when the bell rings. Promptness in answering the call is a compliment to the caller. Telephone courtesy on party lines means being polite when someone else unintentionally breaks in—not snapping, "Get off the line!" but using "I."

In a word, it is obviously true that that which is the correct thing to do, in a face to face conversation, is also correct in a telephone conversation and anyone has but to apply the rule of courtesy prescribed long years before the telephone was first thought of, to know the proper manners for telephone usage. Do over the telephone as you would do face to face.

DOES WOMAN SUFFRAGE HAVE A CHANCE IN THE SOUTH?

The discussion of this subject is no longer academic. The winning of two more states will see women enfranchised in one-fourth of all in the Union, as they now can vote in ten states on the same terms as men. California, named in the order in and are eligible for every office. In addition to the four gained at the recent election are Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Washington and Eastern States fifty years ago. It has which they gave the franchise to women. The only question now to be considered is which will be the next states to grant this privilege and when will all of them do so? Although the agitation began in the Eastern States fifty years ago, has been continuous and has assumed large proportions and although until recently there has been almost none in the South, it is not improbable that one or more Southern states may enfranchise their women before this has been done by a single state east of the Allegheny Mountains. The greatest drawback in that section has been the rivalry of the women themselves. They had not had among them an enormous body of workingwomen to suffer the disadvantage of being without political influence; in all respects they have been slower to catch the progressive spirit of the age than the more highly stimulated women of the North and they have been lulled by the tradition that chivalry was all women needed. Any tendency toward a desire for the suffrage has been promptly suppressed by the men, but all of a sudden they themselves have been brought face to face with a serious situation.

With the exception of Arizona, which is too new to be classified, all of these ten states which have enfranchised their women have heretofore been regarded as normally Republican and an enormous body of voters has been added to the electorate, which, under past political conditions, would have been likely to give Republican majorities. While this would not directly affect the ratio of presidential electors or members of Congress it indicates a tremendous influence in politics which will have to be considered and can only be offset by enfranchising a corresponding number of women who would supposedly be Democratic and that would mean to give the suffrage to those of the Southern states.

Monday night Carolina Club will hold its first meeting of the new year as well as the first under the administration of the new president, Mr. J. B. James. Every member who can do so should be present at this meeting. The club is a useful factor in Greenville's progress and ought to determine to make this the best year in the town's history.

The practical joker has already commenced to play pranks through the parcel post. The New York Postoffice held up a live lobster that a fellow tried to get through.

If you go to send a package by parcel post, be careful not to put any live animals in it. The parcel post stamps on it, otherwise your stamps will be wasted.

Who is the guy that put so much gin in Virginia?

SOMETHING TO BE PROUD OF

In casting back over the past year The Reflector recalls no acquisition to Greenville over which it feels more satisfaction than the launching of the Proctor Hotel. When completed and opened it is going to mean more to this town than anything that has come since the Training school was established. Another thing that makes us feel good over this hotel is that men who do not live here—the Proctor brothers of Grimesland—had enough faith and felt sufficient interest in Greenville to put up two-thirds of the capital to built it. Getting a $60,000 hotel and two-thirds of the money furnished by two non-residents, with the other one-third distributed in small sums among the people of the town, is something to be proud of. If Greenville had failed to get anyone to take the job, not jumped at an offer like that, the town would have deserved being wiped off the map. But the town place for good contractors. There is showed that it was ready for the hotel, a large amount of building to be done and we expect it would be equally quick to anchor some more good enterprises if any came offering on the same terms.

In the meantime, before getting absorbed in pulling for some other things, The Reflector wants to say some shares will envy the good feeling of those who can step up and draw their cash or walk away with a cancelled mortgage.

In the death of Col. W. H. S. Burwyn, of Weldon, which occurred in Richmond Friday, North Carolina loses one of her most useful citizens. Mr. Lorente came to Greenville in the fall of 1911, being sent here by a company with whom the paper had a contract for a subscription contest. While he was conducting the contest such an attachment arose between him and those connected with the paper, that an offer was made him to remain here with the paper, which he agreed to do for a year.

During his stay in Greenville Mr. Lorente has done good work for The Reflector and has made a host of friends among our people, with whom he is very popular. He will remain in it is certain some weeks yet, completing some special book work on which he is engaged and after finishing this continues going to Argentina, in the Argentine Republic, to be with his father, who is Spanish Consul to that republic. While we regret to see him go, the best wishes of all will be with him.

In suggesting a saner observance of Christmas in the South, some exchanges are suggesting cutting out both whiskey and fireworks in connection with the season. There is a way to get rid of both of these and to that extent bring back a proper observance of Christmas. It is more than likely that congress during this year will adopt the bill now pending to prohibit shipping liquor into dry territory, so that by next Christmas most of the whiskey will be cut out by law. Now if the aldermen of the cities and towns will begin early in the year to take a hand against fireworks and enact such laws as to prohibit their sale and use in the towns, letting the dealers know in advance not to place any orders, fireworks will also be eliminated. Then we will have a sane Christmas.

We know a man living in a rented house who must move, as the owner wants the house and the tenant says he cannot find another house to move to. Yet that same man has paid enough rent in Greenville to have bought two or three houses and could have been under his own roof long ago if the rents had been applied to building and loan payments. There are plenty almost similar cases in our midst.

If Greenville had chosen to grow in this year would have a big increase in population. As it is, people come here and look for houses to live in and houses for business and usually have to go elsewhere because they cannot find them. With such a condition can you blame The Reflector for urging folks to take building and loan shares and build themselves a house?

Of course it blew a little harder in Atlanta than anywhere else.

TEACHERS SHOULD ENFORCE ORDER

There is almost as much passing over Evans street south of Five Points as there is over Dickinson avenue. The latter is paved and the town has it swept about twice a week. South Evans street is sand-clay and is left to practically take care of itself. If the town would have the split log drag run over the sand-clay on Evans street half as often as it runs the sweeper over Dickinson avenue, the former would be as good a thoroughfare as the latter. Right now is an opportune time for the split log drag to be at work.

One property owner noticing the call of The Reflector for more houses in Greenville, advises us that he has been trying to let a contract for building two houses, but has so far failed to get anyone to take the job. And this moves us to say that just now Greenville is a most inviting of the likings he got in school and they gave him more respect for his teacher. And he does not believe any of the present young Americans of the present young Americans are too good to be made behave themselves in school.

It is not going to be long before the second series of shares in the Home Building and Loan Association matures. Then you fellows who were not thoughtful enough to take some shares will envy the good feeling of those who can step up and draw their cash or walk away with a cancelled mortgage.

DO AWAY WITH INAUGURAL BALLS

We believe if the inaugural ball in connection with the inauguration of a governor was cut out, it would be in much better taste. Of course there are plenty of people who do not object to balls and dances and who have a right to dance as much as they please, but there are equally as many who do not approve of these. The governor of the state is the governor of all the people, Christian and non-Christian, and all alike feel an interest in him and want to do him honor. Hence it does not look proper to hold a ball in the name of the state and the governor when the thousands of Christians who helped to elect him do not approve it.

And still the cry continues for houses in Greenville. We honestly believe if there were now fifty houses, here for rent, occupants for every one of them could be found in a month. There are people who would build houses, too, if they could get contractors and mechanics to do the work. You people who want work in this line and plenty of it should be heading for Greenville.

The scramble will be on tonight and tomorrow for positions to be filled by the legislature. The Times says Raleigh is filled with candidates. In behalf of economy the legislature should try to get along with as small a number of employees as possible.

Members of Carolina Club should show their purpose to make this a good year boosting Greenville by attending the meeting of the club tonight.

Honor bright, don't you want two or three good factories in Greenville? Let's go after them and have their weekly pay rolls to distribute in the channels of trade.

The saloons are setting their faces toward Raleigh in readiness for the meeting of the legislature Wednesday.

The storm last Friday was a disastrous one to vessels along the coast, much damage and loss of life resulting.

President-elect Wilson has been asked to appoint a woman as secretary of war in his cabinet. There would be some scrapping if he did. Eyesight is precious to every human being. Impaired vision is a serious handicap in any calling. Consult your family doctor about your children's eyes. If he recommends an oculist, see him without delay.

It is not so much what you make, but what you save that counts. Get the saving habit.

Third Assistant Engineer George H. Doyle, of New York, saved by the Pennsylvania.
Chief Steward Fred Meinicke, of Germany; lost.
Carpenter Peter Anderson, of Norway, saved by the Pennsylvania.

President-elect Wilson has intimated that he would like to walk from the White House to the capitol when he is inaugurated.

Raleigh will come to her own next week, at least her own legislature will come to her.

The Wilmington Star suggests the formation of a few "Help Mother" clubs. Good.

We thought she was dead, but here come some of the papers again talking about "The Girl from Rector's".

New Bern has adopted "New Bern" for a slogan. Sounds good, too.

Bob Phillips is looking for the guy that put the nip in turpentine.

The way for the merchants to get the parcels post trade is to go after it.

Raleigh is never so happy as when she has a meeting of the legislature on her hands.

TRAINING SCHOOL

The Training school opened on schedule time this morning with regular lessons at the first period. The teachers were all prepared ready for work and a large number of pupils had ready to assume their duties. At the opening exercises President Wright expressed the hope that all had a pleasant Christmas holiday and his pleasure at seeing them back again. He wished for them a year filled with the best in every way. He emphasized the truth that what they got out of this year would be in proportion to what they put in it. The seed will bring the harvest. Right head will bring the proper kind of harvest. He urged them to begin at once to buckle down to hard work so as to get the best results. Use every opportunity, letting not a single one go unimproved. Be faithful to every duty.

There was a larger list of girls who had applied before the Christmas holidays to be admitted to the spring term but could not be taken for want of room. On the first day of opening after the holidays some girls of name who had been sent home by Greenville February 8th, at Grimesland February 10th.

A premium of a year's subscription will be awarded the girl or woman living on the farm who bakes and exhibits the best loaf of bread at these institutes. Bread made by the "salt process" will be barred from the contest.

There will also be a prize of a year's subscription to a good agricultural journal to the farmer exhibiting the five best ears of corn, also a similar subscription to the boy for every applicant. They will see under 17 years old who exhibits the highest scoring five ears of corn.

The farmers, their wives, sons and daughters should attend the institutes and make them worth while.

During their spring training trip, the Boston Braves will play a game with the All-Georgia team, which is to be organized by Ty Cobb and Nap Rucker.

Car Load Cotton Destroyed By Fire At Leens Station
Monday the Atlantic Coast Line mixed train running between Washington and Farmville, took on twenty bales of cotton and a quantity of peanuts at Pactiville, which were loaded in a box car together. When the train reached Leens the car of cotton was found to be on fire and burning furiously. There being no means available for putting out the fire, the burning car was cut out of the train and run on "sidings" where the car and contents burned up.

For a while the freight warehouse and adjacent buildings were endangered, but the removal of the burning car prevented further damage.
The cotton and peanuts belonged to County Commissioner M. T. Spier and were consigned to Norfolk, but the "railroad company" will have to reimburse him for the loss.

CALOMEL IS UNSAFE
Local Druggist Who Sells Dodson's Liver Tonic Guarantees It to Take The Place of Calomel.
If your liver is not working just right, you do not need to take a chance on getting knocked all out by a dose of calomel. Go to Basnight's Pharmacy who sells Dodson's Liver Tonic and pay 50 cents for a large bottle. You will get a harmless vegetable cathartic that will start your liver without violence and if it does not give complete satisfaction the druggist will refund your money with a smile.

If you buy a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for yourself or your child, you have insured your family relief from attack of constipation, biliousness, lazy liver and headache. Bob Fitzsimmons declared that the only one of the prof. try one 10 days and see for yourself it is as beneficial and safe for children as for adults. A bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic is something every man or woman should keep in the house. Your money is safe because you can return the bottle if it fails. That is the average number of boxes that are returned throughout the open range in the eastern North Carolina. And yet those scattered druggists have succeeded in preventing the reproduction of this safe and effective medicine. The reason is that they are not sure of the quality of the medicine they are selling. They are not sure of the quality of the medicine they are selling. They are not sure of the quality of the medicine they are selling.

WHEN YOU BUY SHOES HERE, YOU have the satisfaction of knowing you are getting the very best quality you can possibly procure anywhere for the money.

Many a cheap, shoddy shoe hides behind a nice appearing, pleasing-to-the eye style, but a few days' wear will prove the inferiority of the quality of the materials used and the carelessness exercised in their making.

We look to quality first of all—see to it that the leather is right, the linings substantial and the general construction the best procurable anywhere. We depend upon you for our business, and you depend upon us for square dealing, we are in duty bound to give it to you—and will.

Our new season's styles for ladies and gentlemen, and boys and girls are ready for your choosing.

Taxation the Issue of Vermont MONTPELIER, Vt., Jan. 6.—The Vermont legislature reassembled today for its winter session. The calendar of business is not heavy and the lawmakers expect to be able to end the session by the end of the month. The principal bills to receive the attention are those to give women a limited municipal suffrage,
to change the date of the state election from September to November, and to readjust the methods of taxation of intangible property.

Miss Cox Interlards
WINTERVILLE, Jan. 4.—The home of Dr. Cox, South Winterville, was a scene of festivity and gaiety Monday evening, December 30, when Miss Vendia Cox interlarded her friends
in the form of a stocking party.

At eight o'clock the guests arrived and were met at the door by the hostess and her sister, Miss Jeannette Cox, who presented each one a miniature stocking containing needle and thread.

After exchanging greetings they were given a piece of cloth and asked to fashion a stocking for Santa Claus to fill. This was done amid much fun and merriment and a small needle asking for one special article slipped inside. Then stockings of various sizes and shapes were hung by the fire-place in the sitting room
while eager expectants breathlessly
while eager expectants breathlessly
listened for the patter of the heels
of eight tiny reindeer on the roof.

While awaiting the arrival of dear old Santa, advertising puzzles were given each guest to be put together,
a prize being rewarded each successful contestant.

The hostess then announced that she had just heard the rustle of Santa's garments as he ascended the chimney, so each guest rushed for his stocking, to find the desired article in each one, even "the man" and a "squawking pig".

Each gentleman was then asked to find his partner by the color of the small stocking handed them at the door and to repair to the dining room. Here delicious refreshments of ambrosia and cake were served, while a luminous evergreen tree in the center of the table furnished merry Christmas carols.

The guests then departed to their several homes declaring Miss Cox a charming hostess.

The hall, parlor and dining room were tastefully decorated in small red, blue, green and white, making one feel as though they had entered the habitation of Santa Claus
upon entering the door.

Those present were, Misses Bettie House of Monroe, N. C.; Helen and Elizabeth Adams; Kate, Mamie and Clyde Chapman; Leona Tucker; Fannie Lee Spier and Mimie Cox; Messrs.
F. C. Fox, Roy Causey, Royal Adams,
M. B. Bryan, Lee Smith, Steven Waters, Gordon and Hardy Johnson.

Charlotte Lady Found in Her Bath Room
Asphyxiated

CHARLOTTE, Jan. 5.—Shortly after midnight this morning, James H.
Van Ness, Jr., a prominent merchant of this city, instituted search for his wife, whom he had not found on arriving at his home and found her in the bath room, lying on her back,
with an expression extending across her face, dead, an open gas jet showing that she had been asphyxiated.

It is presumed by the family that Mrs.
Van Ness fainted, fell and in falling disconnected the rubber tubing of the heating appliance and so inadvertently caused her death. No known motive exists for taking her own life
and although widely varying stories are out today regarding the finding of the body, by the husband, his father and brother and Officer Youngblood who is said to have been called in before the bathroom door was forced,
the only explanation offered is that of the family.

Whiskey in Flour Sack
And It Falls In The Hands Of A Preacher
Mr. Henry T. King, who was recently on a business trip down in Tyrrell county, tells us a good story that he ran up with.
A circuit preacher sent to the country store where he did his trading for a sack of flour. When the flour was used about half up, a quart bottle of whiskey was found hidden in the middle of the sack. The preacher went to the merchant to demand
"how come" that bottle of whiskey in his sack of flour. The merchant declared he was ignorant of it, and said the sack of flour was delivered to the preacher just as it was shipped to him.

The neighbors hold a different view of the matter, the general opinion being that the merchant was running a "blind tiger" and would hide whisky in the sacks of flour for his "boozie" customers and that through mistake he sent the preacher a sack
of flour with a bottle in it.

Report of State Tax Commission For 1912
The report of the state tax commission for the year 1912 has been received. A copy of the report will be mailed free to any one interested in tax matters, on request to the State Tax Commission, Raleigh, N. C.

The report gives a complete statistical analysis of the working of our tax system. Some features covered by the report are valuation of different classes of property by town, township and county divisions; assessment
of public service and other corporations; tax rate and bonded indebtedness of counties, cities and towns;
tax receipts from all sources other than general property tax, given by counties, etc.

"For the year 1911 there was increase in assessed valuation of all property in state of 19.31 per cent as compared with the former quadrennial assessment period of 1907. Total tax valuations in the state more than doubled from 1901 to 1911, the figures being three hundred and forty-one million for 1901 and seven hundred and forty million for 1911.

The Commission recommends that the legislature find some other means than an increase in the rate of the general property tax, if it should be found necessary to have more revenue than is provided by the increase of property valuations.

Williams, Named as Chairman Of the House Finance Committee

HANDSOME TRIBUTE TO REPRESENTATIVE OF BUNCOMBE COUNTY

ELECTION RETURNS CANVASSED

Senate Adopts Resolution for Direct Election of United States Senators—Several Important Bills Introduced.

RALEIGH, Jan. 14.—A fine tribute was paid the handsome young representative, Bob Williams, of Buncombe, today, when Speaker Connor named him for chairman of the house finance committee. The responsibility for framing the revenue and machinery acts devolves upon the finance committee and thereby it is made the most far reaching and important of all the committees. With Senator J. P. Cook, chairman of the finance committee of the senate and Representative Williams, chairman of the house finance committee and the able and experienced men associated with them it is believed a splendid reform may be wrought in the state's system of taxation.

At a joint session of the senate and house today, held in the hall of the house, the election returns for state officers in the recent November election were canvassed and the results declared.

The senate unanimously adopted the resolution introduced by Senator Watts to ratify the 17th amendment to the constitution of the United States providing for the election of senators by direct vote of the people. Similar action is needed by only a few more states to make this measure effective.

The detailed proceedings of both the senate and house for the day are as follows:

Senate, Tuesday, Sixth Day
Senate called to order at 10:30 by Lieutenant-Governor Newland.
Prayer by Rev. H. M. Smith, pastor Edgemoor Street Methodist church, Raleigh.
Privileges of the floor were extended to ex-Senators John C. Mills, of Rutherford; J. A. Brown, of Columbus; Thos. P. Warren of Craven, and Mr. Cotten, of Pitt.
Bills Introduced
Bryant: Appoint a justice of peace for Chapel Hill township, Orange county.
Peterson: Provide for government of towns and other municipalities in this state. Requires municipal authorities, upon a call of 20 per cent of the voters, to hold an election on for the adoption of a commission form of government as set forth in the bill, which is a modified form of the New Jersey commission government, adopted to North Carolina needs. Referred to judiciary committee No. 1.
Brown: Appoint justice of peace in Rowan county.
Peebles: Provide for payment to clerks of courts of surplus funds in hands of trustees and mortgages in certain cases.
The House, Tuesday, Sixth Day
The house convened at 11 o'clock. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Joyner, of Fayetteville street Baptist church.
On motion of Mr. Murphy the rules were suspended and a messenger sent to the senate notifying that body that the house was ready to meet in joint session for canvassing the returns of the November election.
The privileges of the floor were extended to Mr. J. M. Carlton, who was a member of the house 50 years ago. Formal reports of office expenses were read from State Treasurer B. R. Lacy; Commission of Insurance J. R. Young and the state school for the blind.

Motions were adopted for printing 300 copies each of the Justice bills providing state wide legalized primaries for all parties and the "corrupt practices act" bill. These motions were by Clark of Pitt and Williams of Cabarrus.

New Bills Introduced
Nowell: Allow commissioners of Warren $4 per day and mileage.
Murphy: Amend section 28 public laws of 1905, as to purchase of franchises of one corporation by another so that the purchaser can use the powers thereof.

ALLIES MADE UP THEIR MINDS TO TAKE UP ARMS AGAIN

DISGUSTED WITH TURKS' PLANS

Balkan Delegates Are Convinced The Turks Are Merely Drifting Without a Fixed Policy

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Unseen unforeseen events should change the current of affairs, the Turkish-Balkan war in the near east will be resumed within a week and Europe will witness the horrors of a winter campaign.

The allies have firmly made up their minds to take up arms a second time. The Turks last week were threatening to leave London and let matters take whatever course they might. Now the Balkan delegates are convinced the Turks are merely drifting without a fixed policy and they have decided to end the seemingly fruitless debates and wire pulling and begin the battles anew where they left off more than a month ago.

The Ottoman government failed to convene the grand council today and apparently has no intention of meeting the ultimatum concerning Adrianople. The allies do not believe in the efficacy of the note sent to Constantinople because it is couched in too mild terms and simply advises Turkey to submit to the fate of war and abandon Adrianople for fear of complications in other parts of the empire at a time of financial support in Europe. The Turkish government knows that this means nothing because it is aware that the allies will be unable to agree on any coercive measures. Thus the presentation by the powers of the note, it is pointed out, might mean simply the opening of a new chapter in the already wearisome diplomatic parleying and the shifting of the discussion from a debate between the belligerents to one between Turkey and the powers.

The Balkan kingdoms, moreover, are anxious to obtain relief from the heavy burdens of keeping their armies on a war footing indefinitely. Wishing, however, to observe all the diplomatic courtesies they have given the powers a reasonable time to agree on the note, frame it and present it to Turkey. But this once done, if Turkey fails to yield, they are determined to act.

The allies say it is easy to predict the course of events. After they have stormed Thessalonika, they prophesy, Turkey will be ready to cede Adrianople. Just as if the Italians landed in Tripoli, she offered to make concessions which previously she had strenuously refused and as after the victories of the Balkan states she consented to grant reforms they had vainly asked for 24 years.

After their second resort to arms, the Balkan delegates assert, their peace terms will be different from those Turkey is now rejecting. They declare that Bulgaria will not be satisfied with a frontier line from Resto to Mida, but will draw it just before the gates of Constantinople and they suggest a war indemnity of $200,000,000 or more.

The diplomats consider the outlook for Turkey as of the gloomiest character. Kiamil Pasha's resignation as grand vizier may be the next development. That would be likely to be followed by anarchy. The country already is hard pressed for money and the condition and spirit of the army are matters of doubt.
