Dr. F. N. Parker to be at Methodist Church Sunday

Dr. Franklin N. Parker, head of the department of Biblical Literature at Trinity College, will preach both morning and evening at the Methodist church next Sunday. He comes here upon the invitation of the local church and the pastor of the church.

Dr. Parker is no stranger in Greenville, for he conducted two services here one Sunday last spring, and captivated his congregation at both hours. He is generally looked upon as one of the most eminent divines of the state, and is classed among the deepest thinkers of the South. He has held many important positions and offices in his church, and is widely spoken of as a candidate for bishop at the next General Conference of the Southern Methodist church to be held at Oklahoma City next May.

In the position that he holds at Trinity College, Dr. Parker is in close touch with the work of the church, and has under him at that institution about fifty young men who are preparing themselves for entrance into the Methodist ministry. Rev. Daniel Linn, pastor of the local Methodist church, was a student under this noted preacher for two years while at Trinity College.

Methodist people in Greenville will be glad to know that Dr. Parker is to return, and they will be delighted to turn out and hear him again.

PREPARE FOR FREE DELIVERY OF MAIL

Street Signs About Complete and Ready for Placing

These Two Things Must be Done by the People of the Town Before the Government Will Act.

Free city delivery of mails in Greenville will be one step nearer to a full and complete realization in a few days. This became known when it was learned that the placard boards bearing the names of the streets of the town are almost finished and ready to be turned over to the force of men who will place these signs on the corners of the streets.

These signs are being painted in Greenville, and are being put on boards that will be durable and lasting as well as make a very neat appearance when nailed to the poles on the streets.

The signs are now being made, and the entire lot will be ready for delivery to the town in a very few days, according to information from the town authorities.

After the work of putting up these placard boards is completed, the only thing remaining to be done that can be done by the people is the clearing off and improving the sidewalks in front of their doors. The mayor says that the town requires this to be done by citizens regardless of making preparations for the installation of a free delivery system, and he is very desirous of having all of the streets and sidewalks in good condition when the government inspector comes here at a very early date.

When the streets are labeled and the sidewalks are all completed and put in good shape, the town will have done its share in making ready for the new department of the postal service in Greenville, and it will then be put up to the post office authorities in Washington to proceed with the work of installing the service. Civil service examinations will have to be held to secure city carriers, and a few other slight changes and additions to the local office will have to be made. It will not require a great deal of time, however, for this phase of the work, and the main thing that must receive attention at the present time, it is said, is the placard of the names of the streets and the clearing of the sidewalks.

NEW BERN FAIR THIS WEEK

The attractions and the exhibits will be the best ever presented according to reports that have been received here, and those who go are looking for a most delightful time. The races will be good, and some of the fastest horses have been engaged for the contests.

CONFERENCE ON GRADING CORN

Public Hearing at the Department of Agriculture, WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—Scores of persons interested in the handling and marketing of corn attended the public hearing at the Department of Agriculture today and expressed their views upon the tentative grades for corn, as announced on August 22, 1913, by the department of agriculture. The hearing was called to give every one interested in the subject an opportunity to make suggestions concerning the new grading of corn which the department of agriculture proposes to establish. This is the first attempt to establish a scientific and standard grading for corn and will take the place of the personal judgment method by which corn has been bought and sold heretofore.

For more than three years the experts of the department have been working to develop a quick, cheap and satisfactory method of determining the moisture content of corn. The department of agriculture proposes to establish seven grades, based on the moisture content, the acidity and the proportion of injured grains.

Dr. Hyatt coming.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt will be at Hotel Proctor Monday, November 3rd, for the purpose of treating diseases of the eye and fitting glasses.

MAN MIGHT GO ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Woman Shot by Ransom Daniel Dies in Hospital DANIELS IS IN JAIL HERE

He Will Likely be Tried at the November Term of Pitt Superior Court on a Serious Charge.

Instructions have been given to the sheriff of Pitt county not to grant bail to Ransom Daniel, the negro who was arrested near Facticals a few weeks ago for shooting a negro woman. The injuries of the woman were so serious that she died one day last week, word of which has just reached here along with the instructions to the sheriff. It is now very likely that Daniel will be held on the charge of first degree murder.

The particulars of the shooting were given in this paper sometime ago, and seem to indicate that the state has a pretty good case against the negro. The girl had been to church, and after the services over, Daniel wanted to accompany her home, and she refused to grant him the privilege. The negro man soon decided that he would either accompany her to her home or put her in such condition that she herself could not go alone and he began firing his gun. It is not known just how many shots he fired, but one or two entered her stomach, and proved so serious that she was immediately removed to the colored ward in a Washington hospital, where she remained until her death last week.

Daniel is charged with a serious case, and he will very likely be tried for first degree murder, or at least manslaughter. The case will come up for trial at the November term of Pitt county superior court, on the criminal docket, which starts on Monday, November 10.

WORK OF DREDGING RETARDED, AND FEAR FELT FOR PART OF RIVER ALREADY DREDGED.

Heavy rains during the latter part of the past week are responsible for a rise in the waters of the Tar river, so much that the river is now far out over its banks, and is almost as high as it was shortly after the severe storm of September 2.

The high water rising over the banks of the river has made it impossible for the dredge boat to continue its work. This is not because the boat cannot reach the bottom of the river, however, but because the sand, if poured upon the bank covered with water, would immediately be washed on down the stream and back into the river bed. Some little apprehension has been felt as to whether or not the sand already deposited upon the banks will not be washed back into the river, but it is pointed out that the current is not very strong except in the natural bed of the river, and it is not supposed that much damage will result in this way.

The greater portion of the heavy rains causing the rise of the river is believed to have occurred several miles above town, nearer the source of the stream, but the water is already very high here, and still continues to climb over the banks of the river.

OFFICERS OF THE PITT COUNTY ASSOCIATION ARE TRYING TO WORK UP INTEREST AMONG LOCAL MERCHANTS.

A direct call to the merchants and business men of the town to attend the big mass meeting of the North Carolina Just Freight Rate Association, to be held in the hall of the House of Representatives in Raleigh Saturday afternoon, has been issued by the officers of the local branch of the state organization. The local men are very enthusiastic and optimistic about the prospects of the meeting that is to be held, and feel that a large number of the local business men will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend the Raleigh meeting.

Final decision as to the disposition of the continuance of the state organization will be made at this meeting, and it is said that it is for this reason that so much importance is attached to the big gathering.

The call issued by the officers of the Pitt county association follows:

TO THE FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN OF PITT COUNTY:

The Pitt County Just Freight Rate Association has received a communication from Mr. Fred N. Tate, President of the State Association, requesting us to send delegates to the meeting to be held Thursday, October 30, in Raleigh, and we hereby call upon all citizens of our county to attend.

It is necessary that we keep this Association alive and in full vigor for protection against discrimination in freight rates and insurance or our State. Something has already been accomplished along this line, but the fight has just begun and demand is made upon us that we keep our shoulders to the wheel.

This Association is non-partisan, it has no political purposes or ambition, but it is an economical and protective business Association, which should recommend itself to every man who desires to see the business of this state prosper under just and equal conditions, free from discrimination and oppression.

Several have already indicated their intention to attend this meeting and we hope Pitt county will have a strong delegation present. This meeting will be held at the Hotel Proctor, Raleigh, N. C., on October 30th, 1913.

F. H. HIGGS, President
J. R. MOYSE, Vice-President
C. M. WARREN, Secretary.

BREAK GROUND FOR NEW OPERA HOUSE

Excavation for the Foundations are Now Almost Complete IT WILL SEAT 700 PEOPLE

If the Weather is Good and the Material Can be Had, the Building Will be in Use by March 1.

Ground was broken yesterday afternoon for the foundation of the new opera house to be built in Greenville by Mr. Sam T. White. A large force of workmen is now engaged in removing the dirt from the trenches, and actual work on the brick walls will be started in just a few days. Mr. Harrell Riddle, who has done considerable building in Greenville recently, and who has come to be looked upon as a most capable builder, has the contract for the new structure, and is pushing it with all his might. The building will be located between Hotel Bertha and Winslow's stable, and can be easily and conveniently reached from all parts of the town.

Asked this morning as to just when the building would be ready for occupancy, Mr. White stated that he could not tell. He is of the opinion, however, that it will be ready for occupancy sometime before the theatrical season closes this year, and that Greenville people will not have to wait very long before having a modern, up-to-date play house. The thought of this that is to be required for the actual building of the opera house will be determined by the weather man, and the people who have to supply the building materials. If the weather is favorable and such that work can be done, and if material is plentiful and no trouble is experienced in getting it on the grounds, Mr. White hopes to have his building ready for use by March 1 at the very latest. His estimate is that it will be completed sometime between February 1 and March 1.

The opera house will have a seating capacity of seven hundred, which is believed to be sufficient to accommodate the average crowd of people to attend any sort of an attraction that may come here. The building will be one story, with a ground floor, and a large balcony. All of the seats will be so arranged that the spectators will have the best view possible, and the stage will be amply large to carry an entire troupe that will be booked for Greenville.

Local theatre groups and lovers of the comedy and drama will be glad to know that something has at last been attempted in this line and it is believed that, upon the completion of the opera house, they will share their appreciation by giving the new project a liberal patronage.

TRIP TO EGYPT.

Mr. Rock Tells of Wonderful Sights He Saw There.

In a very interesting and instructive lecture given last night by the Baptist church, Rev. C. M. Rock related something of the story of his travels in the land of Egypt, the place where the Children of Israel were held in bondage and slavery for four hundred years.

The lecturer told of the many places of interest, and showed their connection with the stories of the Old Testament. He told of the place in the Nile-rushes where the daughter of Pharaoh found the infant Moses, and of how the sister of the great leader of Israel went to feed the mother of the boy to come and be his nurse in the king's palace.

A detailed account of the sermon last night cannot be given just here, but those who heard the lecture had only the highest words of praise for it.

The series of lectures now being offered by Mr. Rock are some of the very finest, and large congregations turn out each Sunday night to hear these able discourses.

COUNTY PUBLIC HEALTH WORK

Recently the health officers of one of the best counties in the State wrote to State headquarters enclosing a letter from a citizen of his county, giving the following facts: More than twenty-five citizens within the corporate limits of his town positively refused to have their premises cleaned in compliance with the town ordinance; lots of typhoid in town; one young man dead of it and a lad in one of the healthiest parts of town; much well water apparently infected with typhoid germs; hog pens in corporate limits, with no ordinance against them.

In view of that condition of affairs, the county health officer asked for advice. The reply was that under the public health law, city and county boards of health can make such rules and regulations as they may see fit to protect and advance the public health, and that the conditions complained of could easily be abolished if the people would it abolished. Further, under the law, such things might be declared a nuisance and abated by the county health officer or county physician.

While that was a deplorable state of affairs in that town, there is encouragement to be derived from the letter. It showed that the folk are getting waked up on health matters. It is not probable that five years ago such a letter would have been written in North Carolina.

It all emphasizes the good that is being accomplished by the employment of health officers to devote all their time to work in the counties. Eleven counties now have such whole-time health officers. That is more than in any State in the Union. It is a fact also that county public health work is further advanced in North Carolina than in any other State. When it is remembered that we have had a whole-time State Health Officer for only four years, and that the country work has been pushed only during the past year, the record made is rather remarkable.

At the conference of county health officers of the State held in Raleigh this week, which was one of the most important meetings of health officers ever held in North Carolina, the principal matter discussed was how the State Board of Health could help the county officers carrying its work with theirs and the work of one county with that of the others. Uniform methods of carrying on the work were taken up, and as a result the State headquarters will shortly issue blank forms needed to help the counties.

Methods of quarantining contagious diseases and school sanitation were also talked about with profit, and it was brought out that there is already a fairly uniform system. The time is coming when the uniformity will be complete and then the work will grow fast in fruitfulness.

Another meeting has been called to State Association has been called to convene in Raleigh on next Thursday, all of which goes to show that the "men behind the guns" are still standing their ground, and that they are determined "not to give up the ship."

Minister Praises This Laxative

Rev. H. Stubsnow of Allison, in praising Dr. King's New Life Pills for constipation, writes: "Dr. King's New Life Pills are such perfect pills no home should be without them. No better regulator for the liver and bowels. Every pill guaranteed. Try them. Price 25c at all druggists."

SOMEthing OF AIMS AND PURPOSES OF INSTITUTION RECENTLY FORMED AT THE SCHOOL.

The East Carolina Teachers Training School has adopted a banking system for the convenience of its students and in order that it may give to them the practical business knowledge and experience which in this day it is useful for everyone to have who expects to take his place in the busy world.

The principles on which the system is based are exactly the same as those of regular business banks. The depositors place their money in the treasurer's office and on receipt are given a bank pass book and check book. These check books, bank pass books, deposit blanks, and other necessary materials are all especially printed and prepared for the use of the Training School in this new banking system.

The school has gone to some expense in establishing the "E. C. T. T. S. Bank," but realizes that it will be doubly repaid by the results in increasing business ability of those young women who intend to teach in the public schools of North Carolina.

The Mexican congress assembled, and protested against the French invasion.

Highest Prices of the Season Are Being Paid For Tobacco

Approximately one hundred and fifty thousand pounds of tobacco were on the floors of the various warehouses today, and all of the sales were concluded before the noon hour. The prices are the highest they have been this season, according to the warehousemen, and the farmers are very much pleased with the figures offered for their weed. The general average was about twenty-six cents.

Last week was one of the smallest, if not the very smallest, of the season with respect to the amount sold here. As the season wears on, the farmers are gradually emptying their crops onto the market, and the season is expected to close entirely by the first of the year.

SPLendid SHOWING OF PUBLIC SCHOOL PUPILS FOR FIRST MONTH OF THE NEW SEASON.

That the students are interested in their work, and that they are anxious to attend to their duties in school is attested by the report of the superintendent of the Greenville Graded Schools, which is made public today. This report is merely for the attendance only, and shows that a splendid record has been made. It is for the first month of the present school year, and if the record set during these first four weeks is continued all through the session, it promises to be one of the finest in the history of the school. The month for which this report is made ended on October 17, one week ago today. The report is as follows:

JUSTICE CALLS TO KEEP ON FIGHTING

Railroads Treat Laws as to Freight Rates With Scant

ASHEVILLE, Oct. 25.—Hon. E. J. Justice, of Greensboro, spoke here tonight before the North Carolina Lumber and Timber Association. His address dealt with the freight rate question, and particularly with the late state rate reduction law, known as the Justice bill, passed at the extra session of the General Assembly.

Mr. Justice declared that the law passed was just and fair, but that the people must keep up the fight to secure its benefits, that he realized that the act of the general assembly fixing the intrastate freight rates "deceiving but scant respect at the hands of railroads, and that the fight for the freight rates charged by railroads in this state is with them perpetual." He emphasized the need of public sentiment, that the people "be not deceived nor lulled into inaction by fair promises made by those who own and operate railroads in this section," that the owners live in Wall street. He reviewed railroad matters from 1897 to the present and declared the content of the railroads are not adequate or equitable. The long and the short haul clause he declared the need. With effect he quoted from Senator Vance on the matter of monopoly by railroads and the necessity of the people to fight for justice, giving concrete examples of injustice and discrimination cited by Senator Vance. The essence of his address was that he emphasized the need that the people keep up their fight to secure justice from the railroads.

Mr. Ficklen is a Member of the National Nut Growers' Association. How Culture was Started.

Mr. E. B. Ficklen is an enthusiast in pecan culture, and is achieving a success that puts him ahead of any grower in this section, or perhaps in the state. The last few days he has been showing nuts from his trees that are showing in size, 53 of them weighing a pound. The largest that have been shown locally before were from 108 to 125 to the pound, so that Mr. Ficklen's are more than twice as large as these.

For some years Mr. Ficklen has had pecan trees on his lot just west of the A. C. L. railroad, but the nuts from them were only about the usual size of others grown hereabout. While at the Jamestown exposition in 1907 he was attracted by an exhibit of very large pecans from Georgia. He began investigating with the idea that he could do as well as the Georgia grower. For the next few seasons he did not make much progress in the size and quality of the nuts produced, so three years ago had his trees, about forty in number, cut back and top-budded, an expert from Georgia coming here to do the work and bringing the buds with him. Careful attention has brought these top-budded trees to flourishing growth and this year they have commenced bearing and produce the fine quality nuts he is showing. Of course this first crop is not large, but it will increase year by year as the trees grow older.

Out at his farm near town Mr. Ficklen also has a hundred young trees grafted with this same Georgia stock, and in a few years these, with the trees on his lot in town, will be bringing him a handsome income.

Mr. Ficklen is a member of the National Nut Growers' Association, and through literature and correspondence keeps informed on the latest development of the pecan. He says that a Texas grower told him of single trees in that state being worth as much annually to the owner as an acre in cotton.

CHRISTMAS SEALS COMING. Are Now on Their Way to North Carolina.

One million six hundred thousand Red Cross Christmas Seals are on their way to North Carolina. Mr. Lost Myers of Charlotte, who is promoting the sale of the seals in the state this year, has just received notice that this number has been allotted to the state and shipped. If these are all disposed of at once, it will mean $16,000 to be used in the state in the fight against the Great White Plague, or tuberculosis, which causes the death of 6,000 people in the state each year.

Mr. Myers started on a trip this week to visit all the more important cities for the purpose of organizing for an aggressive educational campaign and are used to stick on letters to show the users' interest in the tuberculosis work, and to ask the letter, or letter is sent. Banks and business houses use them on all the mail they send out during December. Stores use them in Christmas deliveries shops on all kinds of mail, and every letter sent out in the state and it is hoped that we can increase the sales to more than one million this year.

The Post Master General has issued an order permitting these seals to be sold in the Post offices. Every citizen, by sending the money to the state committee to be used in state-wide work, Seals are sent free to be paid for after sold; unsold seals to be returned to headquarters.

Fortunes in Postage Stamps. NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The first international stamp exhibition ever held in America was opened today in the Engineering Societies Building in this city and will be continued until Saturday. Stamps with a market value of $1,000,000 are on display. The most valuable specimens in the lot are two unused copies of the Mauritius issue of 1847, owned by Henry J. Duven of London, and valued at $18,000. Another notable exhibit is George Heber Worthington of Chilmark, owner of the most valuable stamp collection in America.

John D. Long's Birthday. BINGHAM, Mass., Oct. 27.—John D. Long, former Governor of Massachusetts and Secretary of the Navy during the war with Spain, was seventy-five years old today and the occasion was marked by the receipt of a number of congratulatory messages from various parts of the country. His fellow-townsmen proposed to have a public observance of the anniversary, but it was decided that the wishes of the people should be the basis of the plan. The plan was abandoned.

TO CHANGE COURSE OF RHINE

German idea is to have Great River Find the Sea Through the Fetherlands.

That their great river should at last dribble to the sea through a number of months in foreign territory has long been a cause of sentimental regret to the German people. A society has now been formed at Coblenz to correct this mistake of nature.

Prof. Hans Busz of Munster has just published a book to help on the objects of the new society. He traces the Rhine, instead of flowing as it does, northwest through the Netherlands, ought to flow from Dulsburg, in Rheinland Prussia, northwest of Emden, the most westerly port of the German Empire. The distance would be about 150 miles, and no locks would be needed.

The professor wants a canal of first proportions, comparable to those of Suez or Panama, and seeks to show that such a waterway would capture the traffic which now goes to Rotterdam and the Mease, and that in a few years Emden would become a world port. Professor Busz estimates that the new Rhine would cost $15,000,000, but he points out, only three-quarters of the extra $250,000,000 is to be spent on the army under the new law. He calculated that the gross takings during the first years would not be more than $5,000,000.

A year ago the Prussian minister of public works announced that the government regarded the project favorably, and had it under consideration. The new society starts under favorable auspices.

MAY BE SHIP LOST IN 1840

Finding of Wreck Evidently to be Solution of Ocean Mystery.

An unknown wreck, which may prove the solution to the mystery of a ship which disappeared in 1840, has just been discovered at Westport, Victoria, Australia. Diving operations were being conducted with the object of raising a sunken barge, and while the "wreck" was being dragged along the bottom of the channel it fouled an obstruction and remained fast. A diver was lowered beneath the waters, and found that the apparatus had become entangled in the hull of an old wreck, and further investigation showed that this vessel evidently had foundered and exploded, and the opinion that it was thickly covered with marine growth. The sunken ship was constructed of English oak, the timbers visible being about 18 inches by 8 inches and 12 inches thick. Residents in the neighborhood told that several skeletons had been discovered in the sand opposite the wreck, and expressed the opinion that in all likelihood they were those of persons who were washed ashore. No reference to the wreck has been discovered in the department records, and it has been recalled that a weathered vessel was reported at Westport in 1840 and never seen since.

Writers of Historic Songs. Most of the songs that have made history were written by men who had no other claim to immortality. The "folk" songs, the only production of Rouget de Lisle which has survived, and "The Wearing of the Green" was the work of an anonymous poet, and the only one having to do with the bearing to the hearing. The hearing of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee on the Glass-Steagall bill came to an end tonight and the committee revision of the bill will begin behind closed doors at 11 o'clock Monday.

Members of the committee would not predict what length of time would be required to prepare a report. A number of experts on various phases of banking operations will be consulted.

MR. SMITH HERE. Held Services at the Presbyterian Church Here Yesterday.

Professor H. B. Smith, former superintendent of the Greenville Graded School conducted services at the Presbyterian church yesterday, and was heard by a large number of the members of the church. Mr. Smith is now superintendent of the graded schools of Tarboro, where he is giving splendid service to the people of that town. He took an active part in the work of his church while in Greenville, and the members of the congregation show their appreciation by having him come back so often to hold services for them.

Animals Warn of Earthquakes. One of the mysteries still unsolved in that of the sense by which the lower animals become aware of the approach of earthquakes at Guadalajara, Mexico, the many parrots of the city showed great and unusual restlessness, and during the period of disturbance they were warned of the disturbance by increased cries of the birds gave warning of the nearness of the worst shocks. Hata, also, became alarmed, fleeing from the city before the earthquake came.

Supersensitiveness to faint shocks hardly gives satisfactory explanation, for modern seismographs are very sensitive and it is quite unlikely that tremors too slight to be recorded would be felt so strongly as to give alarm.

DYNAMITE WIPED OUT MINE NIGHT FORCE. Five Men Killed and Others Injured in Mine Explosion Near Lynchburg.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Oct. 25.—The premature explosion of a charge of dynamite and powder, which was being used for blasting the tunnel, practically wiped out a night force in one of the mines of the Piedmont Nansean Corporation, owned by New York and London syndicate, six miles east of Lynchburg. As a result of the explosion five men were killed and two were injured, one probably fatally. The injured are in a hospital here.

PLACING THE BLAME.

In Matthews, a little town fifteen miles east of Charlotte, and in Mockingburg county, beef sells for fifteen cents per pound, while the very same kind and quality of beef in Charlotte sells at twenty-eight and thirty cents per pound. And then the Charlotte papers have the nerve to ask the people of that town to buy their goods in Charlotte.

While this is not final evidence, it would seem that it is sufficient evidence to show that very much of the high cost of living is regulated by local merchants. It is laid at the door of a Democratic tariff, or at the feet of the Republican party, but if such conditions as this exist over the country, it will be readily seen that the local dealers control this more than any one else. They seem to be responsible for the price that is charged to the ultimate consumer, and for the exorbitant rates that he has to pay for produce.

Of course, every man that has any thing to do with handling any commodity has a part in fixing the price, or at least he affects it in one way or another, but he is not the whole responsibility for the doubling of the price of the necessities of life within the space of a decade. There is more to it than that. The greed and hunger of the dealers for the additional dollar, as is shown in the case of the Charlotte market men, is largely responsible for the outrageous prices now being charged. The man who sells is spreading to the man higher up, and the more they get the more they want, and they will stop at nothing that stands in the way of their getting it. If they may gain their ends by oppression of the poor man, then they are perfectly willing to do it.

There are, no doubt, other reasons than a mere desire for profit that enter into the increased price of beef in Charlotte, but all of these put together could not, we believe, raise the price of this commodity to twice what it costs in a town only fifteen miles from Charlotte. The reason lies with the Charlotte merchants, and in about the same proportion it lies with the dealers in every other town.

GREENVILLE'S BEST ASSET.

In talking with Secretary H. A. White, of The Home Building and Loan Association, he expressed himself with elation at the prospect of a very large number of shares to be taken in the next series, sixteenth, which opens the first Saturday in November. The fifteenth series which opened last May led all others in numbers since the beginning of the association, and it is hoped the coming series will run that one a close second even if not ahead of it.

The people of Greenville have come to a realization of the great benefit of this association to the community, and it does not require near the effort now to sell shares in a series as it did earlier in its organization. The association is only seven-and-a-half years old. It has already matured; three series aggregating $54,600, of which $9,693.50 was clean profit, and at present has $98,258.50 loaned on residences and business houses in Greenville. Just think of the advantage to the people in paying off these loans in small weekly installments, about the same as rent would be, and in a little over six years the property paid for.

This association is so well managed that it has led all others in the state on the time of maturity, the last series maturing in 278 weeks. It has earned nearly 7 per cent net to the shareholders. A new feature of the association is that it will not issue prepaid shares. By this those who desire to make a good investment can pay for a whole series in advance and get 6 per cent net on the shares thus taken. This should appeal to those who have money they would like to put in a good and safe investment.

THE COUNTY OF "NASHCOMBE."

The following is clipped from the Tarboro Southerner:

"Clipped from the Greenville Reflector:

Tarboro and Nashville are both fighting at Rocky Mount because the latter city is working for a new county to be formed, of which it shall be the county seat. Rocky Mount is much larger than both the other towns put together and really ought to be the county seat of Nash and Edgecombe combined.

OUR BEEF SUPPLY.

Recent experiments at a test farm in Haywood county show that the western part of North Carolina has the necessary assets for supplying a large portion of the nation. A cattle farm was recently established there which proved a great success, and the people of Waynesville and Haywood county are very much elevated over the bright prospects for a great future in this industry.

Rising prices and a scarcity in the supply of beef, jointly make this question one of the most important now facing the nation. The large cattle ranges of the West are now being staked off, and are being opened up to the public. This will tend to decrease the supply of beef, and if the country is to continue to enjoy this delicious dish, other grazing lands must be found for the cattle.

James M. Pickens, of the Bureau of Animal Husbandry of the United States Department of Agriculture, said recently that "the high cost of meat is a serious reality, and it is now obvious that the rise in prices in recent years is the natural result of an actual shortage in production." Why cannot North Carolina help to supply the demands? If money is made, it might as well be poured into the coffers of Western North Carolina farmers, and it will be these men who will take it upon themselves to get into the business. The green slopes of the mountain sides, and the grassy billtops of the mountain regions of this state afford ideal pasture lands for the raising of cattle. The supply seldom ever gives out, and little expense would be attached to the raising of cattle. The nation's supply of beef in the future must come from the mountainous districts of the southern states, and there is a fortune in it for the men who want to go into the business.

CLEAN UP.

Considerable unfavorable comment has been heard lately about the very unsightly condition of some of the streets of the town, due to the throwing of paper on them. All of this filthiness is caused by the careless habits of many of the citizens of the town. In the business section of the town, trash cans have been provided, and every possible convenience to avoid this filthiness has been given.

Every person who is a citizen of Greenville ought to feel it his duty to assist in keeping the town in a sanitary condition. There can be no doubt but that trash is the cause of much of the unsanitary conditions in many instances, and finally brings on disease.

Visitors to Greenville get no better opinion of the town because of seeing pieces of paper and rubbish lying all over the streets of the town. Greenville is so situated, and laid out that with a little effort the town could be made much more beautiful than it is, and every one ought to feel an interest in this matter.

Go to work and do your part. And remember that it is a misdemeanor and against the laws of the town for you to throw trash on the sidewalks or on the streets. The mayor has stated that he will take other and more drastic steps to enforce this law, if the people will not heed the calls that are being made upon them, and take notice of the warnings that are being given. He has cited the ordinance that gives the town the right to prosecute those who insist on throwing paper on the sidewalks and streets, and says that warrants will be issued very shortly if more attention is not given the matter.

Tarboro and Nashville are both fighting at Rocky Mount because the latter city is working for a new county to be formed, of which it shall be the county seat. Rocky Mount is much larger than both the other towns put together and really ought to be the county seat of Nash and Edgecombe combined.

OUR BEEF SUPPLY.

Recent experiments at a test farm in Haywood county show that the western part of North Carolina has the necessary assets for supplying a large portion of the nation. A cattle farm was recently established there which proved a great success, and the people of Waynesville and Haywood county are very much elevated over the bright prospects for a great future in this industry.

Rising prices and a scarcity in the supply of beef, jointly make this question one of the most important now facing the nation. The large cattle ranges of the West are now being staked off, and are being opened up to the public. This will tend to decrease the supply of beef, and if the country is to continue to enjoy this delicious dish, other grazing lands must be found for the cattle.

James M. Pickens, of the Bureau of Animal Husbandry of the United States Department of Agriculture, said recently that "the high cost of meat is a serious reality, and it is now obvious that the rise in prices in recent years is the natural result of an actual shortage in production." Why cannot North Carolina help to supply the demands? If money is made, it might as well be poured into the coffers of Western North Carolina farmers, and it will be these men who will take it upon themselves to get into the business. The green slopes of the mountain sides, and the grassy billtops of the mountain regions of this state afford ideal pasture lands for the raising of cattle. The supply seldom ever gives out, and little expense would be attached to the raising of cattle. The nation's supply of beef in the future must come from the mountainous districts of the southern states, and there is a fortune in it for the men who want to go into the business.

CLEAN UP.

Considerable unfavorable comment has been heard lately about the very unsightly condition of some of the streets of the town, due to the throwing of paper on them. All of this filthiness is caused by the careless habits of many of the citizens of the town. In the business section of the town, trash cans have been provided, and every possible convenience to avoid this filthiness has been given.

Every person who is a citizen of Greenville ought to feel it his duty to assist in keeping the town in a sanitary condition. There can be no doubt but that trash is the cause of much of the unsanitary conditions in many instances, and finally brings on disease.

Visitors to Greenville get no better opinion of the town because of seeing pieces of paper and rubbish lying all over the streets of the town. Greenville is so situated, and laid out that with a little effort the town could be made much more beautiful than it is, and every one ought to feel an interest in this matter.

Go to work and do your part. And remember that it is a misdemeanor and against the laws of the town for you to throw trash on the sidewalks or on the streets. The mayor has stated that he will take other and more drastic steps to enforce this law, if the people will not heed the calls that are being made upon them, and take notice of the warnings that

GENERAL STORE PAINTS OILS

When You Paint

Use PURE Paint and Use Pure LINSSEED OIL to add to it at one-half the cost of Paint.

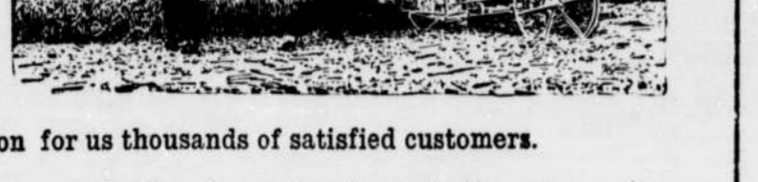

PURE PAINT is made with WHITE LEAD, ZINC and LINSSEED OIL—that's the way the L. & M. SEMI-MIXED REAL PAINT is made.

But ALL the OIL needed to make the L. & M. REAL PAINT ready for use is NOT put into the Paint when it's prepared for the Consumer who buys it.

The ADDITIONAL quantity of OIL is put into the Paint by the CONSUMER, as by so doing he SAVES MONEY. Therefore—buy 3 gallons of LINSSEED OIL with every 4 gallons of L. & M. PAINT and MIX the OIL with the PAINT.

If the Paint thus made costs more than $1.40 per gallon— If the Paint as you use it is not perfectly satisfactory— Then return whatever you have not used, and get back ALL you paid for the WITOLE: of it and besides the money you paid to the Painter.

NEWS FROM AYDEN.

Bunch of Live Happenings From Low or Pitt County Town.

AYDEN, Oct. 28.—Special to The Reflector.—Mr. F. C. Furnage has purchased a part of the Ben Allen Jones farm from Mr. Ed McGlothlin, Messrs. J. R. Turnage and J. M. Dixon have purchased the farm of Mr. James A. Griffin adjoining the town, the consideration was $25,000.00. These gentlemen will proceed to lay it off in blocks, streets alleys, and walk ways and soon be offering to the public some beautiful property on the west side of Ayden, known as Griffin place.

All kinds of hardware, guns, pistols, dynamite, fuse and caps, at J. R. Smith and Bro.

Mr. J. Alfred Harrington has purchased a nice touring car, and seems to be enjoying life, spinning around. We are glad to note that Mr. Samuel Tyson, who has been very sick of late, is able to be up and will soon be able to be out.

Seed rye, and winter turf outs at J. R. Smith and Bro.

There came near being a serious fire at the graded school last week. The roof caught and was burning briskly during a high wind, and it was thought that it was sure to burn when Mr. Howell, from Ridge Spring arrived on the scene, and with the nerve of only a fire fighter, in a few leaps was on top of the two story building, and with the assistance of a few others with buckets he soon had it under control, never one time realized the risk he was running, and with seemingly no thought of himself. Had it not been for him, we would not have had any graded school today, and were it in our power we would award him a Carnegie hero medal.

Mr. and Mrs. Titus Hart, of Hogue Sound, Fla., have been here on a visit to Mr. Hart's mother and after spending a few weeks, returned last week. Mr. Hart is another young man from Centenaria, who about thirty-five years ago cast his lot in the land of flowers, has made good, amassed quite a fortune and occasionally comes east to visit his mother.

There is a protracted meeting at the F. W. B. church this week and large crowds are in attendance. Many have made the good confession.

We learn that Mr. Augustus Worthington has purchased the J. J. C. Jennings farm from Mr. Richard Win-

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Ballock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Ballock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair. At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without my crutches, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

The Advice of This Greenville Woman is of Certain Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains.

Oftentimes 'tis the kidneys' fault that's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Greenville women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. E. G. Worthington, Washington St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I have been so greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills that I am glad to recommend them. My back ached nearly all the time and I could not rest well. The kidney secretions caused me annoyance and it was plain to be seen that I was suffering from kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills, that I got from the John L. Wootten Drug Co., relieved the aches and pains and improved my condition greatly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Why are Some Children Cross-Eyed?

The general public has many false ideas concerning this unsightly defect and consequently many parents are prone to neglect it because of the hope or the belief that the child "will outgrow it."

Were the real cause and the consequence of this condition more generally known and accepted, great benefit might result to many unfortunate children and their lives made happier. It is not generally known that in the majority of squinting eyes, blindness results to a great or less degree unless early attention be given them.

The primary cause in most children who have this defect is the lack of the power combining the images seen by the two eyes into one. This faculty has been lost or has not been developed with the growth of the child. Its development may have been interfered with by a difference in the two eyes, one being far-sighted, the other near-sighted, or there may be other differences which interfered with harmonious action. The child cannot focus both eyes on an object at the same time, so in order to avoid the discomfort or strain of effort, the weaker eye gives up and crosses in order to avoid the embarrassment of double vision, which would otherwise occur.

Soon this habit becomes fixed, and permanent squint is brought about. The squinting eye, not receiving any stimulus from use, gradually loses its seeing faculty and partial blindness is the result.

This loss of vision from disease is more rapid in the very young than in older children. If a child begins to squint at the age of six months, and has good vision in each eye, the squinting eye, if neglected, will become blind in eight to ten weeks. If he does not begin to squint until he is eighteen months old the progress of the blindness will not be so rapid, but he will be blind in the squinting eye in five or six months.

If he does not begin to squint until the age of three years he seldom loses the power of vision in less than a year thereafter. After the age of six years, the danger is not so great, and the child may retain it to some extent. Every child who shows symptoms of squint should have early attention if sight is to be preserved or the deformity prevented.

Others! Have Your Children Wormed! Are they feverish, restless, nervous, irritable, dizzy or constipated? Do they constantly pick at their nose or grind their teeth? Have they cramping pains, irregular and ravenous appetite? These are all signs of worms. Worms not only cause your child suffering, but stunt its mind and growth. Give "Kickapoo Worm Killer" at once. It kills and removes the worms, improves your child's appetite, regulates stomach, liver and bowels. The symptoms disappear and your child is made happy and healthy, as nature intended. "entered upon his 86th year."

Nearly 400 acres are cleared and are very high and dry and very fine land for truck, tobacco, cotton, grain, hay and all staple crops. There is an abundance of timber for plantation purposes and good water may be had anywhere on the premises and the land fronts on Brice's creek, a deep navigable tributary of Trent river, for some four miles.

At present prices a well cultivated crop of tobacco on 75 acres would pay the whole purchase price. A. D. WARD. New Bern, N. C., Oct. 22, 1913. 10 24 6td

VALUABLE PLANTATION FOR SALE. I hereby offer for sale at $15,000.00, one-third cash, with balance on easy terms, the part of my General Du-rant Hatch or Perry plantation enclosed in fence situated to the south and within sight of the city of New Bern on the south side of the Trent river and on the west side of Brice's creek, containing 636 acres, more or less, and such stock and implements as I own on said plantation.

Mr. Higgs is particularly anxious that a large delegation of Greenville men attend the Raleigh meeting. Decision is to be made at that time as to just what will be done about the continuance of the organization but it seems to be the universal opinion of the business men that the organization will, and should be, continued.

President Fred N. Tate's latest letter is as follows: To All Branch Officers, The Just Freight Rate Association. Gentlemen: Feeling the need of prompt action and in response to a number of requests from our members, I am calling a general meeting of all our officers and members, as well as the business men and farmers generally of the state, to meet in the hall of the House of Representatives at Raleigh on Thursday morning, October 30th, at eleven o'clock, for the purpose of reorganizing or putting our association on a permanent business basis.

My call to the people generally, which will appear in the principal state papers in a day or two, somewhat outlines the need of something big and broad, as well as practical and business-like, and is offered merely as a suggestion of what might probably be considered.

Governor Craig, President Alexander of the state Farmers' Union and probably others, will address the meeting, and it is our desire to have a very strong and representative attendance.

Please immediately give as much publicity as possible through your local newspapers and do what you can to help bring a large number of our progressive citizens to Raleigh on this date.

Do not fail to come yourselves and assist in this very important work. Sincerely yours, FRED N. TATE, President.

SOME FIRE WHISTLE. Was Heard Nearly Fifteen Miles When Blown Yesterday Afternoon.

Atmospheric conditions, together with the shrill and mournful sound of the fire whistle at the municipal plant, were jointly responsible yesterday afternoon for the noise of the fire alarm being heard nearly fifteen miles from Greenville. People living close to Parnelo heard the blow when it sounded shortly after the fire was discovered, and because of the distance it was not heard until long after the whistle had stopped. It was not until the afternoon they telephoned to town and learned that it had blown and that there had really been a fire here.

BIG FREIGHT RATE MEETING THURSDAY

Forces of State Gather in Raleigh for Conference

DISPOSITION OF ASSOCIATION
Will Decide Whether or Not the Organization Will Disband or Continue Its Big Fight.

Notice has been received by President E. B. Higgs, of the Pitt County branch of the Just Freight Rate Association, that another big meeting of the state association is set for next Thursday to be held in the hall of the House of Representatives at Raleigh. This meeting will probably be the last one to be held for some time, and the officers are especially anxious that the meeting be well attended.

President Tate says that there is still a great work for the association to do in North Carolina, and he is anxious that the organization which has accomplished so much be not abandoned until there is absolutely no further use for it. The battle for better interstate rates is just begun, and he is of the opinion that the services of a strong state organization with the business men behind it, is needed to carry on the fight as it should be carried on.

Mr. Higgs is particularly anxious that a large delegation of Greenville men attend the Raleigh meeting. Decision is to be made at that time as to just what will be done about the continuance of the organization but it seems to be the universal opinion of the business men that the organization will, and should be, continued.

Gentlemen: Feeling the need of prompt action and in response to a number of requests from our members, I am calling a general meeting of all our officers and members, as well as the business men and farmers generally of the state, to meet in the hall of the House of Representatives at Raleigh on Thursday morning, October 30th, at eleven o'clock, for the purpose of reorganizing or putting our association on a permanent business basis.

My call to the people generally, which will appear in the principal state papers in a day or two, somewhat outlines the need of something big and broad, as well as practical and business-like, and is offered merely as a suggestion of what might probably be considered.

Governor Craig, President Alexander of the state Farmers' Union and probably others, will address the meeting, and it is our desire to have a very strong and representative attendance.

Please immediately give as much publicity as possible through your local newspapers and do what you can to help bring a large number of our progressive citizens to Raleigh on this date.

Do not fail to come yourselves and assist in this very important work. Sincerely yours, FRED N. TATE, President.

Distinct Honor for Greenville Boy. Mr. L. Ames Brown, a Greenville boy, and son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brown, is making rapid strides in his profession of newspaper correspondent, and has taken high rank for one of his years. After serving as reporter on the Baltimore Sun for a time, he went to Washington City to be special correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer. He swore there brought him such prominence among the capital correspondents that large papers began seeking his services and the beginning of the present administration found him engaged by the New York Sun with an assignment at the White House for special work right at the headquarters of the government.

Now the announcement is made that Mr. Brown will accompany the United States battleships on their Mediterranean cruise. He will represent the Sun, being assigned to the Arakansas, the second largest battleship afloat. The cruise will require several months and cover a large part of the world.

Houses for rent in Greenville are getting to be curiosities. A house and lot for sale is always a chance for some one to make a good investment. Greenville real estate is advancing rapidly, and now is the time to buy if a chance is offered, I am going to offer some one a chance, and see who is the first one to take it. I offer for sale a nice corner lot and five room house within a short distance of the A. C. L. depot. If you want it act quickly.

LOCAL HOSTELRY SECURES THE SERVICES OF YOUNG WOMEN FOR SERVING MEALS.
White waitresses have been added at the Proctor Hotel within the past few days, and guests at the local hostelry are very much pleased at the new improvement. They report that the service is far superior to that which has been given by the colored waiters, and that everything in connection with the serving of meals has improved considerably.
Four young women, who know well the work that is required of them, have been secured to serve the guests at meal hours. All of them come from other towns than Greenville and are themselves strangers in this town. They have had experience in the work in which they are now engaged, and know how to give the public the kind of service that is most desired in the serving of meals. Another young woman is expected here in a very few days, and this will make five in all.

VALUABLE SUBURBAN REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

The Moye or Anderson Farm, consisting of eighty-three acres, almost within the city limits.

The offer for sale either as a whole or subdivided to suit the purchaser, the Moye or Anderson Farm located about three-eighths of a mile from the corporate limits of Greenville, and not more than twelve or fifteen minutes' walk from the business center.

This property is probably the most ideally located for truck farming of any land near Greenville. Two sand clay roads lead from the property into Greenville and at the present rate of increase in population of Greenville it will in a very few years become valuable as building sites.

This is in reality a great opportunity in the best town in eastern N. C. It is conservatively progressive, its property rests on a solid foundation and in consequence values that today seem high will appear marvellously cheap almost before you are aware of it.

If you are interested call on or write J. S. BARR, Weidon, N. C. O. L. JOYNER, Greenville, N. C.

Further Delay in Opening of Some of County Schools

Further delay is to be experienced in the opening of many of the schools of the county because of the scarcity of labor and the necessity for picking and marketing the cotton crop this fall.

This delay in opening does not mean that there will be a shortening of the school term, for all of the time lost this fall will have to be made up later in the year, and the school will have to run longer next spring.
