WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5.

Intelligent observers just from Cuba report business in a bad way all over the island, owing to the uncertainty of the future. Merchants are afraid to invest any more capital until they know more about what the Cuban government is to be, and they are usually careful in selling goods on credit.
The worst part of the business is that there is no hope for any change for the better in the near future, as the shortest estimate of the time that will be required to establish a Cuban government is eight months from the date upon which Gen. Wood issues the orders for holding the two elections that will be necessary, and Gen. Wood is now in this country, or rather in the waters adjacent hereto on board a government vessel, which he is using as his private yacht, and the orders will not be issued until he returns to Havana, which he says will be in about three weeks.

Agents of Hawaiian sugar plantations are in Washington trying to find out if they can legally import Philippines or Chinese from the Philippines to work on their plantations. They attempted, through third parties, to get an opinion from the Commissioner General of Immigration on the matter, but he declined to express one, saying that it was not his business to decide questions until they came before him officially. He did, however, incidentally express the opinion that if the Hawaiian sugar plantations could pay sufficient wages that they could get all the laborers they wanted, from the Southern States—laborers who would make lucrative hands on sugar plantations.
But that is just what these plantations do not wish to do. Many of them have grown rich by importing coolie labor from Japan, and practice that had to be stopped when Hawaii was annexed to the U. S., and it is that class of labor they wish to get from the Philippines, because of its cheapness both in wages and keep.

Rear Admiral Cronin, chief of the Bureau of Navigation, popularly known as the "Bureau of Fabrication," because of his method of attacking Admirals and Secretaries of the Navy, has been acting Secretary of the Navy long and the departure of Secretary Hackett to the Philippines, and the arrival of Assistant Secretary Hackett to make a showing of animosity toward Secretary Hackett, which was as small as it was disgusting, by issuing an order forbidding employees of the Navy Department to assist Capt. Parker, assistant counsel for Secretary Hackett, in examining the records to prepare data in Secretary's behalf, to be brought before the Court of Inquiry.

The Hanna-Platt combine against Secretary's Presidential aspirations, is the newest thing in the political field. It was intended to be strictly a secret affair, but somebody leaked. The story, as told in Washington, says that the erstwhile lieutenants of Senators Hanna and Platt, met in a hotel, not a thousand miles from Washington, and entered into a deal, pledging their respective principles to work together in taking whatever steps that might be made necessary to keep Secretary's Western trip to head off any nomination for President. Platt's men tried to get Hanna's men to commit their chief to the support of Gov. Odell as Mr. McKinley's successor, but that was further than the Hanna-men were willing to go. They agreed that no other New York man would be put forward by Hanna-men as a candidate for the presidential nomination, and that if Roosevelt could not be kept out of the nomination in any other way than by nominating Odell, Hanna would throw his influence to him.
Meanwhile, Platt's men are to boon Odell and insist that he will have the solid support of the New York delegation to the National Convention and that the name of no other New York candidate will be presented. The game is not to oppose right Teddy but simply to ignore his candidacy and undermine whatever strength he may develop elsewhere, by making it apparent that he is not seriously considered as a candidate in his own

EASTERN REFLECTOR.

GREENVILLE, N. C.

D. J. WHIGHAM, Ed. & Owner

Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1901.

The Durham Recorder sends out a handsome industrial edition gotten up in magazine form. It is a gem.

For committing an assault upon a woman a negro was taken by a mob and burned at the stake, near Enterprise, Ala. The mob was composed of five hundred whites and blacks.

Some slick robbers dug under a vault of a smelting works in California, cut through the floor and stole gold bars valued at $280,000. A reward of $5,000 has been offered for their capture.

The Republicans of Iowa have just held their convention and named their ticket, headed by A. B. Cummings for Governor. The platform endorses McKinley and his administration and congratulates the people of the country upon the "enjoyment of a state of prosperity that blesses every class and community." Surely the delegates must not have been reading the papers or heard of the great strike now in progress in almost every section of the country, else it looks like they would have been more careful in putting themselves on record with such congratulations. But these are times when platforms are more for sound than anything else.

INFORMATION ON RURAL DELIVERY.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26, '01.

First. That on and after August 1, 1901, the "drop letter" or one cent rate of postage will not apply within rural free delivery limits. The two cent per ounce rate will be extended within such delivery postal areas.

Second. That the introduction of rural free delivery will not increase or otherwise modify the present rate of postage on second class matter.

Third. That rural free delivery carriers will not be collected to the post office mail matter, but will collect their own mail matter, including those on their routes before completing their trips.

Fourth. That stamps upon mail matter collected by rural free delivery carriers, including those on their routes before completing their trips, will be cancelled by them and reported to the postmaster, who will derive the benefit of the cancellation if the office is Fourth Class.

Fifth. That suitable rubber cancelling stamps can be supplied by the Department, rural free delivery letter carriers will cancel stamps with the indelible pencils recently furnished them for use in registering letter.

CH. EMORY SMITH, Postmaster General.

Lost Money And Ticket.

One of the excursionists who went to Farmville Sunday had an experience that is amusing to all save himself.

Farmville is not a wide open town, but this excursionist was dry so he gently inquired of a man if he could obtain for him something to drink. The man said he could.

So the visitor pulled out a bill and passed it over and the man was about to start off, when, as if it had just occurred to him, said, "I can't get it for you no way, unless you came on the excursion." The Tarboro man said that he did; but the man said that he could not convince the suspicious vendor of the ardent without the ticket as proof.

Unsuspectingly the ticket was also passed out and the man was passed out of sight, and thus far has not been heard of.—Tarboro Southerner.

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

What It Accomplished and the Results to Follow.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Aug. 9.

EDITOR REFLECTOR.

At your request I will write briefly in reference to the late County Institute held at Winterville. You have had so many good things said about it that I think it better for me to write principally in reference to what ought to follow it.

I must say, however, that I heartily agree with those who have written in what they have said. I was much pleased with the work of the instructors with the application and progress of the teachers, and with the entertainment furnished by the people of Winterville. I am satisfied that we made no mistake in holding the Institute in the manner it was held, and at the place we did.

Another thing which has pleased me even as much as the success of the Institute is the favor with which the work has been received by all of our people. Without this favor the results could not have been what I now hope to see them.

The teachers have been much improved and I believe have received some inspiration for their work which will lead to much better efforts than heretofore. This may be without results, however, if the people are not led to be more in harmony with the workers. I honestly believe that frequently themselves are the greatest hindrance to the work of the public schools among them. I wish it were possible to hold at least one week institute now for the convenience of the people and have them present as we had the teachers. The results of this would not be less effective towards advancing the school interests than the institute held for the teachers. We cannot now afford to hinder the teachers in the progress and improvement which I trust they will endeavor to make during the coming session of the schools.

I call upon the committee and parents of this county to see to it that they do nothing to block or hinder what we propose to do along educational lines. I cordially invite you all to aid us, but if you will not do this, please hold hands off and let us go forward.

I desire to say a word or two in reference to a suggestion made in THE REFLECTOR by Prof. Lineberry and which brought forth the offer from you that it might be put into practical operation. The suggestion referred to is that there be an educational column in your paper open to the teachers and friends of education. I am heartily in sympathy with the suggestion, except that this column should be under my control. We ought not to wait upon this matter. I wish we could begin text week with this column. I suggest now that the teachers and friends of education in the county register once to write for this column. Don't make your communications too long. Let them be to the point. There has been some enthusiasm begun for progress in the public schools in this county. It ought to be kept up. I don't know a better way to do this than by the proper use of this educational column. Who will be the first to write for this?

I suggest that all be careful what they write. Don't let it be a column filled with complaints and accusations calculated to do harm, rather than good. Its purpose will be to aid, not to hinder, the cause. In the educational revival which seems to be about to come in this county let all of us take a part, and I trust and believe that our work will not be in vain.

Announcement.

The firm of W. T. Lipscomb & Co., is now composed of W. T. Lipscomb and S. T. Hooker, they having purchased the entire interest of B. E. Parham in the business. We the undersigned desire to thank our friends and customers for their past patronage and to state that we will continue to do business at the Liberty Warehouse where we will always be pleased to serve them. We are fully prepared to protect the interest of all our customers and to secure for them the highest prices for their tobacco.

To The Tobacco Farmers of Eastern Carolina.

The tenth year of the Greenville tobacco market is rapidly approaching. To those of us who have watched the progress of this market since the 23rd day of September 1891, there have been many wonderful changes. The first year there was only one warehouse and a single prize house, and there were sold Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Pounds of Tobacco. Gradually since then our sales have increased and now Greenville is numbered among the largest tobacco markets of the world. To do this it has required the expenditure of large sums of money, heavy risks and a great deal of hard work, and I am sure the public will bear me out when I assert that I have borne my full share of these responsibilities from the very beginning. I have been directly connected with the market from the time the order was given for the first load of timber with which to build the first warehouse and I am the only one in the warehouse business now that had any connection with the market in its early history.

I shall this year have no one associated with me, as a partner in the warehouse business, but I have carefully selected as my assistants men of capacity and experience in the tobacco business.

I have again secured the services of Mr. J. J. Willis, of Danville, Va., one of the best judges of tobacco in Virginia or North Carolina. Mr. Willis has had wide experience in the warehouse business. He is clever, courteous and a good manager, and will gladly render any service he can. He can arrange tobacco on the floor to a better advantage than any man I ever saw.

Mr. H. A. Timberlake, an auctioneer of reputation and wide experience, has been secured to do the chin music act, but he wants it understood that he is lost nowhere on the warehouse floor and he stands ready to do anything that will advance the interests of our patrons.

Mr. A. A. Forbes (Uncle Pig) whom everybody knows and who knows everybody, will be obligingly on hand in everything and will do his part in making everybody comfortable. Our office force is clever, competent and will settle with you after your tobacco is sold so quick and satisfactorily that you will be sure to come again. I am determined that nothing shall be left undone that will advance the interests of my patrons. I shall have good stables for your team and clean comfortable quarters for you.

Now in conclusion let me say to you that from the best information I can gather we have very bright prospects for good prices. Cure your tobacco well, grade it carefully handle it neatly, and then bring me one of your first loads and if hard work, good prices, kind, courteous treatment, and the best accommodations count for anything, you will be numbered with my future patrons. With grateful acknowledgment of all past favors, I am

Sincerely your friend,

O. L. JOYNER.

Prop. Farmers' Warehouse.

BETHEL ITEMS.

BETHEL, N. C., Aug. 8, 1901. Miss Anna Salisbury, of Hamilton is visiting J. B. Blanche Mayo, Miss Sidney Davenport, of Paeletus, is visiting Miss Mattie Grimes.

Miss Mollie Bullock, of Conover, is spending a few days with Miss Patricia Whitehurst.

W. J. Rollins and wife, of Greenville, came here yesterday and returned this morning.

Herbert Manning, who has been in Cuba since the Spanish-American War, arrived Tuesday to see his brother, Pearl Manning, who was so dangerously hurt. The brothers were in Norfolk Monday night, but neither was aware of the other's being in the city.

Many of our young men ran down to Farmville Monday morning to see Pearl Manning on his way to Baltimore to receive treatment for his severe injury. His many friends here wish him a speedy recovery.

Joe Hightsmith, of Mt. Olive was in town Tuesday.

Jack Harrington, of Greenville, is honoring us with a visit. We are very glad to see him.

Joe Hightsmith, of Lumberton, arrived today.

Notice of Dissolution of Partnership.

The firm of W. T. Lipscomb & Co., which has formerly been composed of W. T. Lipscomb, S. T. Hooker and B. E. Parham, has been dissolved. The said W. T. Lipscomb and S. T. Hooker will continue the business at Liberty Warehouse under the firm name of W. T. Lipscomb & Co., and the said W. T. Lipscomb and S. T. Hooker are now the owners of all amounts due the old firm of W. T. Lipscomb & Co., and will pay all the outstanding claims against the same.

W. T. LIPSCOMB, S. T. HOOKER.

The railroad assessment is increased by $119,548.84.

WINTERVILLE DEPOT.

NEWSPAPERS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Aug. 10.

Yesterday afternoon, about 4 o'clock Winterville came near having the biggest fire in its history. The large feed and livery stables of R. H. Hunsucker, from some cause unknown, was discovered in flames and it was only through the united efforts and hard work on the part of our citizens that the building was saved. While we have no regular organized fire department yet for many work, coolness and bravery we will place our gallant fire ladders against many an organized band who are disciplined for the purpose. Certainly a fine piece of work was done here yesterday, and Mr. Hunsucker requests us to extend his thanks to all who came to his assistance, assuring them their kindness will not soon be forgotten.

Yesterday Ernest Williams and Turner Suggs, both colored, went to Greenville and were returning home together. When near Mr. Alfred Westinghouse's about 6 o'clock, Turner for some cause shot Ernest through the head killing him almost instantly. Turner has taken the woods and thus another crime stains the record of old Pitt. The coroner has been telephoned to hold an inquest.

Mrs. J. D. Cox and Miss Laura Cox were in Greenville Wednesday on a shopping excursion.

Mrs. A. G. Cox left yesterday for Littlefield to see her mother who has been seriously hurt by a fall.

Mrs. Mary Smith left Friday evening for Sevee Springs where she will spend the remainder of the season.

Miss Lucy Galloway, of Grimesland, is visiting Mrs. J. D. Cox.

A young lady is on a visit at the home of Mr. J. B. Carroll. Her stay will be indefinite. Her little biddie with auburn locks is highly elated over her playmate he can appreciate. Still we grow.

Prof. J. L. Jackson has accepted a position to teach school at Atinston, Pender county. He left yesterday for his work.

Miss Edie Kittrell is on a visit to Miss Nannie Nichols, of Standard.

Mrs. J. W. Sparks and children are visiting relatives in New Bern.

Rev. J. W. Blanchard, of Kingston, spent last Wednesday night visiting A. G. Cox.

W. C. Jackson, of Ayden, was here Wednesday in attendance upon a meeting of the directors of the Winterville High School.

YANCEYVILLE NEWS.

YANCEYVILLE, N. C., Aug. 6th.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

I want to tell you that our town is just beginning to rouse itself. It is one of the oldest in the State and purely historic. Also it has one good naturedly by worrying about something that will not please, no matter in what shape it comes, hot or cold, rain or shine.

There is no good reason why the weather as a topic of conversation should be barred. For all ages it has served it good purpose in respect and only in its foolish stage can it be named as beyond good taste, and its mention be worthy of social ostracism.

Naturally there must be cracks on "weather bureau weather," who will pore over the daily record and compare today with every day of the same date for years past.

And then there is the daily forecast of weather which serves its purpose with those who must have a forecast come out correctly, or else there will be an unlimited amount of worry, largely conversational and visited upon innocent persons.

But through it all the weather, per se, should not worry any person needlessly. There must be the physical disorders due to extremes of temperature, and yet there is no need of worrying over these, but simply exercising care. The changes of weather may be met and not prove of any harm, but the changes of weather may be met and not prove of any harm, but the changes of weather may be met and not prove of any harm.

Our school begins Sept. 2nd. All seem to be thoroughly interested, and will make it a grand success. Mr. J. F. Stokes, of your county, has taken charge of the school, and is now up here hard at work in the school's interest. No doubt he will succeed. More about it later.

Fine Oats.

Thursday Mr. W. J. Wyatt, of Winterville, sent THE REFLECTOR a sample of oats that he has just harvested. The oats are of the "Virginia Turf" variety and the yield was 50 bushels to one seeded.

NOTICE.

We desire to announce to the tobacco growing public that we will run the old Greenville Warehouse the coming tobacco season. We ask a liberal share of your patronage and promise to merit the same by a close personal attention to business. It is well known, and conceded by all, that the Greenville Warehouse has the best lights under which to show tobacco to advantage. We have had many years experience in the business, and are thoroughly familiar with the trade in all its branches. We will have comfortable rooms with clean new cots for the use of our customers who remain over night, also box stulls for their team, and Col. T. H. Walker, the well known joker, will act as farmers' host. Mr. G. Lafayette Moore, who as a drummer, has built up such an honorable reputation for fair dealing with his customers, will be with us as floor manager and general assistant, and extends to his friends a cordial invitation to sell their tobacco at

The Greenville Warehouse.

Mr. Robt. M. Barham, a gentleman of culture and an auctioneer of ability, will be with us, and will be glad to have his friends and customers sell with us, where he will work for their interest. We respectfully submit five reasons for earnestly soliciting a liberal share of your patronage.

1st. Because we are independent, and refused to have anything to do with the Warehouse Combination.

2nd. We are conducting strictly a warehouse business, and are not trying to buy cheap tobacco, but use all means in our power to sell tobacco as high as possible, as our interest and the farmers are one and the same.

3rd. Because Greenville with her fourteen prize houses, steam drying and stemming establishments, has ample facilities and capital to handle the entire crop of the surrounding section. Her buyers have orders and contracts from every tobacco manufacturing country on the globe.

4th. Because our relations with these order and contract buyers are of the most friendly and cordial nature, and we have ample means at our command to push every sale to the full limit of its value.

5th. Because, with all the bright tobacco manufacturing concerns of the world, domestic and export speculators, attending every sale at the old Greenville Warehouse, with our determination and the hearty co-operation of every man connected with us, to use every effort in his power in the interest of our patrons, and the hearty support of the buyers, we are in position to sell tobacco as high as the highest.

Respectfully,

MOORMAN, EVANS & CO.

Leaving Off The Worry Part.

There are numerous vexations during the summer months and every real trouble can be more than truly increased by worrying over it.

It is a stale, and generally worthless admonition, that of saying "don't worry about it," yet this advice can be given without any exception that of giving positive comfort in its acceptance.

No doubt the day's heat is accentuated by the oft repeated greeting, "Is it hot enough for you?" No aggravation need be aroused by this salutation, rather there is the humorous reply, which leaves both sides in better humor.

It is the weather grumbler who aggravates this topic of conversation, and makes it insane and bordering on the idiotic.

There is a weather philosophy which can be cultivated, and as Becky Sharp said, "we never get what we want, or want what we get." So what is the use of treating our good nature harshly by worrying about something that will not please, no matter in what shape it comes, hot or cold, rain or shine.

There is no good reason why the weather as a topic of conversation should be barred. For all ages it has served it good purpose in respect and only in its foolish stage can it be named as beyond good taste, and its mention be worthy of social ostracism.

Naturally there must be cracks on "weather bureau weather," who will pore over the daily record and compare today with every day of the same date for years past.

And then there is the daily forecast of weather which serves its purpose with those who must have a forecast come out correctly, or else there will be an unlimited amount of worry, largely conversational and visited upon innocent persons.

But through it all the weather, per se, should not worry any person needlessly. There must be the physical disorders due to extremes of temperature, and yet there is no need of worrying over these, but simply exercising care. The changes of weather may be met and not prove of any harm, but the changes of weather may be met and not prove of any harm.

Our school begins Sept. 2nd. All seem to be thoroughly interested, and will make it a grand success. Mr. J. F. Stokes, of your county, has taken charge of the school, and is now up here hard at work in the school's interest. No doubt he will succeed. More about it later.

PHONETIC SPELLING.

CONVILLE, N. C., Aug. 9, 1901.

EDITOR REFLECTOR.

As so many of the teachers who attended the Winterville institute have taken advantage of your invitation to give their opinion of the institute I have concluded that the popular thing for me to do is to fall in line and do likewise.

I think Prof. Lineberry, McWhorter, and Carr were excellent teachers in their respective spheres. They could so easily lead us teachers to take such a deep and intense interest in our studies that the work seemed more of a recreation than labor. Indeed while we were doing until after we had finished and taken a retrospective view and summed up the results. I hope we teachers will be able to do "Johnny" and "Sally" likewise next winter.

I, an old friend of phonetic spelling, took a deep interest in Prof. Con's exposition of the phonetic method of teaching reading. I think that every child should be taught to promptly give the sounds of any word in our language. How many people there are who can not seem to learn to read, who can not correctly analyze such words as gnashing, which, shout, measure, tooth, thy, etc. With a universal knowledge of phonics people would soon see the unreasonable nature of the spelling of a great many of the words in our language. Then would come a demand for phonetic spelling that would ultimately lead to an enlarged alphabet of 43 letters and a method of spelling in which each sound is always represented by the same letter, and each letter always represents the same sound, no silent letters to be used.

It is nearly as easy to learn to spell phonetically and to read phonotypy (like that used by The Bern Pittman Co., of Cincinnati, further Testament and other books) as it is to learn to read by the old method. But I cannot hope to see this great boon to humanity come into use until after the teachers of this land have taught phonics well to all the public school children. As the world would not receive Arabic notation until public sentiment was ripened for it, so must we wait for the adoption of phonetic spelling, the metric system and other good things until sentiment is ripe for it. The world will be ready for phonetic spelling when phonics gets widely disseminated. WALTER GARDNER.

PICKING SHOT.

Watermelons Cause Another Downfall.

"Look not upon the meat when its red" is not a scriptural quotation, but if one dares had not dispensed too much fondness for red meat watermelons he might not have had so many shot under his hide.

Mr. R. A. Tyson has a melon patch a little above town. Not a great way from that patch is a saw mill. Mr. Tyson had been missing some of his choicest melons, and Thursday night a shot gun went out to see if the cause could be ascertained. There was no long to wait before a dark form was seen creeping along, his fingers going thump, thump, on the sleeping melons. The shot run well up its voice and spoke, there was a yell and a swift flying figure disappeared in the darkness. The night watchman of the saw mill was not found at his post this morning, and rumor says he is home having shot picked out of him.

WALKER'S

THE GREAT TONIC LAXATIVE

If you have sour stomach, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, bad breath, dizziness, inactive liver, heartburn, kidney troubles, headache, loss of appetite, insomnia, lack of energy, bad blood, blotched or rusty skin, or any symptoms and disorders which tell the story of bad bowels and an impaired digestive system, Laxative will Cure You.

It will clean out the bowels, stimulate the liver and kidneys, strengthen the mucous membranes of the stomach, purify your blood and put you "on your feet" again. Your appetite will return, your bowels move regularly, your liver and kidneys cease to trouble you, your skin will clear and freshen and you will feel the old time energy and buoyancy.

Medicine making the proper medicine to give their little ones for constipation, diarrhea, colic and similar troubles, will find Laxative an ideal medicine for children. It keeps their bowels regular without pain or purging, acts as a general tonic, restores appetite, aids digestion, relieves restlessness, clears the coated tongue, reduces fever, causes refreshing, restful sleep and makes them healthy and happy. Give children Laxative and you will find it out for it.

For Sale by

Laxative is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, because it comes in two medicines. One is Laxative for children, and the other is Laxative for adults. It is sold in small bottles for 10 cents, and in larger bottles for 25 cents. It is sold in all drug stores, and by mail order. Write to J. B. White, Greenville, N. C., for a free trial bottle. No charge for postage. A large family box of Laxative will last for a long time.

Mosquitoes And Malaria.
The most prevalent disease in North Carolina, certainly from now until frost, is malaria fever in one form or another. It is by no means confined to the low lying Eastern section of the State, but is quite abundant in many localities in the hill country, having been reported even from Cherokee.

By recent scientific investigations the cause of the fever has been shown to be a microscopic animal known as the plasmodium malariae or ben-ama-virus, which feeds upon the red corpuscles of the blood—hence the pallor of persons suffering from chronic malaria. The development of this little parasite in the blood is as follows: One of the spores, or baby germs, so to speak, enters a red corpuscle and, feeding on its contents, grows until at the end of twenty-four hours it has become nearly as large as the corpuscle. It then, by a process known as segmentation, splits up into a dozen or more little spores again, which for a short time are free in the blood and unattached to the corpuscles. It is just as the segmentation occurs that the chill comes on, which explains the periodic recurrence of the chill every twenty-four hours, and as it has been found that quinine is most effective in killing the germs while they are free in the blood and not attached to the substance of the corpuscles, the best time to give quinine is just before the chill is expected.

The method of the introduction of the malarial poison, the plasmodium, certainly the chief method, has been determined beyond all question to be the sting of a certain variety of mosquito known as anophelines, the common mosquito, which while more abundant in the low country, is also found in the hill country as a carrier of disease, being known as a culex. The latter species will breed in still water of any kind, no matter how pure, but the former, our enemy, will only breed in stagnant pools in which there is a certain amount of vegetable matter, especially if there are no fish, such as minnows or sun-perch, which feed upon the larvae or wigglers. This explains the fact that malarial malaria is more abundant after frosts, in the course of which the stream, getting out of its banks, washes holes in the ground, and speedily filling leaves these stagnant pools with few or no fish in them. Mosquitoes are very much more abundant in this exceptional year of freshets than usual. It also explains the danger of brick holes.

The larvae, or wigglers, as we generally call them, are the young mosquitoes. Although they live in the water from the time they are hatched from the eggs which were laid on the surface until they reach maturity they cannot live without air—they must breathe continually to the general rule, they breathe "through end foremost"—through a long breathing tube which springs from the body near the tail and which they stick out of the top of the water they want air. The bearing of this arrangement on their destruction will appear later.

There is a popular misapprehension in regard to the movement of mosquitoes. The general impression is that they are carried by the wind, and people at the sea side say that a land breeze brings mosquitoes. It is a fact that they are more abundant when the breeze is from the land or in a calm, but according to those who know best the fact probably is not that they are blown from the swamp to landward, but that they simply come out again from the trees and shrubbery and the sea side of houses where they had taken refuge from the strong sea breeze which was too rough for their fragile bodies. With rare exceptions they travel, it is said, seldom more than a mile and generally not so far. When one is troubled with mosquitoes a careful search will almost always reveal stagnant water in the near vicinity.

The destruction of mosquitoes and the consequent prevention of malaria is accomplished in two ways: First and best, by the thorough drainage of all stagnant pools of water, and second, by keeping the surface of such pools covered with petroleum, which is known as light fuel oil, or even

To produce the best results in fruit, vegetable or grain, the fertilizer used must contain enough Potash. For particulars see our pamphlets. We send them free.

GERMAN KALI WORKS,
55 Nassau St., New York.

The crude petroleum being better and cheaper than ordinary kerosene. The film of oil prevents the larvae from breathing and suffocates them. The quantity necessary is one ounce or two table-spoons to every fifteen square feet of surface, repeated every two weeks. This oil method was employed with great success last year by the city of Winchester, Va., and our own town of Tarboro has recently shown a most commendable spirit of enterprise in adopting it. Some care and a little expense in securing protection against mosquitoes and in providing a supply of pure drinking water will practically insure against malaria.
