MESSAGE OF PROGRESS

The final message of Gov. W. W. Kitchen to the general assembly, has been most aptly termed a message. He takes a forward stand on matters affecting the state's interests and strongly emphasizes the need of legislation on those. From the News and Observer we take this condensed synopsis of his recommendations:

The governor renews his former recommendation for a state-wide primary, the Torrens land title system, insurance regulation and other measures that he recommended in former messages. He declares for a state-wide search and seizure law to enforce prohibition; urges a continued liberal policy for education; declares that all light and power plants should be regulated by the Corporation Commission; believes mileage books should be pulled on the train; favors four new judicial districts; urges factory inspection; advises that all foreign corporations be required to obtain license before doing business in this state; emphasizes the need of good roads and drainage; urges a vigorous warfare against freight discrimination; recommends the enlargement of the Public Health Department and an increased appropriation for a Library Commission and new assistants to the State Librarian; favors the physical valuation of railroad property by experts under the Corporation Commission; calls attention to the need of change in the number of peremptory challenges; presses the importance of increasing the fish and oyster industry, which he says, exclusive of fish for fertilizer, is declining; recommends amendments to the anti-trust law and says prosecutions against trusts are pending in Mecklenburg and New Hanover counties; favors a special committee to draft a rural credit law; favors township fire wardens, and makes other valuable recommendations. The three matters, aside from some of the important ones mentioned above, upon which the governor places special emphasis are: Legislative Reform, Prison Reform and prison recommendations, including a recommendation of a Pardon Board and Fire Insurance Investigation.

In the card of Mr. A. J. Moye, published in Monday's paper, the printer found a word on the copy that he could not read, and substituted a word of his own in parenthesis that had no place in the article. We are sorry that the word escaped notice until it was too late for correction, and in justice to Mr. Moye we make this statement.

Representative Dellinger of Gaston county, has introduced in the legislature a bill for state-wide compulsory attendance in the public schools of all children between the ages of seven and twelve years. This bill should pass.

A detective who was helping to hunt up blind tigers in Asheville, got pinched himself for selling booze. This is by no means the first instance on record where an officer of the law was using his position to be a violator of the law he was supposed to help enforce.

"Uncle Sam" is a good collector and can make folks come across with the cash when the ordinary individual cannot extract a penny out of debtor. For example, the closing of more than a hundred lock boxes in the postoffice through failure of the occupant to pay the rent on time, was followed with a day of big collections. That is really the kind of cash business that ought to prevail generally.

Right on the eve of his retiring from office, President Taft sends a special message to congress showing where millions of dollars annually can be saved to the government by adopting certain reforms. Wonder why he did not make this discovery earlier in his four year term and help to practice some of the economy.

A WORD OF WARNING

Seeing bales of tobacco cloth displayed about the doors of the stores, is a reminder that the farmers will soon be preparing their tobacco beds. And right here we want to drop the warning that they do not prepare for too large a crop this year. Do not plant any more than last year, even if as much. The good prices at which the last crop sold will be a great temptation to increase the crop this year, but if that is done lower prices will likely be the result. As long as the supply is kept below the demand prices will be good, while overproduction will put the price below the price of making. Five acres at a profit is much better than ten acres at a loss. Keep down the acreage and there will be no disappointment over prices next fall.

Some folks hold up their hands when changing the constitution just like it was something too sacred to be changed. Times and conditions change, and when a constitution becomes so old that it does not fit conditions, it ought to be changed.

Warm Debate a Feature of the Day's Proceedings Over the Resolution by Representative Justice Inviting Prominent Democrats to Address the Assembly on "Modern Methods of Political Reform"

SENATOR SIMMONS RE-ELECTED

RALEIGH, Jan. 21.—The day in the general assembly was featured by a warm debate, in serious and humorous vein, in the senate over the resolution by Representative Justice inviting Bryan, Wilson and LaFollette to address the assembly on "Modern Methods of Political Reform." In the senate the injection of the resolution brought forth a veritable shower of amendments; some wanted to include Roosevelt, others Taft, a few suggested Bailey, as many others wanted Underwood and the name of Rockefeller and Hookworm was also mentioned. The result was the defeat of the resolution as amended in the senate by vote of 27 to 23. Both the senate and house cast its vote for Hon. F. M. Simmons to succeed himself as senator from North Carolina. Hon. Cyrus Thompson was given the complimentary vote of the Republicans. Senator Simmons was nominated in the senate by Senator Ward, of Craven, and in the house by Representative Dixon of Jones. Senator Hobgood's senate bill authorizing the commissioners of Guilford county to appropriate $2,000 for a Confederate monument passed that body today.

Representative Williams, of Buncombe, introduced a bill carrying provisions for a reform in election regulations and providing the Australian ballot system for North Carolina.

Senate, Twelfth Day
Lieutenant Governor Doughton convened the senate at 11 o'clock. Prayer by Rev. A. V. Joyner, of Central Methodist Episcopal church.

A petition from the Forsyth county Farmers union for public school improvement.

Several new bills were introduced. Election of Senator Simmons
At this juncture the hour for the election of United States Senator was announced, noon. Senator Ward of Craven, was recognized and made the nominating speech. In presenting the name of Hon. F. M. Simmons, as senator to succeed himself, being the choice of the Democratic primary, Senator Ward paid high tribute to Senator Simmons and predicted for him a distinguished leadership in the impending reorganization of the senate.

There were second readings by Senator McLean, of Scotland and Senator Mason of Gaston, Senator Peterson of Sampson and Senator Thorne, of Nash.

For the minority Senator Grant presented the name of Dr. Cyrus Thompson, and Senator Mashburn seconded this nomination. Senators Peterson and Mashburn were made tellers. The vote was Simmons, 47; Thompson, 3.

SNOW BLOCKADES IN CHICAGO, WHILE TULIPS ARE BIDDING IN NEW YORK, SAYS WEATHER MAN

COLD WAVE IS COMING EAST

NEW YORK, January 21.—"Cattle freezing to death in the west"; "First straw hat out in New Jersey"; "Traffic blocked by snow in Chicago"; "Tulips budding up-State." These were headline contrasts today coincident with an official forecast of "much colder" here. With the mercury at least 70 yesterday it could be said colder without suspecting the phenomenal mildness of the past few days but today there is hardly any sign of an immediate freeze-up.

For the last three days the January records of forty-three days standing have been repeatedly broken. It was just 162 years ago today that Fulton established a Hudson river record by navigating one of his steamers on this date as far as Albany—a record equalled today for the first time.

There is not a particle of ice in the river. The ice men are reported "glam" and the consumers in the zone mood.

Colder Weather is Promised
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The cold wave today had advanced into the Atlantic States from the middle west and was being followed in the northwestern part of the country by decidedly warmer weather.

The area of high pressure causing the cold wave was moving toward the New England states and the weather bureau issued a cold wave warning for the northern part of New England. Much colder weather in the Atlantic states tonight and warmer Wednesday in the interior was forecast.

Storm warnings were ordered on the Atlantic coast from Norfolk to Eastport, Me.

Senator Overman's First Act
In Senate Since His Operation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Senator Overman, of North Carolina, a member of the Congressional inauguration committee, today presented to the senate a joint resolution which, if subsequently passed, calling for an appropriation of $25,000 to enable the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives to pay the necessary expenses of the inaugural ceremonies of President-elect Wilson at the capitol on the fourth of March.

This was Senator Overman's first official act in the senate since he was operated on during the Christmas holidays because of an attack of appendicitis.

Annual Tuskegee Conference
TUSKEGEE, Ala., Jan. 22.—A large and representative attendance marked the opening here today of the 22nd annual Tuskegee Negro Conference. Today's program was given over to the negro farmers. BROTHERS MAKE MONEY GOOD

NEW BERN, Jan. 21.—Attachments were today sworn out against Albert D. Rawls by several local merchants who claimed that Rawls had given them worthless checks and in two instances had received cash from them. Rawls has for the past few years been paymaster for the John L. Roper Lumber Company at this point. Rawls is now in Norfolk, Z. V. and John Rawls, of Pamlico county, came to the city today and satisfactorily disposed of the attachments against their brother by placing money in the bank to cover the checks which he had given.

Rawls is a man in whom every one had implicit confidence and today's revelations were a shock to those acquainted with him.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That it shall be a misdemeanor for any member of the General Assembly, or any other public official to accept or use a free pass, or reduction of rates lower than is charged to the general public, for transportation over any railroad or other common carrier, or for any service from any express, telegraph or telephone company at any time during the term for which he shall have been elected.

Sec. 2 This act shall be in effect from and after its ratification.

Tax Collector Missing
WILMINGTON, Jan. 21.—Melvin Horne, who has been employed in the sheriff's office here to collect taxes on the outside, left here last Saturday a week ago, ostensibly for a visit to Burgaw or Ashton, but has not yet returned and an effort is being made to locate him. It was reported to-day that the sheriff's office had been advised that the erstwhile officer was in Cincinnati. Report also has it that Horne carried away with him between $500 and $1,000 of the money he had collected in taxes.

Sheriff S. P. Cowan, when questioned tonight, refused to make any statement, but admitted that he was trying to locate Horne. He said that if any mention was made in the papers he would not be able to find his officer. He said that the officer did not have any of his, "the sheriff's" money, but declined to say whether or not he had any of the tax money with him.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 22.—Maximilian Carnarius, known in the baseball world as Max Carey, the star outfielder of the Pittsburgh team, was married today to Miss Aueria Hebrons of this city. Within a few months the noted ball player is to be ordained a Lutheran minister, which fact, together with his marriage, is taken by his friends to mean that the coming season probably will be his last on the diamond.

PLANS FEAST FOR THOUSANDS OF THE POOR AT THE BOWERY MISSION ON HER WEDDING DAY

WED FINLEY J. SHEPARD TODAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—While being showered with gifts herself and busy with preparations for her wedding, Miss Helen Gould has made the army of homeless men in New York happy with an announcement that they will receive a treat tomorrow at her expense. Tomorrow is the day of her marriage to Finley J. Shepard, of St. Louis, at Lynhurst, her country home, near Tarrytown.

The feast for the poor will be served by relay to a thousand men in the basement of the Bowery mission, in whose work Miss Gould has long been interested. A musical entertainment will also be provided.

Miss Gould decided upon this plan yesterday afternoon while messengers were beseeching her house bearing wedding gifts by the hundreds.

Some of the packages, it is assumed, came from the Bowery, where she has made many friends by her philanthropic work. One present was a silver dish sent by 257 girls of the bride's sewing school.

It was learned today that the number of guests invited to the ceremony tomorrow is not more than seventy-five, including all the members of the Gould and Shepard families, except Mr. Shepard's mother, who is ill.

Minister Blames Mission
Workers For the Uprising
In China

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Dr. Arthur J. Brown, secretary of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, speaking before the weekly meeting of Presbyterian ministers here yesterday, said that foreign missionaries were responsible for the revolution in China which led to the founding of a republic.

Dr. Brown said that Dr. Sun Yat Sen had confessed to him that he figured in bringing about the revolution because he had had the benefit of missionary training from his youth.

"The real truth is," said Dr. Brown, "that the revolution was caused by the missionaries spreading the doctrines of the rights of men. The whole human race is in an era of upheaval. A new spirit is abroad in the world. That is what is now appearing in China. They have been slow because they have been isolated."

"The leaders of the revolution were all Christians and had learned from missionaries or had studied in Christian lands."

Editor Reflector:
The physicians of Greenville and FHT county have formulated their agreement and approved of it. Are the patients satisfied with these conditions, is the question? We think not. One objection is the advance in fee from $1.50 to $2 as early as 7:30 p. m. Another is the continued charge of the night visit of $3 as late as 7:30 a. m. Nine o'clock at night is as early as a patient really knows whether he or she needs the attention of a physician. We hope the doctors will reconsider their resolutions, which we hope will be less objectionable. PATIENT.

MRS. WILSON WILL ATTEND

Governor Denies That He Favored The Abandonment of the Ball For Four Dancers Would "Turkey Trot"

WASHINGTON, January 21.—President-elect Wilson's inaugural ball was officially abandoned today when the house committee providing for the ceremonies on March 4th, struck it out of the Congressional resolution which covers the program.

TRIDENT, N. J., Jan. 21.—President-elect Wilson today declared that if arrangements were made for a popular reception at the capitol building as a substitute for the inaugural ball, Mrs. Wilson and the Misses Wilson would attend.

The governor said the impression with members of his family would not be present probably had arisen from his letter to William Corcoran Eustis, the inauguration chairman.

"Perhaps I did not make it clear in my letter," said Mr. Wilson today, "but I meant simply that the ladies should not be expected to stand in line and shake hands."

The governor said that while he himself did not fear the strain of the handshaking ordeal, he thought his family should be excused.

The governor took occasion to deny published reports that he and Mrs. Wilson had favored the abandonment of the inaugural ball because of the possibility that the dancers might indulge in the "turkey trot" and similar dances.

He said he had opposed the idea of the inaugural ball chiefly because of the indirect expense to the government.

"The reasons for my opposition," he said, "are set forth in my first letter to Mr. Eustis. I am glad to have been the instrument through which the institution was abandoned."

GUADALAJARA, Mex., Jan. 21.—The volcano of Colima broke into violent eruption last night. Thousands of people are fleeing from the villages and ranches in the vicinity.

It is believed that there has been some loss of life in the remotest settlements. Hundreds of refugees arrived in this city this morning on a train composed of box cars, which had been picked up on a siding at a nearby village. The fleeing people had found it necessary to shovel away a quantity of volcanic sand before they were able to move the cars and for many miles along the way here the train had to be stopped frequently to clear the track of debris.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS TO BE REGISTERED

The Model Statistics Law has just been introduced in the Legislature. Representative Williams of Buncombe introduced it in the House and Senator Hogwood of Guilford, introduced it in the Senate. Within recent years a number of states have adopted substantially the same law on vital statistics. Each year improvements are made in this law until recently it has become known as the Model Law. The bills now before the legislature represent the 1913 edition of this Model Law, so if passed, North Carolina can boast of the best vital statistics law in the country.

Some of the provisions of the bill are that all births and deaths occurring in the state shall be registered. In the case of deaths the name, age, sex, color, conjugal condition, occupation, cause of death, educational attainments, etc., are required. This information will enable state and local health officers to combat disease; it will settle many legal questions; point out the healthy and unhealthy places, prevent crimes, etc. In the case of births, the name, sex, color, etc., are required besides valuable statistical data about the parents. Such records will soon be invaluable for legal purposes; they will prevent violation of child labor laws and school laws and do much to prevent child marriages besides directly putting an end to much needless blindness, and furnishing information of inestimable value for workers and students of race questions, social reforms, etc. In fact, if this bill is passed it will doubtless prove one of the most important and far reaching laws enacted by this session of the legislature.

There is not a better informed man on the needs of the state than Editor W. C. Dowd, of the Charlotte News. He has several times been a member of the legislature and at the session two years ago was speaker of the house. During his service he made a close study of measures pertaining to the state's welfare and he was the author of a resolution looking to the consolidation of the agricultural department and the A. and M. College. A majority of the committee on this question reported adversely to the proposed consolidation, but the minority, with whom Editor Dowd stands, strongly urges it. In this instance the minority is right. It is a time when every possible economy should be practiced, and it will not only be cheaper for these two departments to be operated together but it will also bring far better results to the agricultural interests of the state.

A matter of great importance to North Carolina is the bill introduced by Senator Bryant in the legislature permitting jurors to be brought from adjoining counties, or any county in the same judicial district, in the trial of important criminal cases. This bill has passed the senate and should be passed by the house. It will greatly expedite the trial of cases where difficulties arise in the selection of jurors as well as prevent such manipulation of a jury as to thwart the ends of justice. The manner of selecting jurors in important cases certainly needs reforming, and this bill is a forward step in that direction.

In speaking of Representative Clark's bill to submit the question of woman suffrage to a vote of the people, the Raleigh News and Observer elsewhere in this paper shows that asks do the women of North Carolina want it? While The Reflector believes in women voting if they want to and has so declared, we do not believe the women of this state, that is, a large majority of them, want to do so, and if the question should be left to them to decide for themselves North Carolina will be among the last of the states to have meeting.

After a strenuous week like this, people ought to look joyously and thankfully to the coming of a Sabbath day on which they can rest from their labors and for the time forget the hustle and bustle of business. But for the intervening Sabbath it is hard to imagine how the world could get along.

The legislature made a move Monday to get some big speakers to come and address the body on modern political reforms. A resolution was adopted inviting President-elect Wilson, Hon. W. J. Bryan and Senator LaFollette, though there was some opposition to it.

The government has appropriated a half million dollars for experimental road building and Senator Simmons believes that North Carolina has a good chance to secure $50,000 of the fund to be expended in that state. He desires that the work shall be on stretches of road in the coast region, the piedmont section and the western part of the state. Governor Craig will have to designate the counties in which the work is to be done and we hope that Pitt can come in for one of them.

"Reddy" Clark, one of Pitt's representatives in the legislature, has fixed himself with the women of North Carolina. He has the distinction of being first in the present session to raise his voice for them in the introduction of a bill looking to woman suffrage. His bill proposes to let the people vote on the question in the next general election. Representative Clark foresees what is bound to come, sooner or later, and is moving to help it along.

The Charlotte Chronicle puts forth a problem that is worth the careful consideration of law makers, in the following: "If it is proper to make the owners of contiguous property in the city pay a proportionate part of improved streets, why does not the same principle of being first in the present session to raise his voice for them in the introduction of a bill looking to woman suffrage. His bill proposes to let the people vote on the question in the next general election. Representative Clark foresees what is bound to come, sooner or later, and is moving to help it along.

Those that are trying to suggest to Woodrow Wilson the names of members to constitute his cabinet would no doubt meet with more success if they should learn the occupation of cabinet-making.

Farmville is moving to organize a building and loan association. It is a step in the right direction and such an organization will make that enterprising town grow all the faster.

Out of the agitation there ought to come something real beneficial to North Carolina in regard to freight rates. This state is suffering greatly from discrimination by the railroads.

THE SLICK EXPRESS
We see in one paper that because the parcel post is cheaper on small packages than express, that the express companies themselves are sending their long distance small packages by parcel post. If that is true the express companies are evidently collecting the regular express charges out of customers and pocketing the difference between that and parcel post charges. Just like they are already doing on C. O. D. shipments. If the express companies handle a C. O. D. shipment of $5.00 they collect 25 cents out of the consignee for returning the money, issue a 5 cents money order and send it to the shipper by mail, pocketing the 18 cents that ought to belong to the shipper. The government should not allow the express companies to carry on that kind of robbery.

Several representatives of fertilizer manufacturers have been in Greenville this week in conference with members of the state executive committee of the Farmers Union, as to the purchase of fertilizers. The fertilizer manufacturers have agreed to give the farmers a better figure on fertilizers than ever before. This will mean a large saving to the farmers of North Carolina and shows the good that is coming through the organized effort of the Farmers Union.

You will see something like weather about the time President Wilson is inaugurated.

Senator Evans took a whack at Pitt county's stock law Monday, by introducing a bill to repeal it.

Wait for the ground hog before sending out a rumor that the fruit crop has been killed.

If North Carolina provides for a six months public school term and then makes attendance compulsory, our people will not have to hang their heads when educational commissions are made with other states.

The legislature has already taken up some important measures. It is hoped the body will push these through before allowing the usual flood of parcel post charges, just like they are already doing on C. O. D. shipments. If the express companies handle a C. O. D. shipment of $5.00 they collect 25 cents out of the consignee for returning the money, issue a 5 cents money order and send it to the shipper by mail, pocketing the 18 cents that ought to belong to the shipper. The government should not allow the express companies to carry on that kind of robbery.

The local bills hopper is getting to work at a lively clip in the legislature.

OUR FOREIGN POLICY FROM THE DEMOCRATIC VIEWPOINT
Inevitably there must be a great change in the foreign policy of the United States as a result of the election which made Woodrow Wilson president and gave the Democrats control of the senate as well as the house of representatives. It may be going too far to say that the change will be radical, but it can be little less than that if the new president carries out the ideas which have prevailed in his party and to which he is committed by party platforms and congressional declarations.

Carried out logically, the accession of the Democratic party to power means that the Philippines should be set free and that we should no longer assume the attitude of the Big Policeman of the American Continent. Expansion and territorial aggrandizement should be halted and the steps taken in that direction during the past fourteen years retraced. The United States should no longer stand behind any government or faction in South and Central America.

As Mr. Darden Sees It
Ayden, N. C., Jan. 16, 1913.
Editor Reflector: I think Brodyd's move shot before he got sight. Why did he not attend the meeting and put in his protest against closing out the business? And why hasn't he sold more of his tobacco with the company? This applies to a great many of them. The failure of the stockholders to be true and loyal seems to be the cause for the change. I am willing to take and hope the new company will give us 6 per cent for 1911 and 1912 and par. 1911 dividends are in the improvements of the gum warehouse and 1912 is in solid tobacco, etc.

Cure For Pneumonia
A subscriber asking The Reflector to print the following receipt for curing pneumonia in the hope that it will benefit someone. He has had the receipt for many years and has seen it tried on several cases with good results:
Take six to ten onions, according to size, and chop fine, put in a large boiler over a hot fire; then add about the same quantity of rye meal and vinegar enough to make a thick paste. In the meanwhile, stir it thoroughly, letting it simmer five to ten minutes. Then put it in a cotton bag large enough to cover the lungs and apply it to the chest as hot as the patient can bear. When this gets cool, apply another and thus continue by re-heating and in a few hours the patient will be out of danger. This simple remedy has never failed in the case of pneumonia. Usually three or four applications will be sufficient, but continue always until perspiration starts freely from the chest. This simple remedy, says the New England Grocer, was formulated many years ago by one of the best physicians New England has ever known, who never lost a patient by this disease, and won his renown by saving persons by simple remedies after the best medical talent had pronounced their case hopeless. Personally we know of three persons who were saved by the remedy last winter in Boston, after physicians had given them up to die; and if a record was made of all similar cases during the last six years, it would fill a good sized volume.—The World's Progress.

This is My Birthday
Sir Frederick D. Lugard who has probably had a greater share than any other one man in the development of the great British territory of Nigeria, comprising between 300,000 and 400,000 square miles of rich country in western Africa, was born January 22, 1858. He carried arms in the Afghan campaign of 1879 and later participated in the Sudan campaign and the Borna campaign. Since 1888 his career has been identified wholly with the interior of Africa and the development of British interests there. His first notable service was as commander of an expedition against the slave traders in Lake Nyasa district. Subsequently he headed exploring expeditions for the British East African Company and for several years was administrator of Uganda. In 1904 he was employed by the Royal Niger Company to negotiate treaties with the native chiefs. For the past ten years or so he has served in the double capacity of Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the British forces in Nigeria.

Ayden, N. C., Jan. 16, 1913.
Editor Reflector: I think Brodyd's move shot before he got sight. Why did he not attend the meeting and put in his protest against closing out the business? And why hasn't he sold more of his tobacco with the company? This applies to a great many of them. The failure of the stockholders to be true and loyal seems to be the cause for the change. I am willing to take and hope the new company will give us 6 per cent for 1911 and 1912 and par. 1911 dividends are in the improvements of the gum warehouse and 1912 is in solid tobacco, etc.

THEIR NEW DAUGHTER

By EDNA G. EATCHELOR.

"Bless my soul! Bless my soul! scolded the peppery little old doc as he stormed up and down the disordered breakfast room.

"His white locks grow more and more thickly crest as he excitedly runs his fingers through his usually orderly hair; his cheeks were flushed by his wrath and his piercing blue-gray eyes were a storm of anger.

"Never heard the best of it in my life—never! the young cub!" he growled. "Here I've worked and slaved and slaved and worked to give him a chance and a good time, and this is my thanks. Not even a by-your-leave! Bless me, it's—It's maddening!" and the old doctor blew his nose with a loud and valiant sound, which yet somehow or other ended with a curious pathetic little squeak that suggested a very great anger merged into a very decided hurt.

"Of course, Maria, you quite agree with him, I know," he trumpeted harshly in a vain endeavor to subdue the tremor in his voice, "but I must say I had a better opinion of your judgment than to call that man a half-breed creature with her cigarette fumes, a sweet little thing, and!" here the great voice took on an even harsher tone, "that Eric should dare to say he was bringing you a new daughter to help fill Nelsie's place—our little white, golden haired Nelsie!"

"But, my dear, I am sure you are mistaken indeed. I know you are judging her wrongly."

"Wrong nothing," snapped the doctor testily. "I hope I have enough old horse sense to pit two and two together when I see them. I've never seen the creature myself and I hope to goodness I never do, but Duncan was telling me only yesterday that she can bet and drink and smoke to eat things he has not paid for, and certainly must not mortgage his future for mere pleasures or dissipation.

"Now, father, I just knew you were jumping at conclusions," spoke up the little Dresden lady in such a petulant and reproachful voice that the doctor's mouth opened in queer amazement.

"Of course I know nothing, absolutely nothing, but this I do know, even if I am in my dotage, that that man's creature with her loud voice and her sports isn't quite the ideal teacher of my daughter. The old man turned abruptly and left the room.

Late that afternoon he made his way slowly and wearily towards the sun-baked, tenement-blocked district called a town parlance "the poor's row" and for almost the first time in his sixty-two years he felt the weariness of life and the utter and abject misery as it is vouchsafed to some. For years his peppery little doctor, whose bark was so much worse than his bite, had worked among these poor of a great city.

For a time he had sought help in his self-assumed task from his little Dresden lady wife, but she had proved so "her gentle" over their, to her, cold and awful sufferings, that he had comforted her as he might have done a child, and had left her in peace at home.

From that day he had never mentioned his poor in her presence, and as if to make up for her deficiencies, he had thrown himself into his work with redoubled energy. But somehow of late years he had felt more and more keenly the need of a woman's love and guidance among them, and many a time a half-attentive sliding wheel had crept through his troubled mind. "If only Nelsie had lived to be a comrade and a help!"

With stooped shoulders and legging steps he mounted the dark stairs of the first tenement house, and a shrink of dread of his visit and of what he must see filled him. He could picture the scene quite vividly, he assured himself, and he sighed impatiently at his own impotence.

"The baby will be crying, Tommy and Sue will be a little bit dirtier than usual, and a good deal crier, while Timmy, poor wee lad, will be a tiny bit quieter and just as thoughtful as ever. If only their mother could have someone to take care of her, figuratively and literally, she'd stand a chance of getting better, and if she doesn't—may God help them all! If my Nelsie had lived," sighed Nelsie's father as he suddenly opened the door, and then suddenly his sharp eyes flared, for the sun's rays showed him a Nelsie-like golden head bent over a sleeping baby by the unceremonious window, while around and about peace and order reigned.

"Well, bless my soul!" quoth the doctor in a husky whisper, and he laid his hand very tenderly upon little crumpled Tommy's head, whose usually pale face was crimson with the suppressed excitement of his present wonderful happiness. "It's Miss Delight, doc," he whispered shrilly, "and she's got to take keer on us till mammy's better, cos she said so, n' she brung us a chicken pie for dinner."

The doctor lifted across the creaking even floor, and all the tiredness and the fiery petulance died out under the warmth of his kind, grave smile. "Miss Delight," he queried.

"Elliott," called the girl with the Nelsie-like golden hair. "You will not cross because I wanted to help in Nelsie's place, as Eric has told me," he begged.

"Eric!" said the doctor slowly. "Elliott, are you Eric's—but, but, but!" stammered the doctor in confusion. "and she—"

"Adriane Elliott, my cousin," answered the girl, quietly.

"Then the old doctor laughed aloud, a shamefaced but utter happiness.

Services In Memory Of Conditions Are Unchanged

Departed Southern Generals With N. Y. Garment Workers

Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy, a meeting was held in the Methodist church in memory of the hundreds of Generals Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson.

Rev. E. M. Hoyle had charge of the meeting and opening prayer was offered by Rev. C. M. Rock. Ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis introduced the speaker, President R. H. Wright, and in his remarks also paid a beautiful tribute to General Lee.

President Wright's address was most entertaining. He first took up conditions existing before the war between the states and caused out of which grew that conflict, then carried his hearers through some of the scenes of struggle and the times following its close. In connection with these he told of the parts taken by Lee and Jackson and his eulogy of these was impressive.

TWO KINDS OF DEBTS
The poor and ambitious farmer should avoid debt as he would the devil himself. It is a habit of eating and wearing out things he has not paid for, and certainly must not mortgage his future for mere pleasures or dissipation.

DEMOCRATIC PLANS ARE MUCH DELAYED

Wilson's Refusal to Commit Himself Had Good Effect

NO DEFINITE ENCOURAGEMENT

Democrats Hope To Arrange With Republicans So Part Of Taft Appointments May Go Unconfirmed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—President-elect Wilson's refusal to allow himself to be committed to any definite plans of reorganization or to outline publicly through senators or congressmen details of his legislative plans has had a marked influence on congressional activity. Plans that promised to engross the session in political fights at both ends of the capital about the more routine work of legislation, investigation and tariff bill hearings are being delayed.

Democratic leaders from both houses have made pilgrimages to New Jersey since Christmas to talk over the new administration's work with the incoming president. The general result of these conferences, however, has been to hold up for the time being any concerted reorganization scheme in the senate and house and to restrain the activity of the Democratic forces that would have launched several important political and legislative programs had President-elect Wilson given definite encouragement to the partially outlined schemes.

For the majority of those who have visited him, however, Wilson has given little indication of his plans. The few of whom he has confided definite opinions have been pledged to secrecy and have been unable to use the president-elect's influence to aid their own plans or to support any general program of action.

LONE BANDIT HOLDS UP TRAIN NO. 12 ON SOUTHERN RAILWAY

DETECTIVES AND POSSE SCOURING THE COUNTRY IN PURSUIT OF TRAIN ROBBER—VALUABLE MAIL TAKEN.

OCCURRED IN VICINITY OF LINCOLN

ANNISTON, Ala., Jan. 19.—Railroad detectives and posess have been scouring the country all day in the vicinity of Lincoln, Ala. In an effort to apprehend a lone train robber who held up Southern railway passenger train No. 12 early today at Riverdale. The robber is said to have rifled the mail coach and escaped with several registered packages.

The bandit it is said, boarded the train while the engine was taking water. According to the report received here he covered Mail Clerk E. L. Crawshaw with a revolver and demanded all valuables and registered mail in the car. After going through part of the mail the bandit jumped from the train at Lincoln and disappeared in the rugged country adjoining the railroad.

According to a description given to District Officer R. J. Bearden, of the Southern railway, the bandit apparently was about 30 years old. He is described as wearing a black derby, dark brown suit of clothes and weighing about 120 pounds.

Southeastern Freight Conference
AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 20.—Freight traffic officials representing all the leading railroads of this section of the country are attending the quarterly conference of the Southeastern Freight Association, which met at the Hampton Terrace Hotel here today for a session that will continue through the greater part of the week.

Further efforts to solve the tangled in the senate over President Taft's 1,300 appointments will be made during the week, the executives of Democratic force the Republicans into some arrangement whereby a part of the Taft appointments can be allowed to go unconfirmed, leaving the places to be filled by Mr. Wilson.

PROMINENT BURKE CO. MEN ENGAGE IN A DESPERATE BATTLE

THIRTY-FIVE SHOTS WERE FIRED

MORGANTON, Jan. 19.—The fiercest and most desperate fight ever in this part of the country took place Saturday when Gouman and Erwin Pitts, sons of Will Pitts, a well-to-do farmer of Burke county and Dr. E. A. Hennessee, a prominent physician of Glen Alpine, engaged in a shooting and cutting affray at about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, which may cost the lives of five men. Dr. Hennessee is shot four times through the breast and head and is dying, there being no chance for his life. Both of the Pitts are probably fatally wounded; Sam Hennessee, a policeman and Abe Pitts, a bystander, who tried to stop the fight, are also shot and cut several times and are in a precarious condition. Thirty-five shots were fired in all and when the revolvers had been emptied they used knives. The fight originated from an old feud which has been existing for some time. Who started the shooting could not be learned here at a late hour tonight. All the physicians of Morganton were rushed to Morganton Saturday night on No. 15 to the Grace hospital, but they have a slim chance for their lives. Sheriff Berry and a posse of deputies left immediately for the scene with warrants to prevent a get away of the crowd. Another man is reported cut very badly, but his name could not be learned.

May Give Reno a "Solar Plexus"

CARSON CITY, Nev. 20.—A poll of the new Nevada legislature which convened today indicates that a majority of the members are in favor of amendments to the present divorce laws which are responsible for the Reno "divorce mill" industry. An amendment to the present law will be presented during the period of residence at one year and possibly containing a provision which will not allow the decree to become effective before another year.
