The Woes of a Writer.

"When I have anything to say," remarked Henry Waterson the other day, "I write it. Then I put it in my pocket. After awhile I take it out, read it and write it again. Once more I put it away. Then I write it again and send it down to the printer and have it put in type. When I get the proof, I run over it closely and write it again, and again it goes to the printer. Afterward it is sent to me again in the revised proof. Then I make the last corrections and send it down again. And then," continued Mr. Waterson with a heavy sigh, "the confounded printer gets it wrong."

One of Secretary Shaw's Stories.

"A friend of mine," said Secretary Shaw the other day, "gave a dinner once to some rural gentlemen from Iowa. He furnished them the best of everything, terrapin and canvasback duck. The climax of the feast was a watermelon into which had been emptied two quarts of champagne. When the farmers began to eat the watermelon, they smothered and smothered their lips and ate again. Then of one accord they slipped into their pockets a handful of the seeds. The quantity of rain seeds of the same kind of melon on their own farm."

How Grand Vipers Die.

Of the latest 200 grand vipers of the Sultan of Turkey not more than twenty-four have died naturally. One hundred of them were poisoned, and thirty-six of the others were either killed or drowned in the Bosporus. Of the remaining forty the cause of death cannot be traced, but from the silence of Turkish historians on the subject their end was evidently not happy. One of the vipers was out for four hours in office, and another occupied the position for only ten minutes, being strangled at the end of that time.

Discipline and Fire.

Senators Frye and Blackburn are very good at it. Nothing delights the people so much as to see the Senate more than to imitate the Kentucky descent of Blackburn. The latter, at the end of the day when Blackburn was in the Senate, a man asked him if Senator Frye was on the floor of the Senate. "No," replied Blackburn, according to the Frye version, "Senator Frye is not on the floor." He went out that day at half past five.

An Old Classification.

A certain house decision on fees has been made in the Senate. A package marked "Trained Fleas" reached Geneva. The nearest analogy the collector could find was that of a flea market, which had been ruled as "debts." The case went from one official to another till it reached the committee on Finance. After much investigation and deliberation the conclusion was reached that the fleas came under the head of "wild animals in a menagerie."

A Wonderful Fellow.

With a name like that, you would expect to find a fellow who is a little extra and a little extra on the side. And that is just what you find in the case of the fellow who is a little extra and a little extra on the side.

There is a story of a man who was a pretty big bear. He was a pretty big bear and he was a pretty big bear.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Washington Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16.
The inquiry into the connection of the Sugar Trust with the agitation in favor of Cuban reciprocity, which was instituted by Senator Tamm's resolution, has produced extensive and, to the republicans, alarming results. Mr. F. B. Thurmer, of New York, who had several times been called before the Committee on relations with Cuba, finally made his appearance and from him was elicited the statement that Mr. Haverney, president of the American Sugar Refining Company, had contributed $2,500 to a fund used by Mr. Thurmer "to educate American sentiment in favor of reciprocity" and that General Wood, acting for the Cuban government, had contributed to the same fund the sum of $8,888. General Wood was obliged to admit the payment saying that he had made it in accordance with the wishes of the Secretary of War and Mr. Haverney has made no denial.

On Thursday the Senate will vote on the Nicaragua Canal bill, the consensus of opinion being that the Spooner resolution will be adopted. But two appropriation bills remain to be considered in the Senate and they will be disposed of with comparatively little debate so that the Senate will be free to face with the Cuban dilemma and some action will have to be taken. The President still insists that if adjournment is taken without action on the Cuban matter he will call Congress in special session. All day Friday the Senate is in special session, the supporters of the Pres. den endeavoring to secure confirmation of the nomination of General Crozier as Chief of Dept. of the Interior. The President introduced a resolution providing for the annexation of Cuba as a state.

The House of Representatives has passed unusual industry during the past week and a number of important measures have been disposed of. After passing the bill for the protection of the President from assassination, the Pacific Cable bill, introduced and advocated by Mr. Corliss of Michigan, was deleted and on Friday the House passed the bill for the protection of the President from assassination. As this bill had already passed the Senate and such amendments were indicated to be essential by the President were adopted, there is reason to believe that the Secretary of the Interior will soon be in a position to commence an extensive system of irrigation in the arid West.

RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY.

Whereas, on Sunday, June 1st, our Heavenly Father, in an alms and mysterious providence, sent his white winged messenger to bear home the spirit of the beloved wife of our faithful teacher, Prof. W. H. Baskin, we the members of his Sunday school class, desire to express our sincere heartfelt sympathy, praying Him "doeth all things well" and who "tempers the wind to the shorn lamb" to help, comfort and strengthen him in this hour of sorrow.

THE CROP OUTLOOK IN THE EAST.

There is no doubt that the farmers in Eastern North Carolina this year are intended to largely increase their tobacco acreage—that is increase it to the extent of their capacity to cultivate and house it successfully. I have taken little stock in the reports sent out from various parts of the country early in the season that the tobacco crop would be the largest that had ever been planted.

Spring Fever.

Spring fever is another name for biliousness. It is more system than most people think. Atorpal liver and inactive bowels cause a bilious system. It is more dangerous by stimulating the liver, opening the bowels and changing the system. DeWitt's Little Blue Pills is the best remedy for biliousness. "I have taken DeWitt's Little Blue Pills for biliousness, and I feel better than I have for years." writes R. M. Keely, Mountville, Va. "They do me more good than anything I have ever tried." John L. Wooten.

Don't Tamper With Mail Boxes.

We have read in exchange about mail boxes on rural free delivery routes being tampered with or damaged. So far as we know there has been no inclination on the part of any one to trouble the boxes in this country. Yet it might be timely to publish the following extract from the law:

"Whoever shall hereafter willfully or maliciously injure, tear down, or destroy any letter box or other receptacle established by or under the Postmaster General or approved or designated by him for the receipt or delivery of mail matter on any rural free-delivery route, or shall break open the same, or willfully or maliciously injure, deface, or destroy any mail matter deposited therein, or shall willfully take or steal such matter from or out of such letter box or other receptacle, or shall willfully aid or assist in any of the aforementioned offenses, shall for every such offense be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than three years."

THE BIBLE IN OUR SCHOOLS.

The subject of more Bible teaching in our public schools and colleges is attracting more than usual interest just at this time, occasioned perhaps by the widespread disbelief in certain parts of the Book, and the apparent indifference with which unorthodox opinions of ministerial candidates are viewed by church listening boards.

Recently two of the great religious denominations in their respective general assemblies have deplored the utter lack of Bible training, or a very careless kind at least, and urged that more attention be given to the study of the Bible in our institutions of learning. They are right in taking this bold stand, and should never let up until they see the Bible taught in every school in the land. This has been objected to by some on the ground that the Bible is a sectarian book. But this is wide of the real truth. It is sectarian only in the eyes of those who are so narrow minded as to prevent any truth that they may further their own selfish ends.

The Philadelphia Record, the New Orleans Times Democrat and the Charlotte Observer are engaged in a very deep and spirited discussion on the merits of pie and ice cream, occasioned by a recent debate, by students of Butler College, Indiana, in which the question, "Resolved that pie is of greater service to mankind than ice cream," was discussed. The young men of the college having the affirmative, and the young ladies, with a predilection always for ice cream, opposing them, as was to be expected, and the very unfair and inexplicable decision of the judges in favor of ice cream.

THE EVIL EFFECTS OF STRIKES.

The effect of the coal strike is now being felt in Charlotte, and the U. S. and several of the cotton mills in this section are seriously concerned as to future supply. A fortnight ago the Observer was informed by local coal dealers that this region would hardly be affected by the strike, but now concern over the situation is becoming general in the South as well as everywhere else. As Charlotte Observer says: "The evil effects of the coal strike are beginning to be felt by others than the strikers themselves. And this is one of the phases of strikes never considered by the agitators who are willing to order a strike on the slightest pretext. The strikers are entitled to a degree of sympathy because of the hard fashion in which they follow the lead of irresponsible leaders, sometimes enjoying the fruits of large salaries sapped from the hard earned wages of the laborers, on the plea that the interests of the laborer are being looked after. If these so-called leaders would consent the best interests of their followers, there would be fewer strikes, and more contentment among the employes. Nearly all of them are satisfied with their condition, or should be, and yet because there are a few who think they deserve more pay or shorter hours, thousands of women and children depend upon the day's wages for support are obliged to suffer for the necessities of life.

GIVE TOWNS THE BENEFIT TOO.

The Ministers' Association of Durham has presented to the aldermanic board of that town a petition asking for the adoption of an ordinance requiring each applicant for license to sell liquors to make such application by advertisement in the city papers at least 20 days before time of opening. This request is made on the ground that it is No Hair?

"My hair was falling out very fast and I was greatly alarmed. I then tried Ayer's Hair Vigor and my hair stopped falling at once." Mrs. G. A. McVay, Alexandria, O.

The trouble is your hair does not have life enough. Act promptly. Save your hair. Feed it with Ayer's Hair Vigor. If the gray hairs are beginning to show, Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore color every time.

There is even room for the enforcement of a vagrant law in Greenville. You can see people on the streets with no visible means of support.

Now that the Boers have been compelled to surrender to overwhelming odds against them, we suggest that the Charlotte Observer and King Edward VII join in a love feast, and at the same time felicitate Lord Kitchener for what he has not done.

THE PIE AND ICE CREAM CONTEST.

The Philadelphia Record, the New Orleans Times Democrat and the Charlotte Observer are engaged in a very deep and spirited discussion on the merits of pie and ice cream, occasioned by a recent debate, by students of Butler College, Indiana, in which the question, "Resolved that pie is of greater service to mankind than ice cream," was discussed.
