NO STAMP OF APPROVAL ON TARIFF YET

Wilson is Not Prepared to Put O. K. on it

CONSULT CABINET MEMBERS

But Was Left With Him by Representative Oscar W. Underwood, Democratic Leader.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—President Wilson let it be known today that he has not yet put his stamp of approval on the tariff bill left with him by Representative Oscar Underwood, the Democratic majority leader, after a three hours' conference last night.

The president indicated to his visitors that he had only begun to study the measure but that before the Democratic caucus met to decide whether they should revise the tariff in a single bill or by separate schedules, he would make known his own conclusions, as well as his opinion of the bill.

The income tax problem and its intricate details are being carefully considered by the president. He discussed these in a general way with Secretary McAdoo of the treasury department. Col. E. M. House, of Austin, Texas, and Secretary Tumulty, who were at the white house tonight.

Mr. Wilson also is giving some attention to the possibility of getting a currency measure before the country during the extra session of Congress, and it was said that the conference tonight touched this subject to some extent.

Diplomatic Appointments.

Little information was forthcoming today concerning diplomatic appointments. It became known that Dean Henry Burchard Fine, of Princeton University, would not accept the ambassadorship to Germany, which had been offered him by President Wilson. Prof. Fine is now at Munich on leave of absence and while he is one of the President's most intimate friends and has been strongly urged to accept, the great expense involved is said to have been the reason for the declination.

John K. Sague, three times mayor of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., probably will be the next collector of the port of New York. He is said to be the most likely of those under consideration.

Shakes Hands With 1,612.

The President today received an army of school teachers, the usual excursion crowd of the Easter season. He shook hands with 1,642 in thirty-five minutes, among them 500 from Toronto, Canada, led by Dr. James L. Wilson, superintendent of schools in that place.

Congratulations to

Duke of St. Albans, 43 years old today.

Dr. Flavel S. Luther, president of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., 63 years old today.

Rear Admiral Albert Mertz who goes on the retired list of the United States navy today, 62 years old today.

Dr. Hugh Black, professor of practical theology in Union Theological Seminary, 45 years old today.

1912.—Henry F. Ashurst and Marcus A. Smith elected as first United States Senators from Arizona.

Destructive Floods and Heavy Snow Storm In Wake of Omaha Tornado

DEATH LIST NOW OVER 200

Government Morehead Feared That Conditions Will Become More Dangerous in Wrecked Zone

KANSAS CITY, March 25.—A message received here today from Leslie, Ark., sixty miles north of Little Rock, said a tornado in that vicinity last night killed eight or ten persons.

Fifteen Reported Killed by Tornado

ST. LOUIS, March 25.—Fifteen persons are reported to have been killed in the tornado that struck Makanda, Ill., 235 hundred miles south of here, last night.

OMAHA, Neb., March 25.—Shivering from the cold and awe inspired by the nature of their work, scores of men, women and children today struggled in the snow to rescue the dead or injured bodies of relatives and friends who lay buried beneath the wreckage of their homes and buildings which were crumpled like eggshells by the tornado Sunday, swept with death-dealing force over Nebraska and Iowa killing more than 150 persons in Omaha alone.

The latest reports this morning give the number of injured at 220 while the death list has not increased over the night report of 202.

Sixteen additional bodies were taken from the Idlewood, a negro pool hall, this morning, making the total thus far recovered from that place 31.

The building, after being wrecked by the tornado, caught on fire from an overturned stove and burned.

Snow Storm Work of the Rescuers

The snow storm which seriously is hampering the work of rescue, began shortly after midnight this morning and is continuing with greater force.

More than three inches of snow covers the debris in the section of the city which was struck by the cyclone.

Privations of the storm sufferers are being greatly increased by the heavy snow storm which is following so closely in the wake of the tornado.

BULGARS CLOSE LINES TO EAST OF ADRIANOPLE

Capture all of the Fortified Points Near Fortress

WILLING TO CEASE FIGHTING

Allies to Insist Upon Identity—Several Turkish Officers are Ordered Back to their Posts of Duty.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 25.—The Turkish advanced positions and all the fortified points to the east of the fortress of Adrianople were captured by the Bulgarian besiegers this morning.

Allies to Insist Upon Identity.

COLOGNE, Germany, March 25.—The reply of the Balkan allies to the peace overtures on the suggested mediation proposed that the future frontier between Turkey and Bulgaria should run from Midia on the Black Sea by way of Suradli above Rodosto to the Gulf of Sarai, an inlet of the Aegean Sea.

In this way Bulgaria would be excluded from the Sea of Marmora in accordance with the desire of the powers.

Bulgaria, however, and the other Balkan allies insist on the payment of an indemnity by Turkey. They are willing to suspend hostilities at once, if Turkey surrenders the fortress of Adrianople and demobilizes her armies.

Turkish Officers Ordered Back to Posts

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 25.—The military governor of the Turkish capital published a notice today warning Turkish officers absent from any army on leave or for other reasons to return forthwith to their posts.

Bombardment of Scutari Ceases

BELGRADE, Serbia, March 25.—The bombardment of Scutari is understood to have been stopped on orders from the Serbian government. Serbia acted on the advice of the French and Russian ministers who notified the Serbian premier that the powers had come to the unalterable decision that Scutari must belong to the future state of Albania.

Civilians Can Leave Scutari

CELTINE, Montenegro, March 25.—The Montenegrin government in reply to the Austro-Hungarian note, agreed today to permit the civilian population of Scutari to leave the city.

All Hope of Saving The Virginia Clansmen is Abandoned

RICHMOND, Va., March 25.—Despite Governor Mann's emphatic statement that his action is final, attorneys for the condemned Klansmen who have just returned from Washington are today preparing to make a final appeal to the governor, pleading that certain legal phases of the case be considered.

Four justices of the supreme court of the United States—Chief Justice White and Justices Hughes, Lurton and Holmes—heard their pleas and decided that no federal question was involved.

It is said today that Senator Swann after whom Claude Allen is named, has approached Governor Mann personally asking for clemency for the younger Allen.

RICHMOND, Va., March 25.—That the Allens, father and son, will die in the electric chair Friday morning, there is no longer doubt. Their courts' sentence to the last degree and fighting to the last ditch, have reached the end of their rope, and no human agency will prevent the execution of the law, which demands the lives of Floyd and Claude Allen for their participation in the shooting of the court at Hillsville last March.

The final legal effort, which was directed toward saving the life of Claude by an appeal to the United States supreme court, on the plea that the young man's life had been twice jeopardized, thus depriving him of the rights guaranteed him under the constitution, was abandoned yesterday after Messrs. O'Flaherty and Willis had been successfully turned down by Associate Justice Hughes.

Announcing their determination to carry their petition to each of the other seven justices in the effort to secure a writ of error and a stay of execution for the younger Allen, the attorneys remained in Washington all day yesterday, but after a conference decided that further effort was useless and abandoned it.

So far as any executive channel is concerned, Governor Mann sealed the doom of the condemned men several weeks ago and has had no hesitation in stating since his official decision was issued that it was absolutely final.

LOSSES OF INSURANCE COMPANIES WILL BREAK ALL RECORDS

CHICAGO, March 25.—The heavy losses caused by tornadoes in Nebraska, Iowa and Indiana brought out the statement from insurance companies that losses thus far this year on tornado insurance breaks all records, while fire losses are smaller than usual.

Tornadoes do not usually come so early in the year. Insurance agents say that the storms in the south last week were unusually destructive and that the Nebraska storm will pile up the losses. Fifty per cent of the policies affected by the Omaha storm are not yet available, but it is said that many buildings destroyed were protected by tornado insurance.

One castern company collected $1,242 in premiums on such policies in Nebraska alone in 1912.

TO ORGANIZATION BE FORMED BY PROGRESSIVES

Other Members of The House Greatly Stirred

TEDDY TO LEND MESSAGE

Propose a Conference, and Eighteen Have Promised to Attend, Victor Choice For Speaker.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The movement to bring all Progressives in the House into a compact third party organization has stirred up Republican, Progressive-Republican and Independent circles of the House to an unexpected degree. Up to tonight, eighteen members of the House had notified Representative William H. Hinchbaugh of Illinois, the active leader in the organization plan, that they would attend the proposed conference at which Representative Victor Murdock is to be made the Progressive choice for speaker.

The attitude of many of those Progressive-Republicans, denominated "near-Progressives" by Colonel Roosevelt, has not yet been determined. A partial canvass of many of those who have been prominent in the ranks of the insurgent Republican forces for the last two congresses but who are not officially members of the new Progressive party, showed today that the majority of them had not decided whether they would take part in the Progressive conference.

While the Progressives, as represented by Mr. Hinchbaugh, have applied direct for recognition as a separate party in the distribution of committee places, the Progressive-Republicans are still dependent upon the regular Republican organization of which Representative Mann of Illinois is the leader. Some strength was added to the Progressive organization today by the rumor that the Republican leaders were inclined to withdraw some of the choice committee places from the Progressive-Republican members.

The date for the conference or "open caucus" of Progressives, originally set for April 2, was changed today to April 4. Representative Hinchbaugh will go to New York within a few days for a conference with Colonel Roosevelt. The latter is expected to send a personal message to the Progressive gathering. A portion of his recent letter to Representative Hinchbaugh, made public today, follows:

"My Dear Judge Hinchbaugh: "Good for you; I am more than pleased with what you have done. It would be an admirable thing to run Victor Murdock as our candidate for the speakership and I hope that, as you have suggested to him, he will announce himself as willing to accept the nomination of the Progressives for this position.

"Then I think it would be a good thing for the Progressive party that our men should act together and should consult one another freely and in addition that they should keep in the closest touch with near-Progressives so as to act substantially on the same lines, with the idea that they may ultimately join with us. We should go ahead with our organization as a separate, distinct national party, don't you think this is sound?"

Admiral von Tirpitz

Grand Admiral Alfred von Tirpitz, imperial secretary for the German navy and one of the most prominent figures in the official life of the empire, was born March 20, 1849. He started his naval career in early youth and at the age of 40 had risen in the service until he attained the high post of chief of staff to the command of the Baltic naval station.

In 1897 he became secretary for the imperial navy and the following year he was made a minister. In 1902 he was made a Grand Admiral. He is a great favorite of the Emperor, who has a high opinion of his statesmanship as well as his ability as a naval officer and administrator. Recently Admiral von Tirpitz has been spoken of as a probable successor of Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg as chancellor of the empire.

BALKAN WAR IS EXPECTED NEAR AN END

Peniless Turkey Entrusts Her Interests to Powers

ALLIES ACCEPT POWERS' OFFER

Wireless Message From Adrianople Says Turkish Commander Has No Thought Of Surrendering

LONDON, March 22.—Developments of the last week appear to make the conclusion of the Balkan war a matter of only a few days. Turkey, having no hopes of obtaining more money, has entrusted her interest to the good offices of the powers and the allies have accepted the powers' offer of mediation. Representatives of the powers today handed the Balkan premier their memorandum on the basis for mediation. Their plan includes two provisions to which the allies likely will object. The demand for indemnity is vetoed and the powers stipulate that hostilities must cease when their proposals are accepted.

It appears improbable, however, that the allies will refuse to settle on the terms now offered. The war has come practically to a deadlock. Fighting at the Thessalonian lines has been indecisive. A truce, which the Bulgarians proposed to reduce to a truce in a few days, seems to be holding out as strongly as ever after a five months siege and a wireless message from there today declares that the Turkish commander has no thought of surrendering.

Terms Agreed Upon by Powers as Basis for Mediation

SOFIA, March 22.—Representatives of the powers called on Premier Guchov separately this afternoon and handed him the following communication:

- The governments of the great powers take note with satisfaction of the acceptance of their mediation by the allied states and point out to them that before the discussion of the terms of peace is begun it is for the powers to formulate their views as to the basis of negotiation to be adopted.
- The great powers are of the opinion that they be as follows:
 - The frontier of the Ottoman Empire in Europe shall start at Enos and following the course of the Maritza river and then that of the Danube shall end at Mehadia. All territories situated to the west of this line shall be ceded by Turkey to the allied states with the exception of Albania, the delimitation of which shall be fixed by the powers.
 - The question of the Aegean Islands shall be settled by the powers.
 - Turkey shall abandon all claims to Crete.
 - The powers cannot favorably entertain the demand for indemnity but they will admit the allies to participate in the discussion in Paris for an equitable settlement of their partition in the Ottoman debt and in the financial charges of the districts to be handed over to them.

Turkey is to be asked to take part in the labors of this commission. The great powers declare at the same time that as soon as these bases are accepted hostilities shall cease.

Called From Church And Murdered at Steps Edifice

ASHEVILLE, March 22.—Called out of church by an usher while attending divine services at Wesleyan this morning, Henry Sorrells walked into a fusillade of bullets, fired by his cousin, Hardy Sorrells. Three of the bullets took effect, the victim dying almost instantly in front of the church.

Witnesses state that no words passed between the two men prior to the shooting. They assert that Hardy Sorrells began firing as soon as his cousin appeared in the doorway of the church. It is reported that the killing is the aftermath of a violent quarrel between the two men several weeks ago. The slayer was arrested about two hours after the killing and lodged in the county jail. He refuses to make any statement.

For the second time within six months the voters of Michigan are to be given an opportunity to vote April 7 to pass on a proposed women suffrage amendment.

Mr. Heber B. Tripp Again Writes Of Conditions In Mexico

Guadalajara, March 9, 1913. Editor Reflector:

I came here two weeks ago to look after my interest in this city, and found the general conditions very very good; better than I have ever seen here before. The recent trouble in the city has not affected this part of the country at all. The government immediately recognized the new president as soon as advised of change. Guadalajara is one of the most Americanized cities in the republic and I find the very best Mexican people here, even the lower class are more intelligent than other parts of the country. I have taken a good rest here after my excitement in the capital city and am in fine condition for business again.

Now, by view point of the present conditions of the country, what they should be and what they are going to be, there is only one solution and this will come sooner or later, ever get together on a solution for the trouble unless the power in charge exterminates the opposing parties, rebels, classes, or whatever you might call them. The country can only be controlled by a ruler such as old General Diaz and take the head of every man who opposes the government. Who would be an honest leader, what party should be in power, who are the rebels, bandits, etc.?

"This is the question of today in Mexico." All people, foreigners, and who really feel interested in the future welfare of Mexico are waiting to see what Mr. Wilson will say about the matter.

I was somewhat optimistic as to the results of the new administration, but they are not killing them off fast enough for me, and I am afraid another big flame is going to blaze up somewhere. In my mind it is better to kill them, then say, if we had not they would have started another revolution than to turn them loose and afterwards it be said as it was about old General Diaz when he arrested Madero, he first opposed the government and did not kill him. Madero afterwards overthrew General Diaz; again if Madero had killed Felix Diaz when he was captured in Veracruz Madero's government could possibly stand, so killing in Mexico is the only solution.

Those three tobacco markets represented crop sales of 37,222,000 pounds with a total selling return of $7,000,000 of cash income to the farmers of the local tobacco belt.

The above "fancy facts" prove without question there is money to be made in growing tobacco along the Norfolk Southern railroad. Thousands of acres of rich but idle tobacco land, similar to the farms referred to above, still await the coming planter and homeseeker.

The soil and climatic conditions in a large part of the territory served by the Raleigh, Charlotte and Southern railway are entirely favorable to equally as good results in the culture of tobacco as indicated above.

PUS THE MANURE SPREADER FIRST

No farmer who has never owned or used a manure spreader can have any adequate idea of its real value or what a luxury, so to speak, it is to own and operate one of these machines. With a spreader it is so easy to haul out the manure and spread the same very evenly all over the field, and to do so when it ought to be done, as fast as it is made and a load accumulates and there is a field ready to receive it. I think more about the value of farmyard manure, and it helps me to conserve and to accumulate more of it than I did before I got a spreader. Furthermore, manure can be made to go twice as far, and will do twice as much good as that spread by hand with a fork.

TWO-HORSE IMPLEMENTS MUST SUCCEED ONE-HORSE

The vital need of most Southern farmers is more and better machinery and what impresses one most in looking over the farms of the south, is the almost total lack of adequate farm machinery. The 900 or 1,000 pound mule and Boy Dixie plow does not, and never can, mean good farming. The heavy mule and disk or gang plow should replace them as fast as possible.

The two-row, or check-row corn planter and pivot-wheel riding cultivator should replace the hand cultivator and one-row planters. And on the level lands of the south, the six or seven foot cut mower will do a better investment than the four or five foot. Also the wide two-horse rake will do much faster work than the narrower one-horse.—Chas. S. Wadsworth, in The Progressive Farmer.

All horses and mules that have done little or no work during the winter should be prepared for the severe strain of the bad spring work. We do not expect a race horse or an athlete to do good work without training and the work horse is no different in this respect. Begin to feed a little more and gradually increase the feed and work so as to have the animals in better condition when the very hard work comes in the spring. Many an animal is made less efficient for the whole season because with muscles soft, a long coat of hair and unaccustomed to a full ration he is put to the hardest work of the last few days of the spring, which are always the most trying for man or beast.—The Progressive Farmer.

"The Tau" is the name of an exceedingly bright little paper published by Greenville High School and printed by The Reflector. The first number just out is as spicy as can be. The matter and contributions is by members of the class. It is the purpose to bring out the paper monthly during the school term.

From the Charlotte Observer tells of a Cabarrus county farmer who had so much cotton lying around his farm, that five bales of it were stolen and he did not even know of it until some time later when he went to count up. Well, some folks are so rich that they do not miss it if they lose a little.

The Japanese empire has taken offense at certain bills pending before the California legislature that are considered hostile to the Japanese in that state, and declares if the bills pass will withdraw her support from the Panama exposition, refuse to make an exhibit and prohibit her subjects from having any connection with the fair.

The announcement comes again that ex-Governor Glenn and ex-Speaker Justice will both be candidates for Senator Overman's place two years hence. Certainly they have the right to be candidates if they so desire, but we believe it will be a waste of time and effort. The people of North Carolina will hardly be willing to see as useful a man as Senator Overman put out of office.

Greenville needs more men like Mr. J. H. Randolph, who came back to this section last year after an extended sojourn in South America where he made a snug fortune. He is making investments that count in the upbuilding of his old home town. A dozen men like him would give us a city in a short while.

Mrs. Julia Gold, wife of Elder P. D. Gold, of Wilson, died Saturday at an advanced age. They recently celebrated their golden wedding. Many friends throughout the state are sorrowed at her death.

The Durham Sun certainly has it streaked of kindness in its make-up. It gave a young lady an opportunity to get before the public a poem, in memory of her brother who had been dead more than a year.

The Reflector's good friends, the enterprising advertisers, are pushing it on toward the coveted goal of a regular 8-page paper. We hope they will get it there early.

A little bird tells us that some folks are laying plans that will give The Reflector an opportunity to tell of another big enterprise for Greenville before many more new moons come.

Dr. M. B. Pitt, of Old Sparta, died Tuesday. He was prominent both in his profession and in politics, and several times represented Edgecombe county in the legislature.

Saturday night a burglar broke into the office of the Raleigh Times, but not, however. He must have been awful green to think of finding money around a print shop.

No need of any one in the present age being worried over the declaration of Ella Wheeler Wilcox, that meat eating will be the thing of the past with us a hundred years from now.

The Greenville High School ball team losing the three first games of the season, is no reason the boys are not going to turn the table first thing you know.

Raleigh is right down in earnest to get the commission form of government. It is something that every municipality of consequence ought to have.

Quite a contrast with the spring weather down this way, are the heavy sleets of the last few days out of the west.

Around this way the new nickle will be just as acceptable as any other kind.

The Evening Times now prints Raleigh in capital letters. That fits all round, for it is capital, you know.

The matter and contributions is by members of the class. It is the purpose to bring out the paper monthly during the school term.

A big New York swindler who was captured in New Orleans, is said to be suffering with a "heart attack". Nothing strange about that.

The waiters turn up their noses at the new nickle as readily as at the old kind. They regard anything less than a quarter as cheap.

A SLICK FAKIR
People as a rule are so easily fooled that a man with almost any kind of a fake can come around and induce them to hand over their good money to him. One of the slickest on the road recently visited Concord, and we print below what the Tribune says about him, so that if he should strike any where in this section people may know in advance that he is a fraud:
"A man who registered at the St. Cloud Hotel yesterday morning as C. Rappaport, of Baltimore, set up a little stand on the street and offered for sale what he claimed were bulbs that would sprout and grow beautiful flowers in water. His sample was a beauty. He had it in a glass jar, and it looked "just as natural" as could be. He did a land office business until about noon today, when it was accidentally discovered that his bulbs were pure fakes. He occupied a room yesterday at the St. Cloud Hotel and in this was found this morning the evidences that the flowers were fixed up for "purpose of sale only." There were found a lot of white which he filled the "bulbs" as he held them steadily in the bottom of the jar. Several geranium cuttings of Wandering Jew were also there. These were arranged together by some fine wire, stuck on the bulb and to the flower. "Chief of Police Boger was notified of the fake and promptly advised the gentleman to move on, which he proceeded to do just as promptly, not, however, until he was forced to sever the money paid him by several persons who were fortunate enough to be around before he could get away. He sold hundreds of the fake bulbs yesterday and today."
"No doubt he has sought pasture fresh and it is safe to say that unless this little article catches up with him he will find just as many "suckers" in other towns as he found in Concord."

The place to keep your eye on is the one that is progressing as Greenville is doing.

Talking about the Black Hand, you can find almost any small boy with two.

Maybe the question mark on the new hats means the price.

New York can also develop a scandal in hair.

The Reward of Idleness
One of the most pitiable situations imaginable is where a boy grows to be 18 to 22 years old and finds it necessary to begin work to make a living without ever having been required before to do any constructive work or learn any particular trade or acquire any other habit than the habit of idleness. There is in mind a case where a man was a most successful cotton mill superintendent. He was paid $2,000 to $3,000 a year salary. He had a fine lot of children and the girls grew up to be industrious and reliable. His boys were not required to work, consequently at 21 and 22 years old they found themselves without the income other boys of their age had and not accustomed to work for wages or a salary either. The modern theory of prohibiting child labor or other labor which encourages a child to grow up in idleness is one of the worst to the modern race. This superintendent's son when hunting a job, being asked what he could do, said "Nothing in particular, but will try to do anything". There is the rub when they come really face to face with life and the father is dead and gone, the injury that was done is being encouraged them in idleness is perceived.

Every boy ought to commence to learn some trade at 11 or 12 years of age. It should be the business of the state that proper restrictions were put about all young apprentices, but to forbid them working to learn how to make a living in subsequent life, is an everlasting injury to them and to all other children. No successful parent should use any of a large salary or large income to make it possible for a young man from 15 to 20 to get along without himself working. It is a matter of indifference to the parent if the child is a beggar, if he is not able to take care of himself and his families. The girls usually do better and in the case referred to the girls are working and supporting in part their young men, because the young men cannot get anything to do. It is a most pitiable situation and must be extremely humiliating to the young men who have been accustomed to live on the high tide of some of their parents' money.

85 PER HORSE A YEAR FOR PA-PERS; 85 PER HORSE A YEAR FOR BOOKS
There is one fact that cannot be too strongly emphasized, and that is, that while you want to make your neighborhood a reading neighborhood, it must be the right sort of reading. A semi-weekly or tri-weekly edition of some city daily, its news columns filled with stories of suicides and murders and scandals and railroad wrecks and criminal trials, and its advertising columns filled with shameless announcements of patent medicine fakirs, whiskey distillers and quack doctors—such a paper would help you at all. Nor will a cheap monthly, with sensational stories and fortune telling articles and fraudulent "free" advertisements in unlimited numbers.
You must spend some money to get the best local paper, the best farm papers, the best magazines, even if they do cost more—the clean, wholesome, wide-awake, ably edited papers that stand for progress, for improvement and for high ideals.

In fact, in this plan to make your neighborhood a reading neighborhood, the very first idea to get rid of, is that you must have cheap reading matter.

We never can make the south what it ought to be, you never can make your neighborhood what it ought to be, until the farmers get rid of the idea that their minds are not worth feeding. A man has got to believe in himself more than that, must have more respect for his brain and his mind, before he can amount to anything. He must believe that his own mind and his children's minds deserve the best intellectual food he can find—and plenty of it. He would not let his children go with two meals a day when they need three. Why, then, should he compel them to get along with only an occasional monthly or semi-monthly feast of intellectual food instead of seeing to it that the best papers to be had come to his home every week?

No hard and fast rule can be laid down, but a reasonable minimum can be fixed and we would say that no man is doing right by himself or his family if he spends less than $10 a year for papers, magazines and books for each horse he works—say $5 for papers and $5 for books for the one-horse farmer; $10 for papers and $10 for books for the two-horse farmer, etc.

Five dollars a year per horse for papers; $5 a year per horse for books—provided the right sort of papers books were selected—would soon revolutionize the south and go far to dispel the ignorance that the inefficiency our schools has cursed us with. No man who is not poor enough to starve his mind.—Progressive Farmer.

Admiral Sir Charles Campbell
Vice Admiral Sir Charles Campbell, one of the distinguished veterans of the British navy, was born at St. Andrews, Scotland, March 27, 1847, and entered the navy at 13 years of age. As a young man he distinguished himself by remaining under water for a period of 1 minute and 43 seconds, a record breaking performance at the time. In his long career Admiral Campbell has seen service in all parts of the world and has had many interesting experiences. He made the trip around the world in the "Galathea" when that ship was commanded by the Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Queen Victoria. He was present at the taking of Cyprus and the insurrection of Crete and was transport officer during Lord Wolseley's campaign against Ashi Pasha in the course of an expedition against the African potentate at Benin he saved many wounded from the fire that swept the city and for his heroic action was decorated with the Distinguished Service Order. Vice Admiral Campbell served as aide-de-camp to Queen Victoria and to King Edward.

This is no Gangle but Prosie
HANRAHAN, March 22.—After mature thought and earnest consideration, I am truly sorry to say that I am forced to conclude that there are those who like to sling ink and put their names in great big letters as conspicuous as was the Janine Artificial Mayflower that adorned the party given at the Hanrahan school building for some time since, and were the real brain matter manifested in this prided article put in the hull of a mustard seed, that gray matter would have more space than would a bull frog have in the gulf of Mexico. I have watched carefully the articles in your paper for some time, and have utterly failed to see one that ginged which dealt in personalities at all, save one that in winding up did mention once the name of Clark and that in a lawless way, but the one who is pro-se does not dispute the conclusion that the articles published in your paper for some time, are those who are easily in need of helping to a higher plain of life and if there is anything in life that makes feel better than any other it is to feel that I have been instrumental in helping some fellow to a higher life.

Now, in conclusion let me say to our friend who is so glib in trying to attack what others have written, he had better get some second grade school boy to teach him what a personality is. And until then if he has any articles to publish, let him send them to me, or to some other person who will draw a crowd.

Atlantic Coast Realty Company Conducts Another Big Land Sale
The streets of our town yesterday morning resounded with the cry of "land", the occasion being the sale of the Munford farm just across the river by the Atlantic Coast Realty Company. Quite a while before the hour set for the auction of this land out of town people from miles around thronged the streets and listened to the "all-star" band of the Realty Company, as they paraded several streets of the town, previous to their departure to the farm.

The sale began at 10:30 o'clock with nearly a thousand people on the grounds and city and county brokers as auctioneers, the company was not long disposing of the tracts selling all but six. The highest price paid per acre was $100.00.

Shortly after noon a fine barbecue dinner was served and those in attendance enjoyed the treat to the fullest extent.

It is indeed a pleasure to attend the sales conducted by these people and watch their genteel business methods of selling real estate.

Mrs. H. S. Sheppard, who conducted the advertising campaign for the sale, certainly showed his efficiency in drawing a crowd.

Mr. Smith May Recover From Pistol Shot
Reports as to the condition of Mr. W. L. Smith, who on Sunday night was shot by Mr. Chas. McLachorn, a son of Mr. Ben McLachorn, about three miles west of Ayden, is very gratifying, and it is now thought that the wound inflicted by the pistol ball is not quite as serious as was at first thought by the attending physician. The whereabouts of McLachorn remains a mystery to Sheriff Dudley and his corps of deputies. The search for the would-be murderer continues, and officers have hopes of soon rounding him up.

Mr. Jesse A. Pilley Weds Held
CHAPEL HILL, March 26.—The inability of the Trinity College, Conn. baseball line to land a single safe hit from the twirling of the University of North Carolina team, combined with an abundance of costly errors by the Connecticut lads, led their overwhelming defeat today by a score of 10 to 1.

Carolina's youthful pitcher, Ben Aycock, ran the gamut of their defeat unswervingly throughout the nine innings and it was only by a bunt in the second inning that a lone run was tallied to their credit.

To the credit of Aycock is the distinction of pitching the first no hit game on home grounds in a complete year, the last man to start so gloriously was "Red" Stewart, Connecticut's pitching staff proved weak, and it was in the second inning that a change was made, Swift substituting for Warner.

Carolina's Carolina's hefty slugger, called a two bagger in the second inning, sweeping the bases and added to the costly errors committed by Trinity, six runs were credited to the Tar Heel's tally sheet in this inning.

In the sixth inning the only other starting play of the game was recorded when Captain Edwards' three bagger, followed in close succession by Johnson's second two base hit.

The names of Klutz, Remitz, Broel, Lott, Harberg, Gella, Shoyak, Stovell, Menik, Dallford, Jensen, Ulyoman, Stappers, Locooco Hulse Maerlich, Wirsing, Wexler, Szabo, Tietelbaum, Treitel, Carman, Gove, Brundage, Mahoney, Braum, Kimmelman, Ubert, Sarlin, Trosky, Mullan and Deibel are the first to assail the eye on turning to a page of advertisements.

In another connection or two these will be good old American names. Meanwhile New York will continue to be our foremost European capital.

SAYS ALL WOMEN ARE LIARS
German Diplomat, Who Got the "Mit-ten," Declares Fair Sex Deficient Morally.

"All women are liars and are deficient in their sense of moral duty." This and more is the opinion of Baron Hermann von Kuhlmann of Bavaria, minister and attaché to the German embassy at Pekin, who arrived on the Chylo Mara recently.

According to fellow passengers, the Baron formed his views on the woman when his attention to Miss Katharine Enright of Chicago did not meet with hearty response.

"A woman cannot recognize the same moral responsibility as a man," said the Baron. "No marriage can remain a happy one for more than a year. By that time a man will lose faith in his wife."
