

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.
GREENVILLE, N. C.
D. F. WHIGHAM, Editor and Owner.
Entered at the postoffice at Greenville, N. C., as second class mail matter.
FRIDAY, AUGUST 8, 1902.

THE REFLECTOR has said it before but the same will bear repeating—keep your eye on Greenville. There is not a better town in which to locate

We did not know editors could live so high, but Josephus Daniels, of the Raleigh News and Observer, is laid up with the gout. We are sorry for him.

It may be because we notice the present more than the past, but in reading the papers it seems that the number of casualties from lightning is much larger this season than usual.

Greenville has thirteen barrooms to tempt people. Now and then some fellow tries to drink one or more of them dry and away is trouble, this might be done away if there were no bar rooms.

Governor Aycock has pardoned one of the good brick swindlers who was convicted at Greensboro and sentenced to seven years in prison. Prominent Chicanos interested themselves in his case and he goes back to that city.

And now a man in Asheville has brought suit for $10,000 against the multi-millionaire George W. Vanderbilt. George has enough to spare that amount and does not miss it, but that fact should not have any influence on the jury trying the case.

The Western and Pacific section of our country have recently been visited by earthquakes. Sections of Nebraska were visited by a shake a few days ago, and now comes news of one in California that covered a territory almost as large as four miles wide. A village was almost entirely destroyed and much damage done.

It will be seen from the proceedings of County Commissioners, published today, that they did not wait for a suggestion about building a high fence around the jail, but have ordered the sheriff to have one built 16 feet high. This is the right thing to do to stop those out the outside from furnishing prisoners with tools to cut through the walls.

To insure there is plenty of politics and candidates to be talked about, but don't let these things take all your time. Look to matters that tend to progress and prosperity and talk about these some. See if you cannot interest other people in your town and section. Building new houses, starting new enterprises, developing new industries are more important things than politics. Such agitation of these things as will bring about co-operation will be helpful.

Senator F. M. Simmons has expressed a desire to retire from the Chairmanship of the State Democratic Executive Committee, but says that if the demand is made that he will retain it, he could not disregard the wishes of his party. It appears now that this demand will be made. The party realizes that Mr. Simmons is a wise and safe leader and the people will be loath to give him up as the chairman of the committee. There is no man in the State, surely, who could do better than he has done. It might be properly said it is better to let well enough alone.

THE REFLECTOR believes it would be wise for the Board of County Commissioners to have placed around the county jail such an enclosure as will prevent any one on the outside from communicating with the prisoners. The easy access to the jail windows makes it convenient to reach the prisoners and hand them tools or weapons. Every jail delivery that has occurred was due to this, and the nearness to which seven came to escaping Saturday night was from the same cause. If outsiders can give the prisoners tools at will, it is natural the prisoners will try to get out. This can be stopped with the proper enclosure and no one allowed to enter unless accompanied by an officer.

Speaking of the large edition of THE EASTERN REFLECTOR last Saturday a gentleman remarked that he would like to see these double size Saturday issues of the paper a permanent feature. He said the merchants, tobacco people and business men generally ought to co-operate in making such special editions a great factor for good in drawing attention to Greenville and letting the people know the many advantages the town offers. THE REFLECTOR would be only too glad to do this and to have such co-operation from the business community as will accomplish what the gentleman had in mind. There will be another double edition next Saturday and our columns are at all times open to those who want to help Greenville along.

Gen. Carr a Candidate for Senator.

"Yes, I shall be a candidate for the United States Senate at the next meeting of our Legislature," said Gen. Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, yesterday at the Shoreham.

Gen. Carr is one of the best known and most popular men in the Old North State. He emerged from the army, after having fought bravely for the Confederacy, with scarcely a dollar, but by dint of pluck and tireless energy, he amassed a big fortune in the manufactory of tobacco and a certain brand of which he was the producer has its merits blazoned on the pyramids of Egypt.

When Marion Butler went out of the Senate, Carr was a co-duplicate, but was defeated by Hon. F. M. Simmons in the Democratic primaries. The friends of Gen. Carr will make a determined effort to have him chosen as the successor of Senator Pritchard, whose term expires next March—Washington Post.

A Thought for the Day.

My sympathies in my earlier studies of the labor question went out entirely to the poor, the homeless, the wanderers, who are begging for work; but as I have taken a broader view of the situation I confess that today it is equally divided between these unfortunate and the unfortunate at the other end of the line, the sons and daughters of our well-to-do people, who are living practically enfeebled, in the devil's workshop, in an old saw, and a true one, and, to my mind, it is equally true whether the idler is rich or poor. God never made a place for drones in human society. God never provided a place whereby a human being could be happy and idle—Mayor Jones, of Toledo.

The Usual Result.

Tuesday night John Plummer and John Duff, both colored, were amusing themselves snapping an "unloaded" pistol at another, taking it by turns. There was the usual report, and Duff caught a bullet in the thigh. Of course Plummer "didn't mean to shoot" and was sorry for it, but he is indicted all the same for pointing a pistol at another person, the law making such an act a misdemeanor, even though the pointing be done in fun. The intent of the law is to prevent just such accidents as this.

Coughing.
"It was given up to die with quick consumption. I then began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I improved at once, and am now in perfect health."—Chas. E. Hartman, Gibbstown, N. Y.
It's too risky, playing with your cough. The first thing you know it will be down deep in your lungs and the play will be over. Begin early with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and stop the cough.
Beware of cheap imitations. The name is on the wrapper. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is made by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

COUNTY MATTERS.

Proceedings of the Commissioners.

The Board of County Commissioners met in regular session on the 4th, all the members present. The payments from the treasury were: For paupers, $188; Alarm to Home, $134.00; Superintendent Heavill, $25; bridges and ferry, $126.13; jail, $99.15; Constables, $16.50; books and stationery, $29.40; Coroner, $43.10; Register Deeds, $22.11; Commissioners, $34.70; miscellaneous $11.67; stock law, $14.26.

The monthly reports of Treasurer and Superintendent Heavill were filed.

Another license was granted to retail liquor in Greenville.

Notices were ordered sent to all persons whose lands the Sheriff had sold for taxes.

Prusdie and Hattie Pittman were ordered sent to the County Home.

The following were added to the pauper list to receive money by the amount stated: Almon Dunn, $4; Thery Langley $2; James Bland and wife $2; Bennett Dunn, $2; Selly Ward, $4; Oliver Byrd and brother, $2.

The Sheriff was ordered to have a plank wall 16 feet high built around the jail, and to have such necessary repairs made as the wall needs.

Notice was ordered served on J. T. Knight that the Board had drawn on him for $10 due for tiling sold him.

The Sheriff was ordered to lay out two public roads in Conteeville township as petitioned for at a previous meeting.

San Souci Club.

On Tuesday afternoon, August 5th, the San Souci Club held its regular meeting with Miss Rosalind Boush. The President being absent, the Vice President, Miss Bruce Forbes, filled the chair. The hostess entertained her guests with a "Musical Romance" Miss Elizabeth Jones winning the prize.

The following were present: Misses Pat Skinner, Mary Bow, Winnie Skinner, Elizabeth Jones, Bettie Tyson, Mary Belle White, Jessie Patrick and Bruce Forbes. Delicious refreshments were served, after which the club adjourned to meet again Aug. 19th, with Miss Pat Skinner.

A thoughtful Charlotte man was recently commenting upon the racial or tribal vitality of the Croatan Indians of North Carolina. They never needed to be urged in mind, it is equally true whether the idler is rich or poor. God never made a place for drones in human society. God never provided a place whereby a human being could be happy and idle—Mayor Jones, of Toledo.

Fresh Gossip From Near-by Vicinities

(gathered by Our Correspondents and Reported for REFLECTOR Readers.)

Winterville Department.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Aug. 6. Mr. W. J. Jackson, of whose serious illness we wrote in our last items, died Monday afternoon, about 2 o'clock. Mr. Jackson was one of our best citizens, a man of high moral character and a gentle man admired and esteemed for his many christian virtues. He will be greatly missed for there are none that can well supply his place. His remains were laid at rest in the family burying place yesterday evening. He was buried by the Old Fellows of Greenville and the funeral was preached by Rev. C. W. Blanchard, of Cary.

Prof. F. C. Nye, one of the teachers recently elected for the next session of the Winterville High School, arrived yesterday morning. He is a gentleman of very pleasing appearance and we have not the slightest doubt but what he will take well with our people.

Rev. J. B. Jackson, of Goldsboro, came yesterday to attend the funeral of his father.

We had the pleasure last Saturday of seeing our old friends as they were passing through the town. Mrs. Sallie Greene, of LaGrange, and Dr. J. W. Perkins, of Greenville. We were indeed pleased to see them.

A Pretty Marriage.

(Reported for The Reflector.)

In Tarboro, on the 30th of July, Miss Annie Daniel Vines celebrated her nineteenth birthday by marriage with Mr. William Alonzo Lewis, of Farmville. It was a pretty home wedding, the house was tastefully decorated with ferns, roses and trailing vines. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Morton in his own happy earnest manner. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Daisy Gillespie Smith. Miss Mary Vines was a sweet little flower girl, and Miss Effie Vines and Mary Brown, robed in white, carrying the France roses preceded the bride. The bride was dressed in purest white and her veil was draped with maiden hair fern and white jasmine buds.

The parlor was filled with friends and relatives to witness the happy nuptial.

After the congratulations were offered refreshments were served in the dining room. The merry voices of happy people made glad the hearts of all who gathered around the room to be seated. The table was laden with dainty sprays of Boston ivy. The track ground consisted of a pyramid of pink and white candles resting upon a bed of roses from which trailed through center of the table to each end a winding wreath of roses and ferns, the table was bordered with dainty sprays of Boston ivy. On Thursday morning the bridal party took the cars for Farmville where they were entertained by the groom's mother, Mrs. Mary F. Lewis, at her hospitable country home. An elegant dinner was served and enjoyed by all.

Mr. Lewis is book-keeper and confidential clerk of the well known firm of R. L. Davis & Bros. and Mrs. Vines the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Vines, is one of Edgecombe's most beautiful and accomplished young ladies. They were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents.

The deacons admit that the state has increased $200,000, but the republicans have as yet been unable to point out where the money has been squandered or spent in extravagance. While we do not like the borrowing idea, believing that taxes should be assessed and collected sufficient to support the government, if nothing can be shown up crooked there is little campaign argument in the matter. The democrats may be making a mistake in giving the people better government than they are paying for, but that is all.—Durham Herald.

A couple of young men in New York, sons of wealthy men and with plenty of money in their pockets, were arrested a few days ago for stealing a lot of cigars. They protested that they were only funning, but the matter of fact was that they were in a quandary where the fun came in, nor could they when they were run in. There is no telling what may happen to the young man who fools with cigarettes.—Wilmington Star.

Mr. Small Complimented.

Our popular Congressman, Hon. John H. Small, received Tuesday a sterling silver cup. The inscription in it, which follows, explains itself: "Presented to Hon. John Humphrey Small, member of Congress from N. C., by the officers of the U. S. Revenue Cutter Service, as a slight token of friendship and of their appreciation of his able and disinterested efforts in their behalf."—Washington Progress.

Farmers of Pitt and Surrounding Counties.

Let me have your attention a moment. I have purchased the

and will have charge of it this season. I have been identified with the Greenville Tobacco market almost from its start, and am familiar with every detail of the Tobacco business.

It is my purpose in conducting the

to run it in the interest of those who sell their tobacco on my floor, knowing that the more I help the farmer the more I help myself.

No effort will be spared to make every pile sold at the PLANTERS bring the highest price.

Knowing the value of Tobacco, having ample capital to carry on the business, assisted by the best helpers that can be procured, I can make it to your interest to sell at the PLANTERS.

Plenty of room to take care of your team, and all the farmers who come to stay over night will find ample accommodations.

Bring me your tobacco if you want best prices.

B. E. PARHAM, Prop'r, PLANTERS WAREHOUSE.

How to Clean a Plaster Cast. A correspondent of a scientific journal says that a bust or statue can be most thoroughly cleaned provided it has not been painted, oiled or waxed by inventing it and filling it with water free from iron. The water is then allowed to filter through the plaster. After the filtering has been kept up for a sufficient time and the outside surface occasionally washed with water and a soft brush the plaster is allowed to dry. It is then found that all the dust has been wiped out of the pores of the cast, which is thus restored to its original whiteness.

"I'm beginning to be able to read signs," said Harry, rushing into the house to display his new accomplishment.

"No! Are you really?" asked a round eyed small sister.

"Yes, indeed. Listen to this. What do you think it's a sign or bird?"

The little sister pondered and gave it up.

"I'm sure I don't know, Harry. Do tell me."

"It's a sure sign of bad luck," cried Harry, rushing out again in a hurry.

Tried to Break Jail.

Saturday night several prisoners came near escaping from jail. Some one on the outside had given them a file through the window, and with this the staple holding the lock on one cell was cut in two. After getting out of the cell the prisoners commenced pecking a hole in the brick wall, when some women in another cell began hollering and gave the alarm. Night Policemen McGowan heard the alarm and went after Deputy Sheriff Tucker and they soon had the prisoners in a safe place.
