

EASTERN REFLECTOR
GREENVILLE, N. C.
D. J. WICHARD, Ed. & Owner

Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1902.

Court is in session with Judge F. D. Winston presiding. The people of Pitt county are glad to have him hold court, for he is a good judge and has business dispatched rapidly. There is a large criminal docket to dispose of.

There is an old saying that a white male never dies, but the Kingston Free Press reports the killing of one by a passenger train on the A. & N. C. railroad. Whether the male got on the railroad track with suicidal intent is not stated.

The first half of the first month of the new year chronicles no new enterprise established in Greenville. Our people should think more of those industries that give employment to all wanting it. Enterprises with a large number of wage earners and good pay rolls are the ones that help a town most. Plenty of room for this kind in Greenville. Let us have more of them.

The Croysey case at Elizabeth City has developed new features. Since the finding of the body the committee of citizens who have published a card giving detailed matter of their labors. This card warmly censured the Mayor and Chief of Police of Elizabeth City for their alleged failure to cooperate with the committee, charging that these officials hampered rather than aided them in their efforts.

Now the Mayor and Chief of Police have each brought suit for $10,000 against the members of the committee to patch up their wounded feelings.

As to the evil of public drunkenness he said laws will not cure evils or destroy them, but he was glad that enlightened communities like this were growing less. If the best people of a community want liquor sold there it will be sold, while if they do not want it sold it will not be. Large corporations and important business institutions refusing to employ any but sober men was having a whole some effect.

Of the condition of public roads he said free labor will never make good roads. When the people become willing to tax themselves for this purpose they will have good roads.

Upon the laws affecting the home circle he referred to the alarming increase of divorces. Going back to the days of the Romans and Testons he referred eloquently to the sphere woman had occupied as wife and mother in the different, and his tribute to woman was surpassingly beautiful.

Before closing Judge Winston also paid a high and deserved compliment to the Solicitor and officers of Pitt county for their efficiency. Of course THE REFLECTOR can only give points here and there from Judge Winston's excellent charge. There was no phase of law to which it was needed to call attention that he overlooked. It was elaborate, couched in choice language, and delivered in a manner that held the closest attention of all present.

Crooked accounts are the work of legions. The best way to get at the kernel of a joke is to crack it.

JUST AN OLD TIME DARKEY.
Saw Rain in the Moon—Gratefully Remembered—Ole Mamma.

On our usual walk out Dickson on avenue to the depot, Tuesday evening, we came up near enough behind an old time colored man to hear him talking to himself as he ambled along, and at once became interested in his soliloquy. Suddenly the old man looked upward and began addressing the moon. "Dar yer is, holin' yer water up dar, Nebber nite, fus 'ting yer ku'er 'er'll be turnin' it down on us. 'Wen yer p'int haug low den yer duu dren yer water all out, but 'wen yer p'int haug up high lak dar, yer holin' yer water bak. Yer's got plenty water on hea'd now, spee' I sees sam 'nuf' dar, too."

Just as we had finished this with a happy chuckle over his ability to read signs in the moon, a young negro came driving by on a cart, his horse going in a trot. "Hol' on sonny, I see you 'er' way! Let de ole man ride wid' yer." And he turned on the sidewalk to go to the cart. But the young buck never drew a rein, nor so much as turned his head to the old man's outcry. As he drove on the old man sent a look of disgust after him, and continuing his way began talking again.

"Umph! I won't dun er dog lak that. I dan lose if he doan leave me ride. I 'spise er nigger eger how. I was bring up in de big house wid de white folks, an' ole Missus larnt me better dar. Po' ole Missus, she's gone long er, but she'd be sorry in de grave ef she kno'd de ole man ter do any body ole man as dat. Bies her soul, she was mity gud ter de ole man."

We had passed by and gone too far ahead to hear more, but he had put us to thinking how scarce the old time negro has become, and that the last of them will soon be put our curs to hurting.

End of the Century Club.
Reported for The Reflector.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grimes still make their winter home at their fine estate of Avo, but at the latter realizing the inconvenience to the club would be subjected by a drive of nine miles in the country and back on winter's afternoon, came to town as a guest of Hotel Macon and was the hostess at an elaborate reception to the club and sundry invited guests on Thursday afternoon of the last week.

Mrs. Grimes rendered some very charming selections of vocal music.

NEW YEAR SUNSHINE.
The S. S. Society met at the home of Mrs. Wiley Brown Jan. 10th, 1902.

True it is that cheerfulness is riches that cannot be taxed. We began the new year with a bountiful supply. Roll call and minutes read by our Sunshine secretary, whose name is no misnomer. She gets so much sunshine out of life that I catch myself almost envying her. Quite a good attendance. Then each member selected a night for nursing the sick, which was almost unnecessary as all reported in splendid health. Enveloped as we are in sunshine we can only reflect the good and bright, but cannot be harmed by the foes without, as our friends have reported in splendid health since uniting with sunshine. Three members were appointed to draft a Constitution and By-laws for the government of the society.

The fun began by the distribution of nut conundrums. One goes from one to another soliciting answers which are very amusing. Miss Jarvis was the successful compiler of the prize in the show pictures. The novelty of the affair in having the recipient find his presents was exceedingly enjoyable. Miss Flanagan found a book, "God and The Man," Miss Sheppard a bisque figure, Miss Jarvis a Japanese pin tray. Then there is the "passing on" of kind words and deeds that make up most of our sunshine and love, for without love no one can be rich with it to one can be poor. The evening passed so swiftly and charmingly. There was such wit and good humor that we reluctantly bade our kind hostess good night.

Winterville Department.
NEW HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Jan. 15. SPECIAL ATTENTION TOBACCO GROWERS.

Last season we made about 500 Tobacco Trucks, mostly of the Tyndall pattern, and we have not heard of a single man who bought these trucks that does not speak in praise of them. We found many farmers who wanted to use them, but could not, because they had not arranged their rows properly. We advised the farmers last season to consider the use of tobacco trucks and prepare their rows so they could use them when they began to house their tobacco. Many of them took our advice and were glad of it. Others did not, and some of them regretted the fact. We had one customer who said he had rather chop every eighth row of tobacco down and throw it away than to house his tobacco without the trucks. We still advise every tobacco grower to prepare his land with a view of using these trucks during the coming season and our experience is, they will never have cause to regret it.—A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

Preparation is being made for the organization and equipment of a brass band in this place. Subscriptions have been freely donated and every indication is that the band will be ready to play at the coming season and our experience is, they will never have cause to regret it.—A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

Two years ago I secured a peck of seed, planted them on half an acre of land and picked a bale that weighed 220 pounds, shipped this cotton through Mr. R. J. Cobb together with several other bales of good variety and this bale sold for three eighths of a cent more per pound than the lot. The lint is far superior to any cotton sold on this market and the yield is far ahead of anything we have in this country. Numbers of the best farmers in the county saw my crop growing in the field and pronounced it as fine as they ever saw.

I am now offering these seed for sale at $1.00 a bushel. Farmers wanting any of the seed will please send their order at once as I only have a limited quantity for sale.

Great work by a Blind Man.

William Brinkman, the Kokomo blind man, who two years ago, being blind is totally paralyzed, has disarmed his critics who insisted that he had his hands full in taking care of himself without assuming additional burdens. In two years, Brinkman, unaided by others, has paid for a home and improved it to a present worth of $800. The blind man has sold 3,890 pounds of peanuts and 31,000 popcorn balls. After preparing the morning meal and guiding the food to the mouth of the helpless down town, returning home at noon and night for the other meals. He does all the housekeeping. Besides that he tunes pianos, repairs clocks and organs. Recently he took an organ of 420 pipes apart, cleaned it and had it together and playing on it in four hours. He declines all offers of charity. A short time ago Mr. Brinkman performed the perilous feat of climbing the court house tower and repairing the town clock, when experts had failed Mr. and Mrs. Brinkman became acquainted at the State Blind School and with them it was a case of "love at first sight," as both expressed it.—St. Louis Democrat.

It would be wise for those who have not been vaccinated to do so now.

There is so need of any alarm about smallpox, but with Wilson county full of the disease on one kind of us, and a case reported in Kingston on another side of us, it will not be a wise for the authorities of this county to be on the lookout and ready to act promptly if any should appear within our borders. In late years, though the disease has several times been nearly all around us, not a case has been found in Pitt county.

How to Grow Cotton for Profit.

Prepare your land well, manure well and plant a variety that will command a better price when you offer it on the market.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondents.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.

The perfect discipline which prevails among the republicans in Congress and the ease with which a few leaders control the majority was well demonstrated on last Thursday when the House of Representatives voted for the Hepburn bill by a vote of 308 to 2. That the individuality of members is destroyed and the wishes of certain constituents sacrificed are of little moment to the party leaders compared with what they choose to consider the party good. One republican voted against the Hepburn bill, Mr. Loren Fletcher of Maine. When seen by your correspondent he stated that numerous members of his party had come to him after the vote and expressed the wish that they had dared vote as he had done, but the fear of the party lash doubtless prevented them from doing so.

There seems to be little doubt that the chief opposition to the construction of the canal now emanates from Senator Allison and Representative Cannon, chairman of the appropriation committees of the Senate and House respectively. Both of these gentlemen express themselves as agreed at the amount of money which the enterprise will require. Mr. Cannon said yesterday: "The United States is a rich country and can well afford to undertake any enterprise which will make for its material welfare but that is not saying that should enter into a vast undertaking of this nature without a most careful consideration of the prospective benefits and the most accurate estimates obtainable as to the eventual cost." Beyond that statement he refused to express an opinion.

The bill reported by the Census committee of the House came up for special business on Friday, and that body and the productive of a spirited debate by Chairman Hopkins on the one side and Representative Burkett of Nebraska on the other. The fact that the measure provides for a salary of $7,500 for Director Merriam, who is known to be a favorite of the administration, but who is receiving far greater compensation than the heads of other bureaus in the government, and the further fact that the protection of the Civil Service Commission was not assured to the clerks in the Census Bureau resulted in the bill being referred back to the committee for revision. When the committee has made such changes as the members desire it will undoubtedly pass the House and it is believed to be regarded with favor by the Senate.

But Three Countries Outstrip the United States in Population.

The total population of the United States has grown nearly sixteenfold in 100 years. There are but three countries which now have a greater population than the United States, viz: China, the British empire and the Russian empire. China and the British empire have each of them probably between 350,000,000 and 400,000,000, and together nearly one-half of the total population of the earth. The Russian empire, with about 131,000,000 people, has more than half as many again as the United States, and has been increasing the country just closed with greater rapidity than any other European power. It had about 38,800,000 people in 1800, and has increased more than three and a half times during the nine tenth century.

France, including its dependencies, is the fourth country of the world in order of population and has about eighty-three and two-third millions, or almost the same number as the United States. Of these over 25,000,000 are in African dependencies, nearly 17,000,000 in Asia and 2,000,000 in Madagascar.

These five most populous countries together include over two-thirds of the estimated population of the world, which is placed by the best authorities at between 1,500,000,000 and 1,600,000,000.—Census Report.
