

EASTERN REFLECTOR

GREENVILLE, N. C.

O. J. WICHARD, Ed. & Owner

Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

Tuesday, April 9, 1901.

No doubt the latest official scandal in the Philippines will prove highly edifying to the benighted heather whom we are teaching to walk in the straight and narrow path of official rectitude.

A Chicago girl has been sued for the return of her engagement presents. She says she doesn't want the old things, anyway, but she wouldn't return them to the man old man for anything now.

We understand that those opposed to the bond issue are hard at work against it on the quiet. Surely those who want to see Greenville prosper cannot remain indifferent and allow the measure to be defeated just for want of interest.

Will General MacArthur now apologize to Editor Rice, whom he expelled from Manila for exposing the scandals which have now become so marked that the Government has been forced to make numerous arrests on account of them?

All Americans will welcome the news, if true, that Aguinaldo has given up the hopeless fight and sworn allegiance to the United States. Even those who believe that our institutions are imperiled by the acquisition of the Philippines against the will of their inhabitants, cannot but rejoice if the lamentable record of blood is to come to an end.

Maj. W. H. Martin, the man who stole some $10,000 or $12,000 while he was a clerk in ex-State Treasurer Worth's office, has been sentenced to ten years imprisonment. The speedy trial and sentence that has followed the discovery of his crime are commendable. Yet it was noticeable in reading the proceedings of the trial that, notwithstanding Martin had confessed his crime, there were lawyers who went before the court and contended for his staying and tried to make a hero of the thief. Any criminal is entitled to legitimate defense, but the methods often used by lawyers and some of their public utterances has a tendency to encourage rather than diminish crime. Take the recent Cribette gambling case and this stealing case for examples.

If the bond issue is defeated Tuesday it will be a blow to the progress of the town from which it will take a long time to recover. Almost the entire country is watching Greenville to see what the town will do at this election. There are capitalists who have indicated a desire to make investments here, but if the bond issue is defeated they will pass us by. On the other hand if the bonds are carried, you will see Greenville prosper in the next year or two as never before.

The Wadesboro Messenger criticizes the people and praises complained of the revenue act of the Legislature, caustically remarking that they seemed to be very much alarmed lest the so called business interest should suffer double taxation, while not a word was said about other people on whom double taxes are levied. Then the Messenger cites the following as an illustration of double taxation:

In honor of the 75th birthday of The Youth's Companion the publishers have issued a handsome "75th Birthday Souvenir." It contains a series of striking maps and suggestive facts, showing the vast growth of the nation and of the nation's foremost family weekly since the day in April, 1827, which saw the first number of The Youth's Companion come from the press.

A. E. Brown, of Centerville, returning from a visit to Washington, stopped here and spent Friday and today with the family of A. A. Forbes.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8. Mr. McKinley and Boss Hanna have again had their heads together over Ohio politics. They don't like the returns from the municipal elections in the State, and they specially dislike the election of Tom L. Johnson to be mayor of Cleveland. They recognize that Mr. Johnson's successful re-entry into politics means trouble and a lot of it for the republic machine in Ohio, and that it may turn out also to be a factor in the national political arena, as Johnson only became a candidate for mayor as a stepping stone to a nomination for something higher. They believe that Mr. Johnson will be a central figure in the State campaign this year, whether he be elected or not.

The democratic candidate for governor of the State, Charles F. Johnson, is a man of considerable political ability and has a personal popularity in the State. And they are not alone in fearing him. Col. W. O. Telford, of Columbus, which also elected a democratic mayor, who is a republican as an expert on the currents of Ohio politics, and who is now in Washington, said: "Mayor-elect Johnson will start with an advantage now for higher places. He is very clearly in line for the democratic nomination for governor this year. Nobody believes that he can carry the State, but he may make trouble in the legislature. And if he can even reduce Gov. Nash's majority for a re-election to a small figure he will be a powerful factor in the democratic National Convention. He surely is a vote-getter."

Again Pierpont Morgan! That man seems determined to control everything in sight and a lot of things not in sight. While officials deny the story that Mr. Morgan during his recent visit to Mr. McKinley, offered to buy out the Panama Canal Co. and complete the canal, giving the United States government any concessions it might desire as to the control of the canal in time of war, with private capital without cost to this government, provided that Mr. McKinley would pledge this government to kill the project for the construction of a canal over the Nicaragua route, it is generally believed in Washington that Mr. Morgan did make some such offer to Mr. McKinley and further that it is being considered. The story is plausible, and if true would explain to us the mysterious opposition to the Nicaragua Canal bill which constantly cropped out in unexpected places while the late Congress was in session. It is known that Mr. Morgan's relations are close with the big railroad interests that oppose Nicaragua Canal legislation, as well as with the capitalists who compose the so-called American Panama Canal Co., which is believed to have been organized for purely speculation purposes. Another thing that adds to the plausibility of the story is that the State Department, in its negotiations with the Colombian president of the Panama Canal Co., clearly shows its recognition of the possibility of the Panama canal project under the management of that company. Since it was started by De Lesseps the Panama Canal Co., has been not one avindile, but a series of gigantic swindles, which have made rascals millionaires and thousands of honest French investors paupers. With that record open all is not conceivable that the American people will ever endorse any connection of this government under any circumstances or conditions with the Panama Canal Co.

The administration has once more revived the story that the Sultan of Turkey is about to pay those long-standing American missionary claims. Like all its predecessors, the new story says that this time payment is to be made by the Sultan to an extent that has made this government the laughing stock of the diplomatic world.

The United States Steel Corporation takes out an amended charter in New Jersey with capital of $1,100,000,000.

ADVANTAGES OF JENSON.

JENSON, FLA., April 1st, 1901.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

As several friends have asked me for a full description of Jenson since I arrived here on February 12th, I will give a description through your columns as best I can.

With an abundant supply of money most any place can be made unproductive for the moment, but when it comes to permanent investment for remuneration, that brings up another question. Jenson has all the advantages that nature can supply, such as locality, conveniences, healthfulness, climate and remunerative soil. Tourists who are only hunting localities where they can spend the most money in a given length of time might succeed better elsewhere.

But for comfort and enjoyment Jenson is naturally one of the most desirable points in the south. We have a hotel here fully equipped with all the latest improvements and conveniences that one could desire, located only a few steps from Indian river—or more properly, an arm of the ocean—which has a reputation almost as high as civilization extends for its majestic scenery and water glistening with billions of shining stars produced from phosphorus rays.

We ship hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of fish to all parts of the country every season. Jenson is only two miles from the ocean beach, where bathing is delightful and recuperative to health. It is but a short distance to Santa Lucia Island which is the anglers' paradise, and catching fish becomes monotonous, except to those who never tire of the sport of pulling in blue fish, sea bass and trout. The surrounding woods has a beautiful supply of game such as deer, turkey, wild cats and now and then a bear for the accommodation of those who are fond of more solid sports, and a climate nobody would change if they could.

For a winter home for those who are in feeble health or who do not like to play freeze-out in a colder climate, and wish to enjoy the sport of fishing, hunting, sailing and rowing in perpetual spring time, they can find no place that would please them like Jenson.

As a point for investment I ask the public through THE REFLECTOR to come and investigate for themselves. We have no newspaper in town to show up our maps, or pointed stakes through the forest to point out our streets.

We have almost an unbroken field of pineapples for miles, with cottages dotted along the river front, where seven years ago the whole country was almost a wilderness. This change was brought about from the products of the soil, and not from outside capital. For instance, the hotel here which cost over $12,000, was built with money from the local products.

As evidence of Jenson's central point for the pineapple industry, the Indian River and Lake Worth pineapple growers association has headquarters at this place.

We have church facilities and a flourishing school conducted by one of the most cultivated and refined ladies that can be found in the profession.

ALLEN B. KITTELL.
Write That He Was Dead.
A laughable incident occurred in the Federal court this afternoon which furnished some fun in which Judge Boyd and the whole court indulged. A witness from Stokes county was asked where a certain man was, and replied: "He's in Missouri I reckon. He run away from last court here and went by home and got his mules, and went to Missouri. When he got there he wrote back and told his wife that he was dead."—Greensboro Telegram.

Governor Aycock has appointed two more of the new judges provided for in the act increasing the number of superior court judges to sixteen. Geo. A. Jones, of Franklin, was appointed judge for the sixteenth district and Francis D. Winston, of Windsor, appointed for the second district.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEW SY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., April 6.

A SUGGESTION TO FARMERS.

Owing to the extreme scarcity of labor we would advise all farmers to arrange their tobacco rows so every eighth row will be five feet wide, and by so doing you can use a tobacco truck and thus house your tobacco with much less labor and cost. There were some trucks used in certain sections last season for housing tobacco, and we find in every section where the truck was used there will be a great demand for them this season, and orders for several hundred trucks have already been placed and many more will doubtless come in yet. If you will lay out your rows as stated above it will take no extra measure and but little more land, and if you do not use the truck you can tote your tobacco along the wide row much better, and if you are scarce of help you can use a truck. We are going to be headquarters for tobacco trucks of best style.

Clayton Sumnerell has moved for family here from Grainsboro and occupies the Smith house on Church street.

Barnes Sumnerell and family, of Ayden, are visiting H. M. Dixon, Rev. J. K. Falkner, who has been visiting in Winston and Ayden, returned home Thursday morning. Rev. C. W. Blanchard, of Kingston, spent Friday here, as the guest of A. G. Cox.

G. W. Evans left for Tarboro this morning and will return Monday.

Mrs. C. A. Fair is the popular resort for ladies now. Her new millinery is very attractive and she is adding ready sales.

Mrs. B. D. Evans Dead.
Friday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock Mr. Barnabas D. Evans died at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. L. H. Pender, in West Green.

Barnabas D. Evans was born at Easton, Pa., Feb. 12th, 1819. He went to Petersburg, Va., in 1850, and was married in that city Sept. 23rd, 1854, to Miss Annie F. Thompson, daughter of Rev. Robert Thompson. They had only two children, both of whom are now living and are Mrs. H. B. Sledge, of Tarboro, and Mrs. L. H. Pender, of Greenville. The widow also survives him.

Mrs. Evans moved to Tarboro in 1836, and three years later 1839, came to Greenville and since that time made his home here. He joined the Presbyterian church when a young man and was a ruling elder in Tabo street church of Petersburg. He was made a ruling elder in the church here when it was first organized, which position he held until his death.

Another Curious Egg.
Sometime ago Mr. E. B. Ficklen brought THE REFLECTOR the largest hen egg on record. Mat Duke took the opposite extreme and brought us the smallest one. Now Mr. D. D. Overton brings us another that he says is "betwixt and between" in size, but gets there on the 9th. This egg looks like the hen might have been trying to lay two at the time and got them mixed up.
Will Open 10th.
The Greenville Banking & Trust Company will be ready to open business on the 10th inst. The quarters for the bank are nearly completed and are strikingly handsome. The bank and office rooms are already papered, and the counter and metal railing are beautiful. The counter was built here at home by Mr. C. B. West and is as fine a piece of work as could be done anywhere. The officers of the new bank are L. I. Moore, President; W. M. Smith, Vice President; J. J. Cobb, Cashier; Oia Forbes, Teller.
