GREENVILLE, N. C.
O. J. WHITCHARD, Ed. & Owner

Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1901.

One glorious Nation and one people. Our country must be rid of anarchy. There should be no quarter for the lawless and the assassin.

Out of nine Presidents since 1861, three, or one third, have been assassinated. Can any kingdom or despotism in Europe show a worse record?

Lamentable as was his assassination, we believe the death of President McKinley and circumstances surrounding it, has drawn our entire country together in closer ties than ever. It is well said, he was our President.

Upon reaching Canton Mrs. McKinley was completely prostrated and could take no part in the funeral exercises of her beloved husband. She bore up bravely through many trying days, but the affection was too heavy for her. There is no much alarm about her condition.

We doubt if any town held a more appropriate or more interesting meeting in honor of President McKinley than was held in Greenville Thursday afternoon. And it does not seem possible that greater eulogies upon the life of the great man could have been heard. Every address was beautiful.

As a mark of respect to President McKinley the Atlantic Coast Line had all business on its entire system stop for five minutes, Thursday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock. Every wheel stopped, every train came to a stand still on the track, every telegraph instrument was hushed, and every employee and official from the highest to the lowest lay down his work, and there was silence for the five minutes.

Order Books Direct.

Where the publishing companies have failed to locate convenient depositories for the sale of public schools books a method has been found by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to convene patrons of the public schools in such localities.

Superintendent Toon urges patrons of the public schools to send direct to the publishing houses or to the order the retail price of the books desired. Section 13 of the text book law requires the publishers to send school books upon direct order, the postage, express or freight to be prepaid.

The Supt. of Public Instruction thinks such action will satisfy those persons who have made complaint and that it will have the effect of compelling the publishers to establish convenient repositories.

—Baltimore Post.

Having to order books direct puts more trouble as well as expense on those wanting the books.

To Preserve Corn and Peas.

William Barbercy, of Sampson county, gives a very simple and very effective remedy he thinks for weevils and bugs in corn and peas. He cleans out his crib, house or bin, then with a spot of dirt on the floor to obviate the danger of fire he fumigates with sulphur poured on a shovel of live coals of fire. He then puts in his corn chiefly in shuck and at about every foot of depth he sprinkles common cooking soda at the rate of about five pounds to 150 bushels of corn. Peas are rated much in the same way. He does not winnow the chaff out of them however, until he wishes to use them. He is delighted with his successful experiment. —Concord Standard.

for highest market prices at all times, and clever, courteous treatment at the hands of every one connected with the Farmers Warehouse.

HEAR ME A MOMENT.

I am in better fix to do business than ever before, and if work and the best prices will get it I am going to have your tobacco. I appeal to no passion or prejudice but upon the bed rock of truth and merit I rest my claim for your patronage. I ask you this year to give me a chance and I will take care of the balance. I have been running a warehouse on this market nearly 10 years and I think I know how to sell your tobacco. I have with me a corps of thoroughly competent, reliable and courteous assistants, who will use every honorable means to advance your interest. When you come to Greenville I ask you especially to come around and see me whether you bring tobacco or not. A hearty, princely welcome always awaits you at the Farmers.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20.

The body of President McKinley has been born away to his home at Canton, but an atmosphere of funeral solemnity still envelops the city. Even the skies seem reflecting the mood of the people, for every day since Monday has been wet and windy, with an autumn chill in the air. The two days of mourning, Tuesday and Thursday have checked and interrupted business, and little save what is necessary to daily life has been done.

The informal funeral cortege which passed up Pennsylvania avenue on Monday night was in its way the most impressive that historic thoroughfare has ever seen. As the casket went by its way to the White House, the street was lined with people, and instead of turning away and going to their homes they silently fell behind it, and followed it, unbidden and unheeded, to the White House gates. There was no music, whether by accident or design, and the long procession moved almost in absolute silence. Now and then some one would begin to sing "The President's hymn", and the room beneath that in which the President lay had to be turned into a hospital filled with groaning, shrieking patients. Some of them had been knocked down and trampled upon.

There was, of course, much work for the detectives in catching and hauling pickpockets, who are always on hand for an occasion like this. Among those who were robbed was General Longstreet, who lost his pocket book and money while standing on the steps of the Capitol, but did not let that interfere with his attending the services, after which he reported the loss to the police.

Foreign nations have expressed their sympathy to an even greater degree than at the time of Garfield's death, which by the way, occurred on Sept. 20, 1881, just twenty years ago. The London Times suggested that it would be becoming in King Edward to request the Duke of Cornwall and York, who is now in Montreal, to attend the funeral. It was impossible for him to do so, but he has sent one of his aids who will represent him at Canton.

President Roosevelt has done nothing thus far, except to express his determination to carry out, in a general way, the policy of President McKinley. In fact, the chances are that he has not had time to think of much else. He is a man who usually thinks of but one thing at a time, and all indications are that he is very deeply moved by the recent tragedy, and that his plans for the immediate future have not yet been formed. There are some predictions, however, which are even now made.

The gravest is yawning for the fellow who is always in a hurry. Some women think they ought to get enough pin money to buy diamonds with.

A woman may dislike a man who doesn't understand her and positively hate a man who does.

The strength of the foundations on which our government rests is demonstrated to the world by the self-restraint with which the American people have accepted their great affliction, the peacefulness with which a new chief magistrate has been installed and the loyalty with which they pray for his success. —New York Herald.

A Treat. The editor is not a hunter, but he has some friends among the Nimrods who remember him now and then. Mr. B. Hyman, the champion squirrel hunter of this region, went out Thursday after the nimble bunnies and captured a nice string of them. He brought us enough for a splendid feast, which was much appreciated.

Looks Like a Bird. Mr. W. M. Barnhardt showed us a little curiosity Saturday in which the vegetable kingdom seems bent on imitation of the animal. This trio was a sweet potato that was only lacking wings, legs and feet. The shape was complete, including tail and eyes and that positive half starting look as if eyeing something a little on the side. It was decidedly suggestive of a little bird as one would perceive on sight and not the result of that peculiar power of the mind by which it exercises itself through the eye and sees in the red hot fire coal the vision of all things from a moon shine pie up to an army with swords and banners. —Concord Standard.

Did it Ever Occur to You that a Little Perry Davis' Pain-Killer on the end of the finger applied once or twice to a mosquito bite counteracts the poison and speedily reduces the swelling? Pain-Killer will also cure bites and stings of other poisonous insects as well as repulse. See directions as to use upon wrapper or in bottle. Avoid substitutes. There is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. Price 25c and 50c.

WE & THE WORK.

And that is the reason the old Greenville Warehouse is selling so much tobacco. We get the highest price for every pile sold on our floor. The farmers see this, and appreciating the hard work we do for them they bring us their tobacco. We treat all alike, get the best price every time. Bring your next load to the Greenville Warehouse and we will show you the truth of this. We have every accommodation for you and your team.

Rent and Sale. I will rent my farm, four miles north of Greenville and one mile from House station, for the year 1902 with privilege of five years.

About Nov. 1st I will sell all the farm implements, engine, thrasher, grist mill, carts, wagons, horses, mules, hogs, cattle, corn, fodder and hay on said farm.

Parties wishing to examine the farm or equipment can call any time and do so.

JOHN FLANAGAN, Small Beginnings.

The statement that a man who has a good business idea needs a fortune with which to advertise it is not true. Some of the most successful of business men are those who began in a small way, gradually increasing their advertising as they could. One man who now employs 1000 hands first transported his materials in a wheelbarrow, and advertised his business only in a few lines in a single newspaper. —Philadelphia Record.

Taxes. I will attend at the following times and places for the purpose of collecting taxes for the year 1901: Bethel, Saturday, Oct. 5th. Stokes, Monday, Oct. 7th. Grifton, Tuesday, Oct. 8th. Mrs. B. R. King and children, of Goldsboro, who have been visiting relatives here, left this morning.

Miss Katie Hamilton, of Grifton, after spending some time visiting relatives here, returned to her home Thursday evening.

Mrs. W. L. House came home yesterday morning from a visit to her parents near Hauraham.

Miss Maggie Braxton came in on yesterday evening's train from Oakley where she has been spending some time visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, two very old people are dangerously ill at their home in this place. Neither are expected to live through the week.

Since writing them above Mr. Morgan died last night about one o'clock. He had a severe stroke of paralysis last Thursday from which he never rallied. He was a good man and a devoted member of the Missionary Baptist church.

The burial will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Byrd graveyard. His aged wife still lingers at death's door.

The Price of Corn. Corn was quoted at Chicago on Monday at 54 cents; Philadelphia 52 cents, and in North Carolina at 50 to 51.00 per bushel.

Last season it sold in this State for about 60 cents while in the West 40 to 45 cents was considered a very good price. The present price is therefore an advance from 50 to 60 per cent over last year.

The North Carolina farmer who has corn for sale is both fortunate and wise in this day. The trouble we fear is that too many will be compelled to buy at the advanced price from a failure to attempt to provide enough others from losses on account of the bad season. —Baltimore Post.

HONORABLE MCKINLEY.

Preserve and Pitt County Pay a Beautiful Tribute to His Memory.

Our dead President, William McKinley, now rests in the silent tomb. His body was gracefully conformed to the grave, Thursday afternoon, at his home city, Canton, Ohio, in the presence of the largest and most distinguished ever assembled on like occasion in our land, and amid the highest honors ever paid any man. Everywhere there was sorrow and mourning, and in every city, town and hamlet of our country there were assemblies of people to honor his memory.

Amid the solemn tolling of bells from every church tower and from the Court House, the people of Greenville and the county of Warren assembled in the Temple of Justice to hear their last tribute of respect to our martyred President. The large building was soon filled to its utmost capacity, and even all who desired could not gain admission.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor W. H. Long, who in a brief announcement asked ex Governor John G. Foy to read the address. T. J. Jarvis to preside. In the chair for Jarvis paid a beautiful tribute to President McKinley King.

The combined choirs of the churches, under the direction of Rev. J. N. Booth, sang at intervals during the exercises "Jesus Love of My Soul," "Xearer, My God to Thee" and "Rock of Ages" the entire assembly joining in the singing.

Rev. H. M. Enre read the 90th Psalm and Rev. F. A. Bishop offered a most feeling and sympathetic prayer.

Judge A. C. Moore, chairman of the committee on resolutions offered the following:

The people of the town of Greenville and of the county of Pitt have this day assembled on our holidays and at the hour when the duties and services are being celebrated at the funeral of our late President, William McKinley, to resolve,

1st. That we desire to express the horror and indignation which we, in common with our fellow citizens of our country, feel at the disastrous assassination of the President of the United States.

2d. That we recognize the fact that the fatal shot which privied him of life was also directed at the existence of our Nation and was a wicked and murderous attack on those rights and liberties which are the inestimable prerogatives of every citizen of this great Union of States.

3rd. That justice to ourselves and to the people of our country will demand that we and present good government and all those from the people hold most dear, demand the enactment and rigid enforcement of stringent laws where anarchism and its vile teachings shall be forever stamped out crushed within our borders, so that no person who teaches claims or defends such infamous doctrines shall be permitted to come to this country, and no known anarchist now residing here shall be expelled from our country as an enemy to good government and an liberty loving people.

4th. That we honor and revere the memory of our martyred President, William McKinley, as a loved citizen and wise ruler whose public life embodied illustrated the highest order of statesmanship, unquestioned integrity and exalted patriotism whose private and domestic life combined the noblest and purest qualities which constitute a high character and gentlemanly and the praise of the sincere Christian.

5th. That our profoundest sympathies are with, and through will be with, the grief stricken widow in the deep affliction which has befallen her, and throughout the gloom which surrounds and in the sorrow which envelops all of us, no glimmer of light will be seen, let us trust as is believed in the shadow of death is God's way." "His will be done."

6th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Mrs. McKinley and his immediate family, and a copy be furnished to each of our town papers with a request for their publication.

After presenting the resolutions drew an eloquent speech from tended by Capt. Swift Galloway, W. F. Harding, Col. Harry

der named. Each of the speeches as of a very high order, couched most beautiful language, and all worthy the high character of in whom honor they spoke.

At the conclusion of the address the resolutions were adopted by unanimous vote, the doxology was sung and Rev. D. W. Davis pronounced the benediction.

The schools of the town were dismissed for the afternoon and all attended the exercises. Judge O.
Allen also adjourned court at 4 o'clock to give place to the com-memorial meeting.

of the deaths of infants. Dr. R. H. Butler,
D. St. Louis, Mo.

In order to secure some evidence for use in the trial of a damage suit against a Western railroad company, the agents of two Chicago lawyers had been run over by Roots county, Kansas, recently placed two dummy figures on the railway track at the point where the fatality had occurred, and awaited the arrival of an express train. His experiment near-caused the loss of another life;
the fireman of the express saw what was supposed to be an obstruction to the truck as the train approached at a speed of forty miles an hour and attempted to jump from the engine cab. The coal tender, however, engendered the engine to stop, and he held her until the train had passed over the dummies.

Mormonism is a damnable
grace to disown and civilization is the mark of the drunken dreamer of imbecile and idiot; fed and fostered by fornication in defiance law and gospel, fattening like happy on filth, appealing only to the ignorant or the base, this of scabs and ulcers and vermin dreads to claim comradeship with Christian churches. Shall we sort to tar and feathers or the good people of Burke, But we beg himself to denounce the lawless them—Morrison Herald.

a copy of the People's Journal and advertiser, published daily in Wilmington in the year 1876, by Thomas Loring, is the only notice of the establishment of an "extensive" and "new" first cotton mill in the State.

"Cotton Factory.—An extensive cotton factory has been established at Greensborough, in this State. Five hundred and twenty spindles and fifteen hundred in operation and between two and three hundred pounds of cotton can be manufactured in a day."

To those acquainted with the extent of the cotton mill industry now in North Carolina, the above will be of interest.—Wilmington Star.

Get a New Trial.

The Supreme Court has granted new trial in the case of the State vs. Amos Moore and others, which was tried in Pitt Superior Court at its last March term. It will be remembered that evidence upon which the State largely relied for the conviction of the defendants in this case was the conduct of a certain bloodhound made use of to trail from the store in which the alleged larceny was committed. It is probable the decision of the Supreme Court is founded on the incompetency of that evidence. The case, from the novelty of the main question involved in the appeal, has attracted a good deal of attention.

Gov. Aycock, when asked the best way to protect the lives of Presidents said: "By stamping out anarchy and all organizations of anarchists. You can accomplish nothing by enacting laws to protect the officer, for those laws now exist. The way to prevent it is to provide against the advocacy of anarchist doctrines."

Travelers in Eastern Siberia carry soup in sacks. The soups are frozen solid as stone, and keep indefinitely. Milk also is frozen and used by the pound.

There are many told tales of the slinky road of slander.

There is a great deal of sense concealed beneath the horse hair of the man who gives a thought to charity rarely gives anything else.

The so called trust friend often turns out to be the rankest traitor.

The man who wears his religion on his sleeve is generally out of the elbow.
