JOSH MILLS GIVES UP TO THE POLICE

Surrenders to Authorities in His Home Town

THE DETAILS OF THE CRIME

Ormond's Body Was Very Badly Carved.—The Wounded Man Lived Until Sunday Night.

Joshua Mills, of Washington, who cut Benjamin Ormond to death Saturday night, late yesterday afternoon came in from his hiding place and surrendered himself to the police authorities in his home town. The expected long and tedious search for the man who sent his victim to the grave was not experienced, and the Washington policemen quietly and calmly placed him under arrest when he appeared yesterday afternoon. Not half of the horrors of the terrible tragedy were told in these columns yesterday, as later reports of the affair give more details. Ormond was in a barber shop waiting his turn on the chair when Mills came in the door, and went to the rear of the shop where Ormond was sitting near the stove. A few words passed between the two men, and Mills drew from his trousers a pocket knife or some sort of weapon of that nature, and began cutting Ormond. The wounded man threw up his arm to protect himself, and when he did received the full benefit of a blow directed at him by his assailant, and his arm was almost severed. There was also a long slash across his throat, which alone, it is reported, would have caused the man's death had there been no others. With sixteen wounds on his body, and with blood streaming from every one of them, the dying man started out of the shop, broke a plate glass window in an effort to get away from Mills, and staggered on toward a doctor's office. He fell in front of a pool room a short distance away, and was carried by the attendant on to a drug store where he lost a great quantity of blood while waiting for the arrival of physicians.

He was taken to a hospital, and his wounds dressed, though the physicians said that he was the worst carved man that they had treated in many years, and none of them thought that he would recover. Considerable excitement was created in Washington over the affair, and it is reported that Mills remained within two blocks of the scene of the murder for at least an hour after the occurrence, and came back to the barber shop and offered to repay the proprietor for the damage he had done. The crowd in the barber shop at the time of the assault became greatly excited, and all of them made a wild rush for the door. One man is said to have received a cut in his head in an effort to get out, it not being known whether he came in contact with Mills' knife or a piece of broken glass.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN UNION GOLD MINE

In Which Two Men Lose Their Lives in Shaft—Head Crushed Into Mass.

MONROE, Nov. 24.—One of the most distressing accidents that have occurred in Union county, happened yesterday at the Howie gold mine, located about ten miles west of Monroe and within three miles of Waxhaw. As a result of the terrible calamity two men lost their lives, one leaving a wife and two very small children. It was at 5 o'clock in the morning when Mr. L. J. Bowden, known as the "Pot Man" at the mine, started down the main shaft to see the condition of the pot, as was his custom to do four or five times during the night. The trip is made in a peculiarly constructed elevator in which one is taken down in a bucket, and which is operated by steam. The wire cable that conducts the "mine bucket" as it is called, is wrapped around a large wooden pulley similar to a well windlass that weighs something like 250 pounds. When the bucket had ascended about ninety feet there was a sudden stop and there being no signal from Mr. Bowden, Mr. Will Crow, the night policeman, decided to investigate. When the bucket was brought back to the surface and it was found that Mr. Bowden was not in it, Mr. Crow started down and when about the same distance there was a great crash and the large wooden pulley went down, striking him on the head and crushed him into an unrecognizable piece of humanity. At 11 o'clock in the day the bodies were recovered.

MR. DENNIS LEAVES

Editor This Paper Goes to Duties on News and Observer.
Mr. Henry A. Dennis, who since June 15 has been editor of The Reflector, will today sever his connection with this paper, and will leave tomorrow afternoon for Raleigh to take up his duties on the staff of the News and Observer. Mr. Dennis accepted the position on the Raleigh paper last week, and is called away by the duties of his new position. He will be in handling for the News and Observer the sessions of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, which will convene in the capitol city tomorrow evening and will be in session for three days.

WHITE HOUSE DINNER

In Honor of Miss Jessie Wilson and Mr. F. B. Sayre.

WASHINGTON Nov. 21.—The President and Mrs. Wilson entertained at dinner at the White House tonight in honor of their daughter, Miss Jessie Wilson, and Francis B. Sayre, who are to be married next Tuesday. It was the first White House function given for the young couple. All the members of the wedding party were among the guests, who included Winston T. Denison, Assistant Attorney General, Major Blanton Winslow, John H. Knapp, Dr. Cary T. Grayson, Aide to the President, Felix Frankfurter, F. Buro, of Insular Affairs, Lieut. B. O. Dunn, U. S. N., and Misses Mallard Marshall, of Washington, Ruth Hall, of Washington, Lucy and Mary Smith, of New Orleans; Eleanor and Margaret Wilson and Helen Woodrow Bones.

Mrs. Wade, of Farmville, Va., who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. M. Wooten, for some time, left this morning for Florence, S. C. Miss Susie Proctor, of Grimsland, came in this morning to attend the Scott-Spain marriage. Mrs. M. H. Quinley returned Monday evening from a visit in Kingston.

Who the White House Bride and Groom Are

Something of Biography of Miss Wilson and Mr. Sayre

WEDDING SOLEMNIZED TODAY

PERSONNEL OF THE WEDDING PARTY.—NAMES OF THE THIRTEEN WHITE HOUSE BRIDES AND GROOMS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, the thirteen-year-old bride who was married today at the White House to Mr. Francis Bowes Sayre, is an attractive and rather serious-minded young woman of many accomplishments. She was born in Gainesville, Ga., twenty-six years ago, as the second daughter of Woodrow Wilson, then associate professor of history and political economy at Bryan Mawr College, Bryan Mawr, Pa., and his wife, Helen Louise Axson Wilson of Savannah, Ga., whom he had married June 24, 1885. Miss Jessie received her early education at home, under the direction of her father and by a German governess. Later she went to school and eventually to Goucher College, Baltimore, from which institution she was graduated, specializing in political economy. Choosing settlement work as her vocation, she gave two busy years to it as a worker among the laborers and the poor at Kensington, near Philadelphia. When her parents lived at Princeton, Miss Jessie continued her settlement work at Trenton, N. J., and also became identified with reform and settlement movements in several other large cities, including New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. Miss Jessie Wilson was never a society butterfly, although since the removal of the Wilson family to the national capital circumstances naturally compelled her to take part in many social functions of an official or semi-official character. Tall, handsome, of a decidedly blonde type and with attractive, strongly modeled features, Miss Jessie Wilson attracted a great deal of admiration in social circles. She always was fond of outdoor life and became a fine horse woman. Even while living in Washington Miss Jessie Wilson continued her active interest in settlement work and it was while she was engaged in her favorite work that she first met Mr. Sayre, whose bride she became today.

Francis Bowes Sayre, the bridegroom at today's White House wedding, was born in South Bethlehem, Pa., in 1885 as the son of the late Robert Heysham Sayre, who died in 1907, leaving a large fortune. Robert Heysham Sayre was a civil engineer whose exceptional ability was well known and recognized throughout the country. He was the builder of the Lehigh Valley railroad and later became assistant to the president of that road. He also built up and became general manager of the Bethlehem Iron works, now known as the Bethlehem Steel Works. He was a man of considerable prominence and for many years was president of the board of trustees of Lehigh University. His widow, the mother of Mr. Francis Bowes Sayre, is the daughter of John Williamson Nevins, theologian and president of Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa. She is descended from a framer of the Constitution.

Miss Jessie Wilson, member of Congress. Her husband was the Rev. Robert J. Sayre, head of the American Church of Rome, Italy. She also is a first cousin to Ethelbert

Charles E. Hughes, Jr., of Washington, D. C.; Benjamin B. Burton, of New York; Dr. Scovill Clark, of Salem, Mass.; Dr. Gilbert Horax, of Montclair, N. J.

The Thirteen White House Brides.

1826—John Adams, son of President John Quincy Adams, and his cousin, Helen Jackson.

1829—Delia Lewis, a friend of President Jackson, and Alphonse Joseph Yver Paret, attaché of the French legation.

Nevin, the composer. Mr. Sayre's only brother, Rev. John Nevins Sayre, is now a missionary in China. Mr. Francis Bowes Sayre received an excellent education. He was two years at Hill School, Pottstown, Pa., and two at Laurenceville School, Laurenceville, N. J., from which he graduated in 1904. Entering Williams College the following year, he achieved prominence in his studies and also in other fields. He was manager of the football team, was valedictorian of the class of 1908. He spent two summers with Dr. Grenfell on the Strathcona, the Alaska relief ship, and in 1909 entered Harvard Law School from which he graduated with honors. His vacations he spent traveling in many parts of the world. He avoided the beaten paths of tourist travel and visited nearly every European country. His vacation last year he spent in Alaska and northern Siberia and after his return he became one of the assistants in the law office of Charles S. Whittman, district attorney of New York.

Mr. Sayre is a serious-minded young man who loves to travel, but so much for his pleasure, but to learn by careful observation. He always took great interest in social reform work and at one time worked as a common miner in a coal mine in Alabama to study the conditions of the workers at close range. It was their common interest in settlement work which first brought Mr. Sayre and his bride together and laid the foundations for the romance which culminated today in their marriage.

QUARTER MILLION POUNDS TOBACCO

Biggest Sale of Six Weeks. Cotton Continues to Tumble at a Rapid Gait.

A remarkable rise in the number of pounds of tobacco on the local market and a continuance of the gradual falling off in the price of cotton are observed on the Greenville market today. A break of 250,000 pounds was noted on the tobacco market, which is the largest that the town has experienced since the big sales of September and early October. The buyers and warehousemen were very appreciably surprised to see such a large amount coming into the market during the morning, and are of the opinion that there is yet much more to be sold. Sales today were not concluded until very near the time limit set by the tobacco board of trade for the sales of a day to close, that hour being 4:30 o'clock. Of course, the market handled a great deal more than this year, and after that time the Washington market will likely resume his law practice in some town which he has not as yet decided upon. The following clipping from the Washington Daily News, of yesterday, will be read with interest by those interested in the judge's retirement from the superior court bench:

Cotton Still Tumbling.
The cotton market is still tumbling today, and basis middling is selling at 12 5-8 cents per pound. The market opened at 12 3-4 cents, but gradually fell to the price named. December futures was last reported at 13.02 cents per pound, and latest quotations on the staple for May gave the figures at 12.75 cents. The Greenville market is handling about fifty bales today.

TRINITY TENNIS TEAM
Continues Its Winning Streak, Never Having Been Defeated.

DURHAM, Nov. 24.—Trinity upheld her record of being invincible to defeat in tennis Saturday when the Trinity team defeated that of Wake Forest. Trinity's tennis team has never been defeated. N. I. White and A. R. Anderson, the varsity tennis team at Trinity, have been playing together for the past two years. They have played nearly all the colleges of the state except Carolina, and have been unable to arrange a game with the University team.

Friday afternoon Wake Forest and Trinity participated in two sets of doubles. Trinity won both. The scores were 6-2, 6-3. Saturday Anderson, of Trinity, and Middleton, of Wake Forest, and White, of Trinity, and Slotted, of Wake Forest played two sets of singles. Anderson took both sets from his man by the overwhelming score of 6-0, 6-0. White defeated his man in both sets, score 6-3, 7-5.

Mr. Simmons may just put it down that it will make Editor Oliver all the worse.

Satoris.
1878—Emily Platt, niece of President Hayes, and Gen. Russell Hastings.

1886—Frances Polson and President Grover Cleveland.

1906—Alice Roosevelt, daughter of President Roosevelt, and Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio.

1913—Jessie Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, and Francis B. Sayre.

THE RESIGNATION OF JUDGE BRAGAW

Washington Man Leaves Superior Court Bench

HAS BEEN JUDGE TWO YEARS

Resignation Becomes Effective December 31.—The Judge Retires Fearing a Breakdown in Health.

Genuine regret over the unexpected resignation of Judge Stephen C. Bragaw, of Washington, is felt by the members of the Greenville bar, many of whom know and are personally acquainted with the retiring judge. The resignation of the distinguished jurist of the state superior court bench was forwarded yesterday to Governor Craig, and the news was announced from Raleigh and Washington yesterday afternoon.

Judge Bragaw's resignation is to take effect on December 31 of this year, and after that time the Washington man will likely resume his law practice in some town which he has not as yet decided upon. The following clipping from the Washington Daily News, of yesterday, will be read with interest by those interested in the judge's retirement from the superior court bench:

His Honor Judge Stephen C. Bragaw has decided to resign his position as judge of the first judicial district. He mailed his letter of resignation to Governor Craig yesterday.

Judge Bragaw, says in his resignation, which is to take place on December 31, that while his work on the bench has thus far benefited, rather than impaired his health, yet that a continuation of the close confinement to him and that it is best for him to retire now, rather than undergo the risk of remaining longer in the work.

The news of this step on the part of Judge Bragaw will be known with regret by the members of the bar throughout the state.

Judge Bragaw received his license to practice law from the North Carolina Superior Court in 1892, and went to New Bern where he practiced for a year and a half, during that time occupying the position as city attorney. Leaving New Bern he went to the city of St. Louis where he remained several years, finally returning to his native town where from the very first he enjoyed a large and lucrative practice up to the time he was appointed by Governor Kitchin as judge of the judicial district to succeed Judge George W. Ward, who resigned. At the last general election Judge Bragaw was elected to his high office with practically no opposition and since that time has been presiding over the courts of North Carolina with ability and universal satisfaction to all litigants and the bar.

Judge Bragaw as yet has formulated no plans as to the future but it is to be hoped that he will decide to resume his law practice in Washington, where he is best known and most admired.

Since his administration on the bench and wherever he has gone over the state many encomiums of praise have been his both as a lawyer and as a high toned gentleman and his retires to private life carrying with him the very best wishes of the entire state for every success which he so richly deserves. Few men in North Carolina have worn the judicial robe with more ability and fairness.

As to who will succeed Judge Bragaw on the bench at this writing cannot be ascertained. There will no doubt be several candidates for the position.

GREAT GATHERING STATE EDUCATORS

Superintendents and Teachers to Meet in Raleigh

LOCAL PEOPLE TO ATTEND

Professor W. H. Ragsdale Goes to Raleigh This Afternoon.—
Teachers Will Also Attend.

Men and women all over North Carolina who are interested in the educational welfare and advancement of the state this week have their eyes centered on the meetings of the county superintendents and teachers in Raleigh this week. The first of these to command attention will be that of the county superintendents, which will convene tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, and which will be in session for three days.

Professor W. H. Ragsdale, superintendent for Pitt county will leave this afternoon for Raleigh to be in attendance upon the first session tomorrow morning. Three meetings will be held every day, the first from 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.; the second from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m., and the last from 8:30 to 10:30 p. m. While these sessions are only two hours long, it will be noticed that they follow closely upon each other, and that there are three of them to be held each day. This program will be followed tomorrow and Wednesday, and one session on Thursday morning will close the meetings of the county superintendents, and they will adjourn immediately to the city auditorium, where the annual session will be presided over by Rev. Dr. Neill B. Abernethy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Winston-Salem.

Professor Ragsdale was asked this morning as to his views of the working before the meeting of the association, and he stated that there was to be done. This is the first meeting since both the regular and the special sessions of the General Assembly, and there are many new rulings that must be discussed and explained at the meeting.

Considerable time will likely be given to the discussions of the new compulsory education law which goes into effect in Pitt county today, and which has been in effect in some counties for now more than month.

The various county boards are left to decide among themselves as to just when the law will go into effect in their districts, and it is not enforced in all of the counties at the same time. The board of education in Pitt county postponed the date of the enforcement of the law in this county as long as they thought they could well do it in order for the farmers to keep their children at home as long as possible to pick the cotton crop.

A large attendance at the meeting of the county superintendents is looked for. Every county superintendent is compelled by the department of education to attend these meetings. His expenses are paid to and from Raleigh, including hotel bills, and every man is required to attend every session of the meeting while he is in Raleigh. As many as twelve hundred, and perhaps more, teachers are expected to attend the meeting of the Teachers' Assembly to be in session from Wednesday to Friday inclusive.

SATURDAY MURDER WASHINGTON, N. C.

Josh Mills Cut Ben Ormond to Death With Knife

MILLS IS STILL AT LARGE

Murder Occurred in a Washington
Barber Shop.—Both Men Are
Well Known in Pitt County.

Enraged over a little unpleasant personal matter between the two Josh Mills, now of Washington, but lately of Pitt county, and well known here, on last Saturday night in Washington attacked and cut to death a man by the name of Ben Ormond. The killing is supposed to have taken place in a barber shop in that town, according to reports of the murder reaching this town.

It seems that a dispute arose a few days before over Ormond using a horse in Mills' stable, and that a few words passed between the two at that time. Mills, however, did not allow the matter to drop at that stage of the proceedings and walked up to Ormond Saturday night and wanted to know what Ormond had been saying about him. A few words were passed and Mills drew a pocket knife from his pocket and began slashing back and forth on Ormond's body. Several ugly slashes were cut on his arm, one or two on his neck, and another on chest, and the man died in a very short while after the occurrence.

Mills has taken to the tall timbers, and nothing has since been heard of him. He has many friends in Beaufort and Pitt counties, and it is thought not impossible that some of them will harbor him and protect him from the officers until the guilty man decides to show up and take the blame for his crime.

Ben Ormond had not the best of reputation. He had been seen in jail many times, and had done service in the Federal prison in Atlanta for counterfeiting. He had parted from his wife long before his death and was not living with her at the time of his death.

Mills is well known about this town, for he was once a resident of Pitt county, and local people will be interested in the outcome of the affair in which he played the chief part.

Elegantly Equipped Car.

The Atlantic Coast Realty Company's special car "Mary-Lou" on which the sales crew came here to conduct Saturday's land sale, remained over Sunday at the A. C. L. station and left this morning for a sale at Holmwood.

Mr. K. W. Cobb, manager of this sales crew, invited a few friends to take dinner with him Sunday on the car, and a delightful repast was enjoyed. Those who had not visited the car before were charmed with its equipment. It has all the comforts of the Pullman car, splendidly furnished throughout, with kitchen and storage apartment attached.

The Atlantic Coast Realty Company's now negotiating the purchase of another Pullman car for the use of their second sales crew, their large business making it necessary to keep two crews on the road.

LITERARY ORGANIZATIONS ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE COMING YEAR.—DOING GOOD WORK.

Officers for the two literary societies at the Training School have been elected for the current year, and are given below. There are two literary societies at the Training School, and there is the keenest of rivalry between them as well as between the societies of other institutions of the kind in the state. One of the best places for the observation of this is during the campaign for new members just after the opening of the term each fall.

Each of the two literary societies elects its president for the following year at the last meeting in the spring term, and at the second meeting in the fall of the year, after the term has opened, all of the other officers are elected. The recent elections furnished positions for the following:

Edgar Allan Poe Society.
Emma Cobb, president.
Verna Mae Waters, vice-president.
Clara Davis, secretary.
Lucile O'Brien, treasurer.
Helen Guilford, marshal.
Helen Daniel, critic.
Sidney Lanier Society.
Lavinia Lancaster, president.
Mabel Cutrell, vice-president.
Bernice Fagan, secretary.
Ruth Hodges, treasurer.
Garnet Bonner, marshal.
Mae Belle Cobb, critic.

WOMEN IN FIGHT.

State-Wide Fight Against Capital Punishment.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 22.—Spurred on by the case of Bessie Wakefield, the woman sentenced to be hanged in March, the women of Connecticut today inaugurated a state-wide fight for the abolition of capital punishment.

Mrs. Wakefield's appeal from hanging is expected to reach the supreme court Monday. Thos. F. Devine, of Waterbury, is now being aided by many of the best lawyers in Connecticut who say that any of the twenty reasons assigned in Mrs. Wakefield's appeal are sufficient to secure a new trial. The appeal of Jose Burgeron, of New Britain, under sentence to hang, has reached the supreme court.

DECREASE OF SKILLED LABOR.

Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman, in making public some statements that will be contained in the forthcoming report to Governor Craig, states that there is a decrease in the supply of skilled laborers over the state. The commissioner gives, as an explanation of this condition of affairs, the opinion that this is caused by the growing disregard of the old apprenticeship system which was so common in almost every vocation only a few years ago.

It is a fact that cannot be denied that in this age of rush and hurry young men are so anxious to get out into the world to make their living and to make money for themselves that they disregard a thorough preparation for their life work, and consequently never attain that height of perfection that is common to so few people.

This country is today suffering because of its lack of skilled laborers. We people of the south fuss and growl and cuss out a high tariff, for which we admit there is no excuse, and say that we can sell raw cotton to English manufacturers and have to buy it back at four or five times the price we received for it. And why is all this? It is a fact that is true for no other reason under the sun than that the laborers in the English cotton mills are more skilled than our own people. This is why our cotton must go abroad to be made into the fancy laces and qualities of cloth that are imported, for which we must pay unreasonable prices. If our own people would study their business and learn the intricate parts of this work, they could make more money themselves and would be able to buy their fancy cloth at a very much cheaper rate.

But it is not this way in this country. People who come to be skilled in their particular line of employment, if it be a cotton factory job, think themselves too good to work side by side with a person of less knowledge of the business, and if they can't land a superintendent's berth, or get to be an overseer or boss, then they quit work and go somewhere else.

And this same condition of affairs holds good in other lines of employment. The young man serving his time working up to the position of a professional mechanic is so anxious to attain his goal that he almost loses sight of the little things that he must of necessity learn before he can get to that point.

Skilled labor will bring its reward to any person engaged in its pursuit. The day has come when a man is paid for what is in his head and what he knows rather than who he can do by manual labor. Of course, in many vocations where manual labor is required, there the skilled workman must be brought into play to take part in it. Skill and knowledge of machinery are required for a man to hold a position as a chauffeur, and yet many men think themselves above such a position.

But, it will be a sad day for North Carolina when she comes to that point where no skilled workers and artificers can be found within her borders. And it will be still a sadder day when this nation can point to none of its citizens and say that they are cultured and trained in any career.

tain profession. Let our people encourage training in skilled labor among the youth of the state. Let no father or mother urge a boy to stop his trade before he has completed his apprenticeship, and let the employers and overseers insist on maintaining this high standard of efficiency among our people.

Scores of boys drop out of college and even high school before they finish their courses, and launch out into life halfway prepared for the battles and hardships that must come to them and which they must face. They have not the patience nor the desire to complete their training, but go on declaring that they know just as much as if they had completed their courses in some institution of learning. This is not the case, and many of them in after years wake up to find that they have made a mistake. Any young man who is not willing to pay the price of an education, even though he must wash dishes or mend shoes to make his way through college, will come to find that he must bear the brunt of the burden all the way through life, and that he must let another laborer over him and dictate to him the course that he must follow.

Skilled training in almost every line of employment in life is needed and the man that is without it, and who cannot see the need of it will never be able to cut much of a figure on the rocks of time.

THE VALUE OF A MAN.

The heading above might be changed to the value of the services of a man, but that might not cover the field quite so well as the former. "He any man worth more than twenty-five thousand dollars a year." This is a question which is being asked and discussed by some big men who do not agree with the declaration of Charles S. Mellen, recently retired as president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, who says that no man can recompense a firm or corporation more than that much.

Taking a surface view of the problem one would be inclined to agree with Mr. Mellen, but a new and a clearer light is thrown up the subject when you come to consider a statement made by Senator Chauncey M. Depue to the effect that "the kind of talent needed by big corporations is exceedingly rare."

And that is true. There are few men in the country the equal of a Pierpont Morgan, or a Thomas Edison, or a Woodrow Wilson. Morgan was a financial genius, the like of which has not been seen in several generations past, and Edison's parallel has never been found, while Woodrow Wilson stands alone in his sphere of activities. Are these men worth $25,000 a year to their professions or in the business which commands their time and attention, or which did in the instance of Mr. Morgan?

It is our opinion that they do. Some things that have been done by these men could not be measured in terms of dollars and cents. Inventions which have sprung from the activities of Thomas Edison's mind have meant more to the world than all of the money in the world, and yet this man owns but a small portion of the world's goods. No one can tell the value to this country of a man such as Mr. Wilson, or the great credit and financial standing that the mere name Morgan carried with it in the days of the life of this man.

No salary could be too big or too high for the services performed by some men, and yet it would not be fair to give them what they rightly deserved, speaking from a solely monetary standpoint. In considering what a man is really worth, we must go far beyond any value that can be placed upon him in terms of gold and silver.

A man owes a duty to his fellowmen, and if he can perform that duty let him do it and make no unreasonable demands upon society for his services. So long as he lives comfortably and has plenty for himself and his family, what need has he for more? A part of his pay comes in the gratitude of men's hearts, and in the ease of conscience that follows the knowledge of duty well performed. If God made some men with bigger minds, and led them into broader fields of activity, then he meant for

NOTICE.

North Carolina, Pitt County.
Under and by virtue of the authority conferred upon me by the provisions of a certain mortgage executed by D. W. Bedard and wife Hattie M. Bedard and Rebecca Bedard, of the county of Pitt and state of North Carolina, to Harry Skinner of the said county and state, which is duly recorded in Book E 10, page 197, in the office of the register of deeds of Pitt county, the undersigned will sell at the court house door in Greenville, on the 20th day of December, 1913, at the hour of 12 m. to the highest bidder for cash, the following described parcels or lots of land:
Lying and being in the town of Grifton, county of Pitt, state of North Carolina, and bounded by Pitt street and McRae street, and the land of I. C. Griffin, beginning at the east corner of Pitt and McRae streets and runs with McRae street south 45 east to the center of the canal, thence up the center of the canal 186 1-2 to a stake, a corner, thence north 45 east 88 feet, to a stake on the side of Pitt street; thence, thence with the side of Pitt street, thence south 45 west 186 1-2 to the beginning. The same that was conveyed by Alice Spier to D. W. Bedard and by him conveyed to Hattie M. Bedard.
Also one other lot in the town of Grifton, county of Pitt, state of North Carolina, in the rear and adjoining the above described lot, and known as the lot conveyed to Rebecca Bedard by Alice Spier and others, reference is made to the deed of Rebecca Bedard made for a full description of this lot.
This 18th day of November, 1913.

JUDGE BRAGAW'S RETIREMENT.

General surprise will be felt by the public at the announcement of the resignation of Judge Stephen C. Bragaw, of Washington. The Judge may have been considering this for some time, but if he has kept it well to himself, and has given the public but little idea of what he had intended doing.

In his retirement the state loses one of its ablest jurists. Judge Bragaw has been on the bench for only two years, but during that time he has made hundreds of friends among the members of the bar in every section of the state where he has held courts. In going up and down over the state he has meted out justice to criminals in a manner not to be criticized and in a way that makes of him a man loved by the people. Without knowing who will receive the honor of taking Judge Bragaw's place, we might add that any man will have no light task in wearing the ermine as he has done it.

VALID EDITION.

I hope that I may be pardoned for taking this last opportunity of having a few personal words with my readers before severing connection with this paper. To most people in Greenville the announcement of my going away will be a piece of news, as there has been but very little said about it.

My stay of five months and a half in this town has been a pleasant one and it is with regrets that I go away. I have lived here just long enough to begin to know the town and its people and to make, as I trust, a few friends who are true and tried, and whom I shall always think much of. I have seen enough of the town to know that it has a great future before it, and it and its people shall always have a warm place in my heart. The signs of progress do not have to be looked for, as they are already on every hand, and every citizen of Greenville has a perfect right to feel proud of his town.

I like the town and shall always be glad to greet Greenville people whenever I may run across them in their moving to and fro in the land, and shall always have a kind word for them and their town.
HENRY A. DENNIS.

COATED TONGUE MEANS LAZY LIVER

A Lazy Liver Needs a Dose of Dodson's Liver Tonic—Guaranteed to Take Place of Calomel.

When your doctor looks to see if your tongue is coated, he is trying to find out if your liver is working properly. A few years ago doctors had to prescribe calomel—there was nothing else to give.

Recently in many sections of the country Dodson's Liver Tonic has practically taken the place of calomel as a liver remedy. Dodson's Liver Tonic is mild, pleasant tasting and harmless—which makes it a fine medicine for use when your children become bilious and constipated. But the most remarkable feature of Dodson's Liver Tonic is the fact that Greenlee Drug Co., who sell it, guarantee its purity.

The druggist will return your money without argument if a bottle fails to give entire satisfaction. Price 50 cents. We suggest that you get a bottle today and have it ready for the next member of your family whose liver goes wrong.

TOO MANY HEIRLOOMS

By HENRY SCHREYER.

"No," said the girl at the museum, "let's not go in there. I just hate heirlooms!" she frowned with disfavor on the exhibition and turned away.

"I have been brought up among heirlooms since I can remember, and I loathe and despise them!" she said, shrugging.

"What was a baby they bega—My best dress all through my babyhood was the dress my mother and grandmother had been baptised in. Of course, that was a very old piece of heavy muslin that looked like a bath robe!"

"That it was an heirloom, and in every picture I have of my babyhood I'm inclosed in that thing! I'm ashamed to show my baby pictures for people will think I'm three times my natural age, from the style of my dress!"

"Then I had a lot of great aunts, with garrets, and when they saw that picture of the dress of ancient vintage nothing would do but they should turn over their rubbish and send me boxes of things almost perishing with age. Of course, mother had to fix them up, and she usually just did as little as possible, so I could wear them a little while, and then throw them away."

"She felt that as much as I was useful, to keep in with the relatives. There I went around, in my girlhood, with hoopskirts minus the hoops, and with mob-caps, sleeves, skin tight, when all the girls were wearing big puffs. And to appease me mother always told me that I should be proud to have heirlooms!"

"I tell you, if you want to look at heirlooms, look at me! Here I stand, a perfect museum! Look at this skirt."

"I tell you, if you want to look at heirlooms, look at me! Here I stand, a perfect museum! Look at this skirt."

AFDEN ITEMS

Death of Little Child That Was Burned
Few Days Ago.

ALDEN, Nov. 22.—Mr. Jesse F. Hart is remodeling his residence in South Aiden.

If you want building material, remember that J. R. Smith and Bro. sell it cheap.

It sure is business-like around the depot, while so many carpenters are at work.

Mr. W. B. Bullock has purchased the house and lot on the corner of Third and Ventura street.

Mr. Ginner and steam mill man, if you need any better or any repairs, see J. R. Smith and Bro.

Mr. Jimmie Bright has bought the Ed Stocks farm down in Fork Swamp and he now owns a large body of fine land well adapted to all crops, especially cotton and tobacco.

A car each of lime, cement, salt, metal roofing and wire fencing. J. R. Smith and Bro.

The district meeting of Odd Fellows meets in Farnville Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Thad Hart wishes to see all his old customers. He is now with J. R. Smith and Bro.

If you want to buy any thing, we want to sell it; if you want to sell anything, we want to buy it. J. R. Smith and Bro.

We had a pleasant call from our friend, Mr. John Andrews, of Greenville, Friday. When he was in business he had a peculiar fondness for children and has given away many boxes of candy, and we all remember him kindly for it. Such little deeds as that is like "casting bread upon the waters."

Mr. A. F. Cox left last Monday for Greensboro hospital. He has been on the decline for the last few weeks. We hope to soon see him return.

Re: Mr. Griffith, rector of the Episcopal church here, is a wonderful man. Besides preaching too un-surely right, he came here yesterday and wired the Episcopal church and installed a system of electric lights.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cox that was burned, of which we made mention, died Tuesday and was buried in Aiden cemetery. Rev. J. H. LeGrand conducted the funeral. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved parents and point them to Him who said "Suffer little ones to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Messrs. E. E. Dail and Son have moved into their new store on Lee street. This street will soon be one of the most business-like streets in town.

How long will it be, before our people see the need and absolute necessity of a market house and concentrate the sale of fresh meat, beef, and green cow hides, and also with it naturally be expected a town hall, a place for public meetings, and mayor's courts. Last Sunday morning it was enough to shock the dignity of a highwayman to see his Honor Squire D. G. Berry holding court on the side walk, trying Ben Bell for the larceny of a bale of cotton from Mr. L. L. Kittrell's gin Saturday in the broad open daylight. It was bad, but trying him on the public highway was really embarrassing, besides attracting the attention of the pedestrians. It was enough to make strangers form a bad opinion of the prisoner, or but it was the best Squire Berry could do.

There will be a box party, or basket party, at the tobacco warehouse next Tuesday night for the benefit of Eastern star, Masonic home, and other fraternal organizations. The ladies of the Eastern Star will have charge. Now this is a very worthy object, and should meet the approval of every one as the object is to raise funds to make presents to these various causes. Besides the box party there will be music and fruit for sale. Come and spend an hour or two here; we shall look for you, be sure, and be sure to bring your own.

Our friend Billie Boyd was passing where excavations had been made for the Masonic temple, and not being aware of it, fell in the pit, and he said he broke both legs and his neck in three places, but he is still sitting meat for W. S. Forbes and Co.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

WINTERVILLE, Nov. 21.—Miss E. E. Johnson left Friday for Goldsboro where she will take charge of a school near that city.

Miss Louise Carroll, of Clinton, one of the music teachers in the Winterville High School has been called to the bedside of the mother who is very ill.

Mr. M. L. Barker left Saturday morning for Norfolk where he will visit his son.

Miss Dora E. Cox left Monday night to visit her aunt near Grifton, who is very ill.

Mr. R. H. Hunsicker went to Greenville Tuesday.

LAMBLI FINANCING.

By S. W. Foss.
They tell me that you work 1/2 a dollar a day;
How is it you clothe
Your six boys on such pay?

"I know you will think it.
Conceded and queer.
But I do it because
I am a good financier.

There's Pete, Jim, John and Joe
And William and Ned.
A half-dozen boys
To be clothed and fed;
And I buy for them all
Good clothing complete.
But clothing—
I only buy clothing for Pete
When Pete's clothing are too small
For him to get on.
My wife makes 'em over
And gives 'em to John;
When for John who is ten.
They have grown out of date.
She makes them over
For Jim who is eight.
When for Jim they become
Too ragged to fix,
She just makes 'em over
For Joe, who is six.
And when little Joseph
Can wear 'em no more,
She just makes 'em over,
For Bill who is four.
And when for young Bill
No longer they'll do,
She just makes 'em over,
For Ned, who is ten.
So you see, if I get
Enough clothing for Pete,
The family is furnished
With clothing complete."

But when Ned has got
Through with the clothing,
And when he has thrown it aside—
What becomes of it then?

"Why, once more we go round
The circle complete,
And begin to use it for Patches for Pete."

PRESIDENT READS ANNUAL MESSAGE

Applause Deafening When He Concluded His Reference to Mexico

WILLIAM JENNINGS SMILES

Secretary of State Carried a Broad Smile, Required Less Than Thirty Minutes to Read Message.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—President Wilson arrived at the Capitol just before one o'clock today to read in person his first annual message to a joint session in Congress.

He went at once to Speaker Clark's room, where he was met by a committee of the House and Senate and escorted into the House Chamber to the rostrum.

The beginning of the joint session and the reading of the message did not begin promptly at 1 o'clock as had been provided because of the failure of the Senate to recess in time to get over to the House chamber.

It was within one minute of one before the Senators were filing over to the other side of the Capitol. Meanwhile the President waited in Speaker Clark's office, chatting with the reception committee and a few Congressmen.

Galleries packed with a brilliant company of officials and their families greeted the President, however, when the joint session finally got down to business.

All present rose to their feet and a deafening roar of applause swept the chamber as Mr. Wilson took his place behind the desk and began to read at 1:00 o'clock. The President read easily and clearly in his usual pleasing tone which carried his words to the doors of the chamber.

The solemn pulpit which attended the President's reading was broken by general applause when he read his views on the Mexican situation in the emphatic words: "There can be no certain prospect of peace in America until General Huerta has surrendered his usurped authority in Mexico."

HIS MEXICAN POLICY APPLAUD-ED.

As the president concluded his references to Mexico and announced that the United States would adhere to its "waiting policy" the applause was louder.

Another outburst of applause greeted the president's declaration that the Sherman anti-trust law should be strengthened. More applause greeted the declaration in favor of the direct nomination of Presidential candidates. Nearly every sentence of his comment on that subject was punctuated by hand-clapping.

BRYAN SMILES BROADLY

Secretary Bryan in the diplomatic gallery smiled broadly.

In still another burst of applause the President finished reading at 1:35 o'clock, the joint session dissolved and the President returned to the White House.

Mrs. Wilson, with her daughters, Eleanor and Margaret, occupied places in a private gallery. Secretary Taft and all members of the Cabinet had places on the floor.

The message, among the briefest of documents of its kind from any President, being about 3,000 words long, required less than thirty minutes for reading, though it treated upon a variety of subjects.

The Mexican situation President Wilson dismissed with brief comment.

People Drowned and Many Houses Wrecked In Texas

BELTON, Tex., Dec. 2.—Ten persons were reported to have perished in a thirty foot wave which came without warning down Noland Creek before daybreak. The creek runs through the center of this city.

Fifty houses along the creek's banks in Belton were swept away. In the heart of the town Mrs. W. C. Dull and her four children were caught asleep in their home and drowned. Polk, carrying the fifth child, an infant, escaped to high ground.

Five fatalities—a man, his wife and three children—were reported in another family, that of a camper. His name was not known here.

When the main street bridge in Temple, Tex., was demolished by the wave an unidentified man was on the structure. He was seen to go into the water. It is believed he perished.

The creek's rise was the result of a down pour of our hours' duration. Colorado River Damages New Dam. AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 2.—The Colorado river this afternoon was running forty feet deep through the uncompleted opening in Austin's new $2,000,000 dam. All cofferdams went out and the water was rising at the rate of two feet an hour.

Building Largest Telescope.

QUINCY, Mass., Dec. 2.—Materials have been received at the Fore River shipyards here for the frame of the telescope which will be the largest in the world when it is set up on Mt. Wilson, near Pasadena, Cal. The Mt. Wilson Observatory is under the direction of the Carnegie Institute and the telescope which it has ordered will be without a rival. Within another week or so the work of assembling the great steel frame will be commenced. The Fore River Company is to build the frame and machinery and set them up, and the contract for these will amount to about $200,000. The local company will have nothing to do with the lens which will measure 100 inches in diameter.

We wonder if the street committee will get the "large, elegant and juicy" mud hole at the corner of the Star Warehouse drained by Christmas. It covers all the sidewalk of two streets and yet no official seems to know of its existence.

As the president concluded his references to Mexico and announced that the United States would adhere to its "waiting policy" the applause was louder.

Another outburst of applause greeted the president's declaration that the Sherman anti-trust law should be strengthened. More applause greeted the declaration in favor of the direct nomination of Presidential candidates. Nearly every sentence of his comment on that subject was punctuated by hand-clapping.

POSTMASTER REINSTATES CLERK

WASHBURN, OF NEW BERN, BOUNCED CLERK SMITH, AND SENATOR SIMMONS TOOK A HAND.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The post-office fight in New Bern, which has been waxing with considerable heat in North Carolina for the past few days, had a Washington end today when R. E. Smith, the clerk who started charges against Postmaster J. B. Washburn, wired Senator Simmons that Washburn had discharged him peremptorily.

Senator Simmons notified the post-office department and the department wired Washburn to restore Smith to his job. The whole matter is being held up until an inspector can be sent to the office to untangle the snarl.

Washburn, who is a Republican, has filed counter charges against Smith, who is protected by civil service, and without waiting for the department to act discharged Smith on his own initiative. The department reversed his action without going into the merits of the case.

WINNERS OF HOGS IN STAR WAREHOUSE CONTEST

The contest offered by Joyner and Sugg, proprietors of the Star Warehouse, closed December 1st. The firm offered twenty full blood Duroc Jersey hogs to the twenty farmers selling tobacco on the Star Warehouse floor, who guessed nearest the number of pounds of tobacco that would be sold on the Greenville market by December 1st. The secretary's report up to December 1st shows that they have sold on the Greenville market 12,726.233 pounds, and the following farmers are winners in the contest, and guessed nearest the number of pounds sold, in the order named:

T. R. Hodges guessed 12,733.623
Mr. Hodges' guess was recorded on October 10th and missed the exact number of pounds only 326.
H. H. Smith guessed 12,723.157
A. Worthington guessed 12,750,000
Joe Mayo, Jr., guessed 12,750,000
Claude Harrington guessed 12,750,122
David McLawhorn guessed 12,750,176
J. H. Clark guessed 12,750,210
J. D. Smith guessed 12,750,278
P. D. Harrington guessed 12,750,706
Henry Brown, guessed 12,750,900
J. J. Jones guessed 12,750,900
R. D. Harrington guessed 12,752,006
J. H. Yarrall guessed 12,751,327
Zeno Meeks guessed 12,750,121
J. F. Stokes guessed 12,750,013
J. T. Dupree guessed 12,772,700
R. D. Harrington guessed 12,777,776
A. A. Forbes, Sr., guessed 12,777,777
Lake Langley guessed 12,694,405
S. L. Jones guessed 12,694,450
The distribution of these hogs will take place at the farm of Mr. O. L. Joyner, two and a half miles from Greenville on Saturday morning, the 6th, inst., at 10:30, and every contestant is expected to be on hand, so as to make his own selection, as Messrs. Joyner and Sugg cannot serve them to this capacity.

Postal Receipts.

The receipts of the Greenville post-office for the month of November were $1,460.75. For the same month last year they were $1,328.16, showing a gain of $222.59 for this November over the corresponding month a year ago. This is a good index of the growth of business in the town.

The bulk of mail handled through the office here, both regular mail and parcel post, is constantly increasing.

Automobile Drivers Must Keep Their Exhaust Muffled

At their regular monthly meeting on November 6th, the Board of Aldermen passed an ordinance that all motor vehicles on any of the streets of the town must have the exhaust muffled. For safety of the owners of said machines we are today republishing the ordinance which reads:

That Chapter 2, Section 16 be amended by adding after said section as it now reads, the following:

Any and all persons who shall drive an automobile, motorcycle or other motor vehicle over any of the streets of the town shall at any and all times have and keep the exhaust to said automobile, motorcycle or other motor vehicle muffled.

Any person violating this provision of this ordinance shall be fined $5.00 for each and every offense.

This ordinance to be in effect on and after December 1st, 1913.

The foregoing ordinance was passed by the board of aldermen at the regular meeting on November 6th, 1913.

JAMES C. TYSON, Clerk.

Come Get on the Cash List.

December is nearly here, and when The Reflector will begin revising its subscription list preparatory to adopting the cash in advance system the first of the year. Again we remind our subscribers to look at the data following their name on the paper which shows the time they are from, and let us have payment in time to put their name on the new list and avoid missing a copy of the paper. As said before, the cash system will be better for the subscriber, as well as for the paper, and it is only by adopting it that we can afford to reduce the price of the paper to the subscription price. Many subscribers who have already been in to settle, have expressed their approval of the proposed change to the cash system. Every one who intends to pay will approve of it, for in addition to getting the paper at a low price it saves any annoyance that might be felt over getting dunned for it.

"Debes" Meet in Boston.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 2.—Delegates from two scores of the leading universities and colleges are present in Boston attending the annual national convention of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. The convention was formally opened at the Hotel Somerset today and will be continued until Saturday. Several features of notable entertainment are included in the program. The Delta Kappa Epsilon was established at Yale in 1844 and is the only great intercollegiate fraternity of strictly New England origin, although from its formation it has been strong in the south and west. It has two chapters in Canada and several on the Pacific coast.

COLORED WOMAN HURT IN RINAWAY YESTERDAY

Sunday afternoon with a colored man by the name of Jim Taylor, who was riding with his wife along on the sand-dray road just on the edge of the town their horse became frightened at the passing automobiles and dashed off throwing the woman out, from which she received several slight injuries.

Condition Grows Worse.

The condition of Mr. Leo Langley who fell from a tree Friday night while opossum hunting, continues grave. The Reflector was informed this morning that his injuries were more serious than was at first thought.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS

WINTERVILLE, Dec. 3.—Mr. Durwood Tucker was here Sunday. If you need any crockeryware, we have a very nice line of it. It would pay you to see us before you purchase elsewhere. B. D. Forest and Co.

Prof. F. C. Nye H. D. Lindsey returned Monday morning from the Union Meeting at Fort Barnwell. They say the meeting was a success in every way.

See Harrington, Barber and Co. for your rubber roofing, they will give you some close prices and good goods. Misses Ruth Hodges and Jennie Webb from the East Carolina Teachers Training School spent some little time with Miss Fannie Lee Spier.

Wanted! at once, one hundred head of beef cattle. R. W. Dail.

Misses Dorothy Johnson and Elizabeth Spier spent the week-end at Grifton.

Meat cutters, sausage stuffers and lard stands at A. W. Ange and Co.

Everything in the market line up—Don't fail to see me for your meat and groceries. R. W. Dail and Co.

Kittrell and Co. have just received two carloads of hay. See them for Mr. S. C. Clark from Wilson was here Sunday.

Guns, pistols, cartridges and gun shells at A. W. Ange and Co.

Harrington, Barber and Co. will make it to your interest for you to buy your stalk cutters and reversible disc from them. They are selling as good as the market will afford.

James L. Alexander pays a fine of $2.00. J. Bayless Rector pleads guilty and judgment is suspended for three years. D. Macon McKay forfeits his liquor license and agrees never to apply for another and a similar entry is made in the case of F. F. McMillen.

The costs of investigation amounting to approximately $1,500 are divided equally among Messrs. Alexander, Green and Lange. Each of the defendants pleads guilty to two charges of violations of the prohibition laws. Judgment being entered in one case and being suspended for three years in the other. The announcement came as a surprise to the witnesses and those who were present at the court and when Judge Carter immediately after court convened remarked, "Gentlemen somebody has seen the judge and these investigations are about to stop." The situation was tense.

Following the announcement that the defendants have agreed to accept the terms outlined by the court Judge Carter stated that no further proceedings will be instituted against the defendants in the present investigation although he made it clear that the ending of this phase of the investigation does not mean that he will not investigate prescription fines in an effort to learn whether or not physicians have been writing prescriptions for persons other than bona fide patients.

The Vance Literary Society of the Winterville High School gave a very interesting debate last Thursday night on the query, "Resolved, That the constitution of North Carolina should be so amended as to allow initiative and referendum in state wide legislation." Messrs. L. B. Dickens, P. H. Pierce, G. L. Hattell and P. D. Croom supported the affirmative, while the negative was upheld by Messrs. P. H. Chase, R. W. Watson, E. D. Thorne and W. E. Dawson. Each speech gave evidence of careful preparation and the entire debate was of a high order; a credit alike to those who participated and to the society they represented. They propose to give another of these debates in the early spring.

Jack Pitt, the young negro who was shot on Thanksgiving day by Sam Mayo, also colored, while they were out hunting opossums, returned from hunting, died Saturday night. Sam Mayo is still at large, and if any effort is being made to catch him it is kept very quiet. Such a willful murderer should be captured if possible.

Our Farmers Union friends are holding educational meetings all over the country, instructing the membership as to the duties and opportunities. Much good can be accomplished in this way, and we wish to say that our columns are open for any reports they may wish to make.

If you want to see a pretty sight one that will make you feel proud—visit the graded school grounds at the noon hour.

WE HAVE A CIRCULATION OF TWELVE HUNDRED AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE IN THE EASTERN PART OF NORTH CAROLINA AND INVITE THOSE WHO WISH TO GET BETTER ACQUAINTED WITH THESE GOOD PEOPLE IN A BUSINESS WAY TO TAKE A FEW INCHES SPACE AND TELL THEM WHAT YOU HAVE TO BRING TO THEIR ATTENTION. OUR ADVERTISING RATES ARE LOW AND CAN BE HAD UPON APPLICATION.

HEAVY FINES ON LIQUOR DEALERS

Ashville Case Is Brought Abruptly to a Close

FINISHING TOUCHES PUT ON

Defendants Agree to Pay Highest Fine Ever Imposed in Like Cases in North Carolina. Hospital Gets Boze.

ASHEVILLE, Dec. 2.—The investigation of the alleged illegal traffic in whiskey which has been conducted by Judge Frank Carter here for the past several weeks, came to an abrupt close this morning when the presiding officer announced that the defendants in the various cases have agreed to pay the heaviest fines ever imposed in North Carolina courts for a similar offense, donate their intoxicants to the Mission Hospital and use in the charity wards, destroy barroom fixtures in their possession and refrain from the sale of whiskey for the next three years.

Under the terms of the compromise a fine of $4,000 is imposed on John H. Lange and Gay Green, the former paying $2,666.67 and the latter being assessed with $1,333.33. James L. Alexander pays a fine of $2.00. J. Bayless Rector pleads guilty and judgment is suspended for three years. D. Macon McKay forfeits his liquor license and agrees never to apply for another and a similar entry is made in the case of F. F. McMillen.
