

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.

GREENVILLE, N. C.

D. J. WHIGHAM, Editor and Owner.

Entered at the postoffice at Greenville, N. C., as second class mail matter.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 12, 1902.

After Pritchard, the Deluge.

The Progressive Farmer is out in a new suit. Poe man!

The strike situation is in danger of becoming organized.

Henry Watterson has cut the Smart Set with a stony stare.

Thomas L. Johnson promises the largest tented exhibition of its kind.

The coal stove is not likely to become enthusiastic over the strike situation.

From remarks of the Durham Herald we infer that Greensboro has been caught riding on the tail of the band wagon.

Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier Journal, is carrying the sensitive cuticle of "The Four Hundred" with Senator Tillman's pitchfork.

It is said that a hungry soldier is the best fighter. Which probably illuminates the canned-beef scandal which brought the Spanish-American war into some prominence.

Gen. Carr has the advantage of the other gentlemen. Being neither in the east nor the west, he can run twice to their office.—Kinston News.

Very, very improper! Senatorial courtesy, General.

One exchange wonders "what Judge Clark is going to do to help the party out of the hole he helped it into!" Don't know for sure, save an idea he is going to pull the hole up.

Greensboro is woefully short on her water supply, but it is safe to say this will not frighten some of her citizens.—Durham Herald.

How is that, son? Isn't there a laundry in Greensboro?

THE GREENVILLE REFLECTOR says its independence should be discouraged. Well, are not the leaders doing all they can in this direction?—Durham Herald.

Certainly but that's discouraging.

The Kinston Free Press tells of a double suicide at Dover, Monday night. Two young men, J. O. Griffin and Joseph Tilden, drank poison together, seemingly by agreement and died within a few hours of each other. Both had met with disappointment in love affairs.

There are doubtless many good and well meaning people among the promoters of the camp meeting at Charlotte, but they are not very much in evidence beside the nightly exhibitions of the pump and his business relations at Latta Park.

A dispatch from Stroudsburg, Pa., credits Carrie Nation with the statement that she has abandoned saloon smashing as a livelihood. "All saloon men are not bad," she said, "and there are lots worse who pose as pillars in the churches." "Good morning Carrie."

The collision of a trolley car a few days ago with President Roosevelt was an—quite a strenuous affair. We are pleased to note that the President's plans suffered no material disarrangement. The trolley company, of course, is short-one car, until extensive repairs can be effected.

A colored gemman, returning from Raleigh, where he has been enjoying the hospitality of the State for some time, in consideration of his strenuous initiation of the late Brigham Young, attributes his entertainment to a case of "bigity."

There is hardly a building started up here but what the complaint is heard that material can not be secured fast enough to prevent interruption in the work. But nobody gets imbued with the idea that a brick manufacturing plant here could make money for the promoters. There ought to be such an enterprise.

We hope that shooting editors will not become over popular as an argument.—Kinston News.

Well, yes. Fact is, that kind of argument is seldom well pointed. The exception is, when the editor is up on the intricacies of manipulating a self-cocker. In that case, the result is apt to prove eminently satisfactory to the coroner's jury, and to the editor.

The very latest is a circus combine. The big fellows are to come together, freeze the little "uns out or attach 'em as side shows, and probably raise the price. Oh, this is a sordid age. First thing you know you won't be allowed to sit on your rail fence and crack jokes with the hired man, without consulting a rate book and a yard stick. We'd rather see (see) every show bust and have to start all over again.

From certain events which have occurred within the memory of the oldest inhabitant, and which may or may not be considered in connection with the attitude of the late convention at Greensboro (it depends on how you look at it, don't ever know), it seems superfluous to observe that, politically, gentlemen of color have been relegated to the innocuous desuetude of the Whang-doodle and the Dodo. Selah!

It is certainly gratifying that the kind of instruction offered by the A. & M. College has met with the appreciation of so many of our young men. The Alumni of no other institution will prove a greater credit to the state than A. & M. boys. We need them, and the next Legislature should by all means extend the facilities of the College sufficiently to obviate any recurrence of the present situation.

The Durham Herald, thinks "it should not be a hard matter for the people of Greensboro to find a substitute for water." We dare say. However, they might send a committee to Kentucky. The Herald intimates further, that "the people of Greensboro may live to regret that they contracted the water habit." It would be interesting to know whether the Herald would undertake to sustain the point with a dissertation on a favorite bleed.

The Charlotte News turned its search light on a negro camp meeting, with results that must jar the good brethren and sisters who are sustaining the hands of the elders. For shamelessly conspicuous immorality, the occasion furnishes an opportunity that the devil seems to have taken advantage of to the full, without serious discomfort to the "Swamp Angel," ex-gubernatorial candidate of Alabama and suspected author of "Cotton Pickin'." The newspaper's reputation of this to be decided evangelist, with the bluish-soldie attitude of the go-be-tweens who circulate around the grand stand, suggest a feeble barrier between the midnight pulp and the police.

Mother

"My mother was troubled with consumption for many years. At last she was given up to die. Then she tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was speedily cured."
D. P. Jolly, Avoca, N. Y.

No matter how hard your cough or how long you have had it, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best thing you can take. It's too risky to wait until you have consumption. If you are coughing today, get a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once.

Cham Gang.

The Pitt County Chain Gang, comprising thirteen or fourteen members, made its debut at 10 o'clock this morning, and marched off by two in charge of Messrs. John Reeves and Ed Belcher, for work on the river road about three miles above town. They will cut a new road from a point near Mr. Bob Allen's, across the branch beyond, to an opposite point near Mr. O. L. Joyner's. Those who have climbed down and up the hills at this place will appreciate the good judgment of the authorities in deciding on the change noted. Riding down the old hill between the branch and Mr. Joyner's is certainly the clearest imitation of shooting the chutes to be witnessed anywhere this side of the Blue Ridge.

Squirrel Becomes a Captive.

We often hear of a wild animal being captured and tamed, but it is out of the ordinary when one comes in voluntarily and becomes a willing captive. Mr. J. J. Elks, of Chisolm Township, one of our nominees for County Commissioner, was here today and gave THE REFLECTOR this interesting item. He says that on last Saturday while his children were swinging in the yard, a squirrel nearly half grown came in the yard and commenced playing around the children. One of the little girls picked up the squirrel and it was as gentle as if it had been a tame one. The children soon delighted with their pet, and the squirrel seems equally pleased with its new surroundings.

Died.

At 3:10 o'clock this morning, Mrs. Nannie Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Abrams, and wife of Mr. W. E. Moore, died at her residence in South Greenville, of typhoid fever. Mrs. Moore had been sick for about three weeks, but her friends were hopeful of her recovery until yesterday.

Mrs. Moore died on the night of her 20th birthday. She was married on the 21st of November, 1900. Her only child is about eight months old. She leaves a mother and father and six sisters. These, with the bereaved husband, have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

The remains were interred at 4 o'clock this afternoon, at Cherry Hill Cemetery.

Tribute.

On Sept. 8th, just as the dark shades of night were expanding into day, the Lord in His wise counsel saw fit to take from among us, our devoted friend and neighbor, Mrs. W. E. Moore. Mrs. Moore had been in declining health for some time, which developed in that most dreaded of all diseases, typhoid fever. She was a true wife, loving mother and fond sister, and will be sadly missed by her large circle of friends. She leaves a devoted husband, one little babe, father, mother and six sisters. May the protecting arms of our Savior ever be around them and guide them to that

Home beyond the veil.

When all is joy and love.

Sisters to stand, no sorrow there.

To make our lives unsmooth.

A FRIEND.

William Jennings Bryan has resumed his continuous performance.

Fresh Gossip From Near-by Vicinities

Gathered by Our Correspondents and Reported for REFLECTOR Readers.

Winterville Department.

NEWST HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Sept. 10, 1902.

Well! we feel like we've left home and gone off visiting. Strangers, Jerusalem! nothing hardly but strangers. It is only once in a while we see something familiar and then we have to look twice. Anyway, it don't make much difference; these strangers are just the clearest set of ladies and gentlemen ever did see. Maybe we will know 'em all after awhile and then we are going to feel better. They know us already, for the girls, bless their hearts, always smile when they see us. Our good looks we reckon, anyway we will all be acquainted by-and-by. The dormitories are just run over, but ample preparation has been made and we can accommodate everybody. Only ten counties so far represented. On every train the pupils are just coming in. The prospects for Winterville High School are indeed glowing. Everybody pull off hats and let's holler. Religious services at Reedy Branch and May's Chapel demanded the presence of right many of our fellow citizens last Sabbath.

Manuscript literary lists are now prepared to accommodate the travelling public and solicit their patronage.

Louise Highsmith and family left for a visit to Tarboro on the 8th.

Miss Mollie Bevan has been visiting in Raleigh several days.

Miss Carlton, of the Winterville High School, spent Saturday and Sunday in Greenville, visiting her sister, Mrs. Matthews.

B. F. Manning & Co., have just received a car load of flour.

Misses Bessie and Lala Chapman, who have been visiting in Vanceboro, returned home Sunday evening.

Mr. Hill, of Greenville, was down here Saturday placing a long distance phone in the office of the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

Mrs. Hiram Bell, of Pollocksville and Mr. and Mrs. Haynes, of Conetoe, were visiting friends here yesterday.

R. G. Chapman went to Greenville yesterday and again today.

Our farmers are very much depressed in spirits over the price of tobacco. If Greenville wants to be the tobacco market, it must keep up its reputation.

There are several young men visiting our town. Well, we are not surprised, the attractions are sufficient. Oh! they are here.

We like to forget. Frankie went to town yesterday, and he didn't have on a bell either.

Manuscript buggies are still rolling out of the shop, on the road, in the towns, in the cities, and they will continue to roll for they have no superior, and this is a recognized fact by an appreciative public.

Farmers of Pitt and Surrounding Counties.

Let me have your attention a moment. I have purchased the

Planters Warehouse

and will have charge of it this season. I have been identified with the Greenville Tobacco market almost from its start, and am familiar with every detail of the Tobacco business. It is my purpose in conducting the to run it in the interest of those who sell their tobacco on my floor, knowing that the more I help the farmer the more I help myself.

No effort will be spared to make every pile sold at the PLANTERS bring the highest price.

Knowing the value of Tobacco, having ample capital to carry on the business, assisted by the best helpers that can be procured, I can make it to your interest to sell at the PLANTERS.

Plenty of room to take care of your team, and all the farmers who come to stay over night will find ample accommodations.

Bring me your tobacco if you want best prices.

B. E. PARHAM, Prop'r, PLANTERS WAREHOUSE.

First Showing of New Fall and Winter Clothing

For weeks everybody about this establishment has been on the jump, marking and arranging the car loads of wearables that have been daily pouring into our store. We have now ready a of new and beautiful things in Men's, Boys' and Children's wear. We are especially proud of OUR MEN'S SUIT PLAY. We have the best Suits, made by the best makers we know anything about. It would take miles of talk to do them justice. Compare our Suits with any to be had anywhere—workmanship for workmanship—garment for garment—thread. Then COMPARE PRICES. Do this and you will buy your Fall Suit here. You can't help it, you know.

WRECK ON A. C. L.

Long Section of Track Torn Up.
Late Saturday afternoon the south-bound freight train between Weldon and Kinston was wrecked about 6 miles south of Grifton and near Grainers. The wreck was caused by the breaking of a truck on a coal car. About 500 feet of the track was torn up, but none of the cars were damaged to great extent. Several passengers were in the coach attached to the train but they all escaped injury. A wrecking train went down early Saturday night and finished clearing and repairing the track by noon Sunday.

When news of the wreck first reached Greenville it was feared that it might be the passenger train, and there was some uneasiness because of several Greenville people being on that train. But the passenger train was safe and while it could not get by when it reached the scene of the wreck the passengers were transferred to another train and taken on to Kinston Sunday.

A Great Scheme.
A patent medicine concern heads an ad with the caption "To cause night alarm." The article is a remedy for colds, etc. We would suggest that the firm add to its line a patent liniment and work this along with the medicinal scheme. The same ad with slight alteration, would cover both cures, just as the "To" stimulates the demand for each. It might point out that while the old man is shivering around in the dark, feeling for the paragon and paving the way to a consumptive's untimely end, the liniment might be used to shield the happy father from the disagreeable notoriety of a newspaper account, etc.

Announcement.
Mr. W. A. B. Hearne has taken a position as assistant editor of THE REFLECTOR and entered upon his duties to day. He will also help in looking after the business end of the paper in the way of collecting, contracting and collecting. In fact he will be ready for any duty that will advance the interest of the paper.

THE REFLECTOR has long wanted the assistance of such a man, so that we might give more personal attention to the general business affairs of the paper, and we believe the right one has been secured in Mr. Hearne. He is too well known to most of our readers to need any introductory commendation, and he will make his work, on and in the interest of THE REFLECTOR speak for itself.

OLD DOMINION LINE

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Pitt County made at March Term 1902 in a certain cause therein pending, entitled "In re probate in solemn form of the Last Will and Testament of Thos. J. Sheppard, deceased," I will, on Monday, October 13, 1902,
at 12 o'clock m., before the Court House door in Greenville, sell at public sale to the highest bidder, for cash, the following piece or parcel of land belonging to the estate of the late Thos. J. Sheppard, situate in Carroll township, Pitt County, to wit: A certain lot of land, to wit: the Washington Branch of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, adjoining the said railroad, the lands of the heirs of Daniel Hill and the lands of J. H. Salter, said land containing 112 acres more or less, and known as a part of the John S. Smith land and a part of the Langley land.
2. One tract lying on the east side of said railroad and immediately between said railroad and the county road leading from Tarboro to Washington, and bounded on the west by said road and on the south by the public road commonly called the Griffin road, on the east by a line running from a pine on said Griffin road, known as Sheppard and Little's corner, a north-west corner to a pine stump on the side of a little branch, known as Little's corner, and on the north by Alfred Jenkins' land, containing 380 acres more or less.
3. One tract adjoining the last described tract, the land of Alfred Jenkins, the land of Wm. W. Whitehead, the land of Frank Pollard's land, thence with the line of said land to the high water mark of said mill pond, thence with said high water mark to the Griffin road, thence with said road to the 380 acre tract, containing 380 acres more or less.
4. One tract beginning at Sheppard's and Little's corner on the Griffin road and running with Little's line to R. R. Fleming's line to the Tarboro Washington road, thence with said road to the Sheppard mill race, thence with said race up to a point 200 feet distant from the said road, thence across the mill dam with said dam and 20 feet distant therefrom, thence across the mill dam to the high water mark of said mill pond, thence with the high water mark to the Griffin road, thence with said road to the beginning corner, containing 380 acres more or less.
5. One tract lying on the north side of the Sheppard mill pond, adjacent to the high water mark of said mill pond, thence with the high water mark to the Griffin road, thence with said road to the beginning corner, containing 380 acres more or less, and known as the Ed. Holliday tract.
