WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17th, 1889.

Some few North Carolina towns are getting a taste of the radical rule of the present day. Rocky Mount and Halifax are fair examples and the people of those towns are to be sympathized with. President Harrison has appointed negro postmasters at each of these places. A negro woman at Halifax and a negro man at Rocky Mount. A fine state of affairs this. If a white man puts his name to the board of either of them a shower of ancient hen fruit would be no more than he deserves.

An administration must be getting at a low ebb when even the members of its own party do not sanction it. We heard a prominent Republican of Greenville expressing himself the other day upon matters municipal. He abused the Democrats a bit for having the town charter amended by the last Legislature and the wards differently arranged so that the town would go back into Democratic rule, but took it all back by saying: "As mean as this was on the part of the Democrats, I think they were perfectly excusable in doing anything that would take the control of the town out of the hands of the set that now govern it." He will only have to wait until after the first Monday in May to see the administration changed. True some of the present Councilmen are Democrats but the Republicans have a majority and control affairs. The next town election will reverse the order.

The storm ten days ago made a destructive record of flood and fire. At Norfolk, Va., the tide was so high that much of the city was flooded. The water getting into lime stores caused fire to break out that swept away much property beside that destroyed by the flood. The loss was several hundred thousand dollars. At Savannah, Ga., fire played havoc with the city, destroying many of its finest buildings and leading business establishments. It was the most disastrous conflagration that ever visited the city. The loss is estimated at a million and a half dollars. In our own State the historic old town of Smithfield was laid in ashes, upwards of a hundred buildings being consumed by the devastating element. All the business portion of the town was destroyed and its enterprise given a heavy blow. A hundred thousand dollars was not cover the loss and there was little insurance. The people do not despair but with pluck and energy have already begun to rebuild.

"The death-knell of the Democratic party was heard on the 6th of November last."—Raleigh Signal, Negro Organ.

Wonder if Loge Harris knows what a death-knell is? Wonder if he ever heard one? Fools sometimes imagine vain things, and idiots (natural born) frequently laugh and titter at things ideal. The editor of the Signal evidently belongs to one of these classes, or else he would never have had the cheek to pen the above. Death-knell of the Democratic party sounded, indeed! Where, and by whom? pray tell, Mr. Solomon! We have heard it sounded many a time by some of your kinky-headed henchmen; but by no one else. We hardly thought of finding among any other class a fool so stupid or so regardless of truth. There's more vitality in the Democratic party to-day than the Radical party ever had. You may defeat it a thousand times but you can never destroy its principles or dim its lustre. Democratic ideas and Democratic doctrine will live in the hearts of decent white men until "the last syllable of recorded time."

And yet the death-knell of the Democratic party has been sounded. Sounded by a majority of a million white freemen in its favor! Sounded by a popular majority of 100,000 on the 6th of November last! Sounded by the solid endorsement of every Southern State in giving to it a majority aggregating over a half-million votes! And it is still being sounded. The Democrats have very recently carried the city of Chicago by a 12,000 majority, a net gain of 32,000. They have carried St. Louis by 2,000, a net gain of several thousand. They have carried Cincinnati by a largely increased majority. They have virtually carried Rhode Island—the Democratic candidate for Governor, receiving almost a plurality over four different candidates. They elected their Attorney General by a handsome majority, and control one branch of the legislature. And to crown the whole, they have carried Montana, one of the new-made States. Glorious death! We trust it will die a thousand deaths like this, and that its funeral knell will continue to be sounded. When these negro worshippers, of which the editor of the Signal is a bright sample, begin to hear returns from the congressional elections throughout the country in 1890, they will be so dazed that they will wonder if the people didn't cast their ballots in the wrong box. From the present outlook the Democrats will have 50 majority in the lower house two years hence.

But we beg the Signal's pardon most graciously. We forgot the fact that one J. B. Eaves, a contemptible puppy, hailing from the county of Rutherford, did sound the death-knell of the Democratic party in North Carolina, the last campaign. It may be to that little episode of the "Reliable" that the Signal refers. But some how that death-knell was too full of life for the rats. Pity it was, to be so ingloriously beaten by a party composed of dead men. Perhaps the Signal can give us some interesting information along this line.

The large meeting of citizens in the Opera House last Thursday night, gives promise of a brighter future for Greenville. The meeting was called to take steps looking to the organization of a Business Association whose aim should be to secure the development and advancement of the town and community and the large number present shows that the people are alive to such a movement. The attendance even surpassed the expectations of the originators of the association and such a manifestation of interest is sure to beget beneficial results. Nor was such a movement instituted before it was needed. Greenville is an old town, her history dating far back into the last century, but not until late years has any special spirit of progress existed within her borders. Naturally it is a much favored town. Beautifully situated at such an elevation that makes its drainage almost perfect, unusually healthy locality, and in the centre of one of the wealthiest, largest and most fertile counties in the State. In fact nature had done so much that for ages her citizens seemed satisfied to move quietly along with the drift of the tide. But times are different and changes are being wrought. The people are awaking from their lethargy. Greenville of to-day is not recognized by those who knew the town ten years ago. In the eight years of the REFLECTOR's existence it has witnessed almost a complete transformation. It has seen the business portion of the town increase from one solitary brick store to six splendid blocks of from three to nine stores each. It has seen residence after residence go up. It has seen the town double the size of its population.

But it is of the future we started out to talk. To keep pace with the spirit of progress of this day the people must bestir themselves. There must be activity and energy if Greenville is to occupy that position as a commercial centre to which her resources entitle her. The people are coming to this realization. The initial step has been taken. Let it be followed up by others. Grasp every opportunity for improvement that presents itself, work earnestly, work aggressively, and ere long the full fruition of our hopes will be realized. Let every man who was at the meeting last Thursday night go again to-morrow night, and induce as many others as possible to go with him.

Washington Letter.

(From our regular correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, April 12, '89.

Harrison is still keeping up his policy of wearing out the office-seekers, and judging from the way the hotel lobby is beginning to thin out he is succeeding pretty well. With the exception of a batch of postmasters, he has made no important appointments this week, and the republicans are slowly discovering that it is poor policy to try to drive him into a hurry after he has announced his intention of going slow. Patience, Messrs. office-seekers, your machine goes slowly but every time it appoints a man it is a republican, free from any symptoms of mugwumpism that succeeds a democrat, and it is only a question of time when every democrat now in office will be succeeded by a republican. What more can you ask? In the mean time if you want to see the republicans appointed and democrats removed with lightning rapidity just drop into First Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson's office and see him manipulate the fourth class postoffices of the country. He has reached an average of over fifty a day.

Assistant Secretary Bussey of the Interior Department has just reversed a pension decision of General Black, that will affect many other applications. The applicant was injured by the fall of a tier of seats at a circus, and General Black rejects the application of a pension on the ground that the injury was not received during the performance of duty. This decision has now been reversed and the pension allowed. The published disagreement between Mr. Harrison and Mr. Blaine does not exist as far as I can ascertain, therefore the rumored retirement of Blaine from the Cabinet is a little premature. Doubtless the correspondent who sent the matter off, like the most of other people here, regards a state of affairs as almost a certainty at some time in the future, and did not think he was taking any very great risk in sending the matter off as having already become a certainty.

Mr. Harrison's latest rap at the democratic party was to inform a democratic Senator, who called on him in behalf of a democrat that wants to be a member of Civil Service Commission, that in appointing those democrats, which by law he is compelled to, he should only recognize those that are protectionists. This seems to be an injustice to the great majority of the democratic party.

Solicitor General Jenks has been requested by the Attorney General to remain in office until the Supreme Court disposes of the government telephone cases. Mr. Jenks has consented, although it seriously interferes with arrangements he had previously made in relation to his private business. Representative Springer said just before leaving for home: "I feel much better than I have for a long time. I have gained fully ten pounds in weight since the fourth of March, due probably to the fact that I have had nothing to do with the great National steeple chase for office. My supporters are not entered for that court. A great many of them were four years ago and then I had a busy time all day and when night came I could do nothing but dream of the thousands of anxious faces that haunt the White House and the Departments. I am good deal more of a Civil Service reformer than I ever supposed I could be. Of course I understand that when we have a perfect Civil Service the millenium will not be far away but I think it better to move in the direction of the millenium than towards pandemonium which is the result of the Spoils system. There is too much patronage in the hands of the President and the Departments, and I shall next winter, introduce and advocate a bill to relieve them of the pressure. I will try to lift the Congressman's burden, too, by working for the election of postmasters by the people that can be done without changing the constitution, for the election would be simply a recommendation. Democrats here are confidently expecting that Montana will go Democratic, thus adding two Senators and one representative to the party's force in Congress.

The Department clerks that were discharged during Cleveland's administration are trying to get Harrison to change the rule of Civil Service, which says that no clerk discharged shall be reinstated after the lapse of one year without passing a new examination, so as to make it four years. Harrison has not decided the matter, but it is not believed that he will do it.

The Newspaper Critic.

Go out on the streets most any Wednesday morning after the REFLECTOR has been carried around and you can see a dozen men, or more reading papers that somebody else has paid for.—Greenville Reflector.

It is even worse than that in Shelby just after the New Era has been distributed. And these same dead beats are the very men who are continually criticizing and bemoaning their home papers. They will pay for a foreign weekly, (that never gives them home news), but when it comes to paying the man who tries to build up their town, they won't do it, but will "cuss him out" for not doing more to develop their property.—Shelby New Era.

The mercantile world has realized that advertising is a much better business matter as the employment of clerks or the selection of goods. Strict attention to this branch of business has made many merchants wealthy, while others who have not attached much importance to it have wondered at their want of success. They simply have not kept up with the times.—Wilmington Messenger.

Caution Thousands of peddlers and many unscrupulous grocers are trying to force on the public dangerous imitations of Pearline. Considering the marvellous popularity of Pearline, this is not surprising. We want to warn the public against the use of these articles. They are dangerous to fabric and hands. PEARLINE is never peddled, but sold by grocers everywhere. Each package bears the name of JAMES PYLE, New York.

THE PATTERN OF THE RAIN.
COATES KIRKBY.
When the humid shadows hover
Over all the starry spheres
And the melancholy darkness
Gently weeps in raining tears.
What a joy to press the pillow
Of a cottage chamber bed,
And to listen to the patter—
Of the soft rain overhead.
Every patter on the shingles
Has an echo in the heart,
And so a thousand recollections
Lure you being start;
And a thousand busy fancies
Weave their bright hues into woe
As we listen to the patter
Of the soft rain on the roof.
Now in memory comes my mother,
As she used long years ago,
To regard the falling dews
Of a cottage chamber bed,
Ere she left them, till the dawn.
Oh, I see her leaning o'er me,
As I lie to the refrain
Which is played on the shingles
By the patter of the rain.
Then my little scraph sister,
With her wild and waving hair,
And my star-eyed cherub brother—
A serene angelic pair!
Glide around my wakened pillow,
With their pulses in mild reproof,
As I listen to the murmur
Of the soft rain on the roof.
And another comes to thrill me,
With her eyes delicious blue;
And I mind not musing on her,
That her heart was all untrue;
I remember but to love her
With a passion quick to pain,
And my heart's quick pulses vibrate,
To the patter of the rain.
Art hath naught, or tone of cadence,
That can work with such a spell
In the soul's mysterious fountains,
Whence the tears of nature dwell.
As that melody of nature,
That subdued, subduing strain,
Which is played upon the shingles
By the patter of the rain.

I have tried Swift's Specific in a very bad case of Blood Disease,
and take great pleasure in saying it was a perfect success, producing a complete cure. I have also tried it in many other cases with good re-

I have used Swift's Specific in my

I have taken Swift's Specific for
