WEDNESDAY, MAY 22nd, 1889.

Col. Pardee's Address.

Before the Business Association of Greenville, N. C.

FELLOW CITIZENS:

Your invitation to visit

Greenville that we might confer

together on subjects in which every American is interested, but which localized are of supreme importance

to you, was exceedingly gratifying to me for many reasons. Not the least of these was that it showed

me to be held in kindly remembrance

by some of you whom I met here

five years since, and whose courtesies

to me at that time have always been a pleasant memory. Moreover, it was an agreeable thought that your distinguished townsman, Governor Jarvis,

would at last have the chance to fulfill a threat he made years ago,

and pay me off for a detention for which I was not responsible, although I was intrusted with the responsibility of his safe keeping.

Since my coming here, he and his late staff officer, Col. Harry Skinner,

have more than kept that old time

vow, and I here in your presence,

release him from all further obligation to it.

Your invitation intimated a practical purpose. You asked for advice. In this I find that you have not followed a historic precedent.

When the troubles began that preceded the American Revolution,

the free holders of Pitt county assembled Oct. 4th, 1774, and appointed nine of their number a standing Committee, and invested them with arbitrary power to act for the general welfare. The first business of that committee, after it had duly

organized and entered upon its responsibilities, was, at a meeting held November 3rd, 1774—"to consider the unhappy situation of the inhabitants of the town of Boston

and the miserable distress of its poor," and to take prompt measures for contributing to their relief. No

thoughtful reader of the concise minutes of that meeting can fail to see that the characteristics of the free holders of Pitt County were the same in 1774 that they are to-day.

These men had the courage of their convictions; they were very much

in earnest; they knew that the cause of Boston was their cause

also, and their broad philanthropy

was quickened by their patriotism.

They went to work at once, systematically and unitedly. Then, with the same cautiousness that still holds good, they provided such

forms and vouchers as were essential to a thoroughly honest and accurate accounting. Having done this-they Resolved: "That this committee will be thankful to any person or persons for any advice that may be of service to the committee

Employment at Home. Our correspondent 'Bert' calls attention to another matter this week that works to the detriment of Pitt county's interests. He says Mr. J. B. Page, formerly of Paeolous township, is in Tarboro now. He moved to that place last week to get employment for himself and family in one of the factories recently built there.

Our Business Association should hurry and get a factory of some kind in Greenville so that Pitt county men who have capital to invest may do it at home and those wanting employment may not have to leave their county to find it.

General Items. Farm work has been very much verified in our section the past week. Some of our farmers have been mowing and chopping cotton, me, (a good many), have been reaping and some putting in corn and preparing to plant.

To-day the order is reversed, and they are busy opening trenches to let the water run out of their fields. One of the heaviest rains of the season fell here yesterday and last night.

The wheat crop, which has been doing very well, has rust very bad. It is thought by some of our farmers that this wet spell will almost ruin

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR. GREENVILLE, N. C.

Local Sparks.

Dark nights. Snakes are out. Cherries are ripe. Heavy rain Sunday. Magnolias are blooming. The 'gator is dead. Drunk, your Honor.

The shad and herring season has about passed. Superior Court in Washington next week. Go to Rountree's Feed Store for your seed peas.

Fulton Market Pickled Beef at the Old Brick Store. Farmers say seasons are good and they are hopeful of a large crop. $6 will buy Point Lace, the best Flour at the Old Brick Store.

The late rain has made a rise in the river and put a stop to fishing with Look and line. The Cash will be paid for 10,000 lbs. Beeswax at the Old Brick Store.

Culley shipped several bottles of his bald head preparation last week. Many items and some correspondence is crowded out of this issue.

The past week our citizens have been enjoying peas and Irish potatoes. Strawberries have been as cheap as 10 cents a quart during the past week.

Cabbage plants for sale, both early and late, apply to Allen Warren. Mrs. Ada Moore killed a large moccasin snake on her premises Saturday.

Several light cases of sickness around town. Dysentery the principal trouble. T. M. Moore wants to close out a stock of goods at cost. See advertisement.

100 Bushels Seed Peas at the Old Brick Store. Alfred Forbes, Executor of Mrs. Irene Forbes, deceased, has a notice to creditors in this issue.

See notice to creditors by Wm. L. Smith, administrator of David C. Clark, advertised in this paper. The rain Sunday night caused small congregations at the churches. The Baptist church was not opened.

German and Pearl Millet, Orchard Grass, Timothy and Clover Seed for sale by E. C. Glenn. The article on first page concerning the picnic at Bynums Mill was written for last issue but crowded out.

Just received Boss Famous Lurch Milk Biscuit. The most palatable, at the Old Brick Store. Miss Higgs began her dancing school on last Thursday night and has a large class. See advertisement.

The ordinance of baptism will be administered at the close of the service in the Baptist Church tonight. The barber shops have been provided with bells to ring on the lists who sometime congregate there.

This week the REFLECTOR office will receive a beautiful line of cards for invitations and such. Send in your orders. Where will you spend the summer? Mrs. Sue Roberts, of Beaufort N. C., offers board at low rates. See advertisement.

Something more than four miles of track has been laid this side of the A. & R. crossing coming on towards Greenville. 35 per lb for Lorillard Sweet Scotch Snuff. 5000 lb sold in Pitt Co., with a guarantee of its superiority, at the Old Brick Store.

The large alligator that was exhibited here the first of last week died Wednesday night. The bubble of that stock company exploded. Milk is offered for sale at very reasonable prices by Miss Leta McGowan. See advertisement and schedule of prices in another column.

We have been informed by the assistant Postmaster that the office would be removed at an early day to the old Knox store on Fourth street. Lumber and material is being placed on the site for the construction of the new residence to be erected by Dr. McG. Ernal this summer.

Simms shows a remarkably beautiful line of samples from which to make selections for suits. His work stands the test every time and gives satisfaction. In the speech of Col. Pardee which we publish elsewhere, a splendid tribute is paid to the press of North Carolina. No doubt the brethren will appreciate it.

There was a better attendance at the Guard drill last Friday than for several meetings past, there being twenty-six out. We hope soon to see it even more increased. The Academy grove was beautifully illuminated and there was a large attendance on the occasion of the lawn party given by the ladies of the M. E. Church, last Friday night.

We recently heard a young man who had attended a big meeting and seen a great many preachers while there, remark that Rev. Mr. — was a very smart man in his estimation, for he heard him tell as many good jokes as any one could tell. ENTITLED TO THE BEST.—All are entitled to the best that their money will buy, so every family should have, at once, a bottle of the best family remedy, Syrup of Figs, to cleanse the system when afflicted with biliousness. For sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. C. D. Rountree is quite sick. Col Harry Skinner is in Raleigh. Miss Nannie King returned home last week from a visit to Wilson.

Mr. J. A. Andrews has been among the sick for the last few days. M. J. H. Tucker and family returned Saturday from Warrenton. Mrs. W. H. Smith spent last week among her friends at Scotland Neck.

The family of Mr. A. N. Ryan left last week for a visit to relatives in Virginia. Mr. Leon Pender, a tinner from Tarboro, is doing some work in Greenville.

Rev. J. J. Woodson and wife have been spending the week with relatives here. We regret to know that Mr. J. B. Johnson is in very bad health.

Misses May Harris and Lizzie Giddens, of Falkland, spent Saturday in town. Miss Josephine Purvis of Martin, is visiting her sister Mrs. V. L. Stephens.

Mr. L. K. Parvis and wife, from near Hamilton, spent Saturday and Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. V. L. Stephens. Rev. J. W. Wildman returned Friday from the Southern Baptist Convention at Memphis.

We were pleased to have a call last Friday from Mr. W. D. Keel of Keelsville, N. C. Our good friend, Mr. John Reuss, left for New York last Wednesday for the purpose of making his home in that city. He has been in Greenville several years, is a clever young man and we regret he has left here.

Rev. L. L. Nash, a former pastor here preached in the Methodist church Sunday and Monday nights. He has many warm friends here, among whom himself and wife have been spending a few days. Elder Josephus Latham, who lives four miles from town, has been very sick for two weeks at the home of a friend in Beaufort county. He was taken sick while enroute to one of his appointments. We are glad to hear his condition has improved.

We were glad to have a call on Monday from Mr. J. L. Hudson of Lawley Fla. He left Greenville about three years ago, and has since been living in the land of flowers. On Tuesday of last week, 14th, he was married to Miss Bushnell of Lawley and left the same day with his bride to visit his father here. Mr. Hudson will spend the summer in Greenville.

The meeting conducted by Rev. E. C. Glenn at Bethlehem closed last week. Fifteen conversions and thirteen accessions to the church was the result. We see from last week's Washington Gazette that Mr. Isaac Raul died recently in Birmingham, Ala. For some time he was a resident of Greenville and was greatly liked by our people.

Barely enough water in the river last week for boats to get through to Tarboro. Steamer Greenville only made one trip through, but the Myers managed to get there all the week. It only requires that the people of Greenville shall stand together and work together for the world to see that there is life in this community and that we mean business in the progressive move now upon us.

Our carrier was sick last Wednesday and the Bad Boy and Burney had to take the REFLECTOR to town patrons. No complaint has come in as an evidence of their work having been well performed. We don't see how a man with any decency at all can let his subscription account run up to several dollars and then try to sneak out of payment by leaving the paper in the postoffice. But it takes all kind of people to make a world.

Our Bad Boy desires to return thanks to Misses Ella and Lela Keel for an invitation to the commencement exercises of the Kinsey School, La Grange, N. C., to be held June 5th and 6th. Pitt county teacher: (to young man who has just entered school), Mr. — would you like to study clement? Mr. — (A little embarrassed) No ma'am. I dont care to study anything but the English language.

Miss Lena Hudgins with a class of eight orphans reached Greenville yesterday and the class gave a concert in the Opera House last night. We went to press too early to make any comment upon the entertainment, but are willing to vouch for its being a complete success. Mrs. W. F. Andrews died at her home near Kinston last Friday night. On Saturday her remains were brought through Greenville and carried to the home of her father, Mr. John Proctor, two miles from town, from whence the funeral took place.

In the hurried writing up of the first meeting of the new Board of Councilmen and the work they did last week, we inadvertently placed the name of Alfred Forbes Treasurer when it should have been M. R. Lang. The latter was elected Treasurer and a good one he will make. In the words of that illustrious statesman and able orator of the revolutionary times, Patrick Henry, "I know of no way of judging of the future but by the past." And judging by the past and the reports we have been hearing what are we to look for next? It is nothing but a marriage a few miles the other side of the river to-night.—BAD BOY Refreshments.

The Ladies Society of the Baptist church will be prepared to serve tea, cream and Strawberries, at usual prices, in the parsonage yard to-morrow (Thursday), from 10 o'clock, P. M. Give them a call.

WE have been requested by the yard committee of the Masonic Lodge to warn persons against trespassing upon the premises and breaking and destroying the flowers. Several cases of depredations have lately been reported, and the committee say if it is not stopped the law will be applied to the offenders.

The Lexington Dispatch, Mr. T. B. Eldridge's paper, has just commenced its eighth year. Our brother says he has experienced the ups and downs familiar to country newspaper life, and we are glad to know that by staunch adherence to principles and faithful devotion to its section the Dispatch is meeting with success.

Gov. Jarvis' letter. On our first page we publish a letter written by ex-Gov. Thos. J. Jarvis to the Spanish-American Commercial Union, and the editorial comment made upon it by the Manufacturer's Record, of Baltimore. The Spanish-American Commercial Union is an association formed in the city of New York for the purpose of promoting and developing the commercial and friendly relations with Spanish America, Brazil and the West India and Philippine Islands. The association held a banquet during the late centennial in New York and invited Gov. Jarvis to be present and respond to the toast "The United States and Brazil." Circumstances prevented his attendance, but he wrote the letter referred to which was read before the assembly at the banquet and afterwards published in the Manufacturer's Record. The ability of the letter will at once be discovered upon reading.

Correction. Mr. S. T. Carson of Bethel, writes that our correspondent "J" did him an injustice last week in saying he was an independent candidate for Mayor. The people of that town, regardless of party principles, held a convention and nominated W. A. James for Mayor and S. A. Gainer, J. L. S. Ward, J. R. Bunting, W. J. Rollins and S. T. Carson for Commissioners. After the convention there was some dissatisfaction at the manner in which it had been called and Mr. Carson was several times solicited to run as an independent candidate for Mayor instead of on the ticket as a Commissioner. This he refused to do and insisted that everything should go on quietly as it had started. However, on the day of election several of his friends decided to vote for him for Mayor, not for the purpose of opposing Mr. James, but only as a compliment to Mr. Carson, who was elected a Commissioner as nominated by the convention. Mr. Carson writes us a long explanation of the matter for publication but as the paper is very much crowded this week we make the above synopsis of it which about covers the ground and which we hope will be entirely satisfactory to him.

Col. Pardee's Speech. We make no apology for devoting our entire editorial page this week to the speech of Col. B. S. Pardee, of New York, before the Business Association of Greenville, which was delivered in the Opera House last Thursday night. There was a large audience present and the closest attention was paid the speaker. His address was an excellent one and pleasantly delivered and it was filled with good advice and sound suggestions which we hope to see our people take action upon. Col. Pardee was introduced by Hon. T. J. Jarvis, President of the Association. In his remarks Gov. Jarvis spoke of his acquaintance with Col. Pardee. He said their first meeting was during the war when a company over which Gov. Jarvis was captain were taken prisoners at Roanoke Island and placed on board a vessel in the keeping of Col. Pardee who was then a yankee captain. That was not an agreeable acquaintance, but one that proved far more pleasant than he had anticipated. It was formed at their next meeting at the exposition at Atlanta in 1881, and this was renewed more intimately at the exposition at Boston in 1884. At both these expositions North Carolina made large exhibits of her resources and Col. Pardee was found to be interesting himself very much in this State. Since then, Gov. Jarvis went on to say, he had shown greater interest year by year in the State and had been instrumental in directing much capital and many settlers to our borders. He was a man full of information and could tell our people just what they needed. At the close of Col. Pardee's speech, which we publish in full, he was asked a few questions by gentlemen in the audience relative to securing other enterprises than those he mentioned, also to the best method of disposing of our surplus lands and inducing capital to come among us.

Farmville Items. Rain. Rain. Everything is wet in these parts. Considerable sickness in the community, mumps being in order. Mrs. Pennie Braxton and Mrs. Fannie Cobb are both quite sick and several neighbors have sick children. It is with sorrow we chronicle the death of Mr. Howell Joyner which occurred recently. A good man has gone to his reward. He will be sadly missed by his many friends. Messrs. Howell Cobb and Hazard Kittrell had a narrow escape from serious injury on last Wednesday. While returning from a fish fry their buggy was upset near California, giving them a few bruises. Further on they were turned over in the creek and come near getting drowned. They lost a lot of herrings. Miss Nannie Gardner, accompanied by her brother Mr. J. C. Gardner, returned to her home in Wilson this morning, after having spent two weeks with the family of Mr. W. H. Wilkinson. The revival at Bethlehem closed last week with several accessions to the church. Mr. Glenn is the man to soften the hard hearts of sinners. May he live long and be the means of converting many souls.
