GOV. AYCOCK ON LYNCHING.

Raleigh, N. C., August 28.—Gov. Aycock said today that he is actually afraid to take up a newspaper every morning for fear he will see accounts of lynchings. The situation is, he says, simply appalling and he doesn't know what to do. The crime for which lynching is administered, seems to be increasing at an alarming rate. He says the offerings of rewards for the lynchings is of no avail, and even if some party or parties should be reported there is no grand jury to be found that will find a true bill, or petit jury that will convict.

The Governor charges the newspapers with being largely responsible for the lynchings, in that the action of the lynchers is invariably endorsed by them and the state meant that nothing else was to be expected. He also takes the position that the lynchings tend to increase the crime of rape in that the disregard of the law by lynchers who are generally of the better class of people infuses the lower element with a disregard for it which manifests itself in the commission of the nameless crime. He says he is powerless to put down either the lynching or the rape, and don't believe conditions can be changed until a public sentiment is created which will put a stop to lynching.

The newspapers of the State deplore the occurrence of lynchings equally as much as does Gov. Aycock, and it instead of blaming the newspapers the Governor would lay the responsibility to the courts and the lawyers he would be near right. Let the Governor, if it is in his power, take some steps—or at least advocate them—that will lead to the enactment of fewer and in the name of trials in court, and there will be less ground for the newspapers to say "nothing else was to be expected" when there is a lynching.

The manner of trial of perpetrators of crimes that cause lynchings is wrong. Who wants to see the victim of such a crime dragged into court and forced to repeat the horrible story in public? Who wants to see her subjected to a cruel cross examination by some lawyer whose sense of honor and justice is for the time being blotted by the fee he gets for defending a criminal, the purpose of such examination being to confuse her and catch some word by which her testimony can be broken down, further humiliation heaped upon her, and the criminal turned loose? And if a conviction takes place and sentence is passed for execution at some future day, who knows but what the Governor will by reprieve, commutation or pardon, set aside what the jury and court have done?

These things have been done, and they grate heavily upon the feelings of the people who want to see the virtue and lives of our women protected. Let measures be provided by which criminals can be tried immediately, shield the victim from publicity and humiliation during the trial, and as soon as the guilt of the criminal is established let him be executed without delay. Bring about these reforms and there will be no danger upon picking up a newspaper of reading an account of a lynching.

The REFLECTOR wishes another lynching would never occur in North Carolina, but it believes they will continue to occur until there are such changes about the courts that people can see criminals will be properly and speedily dealt with by the law.

BOOK PUBLISHERS UNFAIR.

Reports coming out from Raleigh say that the State Superintendent of Public Instruction is very much exercised over certain actions of the book companies holding contracts to furnish books to be used in the public schools of the State. Of course the book concerns do not want any old books exchanged—though the law requires them to make exchange—and they have adopted all kinds of rife methods to prevent or discourage the offering of any old books in exchange. Some of these things coming to the attention of the Superintendent tiled him and he is doing some plain talking on the subject.

There are some other things in connection with this school book business that perhaps the public has not caught on to. The book concerns made a great flourish of their sacrifices and how much cheaper they were going to sell books, but when the thing is figured into a little it will be seen that they are making more on many books under the new law than they did under the old law. That is they will make more if they can get anybody to handle the books for them. The agent or dealer who sells the books is the man upon whom the loss falls, for all the reduction made by the book concerns is taken out of the commissions of the seller. They used to pay 25 per cent commission for selling books, while now they offer only 10 per cent, and most of them have contracts that no business man should fasten upon him.

Here is the way some of the prices figure out. Just take three books for example:

UNDER OLD LAW.

Book	Price	Com.	Profit
Web. Dic'y.	18	4 1/2	36
Har. Sp'r.	20	5	15
Steele's Phys'gy	50	12 1/2	37 1/2

UNDER NEW LAW.

Web. Dic'y.	18	4 1/2	32
Har. Sp'r.	15	1 1/2	13 1/2
Steele's Phys'gy	45	4 1/2	15 1/2

This is seen that on some of the books the profit to the publisher is larger than before. All the books will not figure out just that way but on the whole they come out pretty well.

We learn that many dealers to whom contracts were offered are refusing to handle the books on any such terms and conditions, and that ought to be the decision of every dealer in the State. No doubt the late Legislature meant well in enacting the new school book law, but it played exactly into the hands of the book concerns and occasioned no end of annoyance to school teachers, pupils and parents.

The Greenville REFLECTOR published the proceedings in the Mayor's court of that township for a week. The Mayor was very busy and the fines were numerous, and the causes were quite alike. There were sundry "drunk and disorderly" victims fined. Then there were fights and rioting. One fellow was arrested for keeping an open bar. Some minors were arraigned. It was an ugly showing for a week in a small town. Whiskey runs at the bottom of all the violence and drunkenness. — Wilmington Messenger.

I am in better fix to do business than ever before, and if work and the best prices will get it I am going to have your patronage. I appeal to no passion or prejudice but upon the bed rock of truth and merit I rest my claim for your patronage. I ask you this year to give me a chance and I will take care of the balance. I have been running a warehouse on this market nearly 10 years and I think I know how to sell your tobacco. I have with me a corps of thoroughly competent, reliable and courteous assistants, who will use every honorable means to advance your interest. When you come to Greenville I ask you especially to come around and see me whether you bring tobacco or not. A hearty, princely welcome always awaits you at the Farmers.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 30.

Washington would be interested at present were it not for the Sampson-Schley controversy, but both sides are so busy in considering what they will do to each other that there is a semi-silphurous suggestion of war. The adherents of Admiral Sampson have thus far been kept occupied in explaining to the public the chief's errand on duty as they can without giving their case away beforehand. Some of the explanations do not explain.

The latest development in the case is the discovery of the fact that the Cuban, General Garcia, knew, or surmised, that Cervera was coming out of the harbor of Santiago on the morning of July 3. His information came from the refugee French Consul at Santiago, and was, presumably, wigwagged to Sampson, as there was a code of signals arranged between Garcia and Sampson for that precise emergency. It would appear therefore, that Sampson not only thought that Cervera might come out at that time, and, as he has already admitted, made all arrangements to stop him should this happen.

The Greenville REFLECTOR published the proceedings in the Mayor's court of that township for a week. The Mayor was very busy and the fines were numerous, and the causes were quite alike. There were sundry "drunk and disorderly" victims fined. Then there were fights and rioting. One fellow was arrested for keeping an open bar. Some minors were arraigned. Winterville Department.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Aug. 31.

On last Thursday the Hunnaker Carriage Co. shipped 12 brand new buggies. Almost daily this firm make shipments and it is not to be wondered at. A look at one of their vehicles, to say nothing of their durability, is a bait to tempting for one who is in need of a riding troop to assist. Their work cannot be excelled. J. E. Green went to Grifton Thursday and returned Friday morning. To hear a description of his visit and the pretty girl(s) he met is truly convincing that Jimmie has 'em bad.

W. A. West, of the Beaufort County Lumber Company, spent a short while here Tuesday. Mrs. G. W. Parker went to Ayden Tuesday and returned Wednesday.

J. C. McGowan, of this vicinity, left last Wednesday for Charleston, S. C., where he has gone to look after some real estate he owns in that State.

A. C. Tucker and little son, of Standard, were here Wednesday. Mrs. C. M. Summrell is visiting friends near Littlefield.

Miss Addie Cox came up on yesterday morning's train from Seven Springs. She will attend the next session of the Winterville High School.

Miss Cora Braxton, of Ayden, who has been on a visit to Mrs. W. B. Wingate, returned to her home Friday afternoon.

Miss Ophelia Parker, who has been away for some time on a visit, returned Friday. She was accompanied by Miss Lizzie Murphy, of Greene county, who will spend some time with her.

Prof. G. E. Lineberry went to Kinston Wednesday on business and returned Friday morning.

Miss Rosa Tucker, of Standard, took the train here Wednesday evening for Kinston, where she went to consult Dr. Hunt concerning her eyes. She returned Friday morning and will be a student in the school here next session.

Miss Annie Lee Staley, of Staley, N. C., Assistant Principal of the school here, returned last Wednesday evening.

Our old friend J. B. Latham, of Washington, spent a little while with us Wednesday.

Mr. Henry Harding, of Washington, who has been on a visit here for several days, returned home. Mrs. Dr. B. T. Cox and little Ollie Veria, went with her and will spend some time.

Bob Little and Josh Manning attended the picnic at Grimesland on the 29th. They report a grand time, and are nearly, if not quite, as sick as Jimmie Greene.

Es-Sheriff Allen Warren and son, Olen E. Warren, of Greenville, were here a short while yesterday evening.

L. L. Kittrell smiles! It's a boy! Still we grow.

Mrs. W. L. House and child returned from a visit to Hanrahan yesterday.

WE DO THE WORK.

And that is the reason the old Greenville Warehouse is selling so much tobacco. We get the highest price for every pile sold on our floor. The farmers see this, and appreciating the hard work we do for them they bring us their tobacco. We treat all alike, get the best price every time. Bring your next load to the Greenville Warehouse and we will show you the truth of this. We have every accommodation for you and your team.

A Good Warehouseman.

We have been noticing the sales on this market very closely for the last ten years and in time gone by have often said that O. L. Joyner was one of the most wide awake warehousemen in the state. It was he who first gave this market its up and onward career to be one of the largest markets in the world. It was his untiring efforts and ceaseless vigil that held the market up when enemies were attacking it on all sides. He threw life into it and inspired others. On his sale today it reminded us of old times at the old Eastern Warehouse when Joyner had it in charge but when the market was smaller. He has grown with the market and is today the equal of any warehouseman in the state. It gives us great pleasure to note his rapidly increasing trade.

Married.

Mr. Nathaniel Beard and Miss Penie A. Campbell, both of Chisolm township, were married in Greenville at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in R. Hyman's photograph gallery. The couple came to Greenville together, and after the license was obtained the bridegroom let it be known that he desired to have a quiet marriage right away. Equire C. D. Rountree was called upon to officiate and the ceremony was performed at the time and place above stated, only enough for witnesses being present. Photographer Hyman acted as best man, Sheriff Harrington was usher and H. C. Edwards whistled the wedding march. Squire Rountree put up the ceremony in good style.

BACK TO FIRST LOVE.

Married Same Man the Second Time.

Goldsboro, N. C., August 27.—The story of fiction of Laura Jean Libby, entitled, "Her First Love With His Wife," has been eclipsed in Greene county by an actual occurrence in every day life, where a woman fell in love with her husband, and married him. The pages of fiction, on which are founded the wild and fanciful imaginings of wonderful minds, do not contain a story more strange than the one of which The Post correspondent has just learned and which will be related as follows:

Some several years ago there resided in Pitt county, near the town of Farmville, a young lady named Miss Addie May, who was as well known there then as she is now, and has a father still living, who is a merchant in the town of Farmville. Over across the line in Greene county resided a young man whose initials we could not learn, but whose surname was Dupree. These two young people met, loved and were married. The young man was somewhat dissipated and after two years of married life, which was not altogether pleasant and congenial, Mrs. Dupree sued for a divorce in the courts of Greene county and obtained it. Some months afterward she met a foreigner who had come into the community by the name of Viscontes. He was intelligent, attractive and handsome, and when he asked Mrs. Dupree to become his wife she readily consented. This match was no more successful than the first. The foreigner was also dissipated and in addition to his bad habits he was lazy. It is said, and failed to provide for his family. On these grounds Mrs. Viscontes sued for a divorce, which was granted. Her last experience with matrimonial life covered a period of several years. After she had been separated from her last husband for some months she again met her first husband, Mr. Dupree and fell in love with him and he with her, the second time. This peculiar love match resulted in a wedding in Greene county yesterday and Mrs. Dupree was the bride. For the second time they were married yesterday, and the writer trusts that their experience on the present happy occasion will be different from the one which preceded it some years ago.—Raleigh Post.

While most of the above is true, there are some errors in it. The bride has not a father now living and in business at Farmville, as her father died a number of years ago. Nor did the foreigner she married come in the community before she met him. After obtaining the first divorce from Mr. Dupree she saw an advertisement of a gentleman in Texas, wanting a governess. She answered the advertisement, terms were agreed upon, she went to Texas to be governess to Mr. Viscontes's home, and while there married him. This was in March 1893, Mrs. Dupree having obtained an absolute divorce from her husband, Mr. F. M. Dupree, the September term of Pitt Superior Court previous, 1889. Four years before, 1885, she obtained a bed and board divorce from him. The divorce from her second husband, whose name was James A. Lorenza de Visconti, (was obtained at April term, 1901, of Pitt Superior court. The second marriage to Mr. Dupree took place at Snow Hill Tuesday morning.

Amusements Come Too High.

Now that the theatrical and circus season is opening up, amusement lovers in North Carolina are confronted with the fact that any circus coming to this State can only play at one or two points where large crowds can be quickly gathered. The reason for this is the immense tax, the lowest tax on which a show being five hundred dollars per day, with a possible maximum limit of one thousand dollars a day.

What this excessive tax rate was made for, it is impossible to guess. It may be that the old idea that a circus carries all the money out of a country, named North Carolina's legislators to place this practically prohibitive tax on the circus. If the high tax rate was made to increase the State revenues, it has fallen short, a failure.

In the theatre line, it will be found that the license is excessive for those running the show houses, the result being that the amusement loving public must suffer, being given poor shows at high rates for admission, and if really good entertainments could be presented, the charge of admission would be beyond the ordinary citizen's pocket.

That there has been no prohibitive tax on base ball is a blessing, especially in Eastern Carolina and in this city, where the public has thoroughly enjoyed the summer by seeing many and exciting games, at no great expense.—New Bern Journal.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 19, 1900. (We have handled Dr. Moffett's Testina (Treating Pimples) ever since its first production in the public and trade as a proprietary medicine, and our trade in it has steadily increased from year to year until our orders now amount to two or three hundred gross per year, which is high for any one medicine of its kind. The satisfaction it is giving to the mothers of the country, for they say that nothing so effectually counteracts the effects of the summer's hot sun overcomes so quickly the tendency to pimples.)

Plague Of Caterpillars.

The people are waking up to the fact that this is one of the greatest caterpillar years on record. This pest is usually unknown except in the spring, but there have been three crops this year. Along with the caterpillar has come another pest in the shape of a small worm, of a brownish red, with small white streaks, that infests certain of the shade trees, notably the cotton-wood poplars, by the thousands and literally strip them of leaves. The superabundance of caterpillars, worms and bugs is accounted for by the long wet spell. Plague Of Caterpillars.

The people are waking up to the fact that this is one of the greatest caterpillar years on record. This pest is usually unknown except in the spring, but there have been three crops this year. Along with the caterpillar has come another pest in the shape of a small worm, of a brownish red, with small white streaks, that infests certain of the shade trees, notably the cotton-wood poplars, by the thousands and literally strip them of leaves. The superabundance of caterpillars, worms and bugs is accounted for by the long wet spell. Super-wood Cemetery, has waged a relentless war on the pests all summer and by dint of hard work has kept the cemetery comparatively free from them. As a result, the cemetery trees look as green and fresh as in the early spring, in striking contrast to many of the shade trees about the city. The New York and Baltimore papers have lately devoted columns to the plagues of the caterpillar in the parks of those cities and they say that nothing like it has ever been seen. The only way to get rid of the caterpillars at the present time is to burn them. The tree will be spoiled for the season, but the unrightly caterpillar will be gone.
