

He Fell Five Stories and Lived. A week ago Judge Byrum fell down a few steps and was killed. Late yesterday afternoon John W. Roberts, of Richmond, manager of the Richmond Supply Company, having the contract for doing the painting for the American Cigar Company factory here, fell 60 feet from the ceiling to the basement of the five story building, and was not killed, and so far as physicians can see has not sustained any serious injury. He is resting quietly at the hospital this afternoon, expecting to go home to-morrow. Mr. Roberts' escape from instant death was almost miraculous. He was standing on a plank on the ceiling joists, when it broke precipitating him to a small scaffold beside a shaft for a spiral stairway reaching from the first floor, falling the distance of five stories into the basement. He was picked up unconscious, and beyond complaining of a pain in his back, seems all right this morning, though still in bed. Mr. Roberts owns his escape from death to an annual fact. A spiral stair is being built and every floor is just being skored near by, the partial flooring alternating on each side of the stair shaft. Mr. Roberts is very fat, weighing 350 pounds. When he struck the first floor on the right he landed and struck of the left floor below, etc., and bounding right each time and thus breaking his fall, the fortunate fact of a superabundance of fat protecting his bones and giving elasticity to his body to prevent its smashing the alternate floors and going crashing down to inevitable death. The first floor on the right side of the shaft. Mr. Roberts' fall was witnessed by several citizens. He is being treated at the hospital. Greenville, N. C., August 18, 1902.

Observe Labor Day.

Volving patriotic sentiments and calling upon all people in the State to fully observe a day set apart by the General Assembly of North Carolina as Labor Day, Governor Aycock has issued the following:

Labor Day, 1902. A Proclamation: By the Governor. Whereas, the Legislature of North Carolina has appointed the first Monday in September of each year Labor Day, and a general holiday, the said first Monday in September being the same day set aside by the statute of the United States and the statutes of the various States in the Union.

Now, therefore, I, Charles B. Aycock, Governor of the State of North Carolina, in recognition of said legislative acts and views a view to the continuance and strengthening of the good will which exists between all the people of this State, do request all the citizens of North Carolina to observe.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1902, as a holiday, and that in every way possible employers co-operate with employees in worthy recognition of the dignity of labor and in the dignity of labor and in the becoming observance of Labor Day. Let there be as far as possible the cessation of labor throughout the State. I request that all places of business of whatever character where labor is employed shall be closed to the extent that those employed may enjoy a day of rest and thanksgiving. The day ought to be one observed by all people in expression of appreciation of those who toil for upon whom rests the progress, prosperity, success and happiness of the State. Let harmony exist between all employers and employees. Let no words and accusations that kindle hatred between those who employ labor and those who work, which is essential to the peace of the State and the best interests of all the people.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed. This the 13th day of August, A. D. 1902, and in the 127th year of our Independence. (Signed) CHARLES B. AYCOCK. By the Governor: P. M. FRANKS, Private Sec'y.

The Girl of Fifteen. The great thing for a young girl to know is that she doesn't know anything. All which life teaches is to come. She has heard much talk, read a few books, looked out of wandering eyes upon the great world, but she has not had a chance to do anything, and until one actually enters into the activities of life can know nothing of realities. It is true that the school girl has been brought into contact with active young minds, and with teachers and instructors. She is learning something about human nature, something about the play of forces good and bad in the society she happens to be a part of; but unable to compare, to judge, by reason closely, of necessity she remains ignorant of the real, living working world.

When a girl has the sense to realize exactly the place she occupies in the social order she is a most happy girl. Content to be herself, leaving the management of things to older and wiser persons, looking on and learning as she goes, joyous, hopeful, helpful and gay—there is nothing in all nature so beautiful and sweet as this kind of a girl of fifteen. While she defers to the will and advice of her parents in all things, this girl begins to reflect, to reason and compare, and thus she learns as she goes on her way. Later on experience becomes her teacher, by translating into what she can understand by experience—Ada C. Street in the Woman's Home Companion.

Lost Hair. My hair came out by the handful, and the gray hairs began to creep in. I used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and it stopped the hair from coming out and restored the color.—Mrs. M. D. Gray, No. Salem, Mass.

There's a pleasure in offering such a preparation as Ayer's Hair Vigor. It gives to all who use it such satisfaction. The hair becomes thicker, longer, softer, and more glossy. And you feel so secure in using such an old and reliable preparation.

Blood Hound a Witness. Suffolk, Va., Aug. 14.—Special. At Plymouth, N. C., today, through still in bed. Mr. Roberts owns his escape from death to an annual fact. Negro Preacher Sentenced. Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 12.—Sam Robinson, a colored preacher, has been sentenced by Judge Coble in the Superior court, to serve fifteen years in the State prison for a criminal assault on an eight-year old girl of his own race. Robinson's victim was the daughter of a respected negro. The evidence showed that the assault was not successful hence the light sentence.

No Danger of Lynching. Boston, Aug. 13.—Governor Crane had a letter to-day from Governor Aycock, of North Carolina, denouncing the intention of friends of Monroe Rogers, the young negro wanted at Durham, N. C., charged with arson, that if Rogers was returned to North Carolina he would not be given a fair trial. The Rogers case has attracted much attention since the application for extradition, because of the claim that Rogers would be lynched if sent back to the South. Governor Aycock in his letter stated that the most ample protection would be given to Rogers. The Attorney General of North Carolina, also, has written to Attorney General Parker, of Massachusetts, giving assurances similar to those of Governor Aycock.

Dynamic Case: Victim a Failure. Washington, Aug. 14.—The career of the Yesvins as a dynamic cruiser is to be ended. Acting secretary of the Navy, Darling, declared about him today the members of the naval board on construction and after communicating with themselves for a while. It was decided that the swift and rickish craft which was supposed to be capable of belching forth death and destruction like the nascent of Italy should be declared to be unusable for the purpose for which she was built. A board of officers will be appointed to determine whether she shall be sold or whether it is worth while to take out her big pneumatic guns and convert her into a plain ordnance gunboat or dispatch vessel.

King's Recovery Complete. London, Aug. 14.—The British Medical Journal says the king's recovery is complete. The coronation ceremony and the reviews of the colonial and Indian troops have not been detrimental to his health. The remainder of the wound is infinitesimal and the healing is practically completed. There is no truth whatever in the rumors which have been current that any second operation is contemplated.

Lumberton Negro Arrested in Boston for Murder. Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—George McFadden, colored, today confessed to the police that he is wanted in Lumberton, N. C., for the murder in November, 1900, of Elizabeth Smith, also colored. McFadden was employed by a contractor here and he boasted to the other employees of his alleged crime in the South. The police were informed and McFadden was arrested and confessed the crime.

His Opportunity Came. A sudden gust of wind blew the hat from the head of the gray haired passenger in the hindmost seat of the street car and carried it scurrying over the muddy road far in the rear.

He rose to grasp the bell rope, but a prosperous looking man sitting next to him grasped him by the coat tail.

"Don't do it," said the prosperous looking man. "Let it go. It was a straw hat, wasn't it?"

"Yes," said the gray haired passenger, "but great snakes, all I've got." "What will it be?"

"My friend," interrupted the other, whipping a small bundle from a side pocket and proceeding to open it, "try this on."

"It's a twenty dollar Panama hat. How does it fit?"

"It fits well enough, but—"

"Then keep it sir, keep it. Ever since my hat began to wear one like it I've been trying to give this one away, but nobody will have it. It'll do wear till you get down town, where you can buy a decent straw hat. No, I don't want any more. I regard this as a providential opportunity to get rid of the thing. Does it go? All right. You have done me a great favor."

HE HELD SEVEN OFFICES

In looking over some of the old records in the register's office, we found the following inscription recorded on the first page of book no. 8 by Mr. Joseph B. Hinton, who was registered in 1800. "This book belongs to the register's office of Beaufort county, and is dedicated to that purpose by Joseph B. Hinton, the present register, secretary to the town, clerk to the vestry, judge advocate, paymaster, surgeon's mate, and lieutenant in the second brigade of the militia of North Carolina. But imperfect man he is, that first dash at speculation should prove his ruin and consume his youth with anxieties and involve his property in jeopardy. But let this book perpetuate his memorable merits and memory, inasmuch as this is his own request, Signed, J. B. Hinton, born September 28, 1788." Mr. Hinton was in his time one of the most prominent citizens of the county and was the grandfather of the present Capt. W. T. Farrow, of this City. His old home is the present county home, which he built, and at that time was considered the most beautiful residence in the county and it is now one of the oldest still standing in this part of the State. Before Mr. Hinton's death he moved to Raleigh and became one of the leading citizens of the capital city.—Washington Messenger.

Immigration Into Western Canada.

While the emigration from the eastern and central states to those further west is remarkable for its volume, that from the northwestern territory of the United States across the line into the British Northwest territory is still more so. Statistics show that last year 17,000 of our citizens found homes in this section of Canada and for the present year the number is estimated at 50,000. In the last year citizens of the United States have purchased 5,000,000 acres of land in Manitoba and the Northwest territory. What is this but laying the foundation for the annexation at some day not far in the future of this portion of the Dominion of Canada to the United States. As Canada now has its French and its British sections, it will soon have one call the American, where all the feeling and inclination favor American rule. The emigration across the border is but the heaven that will soon permeate the entire Northwest territory and result in making it a part of the great American republic.—Wilmington Messenger.

Montrocity at Rocky Mount.

A monstrosity of the Millie-Clutine or Blunice Twins was brought to Rocky Mount today by Dr. W. P. Mercer, of Edgemont. It, or they was the dead body or bodies of a baby or babies, the offspring of a negro woman whose color is between ginger cake and black, while her husband is a mulatto. The infant had one trunk, two heads, four arms and four legs. One pair of arms came from the shoulders, the other pair behind them, while the extra pair of legs were to the side of the ordinary position of the first pair.

The faces were fully developed, and each head was covered with hair. One face was of the pronounced negro type, while the other was a bright mulatto.

Express Agent Robbed of $28,000. In Cold Blood.

Louisville, Aug. 16.—A special to The Times from Owensboro, Ky., says: "The agent of the American Express Company, of Louisville, was robbed of $28,000 last night, under peculiar circumstances. J. W. Boatner, who shipped the money to Fordville, in western Arkansas, was arrested at Irvington, and J. C. Schlitzbaum, the agent of the company, is being held at Falls of Rough. Several days ago, a man giving his name as J. V. Boatner, of Memphis, Tenn., appeared at the office of the American Express Company, at Beaufort, in western North Carolina, and wanted to express $30,000 to the latter point. Boatner took a receipt for it, and then the agent remembered that he was allowed to ship only $5,000 at one time and made him take the cash back. Boatner kept the money until last night, when it was sent to Falls of Rough, where it arrived late last night. The express agent, it is said, informed a number of people that the money had arrived. It was not put in a bank, as Mr. Boatner sent word that he would be there this morning. This morning, Schlitzbaum turned up at Falls of Rough, ten miles away. He said he was held up, robbed and kidnapped during the night. He first decided to stay at the depot all night, he says, but finally got nervous and started to the hotel, which is only one square away. Between the two places he was set upon and robbed of the money by three men. The express people and the officers believe that a whole affair was a conspiracy to defraud the American Express Company out of $28,000. Boatner is now under arrest at Irvington, Ky."

A detachment of 68 soldiers lined up in front of the condemned cell, a few paces off, and fired a volley of bullets into the hearts of the redskins.

The execution was in compliance with a general order issued by General Terry in effect means the total extermination of the Yaguis in Soconma. There are now only about 800 or a thousand and they are being rapidly annihilated. The bucks are being executed wherever captured and the women sent to Quantico—News and Observer.

The School Law of the State makes it imperative on all public school teachers to attend Teacher's Institutes. Failure to do so forfeits the right to teach for one year. One teacher in Wake county failed to attend the Institute held in Raleigh last week and appealed to Sup't. Joyner and others of the educational Department to help him out, but he was told that it was a law and he would have to comply with it.—Elm City Elevator.

If these jealous fellows who murder their sweethearts because they will not marry them, and then kill themselves, would be content with killing themselves, it would answer all practical purposes, and there would be less objection.—Wilmington Star.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 18.—From Our Regular Correspondent. The President expects to call a special session of the Senate early in November for the purpose of securing the ratification of a treaty which he has negotiated with Cuba as regards leading Democrats as another evidence of the autocratic attitude of the President. Mr. Roosevelt, ever since his accession to the presidency, has shown a disposition to regard his office of an importance arranged by the Constitution and to eliminate Congress in every instance possible. Now he proposes to eliminate the House of Representatives from participation in legislation which is clearly its prerogative. The Constitution expressly states that in all revenue producing measures the House must take the initiative and a reciprocity treaty is only a revenue measure in a different form. However, the House refused to yield to the wishes of the Executive during the last session, and now that the President believes he can carry out sufficient votes in the Senate to fulfill his purpose, he proposes to ignore the House entirely. His belief is likely to receive a severe shock, however, by certain prominent Democratic Senators. It will be necessary for him to secure the support of several Democratic senators to effect the ratification of the Cuban treaty and it is not likely that Democrats, regardless of their beliefs in regard to the merits of the treaty itself can be persuaded to vote for its ratification when by so doing they would be nullifying the express provisions of the Constitution. In the words of a prominent Democrat, who is in Washington, "The President has calculated without his host."

There is reason to believe that the long anticipated "shake up" in the Treasury Department is about to take place. It is claimed, by those in a position to know, that Assistant Secretary Spaulding will go very soon and that his successor has been decided upon. Assistant Secretary Ailes is also talked of as likely to be asked for his resignation. General Spaulding, it is said, is alleged to be "out" in some other less important position within the Department. A new appraiser is to be appointed for the port of New York, and rumor has it that the appointment will go to William D. Hyman, of Indiana. The minor clerks of the Treasury Department have received a severe "shaking up" of late by the inauguration of new methods by the Secretary and they are bewailing the fact that this is a "strenuous administration." Under the new rulings, the work of the Department must be kept up to date, letters must be answered the same day that they are received, and work must be done in a businesslike manner and not on the old gossipy, get-it-done when-it-convenient manner which has characterized the Department in the past. The change is appalling to many of the ancient employees of the Department who force down for they have too long followed the old way to be capable of adapting themselves to the new, and their chiefs will be obliged to recommend them for dismissal because they cannot keep up with the pace set by the man from Iowa.

A good deal of curiosity has been aroused in Washington by the publication of a statement of affairs in Cuba, in which it is shown that when the General turned the affairs of the Island over to the present administration, there was in the Cuban treasury a balance of $1,850,000, while reports from Havana indicated at the time that the treasury balance which President Palma felt he was approximately $56,008. What became of the difference is being asked. Did it disappear as did that famous handsome furniture which was "looted" from the palace at Havana. There is every evidence of a desire to make the best possible showing for the administration of General Wood, but when it comes to the actual figures there appears to be a discrepancy which is unaccountable. While the report goes into great detail in regard to reforms, which it is alleged General Wood inaugurated in Cuba, it fails to touch upon any of the details which were asked for by Congress. No statement of the expenses of the palace is to be found in its pages. Neither is there any statement of the amount spent by the administration in the amount of the settlement in the amount of the United States. Of course it is inconceivable that these figures will be absolutely suppressed in the face of a demand for them by Congress, but they will, in all probability, be withheld from public scrutiny until after the elections and will then be unearthed at a time when public attention will be occupied with watching the national legislature.

Rev. G. F. Smith, pastor of Edenton Street Methodist church, who is quite sick, was reported better yesterday. He had just returned from the hospital where he was taken sick. Mrs. Smith and children arrived Saturday night from New Haven in response to a telegram.—News and Observer.
