WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27. The democrats of the House of Representatives held their long deferred caucus on Friday evening and, under the skillful guidance of Mr. Richardson and other democratic leaders, determined upon a policy which it is believed will prove most effective, not alone in furthering the interests of the party but also in stemming the tide of plutocratic legislation which it is expected the republicans majority will attempt to impose upon the country. Some of the members did not consider it within the province of the caucus to reverse any of the decisions of the last national convention but apart from their contention it was determined that there was no necessity at this time for so doing. It was further decided that it would be wiser for the members of the party to devote their whole attention to checking the raids of the opposition on the Treasury and endeavoring to protect the whole people from legislation inspired by the great vested interests whose liberal campaign contributions secure for them such extensive influence in the councils of the opposition.

The Ways and Means Committee is still giving hearings to the representatives of the beet sugar and tobacco industries in this country and in Cuba. The beet sugar lobby is growing desperate and is contemplating a coalition of forces with the democrats in an effort to reduce the protection on refined sugar. The beet sugar men are, of course, inspired by animosity to the Sugar Trust but they frankly admit that they would be in a better position to develop their industry if the trust were destroyed even if reciprocal privileges were granted to Cuba. The democrats are naturally and consistently opposed to a duty which puts immense profits into the hands of the trust at the expense of the vast body of consumers. Representative McCall, Republican member from Massachusetts, tells me that he will vote for reciprocity as he does not consider that a moderate concession would injure American interests and he believes the United States owes it to Cuba to at least start her on the road to prosperity.

Appros of the beet sugar question there is a story going the rounds in inner circles of a very stormy Cabinet meeting at which the President alleged to have told his Secretary of Agriculture that he was "sick and tired" of having his expressions on the subject "thrown in his face." Mr. Wilson, I am told, expressed regret at having given utterance to his views and assured Mr. Roosevelt that nothing more would be heard from him on the subject. He has persistently refused to appear before the Ways and Means Committee, although it is well known that he is adverse to any reciprocal treaty which will lower the duty on beet sugar. Of course the above incident has given rise to renewed gossip in regard to Cabinet changes but no change in the Agricultural portfolio is contemplated at this time.

Senator Mason attempted on Friday to commit the Senate to the Scheley matter, at least to the extent of thanking the Admiral "for his brave and able conduct while in command of the American fleet at the victorious battle of Santiago and respecting him with a sword, but the opposition was on the alert and, despite Senator Mason's protests, Senator Hale references of the resolution to the committee on Naval Affairs where there is every reason to believe it will be buried.

Look Out for Home Supplies. Let the farmers go in for more diversified crops this year. Plant plenty of corn, peas, potatoes and the like and then put in as much cotton or tobacco—whichever the land is best adapted to—as can be managed well and cultivated thoroughly. The aim should be to home supplies first, money crop afterwards. It is better to cultivate few acres and cultivate those few acres well than plant too much land and not be able to give it proper attention.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

THRIFTESSNESS IN CALDWELL. The Lenox News of last week had this striking editorial: "A few days since, in a short tramp in the country, we noticed a field of corn still standing unharmed, going to waste while the market was selling readily at $1 a bushel. We noted at another place a good mowing machine, standing out in the weather, where it had evidently been left at the end of the haying season. Cattle are still, in many instances, left out in the fields unprotected from horns and fed a little hay and bran on the ground to be trampled in the mud. If housed at all it is done in such an indifferent and careless manner that they are given very little protection and receive the amount of feed required to keep them in condition that would be needed were they kept warm and dry. Hay and all kinds of roughage is left standing in the field until needed for use. By that time more or less of it has been wasted by exposure to the weather and the depreation of the poorly fed cattle above referred to. These and many other evidences of carelessness, thriftlessness or ignorance can be seen any day in a short trip through this country, and we must get out of these old ruts, take care of things and work with judgment, making an acre by good fertilization and tillage produce two or four or more than the present yield. With proper management and thrift, we believe farming offers better inducements in this country at this time than ever before, but many old ideas and habits must be abandoned.

It seems to us there is a fine opening for some one to make good money in this community, raising pigs and poultry. Pigs are in demand at high prices, and chickens and eggs have commanded higher prices during the last twelve months than ever before. Spring chickens will bring 15 to 20 cents a pound by April 30 or May 1. Truly, this is a bad showing, and the worst of it is that our contemporary says that such evidence of thriftlessness as it has pictured "can be seen any day in a short trip" through this country. The wonder is that people so careless and so wasteful can manage to make buckles and tongue meet—that they contrive to keep body and soul together. They could not do elsewhere than in a country upon which God has bestowed His blessings with a bounteous hand. And even in such a country they could not do it in any other avocation except that of agriculture.—Charlotte Observer

Only to Those Who Own. We have tried to go through this winter without putting cross marks on anybody's paper, but so many have failed to keep promises to pay their subscription that we have to remind them of it again. Those finding the cross mark on their paper today will please take it as a notice that they owe for the paper and an early settlement is desired. This is a matter of honor and ought to have prompt attention. It takes money to run a newspaper and all who read it should be willing to pay promptly. We were not at work reviewing our subscription list and will have to drop some names unless they pay early.
