

PRES. WILSON IS PUZZLE TO POLITICIANS

Senator Says He Expects Wilson To Make One Of The Greatest Executive Officers The Country Has Had

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Pres. Wilson is a puzzle to Washington politicians. His like has not been seen here in many a day. He receives callers, listens to their troubles or rejoicings, and resumes the even tenor of his way. His profound silence sees the officials in the favor of the hunter. Three times the suffragists have visited him and three times he has said nothing to indicate his attitude toward the cause of suffrage.

Sen. L. M. Simmons of North Carolina, who as chairman of the Senate committee on the Representative Underwood, and President Wilson deny is going to make one of the frame a tariff bill, thinks the present greatest executives the country ever had.

"Pres. Wilson weighs men and their statements," said Mr. Simmons. "He listens, absorbs and then acts. President Taft took up a thing today and dropped it tomorrow. Roosevelt watched the popular wind and sometimes rode it. Mr. Wilson is weighing everything and everybody. It would be a difficult task to impose upon him."

The impression that Sen. Simmons got from a visit to two of the White House is in line with what other congressmen get. Mr. Wilson is keeping his head and does not let any sort of story throw him off the track.

National Chairman McCombs May yet Accept the Post at Paris

WASHINGTON, April 2.—White House officials were unable today to throw any light on the report that Democratic National Chairman William F. McCombs had reconsidered his decision to accept the post at Paris and was now inclined to take the post.

Mr. McCombs has for nearly a month been undecided while on one day he had informed the White House he would accept the next day or two after that. Mr. McCombs signified his intention of reconsidering.

To all inquirers at the White House officials today admitted that they were puzzled and did not know exactly what Mr. McCombs would do. On the day before the senate adjourned Mr. McCombs telephoned the White House to prepare his nomination and indicated that he would like to be confirmed before the Senate adjourned.

In Memory of Pony Express

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 2.—With interesting exercises conducted in the presence of a large crowd of spectators a handsome granite monument was unveiled here today to mark the site of the spot from which the first pony express rider started across the plains on April 3, 1860. The memorial was erected by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Look to Your Plumbing

You know what happens in a house in which the plumbing is in poor condition—everybody in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house and they should be kept in first class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get quick relief. For sale by all druggists.

Reports to the department of agriculture are to the effect that the frost and the cold in more places in damage and cold last week did not crop in this state. Plums and peaches may be short as the result of the frost, but peaches and apples are promised in abundance. There is still time for the cold to do its worst work.

Universities of Virginia, Johns Hopkins and North Carolina will Debate April 19

CHAPEL HILL, April 2.—The high school record of the freshmen class that averaged 100 on all grades, began Sept. 1—January, 1911-12, and 1912-13, includes one member of the class that averaged 100 on all grades. In the University of North Carolina, the distinction and individual credit is due A. R. Newson. The high schools of Greensboro and Charlotte led all high schools represented at the University in the scholarship exhibit, each school contributing four students each to the record of not less than 90 on all studies. Raleigh, Winston-Salem, and Webbs schools furnish two students each in the scholarship record.

"What happened to Jones," the successful comedy staged by the Dramatic Club of the University of North Carolina, is booked to make a tour of a number of North Carolina towns during the next two weeks. Visits to the following eastern towns have been planned: Fayetteville, Wilmington, Winston, Smithfield, Wilson and Wenden. This production by the dramatic talent of the University has met with due recognition wherever it has been staged and it was met with such favor in Raleigh that its second appearance was made.

The triangular debate between the universities of Virginia, Johns Hopkins and North Carolina, to be held on neutral grounds, is scheduled for April 19. The query to be discussed by the three institutions is: "Resolved, That disregarding the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, the tolls of the Panama Canal should be the same to the merchant ships of all nations."

Professor P. H. Boynton, of the University of Chicago, delivered the second of the series of lectures by eminent Americans under the auspices of the University faculty Friday night. His subject was "The London of Dickens." Maintaining a high record as a lecturer, well as a writer and teacher, his lecture was in keeping with the high standard aimed at in these lectures by scholars from all sections of the country.

Sulzer Goes After Barnes

ALBANY, N. Y., April 2.—Governor Sulzer tonight accused William Barnes, chairman of the Republican state committee, of having instigated the resolution offered yesterday by Senator Brown requesting the Senate Judiciary committee to determine what, if any, action should be taken by the Senate or the Legislature in relation to a published letter in which Barnes, in a man who instigated the resolution, is a part of the invisible government. He has no business meddling with the legislature. There would be a howl if Mr. Murphy came here and went into Senator Wagner's room and drew resolutions against the governor. I want Mr. Barnes to keep away from the Capitol. He is the Republican loss. The people do not want bosses up there. The people are the bosses now.

"Even if I had promised I would sign the full crew bill it would be all right on April 2, 1909. The memorandum they would sign certain bills if they could get them passed. There is nothing wrong in that. I notice Governor Fielders signed a full crew bill yesterday over in New Jersey. Between the railroads and the people, I am with the people. In my opinion, one human life is worth more than a train of freight cars."

Senator Brown denied that Mr. Barnes had any part in drafting his resolution. Governor Sulzer said tonight that John Fitzgibbon, of Oswego, a legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen had denied the authorship of a letter accredited to him, in which the statement was made that the governor had promised to sign the full crew bill if elected.

The state building commission, in its work of supervising the erection of the new administration building, met here again today for the purpose of furnishing the interior. It will require about $75,000 to make the building ready for its occupants.

Some Things We're Doing

HANRAHAN, March 31.—Methinks it was Father Ryan who expressed these thoughts, though in more laudatory language than I can put them. "There are pearls which lie in the ocean far beyond human reach. There are chords which break on the music too sacred for mortal ear. And thoughts that enter this 'noisy' world on the wings of the wind, and are lost as the wind blows." But just here I must come to a halt along this line else my friend should think I am going off on the Longfellow route again.

I started out to tell something of what we are doing at Hanrahan. Our highways are beginning to look some thing like the one depicted by one of the major prophets for indeed they are beginning to look beautiful and surely no ravenous beasts shall travel thereon, because we keep stock enclosed in pastures green and our land looks like the garden of Eden. We have sufficient for all the pasture they need and with wife to fence them and therefore we are all of us just plain people, though we have but very few, if any, "common" people.

Our new organ has just arrived for the school and is one of our music will charm as well as inspire, for we have musical talent among our plain people that can't be excelled. Beauty and true modesty adorn our maidens. Such as only those fortunate ones who daily do all among nature's charms can put on or wear.

I feel safe in saying that our school is not surpassed in excellent work by any rural school in the county and is equaled but by few and that includes the state for we have as good schools in Pitt county as anywhere in North Carolina.

Now, if anyone thinks that I am tooting our horn too loud let that doubting Thomas write to Prof. Ray Funderburke, principal of the High School, or to me, and I will return it with postage and pay for the stationery, even if you use gilt-edged paper.

If necessary, address U Know, Hanrahan, N. C. I'll get it, but remember I was too old to go to school when Funderburke was a stripping writer and teacher, his lecture was in keeping with the high standard aimed at in these lectures by scholars from all sections of the country.

Found a Cure for Rheumatism

"I suffered with rheumatism for two years and could not get my right hand to my mouth for that length of time," writes Leo L. Chapman, Mapleton, Iowa. "I suffered terribly. I am now well and sleep as the still of night. Five years ago I began using Chamberlain's Liniment and in two months I was well and had not suffered with rheumatism since." COATED TONGUE MEANS A LAZY LIVER.

A Lazy Liver Needs a Dose of Dodson's Liver-Tone—Guaranteed to Take Place of Calomel.

When your doctor looks to see if your tongue is coated, he is trying to find out if your liver is working properly. A few years ago doctors had to prescribe calomel—there was nothing else to give.

Recently in many sections of the country Dodson's Liver-Tone has practically taken the place of calomel as a liver remedy. Dodson's Liver-Tone is a fine medicine for use when your children become bilious and constipated. But the most remarkable feature of Dodson's Liver-Tone is the fact that Bismuth's Pharmacy, who sells it, guarantees it absolutely. The druggist will refund your money without argument if a bottle fails to give entire satisfaction.

Price, 50 cents. We suggest that you get a bottle today and have it ready for the next member of your family whose liver goes wrong. (adv.)

OFFICER CLARK PUT THE SEARCH AND SEIZURE LAW IN TO EFFECT

The first trial here under the search and seizure law, that went into effect on the first of the month, took place this morning before Mayor F. M. Wooten, and as a result two colored men are held under bond for Superior Court.

Policeman G. A. Clark had his liquor sent out Wednesday night. He found the trail all right, and secreted himself near the house of Young Vincent. In a short while Louis Allen appeared on the scene with a package and as he went into Young's house was heard to remark: "If I didn't get ahead of George Clark that time." The officer waited a few minutes for them to get busy, and about the time they were drawing liquor from the package and putting it in bottles, he showed in, captured four gallons of liquor and both negroes.

Another case before the mayor this morning was Wm. Brown who was caught in the act while making a sale of liquor. Brown was also bound over to Superior Court.

ALL FOOLS' DAY

College Girls "Cut" Studies And Parade Streets

Forty girls from the Presbyterian College gave Charlotte almost its sole reminder that yesterday was All Fools' Day. Had it not been for them the celebration of this notable date would have been almost nonexistent. Hiding all textbooks on which they could lay their hands, they then hid themselves forth from the confining walls of the college, and marching in single file, "did" the uptown portion of the city in a game of "Follow leader". Having circumnavigated the shopping district executing varied figures, they distributed the steps of the public library and gave that epic cheer, which begins with "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," and then ends with one interrogatory sentence. Having thus expressed themselves they marched back to the college in buoyant spirits. A prominent citizen endeavored to persuade a policeman to carry out the spirit of the day by placing the entire charge under arrest, presumably on a charge of truancy, but the officer couldn't see it that way.

The illness of President C. B. King of Elizabeth College caused the students there to voluntarily forego the usual observance of the day. The principals of the graded schools cruelted forestalled the usual scheme of many of the pupils to decamp for home at recess time according to ancient custom. Recess was abolished and the pupils performed remained at their desks, despite the call of the sun-shine and the budding spring which beckoned them out of doors.—Charlotte Observer.

So it seems the schools are pretty much alike in playing April fool jokes on the teachers.

The situation that results throughout the country where many legislatures have adjourned until 1915 is such as to give confusion in the minds of members of the senate, as to how the early steps toward direct election of senators will be carried out.

While the proclamation of the secretary of state announcing final ratification of the amendment by 36 states is required by law, Senators Bristol and Borah, leaders in the direct elections fight in congress, expressed the opinion today that the amendment is for all practical purposes now a part of the constitution.

"Any man who may be elected to the senate hereafter must be elected directly," said Senator Borah.

The new enactment gives to the state legislatures, however, the right to prescribe the methods for electing senators. Many legislatures have adjourned and will not convene until early in 1915, a few weeks before the terms of over 20 senators expire. It is expected that in many states the legislatures will adopt the plan authorized in the new amendment and direct the governors to appoint senators temporarily, until after the people can elect them at regularly called elections. Special sessions of the legislatures will be urged in many states so that the necessary laws can be passed before the general elections of 1914. In some states action has been taken or will be before the legislatures end their present sessions, authorizing the people to vote for senators at next year's election.

The choice of a senator in Maryland for the place now held by Senator Jackson, would have been made by the legislature next year under the old system. A special session of the Maryland legislature would be necessary to provide laws by which a popular election could occur next year.

In the opinion of members of the senate no successor can be appointed by the governor under the new provision when Senator Jackson's term expires unless the legislature shall have especially directed such action.

ELECTION OF SENATORS BY THE PEOPLE

Made Compulsory by Connecticut's Ratification

IS EFFECTIVE AT ONCE

In The Future United States Senators Will Be Elected By Vote Of The People. May Prescribe Method

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Direct election of United States senators by the people was authorized and made compulsory today when the Connecticut legislature ratified the constitutional amendment submitted by congress less than a year ago. Ratification already had been given by 35 states.

The situation that results throughout the country where many legislatures have adjourned until 1915 is such as to give confusion in the minds of members of the senate, as to how the early steps toward direct election of senators will be carried out.

While the proclamation of the secretary of state announcing final ratification of the amendment by 36 states is required by law, Senators Bristol and Borah, leaders in the direct elections fight in congress, expressed the opinion today that the amendment is for all practical purposes now a part of the constitution.

Wilson's Message Urges Revision of The Tariff

enter into the cost of living are dealt with thus:

- On the free list: Wool, boots and shoes, lumber, coal, sewing machines.
- Materially reduced: Medicinal preparations, soap, washing soda and borax, china and crockery ware, furniture, spool thread, woolen and cotton clothing and other products, table and kitchenware and umbrellas.

The message urged that special privileges and exemptions from competition be cut out of the nation's tariff system and that the revision be made to square with the facts as they are. At the outset the president called attention to the party's pledge for tariff reduction.

The president's message follows: "I am very glad to have this opportunity to address the two houses directly and to verify for myself the impression that the president of the United States is a person, not a mere department of the government, who has feet quite normal in all our dealings with one another."

"I have called the congress together in extraordinary session because a duty was laid upon the party now in power at the recent elections which it ought to perform promptly. In order that the burden carried by the people under the existing laws may be lightened as soon as possible and in order, also, that the business interests of the country may not be kept too long in suspense as to what fiscal changes are to be which they will be required to adjust themselves. It is clear to the whole country that the tariff duties to be altered. They must be changed to meet the radical alteration in the conditions of our economic life which the country has witnessed within the last generation. While the whole method of our industrial and commercial life were being changed beyond recognition the tariff schedules have remained what they were before the change began, or have been changed in a manner that has done nothing to meet the new conditions."

White Man Goes To Penitentiary For Shooting Colored Woman

WILMINGTON, April 8.—For shooting a negro woman, the gunshot wound necessitating amputation of one of her legs, W. G. Baldwin, a well known white man of this county and a well to do merchant of the village of Castle Hayne, was sentenced to three years at hard labor in the state penitentiary.

Baldwin went to the home of the woman in search of a negro man and while there became infuriated and shot the woman. The wound came near ending in her death and caused the loss of her limb. After a hard fought trial he was convicted in the superior court, but while the jury was considering his case, Baldwin, who was out on bond, tried to escape, but was overtaken by officers in an automobile.

In spite of earnest pleas of his counsel, he was sentenced to the penitentiary by Judge Justice, who is holding court here. Baldwin is a married man and has three children.

Anniversary of Surrender

Today is the anniversary of General Lee's surrender. He layed down arms at Appomattox 45 years ago.

The statement was made to the Finance Committee during the morning, that it was a matter that should be heard by the board.

Mr. Goodwin said that the statement was that concerning a statement was that a statement made him by City Clerk Glenn during the morning and that a half hour later he had heard again of the matter from Alderman Hebb. At this Mr. Webb stated that he had received his information from a party with whom Mr. Glenn had talked and not from Mr. Goodwin.

Mr. Goodwin stated then that City Clerk Glenn told him that $25 had been taken from his desk in the old city building and 261 at a later date in the same building and had again been robbed of a larger amount, $1,405, in the new building, this also taken from his desk. The first robbery, Mr. Glenn stated, had been reported to the board of audit and finance, that as to the others he had been robbed of a larger amount. He stated that he had not used it one evening, but that in closing his desk the roller top had caught on a 14 inch roller, the desk failed to lock and the $1,405, so left on it was gone next morning.

Many Hear Prison Evangelist George Crabtree

An audience that crowded the capacity of the church assembled in Memorial Baptist church Sunday night to hear the lecture of Prison Evangelist George Crabtree.

Mr. Crabtree spoke for an hour and a half and entertained the large crowd with ease. He spoke in a plain common sense style and devoted most of his time to a description of the prison life in this and other states. Texas and other states were mentioned for the reforms that they had instituted within the past few years, and some other states also received their share of condemnation for the evils they still allow to be perpetuated within their prison walls.

While Mr. Crabtree was not severe on North Carolina and Pitt county in his reproach, he did cite some instances of harsh treatment and gross neglect to the prisoners that should be remedied. Especially did he call attention to our Pitt county, and the chain gang and asked the Christian people to investigate both. He complimented very highly the condition of our county jail.

Mr. Crabtree digressed at times to lay the blame for much of the crime on whiskey and cigarette smoking by boys in knee trousers.

The lecture was interesting and very instructive and the description of prison life has often been corroborated by magazine articles. Such work should be encouraged and our prison authorities taught how to become more humane to the unfortunate prisoners.

Why Wait Until It Is Too Late

A bottle of GOWAN'S King of Eternals in the home may save complications in Croup, Colds or Pneumonia. External it can do no harm—it has assisted thousands in dispelling colds that might have proved serious.

This is what a prominent person says:
"My personal use and observation convinces me that you cannot claim too much for Gowans' Preparation. Can give you names of two well known people who think they owe their recovery from desperate pneumonia attacks to Gowans. The nurses state it is remarkable how soon it stops the spread of congestion and lowers temperature."

What Does the Home Need This Season?

How about the refrigerator? Do you think it will serve another season? Old refrigerators are unsanitary and unsatisfactory. A new one at the right price would be an excellent investment.

What about the glassware supply and how about table linens? Have you taken an inventory recently of the contents of the china cabinet and the sideboard? What about new rugs? Have you given any thought to the question of curtains?

This is a good time to think of these things. The stores are full of splendid opportunities to "buy right".

The advertisements in THE REFLECTOR are always full of valuable suggestions and you don't want to overlook opportunities.

Figure out what you need in the home for the coming season and then take counsel with THE REFLECTOR'S advertisers.

Memorial Services in New York to the Late J. P. Morgan

NEW YORK, April 6.—Memorial services for the late J. Pierpont Morgan were held today in St. George's Protestant Episcopal church of which he was for 40 years a vestryman, and in which his funeral is to take place on April 14. Each worshiper found in the rack before him a church bulletin recording the death of Mr. Morgan, who was a regular attendant and took an active part in the services, one of his accustomed duties being the reading of the collection plate. The pew that he frequently occupied, although all the pews in the church are free, was filled today with strangers.

Mr. Morgan's favorite hymn, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," was not on the day's musical program, but hymns of which he was fond, including "Nearer, My God, to Thee," were by the congregation, while the choir sang the anthem, "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled." The rector, the Rev. Dr. Van Buren, eulogized the late financier in the sermon. In part he said: "While I have been speaking to you, I have had in mind the personality of that truly great man who was received from among us—our senior ward—his free and open heart, his quick, unkindness and his secret hand, so generous with its means that no one knows the mighty blessings he sent straight to many lives."

Health is Worth Saving and Some Greenville People Know How To Save It

Many Greenville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Greenville citizen's recommendation:

Backache annoyed me and there was much lameness and weakness through my sides. My kidneys did not do their work as they should and the bitter secretions bothered me. How to Cook Husbands—A Word to the Ladies

"A great many husbands are spoiled by mismanagement. Some women go about it as if their husbands were babies, and blow them up; others keep them constantly in hot water; others let them freeze, by their carelessness and indifference. Some keep them in a stew by irritating ways; don't words; others roast them; some keep them in pickle all their lives. Now it is not to be supposed that any husband will be good, managed in this way—turnips wouldn't; onions wouldn't; cabbage heads wouldn't; and husbands won't; but they are really delicious when properly treated.

"In selecting your husband you should not be guided by the silver appearance as in buying mackerel, or by the golden tint, as if you wanted salmon. Be sure to select him yourself, as taste differs. And, by the way, don't forget to market for him; some keep them in pickle all their lives. Now it is not to be supposed that any husband will be good, managed in this way—turnips wouldn't; onions wouldn't; cabbage heads wouldn't; and husbands won't; but they are really delicious when properly treated.

"See that the linen in which you wrap him is nicely washed and mended, with the required amount of buttons and strings nicely sewed on. Tie him in the kettle with a strong cord called Comfort, as the one called Love is apt to be weak. They sometimes fly out of the kettle, and become burned and crusty on the eyes, since, like crabs and oysters, you have to cook them alive.

"Make a clean, strong, steady fire out of Love, Neatness, and Cheerfulness. Set him on a stove that seems to agree with him. If he sputters and fizzes, don't be anxious; some husbands do this until they are quite done. Add a little sugar, in the form of what confectioners call Kisses, but no vinegar or pepper on any account. A little spice improves him, but he must be used with judiciousness.

"Don't stick any sharp instruments into him, to see if he is becoming tender. Stir him gently, watching the white heat he should lie close to the kettle and so become inert and useless.

"You cannot fail to know when he is done. If thus treated, you will find him very digestible, agreeing nicely with you and the children."—Elizabeth Strong Worthington.

WILSON DISCUSS FEW MINOR PLUMS

Will Take Up Question of Post-masterships

SENATORS ARE CONSULTED

Expect to Turn These Appointments Loose by the Hundreds During the Week. First Dinner to Cabinet

WASHINGTON, April 15.—President Wilson cut away his regular afternoon program of receptions today and consulted a number of Senators about prospective appointments. Senators Vandamm, of Mississippi; LaFollette, of Wisconsin; Martin and Swanson, of Virginia; Hall of New Mexico, and Warren and Clark of Wyoming, were among those summoned to the White House. The president is understood to have discussed only minor appointments.

Samuel Houston Thompson, of Denver, former Republican Attorney General of Colorado, has been selected for assistant attorney general of the United States before the Court of Claims. To make one of the president's students at Princeton and a member of the famous Princeton eleven of '96.

Tomorrow night Mr. Wilson will give his first dinner to the cabinet. Cleveland H. Dodge of New York, a Princeton classmate and Col. M. House's another intimate friend, will be among the guests.

Burleson Will Allow Republican Appointees to Serve Out Their Terms

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Postmaster General Burleson announced today that it was the administration's policy to continue all Republican postmasters now in office to the end of their terms, provided no charges were sustained against them. The efficiency policy applies to all classes of postmasters.

"My department will be run on business lines and not by politics," said Mr. Burleson, in explaining the necessity. He declared that there must be some removals but he believed that the majority of the postmasters were efficient and would not be disturbed.

"There will have to be specific charges of inefficiency, however," he added, "before anyone will be removed."

Yesterday's Fight. Citrus fruits and cotton and meat were the chief targets of the opposition in the caucus today, the cotton schedule still being under consideration upon adjournment. No changes were made in the committee bill, as a result of the day's discussion, advocates of increased duty on wheat, as well as those favoring its free listing being voted down and members who urged increases duties on citrus fruits, pineapples, cotton yarns and other articles meeting a like fate.

Representative Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee, who was ill yesterday, was able to resume control of the bill in the caucus today. Representative Rye, of Illinois, had charge of the agricultural schedule for the ways and means committee.

The most stubborn opposition of the day came from southern members on some of the cotton rates. Representative Webb of North Carolina, proposed an increase in the present rates on the committee bill, and otherwise finished yarn. The committee's rates of duty ranged from five per cent to 25 per cent. The Webb amendment would have advanced these rates, beginning at 10 per cent in the lower grades and running up to 30 per cent on the highest grades.

The amendment was voted down by a vote of 19 to 94, the first roll call of the day.

WOMAN IS ATTACKED IN MYSTERIOUS WAY

YOUNG WHITE LADY OF GREENSBORO GRABBED BY UNKNOWN MAN WHO SMOOTHED HER WITH FLUID OR POWDER

RECENTLY MADE VACANT

Hardly Had Firemen Begun Work When the Explosion Took Place. Slashed Window in Railroad Tunnel

GREENSBORO, April 15.—While walking alone on Greene street Monday night at 10 o'clock on her return to her boarding house from a visit, Miss Alice Barnhardt, a young white woman, was attacked in a mysterious way by an unknown man. After a hard struggle, she screaming in pain, she fell to the ground. She was then held by the man, who smoothed her face with a fluid or powder that had been thrown in her face.

The attack was one of the most mysterious that has come to the attention of the Greensboro police. The woman did not see her assailant, who approached silently from behind and grabbed her, while he covered her mouth at the same time with his hand, which contained fluid or powder which she inhaled.

Monday evening about 8 o'clock Miss Barnhardt, who boards on Greene street near the city water tower, left her boarding place on the home of a Mrs. King, on Smith street, to secure a dress pattern. She went by the home of a neighbor friend living on Greene street to ask for some one to go with her. As her friend was unable to go she declared she would make the trip by herself, and then followed the woman to Greene street, where she was waiting for a little while and was walking by a vacant field, when the attack was made.

She declared it came almost without any warning. She was seized suddenly by one hand, while the other was clamped roughly over her mouth. Whether this hand was filled with powder or with a sponge of some kind she did not know. However, she was then held for a few minutes and then released. She was then half carried, half dragged to her home, where she was found by her mother and father.

She was then taken to the hospital, where she was treated for a few days. She is now recovering from her injuries and is expected to be discharged in a few days.

A coroner's jury will hold an inquest over the two bodies.

A PACT TO DIE

Is Believed of Mrs. Lomax And Cleveland Prince

BOTH MADE WILLS SUNDAY

Before Leaving For Hospital Prince Told His Lawyer She Would See Him No More Alive. Died Yesterday

GOLDSBORO, April 15.—Cleveland Prince, a young farmer who killed Mrs. S. D. Lomax in her room in a local hospital here yesterday and fired a bullet into his own head, died at 7 o'clock this morning. An investigation of the tragic murder of Mrs. Lomax leads to the belief that the double tragedy was the result of a suicide pact, as it was learned that both Mrs. Lomax and her slayer made their wills Sunday, three days after she was injured while minding at night with Prince.

Prince, who is a prosperous farmer in Wayne county, went to the Goldsboro hospital where his victim was a patient Monday and requested to be shown to her room. He was accompanied by a young lady, but asked her to step out into the hall for a moment as he wished to talk to Mrs. Lomax privately.

The young woman had hardly reached the hall when she heard two pistol shots. When she and the hospital attendants rushed into the room they found Mrs. Lomax dead with a bullet wound in her head and Prince unconscious on the floor, he having fired the second shot into his own head.

Mrs. Lomax was in the hospital recovering from injuries received a few nights since while automobile riding with Prince and others. She was the wife of a Southern Railway baggage man, but few clues were available that led them to anything definite as to who the assailant was.

Monday evening about 8 o'clock Miss Barnhardt, who boards on Greene street near the city water tower, left her boarding place on the home of a Mrs. King, on Smith street, to secure a dress pattern. She went by the home of a neighbor friend living on Greene street to ask for some one to go with her. As her friend was unable to go she declared she would make the trip by herself, and then followed the woman to Greene street, where she was waiting for a little while and was walking by a vacant field, when the attack was made.

A coroner's jury will hold an inquest over the two bodies.

GREENSBORO, April 15.—While walking alone on Greene street Monday night at 10 o'clock on her return to her boarding house from a visit, Miss Alice Barnhardt, a young white woman, was attacked in a mysterious way by an unknown man. After a hard struggle, she screaming in pain, she fell to the ground. She was then held by the man, who smoothed her face with a fluid or powder that had been thrown in her face.

The attack was one of the most mysterious that has come to the attention of the Greensboro police. The woman did not see her assailant, who approached silently from behind and grabbed her, while he covered her mouth at the same time with his hand, which contained fluid or powder which she inhaled.

She declared it came almost without any warning. She was seized suddenly by one hand, while the other was clamped roughly over her mouth. Whether this hand was filled with powder or with a sponge of some kind she did not know. However, she was then held for a few minutes and then released. She was then half carried, half dragged to her home, where she was found by her mother and father.

She was then taken to the hospital, where she was treated for a few days. She is now recovering from her injuries and is expected to be discharged in a few days.

A coroner's jury will hold an inquest over the two bodies.
