PRESIDENT READS ANNUAL MESSAGE

Applause Deafening When He Concluded His Reference to Mexico

WILLIAM JENNINGS SMILES

Secretary of State Carried a Broad Smile, Required Less Than Thirty Minutes to Read Message.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—President Wilson arrived at the capitol just before one o'clock today to read in person his first annual message to a joint session in Congress.

He went at once to Speaker Clark's room, where he was met by a committee of the House and Senate and escorted into the House Chamber to the rostrum.

The beginning of the joint session and the reading of the message did not begin promptly at 1 o'clock as had been provided because of the failure of the Senate to recess in time to get over to the House chamber.

It was within one minute of one before the Senators were filing over to the other side of the capitol. Meanwhile the President waited in Speaker Clark's office, chatting with the reception committee and a few Congressmen.

Galleries packed with a brilliant company of officials and their families greeted the President, however, when the joint session finally got down to business.

All present rose to their feet and a deafening roar of applause swept the chamber as Mr. Wilson took his place behind the desk and began to read at 1:00 o'clock. The president read easily and clearly in his usual pleasing tone which carried his words to the doors of the chamber.

The solemn pulchritude which attended the President's reading was broken by general applause when he read his views on the Mexican situation in the emphatic words: "There can be no ultimate prospect of peace in America until General Huerta has surrendered his usurped authority in Mexico."

HIS MEXICAN POLICY APPLAUDS.

As the president concluded his references to Mexico and announced that the United States would adhere to its "waiting policy" the applause was loud.

Another outburst of applause greeted the president's declaration that the Sherman anti-trust law should be strengthened.

BRYAN SMILES BROADLY

Secretary Bryan in the diplomatic gallery smiled broadly. In still another burst of applause the President finished reading at 1:35 o'clock the joint session dissolved and the President returned to the White House.

Mrs. Wilson, with her daughters, Eleanor and Margaret, occupied places in a private gallery. Secretary Tamm and all members of the Cabinet had places on the floor.

The message, among the briefest of documents of its kind from any President, being about 3,000 words long, required less than thirty minutes for reading, though it treated upon a variety of subjects.

People Drowned and Many Houses Wrecked In Texas

BELTON, Tex., Dec. 2.—Ten persons were reported to have perished in a thirty foot wave which came without warning down Noland Creek before daybreak. The creeks runs through the center of this city.

Fifty houses along the creek banks in Belton were swept away. In the heart of the town Mrs. W. C. Paul and her four children were caught asleep in their home and drowned. Polk, carrying the fifth child, an infant, escaped to high ground.

Five fatalities—a man, his wife and three children—were reported in another family, that of a camper. His name was not known here.

When the main street bridge in Temple, Tex., was demolished by the wave an unidentified man was on the structure. He was seen to go into the water. It is believed he perished.

The creek's rise was the result of a down pour of our hours' duration. Colorado River Damages New Dam. AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 2.—The Colorado river this afternoon was running forty feet deep through the uncompleted opening in Austin's new $2,000,000 dam. All cofferdams went out and the water was rising at the rate of two feet an hour.

Building arrest Telescope.

QUINCY, Mass., Dec. 2.—Materials have been received at the Fore River shipyards here for the frame of the telescope which will be the largest in the world when it is set up on Mt. Wilson, near Pasadena, Cal. The Mt. Wilson Observatory is under the direction of the Carnegie Institute and the telescope which it has ordered will be without a rival. Within another week or so the work of assembling the great steel frame will be commenced. The Fore River Company is to build the frame and machinery and set them up, and the contract for these will amount to about $200,000. The local company will have nothing to do with the lens which will measure 100 inches in diameter.

We wonder if the street committee will get the "large, elegant and juicy" mud hole at the corner of the Star warehouse drained by Christmas. It covers all the sidewalk of two streets and yet no official seems to know of its existence.

retarding the sentiments he expressed in a special address to congress upon the same subject sometime ago and expressing the belief that the Huerta government slowly was crumbling and that the United States probably would not be obliged to alter its policy of waiting.

No program for trust legislation was presented further than mention of the desirability of an early amendment to the Sherman law "to prevent private monopoly more effectively than it has yet been prevented," and an announcement that the president would later address a special message to congress Building of Alaskan railways, which the president endorsed; the need for concentration by the senate on the pending currency bill, which he emphasized; urgent necessity of rural reclamation legislation; self-government for Porto Rico and Hawaii; ultimate independence for the Philippines; a policy of "common council and conference" between the federal government and the states on the conservation question and a review of the results of primary elections were the other principal features of the president's address.

POSTMASTER REINSTATES CLERK

BASSIGHT, OF NEW BERN, BOUNCED CLERK SMITH, AND SENATOR SIMMONS TOOK A HAND.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The post-office fight in New Bern, which has been waxing with considerable heat in North Carolina for the past few days, had a Washington end today when R. E. Smith, the clerk who started charges against Postmaster J. B. Bassight, wired Senator Simmons that Bassight had discharged him peremptorily.

Senator Simmons notified the post-office department and the department wired Bassight to restore Smith to his job. The whole matter is being held up until an inspector can be sent to the office to untangle the snarl.

Bassight, who is a Republican, has filed counter charges against Smith, who is protected by civil service, and without waiting for the department to act discharged Smith on his own initiative. The department reversed his action without going into the merits of the case.

WINNERS OF HOGS IN STAR WAREHOUSE CONTEST

The contest offered by Joyner and Sugg, proprietors of the Star Warehouse, closed December 1st. The firm offered twenty full blood Duroc Jersey hogs to the twenty farmers selling tobacco on the Star Warehouse floor, who guessed nearest the number of pounds of tobacco that would be sold on the Greenville market by December 1st. The secretary's report up to December 1st shows that they have sold on the Greenville market 12,726,233 pounds, and the following farmers are winners in the contest, and guessed nearest the number of pounds sold, in the order named:

- T. R. Hodges guessed 12,733,623 Mr. Hodges' guess was recorded on October 10th and missed the exact number of pounds only 3200.
- H. E. Worthington guessed 12,728,157 A. Worthington guessed 12,750,000 Joe Moya, Jr., guessed 12,750,000 Willard Harrington guessed 12,750,122 David McLawhorn guessed 12,750,210 J. H. Clark guessed 12,750,210 J. D. Smith guessed 12,750,278 R. D. Dupree guessed 12,750,706 Henry Brown guessed 12,750,000 J. J. Jones guessed 12,760,000 R. D. Harrington guessed 12,712,000 J. H. Yarrall guessed 12,701,327 Zeno Meeks guessed 12,700,121 J. F. Stokes guessed 12,700,013 J. T. Dupree guessed 12,775,000 R. D. Harrington guessed 12,777,776 A. A. Forbes, Sr., guessed 12,777,777 Lake Lanley guessed 12,694,405 S. L. Jones guessed 12,694,450

The distribution of these hogs will take place at the farm of Mr. O. L. Joyner, ten and a half miles from Greenville on Saturday morning, the 6th, inst., at 10:30, and every contestant is expected to be on hand, so as to make his own selection, as Messrs. Joyner and Sugg cannot serve them to this capacity.

Postals Receipts.

The receipts of the Greenville post-office for the month of November were $1,460.75. For the same month last year they were $1,328.16, showing a gain of $222.59 for this November over the corresponding month a year ago. This is a good index of the growth of business in the town.

The bulk of mail handled through the office here, both regular mail and parcel post, is constantly increasing.

COLORED WOMAN HURT IN REXAWAY YESTERDAY

Sunday afternoon with a colored man by the name of Jim Peyton who was riding with his wife was riding along on the sand-lay road just on the edge of the town their horse became frightened at the passing automobiles and dashed off throwing the woman out, from which she received several slight injuries.

Condition Grows Worse.

The condition of Mr. Leo Langley who fell from a tree Friday night while opossum hunting, continues grave. The Reflector was informed this morning that his injuries were more serious than was at first thought.

Automobile Drivers Must Keep Their Exhaust Muffled

At their regular monthly meeting on November 6th, the Board of Aldermen passed an ordinance that all motor vehicles on any of the streets of the town must have the exhaust muffled. For safety of the owners of said machines we are today republishing the ordinance which reads:

That Chapter 2, Section 16 be amended by adding after said section as it now reads, the following:

Any and all persons who shall drive an automobile, motorcycle or other motor vehicle over any of the streets of the town shall at any and all times have and keep the exhaust to said automobile, motorcycle or other motor vehicle muffled.

Any person violating this provision of this ordinance shall be fined $5.00 for each and every offense.

This ordinance will be in effect on and after December 1st, 1913.

The foregoing ordinance was passed by the board of aldermen at the regular meeting on November 6th, 1913.

JAMES C. TYSON, Clerk.

Come Get on the Cash List.

December is nearly here, and when The Reflector will begin revising its subscription list preparatory to adopting the cash in advance system the first of the year. Again we remind our subscribers to look at the date following their name on the paper which shows the time they are from.

Those who have not paid in time to put their name on the new list and avoid missing a copy of the paper. As said before, the cash system will be better for the subscriber, as well as for the paper, and it is only by adopting it that we can afford to send the paper at the present low subscription price. Many subscribers who have already been in to settle, have expressed their approval of the proposed change to the cash system.

Every one who intends to pay will approve of it, for in addition to getting the paper at the low price it saves any annoyance that might be felt over getting dunned for it.

"Dekes" Meet in Boston.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 2.—Delegates from two scores of the leading universities and colleges of America are in Boston attending the annual national convention of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. The convention was formally opened at the Hotel Somerset today and will be continued until Saturday. Several features of notable entertainment were included in the program. The Delta Kappa Epsilon was established at Yale in 1844 and is the only great intercollegiate fraternity of strictly New England origin, although from its formation it has been strong in the south and west. It has two chapters in Canada and several on the Pacific coast.

Negro Dies of Wound.

Jack Pitt, the young negro who was shot on Thanksgiving day by Sam Moya, also colored, while they were otherwise returning from hunting, died Saturday night. Sam Moya is still at large, and if any effort is being made to catch him it is kept very quiet. Such a willful murderer should be captured if possible.

Christmas will soon be here and I wonder how many people all over the land of ours will take the dollar that they were going to give for a quart of whiskey? 7 7 2, and give it to the poor and needy?

Kittrell and Co. have gasoline, engine oil for sale.

Everybody wants to ride these days. Those who buy automobiles to ride in are after buying the machine that will do service and also be comfortable and pleasant to ride in. If you want a buggy, go to the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. and get a Hunsicker Buggy and you will get all there is to be desired in a buggy.

The Tar Heel Wagon manufactured by the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. is built to service. We assure you that Tar Heel Wagons is for service and they will last considerably longer than any other make. See about getting one now.

Following the announcement that the defendants have agreed to accept the terms outlined by the court Judge Carter stated that no further proceedings will be instituted against the defendants in the present investigation although he made it clear that the ending of this phase of the investigation does not mean that he will not investigate prescription files in an effort to learn whether or not prescriptions have been written for persons other than bona fide patients.

The Vance Literary Society of the Winterville High School gave a very interesting debate last Thursday night on the query, "Resolved, That the constitution of North Carolina should be so amended as to allow initiative and referendum in state wide legislation." Messrs. L. B. Dickens, P. H. Pierce, G. L. Hartsell and P. D. Croom supported the affirmative, while the negative was upheld by Messrs. P. H. Chase, R. W. Walden, E. B. Thorne and W. E. Dawson. Each speaker gave evidence of careful preparation and the entire debate was of a high order; a credit alike to those who participated and to the society they represented. They propose to give another of these debates in the early spring.

HEAVY FINES ON LIQUOR DEALERS

FINISHING TOUCHES PUT ON

Defendants Agree to Pay Highest Fine Ever Imposed in Like Cases in North Carolina. Hospital Gets Booze.

ASHEVILLE, Dec. 2.—The investigating of the alleged illegal traffic in whiskey which has been conducted by Judge Frank Carter here for the past several weeks, came to an abrupt close this morning when the presiding officer announced that the defendants in the various cases had agreed to pay the heaviest fines ever imposed in a North Carolina court for a similar offense, donate their impositions to the Mission Hospital for use in the charity wards, destroy barroom fixtures in their possession and refrain from the sale of whiskey for the next three years.

Under the terms of the compromise a fine of $4,000 is imposed on John H. Lange and Gay Green, the former paying $2,666.67 and the latter being assessed with $1,333.33. James L. Alexander pays a fine of $2,000. J. Bayliss Rector pleads guilty and judgment is suspended for three years. D. Macon McKay forfeits his liquor license and agrees never to apply for another and a similar entry is made in the case of F. F. McMullen.

The costs of investigation amounting to approximately $1,500 are divided equally among Messrs. Alexander, Green and Lange. Each of the defendants pleads guilty to two charges of violations of the prohibition laws. Judgment being entered in one case and being suspended for three years in the other. The announcement came as a surprise to the witnesses and court attendants who were present at the morning session of the court and when Judge Carter immediately after court convened remarked, "God-temen somebody has seen the judge and these investigations are about closed." The situation was tense.

Following the announcement that the defendants have agreed to accept the terms outlined by the court Judge Carter stated that no further proceedings will be instituted against the defendants in the present investigation although he made it clear that the ending of this phase of the investigation does not mean that he will not investigate prescription files in an effort to learn whether or not prescriptions have been written for persons other than bona fide patients.

VIRGINIAN MADE
HEAD OF SOUTHERN

Fairfax Harrison Chosen President of Southern Railroad

WAS FORMER VICE-PRESIDENT

He Entered the Services of the Road as Attorney, Becoming Assistant to President. Graduate of Yale.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Fairfax Harrison, formerly vice-president of the Southern Railway Company, and for the last three years president of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville Railway Company, of which the Southern is part owner, was today elected president of the Southern Railway Company to succeed the late William Wilson Finley, a special meeting of the board of directors being held for the purpose of filling the vacancy caused by Mr. Finley's death.

Mr. Harrison today also was elected president of the Alabama Great Southern Railroad, the Mobile and Ohio Railroad and the Virginia and Southwestern Railway.

Mr. Harrison is a Virginian, his home being at Belvoir, Virginia. He is peculiarly identified with the south, as his father was private secretary to Jefferson Davis while President of the Confederate states and all his railroad experience has been with the Southern and its associated lines. Mr. Harrison was born in 1859, and was graduated from Yale with the A. B. degree in 1880 and from Columbia with the A. M. degree in 1891. He was admitted to the bar in New York in 1892 and continued the practice of law in this city until 1896, when he entered the service of the Southern Railway in the legal department as solicitor. In 1903 he was made assistant to the president, and in 1906 became vice-president, which position he held until 1910 when he resigned on being elected president of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville. He, however, continued as a director of the Southern Railway so that his service with the parent company has been uninterrupted.

Mr. Harrison was one of Mr. Finley's closest and most trusted advisers and is thoroughly in sympathy with the policies which Mr. Finley's administration so successfully both for the Southern Railway Company and the territory served by its lines. Though Mr. Harrison entered the service of the Southern in the legal department, his experience has not been confined to that branch of the service. He has given much study to financial, traffic and operating problems and is intimately acquainted with conditions on the Southern Railway and throughout the section which it traverses. As president of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville he was actively in charge of the operation of the railway so that he comes to the Southern Railway prepared by practical experience as well as the most detailed knowledge of the details of its affairs to take up the duties of chief executive. Mr. Harrison today was also elected president of Alabama Great Southern Railway, Mobile and Ohio and Virginia and Southwestern.

Resolutions deploring the death of Mr. Finley and paying a high tribute to the Southern Railway Company and the territory they serve were adopted by the boards of directors of the Southern Railway, Mobile and Ohio Railroad, the Alabama Great Southern Railway, and the Virginia and Southwestern Railway. The resolutions will be printed throughout the South.

"I am in entire accord and sympathy with the policies of lamented friends, Mr. Finley, under which I have worked for seventeen years.

Nobody likes this kind of weather, but it cannot be pretty all the time.

SET THE BOY TO THINKING

What is dripping? Dripping, as everybody knows, is the staple food of the young British literateur. George Giesing and his heroes all fed on bread and dripping till success smiled on them. George Moore was once a drippingsite. The poet, Alfred Noyes, was said to resort to dripping when his poems had bad luck.

Yes, everybody knows that dripping is supposed to be the juice, the savory essences, that fall from roasting meats.

That is the supposition. But what really is dripping—the dripping that the poor of England buy by the pound and smear upon their bread in lieu of butter?

The question, perhaps, will never be answered, but a partial solution is given to it by the fact that a London poorhouse recently bought at $7 a ton 32 tons of dripping from—a soap works.

"A little boy," he would begin, "complained bitterly about his being and dripping that formed his daily breakfast.

"I'll kill me," he whined at last. "I know I'll kill me."

"Kill you? What do you mean?"

"Why, I've been feeling bad lately, and now I know it's all this dripping, what's the cause of the trouble, I read it in a book."

"Some pure food rubbish, I dare say! And what, precisely, did you read in this vile book, silly?"

"I read," whined the archaic, "that constant dripping wears away a stone."

CAT AN EXPERT "FISHERMAN"

Has Learned Meaning of Line in Water, and Has the Patience of the Perfect Angler.

Cats are known to be fond of fish, but it is not every cat that is willing to go out and catch enough fresh fish to furnish his own meal and supply the family breakfast table with the same food. Such an animal exists in Miami, Fla., however, and daily watches a hand line which his owner places in the water. When the cork bobbles the cat dashes to the office of an amusement company and sets up a loud meowing. Following the cat's footsteps to the place where the line has been dropped, whoever is on duty at the office hauls in the fish to the tune of purring of the proud and satisfied cat. Some months ago the cat changed to be on the dock when a fish was pulled. He learned that his favorite food came from the water and was caught on the end of a line. Since that any line with one end in the water and one on the dock has been a source of unflinching interest to the cat. The cat's patience would put the renowned Izaak Walton to shame, for he will spend hours sitting by a line without stirring. Sometimes the cat will sit by the side of a fisherman and will tell his human companion by his meowing when a fish is beginning to nibble at the bait before the fisherman has suspected that the bait is being dangled with.

King's Grapevine.

The great vine at Hampton court palace is a slip off one at Valentines, near Wanstead, which was planted in 1758. Owing to its roots having penetrated the bed of the river, which is only 60 feet from the end of the vinehouse, the Hampton court vine grew with extraordinary rapidity. In 1800—20 years after it was planted—its main branch was 114 feet long.

Now its branches cover a space of 2,300 square feet, but the principal branch only stretches 90 feet—the length of the vinehouse. Had the house been enlarged the vine would probably cover four times as much space. As it is, the vines at Cumberland lodge, Manresa house, Roehampton and Sillwood park, Sunninghill, surpass it; while the one at Kinmel house, Breadalbane—the largest in Great Britain—covers nearly twice as great a superficial area.

Electric Restaurant.

An electric restaurant is in successful operation in London. The cooking is faultless and the prices are lower than those of the neighboring establishments of the same class.

FAMILY AVOIDS
SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," said Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Changed the Subject.

He had plastered his touched-up hair down over his bald spot, and he had assumed the sort of smile that female friends called "childish" when he was in college. His shoes were shined, and so was his nose.

And then he called on the young lady. "My object in calling on you this evening, Gertrude," he began, and then he coughed and added in a trembling voice, "I may call you Gertrude, may I not?"

"Sure you can," answered the young girl. "I heard all of papa's elderly friends to call me Gertrude. The oldest of them even call me Gert. You may say 'Gert' if you wish."

"What was it you wanted to talk about?" He coughed again, and then talked about how much warmer it was in the summer of 1872.

IS WORLD'S LARGEST LATHE

Those who live inland, and, in fact, all who are not fairly familiar with the large guns used for sea coast defense, can hardly appreciate the huge size of lathe necessary to turn and bore them. The lathe being designed and built by the United States Naval Gun shop at Washington, D. C., by the Niles-Bement-Bond company, at the Benedict works, is the largest made.

The lathe is so long that the preparations for its installation include the construction of a tunnel extending under a highway, as there was not room for it between the walls of the shop.

The lathe bed itself is 175 feet long and is made in five sections, but the total overall length, including projections at the end of the bed, brings it up to 185 feet. The main portion of the bed on which the carriages travel has three broad shears, the total width being 108 inches, or 9 feet, and the length 103 feet. The rest of the bed extends under what is called the boring bench, which has two shears. The total width of this is 62 inches and the length 75 feet. The weight of the machine complete with electrical equipment is 800,000 pounds, or 400 tons.—American Machinist.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1912

Turkey dinner and hash breakfast is over. What next?

Pass the hash, please. It is the best part of the feast.

Tablets divided honors with the Victorians. Herrahl for A & M.

The next attack on the turkey trot will come about Christmas.

There are high-class blind tigers in some of our towns as well as in Asheville.

It is hard to shake off the feeling that today is Monday.

Carranza has a worse sounding name than Huerta, and he also takes the lead as a fighter.

Those who ate too much Thanksgiving dinner yesterday are paying for their indiscretion today.

It looks like currency should unite any body of men, but congress seem rather backward to get together on it.

For the boys and girls off at school the Thanksgiving home-coming is almost as joyous as the Christmas holidays.

A shifter within our gates said Greenville was the best town in Eastern North Carolina. This is just one boast among many. Thanks.

When superior court judgeship in North Carolina carry the compensation they deserve, there will be few resignations.

It takes the farmer boys of the A & M College to save North Carolina when it comes to athletic games with colleges of other states.

The A & M football boys are entitled to all the celebrating that comes in their honor.

Charlotte is feeling good, and has a right to, over the completion of the Norfolk Southern railroad to that city.

It is good that a Sunday for rest comes just ahead of taking up the rub for December, the last month in the year.

Dr. N. H. Street, a prominent physician of New Bern, committed suicide in that city on Monday afternoon.

We hope the courts will be able to stand the "strain" when the rich blind tigers are brought up in Asheville.

Mr. J. W. Vassar, of Jacksonville, Fla., has been appointed as president of motive power for the Norfolk Southern.

The new route to Charlotte via Greenville and Raleigh is open and the trains are running. Well, we are coming just as soon as we sell our crops.

The cry over in Mexico is for more money.

We have had one month to rebel all those old New Year resolutions.

Those who tarry longest over Virginia booze get back on Carolina soil last.

If you don't have your child vaccinated he can't go to school, and if he stays away you are subject to a fine. Now what are you going to do.

They have one general in Mecklenburg whose name does not give one the look-alike to pronounce, and he is fighting Villa-in, too.

We see that Secretary Daniels recommends a "better proportioned navy". You can have our share, Joe. We don't need it on the Tar.

It is Gov. Daingerden now, Gov. Craig being at Hot Springs, Ark., for his health. Well, Liege aint like the man that don't know how to do it.

Fairfax Harrison succeeds Pres. Finley as president of the Southern Railway. If he is no better friend to North Carolina than Finley, ma, the Lord have mercy on us.

Judge Frank Carter says that the police of Asheville have condoned the illegal traffic in whiskey carried on there. The same thing can be said of many other towns in the state.

Andrew Joyner, of Greensboro a newspaper correspondent, goes to San Domingo as an assistant collector-general, whatever that may mean. As a collector, or collector-general we are sure Andrew will make good.

We hardly think that Richmond, Norfolk will dare run another boaters train through North Carolina after the hard fight they are making against our getting just freight rates.

The headlines of the press dispatches tell us that it is "believed that Huerta's government faces a crisis this week". The trouble is he is still facing.

The Raleigh Times states that on Monday the number of automobile licenses issued by the secretary of state went to ten thousand. Number 9999 came to Greenville.

A Bell Telephone advertisement says "When you telephone, smile". Just like a body could smile when "Central's" answer is "line's busy" or says "number" and then gives the wrong one.

An exchange says ex-Governor Glenn is waiting to see what the people want done in regard to his announcing himself a candidate for the senate. If he really sounds to see what the people want, he will find that they want Senator Overman to succeed himself, notwithstanding the whole idea, notwithstanding the whole idea, notwithstanding the whole idea.

They are doing some fighting down in Mexico that is the sure enough article. If it keeps up that way long the rebels will settle the trouble themselves without interference of any other nation.

It was a remarkable and sad coincidence that on the same day death claimed the presidents of the two largest railroads operating through North Carolina. Mr. Finley, of the Southern Railway, and Mr. Emerson, of the Atlantic Coast Line. Both men were doing a great service to North Carolina and the South.

Every member who can get there should be at the monthly meeting of the Carolina Club tonight. Owing to the absence of a quorum the last meeting or two could not be held, hence the importance to the community had to be left over. The club is in position now to do great good for the advancement of the town and community, but to do this more of the members should be present at the meetings and not leave these matters to be attended to only by a few who try to be regular in attendance. Make it a point to be on hand tonight, even if it should require a little sacrifice.

To keep pure with building operations in Greenville is not so easy. There is something going up all the time, with rumors of many more in the near future. There is constant demand for all kind of laborers on buildings.

Since the recent burning of the main dormitory of Horner school in Oxford, there is a movement to locate the school in a larger town. Charlotte is taking the lead in activities to secure it.

You have not seen anybody lose money by making an investment in Greenville real estate.

Throughout the entire system of the Southern Railway, work of every kind was suspended for a period of five minutes, beginning at 11 o'clock this morning, out of respect to the late President Finley whose funeral was then taking place.

The supreme court has decided that even if a borrower agrees to an over-charge of interest, it is nevertheless, usury for the lender to charge more than the legal rate.

Someone said there was enough liquor brought from Virginia to Carolina last night to float an American battleship. Yes, probably the Atlantic fleet. We didn't go.

As long as athletics at the University is ruled by society politics it is not to be expected that the teams can do much winning in games with other colleges.

In Asheville a 5-year-old boy shot and killed his 2-year-old brother with a .22-calibre rifle. Yet people go right on letting their children have dangerous weapons to play with.

An exchange says that a subscriber caught an o'possum that "tipped the beam" at twenty-five pounds. We'll furnish the taters.

Judging from the evidence given L. at the Asheville liquor trial one would think that the hotel authorities had a still of their own.

When Judge Carter completes his good work of forcing the observance of the prohibition laws in the western part of the state, some of the eastern Carolina towns should extend a call for his services.

Until the cigarette tax is enforced, there will be dealers selling the things to boys and boys smoking them. Officers can easily find out who sell them if they try.

If Virginia does not mind how she interferes with North Carolina freight rates, North Carolina might retaliate by cutting out Virginia "boots". Then you would hear lamentation across the line.

The Durham Sun was shining "upside down" yesterday afternoon. A letter "n" in the name at the top of the page appeared as an "m".

Being as the Patterson loving cut went to a fellow who was not very well known, we think we know one fellow who was at least disappointed. When a ruler begins to intoxicate himself, and to prove himself a glut, you may put it down that he has about hood to the end of the row.

The newspaper correspondents seem not disposed to let Mr. Justice stay out of the senatorial race next year. They had as well stop the agitation, and let Mr. Justice be devoting his time to his new position which he is going to fill most acceptably and with marked ability.

Those republican office holders are certainly putting it up to the administration.

We hope the special rate commission will lose no time in showing the kind of stuff it is made of.

Those fellows who were promised jobs and failed to land, many find consolation in knowing that they were at least borne in mind for the time being.

A woman appeared in vaudeville in New York for $150 per week was "jumped" her contract. And, mind you, she has no legs either.

It is now reported that old man Huerta has been drinking pretty heavily. No wonder he could not be found a few days ago.

Hans Schmidt's counsel is now trying to delay the trial further by asking for a commission to pass on the priest's sanity. Will some one please inform those lawyers that the man has already been declared sane?

The Kentucky representative who wanted the House to adjourn so that he could get his mileage, may have been expressing his own opinion about it, but it is dollars to doughnuts that there are scores of others up there who look at it the same way.

A stranger here was much amused over the action of the people during the fire alarm Friday night. When the whistle blew and the gong in the city hall rang, the crowd went surging down the street toward Pitt points, nobody being able to tell where the fire was and everybody asking everybody else. When it was later learned that the fire was on First street, the crowd turned and went clamoring in the other direction.

Such confusion comes from no definite alarm when an alarm is given, the whistle at the water station only making a noise, and nothing more. Greenville certainly should have a fire alarm system that will locate a fire as soon as it is discovered.

Baker-Johnston Wedding.

On Wednesday, November 26th, a pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Johnston, near Greenville, when their daughter, Miss Emma Elizabeth, was given in marriage to Mr. Lee C. Baker.

The decorations of the home were in perfect keeping with the happy occasion.

Miss Johnston was gowned in a beautiful suit of blue, gloves and hat to match, came in with her sister, Miss Bertha Lee Johnston who was rowed in a beautiful suit of brown, white picture hat and gloves to match.

Mr. Baker, with his best man, Mr. C. T. Broughton, met the bride in the center of the parlor, where the officiating minister, Rev. Lane, of the Methodist church, in an impressive ceremony spoke the words that joined two happy hearts for life.

Immediately after the ceremony the guests departed for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Baker, parents of the groom, where an elegant supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker will make Greenville their home.

Kidney ills come—mysteriously. But nature generally warns you. Notice throbby secretions. See if the color is unnatural—If there are settlements and sediment, Passages frequent, scanty, painful. Its time to use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have done great work in this locality.

Mr. G. E. Edwards, 223 E. Main street, Washington, N. C., says: "I suffered terribly from backache and sharp shooting pains through my kidneys. The kidney secretions caused me annoyance. I used kidney remedies, but had no relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They drove away the pain and lameness in my loins and strengthened my kidneys. The third, I found relief, but away and I am now able to rest better at night."

Miss Johnston was gowned in a beautiful suit of blue, gloves and hat to match, came in with her sister, Miss Bertha Lee Johnston who was rowed in a beautiful suit of brown, white picture hat and gloves to match.

Mr. Baker, with his best man, Mr. C. T. Broughton, met the bride in the center of the parlor, where the officiating minister, Rev. Lane, of the Methodist church, in an impressive ceremony spoke the words that joined two happy hearts for life.

Immediately after the ceremony the guests departed for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Baker, parents of the groom, where an elegant supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker will make Greenville their home.

Kidney ills come—mysteriously. But nature generally warns you. Notice throbby secretions. See if the color is unnatural—If there are settlements and sediment, Passages frequent, scanty, painful. Its time to use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have done great work in this locality.

Mr. G. E. Edwards, 223 E. Main street, Washington, N. C., says: "I suffered terribly from backache and sharp shooting pains through my kidneys. The kidney secretions caused me annoyance. I used kidney remedies, but had no relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They drove away the pain and lameness in my loins and strengthened my kidneys. The third, I found relief, but away and I am now able to rest better at night."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Leaksville and Stoneville were the North Carolina postoffices hardest hit by burglary during the present year, according to figures which were made public in a report of Postmaster General Darleton to Congress yesterday.

The Leaksville till was tapped for $41, all of which was returned by the postmaster by the U. S. mail, while Stoneville lost $73. Most of the North Carolina postmasters who lost stamps and money and other government property by fire or burglary were recompensed by the government. With two exceptions the postmasters who failed to recover either violated some minor postal regulation in presenting their claim or failed to prove their losses to the satisfaction of a strict postmaster.

William S. Vick, postmaster at Leaksville, failed to recover $18 lost by burglary because the department held that he was negligent before the burglary. Joseph O. Bell, postmaster at Tuxedo, failed to recover $23 lost in transit for the same reason. The postmaster at North Charlotte spent $5 in automobile hire, telephone and telephone bills charging a burglary and was

Gentlemen:

I am today in receipt of check from your Company for my recent disability caused by breaking my right arm. I hardly expected to recover under this policy owing to the peculiar circumstances which caused the accident, however, the Company's payment of this claim in so prompt a manner justly commends both your agency and the Company to the Insuring Public who desire this form of protection.

Again thanking you for the attention you gentlemen personally gave the matter, I am,

Very truly yours,

DECLINE OF GOOD READING
Point Made at Educational Association Convention Would Seem to Be Well Taken.

The central importance of reading was the theme of much of the discussion at the recent convention of the National Educational Association at Salt Lake City. Mr. Rice, state library clerk of Wisconsin, told how that state prepares lists of suitable books for rural libraries, and offers the books at 25 per cent discount. It also requires teachers to pass an examination in library training, which Mr. Rice considers more important than algebra, though the comparison seems odd. Mr. Caxton, United States commissioner of education, who followed, declared literature the most important of all school subjects, and observed that any man who will read thoughtfully four good books a year will be a well-educated man by the time he has read 160. That may depend somewhat on the books, for not all good books reward that kind of reading, though the greatest usually do.

It is, at any rate, a kind of reading too much out of fashion nowadays, mainly because there is so much to read that it is difficult to get the mass and concentrate on one author at a time, one page, one word. A fine old classical professor used to grow indignant at proposals to teach boys to read Greek like English. It would be more to the point, he said, if we could teach boys to read English like Greek. We can hardly expect them to forget their mother tongue for the sake of learning to pay proper attention to the details of a good book, yet there is something in this view; much of the benefit of the classics comes from being forced to pay attention to details. Such careful study is quite possible in English, but the temptation is to skim over the surface.

CHASING AWAY THE INTRUDERS
Clever Device of Young Art Student Saved Her From Probable Long Period of Boredom.

The little art student set up her easel before Manet's "Girl With a Parrot" in the Metropolitan—her adored and worked away at industriously in absorbed quiet. Presently two young girls, about high school age, entered the gallery, giggling.

"Oh, there is a study!" said one.

"See the bold, Madge," giggled one.

"Ain't that a pitter for a hoodwar, though?"

"Say, Madge," shrilled two, "the study might sell that pitter if she could make the bold talk!"

Through all this and more the copyist worked on. The annoyed had kept behind her, and she had not intimated that she was aware of their presence. Suddenly she turned, faced them, and dropped her brush. Smilingly she began to speak on her fingers in the dead mute language.

"Go, Madge," exclaimed one, in an awed whisper, "the student's deaf. Come on!"—New York Evening Post.

PROVED HE WAS ELIGIBLE
Effective Demonstration Convicted Jayhawk that He Had a Valuable Recruit.

Robert Thorpe, an old Missouri stage driver, who recently died in Texas, used to tell a story of how Anderson, the Jayhawk, got one of his recruits. The Anderson boys held up Thorpe's stage near Glasgow one day. Among the passengers was a raw-boned young Missouri who looked about as tough as the Jayhawkers themselves.

"Give me yer valubles," Anderson demanded of the youth as he went down the line.

"Where yo' going?"

"To 'tine Anderson's Jayhawkers."

"You better get one of 'em recruits," "Kin ye swim the Missouri river?" he asked him.

"Reckon so," the young man answered.

"Ain't ye kill a man?"

"Reckon so."

Anderson stepped forward and spat in the youngster's face. The youth looked at the Jayhawk like a cat caught him full in the face with a right swing and went down on top of him, kicking and clawing.

The Jayhawk pulled the young demon off and their leader got up.

"You belong," he said, "Boys, give him a hawsa."

"Say, mister, 'at is it you call de devil, when it ain't devil you say to 'em?"

"Can you be meaning Satan?" asked the astonished chief.

"Fer shes! Fer shes! Do yer wan't!" cried Sully. "Can you 'll me a yard?"

IGOROT CIGARS 15 Inches Long.
Ever smoke an Igorot cigar? asks Power. Well, these Igorots, in the Philippine Islands, make a cigar that in one respect is like the old-time Christmas plum pudding—it lasts a week. It is 15 inches long and three to five inches thick. Old man Ig, rolls the cig, and smokes it an hour; then Misses Ig and all the little Igs, take their turns by about the fourth day. It must need a cuspidor attachment to keep it in operation. One smoke like this would last some people a lifetime.

SOME REMARKS ON INCOMES
Pertinent Just Now When the Subject Is a Matter of General Discussion.

Incomes are now being taxed. It is, therefore, desirable that something should be known about them. An income is a state legislature, or a police captain, or your wife. Incomes were created for two purposes: to be about and to live beyond. Many people who will not have to pay any are complaining to their friends and neighbors about the way they are oppressed by the income tax. This is one of those natural phenomena which no scientist has been able to explain.

Incomes vary in size according to how many people have worked for you in the past or are working for you at present. No income is without honor somewhere, except in the family it is vainly attempting to support. Here it is generally despised and looked down upon.

An income tax is an effort on the part of the government to make you feel that you are wealthy. Also to support the government in its main business in life, namely, living beyond its income.

The government, which receives a larger income than any one else, should be taxed upon it. The proceeds might be used for relieving millionaires in distress.

Every income is known by the company it keeps.—Life.

STRANGE BURIAL OF NORFOLK MAN
LLOYD GORDON REQUEST THAT THE COFFIN, CARRIAGES AND MOURNERS BE OMITTED.

NORFOLK, Dec. 1.—The burial of Lloyd Gordon, whose death occurred Saturday, took place in Elmwood cemetery yesterday. There was no funeral and the burial was made according to the wishes of the deceased so far as it seemed practical to carry these out.

Mr. Gordon asked that he be not buried in a coffin, but that his body simply be wrapped up in a cloth and laid to rest in mother earth with only a board covering over his face. The request was complied with to the extent that a grave was dug coffin-shaped and the two sides of a coffin-shaped box were placed on the sides of the grave. There was no bottom and the body was laid to rest on mother earth as the deceased asked. A box top was neatly laid over the sides of the grave, the dirt thrown in with the grave covered over.

There were no carriages or mourners. The body was carried in an undertaker's basket and at the cemetery was lifted from the basket and deposited in the ground as described.

Lloyd Gordon was quite eccentric. No such peculiar burial has occurred in this section since that of John C. Edwards who lived in South Portsmouth, and requested that he be buried on his home lot under a tree at midnight. The request was complied with.

Mr. Gordon was for many years in the hat business in Norfolk, being at one time associated with J. W. Gilmer when the latter conducted Norfolk's leading hat store on the site of what is now the Miller, Rhoads and Swartz Main street store.

Lloyd Gordon was known to practically all the older residents of Norfolk. He was affable, agreeable man and was well liked. He was frugal and saved some money, leaving property when he died a small estate. He bought and sold lots and for a long time was the owner of a very attractive cottage at Seventh street, Wiltoughy Beach, which he sold only a year or so ago. He had an interest in the Church street property where he lived until his death.

Mr. Gordon had been in poor health for some years past, but until a few months ago was frequently seen down town.

Children's Valuable Find.
A group of children playing in a plantation at Eschenbach, near Bolton, turned up a sod and uncovered what they thought was a valuable medal. They found others in the same way, and played a keeping shop with them. The coins were sovereign pieces of the early part of Queen Victoria's reign—the latest was dated 1852—and the report getting about, people hurried flocked to the plantation in search for more. A party of colliers even deprived the children of their wits with the tale that they were going to give them to the police. All were collected, but the police, who when they heard of it went round the district collecting the coins, and regained about thirty of them. The explanation given is that in the early sixties of last century a Bolton man, when he heard of it went round the district collecting the coins, and regained about thirty of them. The explanation given is that in the early sixties of last century a Bolton man, when he heard of it went round the district collecting the coins, and regained about thirty of them.
