WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20th, 1889.

(Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., as Second-Class Mail Matter.)

The Kinston Free Press began its eighth year with last issue. It is an excellent paper, and Brother Herbert is a man who has honest convictions of his own and does not fail to express them fairly and impartially. May his paper meet the success he so richly deserves.

The White Caps seem to be working Southward. The Richmond Times last week told how two citizens were waylaid and mistreated by some of them within one mile of that city. Both the men the White Caps attacked were unarmed, or the Times says one or two dead bodies would have been found on the road.

The whole country was shocked last week by the murder of Capt. F. W. Dawson, editor of the Charleston News and Courier by Dr. P. B. McDow. The murder occurred in the office of Dr. McDow while no one else was present and the murderer tried to cover up his crime by attempting to bury the body of his victim in a closet. The press reports Capt. Dawson to have been one of the ablest men in the South.

Judge H. G. Connor, of Wilson presides at this term of our Court. His name is the very synonym of honor. He is a polished, dignified gentleman, a learned lawyer, an able reasoner, and has that pleasant address, courtly manner and intense earnestness that demands entire attention and respect from all in his presence. His charge was a masterly presentation of the principal points of law, and, while sound and logical, was delivered in such simplicity as to be easily understood by every one. Solicitor Worthington, of Martin, was punctually on hand, and is prosecuting for the State with his usual ability and fine reasoning powers. The Court is admirably officered.

On our first page is published a bill which was introduced in the late Legislature by Mr. G. B. King, of Pitt, and by both branches of that body made a law. It is concerning the incorporation of canal companies. The law heretofore only provided for a corporation of persons before a canal is cut. They could then avail themselves of the benefits of a charter. The law did not provide for a corporation after the canal is cut. Hence the proprietors might disagree and the canal became a burden to a few who for self-protection might keep it up. The remedy sought by this bill which is now the law, is to permit those who may be willing to contribute their pro rata share towards keeping up a canal, to enforce others, whose lands are also drained in said canal, to bear their just proportion of the expenses. It is a good law, and will be commended by the agricultural people of the State.

Experiment Station.

This Bulletin mailed in February is on the subject of composts, and the value of stable manure, and materials which ordinarily go to waste on many farms which might and ought to be utilized in fertilizers.

The value of stable manure, together with the best plan for its preservation, is especially referred to as it forms the basis of most composts. Many formulas for various crops are given, so, as far as possible, to include the different home materials likely to be saved. Many methods for homemade composts and mixtures are carried out by practical farmers all over the State are inserted, together with chemical analyses of many of these mixtures. While it may be too late now to compost for the present crop, yet it never too late to begin to save and utilize for the next crop the material at home, now possibly going to waste. H. B. BATTLE, Director.

Business Association.

In an article in our last issue we called attention to the importance of our citizens organizing a business association to promote the material interest of our highly favored town. Since then we learn that the Kinston people have formed one, and desiring to furnish all the light possible, we publish in this issue the Constitution and By-laws of such an organization, and repeat with emphasis that it is the necessary initiatory step to be taken to promote and advance an industrial boom for our town, and that it is necessary to have such an organization composed of men that shall forget self for a season and bring close to their hearts the best interest of our town and citizens.

We must have a bank, a cotton seed oil mill, a cotton factory and many other enterprises that shall bring work to our citizens and tend to the advantage of all. The organization referred to, can divide the work out among several committees and each committee will more effectually do the work allotted them, and work out the ways and means of establishing this enterprise or that, that to individual effort would seem at present hopeless. A few years ago we had no hope of a railroad, but it is now at our door, and if we will take these other matters in hand and organize so as to present the merits of our town and people to capitalists we can succeed in establishing the enterprises referred to. Where there is a will there is a way, and we must first show our willingness by proper organization and invite investigation.

We can select two dozen men in Greenville backed and sustained by the sentiments of our people, that will prove a tower of strength in the matters referred to. Nothing of the kind can succeed unless we enlist the confidence and good will of the community and surrounding country, and nothing will commence this sooner or better than organization.

We will first get the town people interested in these enterprises, and then we will draw in our country people, and we will soon have the entire country interested in the future of our town. We have good schools. We must have a cotton seed oil mill and with it will grow the thought of manufacturing all of our fertilizers. Then we must have a cotton factory. We must have as a facilitator of these and all of our mercantile interest a bank.

The REFLECTOR serves notice to its readers that it will never let up on these subjects until they become accomplished facts. And we ask the citizens to move and move at once in this matter. It is a life and death case. We must step forward and prove to the world our capabilities.

Business Association.

An association was organized in Kinston last week, and from the Free Press we take the plan of organization as it was adopted by the meeting:

NAME. Citizen's Business Association, BY-LAWS.

The officers are to consist of a President; two Vice-Presidents; a Secretary and Treasurer; an Executive Committee of eleven; and a Freight Committee of three. The Executive Committee to consist of the President, the two Vice-Presidents, the Secretary and seven members to be appointed by the President. Six members shall be a quorum of said committee. It shall be the duty of the Chairman of the committee to call the same together, upon the request of any two members thereof, by notifying each member personally. The President of this organization shall be ex-officio Chairman of the Executive Committee. The Freight Committee of three members is to be appointed by the President. It shall be the committee's duty to consider any and all questions relative to the transportation of freights to and from Kinston, to adjust matters arising under this head and to give information on this subject to any person interested in an enterprise; and further, upon request, to investigate and report upon the reliability and responsibility of commission merchants and others to whom consignments are or may be made.

The officers shall be elected annually at the first meeting in March or the first meeting thereafter and hold their respective offices until their successors are elected and qualified. The duties of the officers shall be the same as the usual duties of officers of other like organizations. It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee to look after the interests of the Association, to represent it in matters of business and to call the Association together whenever the committee may deem it necessary.

The object of the Association is the permanent prosperity of the town and vicinity.

General Items.

Farm work is progressing rapidly. We see some of the farmers have commenced laying off corn rows. Miss Ida Rogers is visiting relatives near Keelsville this week. Miss Cammie Daniel is teaching a private school near her mother's in Pactolus township. The school taught by Mr. C. H. James in the academy at Keelsville, will close next Friday.

Master Walter Whitehair who has been confined to his bed for two weeks past with pneumonia is rapidly recovering.

Miss Harriet Rogers of Keelsville, is visiting relatives in Pactolus township.

Mr. J. R. Davenport, of Pactolus, spent last week in the northern markets purchasing his spring stock of goods.

This is the season for wild geese to emigrate. Two large flocks were heard Sunday night in the southern portion of Carolina township as they were wending their way westward.

The fisherman report right good success the past few nights. We hope we will soon be able to purchase a shad, or perhaps two, with a week's earnings.

A dog disappeared suddenly in this section a few nights ago. It is supposed that he committed suicide by taking strychnine while pillaging a neighbors hen nests. That is a good way to get clear of such dogs - you always get the right one then.

Two men, brothers, from Carolina township went to Williamston one day last week and on their way home got into a difficulty in which one cut the other's thumb nearly off with a pocket knife. Cause, wis key, bad whiskey. BERT.

The Jurist. At this term of Pitt Superior Court the following were empaneled as the Grand Jury: W. C. House, Foreman, Wm Corbett, S. B. Hudson, J. J. Briley W. W. Tucker, G. L. Sutton, J. A. Andrews, Francis Nobles, James Gray, W. G. Case, Freeman Vines, W. W. Andrews, W. W. Leggett, Frank McLawhorn, W. J. Collins, S. M. Jones, J. S. Smith, J. J. Tucker.

The Petition for the first week is composed of Henry Harris, Jos. Lang, J. E. May, Austin Harris, A. S. Congleton, Jas. Harrington, John Pierce, E. S. Dixon, J. E. Taylor, T. B. Taylor, J. J. Dixon, John Highsmith, Noah Forbes, Jr.

Just as we went to press last night the REFLECTOR received a special telegram that a severe hail storm was passing Wilmington. Cab horses and people had to take shelter from the hail stones. A full account could not be published at the late hour the telegram came. The damage done was not reported.

J. Dennis, Peyton Allen, the May land and others (in Beaver Dam township); also one other tract in Beaver Dam township containing about twenty-five acres adjoining the lands of Charles Harris, H. C. Kinsaid and the homestead set apart for Alfred Nichols and others to satisfy an execution in my hands for collection against Alfred Nichols and which has been levied on said land and the property of said Alfred Nichols. This Feb. 12th, 1889. J. A. K. TUCKER, Sheriff. By R. W. KING, D. U.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR. GREENVILLE, N. C.

Local Sparks.

Personal. Miss Bettie King was visiting in town a few days of the past week. Miss Emily Greene is visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. M. Moore. Sheriff R. T. Hodges, of Beaufort, was in town Monday and yesterday. Miss Emma Hearne has returned from Tarboro on a visit to her parents. Mr. West, representing the Kingston Free Press, was into see us yesterday. Mrs. S. M. Merritt, of Bidge Spring, S. C., is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. B. Wilson. Mr. Ross representing the Washington Gazette came in for an occasional chat while at court. M. J. J. Perkins went to Washington City, Sunday, to see how Uncle Sam is getting along. Miss Susie Brown returned home last Wednesday from a visit of several weeks in Greene county. Mrs. Atwater who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. R. B. John, left last week for her home in Chatham county. Miss Addie Randolph left last week for Tarboro, where she will spend some time with her Uncle, Mr. C. H. Johnston. Rev. J. G. Nelson and family, of Williams, are visiting Mr. O. P. Humber, Joe always has a hearty welcome in Greensville. We were pleased to see Mr. E. B. Higgs, the clever traveling salesman of Jonathan W. Old, of Norfolk, in our office last week. Miss Manda Williams has returned from a visit near Farmville, and has resumed her position at Mrs. Sheppard's millinery store. Miss Nancy Ames, from near Norfolk, Va., spent the past week with the family of Mr. J. B. Cherry. She leaves to-day for her home. Hon. H. T. King, of the Tarboro Banner, is in town and dropped in for a chat. He reports progress on his paper which we were glad to learn. "Uncle Mark" Cherry was shaking hands with his many friends on the street Monday. He was the oldest Democrat in the late Legislature. Mrs. Lula Cleve, of New Bern is visiting her mother Mrs. Nancy. She will remain until after the Union meeting in the Baptist Church. Hon. Kemp P. Battle, President of the University of N. C. will deliver the Commencement address of Greenville Institute, Wednesday, June, 12th. Miss Jennie James has been quite sick for a week or two at the residence of her brother, Mr. F. G. James. We are glad to know she is much improved. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reid registered at Hotel Macon last week. Though late we extend our congratulations, wishing a long and prosperous life. Mr. G. B. King, junior member of the House, arrived home Saturday night. "Uncle Mark" says "Buck" was the best behaved young man in the Legislature and worked like a Trojan. Mr. C. A. Blount, a young man of this county who has been attending lectures at the medical college in Atlanta returned home a few days ago. We were glad to have a call from him. Mr. Frank Dancy returned last week from Fortness Monroe, where he and his brother, Mr. J. J. Dancy, Jr., went to join the U. S. Army. Joe was successful, stood the examination and enlisted. Besides the home bar at this Court, the visiting attorneys present were Capt. Swift Galloway, Goldsboro, Hon. J. E. Moore, Wilkesboro, Mr. J. H. Johnston, Bethel, and Dou Gilliam, Esq. Tarboro. All who want the Greenville post-office let them hold up their hands. Why is the leader of a brass band like a well fed hog? Because he has got his corn (cornet) eat. See! Tonight, Thursday night and Friday night services will be held in the Baptist Church by the Pastor. On the first Monday in April the County Commissioners will let out the contract for a building at the Poor House. See notice to contractors. The Wilson Mirror is seven years old. Henry Blount's brilliancy dims not with age, nor does his powers of beautiful word paintings diminish. Some gentlemen from Carolina township told us Monday that two flocks of wild geese passed their sections Sunday. The geese were travelling in a North westerly direction. Another batch of newsw items from "Bert" this week. Can't some friends from other sections of the county follow the good example he is setting and send items to their county paper. A beautiful buggy was run out at the Greenville Carriage Works on Monday for Dr. Hardy Johnson. The workmanship was faultless and it was as handsome a vehicle as can be found. The County Commissioners were in session Monday and decided to erect another large building at the Poor House. The new building will be 60 feet long, so Commissioner James tells us. Persons wishing to improve their memories or strengthen their power of attention should send to Prof. Loisetie, 231 Fifth Ave., N. Y., for his prospectus post free, as advertised in another column. Alfred Culley sent a box of his bald head preparation to Suffolk, Va., the other day. It was generally known that he had the best preparation in the world he would be filling such orders every day.

Married. BROWN-CERRY.—"Love laughs at locksmiths," is a saying of the past and true, and it might be just as truly said that when Greer does not plan the wedding, the accordance with some programme the little god has arranged, the latter parades his course just the same and laughs with equal gusto at Greer and the weather, too. For weeks Greenville had been preparing a nuptial celebration in which interest was never higher and one that no other had ever been looked forward to with greater pleasure by the entire community. Two of our most popular young people of each side, the head of social circles and were loved and esteemed by every one—were to meet at Hyman's shrine and in words that love had already sealed pledge their troth each to the other "until death do us part." Ah, such a picture is that crowned with love and so beautiful in all its surroundings, so pure in its nature, so holy in its purposes, instituted by the Creator and calling forth richest Divine blessings upon it. "As unto the bow the cord is, So unto man is woman the next; Though she bends him, she obeys him, Though she draws him, yet she follows, Useless each without the other." The time for such a happy occasion was at the Methodist church in Greenville on Thursday evening, the 14th inst, at 9 o'clock, and notwithstanding the very inclement weather the building was filled to overflowing with persons who were anxious to witness the marriage of Miss Nina Cherry, the beautiful daughter of our worthy County Treasurer, Mr. James B. Cherry, to Dr. Zezo Brown, son of Dr. W. M. B. Brown. Astonishment greeted each of the audience as they entered the church doors and beheld the beauties within. The decorations were superb. At the end of each aisle, the bride and altar was an evergreen gate, and over the one on the right was an arch on the top centre of which was the name "Brown" formed in white chrysanthemums. Over the gate of the left aisle was a similar arch bearing the name "Cherry." The altar was a perfect mass of exquisite flowers, tastefully arranged in pyramid. The beautiful calla lily with its stately head reared aloft lent its beauty to blend with the fuschia, hyacinth, begonia, woodbine, tuberosa and geranium making a picture that words cannot paint. Over this pyramid and extending across the altar was a large arch of evergreens illuminated with wax candles. The bridal party entered the church keeping step with lovely strains from Mendelssohn, rendered by Mrs. J. B. Cherry. To say she presided at the organ is sufficient for our people who know that under her magnificent touch chord blends with chord in all its rich sord and inspiring melody. To hear her is to lift the heart in gratitude and praise that music has been sent to earth to bless the sense of man. The first to enter were Masters Charlie James and David Jarvis, who proceeded to the gates each holding one open. Next the ushers, Messrs. J. W. Brown, S. T. Hooker, E. W. Brown, E. C. Glenn, Charles Skinner and D. J. Whichard, three up each aisle. They came the attendants in couples opposite each other on the right and left aisle: Mr. R. W. King and Miss Nancy Lee Ames, of Virginia; Mr. W. B. Brown and Miss Ella Monteiro; S. A. Redding and Miss Nannie Wilson; W. B. Greene and Miss Martha Tyson; Frank Wilson and Miss Susie Brown; W. M. Brown and Miss Sallie Marshall; C. T. Manly and Miss Bessie Boyd; R. Williams, Jr., and Miss Lillie Brown of Tarboro; J. L. Little and Miss Nannie King; W. B. James and Miss Jennie Williams; J. B. Cherry, Jr., and Miss Betsey Jane Greene. These advanced to the gates and separated 'til the bride and groom elect should pass through. Then came up the right aisle Dr. Zezo Brown with his left hand, Dr. W. M. B. Brown, preceded by little Nina Cherry with her father Mr. J. B. Cherry, preceded by little Nina James. After they had passed to the front of the altar the attendants filed through and took their positions in a semi-circle on either side. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. B. John in a manner that was beautiful and impressive. All the ladies were exquisitely attired, Miss Ames wore pink silk, silk, pink garter, diamonds, Miss Monteiro wore white faille silk, diamonds, Miss Wilson cream albatross and srah, gold ornaments, Miss Tyson blue benrietta cloth and lace, rhinestones. Miss S. Brown, blue albatross and satin, rhinestones, Miss L. Brown lilac satin and lace, gold, Miss Marshall cream satin and lace, gold, Miss Boyd cream cashmere and lace, blue jewelry. Miss King cream tulle and lace, diamonds, Miss Greene pink gauze gold. Little Nina James white embroidered mul. Little Janie Brown white lace and mul. The bride wore white faille silk, crepe lisse front, embroidered Persian colors, or ornaments but natural orange blossoms. Masters James and Jarvis wore suits of black velvet and lace. Master Jim Cherry full evening dress suit of black velvet. The gentlemen wore full dress suits. After the ceremony, as the organ again pealed forth its sweetest strains, the bride and groom passed out the right aisle, the attendants crossing in front of the altar and going out the opposite aisle from which they entered. The reception was held at the splendid home of Mr. James B. Cherry. "And the wedding guests assembled Clad in their richest robes." Hosts of friends called to extend congratulations to the bride and groom and offer expressions of good wishes, testifying to the high esteem in which they were held by every one. The guests were hospitably entertained by Mr. Cherry and his excellent wife and the occasion was most enjoyable. The supper was elegant and sumptuous, embracing all the delicacies the taste could wish. Later in the evening the enjoyment was heightened by Mrs. Cherry, who at the solicitations

Dissolution. The firm of Liechtenstein & Schultz has this day dissolved by mutual consent, the entire interest in the firm being purchased by Sam'l M. Schultz, who will continue the business at the old stand. All the business of the old firm will be settled by Mr. Schultz, and all monies due to be paid to him. This 21st day of February, 1889. D. LICHTENSTEIN SAM'L M. SCHULTZ. Having assumed entire control of the Grocery and Furniture business of Liechtenstein & Schultz with which I have been connected since 1875, with the above named partner, you are informed that I will continue to find me at the Old Brick Store prepared to suit their wants in every particular. Regarding the future of the very generous patronage bestowed upon the old firm, I solicit a continuance of their favors, which every endeavor will be made to merit. Respectfully, Sam'l M. Schultz. Ho! What's Thi? Why another new discovery by Alfred Culley in the way of helping the afflicted? By calling on or addressing the above named barber, you can procure a bottle of Preparation that is invaluable for eradicating dandruff and causing the thickening hair to be perfectly soft and glossy, only two or three applications a week is necessary, and a comb or hair brush is all to be used after rubbing the ointment vigorously for a few minutes with the Preparation. The bottle and box are convined, only 50 cents. Respectfully, ALFRED CULLEY, Barber, GREENVILLE, N. C.

PLEASE TELL YOUR NEIGHBOR. THAT THE PRICE OF THE COX Cotton Planter Has been reduced from $10 to $8. And not depend on borrowing nor trying to make one Planter do the work of two Planters, but buy a planter this season and save the risk of losing a stand of cotton which may cost you more than several planters. REPAIRING. Tell him not to delay but examine now and see if his old planter needs any repairs, and if so order them at once or send the Planter to me or leave it with Mr. Alfred Forbes with full particulars and it will be taken to factory, and returned at a moderate cost. Builder's Material. Tell him that I can furnish him any Timbers that he may need, either dressed or undressed. Also I can furnish him with building Brackets and Balusters for your porches and piazzas, in fact any mouldings or trimmings that he may need to build a nice house. Will Grind Your Corn. And further that I can grind his corn into good Meal and that I will convince him of the same if he will bring me his corn to grind.
