Fierce Conflict Between The Federals and Rebels

For More Than Thirty-Six Hours Battle Waged
MANY KILLED AND WOUNDED

Surrender of the Federals is Improbable Because Ortega Has Orders to Execute So-Called Volunteers.

PRESIDIO, Tex., Dec. 30.—The battle between 5,000 rebels under General Toribio Ortega and the northern division of the Mexican federal army entrenched around Ojinaga, Mexico, across the border from this place, still was in progress when darkness fell tonight. No bullets came across the border.

The forces had been engaged for thirty six hours and many had been killed and wounded.

General Ortega executing a series of fan movements, steadily kept on the offensive, gaining foot by foot the approaches to the federal stronghold.

The federal forces, crippled and disorganized by the first rebel onslaught, clung to the hillside trenches, where their leaders had decided to make a last stand. They rallied somewhat from the panic that seized many of them with the first volleys of the rebels when daylight disclosed the position of Ortega's men and put up a plucky fight against heavy odds, although their losses were heavy from wounds and desertions. Many wounded and deserters waded waist deep through the river to the American side.

It was impossible to even approximate the number of dead and wounded. Fifteen federal wounded who waded the river were allowed to remain and were cared for by the United States army physicians but several scores unwounded federal deserters were disarmed by the United States border patrol under Major McNamee and sent back across the border.

Army officers were convinced that casualties had been heavy and Red Cross representatives sent requests for more help and hospital supplies.

Neither of the opposing forces is provided with the hospital facilities, and the wounded have been left on the hillside where they fell.

Although 5,000 rebels were engaged, much of the fire was ineffective in the early hours of the battle because of the position they occupied below the village.

Ojinaga, a cluster of adobe buildings, stands a mile from the border at the top of high hills which line the valley through which the rebels advanced. When day dawned Ortega's men had gained the foot of a hill three miles from the village, where the federal had planted a fort to command approaches to the town. They spread along the hillside and opened a fire which was maintained all day and which was supported by ten machine guns they had dragged across the desert from Chihuahua.

Foot by foot the rebels approached the federal trenches until their fire became too severe for the defenders who retired until, as darkness fell, all federal who had not fled were huddled in the shelter of the town itself.

Although the rebels tonight appeared to have much advantage, the outcome of the struggle was not clearly defined. It is probable because General Ortega has explicit orders to execute the so-called volunteers, and their commanders, Generals Pascual Orozco, Ynez Salazar, Antonio Rojas, Blas Orpinal Lazaro Alcala and Roque Gomez.

Lawmakers of West Virginia Found Guilty of Accepting Bribes

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Five members of the West Virginia Legislature are guilty of accepting bribes in connection with the election of a United States Senator at the regular session held in January and February, 1913, and should be expelled, according to the finding of a joint legislative committee made public today. One member of the state senate and six members of the house of delegates were indicted last February charged with accepting bribes to vote for Col. William Seymour Edwards as United States senator.

Mrs. Cherry's Impersonation Delights McKae Club of Muncie Indiana

Mrs. Griffith was a charming hostess to the McKae Club at its regular meeting Monday, November 24. Almost all the members were present and a number of guests enjoyed a delightful program. The president, Mrs. Rose, called the meeting to order. The responses were on Thanksgiving and included many bits of wit as well as more serious thoughts.

Mrs. Lincoln Lesh had charge of the entertainment for the afternoon and surprised the club by presenting Mrs. Oville Hornbaker, wife of the Rev. Mr. Hornbaker, of the First Christian Church of Muncie, and Mrs. James Burton Cherry, of Greenville, N. C., who entertained us most splendidly. Mrs. Hornbaker sang "Who's at My Window," by Osgood, later responding with "Foreign's Song," by Goddard, and "The Swan," by Greig, in a most pleasing and captivating manner.

Mrs. Cherry next delighted us with her vivid portrayal of the dark life of the old south. She is unequalled as an impersonator of this race, which is fast disappearing, and which will soon be found only in the annals of past history. She graphically portrayed the feeling of homage, amounting almost to worship that existed between the "fo de wah" dandy and his "ole massa and mistis"—those who abused their slaves being the exception and the disgrace attached to the same having been handed down to their posterity even to the present time.

She gave in dialect many tales of their quaint songs and folklore. Tears were blended with the laughter as we listened to "Mandy and Ole Miss," "Why Adam Sinned," and many other humorous songs were imitatively given. The ladies expressed regret that it was not guest day, and were unanimous in declaring that they had never before enjoyed so rare a treat and urged Mrs. Cherry to give her much-talked of "Evening in Dixie" while here in our city.

A rising vote of thanks were given to Mrs. Hornbaker, Mrs. Cherry and Mrs. Lesh, the ladies expressing the hope that they would be treated to a "slice of Dixie" at their next meeting at the home of Mrs. Eli Hoover, The Muncie, Ind., Star.

MANY FIGHTS BILLED FOR THE NEW YEAR

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 31.—The New Year will be ushered in tomorrow with a festival of fisticuffs extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Though no championship bouts are on the calendar there are several contests billed that should afford some good entertainment for the fight fans. In a scheduled 20-round bout at Vernon, Cal., Leach Cross the New York lightweight, will endeavor to repeat the trick of knocking out Bud Anderson, the Vancouver boy. Another fight that should be worth seeing will be the 10-round go at New Orleans between Johnny Dundee Welsh. Jack Dillon will take on Gus Christie for 10 rounds at Indianapolis and Joe Mandot and Earl Fisher are booked to go the same distance at Cincinnati. George Chip the victor over Frank Klaus, is to meet Tony Caponi for 6 rounds at Pittsburgh. In another 6-round bout at Philadelphia, Jack Britton will have Joe Hirst as an opponent.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM THE BUSY TOWN OF AYDEN

AYDEN, Dec. 29.—Our postmaster, Mr. George Prescott, tells us that he caught 13 large rats in a wire trap at one string. Mr. Alf Manning tells us he beat that, he caught 21 at one time. Both these gentlemen have taken premiums for truthfulness. You can find these rat traps at J. R. Smith and Bro.

We are glad to note the improvement of Mr. Lorenzo McGlohon, who has been confined to his room for a week.

When a man speaks evil of your good name, that is a test of patience; when he digs stumps by hand, that is a test of judgment. Why not use dynamite? Just received a ton at J. R. Smith and Bro.

Labor has been resumed on both the bank building and the depot, and with a few more weeks of good weather we hope to see these needed buildings completed.

Dr. Fountain Fulford Cox was in to see us a few minutes Monday evening and tells us he will return to his studies in New York as soon as the holidays are over. We personally expect great things of this young southerner, and no doubt but he will reflect great credit on the profession when he finishes his post graduate course.

Mr. Stancil Hodges has purchased the two houses and lots of Dr. J. W. Taylor, near the Seminary.

It is said by some Veterinarians, that a curry comb and brush is half feed, and a blanket, is even more, you can get all these at J. R. Smith and Bros.

Mr. W. F. Hart, is spending a few days at Morehead enjoying the breeze and boat riding, if not bathing.

Owing to some brake down to the machinery, at the power plant we are having no street lights, we hope the trouble will soon be remedied, as we prefer light to darkness.

Mr. Sol Jackson son of Mr. U. S. Jackson, has the pneumonia.

Mrs. Mary Moye of near Hookerton has rented the Carman house and will move her family here in the near future.

With steam you can encompass the world, with Electricity, you can do the same, with shot gun and revolver you can protect your family and money. Plenty of these can be found at J. R. Smith and Bros.

How much higher will land go Mr. C. E. Hart, of Littlefield, has refused $14,000.00 for his Harper farm. Chief of Police, Mr. M. H. Sumrell has resigned his position, and will soon move his family near the town of Arthurs.

Mr. Ben Craft spent Tuesday night in the city and tells us that he has some eight or ten bales of cotton in the field, and when the children want spending money, he tells them to pick out a bale of cotton and sell it. He also tells us the labor proposition is bad, very scarce.

Mess, Stocks Bros., of Hookerton have bought the stock of goods of Mr. J. B. Patrick, on Lee street. Mr. Patrick will move in the country to his farm near Littlefield.

There is a nice opening for a shoe workman to open a shop here, and do a general repairing business as harness and the like.

Mrs. Alice L. Harrington, and daughter, Miss Velma, of Kinston, accompanied by Miss ——— of Texas, who has been teaching art at A. C. C., are visiting relatives and friends in town.

We learn that Mr. Heber Mumford will open a feed store here in the near future, and buy cotton seed, also sell fertilizers.

There is a lot of changing of clerkships and farmers in this community. We hope it is all for the best, but rolling stones usually gather no moss.

CAN IDENTIFY GUILTY PARTY

IS BELIEF OF CALUMET AUTHORITIES OF THE MAN THAT CAUSED PANIC AT CELEBRATION

CALUMET, Mich., Dec. 30.—Identification of the man who started the Christmas Eve catastrophe by calling "fire" in a crowded hall here was forecasted tonight by O. H. Hilton, chief of counsel of the Western Federation of Miners. Mr. Hilton asked that the coroner's inquest into the tragedy of 72 deaths be adjourned until tomorrow, saying that he desired to produce witnesses who claimed they could identify the man.

The greater part of the evidence again today was that the cry of fire came from within the hall. Three of the thirty or more witnesses claimed to have seen a Citizen's Alliance button on the man. Several said they saw the man who cried fire, but most of them said they had seen no pin. He was seen, however, by persons in different parts of the hall, and there were half a score descriptions of the man.

Uncompromising adherence to their determination never by direct or indirect means to recognize the Western Federation of Miners was pronounced today by mine owners of the copper strike district who were willing to discuss the visit here of John B. Densmore, solicitor of the Department of Labor. "We could not treat with the Federation, even if we wished," said F. W. Denton, manager of the Copper Range Constructive Work. "The men at work never would consider employment underground with members of the union, for there always would be trouble and in view of the fact that 10,000 men are working for the companies, we cannot ignore their interests."

The strike is to enter upon its final stage within two days, tomorrow being the last upon which the companies will receive applications for work from strikers. Originally, December 1 had been set as the limit. Whatever good the extension of thirty days might have accomplished was wiped out by the Italian Hall disaster, the controversy as to who should give relief to afflicted families and the deportation of Charles H. Meyer, president of the Federation.

The detailed figures obtained from both sides today found opposing claims as wide apart as the poles. Employers said there were less than 3,000 actual strikers left in the district, but union headquarters furnished statistics showing that weekly strike benefits are being paid to 810, 429, men.

The companies figured that 14,300 men were affected by the calling of the strike. Today they claimed 2,640 men were at work, half of the difference between the two totals having gone to other districts, thus leaving 2,330 strikers.

Several Houses Entered.

There have recently been several robberies of dwelling houses here most of them being in the western section of the town. The houses entered so far were those of Mr. W. J. Boyd, Jr., Mr. A. J. Outbridge, Mr. Josiah Dixon and Mr. E. B. Ficklen. In each instance the houses were entered early in the night and apparently by some one familiar with the surroundings. The thief or thieves seemed to be looking for money, and in each house except Mr. Dixon's a small sum was obtained.

NOT A CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Is Statement Issued by General Julian S. Carr

PREFERS PRIVATE STATION

Expresses Gratitude to Friends for the Letters Containing Offers of Support. Expressions in His Favor.

DURHAM, Dec. 30.—In a statement made public today, General Julian S. Carr says that he is not a candidate for Governor and he makes it plain that he has not authorized any one to say that he would accept the nomination if tendered him. His statement is:

"I am not a candidate for Governor. I have not said, nor have I authorized any one to say for me, that I would accept the nomination. I am deeply grateful to my friends for the letters which have reached me suggesting my nomination and containing offers of support. I genuinely appreciate all these, but my preference is to remain in private station. "Most respectfully, "JULIAN S. CARR"

Strong Demand For Him to Res.

It is known here that strong pressure was brought to bear on General Carr to get in the race. Numerous letters and telegrams were received by him assuring him of support. Especially notable and hearty was the favorable notice of his supposed candidacy by the State press, some of the best known publications urging him to get definitely in the race, the feeling being that the nomination and election of Governor would be not only a compliment to him, but to all of the Confederate veterans of the State the opportunity to bestow honors on whom is fast slipping away.

The first mention of General Carr in connection with the next nomination by the Democrats for Governor was made about a month ago. The idea struck a popular chord and soon became a topic of general newspaper discussion and comment all through the State, the impression being general that the Durham man had never received from the people of the State adequate evidences of appreciation of the great public service which by his generosity he has rendered, and had he decided to get in the race for the nomination, his friends say that there is no doubt that he would have secured it.

Excellent City Water.

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of the analysis of our City's Water, made in the State Laboratory of Hygiene, December 23rd, 1913, and am writing to express my appreciation of same.

The analysis, I am glad to say, shows the water to be absolutely safe for drinking purposes. I want to congratulate you on the purity of the city's water, as shown by analysis submitted for December, November, October and September of this year.

DISAPPEARANCE OF MAN MYSTERIOUS

ATLANTA CRIPPLE LEFT KNEE PROTECTORS, SHOES AND BLOCKS IN BACK LOT.

GREENSBORO, Dec. 28.—Behind the store of Glasco's Shoe Polishing Company, on Lewis street, the small wagon in which a crippled man has been in the city for several days goes from one place to another, the man's leather knee protectors, a pair of shoes and the blocks with which he pushed himself along were all found yesterday morning at 10 o'clock by three young white boys, Walter Calder, Max Stiles and Charles Butler. The owner is missing.

Police headquarters were immediately notified and an investigation followed, though the whereabouts of the man were not found. No trace of him further than 10:15 o'clock last Friday night could be found, he being seen on Elm street at that time.

The man's name is W. A. Kilman, of Atlanta, Ga., he having registered at the Clegg hotel Friday night under that name. It was found that he spent the night at Clegg's hotel Friday and it also was noted that since for a short time Saturday night and registered, stating that he wanted to take a bath and sleep awhile. He registered and paid in advance, but he had not been seen around the hotel since.

It is thought that both of Kilman's legs have been cut off at the knee. It is almost an impossibility for him to have gotten to the place where his articles were found and to have been up and down steps. It is out of reason to believe that he would or could have gone to this place and left his articles even if he had desired to leave the city.

Officers searched every place near where his articles were found, but no trace or tracks of the missing man could be found. It is thought that he possibly had some money and that some one enticed him to that part of the city and relieved him of his money, though this seems unreasonable, as the man would have no money notified the city authorities and let a complete mystery to the local authorities, as they have no clues by which to trace the man.

SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR KILLING PASSENGER AGENT
Ralph Fariss is sentenced to death on his own confession.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 28.—Ralph Fariss alias John Patrick, on his own confession, was sentenced today to be hanged within ninety days, for the murder of Horace E. Montague, a passenger agent, on December 1, when Fariss held up a Southern Pacific train at Elmonte, California.

Fariss waived all rights and made no defense. Throughout the proceedings he clung to the name John Bostick, which belongs to a Bakersfield, California, man who once worked where Fariss was employed. He was arrested under this name, but when Sheriff Hammett told him that his parents were coming from Bakersfield to see him he revealed his identity.

"Don't let them come," he said, "I am Ralph Fariss, and I have made friends for them all my life. I cannot see them now." Fariss said his father is James Fariss, a railroad man who has been in the Southern Pacific employ at Bakersfield for 25 years. He also said he had married a girl named Marion, Iowa.

NEGRO WOMAN RUN OVER BY A CAR AND KILLED.

FAYETTEVILLE, Dec. 27.—Rhoda Carver, an aged negro woman, was run down and killed by G. C. Trice, when she became confused and stepped in front of his motor car at the south end of Eccles bridge on Green street, in this city, this afternoon.

Trice was executed by a coroner's jury after they had been taken over the ground where the accident occurred and had reviewed the evidence which showed that Trice had used his best efforts to avoid running into the woman. The aged woman, who is 71 in the country on the east side of the Cape Fear river and was in town to do shopping, was on the walkway at the south end of the bridge going south when the car overtook her. Trice and John D. Williams entered at the north end. An iron railing separating the walk from the driveway, hid her from Trice's view until she stepped into the street within a few minutes. Her two daughters were on the car one side, taking it over the slight division between the two driveways. But the confused old woman's actions were such as to not keep her head and she did not see on Elm street at that time.

VICTIMS OF PANIC BURIED SUNDAY
THOUSANDS OF MINERS ESCORTED THE FEDERAL PARTIES THROUGH STREETS YESTERDAY.

AYDEN ITEMS.
AYDEN, N. C., Dec. 27.—Miss Sofia Wingate, who was attending school at Greenville, S. C., and Miss Sallie Bell Quinley, at St. Mary's are home spending the holidays.

We feel that honor is due the people who come to our city, and our thrifty neighbors, as many of the old citizens, tell us they never saw a more quiet Christmas free from discord, strife, and heart burnings from the large amount of Virginia and Kentucky whiskey that has been poured into our state late on, would judge that it was calculated to stir up all kinds of "Sherman's definition of war" but our people are a good people.

On the night of the 24th, while some were hanging up their stockings, some of the funeral parties were preparing their gladness into the hearts of others, Rev. J. L. LeGrand was called to speak the words that would make man and wife of Mr. Zeher Cox and Miss Estie Jackson.

Services were held at the Methodist church in Hillsboro.

On the Sabbath the calm was broken by the tolling of bells and the sound of voices intoning burial chants. In half dozen churches services were held and the mourners went about the streets, passing from their homes to the churches back to their homes after brief respites and again to the churches to prepare for the last sad trip to the graveyards.

Delegations of strikers began coming into Calumet early in the day. The special train of nine coaches brought hundreds of funeral parties and hundreds of mourners and laborers from Nagsavage and Ishpeming and every town and mining location in the copper country sent members and friends of the union to swell the ranks of marchers in the afternoon.

Behind the hearse was a section of the procession which brought tears and sobs from on-lookers. Thirty-nine white coffins, their size testifying to the short life of the little forms within were carried by rows of strikers. Four men bore each coffin as their arms grew weary or their feet slipped on the roadway, companions relieved them of their burden.

Fifty singers chanted hymns in the wake of those carrying the children's coffins. Most of these men were English miners, who had learned to sing from the Christmas carols in the streets and years ago brought this old custom to the copper country. Today however, they did not sing songs of a new life born. "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer My God, to Thee" were the songs that they sang with emotion, but the harmonies were full and rich.

As the singers turned into Mine street, which led to the cemetery road the open ranks of marchers wheeled into line. Ishpeming and Nagsavage men came first, followed by a brass band and a contingent of police.

All but half a dozen bodies were placed in common graves dug yesterday by the members of the union. The ground belongs to the federation and it was stated that a monument would be erected there in the normal delicate course of a year hence.

The cemetery is in two sections. One is consecrated to the dead of the Roman Catholic faith, the other to those belonging to Protestant denominations. In the former three trenches had been opened and in the latter five trenches were ready.

On the Protestant side of the burial place two large graves received 23 bodies. The other six were laid in family plots. Only brief addresses were delivered in the cemetery. Eugene McNally, addressed the dead in English, and George Stretch of St. Louis, Frank Aaltonen of Nagsavage, and other federation leaders delivered addresses in Austrian, Finnish and Croatian.

Mr. Ed Patrick says that galvanizing roofing is the very stuff to build shelters and weatherboard with which he has just finished a large shed to hold a car of wagons and buggies which he can find plenty of this roofing in all lengths at J. R. Smith and Bro.

Mr. David Jackson says it is economy to blow your stumps with dynamite and let your trees stand for timber, so says David Smith. Plenty of dynamite at J. R. Smith and Bro.

Pythons Had Had Full Meal. No Less Than Six Ducks Taken From Stomach of Snake Shot by Hunters in Bombay. The Journal of the Bombay National Historical Society published the following account of the voracity of a python, by Mr. P. R. Cadell, I. C. S. on Nov. 10, 1913, during the Dewall holidays, while shooting at Popatpur near Valva, in the Ahmednagar district. It was walking after sunset in company with Mr. J. H. E. Tupper, I. C. S., when one of the hunters called out that there was a big snake. We found that it was a large python, lying torpid. We proceeded to shoot it, and as it was lying half coiled up, its body was naturally a good deal injured in the process. Seeing a feather sticking out of a wound, we took one of our men to extract the bird to which it belonged. He pulled a duck out of the wound, and took out five others, one after the other, six ducks in all. They were all quite or recently fresh, their feathers being complete and none far gone in digestion. They looked as if they had all been swallowed at about the same time. There were gadwall and spottail among the ducks, but we did not note the description of all the ducks. All had been swartling heads foremost. The python, when stretched out and roughly measured, was fully eight feet long. Is not this an unusually heavy meal for a python? It was shot shortly after, while wading in the water after a wounded duck, I saw a snake swimming near me. It made little attempt to avoid me, and I shot it through the head. It was a python about six feet in length."
