New Uses For Sawdust. Scientific men have long been engaged in the study of methods of utilizing waste products, such as sewage, garbage and many other things, formerly thrown away as worthless. After it is ascertained just what these materials contain and their uses, ingenious men set their wits to work to invent machinery and devise processes by which the valuable commodities may be extracted. In this way many million dollars worth of oils, fertilizers and other useful substances are now saved and the world is so much the richer.

Punishment for Carrying Concealed Weapons. The North Carolina Law Journal says that cases of carrying concealed weapons are ever on the increase and that to prevent it is a puzzle to judges and legislators; that there are some persons who favor making this crime a felony but this, it thinks, is entirely too harsh. In a great majority of such cases in court, it says, judgment is suspended on payment of cost, and it quotes with approval what is said to be the ruling of Judge Shaw, of the Superior Court bench, to fine every defendant convicted of this offense $15 and costs, to be paid before court adjourns, the defendant in default of payment to go to the chain gang.

In Local Papers. There is a constantly increasing sentiment among business men that the only legitimate advertising medium through which to reach the buying public is found in the local papers. It is a fact undisputed by the larger retail establishments of any city that such is the case, and the matter of advertising in local papers is receiving more favorable consideration as each year goes by.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER. End of Impeachment Trial in Sight. Special Correspondent of Reflector. Raleigh, March 25.—During the past week the one great overshadowing attraction and subject of comment and discussion has been the impeachment trial—of course, among men in public life little else has engaged their thoughts, of leading politicians and office holders, and would-be office holders, have paid special visits to Raleigh for the one and sole and express purpose of witnessing the remarkable and unusual scene in the Senate Chamber. And the women? They predominate, and have from the very first day of the court.

THE WORLD'S CORN. Corn is pre-eminently the American cereal crop. In some years it rises to be chief of the world's cereal crops, surpassing in quantity both wheat and oats. The average corn crop for the past five years has been 2,756,057,000 bushels, and of this immense crop about 90 per cent is raised in the Western Hemisphere, and almost exactly 75 per cent in the United States. Such are the statistics given by the Crop Reporter, published by the United States Department of Agriculture.

NOTICE TO THE LOANED GUN OF CROSS-EXAMINATION was not still in the possession of counsel—not that. But the enemy had spiked it. In other words, one of counsel for the defense had talked and partly in Judge Clark's presence, about the writ of mandamus prior to being retained in this case. That man was Governor Jarvis, if the lawyers on his side had pressed Clark he would have told what Jarvis said to him—would have done so, anyway, had not Jarvis objected and the Court sustained the objection—and that would have hurt the case of the respondents.

EVERYBODY WILL ADVISE. Persons who have noted the tendency to make all news known to the public through the newspapers have not been surprised by the increasing number of instances, financial, telephone, street railway and other corporations and churches, book publishing houses, etc., which have recently adopted the publicity methods of the enterprising merchants. The action of the Wisconsin Bar Association in amending the code of ethics so as to allow lawyers to use newspaper space as they may choose is significant of the growth of the tendency, and it is believed to be only a question of time when all other classes of professional men will follow this example. In deed, the specialization of professional work has made newspaper advertising necessary in the interest of the people as well as of the professional men.—Philadelphia Record.

Laying On Of Hands. An exchange says that "laying on of hands" for emplacements, especially in children, is now taking the place of Christian science. A mother cured her son of using profane language with one dose. When men sit listening silently while the speaker to weigh her words. Attitudes and platitudes form the stock in trade of women who lack personality. Small talk may not indicate wisdom, but big talk does folly. A witty woman stimulates; a talkative one enervates. A clever woman can fool a dozen men, while as many men cannot fool her.

POTASH PILLS. No crop can be grown without Potash. Supply enough Potash and your profits will be larger without Potash your crop will be "scrubby".

A Good Amendment. Judge Brewer of the United States Court, in a recent address called attention to a defect in the jury system, viz., the requirement of a unanimous verdict. While in criminal cases the rule which gives the prisoner the benefit of a reasonable doubt makes it necessary to preserve the unanimous verdict, there is no reason for adhering to it in civil cases.

The Ideal Education. A true conception by American fathers and mothers of the vital importance of home education would constitute the golden bridge to unite the forces that contend for religious and material development in our civilization and make America the first nation in the domain of higher thought as well in rank among the military, naval and commercial powers of the world.

EASTERN REFLECTOR
GREENVILLE, N. C.

Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1901.

Sunday's issue of the Raleigh News and Observer was a souvenir edition of the last Legislature. It was an interesting paper.

The people of Ayden are taking a stand against whiskey and say it must go out of that town. They are right, and we wish them success in their efforts to get rid of the great evil.

Dealers tell us fertilizer sales are larger this season than in years. We can't say that altogether gives a good prospect. It means large bills to pay next fall with probably low prices. The farmer better be sure that he has plenty of home supplies.

State Auditor Dixon gives the following figures as the cost of the recent Legislature: Senators, $13,530, employes $8,772. Representatives $32,550, employes $11,155; total $66,007. The cost of the impeachment trial is placed at $15,000.

The esteemed Charlotte Observer has been propounding the question "Why do a rabbit wobble its nose?" A Greenville preacher says it is "because it has no tail to wobble." This is respectfully referred to the Observer with the request to send the prize down this way.

The Charlotte Observer scored quite a success in sending several of its editorial staff, on different days, to Raleigh to write personal letters about the impeachment trial, as each was impressed by the situation. These letters were by far the most interesting reading about the trial that appeared in any paper.

The bond question seems to be a quiet one. We hope this is no indication of indifference to the matter. Those favoring the issuing of the bonds should be at work in favor of the measure. If the bonds are defeated at the election it will be a blow to Greenville's progress that will take years to overcome. Work and vote for the bonds.

Sunday morning two policemen of Charlotte made a raid on a room and arrested seven young men for gambling. They were caught full handed in the very act, so there was no use of putting up any denial whatever. They were required to give bond for appearance before the Mayor on Monday and each of them put up $50 as security. Monday when the time for the hearing before the Mayor arrived, one of the young men forfeited, his $50 by failing to put in an appearance. A prominent lawyer of Charlotte appeared in behalf of the gamblers. This lawyer in his speech to the court actually conceded gambling. In part he said:

"There has been much said recently in regard to gambling in this town, and I speak in behalf of these defendants that your honor may not require an exorbitant bond. Playing cards for some thing of value is not such a heinous offense as some would make believe. Gaming is a characteristic of the English people. It is no offense at common law to gamble. It is simply a statutory offense. Before the time of Richard the Third our forefathers encouraged their boys to gamble with the idea that this practice would make more acreable and better business men of them. The vice of gaming was prohibited by King Richard because it had a tendency to distract from the military duty of his subjects. Gaming was not at first prohibited in England on account

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Bureau Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.

The Republican syndicate, which had made extensive and expensive preparations to loot the Philippines, under public land and timber concessions, are making things warm for the administration and demanding that the closures made to them be kept. There is one obstacle—the Hoar amendment which was added to the Philippine amendment to the Army bill. Although that amendment specifically prohibits the granting of those concessions, the representatives of the losing syndicate are demanding that it be ignored, and some of them are claiming that Secretary Root favors meeting their demands.

The traditional bill in a china shop did not create more consternation than Representative Babcock, of Wisconsin, is creating among the trust bonded republican bosses by talking up the merits of his anti trust bill, which he introduced near the close of the last Congress, and which he will reintroduce. It will be remembered that the bill, as introduced, provided for a repeal of the duty on all manufactured steel and iron, its avowed purpose being to prevent the big steel trust making our people pay exorbitant prices for its products. Mr. Babcock, who is now in Washington, has recently introduced his bill, that he has announced his intention to broaden it, so as to hit two more trusts—the plate and glass—by adding clauses repealing the tariff on plate glass and tin plate. He has also served notice on the trust bonded republicans to pay for his railroad ticket, in a few weeks that point had paid him $10.11. Last year he went to his work, paid $5 a month house rent, and worked 70 days before he received a cent, but handled plenty of money during the year. Methodism in North Carolina does not starve her preachers.

"Trojan" About Preachers.

You copied lately from the "Charlotte Observer" something about "Trojan." He has done injustice to North Carolina Methodism. He speaks of an old preacher who spent more money in getting to the places to preach three sermons than he received, etc. His preacher should have gone on, the title would have turned. He would have been cured. The picture writer, this year, went 20 miles to his first appointment, preached 3 times, and did not get enough money to pay for his railroad ticket, in a few weeks that point had paid him $10.11. Last year he went to his work, paid $5 a month house rent, and worked 70 days before he received a cent, but handled plenty of money during the year. Methodism in North Carolina does not starve her preachers.

A Just Rebuke

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record pays a very poor compliment to the intelligence of Southern business men when it seeks to bar the way to competitor and more cordial commercial and industrial understanding between the people of the North and South by appealing to political sectionalism and misunderstanding. Our Baltimore contemporary has been very pertinently and properly rebuked by the New Orleans Picayune, which declares that the Southern people are not going over to the Republican party and are not going to support the ship subsidy grab at its suggestion, but that they prefer the more proper way to take care of their national affairs, whether to help inaugurate a President or to get their share of all public benefits that may grow out of harmonious effort and understanding. Evidently the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record had better stick to its manufacturing—Philadelphia Philo Record.

Increased in size to 128 pages, and with a table of contents exceeding in interest and variety, the April issue of Everybody's Magazine sets a high standard and indicates the characteristics which may in future be expected of this publication. In directing the policy of a monthly, some time must elapse ere the plans of its editors can be properly consummated, but in the forthcoming issue there is realized a high ideal of intellectual excellence, together with that distinctness of individuality, a new venture in magazine-dom must have for success. The leading features may be summed up as follows: Vivid nature articles, entertaining expostions of science, virile studies of Western life, high-class fiction, together with an authoritative treatment of some subject of contemporary political or social interest. Among the contributors to this issue are: Nedje Blanche, Ewart Scott Grant, Owen Winter, Mary E. Wilkins, Charles Major, J. P. Moravia, George Hes, Bishop Parke, Rev. Walter Laidlaw and Maximilian Foster.

WINTYRVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTYRVILLE, N. C., March 27. A SUGGESTION TO FARMERS. Owing to the extreme scarcity of labor we would advise all farmers to arrange their tobacco rows so every eighth row will be five feet wide, and by so doing you can use a tobacco truck and thus house your tobacco with much less labor and cost. There were some trucks used in certain sections last season for housing tobacco, and we find in every section where the truck was used there will be a great demand for them this season, and orders for several hundred trucks have already been placed and many more will doubtless come in yet. If you will lay out your rows as stated above it will take no extra manure and but little more land, and if you do not use the truck you can tote your tobacco along the wide row much better, and if you are scarce of help you can use a provided. We are going to be headquarters for tobacco trucks of best style. A. C. Cox & Co. Manufacturing Company, Greenville, S. C.

The death angel has visited our town and claimed for its own Mrs. Lou Lang. Her illness was short, comparatively. Many of her friends and relatives just arrived in time to cast the last look upon her living face. About noon Friday, her noble spirit took its flight to try the realities of the world unseen. Her remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground, a few miles in the country, Saturday. Our hearts go out in sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Fish, fish. We like fish, but cheaper fish. Herrings seem to be a rarity in our market. They are only worth five cents a piece here, compared with different points. Who ever heard of the herring going so high. Awful. Can't some one send a cheaper brand.

M. T. Horton is erecting a fine residence on Church street. With a little more paint and a few more buildings, our little town would be new again.

FACTOLUS ITEMS.

FACTOLUS, N. C., March 25. N. C. Gordon, of Washington, was here Wednesday. J. J. Mason, of Washington, was here Thursday. H. A. White, of Greenville, was here Friday. R. R. Fleming went to Parneto Saturday on business. Miss Maggie Daughtry, of Greenville, is visiting Mrs. Robert Fleming. J. E. Green and Hon. Johnson Nichols spent Sunday in Ayden. The demand for the Cox Cotton Planter is greater than ever before in its history. Already the orders are far ahead of any whole season heretofore.

Miss Lexie Daughtry, of Greenville, is visiting Miss Minnie Clinard, at the home of Dr. D. T. Cox. For the first time since the late Saturday morning, before leaving however, he purchased and took away with him one of those fine buggies put up by the Hus-sucker Carriage Co.

Mrs. John Galloway and Miss Daisy Tucker, of Grimesland, spent Friday night here visiting at the boarding house. Dr. C. A. Broun and Miss Nan A. Hanna, of near Benton, were here a short while Saturday.

Mr. Allen Warren, who just returned Monday evening from Conneto, where he had been to see his sick brother, Mr. John Warren, received a telegram this morning stating that his brother died at 10 o'clock last night. The deceased was 78 years old and a most excellent man.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Moore left Wednesday for Baltimore to buy their spring line of dry goods. We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Galloway visit our town Sunday. W. S. Galloway made a trip to Greenville today. Jimmie Galloway who has been attending school at Wintyrville, came home Saturday to spend a day or two with his parents. He returned Monday. W. E. Proctor went down the road today. Our streets were crowded with farmers Saturday. W. H. Galloway is in town today.

FARMVILLE RIFPLES.

FARMVILLE N. C. March 25, 1901. Owing to the ill health of the correspondent, our "Rifples" have not appeared for the two past weeks.

Little Harry, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lang, has been sick with that dread disease, pneumonia, for several days, and is convalescing at this writing. We had a very heavy rainfall in our section Wednesday night last. We were glad to see our old friends, John Keesonger and J. L. Peacock, of Ioper, on our streets yesterday. They left for Wilson last night. Many of the Farmville people who have been nursing their vaccinated arms are recovering from the pains and aches, but a few are yet on the "grind." Smallpox is a thing of the past where it seemed to have been raging a few weeks ago.

Mrs. L. Griffin calls the attention of the ladies to her splendid stock of millinery at 9-30 1/2 clock, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. C. Hardy, in West Greenville, after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Patrick was in her 80th year. She leaves three daughters and one son—Mrs. Hardy, Mrs. Marion Johnson and Mrs. Andrew Overbridge, all of Greenville, and Mr. C. L. Patrick, of Ayden. She also leaves 23 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren.

The interment took place Sunday afternoon at the family graveyard two miles from town.

Mrs. Patrick united with the Methodist church when only 10 years of age and lived the life of a true Christian.

AN OLD MULE. Mr. Charles Case was in town today driving perhaps the oldest mule in the county. He says he bought this mule thirty years ago, when the animal was just three years old, and has cultivated and harvested thirty crops with him. The mule is yet doing good service.—Daily Reflector, 27.

A Nuisance. Loyalty to one's town is necessary to its success. If one doesn't like the place he lives in let him go elsewhere. That's his privilege. But the man who is enterprisingly croaking, the chronic kicker ought to be banished forever. He is a nuisance.—Winston Journal.

BURNED AGAIN.

Another Fire On Fifth Street.

About a quarter past 2 o'clock Sunday morning fire was discovered in the restaurant adjoining M. L. Starkey's bar on Fifth street. The restaurant and bar were in the same building with a partition between them. The restaurant portion was divided in two rooms the cooking department being in the rear. It was in this cook room that the fire started, and it had progressed enough to burst through the roof when found.

The restaurant and bar room were both burned up, and the ice house on the same property nearly half consumed.

The firemen did some of the quickest and best work at this fire that they have ever done. In ten minutes from the time the engine left its quarters they had a stream on the burning buildings, and notwithstanding the ice house looked like it was a solid mass of flames they put it out and checked the fire.

Chief A. J. Griffin is always good at a fire, but he never manages one better than this. He got every man just at the right place, and the effect was instantly seen. The good of the citizens auxiliary recently appointed by Mayor J. G. Moye was also shown. Many of these were on hand to man the ropes and keep the crowd out of the fire lines, and helped the fire men in various ways. Chief Griffin says if the citizens committee will just continue to give him that kind of assistance he will show them how well his boys can fight fire when their services are needed.

This building burned Sunday morning was the same that was partially destroyed on the night of February 22nd when the fire started in King's stables. It was owned by McGowan & Westinghouse, the barroom being occupied by M. L. Starkey and the restaurant by Peter Plummer. The owners had just replaced the house and just got it ready for Starkey to move back in last week. Nothing hardly was saved out of the building.
