FLEMING-CARR MARRIAGE HERE LAST TUESDAY

Mr. Hunter Fleming and Miss Lillian Carr.

WEDDING AT 4:30

Decorations Were Simplicity—Rev. J. M. Daniel, Bride's Pastor, Was Officiating Minister—Large Shower of Wedding Gifts—For Southern Trip.

This afternoon at four-thirty o'clock in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, a beautiful wedding was solemnized when Miss Lillian Carr became the wife of Mr. Hunter Fleming, of Kingston. The keynote in the decorations of the church was simplicity. The rostrum and altar were covered with white and the chancel rail was twined with bamboo. A number of potted plants were used. Mrs. S. T. White presided at the organ and played soft music as the guests assembled. Just before the bride party entered, Miss Essie Wilchard sang, "I Promise Thee," and Mr. Charles James sang, "All For You." The bride party consisted of Mendelsohn's Wedding March and Tanhauser's March was played as a recessional. The ribbon bearers were Misses Sarah Anderson, of Wilson, and Mary Sheppard Keel and Masters William Anderson, of Wilson, and Charles Carr, all cousins of the bride. The little girls wore white dresses and pink ribbons and the little boys wore black suits. The groomsmen wore dress suits and their buttonholes were white roses. Henry Tull, of Kingston, and James Hines entered first and came down opposite aisles. They were followed by Misses Estelle Greene and Anna Pierce, of Warsaw, who wore pink taffetas with silver lace trimmings and black picture hats and carried white roses. Next came Tom Harvey, of Kingston, and Norman Warren, and they were followed by Misses Jamie Bryan and Mary Whitaker, who wore yellow taffetas with silver lace trimmings and black picture hats and carried pink roses. Next came O. G. Rucker and Oscar Greene, of Kingston, and were followed by Misses Betty Gray Sutton, of La Grange, and Carrie Lee Healey, of Kingston, an aunt of the groom, who wore white taffetas with silver lace trimmings and black picture hats and carried yellow roses. Next came the flower maids, Misses Nellie White and Mary Fleming, of Kingston, a sister of the groom, wearing white net dresses with pink ribbons and pink shepherdess hats and carrying baskets of pink roses. Mrs. Louis W. Gaylord, of Plymouth, as dame of honor, then entered. She wore her wedding gown of Duchess satin and carried yellow roses. Then came the maids of honor, Misses Mildred Carr, a sister of the bride, and Mattie Fleming, of Kingston, a sister of the groom, who wore blue marquisettes over taffeta and black picture hats.

GERMANY OFFERS TO PAY FOR LIVES LOST ON SHIP

Willing To Pay For 115 Lusitania Victims.

Will Give $5,000 For One Rich American—President Not Willing To Accept Any Amount Unless Absolute Disavowal Is Made.

WASHINGTON, NOV. 23.—Through Count von Bernstorff, Germany has notified the United States of its willingness to pay indemnity for the 115 Americans who lost their lives when the Lusitania was sunk by a German submarine.

Although no amount has as yet been proposed it is stated that the German government stands ready to pay $5,000 for each American who died on the great liner, or a total of $575,000. It is doubted if this offer will be acceptable to the United States.

Germany has not yet shown any inclination to disavow the act of the submarine commander who destroyed the Lusitania. It has suggested, however, that the question of disavowal be submitted to arbitration. This proposal President Wilson undoubtedly will reject.

The offer to make financial reparation for the Americans killed on the Lusitania, according to the Daily News correspondent's information, was made to Secretary of State Lansing by Ambassador Bernstorff when the German diplomat called at the state department last week.

At the same time he is said to have informed Mr. Lansing that his government did not think it should be pressed to apologize for sinking a British ship transporting munitions of war along with passengers.

General Munro has been sent to the Dardanelles to take the place of General Ian Hamilton by the British. The virtual failure of the Dardanelles operations under General Hamilton made this change necessary.

WOMAN SUICIDES

Mrs. John Whitfield Jumped In Well.

BODY FOUND LATER

Lived Near Robertsonville—No Cause Has Been Assigned—Leaves Family.

News was received here this morning of the suicide yesterday of Mrs. John Whitfield near Robertsonville by jumping into a well. The body was found two hours later.

Sunday night Mrs. Whitfield attended church and seemed to be in the best of spirits. Yesterday morning she cooked breakfast for the family and she then completed her domestic work and disappeared.

Search for her for two hours resulted in the finding of her body, head down, in a well at a tenant house on the place. It is presumed that she jumped head foremost into the well as there was no indication of foul play of any kind.

Mrs. Whitfield was thirty-five years old and a daughter of Mrs. J. B. Speight of near Winterville. She leaves a husband and four small children.

EUGENE CANNON IS BACK HOME

Was Seen to Get Off Train Here Last Night By Ayden Officers—Is Today At The Home of His Wife's Father According to a Message Received From Ayden—Letter Published.

Mr. Eugene Cannon, around whom mystery has centered, is back home. Such became known here today when several Ayden people testified to having seen him alight from the train here last night. The notice of his coming was published yesterday in this paper in a letter from Mr. Cannon, mailed in Richmond.

Today a telephone communication from Ayden stated that Cannon had returned and that he was now at the home of his wife's father about five miles from Greenville where Mrs. Cannon had moved after his mysterious disappearance.

The cause of Cannon's recent actions were fully explained in his letter yesterday.

Mrs. Edward Purdy, of Dunn, who has been visiting Miss Lillian Nobles left today for Kingston.

RED CROSS SEALS

Civil War Brought Forth The Idea.

RAISED $1,900,000

That Much In The Last Six Years In United States—Expect More This Year.

Nearly $1,900,000 has been raised by Red Cross Christmas Seals in the last six years, and yet many people who will buy these holiday stickers at this seventh annual sale do not know how the charity stamp idea originated.

It was war that brought forth the charity stamp—the Civil War of '61 to '65. Some of your grandmothers first played "post-office" with stickers similar to Red Cross Seals "way back in 1862 when they conceived the idea of selling stamps at fairs for the benefit of the relief funds for the soldiers' hospitals in Brooklyn, Boston and elsewhere. Nearly $1,000,000 was raised in this way before 1865. After the war this method of raising money was discontinued in this country for a generation, although it found vogue in Portugal, Switzerland, Austria, France, Spain, Denmark, Norway, Russia, Sweden and other European countries. There are now several thousands of different types of charity stamps used in all parts of the world, as many as forty being used in Austria for children's hospitals alone.

ROADS ARE IN FINE CONDITION

Two Local Men Report That Where Roads Were Impossible a Year Ago They Are Now In Much Better Shape—They Held Up Well During Recent Rain And Storm—Being Dragged.

Mr. H. M. Phillips and Mr. R. L. Moore, who have recently traveled over the roads in the Chisolm section of the county, report that there is no comparing the present condition of the roads with what it was last year this time.

The two gentlemen say that a year ago the roads were almost impassable, but now that they have a resemblance to a city street and are constantly being put into better shape.

Other reports received upon the condition of the roads just after the recent heavy rains and storm state that the roads have held up unusually well and that in very few instances have holes been discovered which were caused by the storm.

The idea of dragging the roads after each rain has been met with much favor by the road force, and in doing this, it is said that they are keeping the roads in the best condition possible.

NEWSPAPER MEN MAKE VERY GOOD HUSBANDS

(By the Eastern Press)

KINSTON, NOV. 23.—According to Mrs. C. W. McDevitt, of Kinston, newspaper men make the best husbands. Mrs. McDevitt says it is no trouble to secure the services of her husband to help wash dishes or do other domestic work. She advises all minds who are aspirants to the matrimonial honors to single out some newspaper man who is pulling down a fat salary and hang on for dear life until she induces him to take up her proposition.

Mrs. McDevitt is the wife of the city editor of the Kinston Free Press, who is also well known in North Carolina journalism, and who is the official North Carolina photographer and correspondent for the metropolitan papers.

MANY RAILROAD MEN ENTER THE MARINE CORPS

WASHINGTON, NOV. 23.—Eight hundred and thirteen railroaders, including brakemen, conductors, engineers, firemen and switchmen, have enlisted in the United States Marine Corps during the fiscal years of 1913, 1914 and 1915, according to the triennial statement of recruiting just made public.

BUSINESS MEN ARE HELPING TO PUT GREENVILLE IN THE LEAD

MUNFORD'S WAREHOUSE COMPANY

C. T. Munford, the guiding spirit of the business is claimed to guarantee him the highest possible price for his tobacco, and in this, the company has been successful as is proven by the number of tobacco growers that have profited this year by selling with this warehouse.

This company has been a heavy advertiser this year, and in the opinion of the sales manager, a warehouse can not hope to be successful unless it does advertise. Their advertisement has been running steadily in this paper since the opening of the market, and the company has expressed itself pleased with the service rendered.

BRITAIN ABLE TO FIGHT UNTIL END OF THIS WAR

So Declares The Earl Of Derby In Speech.

PEOPLE ARE ANXIOUS

Would Not Have Country Relax At This Time But Are As Enthusiastic As They Were Last August—Will Be Great Achievement.

LONDON, NOV. 23.—"The country is sound and it is determined to see this war through to the end," said the Earl of Derby in talking to the American correspondents today regarding the British recruiting campaign, of which he is in charge. "The people are as determined to carry the war through as they were in August of last year and we will win it."

That much, Lord Derby said, he was willing to affirm as the result of his canvass of the country. More definite information he was obliged to withhold until the formal announcement of the results of the canvass on December 11. He declined to answer questions whether responses had exceeded his expectations or to indicate whether the number of recruits meets requirements.

Lord Derby said it would be a great achievement if the nation carried the war to a successful end without compulsion. He attributed the previous failure of many to come forward largely to the fact that the necessity had not been realized.

BRIDAL PARTY ON MONDAY EVENING HERE

On Monday evening, the bridal party met at the home of the bride before going to the church for rehearsal, and were given a serenade by a local band. After the rehearsal, Mrs. Louis Gaylard entertained the bridal party at the home of her mother, Mrs. R. W. King. Tom Galbreath and Miss Annie King served punch in the hall. Cutting the bride's cake, caused much merriment. Miss Anna Pierce cut the ring. Tom Galbreath, the thimble and Miss Estelle Greene, the dime. Ice cream and cake were served and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Will Greece slide?

Old Turkey becomes a martyr.

Rainy, snowy and muddy weather will bring the road question to every home.

As a journal for the family, we would hate to say what we think of the Commoner.

Add wonderful and new discoveries! The subscriber who pays his subscription promptly.

There will be no issue of The Reflector Thursday the twenty-fifth, Thanksgiving!

From the way Kitchen refers to the Seven Seas Magazine one would think that journal was his guardian.

It now seems as if K. of K. will have little effect upon the attitude which Greece will assume in the future.

War may be what Sherman said it was, but we observe that several London bachelors prefer war to matrimony.

The kiss from the maiden's lips Flavored with onions Just always reminds one of the tips Of toes with bunions. Stung.

If the cold snap is so called because it is such a snap for the coal man, will the Columbia State inform an anxious world of whom the warm spell was named?

Now really there would be no excuse for our mentioning it if the city activities would see that the lot north of the post office receives what it is due—a thorough cleaning.

The Rocky Mount Telegram seems to appreciate what we have had to say relative to Louisburg dumping raw sewerage into Tar river. We know how it is, and want to see that nuisance stopped, too.

Really, we must side with a hyphenate journal for once when it says that Mr. Lansing should instruct all Americans that the government will not be responsible for accidents received on billigrent ships.

New Bern Sun: "New Bern, among other things, is going to celebrate Thanksgiving Day with a horse race. We shall expect to see Braxton, Goerch, Biggs and the others among those present." Are ye going to have any tur-r-key?

If it isn't the State Board of Health that should see that Louisburg is compelled to cease the dumpage of sewerage into Tar river, who is it? And also, what is the purpose of the State Board of Health if it isn't safeguard the health of the State

Unless Carolina is able to wallop the Virginians these boys should be ashamed to return to this State, but shouldn't go somewhere else where it doesn't take class and speed to be the leader.

The Greensboro News now rises to defend Mr. Kitchen. We believe that same paper was hollering for the United States' rights to be respected sometime ago. Of course, the News would protect 'em with a twelve inch battery which the gunners are afraid to fire for fear it will demolish the foundations.

MR. BRYAN'S NEW CHERUBIM

Mr. Bryan, writing in his Commoner, introduces to his readers what he calls "Two New Cherubim," and says that these are John R. McLean, owner of the Washington Post and William Randolph Hearst, proprietor of the Hearst papers. Mr. Bryan says these two men have rushed to the saving of Democracy and are denouncing him in no uncertain terms. He also says that he is willing to compare his record as a Democrat with that of either of them and that he will do the same thing as the personal friend of Wilson.

We have the profoundest respect for Mr. Bryan as a great man, but politically, we are bound to differ from him. We think that he committed a rash act when he resigned from the Cabinet at a time when the President needed strong men. We have still less respect for the way he is acting towards the administration.

Mr. Bryan is the most remarkable man today so far as a man without a party is concerned. Mr. Bryan advocates twenty years ago are just being put into practice today. If they had been taken hold of when his advocacy was made, the country would have been ruined.

What Mr. Bryan sees fit to advocate today, we haven't the slightest doubt but that it will be put into practice twenty or fifty years hence.

Mr. Bryan lives ahead of his time. He should sleep for twenty years and then awake, to find that what he advocates at that time will be correct and proper.

Mr. Bryan's Cherubim will have little influence over the party, but they are helping to save the country from grasping what Mr. Bryan advocates today. Twenty-five years from now we expect to see a world united and Mr. Bryan's present policy coming into its own.

KITCHIN'S STOPPED UP LOOP HOLE

Careful study of the statement which Congressman Claude Kitchen has sent out reveals one significant fact. That is, Mr. Kitchen is right and he knows he is right because he says so.

Mr. Kitchen introduces extracts quoted from various naval officers a year or two ago saying that the defense of the United States is adequate. But, the point has been advanced that war has since that time visited three fourths of the world and made what was then thought to be adequate defense absolutely worthless.

Mr. Kitchen cites the fact that England, with a navy twice as large as Germany's, has been unable to land troops on German soil owing to the fact that Germany has so well protected her shores with her mines. Does Mr. Kitchen realize that the coast line of Germany which has to be defended is not to be considered alongside the stretch of coast that the United States will have to protect? Can't Mr. Kitchen observe that Germany's colonies have been taken away from her because of the hampered German fleet which could not get into the open sea in the face of the Titanic English fleet?

Mr. Kitchen blind to those facts?

Would Mr. Kitchen have the United States practically blockaded while we sit tight and pray for one of our mines to send an invader's ship skyward? We want a navy that can protect the coast of the United States and prevent any foreign power from blockading this country. One that can protect our island possessions from any nation that might take a fancy to them. Not a navy that we must hide away in some river and fill the mouth of it with mines to keep the enemy ships away from it. Mr. Kitchen was careful not to allude to that in his statement, we notice.

THE COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE

Have you thought over the suggestion in yesterday's paper asking the women's clubs and the different fraternal orders of the city to get together and plan a Community Christmas Tree? If so, what do you think of it? We are sure that the suggestion will meet with approval by every public spirited citizen of Greenville, and we are also sure that it will be simply itself to put into practice that suggestion.

This Community Christmas Tree is something that we will do over the unfortunate brothers. It is something that is due the little children whose parents are not able to provide any Santa Claus for them. It is something which will have a tendency to weld the community closer together with ties that can not be broken.

Too often it is the case that rich and poor alike are made to suffer because they do not work in common. It is towards a belonging closer together that we must all strive, and when we take such steps as outlined in the Community Christmas Tree we are on the right road towards accomplishing the desired end.

BUY THE RED CROSS SEALS

The local women's clubs will again this year sell Red Cross Seals to raise money with to help fight tuberculosis. This is a worthy cause and one that every person should rally to the support of.

Every person, no matter how poor, can contribute a little something to the purchase of these seals, and he will have the satisfaction of knowing that he is doing that much towards helping to ward off the most dreaded of all diseases.

The local ladies are to be commended that they have taken this progressive step towards helping their unfortunate brothers and sisters who are suffering the ravages of tuberculosis.

Just a few cents—you will never miss it—but the large number of people that contribute, each of them a few cents, bring the total up high and where it is effective in a large measure.

The person who complains of his own and general conditions is usually one who does not try to better his own lot.

Claude Kitchen has now gotten in line with Bryan and is proceeding to issue statements in an attempt to vindicate himself. In our opinion, it will take more than a mere statement from him to set himself right with his people "back home" and his colleagues in Congress.

That the mother of the Chicago child had rather have it die than to grow up defective but morally and physically has given rise to another squall from the late much talked of Miss Jane Adams. It appears that Miss Adams is some talker, and while she is perfectly at liberty to blow her head off with gab, we can't help from being glad that she, by not marrying, has saved one male from a gruesome fate.

A State is getting in a pretty pickle when it can not enforce its own laws. Secretary Rankin of the State Board of Health intimated such at Rocky Mount the other night when he said that the State had been powerless to prevent Louisburg from dumping sewerage into Tar river.

THE TROMBONE

The trombone is a loose-jointed musical instrument with sliding gear transmission which is played with both lungs. It is capable of some very brilliant effects when operated by an enthusiastic performer who is not handicapped by familiarity with the notes.

The best trombones are those which are made with alveo-valve mechanism and run in oil at the rate of eighteen jerks to the measure. They are played by winding the lip firmly around the mouthpiece, taking a deep breath and blowing fiercely in the direction of a helpless audience. This results in filling the air with large, raucous chunks of melody which occasionally break up into small splinters before finding the right key. It is quite a trick to run a pure and limpid scale on a slide trombone, as the notes have to be located with the right hand and the left ear, which explains why it is that so many trombone players cock the head on one side like a man with a stiff neck.

The trombone is used mainly to see if the band is in tune with anything outside of the bass drum. It is very aggravating to people of a sensitive ear to listen to a band in which all of the instruments are out of tune with the slide trombone to a depth of 300 lineal feet. There is no way to prevent this, except by strangling the trombone player or adjourning and dying.

The jump-spark trombone has a little brother which is played with one hand and alarming symptoms of impending apoplexy. When four or five of these trombones are pointed at the audience and blown into with violent abandon by men with non-collapsible lungs, people in the front row decide to take their grand opera at home, in front of the doct's graphophone.

When the trombone is brand new it has a wide range and can sing bass as well as tenor. Whenever a new trombone comes into the neighborhood it is broken to drive single or double, usually being played at night by earnest young men who are not in need of sleep. The most popular trombone solo is "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," with curly birch variations, which is soon learned by heart by everybody in the neighborhood who has not taken an anaesthetic.

FLEMING-CARR MARRIAGE HERE THIS AFTERNOON

hats and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids formed a semi-circle on the rostrum, the dame of honor and flower maids stood behind the chancel rail and the maids of honor stood on either side of the bride and groom, making a pleasing rainbow effect. The bride entered with her father. She looked lovely in a suit of mid-night blue broad cloth with brown beaver trimmings and wore brown shoes, hat and gloves. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The groom entered from the study with his brother, George Fleming, of Kinston, as best man, and met the bride at the altar. Rev. J. M. Daniel, the bride's pastor, spoke the words that joined the happy couple, the impressive ring ceremony being used. Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left on the A. C. L. train for an extended southern trip. The bride is the older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Carr. She is charmingly attractive and accomplished and numbers friends by the score. The groom is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fleming, of Kinston. He is a young man of sterling character and has numbers of friends both here and in Kinston. He is in the tobacco business with his father. The high esteem in which the young couple is held, is attested by the large number of handsome wedding presents which they received.

Out of town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Darden, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Anderson, A. T. Harper, Misses Annie Starr and Sue Corbett, of Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Harper and Mrs. Dora Carr, of Castoria; Mrs. Allen Knott, Mrs. Hugh Parham, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Fleming, Misses Margaret Goodson, Clara Hines, Anne Hyman Hawey, Elizabeth Canady, Elizabeth Quinerly, Josephine Copeland, Leah Hines and Hilda Randolph, Messrs. William Fleming, C. M. Cox avenue and runs with said Cox's line east 66 poles to a pine, then South 8 east 80 poles to Arch Cox's line, then with said Cox's line South 59 West 59 poles to the road, then up the road to the beginning, containing 32 acres more or less.

And said Commissioner will also expose to public sale at the same time and place and on the same terms, the following described tracts or parcels of land, to-wit:

"Lying and being in Swift Township, Pitt County, North Carolina adjoining the lands of D. H. Smith on the North by the lands of James Brooks on the West, the lands of Eliza E. Nelson on the South and the lands of John Smith on the East containing 77 acres more or less.

Also one other tract of land in Swift Creek Township, Pitt County, adjoining the lands of Dr. Wooten on the east the above described land on the north and west, C. L. Stokes on the south and east containing 75 acres more or less.

Also one other tract of land situated in Swift Creek Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, adjoining the lands of the late Allen Kittress heirs, the heirs of N. R. Corey, the Stokes lands and others containing 225 acres more or less and being a portion of the land left by the Last Will and Testament of J. F. Hellen to the Hellen heirs."

The above lands are located in a very desirable location in Pitt County and are adjoining tracts and said tracts of land will be sold in small sub-divisions and will also be sold as a whole and said Commissioner will accept whichever sale aggregates the highest bid.

On these lands are located three dwellings painted white, 7 rooms, 2 tobacco barns, one pack house, two store, one barn with two sheds, 3 new stables and 4 cows sheds, all in good repair. The soil is a light loam with clay sub-soil, very fine tobacco lands and also for corn, cotton and other crops.

The terms of sale are made easy on the purpose of giving every one an opportunity to meet the demand for the land. It is that the year has been such a fine one for the people to make financial gains, and with this as a starter, they say it is sure that the stockings will be packed full this Christmas.

The merchants here are laying in an unusually heavy supply of Christmas goods in order to meet the demand for the fact that the past year has been such a fine one for the people to make financial gains, and with this as a starter, they say it is sure that the stockings will be packed full this Christmas.

This the 1st day of November, 1915.

F. C. HARDING,
Commissioner.
