MACHINERY AND TRANSPORTATION BUILDING. PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

This big structure is 200 by 250 feet, with a central tower 150 by 175 feet. Its type of architecture is the Spanish Renaissance, modified to suit the conditions of the Exposition. The roof is built with red tile and the cemented walls are brilliant with color. The colors are in the form of a rainbow, with red, yellow and blue in the main, and green, white and gold in the trim. The facade is a masterpiece of detail, with a central archway, a series of smaller arches, and a series of windows with decorative surrounds. The building is a fine example of the Spanish Renaissance style, and is one of the most impressive structures at the Exposition.

IT TAKES COURAGE.

Stand to the Rank Regardless of Petty Criticism.

"A great deal of talent is lost to the world," said Sydney Smith, "for the want of a little courage." If a man would accomplish anything in this world, if he would make his mark in his age he must not be afraid of assuming responsibility. Of course it requires courage to take chances of failure, to be subjected to the risk of criticism for an unpopular cause, to expose oneself to the shafts of everybody's ridicule; but the man who is not true to himself, who can not carry out the small orders placed in his hands at his birth, regardless of the world's "yes" or "no"; of its approval or disapproval; the man who has not courage to trace the pattern of his destiny when no soul knows but his own can never rise to the true dignity of manhood or attain success. It takes courage for a young man to woman to stand firmly erect while others are bowing and fawning for praise and power. It takes courage to wear threadbare clothes while your companions dress in broadcloth and silks. It takes courage to remain in honest poverty when others grow rich by fraud. It takes courage to say "no" squarely when those around you say "yes." It takes courage to do your duty in silence and obscurity although others prosper and grow famous while neglecting sacred obligations. It takes courage and pluck to be laughed at, scoffed, ridiculed, derided, misjudged, to stand alone with all the world against you. It takes courage to practice rigid economy while those about you squander their earnings, but "they are slaves who dare not be in the right with two or three." It takes courage to refuse to follow custom when it is injurious to health and morals. To espouse an unpopular cause often requires more courage than to lead a charge in battle. It takes courage to be true to yourself while others about you would rather strangle their individuality than be taboos by Mrs. Grundy. But remember that all things serve a brave soul, and the world makes way for the man who boldly passes on.—Success.

The North Carolina Election.

Contrary to all the appalling partisan predictions concerning the North Carolina contest, the election in that Commonwealth on Thursday last, as the Associated Press reports, "was exceedingly quiet throughout the State." The public ear was filled with alarming reports of the desperate and lawless efforts of the Democrats to secure "white supremacy" in North Carolina. Daily accounts from Republican and Populist sources related that the "red shirts," or organized in companies and battalions and armed with rapid firing rifles, and sometimes provided with mountain howitzers or Gatling guns, were plying up and down the State in a campaign of intimidation and violence.

There was little or no truth in these blood-curdling stories. In the Raleigh district, with its large colored population, the Associated Press reports that the negroes polled within fifty votes of their strength, some of them voting the Democratic ticket. The local militia, under command of the Republican Governor, were awaiting orders; but there was no pretext for employing them. In Western North Carolina, where there are large numbers of amalphabetic whites, the reports indicated that many of them voted against the franchise amendment, notwithstanding that few white voters will be affected by it. In other parts of the State many Republicans are reported to have voted for the amendment; which serves to account for its adoption by the large majority of 40,000 votes.

The startling reports from North Carolina were chiefly designed to warn the cold ashes of sectionalism in the North, and thus give a sally to a longshing President campaign. It was charged that the object of the Democrats of North Carolina is by this amended North Carolina to deprive all colored men, without regard to educational attainments, of the suffrage. But it is probable that this ensnare of partisan mendacity has met with as little success in the North as in the South. Whilst many colored men in North Carolina voted for the amendment, there is no doubt that it will meet with the approval of many intelligent voters of the race elsewhere. The point is that every colored voter in North Carolina who can read will have untrammelled exercise of the suffrage. As education progresses the number of illiterates, white and black, will steadily diminish until in time the amendment will practically become a dead letter.

A minor but important result of the North Carolina election is in dissolving the Republican-Populist alliance by depriving it of its element of ignorant negro voters, led by unscrupulous white demagogues. The place of Marion Butler, the Populist, in the United States Senate will be filled next winter by a Democrat, and the turn of his Republican colleague, Senator Pritchard, will come two years hence. By insidiously appealing to the ignorant whites and blacks this Free Silver-High Tariff coalition achieved its brief success over the better elements of the Old North State. While Pritchard worked the other end as chairman of the Populist National Committee. Who will say that the good people of North Carolina have not done well in destroying this nefarious coalition and in protecting their political institutions from a dense mass of ignorance?—Philadelphia Record.

There is a case of smallpox in LaGrange. It was pronounced to be this dreaded disease by Dr. W. T. Patton, who went there to examine it yesterday. A negro woman is the afflicted one. She brought the disease from Norfolk. The woman had been sick for several days and had been kept in close quarantine, in consequence of which the citizens at LaGrange do not fear any spread of smallpox in their town.—Kinston Free Press.

The Effect of the Amendment.

The Chatham Record discusses the effect of the constitutional amendment adopted Thursday, saying, in part:

"How many persons will it disfranchise? The number of negroes disfranchised is estimated at about 75,000. But what the amendment itself may not disfranchise is a larger number of negroes, yet it is possible that many more negroes will not vote, and lose all interest in politics. Or it may be that the educated negroes, who do vote, will divide up, just like the white people do, and vote less solidly than heretofore. This may be better for them and better for the whites also. Certainly the 'color line' will be less rigidly drawn in politics, because there will no longer be so great danger as heretofore from negro domination. One of the best effects of the amendment will be the stimulus or incentive it will give to the cause of education. It will undoubtedly elevate North Carolina to a high rank among the other States, and wipe out our present disgrace of being the lowest in literacy. By the year 1908 every white child will be able to read and write before he or she comes of age. And what will be its effect on the disfranchised negroes? It will be as fully protected in all their rights as heretofore, and we believe they will be satisfied and contented. They certainly can be in no worse condition, for what good has their voting done them? They surely have no cause for alarm or uneasiness."

"This excellent amendment will further take notice that he is required to appear at the next term of the Superior Court of said county to be held on the second Monday after the first Monday in September, at the Court House in Greenville, N. C., at 10 o'clock, a. m., to answer or demur to the complaint in the above entitled cause against said defendant. This notice will be filed in the Court for his relief demanded in said cause. # Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES. IN THE SHADOW OF DEATH.

A Whole Family Cured. Mrs. C. H. Kingsbury, who keeps a millinery and fancy goods store at St. Louis, Oregon, Co., Mich., and who is well known throughout the country, writes: "I was badly troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia, and my head ached and my eyes were very painful and was very ill. I was in bed for many days and could not get up. I had tried many remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I was very near death. I was told to try Johnston's Sarsaparilla, and I did so. I took one bottle and I was cured. I am now as well as ever and can do all my usual work. I am very glad to recommend it to every one who is troubled with rheumatism, neuralgia, or any other kind of disease. I prefer JOHNSTON'S to all of them."

THE NEWSPAPER. $1 A YEAR. VOL. XIX.

OUR NOMINEES

National Ticket. For President: WILLIAM J. BRYAN, of Nebraska. For Vice-President: ADLAI E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

For Presidential Elector, 1st Dist., CHARLES L. ABERNETHY, of Carteret. For Congress, 1st Dist., JOHN H. SMALL, of Beaufort.

North Carolina's Electors. Below we give a comment of a number of leading papers in other States upon the recent election in North Carolina. A reading of these will show that out of all classes—Democratic, Populist and Republican—the New York World, claiming to be Democratic, is the only paper that throws an insult at our State.

New Orleans Plainway (Dem.): It is important to note that the elected and intelligent negroes voted for the constitutional amendment which disfranchises the ignorant and thrifless of their race.

Louisville Courier-Journal (Democrat): One of the pleasing prospects to be looked forward to from the North Carolina election is the succession of a Democrat to the seat in the senate occupied by the late Marion Butler.

Augusta Tribune (Populist): Hon. Marion Butler got it in the neck heavy, and he is now wondering where he is at, or where he might have been if he had not listened to the seductive voice of Chairman J. K. Jones and old Senator Stewart.

Chicago Times-Herald (Rep.): It may be safely assumed that the amendment will be rigorously carried out. The ultimate consequences of its enforcement will be the degradation of the white voter and the development of a desire on the part of the negro for education which the state cannot ignore and the Democrats cannot repress.

Columbia State (Dem.): Now that the negro is to be eliminated from the problem the Populists and white Republicans of the state will probably rue, and in time they will be joined by a growing element now nominally Democratic, but at heart for the Republican policies. With the negro out of the way North Carolina will again become a debatable ground.

Nashville American (Democrat): We congratulate the people of North Carolina on their great victory. We doubted the wisdom of the "grandfather's clause" of the constitutional amendment, but as we have said before, the people of North Carolina know their business and understand the management of

DO NOT CROWD THE MARKET
Farmers this year have commenced to market their tobacco in a very sensible and business like manner. Heretofore by the middle of August at least, there were heavy breaks on all eastern markets, thus practically overcrowding the market at the very hottest season of the year, at a time when the tobacco is in no condition at all to sell. And in many instances it is offered on the floor before the curing process has been finished, that is, while there is yet a good deal of green matter visible on the leaf, which if allowed to remain in bulk for a short while would almost entirely disappear. Then, too, the condition of weather at this time is such that there is a good deal of risk in carrying large stocks of tobacco in bulk. One hundred farmers owning two hundred thousand pounds of tobacco are in much better condition and better prepared to take care of that quantity of tobacco than are five, six or more buyers at this hot season of the year, besides if this tobacco should begin to damage in the hand of the farmers it can be very easily stopped, but if it belongs to one man it may be that the damage will be irreparable before it is discovered.

A Word For You.
The tobacco season has opened, fall is drawing near, and it is getting time for people to begin handling money. There are a number of readers of THE EASTERN REFLECTOR who have been promising us that just as soon as this time came they were going to bring us some money. Along at intervals during the last few months we have been putting cross marks on the papers of those in arrears to remind them of the fact. Some seemed to hate seeing the mark on their paper and told us if we would not put it there any more they would come right on and pay up out of their first tobacco crop, as soon as fall opened. Now we do not love to mark anybody's paper, and it is not pleasant for us to even have to do so. We promise not to do either of these things if you will keep your promise and come on and pay as you ought to. If a man owes you for a bushel of potatoes or a barrel of corn made as many promises about paying as some do about their newspaper, you would begin to question his veracity and doubt his honesty. Now we are not asking you for a cent except what you owe us, and surely you are entitled to that much. The way to keep off the cross marks is to avoid being delinquent is to come on and pay up.

When the Amendment Becomes Effective.
The question has been asked, when the constitutional amendment, if adopted, would become effective. Section 11 of the act submitting it to the people answers the question. This is as follows:
Sec. 11. That this amendment to the constitution shall go into effect on the 1st day of July, 1902. If a majority of the votes cast at the next general election shall be cast in favor of this amendment, the ratification thereof shall be deemed to have taken place on the 1st day of July, 1902.

Worth Remembering.
Some employers are so parsimonious of praise for deserving employees, on the principle that praise will induce an attack of swollen head, requiring a treatment of increased salary, that they starve out ambition in their most faithful helpers. To a young worker who has done good service, who has secured a new, collected a list account or suggested an idea valuable to his employer, a word of appreciation is more exhilarating than wine. The memory of it will outweigh many times the discouraging things of life, and will spur and nourish ambition and good work as nothing else can. A kind, appreciative word costs nothing to express, but it pays large dividends in loyalty, devotion and application. —Newspaperman.

Greenville business men know a good thing when they see it. That is why they put their advertisements in THE REFLECTOR.

NEWSPAPERS AND BUSINESS NOTES.
WINSTONVILLE, N. C., August 11
The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. are receiving orders almost daily away from home. On Thursday they shipped four two horse wagons to Snow Hill. Good goods will go, and good work always tells.

Dr. Laughinghouse, of Greenville, was here Thursday in consultation with Dr. Cox as regards Mr. Strawless who is quite sick. Nat Whitfield was in town a short while one day this week.

The Hussucker Carriage Co. seem to be growing in popular favor. The demand for their work is far ahead of their capacity to fill orders. Though a new firm here, they employ only skilled workmen. Hence their success.

Mrs. Robert Greene and children of Greenville, who have been visiting Mrs. J. D. Cox for the past few days, returned home yesterday.

ROBBING THE MAILS.
Another of White's Coons Goes Wrong
Tarboro, N. C., Aug 11.—A negro by the name of George Dancy, who has been an assistant in the postoffice here for a number of years, was arrested this morning on the charge of robbing mail packages that were handled at this office.

Detectives have been working on the case for sometime and caught up with him last night. They mailed to Crisp, N. C. a letter containing a $5 gold piece. This letter was traced to Tarboro but went no further. They investigated here and found the money on the person of Dancy. The detectives took him to Halifax this morning where he will be given a trial before a U. S. Commissioner.

The negro acknowledged that he went in the letter and took the money, then tore the letter up and threw it away. He had been caught robbing packages for some time, but it was not until last night that he was caught up with. When the $5 gold piece was found on him and identified he broke down and made full confession.

Trip to Windsor.
The Confederate Veterans, of Bertie, had their 11th annual meeting at the Court House Thursday. There are 171 in the county, 75 of whom were present. Of the 75 present 53 claim to be soldiers of "Christ." One old brother had just come from the Home in Raleigh. He says the veterans are well cared for there.

Let every reader pray that every one may be comfortable here and be ready for Heaven when called away. A. D. BERTS.

China Still Doubtful.
The Democrats have carried North Carolina and the Dutch have taken Holland, but at least accounts it seemed doubtful whether the Chinese could hold China. —Chicago News.

Official absenteeism had up to the present week merely been a cause of regret that Mr. McKinley and members of his Administration should so far forget the obligations of the oath they took upon assuming office as to go away from their official posts, for their own personal pleasure, while the Chinese situation was at such a critical stage; but this week it has become a cause of shame and deep humiliation to every patriotic American. When Minister Conger's message, saying that the Imperial Chinese troops were daily firing upon the British Legation in Peking, in which he and all the other foreign ministers are copped up as prisoners, arrived in Washington, neither the President nor the Secretary of State were on hand to deal with it, and nobody can say now what this Government intend to do about it. That public opinion will compel it to do more than hoo-hoo with the Chinese Minister to the United States and endorse all the fairy tales he can invent is extremely probable. Much as Mr. McKinley dislikes to call an extra session of Congress to decide what this government shall do, which he should have done weeks ago, it looks now as though he would not be able to avoid it and drift along, hoping for some opportunity to do something or to make a bluff at doing something that would be beneficial to his waning political fortunes. The time for drifting has passed. Mr. McKinley's so-called "ultimatum" to the Chinese government, sent through Consul-General Fowler, at Shanghai, in forming China that the situation reported by Minister Conger was intolerable, will hardly scare the Chinese. They are not fools. They know that in this country Congress alone has authority to declare war. For that reason, if for no other, Congress ought to be called in extra session. It would convince the Chinese that we meant business.

Detectives have been working on the case for sometime and caught up with him last night. They mailed to Crisp, N. C. a letter containing a $5 gold piece. LOCAL REFLECTIONS.
EMPLOYMENT FOR GIRLS—The Greenville Knitting Mills will be ready to begin operations about the first of September. Any girl desiring employment in the mills should file their application early. W. S. ATKINS, Secy.

Marriage.
Mr. Richard Kinion arrived in Greenville Wednesday evening with his bride. He was married that day to Miss Annie Wood, of Scotland Neck. A reception was held at night at the home of the groom's mother.

Male Academy.
The advertisement of Greenville Male Academy appears in this issue. This school is now in its twelfth year under the management of Prof. W. H. Ragsdale. It is not a better place to which you can send your boys.

Saw and Grist Mill.
W. H. Harper, of Farmale, and W. O. Barnhill, of Greenville, have leased a piece of land at the end of Greene street and near the river from C. M. Bernard, and will erect a saw mill there. They will also erect a grist mill in connection with the saw mill. The old school house, which is a part of the property leased will be used for the present for the grist mill house. Work will commence on the saw mill at once.

Munford's Bargain Sale.
C. T. Munford takes a four-column space in THE REFLECTOR to tell you something about the bargain prices at his big new store. His store and its stock just over-reach anything that is going, while his prices talk for themselves. He has already made his first draw for the season on the great northern markets, and he proposes to keep in constant touch with those markets so as to have new bargains to offer every few days. Watch his space.

Miss Mattie Abrams, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. M. Schultz, returned this morning to Rocky Mount. Master Alfred Schultz accompanied her home.

Tobacco Department.
Mr. O. L. Joyner, who since the beginning of a tobacco market in Greenville has done more to promote its advancement than any other man, has resumed his department in THE REFLECTOR and says that from now on through the season he will contribute regularly articles of especial interest to the tobacco trade. The articles he has contributed to this paper in years gone by have been a great factor in advertising the market far and near, and no one feature did the market more good. Mr. Joyner is an excellent writer, and our readers will find much interest in keeping up with his articles. The tobacco farmers will find the articles profitable to them and can often save money by following the advice he gives.

Miss Mary E. Bynum died Friday night at half past eleven o'clock, at the home of Mr. W. R. Parker, in South Greenville after a severe illness. She had been in very bad health for several years and for the past few months had been confined to her bed.
She was an excellent woman and held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. She was a sister of Mrs. W. R. Parker and Mrs. Julia Barrett, of Greenville, and Mrs. Harry Harris, of Falkland.
The funeral of Miss Mary E. Bynum will take place at Farmville tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. The remains will leave the residence of Mr. W. R. Parker at 7 o'clock A. M. The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. D. W. Davis.

Passed Thousand Mark.
THE EASTERN REFLECTOR (twice a week) has had a most gratifying growth in circulation this year, though we have not made much noise about it. The thousand mark has now been passed and it still keeps climbing. One thing about the circulation of THE REFLECTOR that is of especial advantage to the advertisers, is that every copy of the paper sent out goes into the hands of an intelligent reader. People take it for the news it contains, and the class of people who read this paper have money to spend with the advertisers.
