STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroy, Ky.—In interesting advice from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theodore's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it. I have been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it. I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me." Theodore's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangement of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently and surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest. Get a package today. Only a quarter.

Messrs. Hart & Hadley,
Greenville, N. C.,
Gentlemen:

In regard to the J. I. Case Tobacco Transplanter will say; that I am well pleased with it. I couldn't ask for one to work any better and it was just as you represented it to be. It worked to perfection and I am satisfied it save me several hundred dollars.

I set my entire crop of seven acres with it and it was dry weather when I set it. I used six barrels of water per first setting. I set some parts of per acre and got a perfect stand the rows all through my patch by hand.

Just to try it and I found that which I set with the Transplanter grew better the season through. I also set some for several of my neighbors and they say that theirs grew better than that set by hand, and they are begging me to set theirs for them the coming season. I also have friends at a distance of fifteen miles from me who want me to set their crop for them.

I can't say too much for your machine and wouldn't be without one for Five Hundred Dollars and as to your services, I couldn't ask for better.

Yours truly,

Give Instructions For U. S. Withdraw O'Shaughnessy From Mexico City

3,000 Marines Drives Federals at Distance of About 20 Miles Out of Vera Cruz. U. S. Flag Now Floats Over Custom House.

(Special to Reflector.)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—2:00 P. M.—Huerta issued instructions to the United States this afternoon to withdraw charge D'Affaires O'Shaughnessy from Mexico City. He also instructed the Mexican charge to leave Washington at once and return to Mexico. It is believed from this that Huerta is preparing to declare war.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—1:30 P. M.—War department received information from Admiral Fletcher shortly after noon today that he had complete control of Vera Cruz after a battle lasting up to early noon. Loss of lives or damage done was not given, but he stated that the Federals had retreated from Vera Cruz to a distance of about fifteen or twenty miles of the city.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—12 M.—President Wilson announces today that the United States would not fire another shot against the Mexicans unless some overt act of Huerta compelled them to. The President also stated that he expected fighting of yesterday and today would bring the Federal leader to his senses.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—10:30 A. M.—Congress today placed the Mexican hostilities in absolute charge of the President. Resolutions declaring war is expected soon to follow.

EL PASO, Texas, April 22.—11:00 A. M.—Word received here today from Northern Mexico, being near here is to the effect that twelve hundred Mexicans had recruited and reported that they were ready to go in service against the United States.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—2:30 P. M. It is rumored among the officials at the Capital that it is the belief that Charles O'Shaughnessy has been assassinated as nothing has been heard from him since Monday.

VERA CRUZ, April 22.—10:30 A. M.—The combined fleets under Admirals Fletcher and Badger started the bombardment of Vera Cruz about eight o'clock this morning and is continuing at this time.

VERA CRUZ, April 22.—1:30 P. M.—Instructions received here from the officials in Washington to turn over the bodies of the dead marines to their families.

"Can We Vote? They Are Dying In Mexico"

Was the Cry of Senator Reed Upon Hearing Of the Killing of American Marines at Vera Cruz

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21.—Determined on the passage of the administration Mexican resolution before morning, the Senate at midnight was in the midst of a grave and impassioned debate. Ultimate passage of the resolution as reported by the foreign Relations Committee was general conceded. The House had recessed until 10 o'clock in the morning to await the Senate's action.

Silence is Solemn.

Meagre reports of the engagement at Vera Cruz had filtered to the capital when the Senate resumed its session at 8 o'clock. The two Americans dead in Vera Cruz, the twenty wounded, and the two hundred Mexicans reported killed in the taking of the city became the text of the talk, mentioned in hushed voices, and greeted with a solemn silence throughout the Senate Chamber, packed to suffocation.

Cabinet in Chamber.

A full quorum of the House of Representatives crowded the rear of the Senate hall. Secretary of State Bryan himself often referred to in debate, Secretary of War Garrison, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Postmaster General Burleson, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Secretary to the President Tumulty sat about.

They listened eagerly and held whispered conferences as the discussion progressed. The diplomatic gallery was filled with members of the foreign corps, with Ambassador Spring-Rice of Great Britain at their head.

The Republican side of the Senate, led by Senator Root, demanded that the "justification" proposed in the resolution for a movement in force against Mexico be founded not on the Tampico incident but on the long series of outrages against American citizens and their property, including the outrages where constitutionalists control.

Senator Reed and James vigorously defended the committee resolution declaring the insult to the flag at Tampico justified all that the resolution provided for.

Atmosphere is Tense

As the night wore on, and Senator after Senator demanded an opportunity to be heard, the atmosphere in the Chamber grew more and more tense. Senator Fall made a lengthy plea for a campaign that would cover the length and breadth of Mexico.

At a recent meeting of the Sans Souci Book Club, it was voted, in case the proposed plan for Pitt County Hospital materialized, to furnish a room for the use of charity patients.

Gamblers Heavily Fined
By Judge Daniels Today

Criminal Court Moves On at Rapid Pace. Pollard Case is First on Docket Tomorrow Morning

The first case called at this morning's session of criminal court was a recall of the trial of the four gamblers that on Monday were arraigned and fined $25.00 each. Judge Daniels stated at the re-opening that the case was recalled on account of a communication he received yesterday stating that one of the men had been conducting a gambling house for some time. Several new witnesses were introduced this morning, several as to the character of the defendant and three for the state. It resulted in a fine of $100.00 for two of the men while the other members of the quartet of lawbreakers paid $50.00 and $100.00 each. In addition to this the court threatened a road sentence on the one accused of conducting the gambling joint.

Tuesday Afternoon Session.

Clifton Newton arraigned on the charge of larceny, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to four years hard labor in the state penitentiary.

John Grimes, Ben Bell and John Storton for gambling. Caplan continued as to Grimes and Bell's bond renewed. Storton pleaded guilty and judgment was suspended upon payment of cost.

The judgment rendered yesterday in the case of Carl Byrd for larceny was stricken out and another given for the defendant to be imprisoned in the county jail for a term of twelve months with leave to hire to Mr. J. R. Barnhill upon payment of cost. Richard Johnson paid a fine of $25.00 on the charge of assault with deadly weapon.

Twenty-Six Men, Women and Children Are Killed In Battle With Coal Miners

DENVER, Col., April 21.—A known death list of 26 men, women and children and a maximum possibly of fifty dead, as a result of the battle at Ludlow, Monday, between State troops and striking local miners routed an official Colorado tonight to a high tension.

Squads of armed men from Fremont county and from Denver going to reinforce the six hundred or more strikers now at Ludlow prosaged recent of armed violence at any moment.

Trinidad Horror Stricken.

TRINIDAD, Colo., April 21.—With seven identified dead in Trinidad morgue and 18 missing and reported dead, the toll of yesterday's battle between state troops and strikers at and near Ludlow probably will reach 25. Among those reported missing are four women and a child.

Have to have been succumbed by the fire that destroyed the strikers tents. The list of known injured consists of three soldiers brought to Trinidad to day. Trinidad tonight was horrified by reports of number of women, children and non-combatants who lost their lives in the fight and in the fire that followed.

They were trapped without a chance of escape," said John McLennon, president of district fifteen, United Mine Workers of America.

Major Hamrock tonight denied the report that the Ludlow tents were set on fire by the militia. He also reiterated that the fighting was precipitated by a band of Greek strikers under Louis Tikas.

The soldiers were driven out of their camp by bullets, according to the officer. Later, he said, the strikers attacked Lieut. Linderfelt's detachment.

Call Extra Session.

Administration officials waited the authority asked of Governor Ammons now in Washington, to call a special session of the Legislature to provide funds for the State militia and measures for dealing with the situation.

A spinner got married at the age of 12 in Boston the other day, which proves that the watchful waiting policy sometimes gets results.

A visitor in Greenville last night said that after visiting other cities throughout Eastern Carolina they all resemble dead ones beside this busy town of ours.
A burnt child dreads the fire, but a woman wonders if the second fire will be as hot as the first.
Some weeks ago the ladies of the Kings Daughters presented to the merchants of Greenville a petition asking them to close their places of business at seven o'clock in the evenings. It was signed by a majority and obeyed, though it has been only about three weeks since they made their agreement, there are some that have fallen back into the old channel of closing from 7:30 to 8:30. It is not justice to the clerks in your employ, and then too, you are losing instead of gaining the good will and patronage of the public.

Why is it that men of means are so often mean?
You might also swat the ground had you run across him.
We suppose an aeroplane would be called an uncommon carrier.
A man that will knock his home town usually has as much invested there as a life insurance policy.
A grouch is a fellow in whom the milk of human kindness has soured.
An Atlanta paper announces that Mexican peace is at hand. Important if true.
Score twice for the newspapers. Affinity Earle says they've wrecked his career.
Huerta has discovered it is best not to ride a too high horse.
Huerta is opening his eyes to the fact that Uncle Sam is not bluffing.
If you want any movement to succeed start it in this grand old county of Pitt.
Isn't it good? The Confederate Monument fund is raised, and it was done in three days.
What's the matter with those street scrapers? It's a good time, as well as being needed so good, to use them.
Air ships ascend at a different rate of speed but they all hit the ground with the same rate, and usually the same result.
Where are the civic leagues. Better look out and not let the grass and weeds get you again. A stitch in time saves nine.
Great men are they who see that the spiritual is stronger than any material force; that thoughts rule the world;—Emerson.
Now that the Confederate Monument and city delivery of mails are certain let us keep on the march and start the erection of the hospital.
You can count on Pitt county doing things right in time, and this year she is going to make amends for her sins by erecting a Confederate Monument.
The Federals knew which side their bread was buttered when the report reached them that forty-six American vessels were steaming towards the Mexican waters.
No doubt it may be hard for Huerta to understand something from this side of the pond, but we notice it required such a short while for him to translate Uncle Sam's demands into the stars and stripes.
Reports are to the effect that another carnival is headed this way. Now, dear, kind Messrs. Board of Aldermen please stop it before it reaches the city limits. We have been sufficiently amused with all such attractions of late.
Today is the date set for the election of Leo Frank, but according to press reports he will not go to the chair today. If the court refuses to admit the death sentence and Frank has to pay the penalty upon the evidence given by the negro janitor to our mind it is a case of injustice, and one that the courts of Georgia should be ashamed of.

Police Court Last Monday Morning

There was a general mixture of cases before Mayor J. B. James last Monday morning in the police court. Some were fined while others were bound over to April term of criminal court, now in session.

First called was that of Stanly Hopkins, colored, taken in by Officer Morgan on the charge of drunk and disorderly for which he paid $4.95. Policeman Patrick then presented one Turner Stagg to the discretion of the court riotous and disorderly conduct. To this charge the Mayor imposed a fine of $5.00 and cost, make a total of $8.55.

The next case was cutting scrape in which Eugene Stinson assaulted one Fitzhugh Lee Davis with knife. It being beyond the jurisdiction of Mayor James it was sent to this term of criminal court.

J. S. Burrows, a negro, was discovered by Officer Patrick to have more booze on his person than the officer thought a man should have at one time for his personal use, but it being proved that he was a pretty good sort of a negro and the court being convinced that the liquor was not for sale by the accused the case was dismissed and Burrows left the room with a smile on his face and the spirits of funnily under his arm.

Hardy Lee Gray, colored, let his temper get the best of him toward one Buddie Hemy over the small amount of ten cents which he claimed Hemy was due him, consequently he took a slash at him with a knife inflicting a wound on his right arm about an inch deep by two inches long. Gray was also sent on this term of court under bond of $50.00.

THIEF AGAIN VISITS WESTERN PART OF CITY.
Sunday night during the absence of the family, a thief entered the home of Mr. T. M. Meade on Fourth street by way of a window, and when members of the family returned, having been away only about half an hour, they discovered that a desk drawer had been rifled.

This is the sixth case of burglary reported from that section of the city since Christmas, and in each instance the building is but 23 feet long by 12 feet 8 inches wide, and has a porch, nave, carved oak chancel screen and Norman font, an alabaster altar piece and a quaint high pinnacled tower, the oldest feature in the church, being pre-Norman, and cut out of a single stone. It is amply large for the population, which is unimpeachable figures. All these appalling percentages as the "Daily Appeal" defective, the "morally irresponsible," the "foible-minded"—what do they mean?

One must first have some definition of physical defect, moral feignings, weakness of intellect, asserts the London Saturday Review. Almost every great man one can think of would be condemned by some congress or other. Johnson, Byron, Pope, Napoleon, Caesar, Luxembourg, Clive, Pitt, Peter the Great—the list could be prolonged indefinitely—were all "defective" in some way. Few men or women go through life without a sharp consciousness of bodily imperfection. They are either happy or very unhappy, and the latter are usually the stupid who are perfectly satisfied with the quality of their wits, and the human being who has never felt himself a sorry creature must assuredly be one of the formulas. "The statistics of the optimist just as efficiently as they subserve the purpose of a settled gloom. Every one is familiar with the formula: "The statistics might seem at first sight to provide food for reflections of a disquieting character, but when it is remembered that on practitioners of this sort of puny and vicious imbeciles."

Remembered Instructions.
She was a little girl and very poor. It was the first time she had driven on a via alone, and she had been carefully instructed how to drive and what to do in case of an emergency. "If they ask you to dine with them," papa had said, "you must say, 'No, thank you, I did my husband and he keeps her as long as we could, and she is here yet.' Even this is scarcely equal to Turkish hospitality as reported by the Daily Telegraph: "When I asked my friend how long she expected me to stay, she was surprised at my question. 'You need never go away. There are guests here who came as I did for ten days, but they have never gone away at all.'"

OLD-TIME SCHOOL HOUSE

There are some today who can look back with warm emotion to the life of the quiet red school houses which once dotted the country. A teacher of one-room halls of learning still stand here and there, just off the dusty roadways or behind miniature Alps in snow according to the season. Many prominent men and women profited by the training of these picturesque educational institutions. Here we were taught the three Rs and the rudiments of other branches. The masters formed the young minds entrusted to their care with the aid of the birch rod, the dunce cap and other primitive equipment.

The science of pedagogy of the period was largely based on the principle that "to spare the rod was to spoil the child." It was the day of singing geography and the spelling book. Handwritten and literary style were formed upon the old-fashioned school slate. Long before the days of hygienic equipment the water supply consisted of a pail from which all helped themselves with the same dipper.

The modern school is a vast advance over the methods that were employed in the little red school. And yet the "wider use of the school plant," which would make it the center of community activity for civic welfare, is only the development after all of the educational system which had its first expression in that same small, one-room, poorly equipped, unlovely, greatly loved little red school house.—Christian Herald.

CHURCH IN ENGLISH WORDS
Of Great Antiquity, Sacred Edifice in North Devon Proves Big Attraction to Visitors.
Culbone church, which among many others claims to be the smallest church in England, is situated on the coast of North Devon, not far from the picturesque village of Pollock, and the church is so guarded by hills and woods that the sun's rays reach it only four months of the year. The building is but 23 feet long by 12 feet 8 inches wide, and has a porch, nave, carved oak chancel screen and Norman font, an alabaster altar piece and a quaint high pinnacled tower, the oldest feature in the church, being pre-Norman, and cut out of a single stone. It is amply large for the population, which is unimpeachable figures. All these appalling percentages as the "Daily Appeal" defective, the "morally irresponsible," the "foible-minded"—what do they mean?

One must first have some definition of physical defect, moral feignings, weakness of intellect, asserts the London Saturday Review. Almost every great man one can think of would be condemned by some congress or other. Johnson, Byron, Pope, Napoleon, Caesar, Luxembourg, Clive, Pitt, Peter the Great—the list could be prolonged indefinitely—were all "defective" in some way. Few men or women go through life without a sharp consciousness of bodily imperfection. They are either happy or very unhappy, and the latter are usually the stupid who are perfectly satisfied with the quality of their wits, and the human being who has never felt himself a sorry creature must assuredly be one of the formulas. "The statistics of the optimist just as efficiently as they subserve the purpose of a settled gloom. Every one is familiar with the formula: "The statistics might seem at first sight to provide food for reflections of a disquieting character, but when it is remembered that on practitioners of this sort of puny and vicious imbeciles."

Smithsonian Institution.
The Smithsonian Institution at Washington is the gift of the people of the United States of James Smithson of England, who, in dying in 1829, left under certain conditions a bequest of $541,779 for the establishment of an institution "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men." The original amount has since been increased by other bequests and means to about $900,000. The government is invested by act of congress in a board of regents, composed of the president and chief justice of the United States, three senators appointed by the vice president, three representatives appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives, and six citizens chosen by congress. The presiding officer, ex officio, is the president of the United States.

Generous Hospitality.
Calling at a Christian home in Japan recently, the lady of the house said: "Helen is now eighteen. She was left an orphan at three years of age. I did my husband and he kept her as long as we could, and she is here yet." Even this is scarcely equal to Turkish hospitality as reported by the Daily Telegraph: "When I asked my friend how long she expected me to stay, she was surprised at my question. 'You need never go away. There are guests here who came as I did for ten days, but they have never gone away at all.'"

Remembered Instructions.
She was a little girl and very poor. It was the first time she had driven on a via alone, and she had been carefully instructed how to drive and what to do in case of an emergency. "If they ask you to dine with them," papa had said, "you must say, 'No, thank you, I did my husband and he keeps her as long as we could, and she is here yet.' Even this is scarcely equal to Turkish hospitality as reported by the Daily Telegraph: "When I asked my friend how long she expected me to stay, she was surprised at my question. Police Court Last Monday Morning

There was a general mixture of cases before Mayor J. B. James last Monday morning in the police court. Some were fined while others were bound over to April term of criminal court, now in session.

First called was that of Stanly Hopkins, colored, taken in by Officer Morgan on the charge of drunk and disorderly for which he paid $4.95. Policeman Patrick then presented one Turner Stagg to the discretion of the court riotous and disorderly conduct. To this charge the Mayor imposed a fine of $5.00 and cost, make a total of $8.55.

The next case was cutting scrape in which Eugene Stinson assaulted one Fitzhugh Lee Davis with knife. It being beyond the jurisdiction of Mayor James it was sent to this term of criminal court.

J. S. Burrows, a negro, was discovered by Officer Patrick to have more booze on his person than the officer thought a man should have at one time for his personal use, but it being proved that he was a pretty good sort of a negro and the court being convinced that the liquor was not for sale by the accused the case was dismissed and Burrows left the room with a smile on his face and the spirits of funnily under his arm.

Hardy Lee Gray, colored, let his temper get the best of him toward one Buddie Hemy over the small amount of ten cents which he claimed Hemy was due him, consequently he took a slash at him with a knife inflicting a wound on his right arm about an inch deep by two inches long. Gray was also sent on this term of court under bond of $50.00.

THIEF AGAIN VISITS WESTERN PART OF CITY.
Sunday night during the absence of the family, a thief entered the home of Mr. T. M. Meade on Fourth street by way of a window, and when members of the family returned, having been away only about half an hour, they discovered that a desk drawer had been rifled.

This is the sixth case of burglary reported from that section of the city since Christmas, and in each instance the building is but 23 feet long by 12 feet 8 inches wide, and has a porch, nave, carved oak chancel screen and Norman font, an alabaster altar piece and a quaint high pinnacled tower, the oldest feature in the church, being pre-Norman, and cut out of a single stone.
