FARMING THAT PAYS.

It used to be possible to make money on farms where no other crop than cotton was planted, but that was in the days when the staple era is close at hand, there is one factor that should not be left unmentioned.

They are not neglecting cotton altogether, but make it of secondary importance among products of the farm. Their first concern is for food crops for man and stock.

Both plans have been tried many times, and the successful farmers of today, with rare exceptions, the farmers who are making any money along this line, are those who have adopted a plan of diversified farming.

These two items from the Plymouth Beacon are significant:

The series of meetings which have been in progress at the M. E. Church here closed on Wednesday night. These meetings were very successful, there being about 50 converts, 40 recantations and so far 34 have joined this branch of the church.

The jail doors of Washington county stand wide open. The last prisoner was banded out this week.

The Greene county Democratic convention held Saturday endorsed Claude Kitchin for Congress, E. C. Beldingfield for corporation commissioner, J. Y. Joyner for superintendent of public instruction, and J. E. W. Suggs for the state senate. For chief justice, Judge Walter Clark was practically endorsed, having received fifty two of the fifty eight votes of the convention. For associate justice, Crown received fifty two and Brown two. For solicitor of the Third judicial district, Larry L. Moore received fifty and a half and K. L. Ward seven and a half. Kinison Free Press.

The Jones county convention gave Mr. Moore 14 votes and Mr. Ward 1. Counting Pitt for Moore enough counties have already held conventions to assure his nomination for Solicitor, with Paulino and Carter yet to hold theirs. He will get the greater part of the vote in both these counties which will give him the nomination by a large majority.

The formation of the Beef Trust recently has caused voluntes to be written on the perniciousness of any combine for the purpose of raising the price on articles of food. And the combine of the meat packers has become severely dealt with by the press and public than with any other we know of, and justly so. The supply has not been equal to the demand, yet there was no cause for an increase in prices, as the profits of the packers have been known to be sufficiently large. But the combine was an opportunity to pack from a defuncted public a few more shekels under the guise of law, and they unscrupulously took advantage of a condition which it is excusable had no control.

The Trust has been enjoined from further operations; and many remedies have been suggested. But in view of the fact that the Eastern and Southern sections, the greatest sufferers from the exorbitant prices of the combine, give little attention to the raising of cattle, it would appear that the most potent factor for lowering prices would be for the farmers to go into stock growing on a larger scale, and raise enough at least for home consumption. This would do much more good than any legislation could possibly do, and then there would be no loss to evade, but a mere matter of competition on a scale with another. It would not only have a wholesome effect upon the future conduct of the Trust, but it would also pay the farmer a good profit on his outlay.

It is a deplorable truth that in this whole section few native grown beefs can be bought. It is all of western slaughter, brought by the train load from Chicago and other western points, and stored in cities like Richmond or Greensboro, easily accessible, and convenient for distribution to the surrounding country. Let the farmers look to their interests, and go to raising more home supplies, and they will suffer less from the ravages of such combines as that of the beef packers.

Call for State Convention.

To the Democratic Voters of North Carolina:

In pursuance of a resolution passed by the State Democratic Executive Committee, at its meeting in the city of Raleigh on the 25th day of March, 1902, notice is hereby given that the State Convention of said party will be held in the city of Greenville on the 16th day of July, 1902.

This convention is called for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, two candidates for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, and one member of the North Carolina Corporation Commission; also a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, and for the transaction of such other business of the party as may be brought before the convention.

In compliance with its terms, I call your attention to the following resolution adopted at the aforesaid meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee, to wit:

Resolved, That the Chairman of this Committee shall in his call for the next State Convention state that said convention will determine whether the Democratic party will choose its candidate for United States Senator by primary, by the convention, or otherwise. Each county is allowed in the said State Convention one vote for every one hundred and fifty Democratic votes cast in the last election for Governor and fraction over seventy five.

It is earnestly desired that each county shall be fully represented.

Respectfully,

F. M. SIMMONS,

Chairman State Dem. Ex. Com. P. M. PEASELL, Sec.

A Pleasant Day.

Mrs. B. L. Cotton rode for her hospitality, entertainment the End of the Century Club at Cottdale Thursday, May 29th.

Each guest was received with a cordial welcome, and at once declared a case, that being the chief characteristic of the charming hostess.

Mrs. Sallie and Mr. Preston Cottdale, two accomodatingly sang several selections, which were thoroughly enjoyed. In the cake walk, they were joined by Mrs. Cherry and son the house was in an uproar of laughter.

Mrs. Grimes sang "The Rosary," which was also enjoyed and appreciated.

Luncheon was served at 3 o'clock, covers being laid for twelve. Promptly at 4:30 o'clock the Club was called to order and at once business was proceeded with. The Literature committee made their report and the program for the year's work adopted. The magazines and books were drawn for, each member being represented. The old President, Mrs. Jarvis, retired from the chair and the new President, Mrs. Cottdale, was given the seat.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to the retiring President for her efficient services during the past year.

The hostess had a "Rebels" entertainment, but as the contest was not fair, all were allowed to cut for the prize, Mrs. Niel Moore cutting the highest card and Mrs. Dick King the lowest.

Mrs. Cottdale introduced a new feature, having five picnicians to the cake walk. During the performance there were several prizes given, and then there would be no loss to evade, but a mere matter of competition on a scale with another. It would not only have a wholesome effect upon the future conduct of the Trust, but it would also pay the farmer a good profit on his outlay.

It is a deplorable truth that in this whole section few native grown beefs can be bought. It is all of western slaughter, brought by the train load from Chicago and other western points, and stored in cities like Richmond or Greensboro, easily accessible, and convenient for distribution to the surrounding country. Let the farmers look to their interests, and go to raising more home supplies, and they will suffer less from the ravages of such combines as that of the beef packers.

Perhaps the two hardest things to find are a needle in a haystack and a pretty girl who doesn't know it.

Gray Hair

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for over thirty years. It has kept my scalp free from dandruff and has prevented my hair from turning gray."—Mrs. F. A. Soule, Billings, Mont.

There is this peculiar thing about Ayer's Hair Vigor—it is a hair food, not a dye. Your hair does not suddenly turn black, but gradually the old color comes back—all the rich, dark color it used to have. The hair stops falling, too. It is a hair food. All druggists.

TOWN ELECTION.

The Next Board of Aldermen.

In the town election for Aldermen, held Monday, everything passed off very quietly and all the nominees of the primaries were elected except in the first ward. In that ward D. S. Spaul was run against E. M. McGowan and came out ahead, the vote being Spaul 25, McGowan 43 3/4.

In the second ward L. C. Arthur and Chas. Cobb, the nominees, each received 23 votes.

In the third ward E. B. Ficklen and B. F. Patrick, nominees, each received 31 votes.

In the fourth ward only the nominees were voted for, W. L. Carr receiving 77 and R. L. Parker 74.

In the fifth ward all the votes cast, 31, were for B. F. Tyson.

THE HOSPITAL.

GREENVILLE, N. C., June 3, 1902. EDITOR REFLECTOR:

With the generous proffers that have been made to the town of Greenville for the establishment of a modern hospital, it does seem the people would make a strenuous effort to secure this great necessity. A liberal, generous gentleman has given $5,000 to this enterprise, and Mr. W. H. Harrington has offered a beautiful and appropriate site for the institution just across the new Fifth street extended across to his plantation.

These are offers that should be felt and appreciated by the people of the town. Not until they take some active, earnest interest in the cause can it be expected that generous philanthropists will donate so far in taking the lead. There should be a united effort by the people, the good citizenship of Greenville and community, and thus inspire those who feel a desire to aid the cause. Will not some influential man make a suggestion and start the cause.

Daughters of the Confederacy.

Reported for the Reflector. The Singletary Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy held its final meeting with Mrs. Montiero and Miss Louise Latham as hostesses, on Tuesday afternoon.

The day was the anniversary memorial of President Jefferson Davis, and incidents of his life and character were the natural topics. Mrs. John L. Wooten gave an interesting account of her visit to his monument at Hollywood in Richmond a week or so since, and how the beauty of the monument and the dignity of the statue impressed her above everything of the kind seen in her extended trip north.

In the knotty contest evolving the names of a number of Confederate Generals out of a certain number of letters, Mrs. David Johnson, Mrs. J. G. Moye and Mrs. John L. Wooten cut for the prize, Mrs. Wooten being winner.

The fair young hostess served enjoyable refreshments, after which the club adjourned until September.

The undertaking of Greenville Lodge No. 28 I. O. F. & A. M. to build a temple has made such progress as to warrant the success of their enterprise. Some months ago the Delany property on Third street, adjoining the court house square, was purchased for that purpose. Since then the committee has been quietly but actively at work maturing plans. Bonds have been prepared and will soon be placed on sale. Many of these bonds have already been engaged and there will be no trouble in disposing of the remainder. As soon as a certain amount of the bonds are sold work on the building will begin. The temple will be three stories, the first floor containing offices, the second a modern opera house, the third lodge rooms.

This temple will be an ornament to Greenville and a credit to the Masonic fraternity. The town and entire community should be greatly interested in the enterprise.

Mrs. W. B. Brown and children left this morning to visit relatives in Virginia.

Mrs. W. H. RAGDALE DEAD. One of Our Best Women Taken From Earth.

Sunday evening, June 1st, just as the golden sun was shedding its dying rays over the earth death entered a happy home in our midst and robbed it of its joy and light, taking the devoted wife and mother.

At that moment the spirit of Mrs. Bettie Ragdale, beloved wife of Prof. W. H. Ragdale, County Superintendent of schools, was taken from earth and borne on angel wings to heaven, the home of the redeemed in Christ. While hearts left behind are crushed beneath its grief, for her there is joy in the presence of her Savior whom she loved and served while with us on earth.

Mrs. Ragdale had been sick about two weeks, and while all was done for her that loving care and skilled attention could perform, death was relentless and could not be stayed, and the broken hearted husband, the motherless children, the aged parents and sorrowing sister can only look through their sorrow with resignation to God and say "Thy will be done."

All hearts overflow with sympathy for the afflicted ones, but "thy will be done" who can really comfort and sustain them.

Mrs. Ragdale was in her first year. She was the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sutton and a sister of Mrs. D. J. Whichard and of the late Mrs. H. Shepherd. On her 24th birthday—Sept. 16, 1885—she was married to Prof. W. H. Ragdale. The husband, five children, father, mother and one sister and other relatives survive her. She was a member of the Baptist church, a loyal Christian, a devoted wife, a loving mother, a true and faithful friend. All loved her for her beautiful character and kind disposition. Her death is a loss to the entire community and all deeply feel the sorrow.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. N. Booth in the Baptist church at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and the interment was in Cherry Hill cemetery. The coffin was covered with many beautiful floral tributes.

The pall bearers were Dr. W. B. Ragdale, Messrs W. B. Wilson, W. L. Brown, J. S. Smith, J. N. Hart, F. G. James, J. B. Cherry and M. A. Allen.

Register of Deeds, T. R. Moore, issued the following marriage licenses last week:

W. B. Carraway and Lizzie Murphy, G. T. Skinner and Malissa Dudley.

J. H. Johnson and Julia Tillman. J. J. Smith and Jossie Nobles.

Washington's Letter to Rochambeau.
Anent the unveiling in Washington to Count Rochambeau, who so materially aided the American army in its fight for liberty, and made possible the victory which gave us independence, the following letter from George Washington to the French general will be read with interest:
To Lieutenant General the Count De Rochambeau:
My Dear Count—Having resigned my public trust, and with all my public cares into the hands of Congress, I now address you in the character of an American citizen from the banks of the Potomac, to which I have been retired, fast locked up by frost and snow, ever since Christmas. The tranquil paths of domestic industry recently of the bronze life are now beginning to unfold themselves and promise rich harvest of pleasing contemplation, in which, dear Count, you will be one of the most pleasing themes. I shall recollect with pleasure that we have been contemporaries and fellow laborers in the cause of liberty, and have lived together, as brothers should do, in harmonious friendship. I saw all the British forces embarked and on the point of sailing before I left New York, about the 17th of December. I then repaired to Congress and surrendered all my public appointments, and next day beginning to look into the deranged situation of my private concerns, which had come in for no share of my attention during the past eight years. To see you then at this seat of retirement from the business of the world and the cares of public life is a pleasure too great to expect, though you must allow me to wish it because I can with much truth assure you that I feel that he is too good for his job. The chronic bachelors has an equal aversion for a new woman and a new baby.

Two Nations Honor a Patriot.
France and the United States have great cause for rejoicing when they see such evidences of the universal warmth of friendship existing between the two republics, as was displayed in so marked a degree, when the two nations joined hands in showing honor to the memory of Count Rochambeau, by the unveiling in Washington on May 21, of the handsome bronze statue of the French hero of our American Revolution.
