

PULLEY & BOWEN.

Special offerings in every department of our store.

The season is well under way and the weather has been too mild. Our stock is larger than it should be, and to relieve this we are offering special inducements in the substantial form of clipping off a nice portion of the selling price. Remember our guarantee—if for any reason your purchase don't suit, we cheerfully refund your money.

36-inch Taffeta Silk, every yard guaranteed. You can't get any better better silk, no matter what the price. 1.25

22-inch Taffeta Silk. We are making a leader of this, and want you to compare it with other $1.50 silks; you will find it as good and the price only 75c.

11 yard wide Heavy Skirting, all wool, in tan, oxford and light gray; we have the very best that can be had to sell at 1.00

Ladies' Kid Gloves, black, white, tan, mode, gray, in fact all shades. We take special pains in selecting these and give you great values in every pair at 1.00

64-inch all linen flat bleached Table Tissue, fine and heavy and heavy and fully worth 50c.

Ladies' Vest, full size, all seams covered; they are the very 25c.

Ladies' Wool White Yests, fine and soft; if you are looking for something good and 1.85 pair for the, our price is now 10c.

Boys' Fine a-Lined Undershirts, all sizes, don't fail to see these at 25c.

Men's and Boys' Clothing.

We have a very strong line and in order to close the entire stock of clothing out we are offering it at 25 per cent. lower than former prices, as we are going out of the clothing business. We have always endeavored to sell the best goods, rather than the cheapest. Isn't it worth a great deal to know that whatever you buy here will be sold to you for just what it really is? That's the kind of people we are, and that is the kind of store we are keeping. Come to see us and examine our stock.

FALL IN LINE!
For we are on our way to Sheburn's Christmas Store.

There is no other place like it.

There you get all your wants supplied, no matter how large or small. Come early and avoid the rush.

Ed. H. Shelburn,
THE TOY MAN.

Don't fail to see me before you buy

Guns, Shells, Stoves, eaters, Pumps, Locks, Hinges.

And anything else in the Hardware Line.

Your friend,

A HAPPY HOME

Is one where health abounds. With impure blood there cannot be good health. With a disordered LIVER there cannot be good blood.

Tutti's Pills
revivify the torpid LIVER and restore its natural action.
A healthy LIVER means pure blood means happiness.
Take no Substitute. All Druggists.

The Persistent Passenger

"Tickets." The lightning express had just moved out of the Union station, and the conductor had emerged from the baggage car and begun to take up tickets. Coming to a gentleman with a pale complexion, red hair and gold spectacles, he punched his ticket, handing it back with the remark, "Don't stop at Blinton?"

"Don't stop at Blinton?" That was the question which the conductor asked of the man who had just bought a ticket on the train for Blinton.

"No, sir," answered the man. "I am not going to Blinton, I am going to Blinton."

"And if you don't stop at Blinton, you won't get to Blinton," said the conductor.

"No, sir," answered the man. "I am not going to Blinton, I am going to Blinton."

"No, sir," answered the man. "I am not going to Blinton, I am going to Blinton."

"No, sir," answered the man. "I am not going to Blinton, I am going to Blinton."

HOW AN INFANT SLOWLY LEARNS TO EXERCISE IT.

At First the Newborn Babe Has No Power to distinguish light from darkness and is in comparison with its later developed condition, blind while in many of the lower stages of the senses are at birth fully developed.

What a difference there is between the dull and the keen vision of the infant and the sharp vision of the young child, which is able to pick up with precision a grain of corn or even a speck of dirt.

It is not until the child is about a year old that it notices the difference between light and darkness when the light is very intense and it may even look into the light.

On the same principle a bright light will also be noticed when held close to the eye.

In all these cases, however, the infant follows the object by turning its head and not by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of a year and a half, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of two years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of three years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of four years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of five years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of six years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of seven years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of eight years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of nine years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of ten years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of eleven years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of twelve years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of thirteen years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of fourteen years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of fifteen years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of sixteen years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of seventeen years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of eighteen years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of nineteen years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of twenty years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of twenty-one years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of twenty-two years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of twenty-three years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of twenty-four years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of twenty-five years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

At the age of twenty-six years, the child is able to follow the object by the movement of the eyes.

A MAN'S RECKITE.

The manner of its arrangement most tells its own story.

"I wouldn't attempt to judge a man by his coat," said a lady, "but I would not hesitate to judge a man by his necktie. It is an almost infallible guide. Of course there are exceptions, but the character and intellect of most men can be told by the way in which they tie their ties."

Now take the overcoat man, for example. The tie of the gentleman who has afforded much scope for the pen of the satirist and the pencil of the caricaturist is usually a very plain one.

In reality a little peculiarity or idiosyncrasy in dressing is generally the outward and visible sign of an inward and invisible peculiarity of character.

It is not until the child is about a year old that it notices the difference between light and darkness when the light is very intense and it may even look into the light.

On the same principle a bright light will also be noticed when held close to the eye.

In all these cases, however, the infant follows the object by turning its head and not by the movement of the eyes.
