

TRAINING SCHOOL NEWS.

Mr. Jacques Bushee, of Raleigh, the artist who painted the portraits of Governor Jarvis, and Professor Rasdale, presented by the two societies to the school at last commencement, delivered at the Training School Monday evening. A high and entertaining and valuable lecture on "Our Native Trees and Shrubs."

He secured his audience at once by bringing up their memories of the old conjure negroes or medicine men who knew the plants of the woods because of their healing and medicinal uses them to cure their ailments. "The drug store," he says, "is that same witch doctor made respectable and given authority." The difference is that the drug store, for convenience has the herbs reduced to tinctures. He stressed the value of medicinal names in preference to common names which change with every locality, and brought out the benefits of the knowledge of botanical names in that they refer to the nature of the plant itself, periods and facts of history and different countries of the south thereby teaching both history and geography along with the study of the plant itself. He gave illustrations of a great many plants, giving the meanings of their names and the ways in which we could arrive at historical or geographical facts.

For the sake of clearness he gave a brief sketch of the structure of a flower, and gave the story of flower pollination. The point of this story to bring out the value of the insects in the pollination, to give some idea of the kinds of insects, their habits and the qualities that the insects must have.

His speech was intended to bring his hearers to the realization that our native flowers here in North Carolina are not appreciated as they should be. He asked, "Why do we plant and cultivate exotic flowers and neglect our own beautiful native flowers?" He said to appreciate our own flowers, we must go to Europe and visit the famous court gardens, where the American flowers are cultivated in great profusion and variety; while we give our time and money to the cultivation of imported flowers, which are costly and require much care for cultivation. In this connection he brought out the Japanese as a people who give their time to the cultivation of their own native flowers, and the beauty of their native flowers. He also gave the theory of Japanese art which is the painting of their own flowers exclusively.

There are people, he said, who say that North Carolina has no beautiful flowers, but the people have their eyes shut to the beauty of our own flowers so common. You go through the country noticing the homes here and there and you see beauty everywhere except in the yards which are cleanly swept and white with sand, while perhaps only a few yards away the fields and woods are gorgeously decked with all the many wild flowers, common in North Carolina.

The principles of landscape gardening are few: Plant in mass, lay open spaces and avoid straight lines. He brought out the fact that color can be gained by contrast and the principle of relieving or intensifying colors. He said to do this, one must know the flowers planted in regard to time of blooming and length of blooming.

In closing, Mr. Bushee brought out the effects of association with nature in broadening and deepening the human life, and the fact that in nature we see clearly expressed the wonder of the Almighty God.

In chapel exercises yesterday morning Mr. Wright made comments on the interest and value of Mr. Bushee's lecture of Monday evening. He spoke of the great variety of native trees and shrubs on our school grounds and the attempt of the school to preserve them. He also said that if the students and teachers would work out a plan for using our native shrubs and flowers in decorating the school grounds, they should be given the necessary plots and materials to work with. He expressed the wish that he might see Mr. Bushee's talk take the form of action work on the part of the students in school.

Pertinent Just Now When the Subject is a Matter of General Discussion.

ESTHER WAKE IS ASSURED SUCCESS.

Tar Heel Play in Wilson December Eighth—Has Already Made Good.

The following is clipped from the editorial page of the Smithfield Herald:

"Esther Wake"—the historical drama of which North Carolinians should be justly proud—is to be played in Wilson on December 8. If each one who witnessed the excellent presentation at Smithfield, not long since could voice his sentiments publicly without a doubt a packed house would greet Esther Wake in the capital city. To be sure, the players are amateurs, but amateurs of no mean talent. Miss Martha Hudson, who played the part of Esther Wake, held the audience until the end. Her well modulated voice, or exquisite poise, her mastery of the art of interpretation served her well in living the life of Esther Wake on the stage. Her beautiful character shone forth in the countenance of the heroine, giving her a charm and grace that are lacking in heroines that are not really good. The chief masculine figure of the drama was Mr. L. N. Johnson, superintendent Ayden graded schools, who played the part of James Pugh, the leader of the Regulators, and the lover of Esther Wake, who was condemned to die on account of his leadership in what appeared to the representatives of the King as a conspiracy. Mr. Johnson in his impersonation played the part of a true hero, one who forgot he was playing a part. He possesses that rare quality of making one feel with him his every emotion. Then too in Mr. W. H. Rhodes, who as Fanning, loyal to the King, one can easily see that the writer of the play cared not to design a very despicable character in Fanning. At times he wish that he was not so gallant and courtly came uppermost. In view of the fact that he was the "villain" of the play, Mr. Rhodes did himself credit in playing the difficult role.

Mr. L. H. Alfred, as Governor Trym, was imposing and deliberate as became his high office. Miss Hazel Dole, as Mararet, a friend of Esther Wake, inspired admiration by her ready sympathy and pretty manners, and little Miss Ruth Brooke, as Ethel, the daughter of Mararet, was simply herself—a little child, unaffected and sweet.

Each character of the play, however small his part, did honor to the role he did the training. The scene in which a company of Regulators gathered around a real fire in the night time, and sang songs to the accompaniment of an old fiddle deserves special mention. That "Esther Wake" was easily the finest thing in the theatrical standpoint that the people of this community have had the opportunity of attending here goes without saying. This fact was realized by the men and women of culture and education gathered from the four corners of old Johnston county to see its presentation.

Citizens Hold Meeting and Declare For It.

Southport, Nov. 21.—An enthusiastic meeting of the citizens of Southport was held in regard to the "no fence law" election, which is to take place in Brunswick county December 2nd. Mr. E. B. Stevens was elected chairman of the meeting, and Mr. Roberts E. Ransom, secretary. After a spirited discussion the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved That it is the sense of this meeting that a "no fence" law should be enacted in the county of Brunswick, and those present do all in their power to carry the election December 2nd, in favor of the "No Fence Law."

The passage of the "no fence" law will be contested vigorously in some sections, but the advocates of the measure feel that success will crown their efforts.

May the frosts of December serve only to keep alight that inward warmth which makes us better men, kindling the embers until earth's coldness can well be mocked.

We are pledged to service, instruments of an unknown destiny, beset with difficulties, toilers in a common mart. Yet if that flint spark of understanding burns within us, we shall be armed with fortitude as mailed knights upon the high-road of achievement.

To fight, yet fairly; to know the strength of gentleness, the boundless manliness of charity, of kindness and simple truth; to be altogether honest and patient and loyal!

Shall not these make our life the better for its living and yield such promise as makes our labor worthy of its effort?

And in the lingering sunlight of years well spent shall there not be an infinite happiness when our apprenticeship is served at last, a golden aftermath of love and peace and contentment?

2000 MEN AND WOMEN ON TO CAPITOL TODAY

Prohibition Forces of Nation to Visit President DAGGETT GENERAL MARSHAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Prohibition forces from all over the country are gathered in Washington tonight, prepared for a mighty demonstration tomorrow before the national capital.

More than 2,000 men and women, representing the Anti-Saloon League of America and the Woman's Christian Temperance union, will march bearing petitions demanding that national prohibition be effected by constitutional amendment.

Disagreement as to the part each organization should play in the presentation of the petitions threatened today to cause a split in the temperance forces, but it was said tonight that all differences had been smoothed out. As a result the committee of 1,000 men, representing the Anti-Saloon League forces, will be received at the capitol first, after which they will withdraw and the women will make their plea.

Brigadier General A. S. Daggett will act as grand marshal of the men's procession, while the women will be headed by Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens of Maine, president general of the W. C. T. U.

The demonstration will take place at 10 o'clock at the east front of the capitol. There Representative Hobson of Alabama, author of the proposed constitutional amendment, will receive the petition on behalf of the representatives; while Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas, will act for the senate. Addresses will be made on behalf of the committee of 1,000 by Ernest H. Carrington, of Westerville, Ohio, editor of the official organ of the Anti-Saloon League, and by former Governor M. R. Patterson, of Tennessee. Afterwards the reason for a constitutional amendment will be presented by the woman's standpoint will be presented by Mrs. Ella A. Boole, of Brooklyn, president of the New York State W. C. T. U. and Mrs. Mary Harris ARMOR, of Georgia.

Plans for the demonstration were inaugurated at a meeting held at Columbus, Mo., last August by the Anti-Saloon League of America, when the committee of 1,000 appointed to urge Congress to adopt a prohibition amendment to the constitution.

A subcommittee tonight completed the draft of a joint resolution proposing such an amendment. Representative Hobson and Senator Sheppard will, it is understood, introduce the resolution in the two houses of Congress tomorrow.

The resolution would propose a constitutional amendment to forever prohibit the sale, manufacture for sale, transportation for sale, importation for sale, and exportation of sale, of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, but empowering Congress to provide for the manufacture, sale, importation and transportation of medicinal liquors for medicinal and similar purposes.

Is Ruling of Judge on Thaw's Petition for Bail

Jerome Again on Job

And Bitterly Objects to Giving Thaw His Liberty on Bond Pending Appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court

CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 9.—Judge Edgar Aldrich ruled today that the mental conditions of Harry Thaw must be determined in the Federal court's announcement was made at the hearing on Thaw's petition for bail.

Attorneys for Thaw, who are attempting to prevent the extradition of their client through habeas corpus proceedings in the United States District court and counsel for New York state had agreed that the charge of conspiracy to escape from the insane asylum at Mattawan, N. H., was a balance offense when the question of bail would be a menace to the community was raised by William T. Jerome, special deputy attorney general for New York.

"We have been radical objections to turning Thaw on the community to which he would be a peril," said Jerome.

Judge Aldrich held that before the question of bail was decided it would be necessary to determine the prisoner's mental condition to the satisfaction of the United States District court.

"The constitutional questions involved in this case," he added, "are of such importance that I shall not pass upon them myself but shall forward them as promptly as possible to the supreme court of the United States."

The constitutional questions are connected with Thaw's extradition. His status in New York and his status in New Hampshire.

The Modus Operandi Stated.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 9.—Judge Aldrich's statement today that he would not pass upon the constitutional questions involved in the Thaw case, but would forward them promptly to the supreme court of the United States, was not taken in supreme court circles as meaning that the case would come to the highest court without at least the form of a decision by Judge Aldrich on the pending habeas corpus application.

Only the federal circuit court of appeals, it was pointed out, may certify questions of law to the supreme court and it is held that the decisions of the circuit court of appeals are final.

The only way in which the Thaw case may come from the district court to the supreme court is said to be by way of appeal from a decision rendered by Judge Aldrich. In several cases in recent years, however, where district judges considered the cases before them of such importance that the supreme court would be asked to review the matter, the judges have not considered at length and passed upon the intricate points raised, but have promptly handed down decisions from which appeals might be taken.

Alleged Retailers Slew a Negro They Thought
Detective

GREENSBORO, Dec. 9.—Thinking they had caught the negro detective who had turned up 12 alleged retailers, a high point of negroes in the suburbs of High Point Saturday night killed Robert Hall, who strongly resembled the detective. Hall was knocked down, was severely cut across the leg, and then shot through the heart. Three negroes against whom suspicion is strong are guarded in the calaboose.

The murder occurred after a wholesale raid had been made by the police, on information furnished by the detective, who had been at work since Tuesday. Starting at 9 o'clock the force gathered up 12 negroes, the number set out for, completing the arrests in 45 minutes. The friends of those arrested set about to do away with the detective, who would be the witness, and thought they had him when they got Hall.

Hall was carried up 11 o'clock just east of High Point in the edge of the district occupied by the negroes. The assault was directly in front of a house, and the woman there heard someone say "shoot him", followed by the pistol shot. As she opened the door the crowd ran. There were several in the crowd.

The dead body, which was in the road, was found by a passing negro man, who notified the police. They started to work on the case immediately and by 3 o'clock were making further arrests, this time taking up 20 to be examined. These were examined Sunday morning and all but three released.

Adding further to the excitement of the night was the death of a negroess while the officers were searching for suspects. Officers McGee knocked at the door of one Simmons, and asked the woman who appeared. If her son was there. She immediately threw up her hands and fell over dead, so violent was the shock to her heart.

While the wholesale arrests were going on the detective was resting comfortably in one of the cells at the calaboose. When the officers first started on the raid he asked to be let out, but was told that he would be brought out this morning to testify against the blind tigers.

The detective is a graduate of Tusculum Institute.

Hall went to High Point two months ago from Reidsville and was at work in a table factory.

Coroner Stansbury and Dr. W. M. Jones went to the scene yesterday. The inquest will be held this morning at 8:30 o'clock.

The negroes who are charged with retailing are: Durney Williams, Evans, Silas Humphrey, Levie Burns, W. W. W. Baker, Ocie Henderson, Mamie Kirby, Lee Fluke, Charles Hill and Robert Frazier.

Sunday afternoon Robert Brevard severely cut his brother, Jake Brevard, as the result of a quarrel. It was stated over the phone last night that the wounded negro had but a slight chance for recovery.

Wanted in Greensboro for Home-breaking and Unexploded Term on Chain-Gang.

WILSON, Dec. 7.—Louis Whitted alias George Winston, who escaped from the chain-gang in Greensboro about two years ago—sentenced for carrying a concealed weapon, and who later broke into a house—was arrested last night by Chief Wiggins and Roundsman Webb under the following circumstances: Whitted robbed his room-mate—Will Cotton who was charged when both lived in Chapel Hill. Cotton put the officer in charge as to Whitted's escape from the chain-gang, and later he admitted he was sent up for carrying concealed weapon, but that it was a mistake about the home-breaking feature of the story. However, when he assists in building Wilson county roads for a term of six months he will be turned over to the Greensboro authorities.

The rain Sunday was followed with clear cold weather.

MR. WRIGHT RETURNS FROM GOLDSBORO.

Prof. Robt. H. Wright of E. C. T. S. has just returned from a trip to Goldsboro where he made a talk to the Woman's Club on Modern Tendencies in Education. The address given to a very enthusiastic audience which expressed the spirit and the great interest of the people in the work of modern education.

Mr. Wright's talk was an enlargement of the following outline and these topics were talked upon: The breaking away from the formal discipline of other days and the realization that education is definite and specific not general. A necessity for the adjustment of teaching to the new conceptions is realized and this calls for new things. Mr. Wright said that a teacher must study the child more than the subject matter for teaching now is in the "developing of a life not the expounding of subject matter." People have come to realize that education is of service in daily activities not only for hours of leisure. Education is broad and varied and for development of humanity and for the proper development of any child there must be a close relation between the child's home and his school. The conclusion, as stated by Prof. Wright, is that it all leads to a necessity for parent and teacher working in harmony.

GENERAL STORE PAINTS OILS
When You Paint

Use PURE Paint and Use Pure LINSEED OIL to add to it at one-half the cost of Paint.

PURE PAINT is made with WHITE LEAD, ZINC and LINSEED OIL—that's the way the L. & M. SEMI-MIXED REAL PAINT is made.

But ALL the OIL needed to make the L. & M. PAINT ready for use is NOT put into the Paint when it is prepared for the Consumer who buys it.

The ADDITIONAL quantity of OIL is put into the Paint by the CONSUMER, as by so doing he SAVES MONEY. Therefore—buy 3 gallons of LINSEED OIL with every 4 gallons of L. & M. PAINT and MIX the OIL with the PAINT.

If the Paint thus made costs more than $1.40 per gallon—If the Paint as you use it is not perfectly satisfactory—Then return whatever you have not used, and get back ALL you paid for the WHOLE of it and besides the money you paid to the Painter.

GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, November 12, 1914.

PHILADELPHIA, December 12, 1914.

Dr. John G. Climbach, at Willford College, is to be a candidate for governor of South Carolina against Col. Blaise. We are told that he is a scholar and a gentleman. What a contrast to Republican office-holder, the postmaster at Smithfield, has resigned. Of course, there are several fanatic citizens who are willing to sacrifice themselves upon the altar of their country in order to get the job.

If the rest of the Judges will go for the blind tigers in their home towns as Judge Carter, of Asheville, is going for them in his, we soon have a cleaner state and less crime. What they need is a little stronger medicine for the bench.

President Wilson in his message to congress strongly advocated legislation looking to the selection of presidential nominees by a primary vote of the people without the intervention of nominating conventions. Doubtless a bill looking to such a law will be introduced during the present session of congress.

President Wilson stated a few days ago in his message to congress when he said "Mexico at present has no government." He said further that General Huerta had "forfeited the respect and moral support even of those who were at one time willing to see him succeed." Huerta's career in usurping control of Mexico is rapidly nearing the end.

The year of Jubilee must surely be coming, for we see from our exchange that Great Britain, Germany and the United States are about entering into an agreement for an international naval holiday for one year. That is nothing that will build any ships during that time. It will be a saving of $20,000,000 to Germany, $50,000,000 to Great Britain and $50,000,000 to the United States.

The fines imposed by Judge Frank Carter on the Asheville hotel liquor sellers, will be remembered by the offenders. Two of them jointly had to pay $4,000 and costs, while heavy fines were placed on several others. Having stopped the hotels from selling liquor, Judge Carter says he is going right ahead after the druggists and also the physicians who write liquor prescriptions for others than bona-fide patients.

"This xxx is an attempt to thrive on the wrongs inflicted on a sister state that has always been the best of her neighbors and customers. It is this spirit of modern Virginia," says Gov. Craig.

"If it is," says the Greensboro Daily News, "the old Dominion has fallen unbelievably low. To move heaven and earth to perpetuate an injustice that is bleeding her neighbor in order that her own bank account may swell—that a different Virginia is this from the proud state that once unhesitatingly plunged into the abyss of civil war rather than strike a blow against her southern sisters!"

"Blessed is he who is without expectations."—Greenboro News.

Who threw em?

Yes, there are people traveling on trains in cold weather who think they cannot see through a window without raising it.

The president's annual address only contained 3,000 words, but they were the words of a statesman, and easily understood by the humblest citizen.

A movement is on foot to place a monument to Sir Walter Raleigh at the state capital to commemorate the celebration of the 100 years of peace between the English speaking people. A good move.

The Lincoln News says that Mr. W. C. Ashbury of that place recently planted 33 bushels of onion sets. If some of Pitt farmers want onion money in the spring, here is an example to imitate.

We see from the papers that a man who had just been operated on for appendicitis in a hospital in Lynchburg, as soon as he woke up married a widow worth $90,000. Most any of us would have undergone the ordeal for the price.

President Huerta, of Mexico, is seeking to borrow a few dollars with which to pay off his soldiers with not much hope of success, for it now looks like that Villa's troops will be in Mexico before Huerta's agents get to Europe, where he hopes to raise the dough.

They took Emmaline off the boat before she landed in England and put her in prison. We are not told whether they got her $20,000 simoleons or not, but we get her didn't.

We are glad that the president and congress will not take up the anti-trust legislation until after Christmas, for it won't do to talk about trusting a fellow right now.

While the rebels of Mexico are changing the physical aspects of some of its towns we hope they will change the tongue-twisting names of some of them as well of their generals.

The price of eggs have soared so high in the north and west that the housewives of the large cities are organizing boycotts on the egg, and already the retail and wholesale merchants are offering to surrender and reduce the price. Down here in the Good Old North State these balmy days, the hens are all trying their best to break all records, and thus add the ladies in their fight against the egg trust. That's cooperation of the right sort.

The editor of the Gaffney, S. C. Ledger, must be in a desperately loose condition, as evidenced by the following from his pen:

"If there is any girl in Cherokee county who would not like to have a diamond ring for a Christmas present, the Ledger would appreciate a sight of her. On the other hand a visit from any girl that would like to have one will be appreciated."

President Wilson makes it plain to all that he is president, satrap, despotism, and all "such pretended governments will not be tolerated by the government of the United States." The president is right, and we are glad he is particular about the international society which Uncle Sam will recognize.

Engineer Laurie Brinkley, of Raleigh, N. C., who was driving a yard engine, was killed at Columbia, S. C., December 5, when he ran his engine into a S-Baird Air Line freight train.

Two hundred girls of Converse College, Spartanburg, S. C., have gone on a "hunger strike" as a protest against the food served at the college. Better come to the East Carolina Training School at Greenville, and get it while time and opportunity is present.

The reason so many women suffer so much because of their beliefs is so many of them believe they can wear a No. 3 shoe on a No. 6 foot.

"Oh! let me whopazoid in peace," says a writer in Hearst's Sunday American. Go on, honer, and whap just as much as you please; we don't care.

The continued elevation of the cost of living disproves the old saying, "what goes up must come down."

"It begins to look as if Asheville will soon be face to face with a long dry spell."—Charlotte Chronicle. How?

What has become of Freddy and Harry? We have not heard a word from either of them for several days.

A movement is on foot in Durham to name Col. J. S. Carr for governor. When Durham starts to do a thing she generally does it with a whoop.

The House Interstate Commerce Commission has begun probing of the cold storage egg trust. We would not like to be on the smelting committee of that body.

The papers announce that Emmaline began a hunger and thirst strike as soon as she was landed in prison. No use to get hungry with 20,000 good American dollars in her pocket.

The wife of deputy sheriff Jones of Forsythe county, who wore an artificial eye, was sitting in front of the fire when the eye exploded. A doctor was called in, and it was found that a large piece of glass from the back of the artificial eye had been forced back into the socket cutting a wound that bled profusely.

A Washington dispatch says: Enthusiastic suffragists raised $12,500 in one hour today for the national budget fund of their organization. Do nations were made at the rate of $20 a minute.

Well, that will "budge it" if anything else will. Now listen out for "big speeches with great men."

"Even if they cannot catch all violators of the prohibition laws, they could at least feed all of those they do catch out of the same soup."—Ham Herald.

You better quit that kind of talk, or you might be considered as trying to lower the dignity of the judiciary."

Gen. Salvador Mercado, Huerta's military commander in northern Mexico, quit his job because he received no pay. We always heard that "all work and no pay made Jack a dull boy," and we should think it would apply equally as well to a soldier, even if he was a general.

An announcement is made that indications point to a big development of immigration from Japan to South America when the Panama Canal is available. Let them go and see if they cry. We could mention several other kinds of foreigners that we would be perfectly willing to see go with them, especially those that have no idea of becoming good American citizens.

The dealer who will make his store so attractive that people naturally "go in" to it as the place of town, where things are always reliable and where they will be never disappointed, that dealer will draw trade from his more shifless competitors as surely as the big arc light attracts the insects from the lamp post's flicker.

Miss Nell R. Lee Murphy, of Richmond, Va., who is said to be the wisest girl in the south, gives the following answer to the question "Should woman propose?"

"Let man propose forever! Cheap gifts are lightly treasured. Man must address in woman modesty. Without respect love dies. Groom the growler to love, man is constituted to chase. If the bride must be given away, let father do it. In Old Virginia, at least, God forgid the bride unsought will ever give herself away, for 'de fruit d' draps afore 'tis shook am' fruit d' be too mellow."

The London Daily News makes the following complimentary remarks with reference to President Wilson's recent message to congress:

"Seldom has a presidential message contained so many bold and original ideas. The championship of constitutional government is a new form of the Monroe doctrine which may

We see from the papers that Huerta is in need of cash. A very common complaint.

Mary Gardner says that salt airs are hideous in the day time. But who wants to wear one of the things in the night, Mary?

NINETEEN, GOING IN TWENTY.

A boy on his birthday in telling how old he is, is apt to express it that way, using the numbers that suit his years. So The Daily Reflector in having a birthday today can say it is nineteen, going in twenty. It has rounded out nineteen years and starts out today for the twentieth mile-stone. And while The Daily Reflector is celebrating its birthday anniversary, its parent, The Eastern Reflector, is closing its thirty-second year.

On occasions of this kind it is in order to talk about self a little, but there is not much The Reflector can say of itself that is not already familiar to its readers. Having been their constant companion through so many years, they know all about it. The paper does not feel at all ashamed of its career, nor of what it has done for the advancement of Greenville and Pitt county. While it has not become such a big thing for itself, as it had to work its way along from a very small beginning and often pull against adverse circumstances, what it has accomplished for the community will measure many fold greater. It has always advocated and tried to lead the way to better things and more progressive ideas, and has seen Greenville grow from about one thousand people to nearly six thousand. It has seen the borders extended time and again, and rejoiced in the bringing of improvements and enterprises that have made it a large business centre. All may not be ready to realize the truth of this statement, but it is a fact that The Reflector has witnessed the erection of every building, with only three exceptions, on Evans street between Second and the southern limit of the town, and it has seen almost as much growth in other portions of the town. It has seen Pitt county arise from a very low place in the columns of counties and reach the first rank educationally and commercially. The railroads, the banks, the tobacco market, the public utilities, have all come in The Reflector's day, and the paper has done its best to boost and help them along. Though the town has had wonderful growth in these years it seems now just in the dawn of its real progress, and the next few years will witness greater progressive strides than ever.

Another thing The Reflector has no cause to feel ashamed of is its patronage. In this particular the paper speaks for itself every day, its pages showing the appreciation the people have for it. The paper stands for the people, and the people stand with the paper. With their support The Reflector can renew the one promise it has made in the past, to go right on from year to year serving the town, the county and the state to the best of its ability. And it will close this anniversary talk by wishing the coming Christmas may be a happy one for every reader. Start right now to make it the happiest of your life, and also decide to make us happy by getting on the paper's cash-in-advance list for the new year.

The Walter George Newman gold mines at Gold Hill, N. And still some folks are going way off to Alaska to dig gold, when there are rich mines in good old North Carolina. The next news will be that some one will be digging gold in Pitt.

A London telegram tells of a man who had been deaf and dumb for seven years recovered his speech and hearing by taking a drink of water. Another illustration for the water watorators.

"A man has just naturally got to have a place to walk and very prettily walk a mile or so, on a big tractor that is all yours, then go to Sunday school in my way of thinking the right way to spend a Sunday morning." Joe is 6 feet 6, and does not weigh near as much as our "Uncle Zach" of the same family, or walking "a mile or so" would not be such a luxury.

Hamlet Druggist is Instantly Killed In Automobile Accident

HAMLET, Dec. 9—Earl Morrow, a prominent druggist of Hamlet, was instantly killed and Wilson Page lumber man, his brother-in-law seriously injured when Mr. Morrow's automobile turned turtle about four o'clock today near West End, N. C. They had left about noon for a hunting trip and information of the accident was phoned here soon after the accident. Both parties are prominent business men, Mr. Morrow being married, leaving a wife, baby about three years old, father, mother and one sister.

Mr. Page was unmarried. Mr. Morrow was a prominent Mason and Elk and he took a leading part in building affairs of the town. His body will reach Hamlet Wednesday morning and the funeral will be conducted Thursday morning under Masonic auspices. The injuries to Mr. Page are very serious.

MURDER DR. KNABE
 SHELLYVILLE, Ind., Dec. 9—Judge Alonzo Blair today instructed the jury to dismiss the case against Dr. William B. Craig, charged with the murder of Helen Knabe at Indianapolis, October 25, 1911. The motion to dismiss the case was made by the defense yesterday when the State concluded its evidence.

Henry Spann, counsel for Craig, in his argument in support of the motion, declared that the State had failed to connect Dr. Craig with the crime in any way and also had failed to establish any motion for the crime.

Dr. Helen Knabe was one of the most prominent women doctors in the State and at one time was connected with the state board of health. She was found dead in her apartment in Indianapolis on the morning of October 24, 1911. The police reported that Dr. Knabe committed suicide.

COMFORTING WORDS.
 Many a Greenville household will find them so.

To have the pains and aches of a bad cold removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of Greenville readers.

J. B. Post, E. Second St., Washington, N. C., says: "Backache bother me and there were pains across my loins. These symptoms of kidney trouble showed that something must be done. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and contained sediment. I used two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they entirely relieved me. There has never been a sign of the complaint since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Doan's Pills, United States, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

State to Set Express Rates.
 CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 10—A conference of state railroad and warehouse commissioners, representatives of the leading express companies and prominent shippers from many parts of the country met in this city today to discuss the subject of interstate express rates. The conference was arranged by the National Association of Railway Commissioners at its meeting in Washington a short time ago. The conference will endeavor to arrive at a coherent method of regulating interstate express rates along the lines on which the Interstate Commerce Commission regulates interstate railroad rates.

The fines imposed upon the big blind tigers of Asheville by Judge Carter, ranging from $1,000 to $4,000 strikes us as about the right size. They netted the state and county $5,000 and was the result of a compromise and confession by the guilty ones. If the Judge had just added a few days with the pick and shovel brigade, he would have made a deep impression on the big fellows.

What does a fellow who has been selling two and three hundred dollars worth of honor a day for two or three years, care for a few fairy simoleons?

Following complaints from business men that banks were restricting credits on commercial paper to meet expected provisions of the new currency law, Secretary McAdoo assured bankers the government contemplated no regulations which would in any way interfere with the business of the country.

The secretary further stated the Treasury Department had large available resources, which it would not hesitate to use to aid banks to comply with the law.

A letter from a note broker from Ohio alleged that large banks had advised their correspondents to make themselves just as liquid as possible and stay so, in order to meet the requirements of the new bill. "These banks said the note brokers have not been buying any paper since March and business is at a standstill."

BASNIGHT IS NO MORE POSTMASTER

DISMISSED FROM THE NEW BERN OFFICE BY POSTMASTER GENERAL HULESON FOR INSUBORDINATION

NEW BERN, Dec. 6.—As a culmination of the postoffice wrangle which has been in progress in New Bern for the past eight or nine weeks Postmaster Jesse S. Basnight, who was placed in charge of the office in June, 1910, was this afternoon dismissed by the Postmaster General for insubordination. R. A. Nunn, representing the American Bonding Company, of Baltimore, who was Mr. Basnight's bond, was placed in charge of the office.

The action grows out of a long controversy between the Republican postmaster and Smith, who is a Democrat and which was brought to the postoffice department in charges filed by Basnight and Smith against each other.

It was alleged by Smith that the postmaster ignored the civil service rules by appointing a Republican youth, not of age, to a vacancy in the postoffice. Smith claimed he was entitled to the place, which was a promotion, because of his long service in the office.

When the postmaster learned that these charges had been filed against him, and before a postoffice inspector could reach New Bern to investigate the case, it is alleged, he discharged Smith.

Subsequently the Postoffice Department sent a telegram to Basnight ordering him to restore the clerk to his position. This telegram was ignored entirely by Basnight according to Senator Simmons, who took up the case in behalf of Smith.

A second telegram was sent to the postmaster demanding an explanation, whereupon Basnight replied that he had acted within his rights under the law, which he claimed gave him the privilege of choosing his assistants as he saw fit.

Then the postoffice department sent a peremptory demand to Basnight that he reinstate Smith and gave him until today to do so.

Basnight, according to Senator Simmons paid no attention to this demand and Postmaster General Burleson ordered that the postmaster be removed.

AS STATED SOME WEEKS AGO THROUGH THE COLUMNS OF THE REFLECTOR, IN ORDER THAT GREENVILLE MAY GET THE FREEDOM OF DELIVERY OF MAILS THE TOWN WOULD HAVE TO FINISH THE NUMBERING OF HOUSES, PLACE BOARDS ON THE CORNERS GIVING THE NAMES OF STREETS AND MAKING NECESSARY IMPROVEMENTS ON SUCH STREETS THAT THE MAIL MAN'S WALK MIGHT BE MADE EASY.

Mr. Rob Greene, who had in charge the numbering of the houses and placing the shingles on the corners informed a representative of The Reflector this morning that his part had been completed. Now if the street committee will make other improvements that are needed on the streets of our little city it won't be long before we will hear the whistle of the mail man. Be up and doing, gentlemen, and let us have this improvement that we deserve.

MRS. STRETCH LEADS Y. W. C. A. SERVICE

One of the most enjoyable Y. W. C. A. Sunday evening services, which have been held at the Training School this fall, was led last evening by Mrs. Stretch, of Greenville. Her subject was, "The Cultivation of the Sunny Disposition," and her Scripture reading was taken from Psalm C. "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord," etc. The talk was especially good because of the apt way in which the lessons were made to stand out in quotations, and on account of the way in which these lessons were made to apply especially to student life in a social and religious way.

Mrs. Stretch already had many friends here in the school girls, who are members of her Sunday school class, but her talk of last evening has made her the friend of every girl who heard her, and they will always be glad of an opportunity to hear her.

BOY SEVERELY SHOCKED BY LIVE WIRE SUNDAY

PAYETTEVILLE, Dec. 7.—Luther Mainer, a nine year old boy, was severely shocked when he placed his hand on a telephone wire that had fallen across one of the city's power lines on his way home from Sunday school this morning. That his injuries were not more serious was due to his prompt use by Policeman J. A. McLean, who slipped on a pair of gloves, secured pliers and severed the wire to which the boy's hand was held. He was taken to Highsmith hospital where it was said that he would get on very well. The accident occurred near the Atlantic Coast Line passenger station. The boy is a son of Joseph Mainer, section master for the Coast Line.

GREENSBORO MAY HAVE WON FINE PROMOTION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Samuel H. Boyd, of Greensboro, recently appointed a revenue agent under Commissioner Osborn, has been promoted to chief of the income tax bureau. Mr. Boyd will take charge of his new office Monday morning. The position pays $3,500 and is one of the most responsible service. Secretary McAdoo and Commissioner Osborn selected Mr. Boyd from 100 or more applicants. As was the case when Commissioner Osborn appointed Mr. Boyd a revenue agent, he was selected because of his ability to do the work. Mr. Boyd will be in direct command of the forces all over the country who collect the income tax.

Thomas J. Pence, assistant chairman of the Democratic national committee, will spend the holidays in North Carolina. He will go from Washington direct to Raleigh where he will be entertained by "Pink Wax," Billy Green, Henry Bates and James McKeen. From Raleigh Mr. Pence will go to Asheville where he will be the guest of W. A. Hilderbrand and Fred L. Steely.

WEST VIRGINIA COAL MINING INSTITUTE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 8.—Several hundred of the leading coal men of the state are attending the semi-annual meeting of the West Virginia Coal Mining Institute, which began a three-day session here today. In addition to papers on technical subjects the program calls for addresses on the operations of the workman's compensation law, the effect of the Panama canal on West Virginia mining operations, and the new state prohibition law and its effect upon the miners.

WILL VOTE TODAY ON NAVAL HOLIDAY

Resolution Encountered Little Opposition in House When Discussed Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—With only one or two voices raised against the Hensley naval holiday resolution, which would authorize the president to accept the suggestion of Winston Churchill, Lord of the British Admiralty, for a world-wide moratorium of naval construction for one year, the debate on the resolution was brought to a close today in the House. A vote will be taken Monday.

Most of the speakers advocated the passage of the resolution because warships belonged to "a past era." Representative Hullins of Pennsylvania, favored it merely as an expression of changing sentiment.

"Resolutions will not bring peace," said Representative Hullins. "Peace societies will not stop wars. Disarmament is a chimera that will only become real after peace is established. The Hague tribunal has broken down because it lacks power. We will have war until the day when inventions make war impossible."

Representative Mann, of Illinois, supported the resolution, declaring that it would not be to the discredit of any individual to offer a proposition that spoke for peace nor to the discredit of any country to propose such a plan regardless of whether it should succeed or fail. Representative Hoffa, of Alabama, and Shelden, of Virginia, also endorsed the resolution, as did Representative Saunders of Virginia, who declared no nation in the world could so well afford to suspend naval construction as the United States.

WINTERTVILLE ITEMS

WYNTERTVILLE, Dec. 6.—The musical students of the Winterville High School on the evening of December fifth was a marked success. Each number on the program was rendered well. The class as a whole showed real musical feeling and gave evidence of careful training in teaching. Two vocal selections, a chorus and been spending several weeks in the attractiveness of the program.

Lots of unmarried men have become frightened and left Mexico, but by the use of a Winchester, a Steppenson, or a Marlin rifle, they would have been safe at long range, but for short range should use Colt's Automatic, Smith and Wesson or a good L. C. Smith shot gun, at A. W. Ange and Company.

Mr. Leon Kittrel of Ayden was here last night.

See Harrington, Barber and Co. for your pants, shoes and hats.

If in need of bicycle or auto supplies, see Kittrel and Co. Their prices are reasonable.

Mrs. A. W. Ange went to Ayden yesterday.

We have on hand a nice lot of best just received. If in need of meats of any kind see R. W. Dall, especially if you want some nice oysters.

We are just opening up a nice line of mattings. We also have a fine lot of druggets, all sizes and as large as 12x12. Come and look over our stock. Our prices are right. B. D. Forest and Co.

It was in September that the boys of the different schools and colleges were counting the days before they should leave their girls. Now they are counting to see when their vacation begins.

We have candies of the finest flavor, out of the best quality sugar or oranges that will make you think that A. W. Ange and Co. is the place to buy your Christmas goods.

It is to your interest when you are in town to make your head quarters at R. W. Dall; he can supply you in everything in the meat line. See him for fresh oysters at 35¢ per quart. R. W. Dall.

Feeds of all kinds, oats, bran and cotton seed meal hulls at Kittrel and Co.

The merchants are busy getting in their Christmas goods.

Come and get your corrugated and rubber roofing from Harrington, Barber and Co.

I have found some money and parties may have same by giving proper description of R. J. L. Rollins.

A word to you, Mr. Farmer, when you are in need of anything in your general supplies, we are prepared to satisfy your wants. B. D. Forest and Co.

AYDEN ITEMS

AYDEN, Dec. 4.—People move change their mind, but the sun goes on all the same.

Mr. Jesse M. C. Nelson who has just sold his farm to Mr. J. A. Phillips, has bought the house and lot in Ayden upon which Mr. E. J. Dall resides and will move to town about the first of the year.

Just received a ton of dynamite, 40¢ per cent, at J. R. Smith and Bro.

W. C. Jackson, of Wake Forest who has been visiting relatives here left for her home Wednesday morning.

Yes, things are moving, we will soon see the long expected happen, the railroad company is building a new depot and is filling in the cut in front of the Ross property, and will build another track, or siding at once, and we would like to see the man who said the company would not suspend their promises.

Mr. Orrie Stokes has purchased a farm from Mr. Oel C. Manning, near Bethany church. We understand that Mr. Manning has decided to cast his future with the people of Martin county, as he and his brother, Thad, have purchased land near the City of Oakes.

All kinds of hardware, mill fittings, farm supplies, windows, doors, lime, cement and metal roofing at J. R. Smith and Bro.

There is not a vacant dwelling to be had in Ayden, but this has been the case for a long time.

Mr. J. Mc. Dixon is moving his family to town and will occupy one of the dwellings on the property recently purchased by Mr. Griffin on Griffin Plainses.

Mr. H. G. Munford has purchased the house and lot where the Rev. T. C. LeGrand now resides, from Mr. C. Y. Cannon and will move therein about the first of the year.

All kinds of cook and heating stoves for wood, coal and oil, at J. R. Smith and Bro.

Mr. Guy Taylor has purchased the house and lot from Mr. H. C. Ormond near the old graded school building and will occupy the same the first of January.

The latest thing on compulsory education, a colored professor charged one of his patrons five dollars for his children's absence for three days from school.

Better Nobles, of Ayden, and Charlie Moore, of Stem, N. C. (colored) were married at the colored Free Will Baptist church last Friday night, by Rev. John Throover. The contracting parties are both deaf mutes, and their marriage was somewhat out of the ordinary. A lot of the white people attended the wedding. The reception was held at P. S. Cannon's. They will make their home at Stem, N. C.

If buildings continue to grow up our town will not favor itself by the spring.

"Say boy, don't you want a bicycle?" See J. R. Smith and Bro. they sell them cheaper.

Mr. Charles McElon has purchased the Hill Jess Tripp farm from Mr. A. Horton for his son Herman, who will soon make a change in the general appearance in things.

If you have anything to sell we want to buy it; if you have anything to buy, we want to sell you. J. R. Smith and Bro.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Patron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

TO ADJUDICATE

To Reward Young Agriculturists, WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 10.—Champion young agriculturists from many sections of the country are to arrive in the capital tomorrow to receive from Secretary Houston of the Department of Agriculture diplomas for excellence in their work.

WHO'S TO BLAME.

(From the Charlotte Observer.)
As if women's gowns are less modest here than in Europe, (Poulton) Bigelow, author and traveler, replies that it all depends upon what sort of women one means. The immediate rows are "launched and navigated" Paris to inflame the imagination of men with time and money to spare.

Such women, Mr. Bigelow adds, are not seen on mothers of good family or on their daughters. Our girls have been importing by every steamer costume which in Europe would be thought of with "fast women."

Discuss Vocational Education, INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 10.—Vocational education and the work of the county agricultural extension agents are the chief topics that are being discussed at the annual meeting of the Indiana State Teachers' Association now in session here.

TOAD GOOD FRIEND OF MAN

Ill-Favored Creature Has Been Misunderstood and is Beginning to Be Appreciated.

Few well-meaning creatures have been animals. In the case of a lion, it is believed that the wearing of a claw of this animal will bring great strength.

People connected with circuses and shows have been more carefully observed and its great value to the pomologist and gardener has been fully established on account of its propensity for eating insects.

We should, therefore, cultivate the friendship and assistance of the insectivorous reptile, including the striped snake, as well as that of the birds.

Every tidy housewife detests the cockroach, mice and other vermin. Two or three toad-like toads would keep the coast clear of these and would be found more desirable than a cat, as they are wholly free from trespassing on the rights of children as does the cat.

Many instances might be cited of pet toads remaining several years in a family and doing most valuable service with no other compensation than that of immunity from persecution.

In Europe toads are carried to the cities for the sale of their skins to the horticulturists, who by their aid are enabled to keep in check the multiplication of the insect tribes which prey upon their fruits, flowers, etc.

THOR'S HAMMER SUE

English Fishermen Consider it a Charm Against Drowning—Some Other Peculiar Beliefs.

The fishermen of Whitby would never dream of venturing out of port without a little hammer-shaped charm from the head of a sheep, known as "Thor's hammer," as this little object is a very special charm against drowning and other accidents.

At Scarborough an old peasant has a charm to be regarded as almost a wizard for the country folks from round about come to him for relief from rheumatism.

No response from the stout Murphy, who appeared to be thinking hard.

"Do you hear me, Murphy?" exclaimed the exasperated man.

"Yes," he answered, "but my brain hasn't sent the message down yet!"

How conceptions of travel have changed is illustrated by the disappearance of the old "D. V." provision.

Innumerable Superstitions Connected With Time Immemorial With Wild Creatures.

HIS BRAIN WORKED SLOWLY

Small Boy Turned Statement Made by His Teacher to Good Advantage.

"Strange to say," said the school-teacher, addressing his class of boys, "our brain acts as a telephone to the different parts of our body.

WACHITA FROM BIG RIVER

By E. ECKMAN.

Drearly the hours passed, and the noise of the storm was only broken by the occasional howl of predatory beasts.

It was after midnight when Mrs. Holden's door opened and she found her son John upon his knees, reaching for the latch; and in his arms, half held and half dragged, was the form of a young Indian girl.

By a strong effort he staggered to his feet and drew the girl into the middle of the room. Then he sank utterly exhausted upon the floor.

"It'll be all right in a minute, mother," he gasped. "I'm—tired out, that's all. It was awful, but I never expected to see home—again."

His mother bent over him, but he motioned her away. "Look after the girl first," he expostulated. "She needs more than I. I found her on the trail. She was lost, and had fallen in the snow."

"Why didn't you leave her?" piped a shrill voice from overhead. John looked up quickly. His little sister Peggy's eyes were staring at him through the trap door.

"O, couldn't I do that, Peggy?" he said, rebukingly. "I never thought of such a thing."

"I'd 'a' left her," declared the child, stoutly. "I was thinking of somethin', sir," came the answer.

"Well, think of something that'll do your brain a little good!" retorted the girl's hands and now rose.

"Here, come out of that!"—an other grin spread itself over the saucy youngster's face. "Just stand behind me for half an hour, and I'll give you something to grin about afterward!"

At the expiration of the lesson Murphy was recalled.

"Hold your hand out!" demanded the teacher, switching his cane.

No response from the stout Murphy, who appeared to be thinking hard.

"Do you hear me, Murphy?" exclaimed the exasperated man.

"Yes," he answered, "but my brain hasn't sent the message down yet!"

SUGGESTS CARR FOR GOVERNOR

General Julian S. Carr's Name Causes Discussion AS NORTH CAROLINA CHIEF

Opinion at Washington That the General Will Be Nominated, Glenn May Be Candidate for the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 16.—The suggestion that Gen. Julian S. Carr be made the next governor of North Carolina has gained considerable impetus since the idea was first started a few days ago, according to O. F. Crowson, of Burlington and S. C. Brawley, of Durham, who came to Washington today and spent several hours in conference with various North Carolinians here.

General Carr himself is in Washington tonight, having stopped over here on his way home from New York. He dined with Commissioner Ochs tonight. He says the whole question was precipitated by newspaper talk and was in no sense inspired by him.

"You are not an Indian?" he said, gently. "Your skin is whiter than my own girl's."

"But Wachita threw out her hands in quick dissent.

"'Me Indian," she declared, proudly; "I'll Indian. Panther Leap find me to say baby, take care. What you do me all the time; now me Indian."

"You are sick and tired," she said, soothingly. "You mustn't think of leaving here for a week or two. You will be able."

"What you do when me get well?" "Why, send you home, of course," indignantly. "You don't suppose I'd harm you on account of somebody else, do you?"

"Me never see much of paleface." Three weeks later Wachita suddenly announced her intention of returning home.

"Then I shall go with you," declared John. "You are not strong enough to go alone."

"No, no," she remonstrated, hastily; "you must not go. Me not want you to go. Me plenty strong. You paleface, me Indian. We two hate each other, fight, burn, kill, destroy. No good together."

"All talk, Wachita," he declared. "You're not an Indian—and if you were it wouldn't matter; I should come for you just the same. I'm willing for you to go and see Panther Leap, for he has been good to me. For a month I shall come and ask him to let me marry you. If he attempts to let me, all right, I shall try to defund myself, but I will come just the same. I don't believe you hate."

But Wachita had darted away with an imperious motion for him to stay behind.

Ten days later he was trailing a bear through a thick underbrush when he heard a sudden rustle at his side, and it turned to see Wachita.

"Come back to be your squaw, John," she said. "Me fight bad, but no use. When me sure, me tell Panther Leap. He good to me. He said Mr. McDevalls made no statement as to whether he considered the charges of any consequence or not, and did not say whether or not Mr. Hammer's name would be sent to the senate, along with the others of "The Big Four."

It is not believed probable, however, that there will be any delay to the re-election of Carr; but he will fall of appointment.

TARBORO BOY DIES FROM POISON

Results of Blood From the New Bern Postoffice

TARBORO, Dec. 16.—As the result of an accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of 12-year-old George Dawes, Jesse Lawrence, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Hooks, of Whiteakers, this county, is dead. The accident happened Friday, the lad being shot in his left foot. Despite the efforts of physicians blood-poison set in causing death.

The account was peculiar inasmuch as the two boys had remained at home with Mrs. N. V. Barnhill, during the absence of her sons, and believing that the postmaster, a postal inspector came to the department he stated that both boys, both boys secured shotguns, and went after the supposed intruder.
