

Have You Forgot?

What? THAT I AM STILL CARRYING AN UP-TO-DATE LINE OF

Dry Goods, Dress Goods, Shoes
Hats, Shirts, Pants, Hardware
Tinware, AND A NUMBER OF OTHER THINGS WHICH I AM UNABLE TO MENTION

Come to see me for your next Barrel of Flour or Pork.
Yours to please

Jas. B. White.

AFTER TWO YEARS PREMIUMS HAVE BEEN PAID IN THE MUTUAL BENEFIT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

- OF NEWARK, N. J., YOUR POLICY HAS
1. Loan Value,
  2. Cash Value,
  3. Paid up Insurance,
  4. Extended Insurance that works automatically,
  5. Is Non-forfeitable,
  6. Will be re-instated if arrears be paid within one month while you are living, or within three years after lapse, upon satisfactory evidence of insurability and payment of arrears with interest.
  - After second year—7. No Restrictions.
  8. Irrevocable.
- Dividends are payable at the beginning of the second and of each succeeding year, provided the premium for the current year be paid. They may be used—1. To reduce Premiums, or 2. To increase the Insurance, or 3. To make policy payable as an endowment during the lifetime of insured.

J. L. SUGG, Agt
Greenville, N. C.

WALTON'S THE GREAT Tonic Laxative

If you have sour stomach, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, bad breath, dizziness, inactive liver, heartburn, kidney troubles, backache, loss of appetite, insomnia, lack of energy, bad blood, bloated or muddy skin, or any symptoms and disorders which tell the story of bad bowels and an impaired digestive system, Walton's Tonic Laxative will cure you.

It will clean out the bowels, stimulate the liver and kidneys, strengthen the mucous membranes of the stomach, purify your blood and put you "on your feet" again. Your appetite will return, your bowels move regularly, your liver and kidneys cease to trouble you, your skin will clear and freshen and you will feel the old time energy and buoyancy.

Doctors giving the proper medicine to give their little ones for constipation, diarrhea, colic and similar troubles, will find Walton's Tonic Laxative for children. It keeps their bowels regular without pain or griping, acts as a general tonic, builds up nature, aids digestion, relieves restlessness, clears the blood, improves complexion, refreshes, restores sleep and makes them well, happy and healthy. Walton's Tonic Laxative is sold in all drug stores.

For Sale by
Laxative is not only the most effective, but also the most pleasant and palatable. It is a perfect family medicine, and is sold in all drug stores.

Three Times The Value OF ANY OTHER.

ONE THIRD EASIER.
ONE THIRD FASTER.

Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory.

WHEELER & WILSON,
Manufacturing Company,
Atlanta, Ga.

For sale by
S. T. WHITE,
Greenville, N. C.

JOB PRINTING
All Kinds at The Reflector Office

Corn Potash.

The fertilizer applied, most furnish enough Potash, or the land will lose its producing power.

Read carefully our books on crops—sent free.

GERMAN KALI WORKS,
25 Nassau St., New York.

A Weeding Out Needed.

The Democratic party in this State needs good weeding out when it comes to selecting office-holders. The Populists in it has brought the last and a preceding Legislature into ill repute and more or less profound disgust, which should not be repeated. Weed out the small man and put forth broad minded, well educated conservative men—men who do not want the office for office sake but who would take it for the good they can do the party and State. Such men the office must seek. But we need them.—Albemarle Enterprise.

It is Easy to Say

"Be careful!" but must all go from behind to call out error, and the change as we call it. Last year, during winter colds, the cold, curing them had hand-fuls of Allen's Lung Balm. Better begin with Allen's Lung Balm, and not wait until it settles deep in the lungs, for then even with Allen's Lung Balm, complete relief will be slow.

The editor of one of the most widely circulated ten-cent magazines said the other day that he had only enough short stories to last for two months, and that he found this the hardest kind of material to get. Every man brings him bundles of short stories, but few of them are worth printing.

"I have had to beg some of the capable writers to send me short stories," he said, "and yet the impression prevails that the magazines are all loaded up with stuff enough to last them two years or more. This is not true of any of them, and it is particularly untrue of their supply of short stories."

You Know What You are Taking
When you take "Groves' Tonic Chills" because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply iron and quinine in a tasteful form. No Cure, No Pay, 60c.

Merchants here say that people in cities and towns in the considerable area in North Carolina and South Carolina where there are such deplorably short crops do not realize the conditions existing among a very considerable number of the people in the rural districts. Every day now there are appeals for aid. After the holidays, these appeals will be even more urgent.

An attorney here says he saw a letter today from a New York firm which does a million dollar business, largely in the most affected district in South Carolina; saying it would lose a great sum there. The situation in South Carolina is declared to be even worse than in this State, bad as affairs are in some 30 counties here. The farmers have a heavy bill for fertilizers to pay, no less than six millions of dollars, and this is an added strain. A great number of them simply cannot pay.—Raleigh Correspondent.

The Best Prescription for Malaria
Chills and Fever is a bottle of Groves' Tonic Chills. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteful form. No Cure, No Pay, 60c.

One of my children, says a writer in Good Words, was reading to her English history how the Mayor killed Wat Tyler. "I suppose it kicked him," she remarked. I explained that the Mayor was a man. "Oh," she said, "I thought a man was an old gray horse. My mother told me that the word 'sundry' which she heard in church in the exhortation, puzzled her much till she decided in her own mind it referred to the her, and said of Palestine where the Bible was written—a sun dry place."

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

NORFOLK, Va.
$200 Reward.

[STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.]
Executive Department.
WHEREAS, official information has been received at this Department that at Falkland, Pitt county, N. C., on or about December 22nd, 1901, John H. Parker shot and killed A. L. Little.

And Whereas, it appears that the said John H. Parker has fled from the State, or so concealed himself that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon him:
Now, therefore, I, Charles B. Aycock, Governor of the State of North Carolina, by virtue of an authority in me vested by law, do issue this my proclamation, offering a reward of two hundred dollars for the apprehension and delivery of the said John H. Parker to the Sheriff of Pitt county at the Court house in Greenville and I do enjoin all officers of the State and all good citizens to assist in bringing said criminal to justice.
Done at our City of Raleigh, the 28th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one, and the one hundred and twenty sixth year of our American Independence.
By the Governor:
CHARLES B. AYCOCK.
P. M. PEASLEE, Private Sec.
Description.—John H. Parker is nearly six feet high of spare build, weighs about 150 pounds, has blonde boyish face, almost beardless, has blue eyes, light hair, is slightly stooped and is about 23 years old.

SEAL

of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one, and the one hundred and twenty sixth year of our American Independence.

By the Governor:

CHARLES B. AYCOCK.

P. M. PEASLEE, Private Sec.

Description.—John H. Parker is nearly six feet high of spare build, weighs about 150 pounds, has blonde boyish face, almost beardless, has blue eyes, light hair, is slightly stooped and is about 23 years old.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

Philadelphia Rec.

OLD DOMINION LINE.

THE NEWSPAPER

Twice

Week

FOR

$1 A YEAR.

VOL. XX.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

Christmas Greetings.

1901.

A nice Xmas present, our pretty Rugs at Cost.

'The Prize Ladies' Shoe' Infant Soft Sole Shoes.

Big bargains for all in womens and mens shoes.

Mens and Boys Clothing at cost. Can please you in prices and qualities.

W. T. LEE & CO.

EXAMPLE OF A POLICY IN THE Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Mr. Dan Abram, of Rocky Mount, N. C., took out policy No. 146,229 in 1886, amount $5,000; kind ordinary life, 15 year accumulation period; annual premium $228.30; total payments $3,423.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT.

1. 15 year dividend payable in cash $1,785.40

and continue policy for 5,000.00

2. Full paid participating additional insur. 2,504.00

and continue policy for 5,000.00

3. Withdraw total cash value 3,602.80

For an agency, or example of results at your age for comparison with any other company, address, giving date of birth, T. ARCHIBALD CARY, General Agent.

For Virginia and North Carolina, 1201 E. Main Street, Richmond, Va.

ALL ARGUMENTS HALT WHEN THE PRICE AND MERCHANDISE IS RIGHT.

COLD WEATHER GOODS.

The pleasant days we have been having are now a thing of the past, and only the pleasant memories of the same remain. Have you supplied yourself with all necessary winter clothing? When you face facts all arguments halt. We give no prices but all winter goods

MUST BE SOLD.

A full and up-to-date line of Clothing, Shoes, Hats, Dry Goods, Rugs, Notions, Dress Goods and Trimmings. Underwear the cold weather kind. Winter and season right for Blankets and Comforts, yes stock right too.

STANDARD PATTERNS.

RICKS & WILKINSON.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

D. J. WHITCHARD, EDITOR AND OWNER

TRUTH IN PREFERENCE TO FICTION

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20 1901.

NO 99

AT

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

TERMS: $1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C.,

EASTERN REFLECTOR

GREENVILLE, N. C.

D. J. WHITCHARD, Ed. & Owner

Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1901.

JOLLY OLD UNCLE JOSH.

HIS GREAT GENEROSITY TOWARDS HIS NEWLY-MARRIED NIECE.

A Realistic Romance of Greenville in Which a Number of Prominent Business Men Take a Conspicuous Part.

(Copyrighted by the Author.)

"Miss Sammers-Polly—I-I—er—dare I—." But the speaker took a header over bashfulness, only to hear a sweet:

"Yes, Charley."

"Can I aspire to—er—to—that is—."

Again a lapse into silence, followed by an encouraging:

"Yes, Charley."

"Oh, if I might only hope to er—to—."

Another failure of language. It was seemingly a hopeless case, and might have been, only for a declared, "Charley, I have said 'yes' twice, and if you mean it, I mean it, too, and—"

And to this day the young man will insist that he popped the question.

All this happened away "down East," and it wasn't long before there was a wedding. Not much longer before there came a letter from Polly's uncle, Josh, down here in the Old North State, who wrote effusively at her exhibition of what he called "gilt," and he proposed that if the young people would locate at Greenville he would start them up in life as a wedding gift, and at the same time give them a lot of good practical advice. Of course they accepted, and were bidding their friends adieu.

Early yesterday morning a travel-stained party arrived at Greenville. Our friend, Uncle Josh, was in charge and he led straightway to a hotel. "The Hotel Bertha," said he, "is a typical Southern hotel of the best class. I have known C. C. Vines, the proprietor, for years and he is none too far from mine own heart. A thorough business man, endowed with that delightful-temperament that makes a guest feel at home, comfortable, contented, and in mighty good luck. The house is one of convenience; the apartments are well furnished; the cuisine all that a superior chef and unlimited orders of the market can make for you to occupy until your own house is in readiness.

"I have already provided you with a cage for your bird," said Uncle Josh, "and now the first thing we'll look after will be the furnishings for it." Hereupon Polly energetically declared that she had heard so much about A. H. Taft & Co., the up-to-date furniture dealers, that she had decided to go there. The result was that they were ushered into such a bewildering display that the girl was at first at a loss how to select. But she soon yielded to the seductiveness of a magnificent mahogany parlor suite, a bed-room set in oak, golden oak finish, that would have done credit to old Antiquity here. To this she added a dining-room set with all accessories, also carpets, rugs and matting, and didn't forget a most convenient and ornamental writing desk for "Hubby." "Charley,"

"A pretty good set, er," said the old man, "and now we'll go to the establishment of Barker & Hart."

Polly's housewifely instincts had full play in marvels of kitchen apparatus. Every possible piece of kitchen furniture, from a tin dipper to a cooking range is here in all styles and variety. If Polly fails to accomplish wonders in the culinary art, it will not be for want of the superior cooking utensils, for she purchased an up-to-date Garland steel range with all equipments needed in a well-regulated kitchen. After Polly had finished her purchases Uncle Josh talked with Mr. Hart about builders material, plumbing, glass, etc., returning im-ments, guns and ammunition, and general hardware, in which this firm leads.

Passing down Evans street Uncle Josh cried, "Halt!" as the party came in front of Bryan & Nichols' drug store. "Walk right in,"

"Why, Uncle, we're not sick, and—"

"Guess I know that, but I suspect it won't be long before this young man begins to take an interest in matters of paragonic and—"

"Un-e-l-e!" "Well, go in anyway; Polly may find some toilet articles which she wants." Sure enough before leaving she was loaded down with combs, brushes, face powders and onces upon ounces of fine imported perfumes.

"Don't forget," added Uncle Josh, "to come here with your prescriptions as this firm has a competent pharmacist and uses pure and wholesome drugs." Polly made various purchases in leather goods and fancy holiday novelties, while Charley treated himself to cigars, tobacco and a fine meerschaum pipe. Then he drank some very refreshing before leaving.

"Let's see—I promised you a gold watch, didn't I," queried Uncle Josh of Polly, "and E. E. Griffin's jewelry store is the very place to get one cheap." Thereupon the old man gallantly acquitted himself of the promise and then directed Polly's attention to the superior stock of silverware for Christmas presents carried by this house.

"There is no other such house in town," said the old man, "and I will guarantee the quality to be the very best. Pick out your family clock while here," he added, "Mr. Griffin carries a magnificent line; and, Charley, if that old turnip of yours breaks down here in mind he can fix her up as good as a new one."

At this point, somewhat to the confusion of Charley, the old man indulged in his serious criticism of his personal appearance. "You are decidedly of style," he said, "and you will do business with them and it is always more pleasant to be personally acquainted with the people you do business with. The bank is as solid as the base of the universe, and has a strong working capital. You will find them ever ready to extend any accommodations compatible with business principles.

"Now," said Uncle Josh, "suppose we take a rest for the remainder of the evening, and tomorrow morning we will get an early breakfast and continue our rounds." They all agreed, and Uncle Josh, true to his good country habits, soon after supper had retired and was sleeping as soundly as if in his own bed at home.

"Dear old man he is," gushed Polly, as she and Charley were talking over the events of the day.

"True to his habits, Uncle Josh was up with the first streak of dawn next morning and took a very early breakfast with an appetite. He returned in time to see Polly and Charley coming down and he led the way to the dining room."

"I say," said Uncle Josh enthusiastically, "I've got a treat in store for you the first thing this morning. I've just had a stroll out to tobacco town and the way it is coming in is a sight. The first sale is at the Farmers' Warehouse, and I want you both to see it."

"I heard so much about this warehouse. I would like to attend a sale there. So off they went. They saw crowds of people, piles of the golden weed and heard the clear and distinct voice of H. A. Timbrelake, the auctioneer, whose clarion call seemed to arouse the corps of buyers and caused contentment among the sellers. Uncle Josh told Charley that if he were to buy a loaf of tobacco to carry it to the Farmers' Warehouse, where his interest will be faithfully looked after by O. L. Joyner, the proprietor. "The secret is," he added, "knowing where to sell your tobacco for the highest market price, and I have learned from past experience that the Farmers' is the warehouse."

Coming back down a crowd at the show windows of R. T. Burns' photograph studio attracted the attention of Polly, and woman like she wanted to stop there to add Uncle Josh's, "Don't forget," that Mr. Wilson also sells the famous Vermont Dairy made by Russell, Crego &

Co., New York."

At this juncture the old man waxed philosophical. "Never neglect your ladder," said he. "That important adjunct to housekeeping controls masculine temper. To that end you must patronize a grocer on whom you can depend for honest goods. Through a long term of years I have found L. M. Savage, the railroad grocer, perfectly reliable. You will find them fully stocked with every possible thing in groceries, fresh and first class—no shelf worn goods there. A good provider always buys his food there because he not only gets the best of every thing, but the best value for the money. The better people trade with L. M. Savage the better they are satisfied."

Their next point of interest was the wholesale grocery establishment of the Greenville Supply Co. Never before had Uncle Josh seen so much goods in the grocery line under one roof, as is carried by this exclusive grocery wholesale firm, and the old man becoming interested in the vast shipments made that day elicited the information that this firm does an extensive business in eight surrounding counties, traveled regularly by two salesmen. "Their prices will easily compare with the largest concerns in the North and West," broke in Uncle Josh, "besides the Greenville Supply Co. are in a position to save their customer the freight in every instance." Charley, who was an attentive listener to these comments, investigated their price list and found Uncle Josh's remarks verified.

"All these manifold bargains remind me," remarked Uncle Josh, as they reached Evans street again heavily loaded up. "I must go across to the Bank of Greenville and get another check-book. Come with me and get acquainted with R. L. Davis, the president, and J. L. Little, the cashier, for offense you will do business with them and it is always more pleasant to be personally acquainted with the people you do business with. The bank is as solid as the base of the universe, and has a strong working capital. You will find them ever ready to extend any accommodations compatible with business principles.

"Now," said Uncle Josh, "suppose we take a rest for the remainder of the evening, and tomorrow morning we will get an early breakfast and continue our rounds." They all agreed, and Uncle Josh, true to his good country habits, soon after supper had retired and was sleeping as soundly as if in his own bed at home.

"Dear old man he is," gushed Polly, as she and Charley were talking over the events of the day.

"True to his habits, Uncle Josh was up with the first streak of dawn next morning and took a very early breakfast with an appetite. He returned in time to see Polly and Charley coming down and he led the way to the dining room."

"I say," said Uncle Josh enthusiastically, "I've got a treat in store for you the first thing this morning. I've just had a stroll out to tobacco town and the way it is coming in is a sight. The first sale is at the Farmers' Warehouse, and I want you both to see it."

"I heard so much about this warehouse. I would like to attend a sale there. So off they went. They saw crowds of people, piles of the golden weed and heard the clear and distinct voice of H. A. Timbrelake, the auctioneer, whose clarion call seemed to arouse the corps of buyers and caused contentment among the sellers. Uncle Josh told Charley that if he were to buy a loaf of tobacco to carry it to the Farmers' Warehouse, where his interest will be faithfully looked after by O. L. Joyner, the proprietor. "The secret is," he added, "knowing where to sell your tobacco for the highest market price, and I have learned from past experience that the Farmers' is the warehouse."

Coming back down a crowd at the show windows of R. T. Burns' photograph studio attracted the attention of Polly, and woman like she wanted to stop there to add Uncle Josh's, "Don't forget," that Mr. Wilson also sells the famous Vermont Dairy made by Russell, Crego &

Co., New York."

At this juncture the old man waxed philosophical. "Never neglect your ladder," said he. "That important adjunct to housekeeping controls masculine temper. To that end you must patronize a grocer on whom you can depend for honest goods. Through a long term of years I have found L. M. Savage, the railroad grocer, perfectly reliable. You will find them fully stocked with every possible thing in groceries, fresh and first class—no shelf worn goods there. A good provider always buys his food there because he not only gets the best of every thing, but the best value for the money. The better people trade with L. M. Savage the better they are satisfied."

Their next point of interest was the wholesale grocery establishment of the Greenville Supply Co. Never before had Uncle Josh seen so much goods in the grocery line under one roof, as is carried by this exclusive grocery wholesale firm, and the old man becoming interested in the vast shipments made that day elicited the information that this firm does an extensive business in eight surrounding counties, traveled regularly by two salesmen. "Their prices will easily compare with the largest concerns in the North and West," broke in Uncle Josh, "besides the Greenville Supply Co. are in a position to save their customer the freight in every instance." Charley, who was an attentive listener to these comments, investigated their price list and found Uncle Josh's remarks verified.

"All these manifold bargains remind me," remarked Uncle Josh, as they reached Evans street again heavily loaded up. "I must go across to the Bank of Greenville and get another check-book. Come with me and get acquainted with R. L. Davis, the president, and J. L. Little, the cashier, for offense you will do business with them and it is always more pleasant to be personally acquainted with the people you do business with. The bank is as solid as the base of the universe, and has a strong working capital. You will find them ever ready to extend any accommodations compatible with business principles.

"Now," said Uncle Josh, "suppose we take a rest for the remainder of the evening, and tomorrow morning we will get an early breakfast and continue our rounds." They all agreed, and Uncle Josh, true to his good country habits, soon after supper had retired and was sleeping as soundly as if in his own bed at home.

"Dear old man he is," gushed Polly, as she and Charley were talking over the events of the day.

"True to his habits, Uncle Josh was up with the first streak of dawn next morning and took a very early breakfast with an appetite. He returned in time to see Polly and Charley coming down and he led the way to the dining room."

"I say," said Uncle Josh enthusiastically, "I've got a treat in store for you the first thing this morning. I've just had a stroll out to tobacco town and the way it is coming in is a sight. The first sale is at the Farmers' Warehouse, and I want you both to see it."

"I heard so much about this warehouse. I would like to attend a sale there. So off they went. They saw crowds of people, piles of the golden weed and heard the clear and distinct voice of H. A. Timbrelake, the auctioneer, whose clarion call seemed to arouse the corps of buyers and caused contentment among the sellers. Uncle Josh told Charley that if he were to buy a loaf of tobacco to carry it to the Farmers' Warehouse, where his interest will be faithfully looked after by O. L. Joyner, the proprietor. "The secret is," he added, "knowing where to sell your tobacco for the highest market price, and I have learned from past experience that the Farmers' is the warehouse."

Coming back down a crowd at the show windows of R. T. Burns' photograph studio attracted the attention of Polly, and woman like she wanted to stop there to add Uncle Josh's, "Don't forget," that Mr. Wilson also sells the famous Vermont Dairy made by Russell, Crego &

Co., New York."

At this juncture the old man waxed philosophical. "Never neglect your ladder," said he. "That important adjunct to housekeeping controls masculine temper. To that end you must patronize a grocer on whom you can depend for honest goods. Through a long term of years I have found L. M. Savage, the railroad grocer, perfectly reliable. You will find them fully stocked with every possible thing in groceries, fresh and first class—no shelf worn goods there. A good provider always buys his food there because he not only gets the best of every thing, but the best value for the money. The better people trade with L. M. Savage the better they are satisfied."

Their next point of interest was the wholesale grocery establishment of the Greenville Supply Co. Never before had Uncle Josh seen so much goods in the grocery line under one roof, as is carried by this exclusive grocery wholesale firm, and the old man becoming interested in the vast shipments made that day elicited the information that this firm does an extensive business in eight surrounding counties, traveled regularly by two salesmen. "Their prices will easily compare with the largest concerns in the North and West," broke in Uncle Josh, "besides the Greenville Supply Co. are in a position to save their customer the freight in every instance." Charley, who was an attentive listener to these comments, investigated their price list and found Uncle Josh's remarks verified.

"All these manifold bargains remind me," remarked Uncle Josh, as they reached Evans street again heavily loaded up. "I must go across to the Bank of Greenville and get another check-book. Come with me and get acquainted with R. L. Davis, the president, and J. L. Little, the cashier, for offense you will do business with them and it is always more pleasant to be personally acquainted with the people you do business with. The bank is as solid as the base of the universe, and has a strong working capital. You will find them ever ready to extend any accommodations compatible with business principles.

"Now," said Uncle Josh, "suppose we take a rest for the remainder of the evening, and tomorrow morning we will get an early breakfast and continue our rounds." They all agreed, and Uncle Josh, true to his good country habits, soon after supper had retired and was sleeping as soundly as if in his own bed at home.

"Dear old man he is," gushed Polly, as she and Charley were talking over the events of the day.

"True to his habits, Uncle Josh was up with the first streak of dawn next morning and took a very early breakfast with an appetite. He returned in time to see Polly and Charley coming down and he led the way to the dining room."

"I say," said Uncle Josh enthusiastically, "I've got a treat in store for you the first thing this morning. I've just had a stroll out to tobacco town and the way it is coming in is a sight. The first sale is at the Farmers' Warehouse, and I want you both to see it."

"I heard so much about this warehouse. I would like to attend a sale there. So off they went. They saw crowds of people, piles of the golden weed and heard the clear and distinct voice of H. A. Timbrelake, the auctioneer, whose clarion call seemed to arouse the corps of buyers and caused contentment among the sellers. Uncle Josh told Charley that if he were to buy a loaf of tobacco to carry it to the Farmers' Warehouse, where his interest will be faithfully looked after by O. L. Joyner, the proprietor. "The secret is," he added, "knowing where to sell your tobacco for the highest market price, and I have learned from past experience that the Farmers' is the warehouse."

Coming back down a crowd at the show windows of R. T. Burns' photograph studio attracted the attention of Polly, and woman like she wanted to stop there to add Uncle Josh's, "Don't forget," that Mr. Wilson also sells the famous Vermont Dairy made by Russell, Crego &

Co., New York."

At this juncture the old man waxed philosophical. "Never neglect your ladder," said he. "That important adjunct to housekeeping controls masculine temper. To that end you must patronize a grocer on whom you can depend for honest goods. Through a long term of years I have found L. M. Savage, the railroad grocer, perfectly reliable. You will find them fully stocked with every possible thing in groceries, fresh and first class—no shelf worn goods there. A good provider always buys his food there because he not only gets the best of every thing, but the best value for the money. The better people trade with L. M. Savage the better they are satisfied."

Their next point of interest was the wholesale grocery establishment of the Greenville Supply Co. Never before had Uncle Josh seen so much goods in the grocery line under one roof, as is carried by this exclusive grocery wholesale firm, and the old man becoming interested in the vast shipments made that day elicited the information that this firm does an extensive business in eight surrounding counties, traveled regularly by two salesmen. "Their prices will easily compare with the largest concerns in the North and West," broke in Uncle Josh, "besides the Greenville Supply Co. are in a position to save their customer the freight in every instance." Charley, who was an attentive listener to these comments, investigated their price list and found Uncle Josh's remarks verified.

"All these manifold bargains remind me," remarked Uncle Josh, as they reached Evans street again heavily loaded up. "I must go across to the Bank of Greenville and get another check-book. Come with me and get acquainted with R. L. Davis, the president, and J. L. Little, the cashier, for offense you will do business with them and it is always more pleasant to be personally acquainted with the people you do business with. The bank is as solid as the base of the universe, and has a strong working capital. You will find them ever ready to extend any accommodations compatible with business principles.

"Now," said Uncle Josh, "suppose we take a rest for the remainder of the evening, and tomorrow morning we will get an early breakfast and continue our rounds." They all agreed, and Uncle Josh, true to his good country habits, soon after supper had retired and was sleeping as soundly as if in his own bed at home.

"Dear old man he is," gushed Polly, as she and Charley were talking over the events of the day.

"True to his habits, Uncle Josh was up with the first streak of dawn next morning and took a very early breakfast with an appetite. He returned in time to see Polly and Charley coming down and he led the way to the dining room."

"I say," said Uncle Josh enthusiastically, "I've got a treat in store for you the first thing this morning. I've just had a stroll out to tobacco town and the way it is coming in is a sight. The first sale is at the Farmers' Warehouse, and I want you both to see it."

"I heard so much about this warehouse. I would like to attend a sale there. So off they went. They saw crowds of people, piles of the golden weed and heard the clear and distinct voice of H. A. Timbrelake, the auctioneer, whose clarion call seemed to arouse the corps of buyers and caused contentment among the sellers. Uncle Josh told Charley that if he were to buy a loaf of tobacco to carry it to the Farmers' Warehouse, where his interest will be faithfully looked after by O. L. Joyner, the proprietor. "The secret is," he added, "knowing where to sell your tobacco for the highest market price, and I have learned from past experience that the Farmers' is the warehouse."

Coming back down a crowd at the show windows of R. T. Burns' photograph studio attracted the attention of Polly, and woman like she wanted to stop there to add Uncle Josh's, "Don't forget," that Mr. Wilson also sells the famous Vermont Dairy made by Russell, Crego &

Co., New York."

At this juncture the old man waxed philosophical. "Never neglect your ladder," said he. "That important adjunct to housekeeping controls masculine temper. To that end you must patronize a grocer on whom you can depend for honest goods. Through a long term of years I have found L. M. Savage, the railroad grocer, perfectly reliable. You will find them fully stocked with every possible thing in groceries, fresh and first class—no shelf worn goods there. A good provider always buys his food there because he not only gets the best of every thing, but the best value for the money. The better people trade with L. M. Savage the better they are satisfied."

They were taken with the life work of Mr. Evans that they all agreed to have their "beauty struck" to the latest plating panels. Uncle Josh also gave two enlarging orders, one in crayon and the other in pastel, in handsomely gilded frames, (which Mr. Evans carries in stock in abundance), with the assurance that the photos of his "loved ones" would be returned to him after completion of the work. They also inspected his extensive stock of photographic and kodak supplies and expressed surprise that Mr. Evans can make "enlarging" from any size picture.

"Yum, yum," laughingly escaped Polly's rose bud lips, as they turned around the corner and came to S. M. Schultz' popular store. "Uncle, I just can't resist the temptation to go in, you know I've got a sweet tooth, and those candies look so tempting." Charley half objected, for he knew if Polly got in there, there's where she would likely stay, but he relented, however, when he was reminded by her that Uncle Josh was footing the bills. The girl bought liberally of chocolates, cream bonbons and other sweets, also fruits, nuts, dates and oranges, which she found in varied abundance, both imported and domestic. Uncle Josh told her not to hurry, but they'd all stay and look over the varied assortment of toys and other Christmas presents for both old and young.

"Talking about plantation supplies reminds me that we had better go to Jesse Speight's and see him concerning your cotton, cotton seed and peanuts I have to dispose of," and suiting the action to the words the party went up Main street until they beheld the smiling countenance of Mr. Speight. There was very little time wasted in making the desired bargain for all his farm products, knowing from past experience that Jesse Speight pays the "top-notch of the market"—all in cash, and never before had he heard a complaint about any wrong grading of the staple, of which Uncle Josh had a good number of bales to dispose of. He wisely kept them for the export trade, but he was not to be so easily deceived. He declared Mr. Speight to be the best cotton buyer he ever saw.

"I would like to make you acquainted with Dr. D. L. James, my dentist friend, too," said the old man. "If you ever have to supplement your natural teeth, 'Ugh! Don't you mention false teeth to me,' cried Polly. "I'll never carry 'pearly lies' in my mouth if I go toothless." "Oh, as for that," laughed Uncle Josh, "if you'll only consult a good dentist in time, you can save the cost and keep your teeth for the rest of your life. Dr. James, for instance, is wonderfully expert in saving natural teeth, and he has the skill and every mechanical appliance necessary to do his work with the least discomfort to his patrons."

While Uncle Josh was pondering where to go next, Polly suddenly asked: "Uncle, where can I find the best place to get shoes, dry goods and notions?" "Just across the street we'll reach the store of Hicks & Wilkinson. They carry a stock of dry goods that for variety and real value is seldom seen outside the largest metropolitan cities, and you are sure to be guided right in your selections. You will find the proprietors pleasant to deal with and their employees polite and expert, while the prices cannot be duplicated. And as for shoes, they take the lead." After looking over the stock Polly found goods and prices so selective that she purchased an outfit of the famous John Kelly shoes for ladies. Charley also invested in a pair of the celebrated J. A. Banister shoes for men, while Uncle Josh treated himself to a pair of good farm boots. They were all delighted with their visit to this popular store.

"Say, Uncle Josh, would it be asking too much of you to get us a driving horse?" asked Polly. "Well, I reckon not, I'll honor your draft for anything you want. My friend, W. H. Harrington runs a new brick stable opposite the court house and we can depend on him for a good driving animal, if one is to be found in the market. He wouldn't sell a defective horse without telling us. The most conscientious man in business you ever met," Mr. Harrington luckily happened to have a nice animal on hand, and Polly got it while the of Mr. Evans that they all agreed to have their "beauty struck" to the latest plating panels. Uncle Josh also gave two enlarging orders, one in crayon and the other in pastel, in handsomely gilded frames, (which Mr. Evans carries in stock in abundance), with the assurance that the photos of his "loved ones" would be returned to him after completion of the work. They also inspected his extensive stock of photographic and kodak supplies and expressed surprise that Mr. Evans can make "enlarging" from any size picture.

"Yum, yum," laughingly escaped Polly's rose bud lips, as they turned around the corner and came to S. M. Schultz' popular store. "Uncle, I just can't resist the temptation to go in, you know I've got a sweet tooth, and those candies look so tempting." Charley half objected, for he knew if Polly got in there, there's where she would likely stay, but he relented, however, when he was reminded by her that Uncle Josh was footing the bills. The girl bought liberally of chocolates, cream bonbons and other sweets, also fruits, nuts, dates and oranges, which she found in varied abundance, both imported and domestic. Uncle Josh told her not to hurry, but they'd all stay and look over the varied assortment of toys and other Christmas presents for both old and young.

"Talking about plantation supplies reminds me that we had better go to Jesse Speight's and see him concerning your cotton, cotton seed and peanuts I have to dispose of," and suiting the action to the words the party went up Main street until they beheld the smiling countenance of Mr. Speight. There was very little time wasted in making the desired bargain for all his farm products, knowing from past experience that Jesse Speight pays the "top-notch of the market"—all in cash, and never before had he heard a complaint about any wrong grading of the staple, of which Uncle Josh had a good number of bales to dispose of. He wisely kept them for the export trade, but he was not to be so easily deceived. He declared Mr. Speight to be the best cotton buyer he ever saw.

"I would like to make you acquainted with Dr. D. L. James, my dentist friend, too," said the old man. "If you ever have to supplement your natural teeth, 'Ugh! Don't you mention false teeth to me,' cried Polly. "I'll never carry 'pearly lies' in my mouth if I go toothless." "Oh, as for that," laughed Uncle Josh, "if you'll only consult a good dentist in time, you can save the cost and keep your teeth for the rest of your life. Dr. James, for instance, is wonderfully expert in saving natural teeth, and he has the skill and every mechanical appliance necessary to do his work with the least discomfort to his patrons."

While Uncle Josh was pondering where to go next, Polly suddenly asked: "Uncle, where can I find the best place to get shoes, dry goods and notions?" "Just across the street we'll reach the store of Hicks & Wilkinson. They carry a stock of dry goods that for variety and real value is seldom seen outside the largest metropolitan cities, and you are sure to be guided right in your selections. You will find the proprietors pleasant to deal with and their employees polite and expert, while the prices cannot be duplicated. And as for shoes, they take the lead." After looking over the stock Polly found goods and prices so selective that she purchased an outfit of the famous John Kelly shoes for ladies. Charley also invested in a pair of the celebrated J. A. Banister shoes for men, while Uncle Josh treated himself to a pair of good farm boots. They were all delighted with their visit to this popular store.

"Say, Uncle Josh, would it be asking too much of you to get us a driving horse?" asked Polly. "Well, I reckon not, I'll honor your draft for anything you want. My friend, W. H. Harrington runs a new brick stable opposite the court house and we can depend on him for a good driving animal, if one is to be found in the market. He wouldn't sell a defective horse without telling us. The most conscientious man in business you ever met," Mr. Harrington luckily happened to have a nice animal on hand, and Polly got it while the of Mr. Evans that they all agreed to have their "beauty struck" to the latest plating panels. Uncle Josh also gave two enlarging orders, one in crayon and the other in pastel, in handsomely gilded frames, (which Mr. Evans carries in stock in abundance), with the assurance that the photos of his "loved ones" would be returned to him after completion of the work. They also inspected his extensive stock of photographic and kodak supplies and expressed surprise that Mr. Evans can make "enlarging" from any size picture.

"Yum, yum," laughingly escaped Polly's rose bud lips, as they turned around the corner and came to S. M. Schultz' popular store. "Uncle, I just can't resist the temptation to go in, you know I've got a sweet tooth, and those candies look so tempting." Charley half objected, for he knew if Polly got in there, there's where she would likely stay, but he relented, however, when he was reminded by her that Uncle Josh was footing the bills. The girl bought liberally of chocolates, cream bonbons and other sweets, also fruits, nuts, dates and oranges, which she found in varied abundance, both imported and domestic. Uncle Josh told her not to hurry, but they'd all stay and look over the varied assortment of toys and other Christmas presents for both old and young.

"Talking about plantation supplies reminds me that we had better go to Jesse Speight's and see him concerning your cotton, cotton seed and peanuts I have to dispose of," and suiting the action to the words the party went up Main street until they beheld the smiling countenance of Mr. Speight. There was very little time wasted in making the desired bargain for all his farm products, knowing from past experience that Jesse Speight pays the "top-notch of the market"—all in cash, and never before had he heard a complaint about any wrong grading of the staple, of which Uncle Josh had a good number of bales to dispose of. He wisely kept them for the export trade, but he was not to be so easily deceived. He declared Mr. Speight to be the best cotton buyer he ever saw.

"I would like to make you acquainted with Dr. D. L. James, my dentist friend, too," said the old man. "If you ever have to supplement your natural teeth, 'Ugh! Don't you mention false teeth to me,' cried Polly. "I'll never carry 'pearly lies' in my mouth if I go toothless." "Oh, as for that," laughed Uncle Josh, "if you'll only consult a good dentist in time, you can save the cost and keep your teeth for the rest of your life. Dr. James, for instance, is wonderfully expert in saving natural teeth, and he has the skill and every mechanical appliance necessary to do his work with the least discomfort to his patrons."

While Uncle Josh was pondering where to go next, Polly suddenly asked: "Uncle, where can I find the best place to get shoes, dry goods and notions?" "Just across the street we'll reach the store of Hicks & Wilkinson. They carry a stock of dry goods that for variety and real value is seldom seen outside the largest metropolitan cities, and you are sure to be guided right in your selections. You will find the proprietors pleasant to deal with and their employees polite and expert, while the prices cannot be duplicated. And as for shoes, they take the lead." After looking over the stock Polly found goods and prices so selective that she purchased an outfit of the famous John Kelly shoes for ladies. Charley also invested in a pair of the celebrated J. A. Banister shoes for men, while Uncle Josh treated himself to a pair of good farm boots. They were all delighted with their visit to this popular store.

"Say, Uncle Josh, would it be asking too much of you to get us a driving horse?" asked Polly. "Well, I reckon not, I'll honor your draft for anything you want. My friend, W. H. Harrington runs a new brick stable opposite the court house and we can depend on him for a good driving animal, if one is to be found in the market. He wouldn't sell a defective horse without telling us. The most conscientious man in business you ever met," Mr. Harrington luckily happened to have a nice animal on hand, and Polly got it while the of Mr. Evans that they all agreed to have their "beauty struck" to the latest plating panels. Uncle Josh also gave two enlarging orders, one in crayon and the other in pastel, in handsomely gilded frames, (which Mr. Evans carries in stock in abundance), with the assurance that the photos of his "loved ones" would be returned to him after completion of the work. They also inspected his extensive stock of photographic and kodak supplies and expressed surprise that Mr. Evans can make "enlarging" from any size picture.

"Yum, yum," laughingly escaped Polly's rose bud lips, as they turned around the corner and came to S. M. Schultz' popular store. "Uncle, I just can't resist the temptation to go in, you know I've got a sweet tooth, and those candies look so tempting." Charley half objected, for he knew if Polly got in there, there's where she would likely stay, but he relented, however, when he was reminded by her that Uncle Josh was footing the bills. The girl bought liberally of chocolates, cream bonbons and other sweets, also fruits, nuts, dates and oranges, which she found in varied abundance, both imported and domestic. Uncle Josh told her not to hurry, but they'd all stay and look over the varied assortment of toys and other Christmas presents for both old and young.

"Talking about plantation supplies reminds me that we had better go to Jesse Speight's and see him concerning your cotton, cotton seed and peanuts I have to dispose of," and suiting the action to the words the party went up Main street until they beheld the smiling countenance of Mr. Speight. There was very little time wasted in making the desired bargain for all his farm products, knowing from past experience that Jesse Speight pays the "top-notch of the market"—all in cash, and never before had he heard a complaint about any wrong grading of the staple, of which Uncle Josh had a good number of bales to dispose of. He wisely kept them for the export trade, but he was not to be so easily deceived. He declared Mr. Speight to be the best cotton buyer he ever saw.

"I would like to make you acquainted with Dr. D. L. James, my dentist friend, too," said the old man. "If you ever have to supplement your natural teeth, 'Ugh! Don't you mention false teeth to me,' cried Polly. "I'll never carry 'pearly lies' in my mouth if I go toothless." "Oh, as for that," laughed Uncle Josh, "if you'll only consult a good dentist in time, you can save the cost and keep your teeth for the rest of your life. Dr. James, for instance, is wonderfully expert in saving natural teeth, and he has the skill and every mechanical appliance necessary to do his work with the least discomfort to his patrons."

While Uncle Josh was pondering where to go next, Polly suddenly asked: "Uncle, where can I find the best place to get shoes, dry goods and notions?" "Just across the street we'll reach the store of Hicks & Wilkinson. They carry a stock of dry goods that for variety and real value is seldom seen outside the largest metropolitan cities, and you are sure to be guided right in your selections. You will find the proprietors pleasant to deal with and their employees polite and expert, while the prices cannot be duplicated. And as for shoes, they take the lead." After looking over the stock Polly found goods and prices so selective that she purchased an outfit of the famous John Kelly shoes for ladies. Charley also invested in a pair of the celebrated J. A. Banister shoes for men, while Uncle Josh treated himself to a pair of good farm boots. They were all delighted with their visit to this popular store.

"Say, Uncle Josh, would it be asking too much of you to get us a driving horse?" asked Polly. "Well, I reckon not, I'll honor your draft for anything you want. My friend, W. H. Harrington runs

Have You Forgot?

What? THAT I AM STILL CARRYING AN UP-TO-DATE LINE OF

Dry Goods, Dress Goods, Shoes, Hats, Shirts, Pants, Hardware, Tinware, AND A NUMBER OF OTHER THINGS WHICH I AM UNABLE TO MENTION

Come to see me for your next Barrel of Flour or Pork. Yours to please

Jas. B. White.

AFTER TWO YEARS PREMIUMS HAVE BEEN PAID IN THE MUTUAL BENEFIT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEWARK, N. J., YOUR POLICY HAS

1. Loan Value,
2. Cash Value,
3. Paid-up Insurance,
4. Extended Insurance that works automatically,
5. Is Non-forfeitable,
6. Will be re-instated if arrears be paid within one month while you are living, or within three years after lapse, upon satisfactory evidence of insolvency and payment of a premium.

Dividends are payable at the beginning of the second and of each succeeding year, provided the premium for the current year be paid. They may be used—1. To reduce Premiums, or 2. To increase the Insurance, or 3. To make policy payable as an endowment during the lifetime of insured.

J. L. SUGG, Agt
Greenville, N. C.

WALKER'S
THE GREAT
Tonic Laxative

If you have sour stomach, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, bad breath, dizziness, inactive liver, heartburn, kidney troubles, backache, loss of appetite, insomnia, lack of energy, bad blood, bleached or faded skin, nervousness, headache, rheumatism, or any other ailment, you will find relief in the use of Walker's Tonic Laxative. It is a pure, natural, and effective remedy, and it will cure you of all the above ailments.

It will clean out the bowels, stimulate the liver and kidneys, strengthen the mucous membranes of the stomach, purify your blood and put you "on your feet" again. Your appetite will return, your bowels move regularly, your liver and kidneys cease to trouble you, your skin will clear and freshen and you will feel the old time energy and buoyancy.

For Sale by
L. S. Walker, 101 N. Main St., Greenville, N. C.

Our Line of
New Millinery

and you will be convinced that a prettier, more stylish display was never

Made in Greenville.

Pattern Hats, Ready-to-wear Hats, Sailors, Baby Cloaks and Caps. The very newest and latest styles in everything in my line. Prices lower than ever. Give me a call.

MRS. M. D. HIGGS,
Greenville, N. C.

The Famous Parke Fountain Pen

Writes Right Every Time.

At Reflector Book Store.

Tutt's Pills
will save the dyspeptic from many days of misery, and enable him to eat whatever he wishes. They prevent SICK HEADACHE, cause the food to assimilate and nourish the body, give back appetite, and develop FLESH. They are sold in elegant sugar coated tablets. Take No Substitute.

Unlike pagillists, clogs don't shake hands for the wind-up. When green isn't becoming to a girl she shouldn't be envious. Luck doesn't come to the man who depends absolutely upon it. No, Maude, dear; the game laws do not restrict the crap-shooting season.

Aerial navigation will put a stop to the footprints in the sands of time.

E. E. Griffin,
Practical Watch Maker and Jeweler,
Opposite P. O., Greenville, N. C.

Recently visited the northern markets and purchased the largest stock of clocks, watches, chains, rings, pins, etc., ever brought to Greenville. Special prices for holiday trade and wedding presents. Prompt attention to special orders. Reputable to clocks and watches done promptly.

E. E. GRIFFIN.
—ESTABLISHED 1875.—

S. M. Schultz.
Wholesale and retail Grocer and Furniture Dealer. Cash paid for Hides, Fur, Cotton Seed, Oil, Barrels, Turkeys, Eggs, etc. Bedsteads, Mattresses, Oak Suits, Bar by Carriages, Go Carts, Parlor Suits, Tuba, Lounges, Sevens, P. Lardlard and Gail & A. S. S. Red Meat Tobacco, Key West Cheroots, American Bicycles, Cigarettes, Canned Cherries, Apples, Pine Apples, Syrup, Jelly, Milk, Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Meat, Soap, Lye, Magic Food, Matches, Oil, Cotton Seed Meal and Halls, Garden Seeds, Oranges, Apples, Candies, Dried Apples, Peaches, Prunes, Currants, Raisins, Glaze and China Ware, Tin and Wooden Ware, Cakes and Crackers, Macaroni, Cheese, Best Butter, Starch and Sewing Machines, and numerous other goods. Quality and Quantity. Cheap for cash. Come to see me.

SAM M SCHULTZ
Phone 8.

IS THE CASH WHAT YOU ARE LOOKING FOR?
Then you want the attention of the people who have cash to spend. They are the people who read and you can attract their attention and their cash in no better way than by putting your advertisement in this paper.

THE REFLECTOR

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race, but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what it is, and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.
NOR.
$200 Reward.

(STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.)
Executive Department.
WHEREAS, official information has been received at this Department that at Falkland, Pitt County, N. C., on or about December 22nd, 1901, John H. Parker shot and killed Alex Little.

And Whereas, it appears that the said John H. Parker has fled the State, or so conceals himself that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon him: Now, therefore, I, Charles B. Aycock, Governor of the State of North Carolina, by virtue of my authority in me vested by law, do issue this my proclamation, offering a reward of two hundred dollars for the apprehension and delivery of the said John H. Parker to the Sheriff of Pitt County at the Court house in Greenville and I do enjoin all officers of the State and all good citizens to assist in bringing said criminal to justice.

E. E. Griffin,
Practical Watch Maker and Jeweler,
Opposite P. O., Greenville, N. C.

Recently visited the northern markets and purchased the largest stock of clocks, watches, chains, rings, pins, etc., ever brought to Greenville. Special prices for holiday trade and wedding presents. Prompt attention to special orders. Reputable to clocks and watches done promptly.

E. E. GRIFFIN.
—ESTABLISHED 1875.—

S. M. Schultz.
Wholesale and retail Grocer and Furniture Dealer. Cash paid for Hides, Fur, Cotton Seed, Oil, Barrels, Turkeys, Eggs, etc. Bedsteads, Mattresses, Oak Suits, Bar by Carriages, Go Carts, Parlor Suits, Tuba, Lounges, Sevens, P. Lardlard and Gail & A. S. S. Red Meat Tobacco, Key West Cheroots, American Bicycles, Cigarettes, Canned Cherries, Apples, Pine Apples, Syrup, Jelly, Milk, Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Meat, Soap, Lye, Magic Food, Matches, Oil, Cotton Seed Meal and Halls, Garden Seeds, Oranges, Apples, Candies, Dried Apples, Peaches, Prunes, Currants, Raisins, Glaze and China Ware, Tin and Wooden Ware, Cakes and Crackers, Macaroni, Cheese, Best Butter, Starch and Sewing Machines, and numerous other goods. Quality and Quantity. Cheap for cash. Come to see me.

SAM M SCHULTZ
Phone 8.

IS THE CASH WHAT YOU ARE LOOKING FOR?
Then you want the attention of the people who have cash to spend. They are the people who read and you can attract their attention and their cash in no better way than by putting your advertisement in this paper.

THE REFLECTOR

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race, but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what it is, and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.

J. W. PERRY & CO.
Norfolk, Va.
Cotton Factors and handlers of Bagging, Ties and Bags.
Correspondence and shipments solicited.

NOTICE.
As I am now in the hospital in Baltimore for the purpose of undergoing an operation, I have placed my books and accounts in the hands of my brother, Mr. Wiley Brown, at the store of Greene & Brown, and given him full authority to collect and receipt for same. I earnestly ask those indebted to me to call on him and settle as early as possible.

NOTICE.
The undersigned having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery. Persons indebted to said deceased are requested to make immediate payment.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The Superior Court Clerk of Pitt County, having stock of Administration of the estate of the late John H. Parker, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate to present their claims to the undersigned on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
Having fully qualified before the Superior Court Clerk of Pitt County as Executor of the last Will and Testament of Mrs. S. M. Harahan, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate to present their claims to the undersigned on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The undersigned, having qualified as administrator on the estate of M. R. Euse, hereby gives notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them for payment on or before the 20th day of November, 1902, or this notice will be in full of their recovery.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.
D. J. WHIGHARD, EDITOR AND OWNER.
TRUTH IN PREFERENCE TO FICTION.
GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 24 1901.
VOL. XX.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.
D. J. WHIGHARD, EDITOR AND OWNER.
TRUTH IN PREFERENCE TO FICTION.
GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 24 1901.
VOL. XX.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.
D. J. WHIGHARD, EDITOR AND OWNER.
TRUTH IN PREFERENCE TO FICTION.
GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 24 1901.
VOL. XX.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.
D. J. WHIGHARD, EDITOR AND OWNER.
TRUTH IN PREFERENCE TO FICTION.
GREENVILLE, PITT COUNTY, N. C., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 24 1901.
VOL. XX.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.

Christmas Greetings.