Poetry.

WHAT CARE I? Shall I, waiting in despair, Die, because a woman's fair? Or make pale my cheeks with care, Cause another's rove are? Be she fairer than the day, Or the flowery meads in May, If she be not so to me, What care I how fair she be?

A Neglected Historic Event.

Elizabeth City Economist. It is now quite the fashion to celebrate by monuments and public orations the great events of history connected with this American continent, this "new world," as it is called. It is well, for it has a most salutary influence upon our national character, which is conspicuously wanting in the quality of reverence and veneration.

Lose one and Gain Three.

Millville (Pa.) Tablet. One of the annoyances to which the publishers of newspapers are almost continually subjected, is that of the man who finds fault because the editor does not invariably agree with him on matters of public policy, or in the publishing or exclusion of news.

A Good Name.

Goldsboro Messenger. What is more valuable in any pursuit than a good name? It is often the keynote of success in your calling. It is worth ten times its cost to its possessor during life; and after death, what more precious legacy can be left for children? Besides, the value of a good name does not accrue to yourself and children alone.

Interesting Revelations Regarding the Boodle Campaign in North Carolina.

N. Y. Herald. The discontent of the North Carolina republicans with the way patronage has been handled is leading to some interesting disclosures regarding the campaign there last autumn. Senator Quay claims that he put into the hands of his private secretary, Mr. Frank Leach, $30,000 to save the North State for Harrison and Morton.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 29th, 1883.

At Raleigh's grand Firemen's Tournament, last week, New Bern, Goldsboro and Raleigh came off with the prizes.

The Democracy of Virginia have nominated Capt. Phil W.
McKinney for Governor, J. Hoge Tyler for Lieutenant Governor, and R. Taylor Scott for Attorney General.

Dr. Brown-Sequard's elixir of life is all the talk now. You can't make an old man young again, either with hog or goat sinew. The thing won't work, as a few experiments will doubtless prove.

Senator Willis R. Williams, of Falkland, this county, attended the Farmers' Encampment at Mt. Holly, and as usual got in some good work. He is one of our foremost men and is liked all over the State.

The citizens of the town of Windsor, as we see from the Watchdog, have held an indignation meeting and adopted resolutions asking the Mayor of the town to resign. He was asked to do so on the grounds of his "incompetency, ignorance and constitution of office."

We are glad to see that the Rocky Mount newspaper man-dle over the Watchdog—two papers for awhile being painted under that name and both contending for the title good will be.— has at last been amicably settled.
Messrs. Harris & Lanier have the surviving paper.

Whatever else the Bethel Folks may be learning, it is making rapid progress in the art of publishing articles from other papers without observing the just courtesy of a credit therefor.
The last issue took a twenty-five line article from the Watchdog according to its own originality.

Both Wilmington and Tarboro have made a haul on the burglars that were molesting them and last week one was captured in each place. Now apply the swinging hoop to them and we propose that it will produce such an impression on the clan that the people can have a rest from almost nightly depredations.

The Durham Daily Globe, of which Mr. E. A. Oldham is editor, made his appearance on the 6th inst. Mr. Oldham purchased the Observer and changed its name. The Globe is a bright paper, printed from new type, takes the press dispatches and has a very city like appearance.
We expect it continues as good as the first issue was but can't say positively, as we haven't seen a copy since that one.

The general outlook of the country is improving. The new administration is restoring confidence, and business activity will follow.—
City of Dreams, page 2.

This ought to be supposed to some mixture and put on exhibition as a sample of pigskin cheek.— Wilmington Star.

We doubt its drawing long under that head. It might go better exhibited as an easy specimen of Republican lying.

In this issue appears the call for a great Farmers' Mass Meeting in October during the week set apart for the State Fair. It is signed by the highest officials of the great Agricultural Organizations of the State. It will embrace those out of the pale of such organizations as well as those in them and will exclude no honest tiller of the soil. The great branches of farming and domestic economy will be represented by distinguished successful specialists. They will present the questions of which they are masters to the people and it will be such a course of lectures on the greatest of all subjects as few men will ever have opportunity of listening to. It will be an occasion that will make North Carolina the Chateaugua of the Farmers.

Asheville has a bar keeper who has advertised in the Journal to the effect that if all persons who have untemperate habits will notify him, he will not sell them intemperate drinks. He further states that he will under no circumstances sell liquor to minors.
We merely say the wonder to us is, that that fellow would be a bar keeper.—Saunder Express.

Same opinion with us. And we suggest still further that the conscience of that man is too good to allow him to sell whiskey much longer. We shall expect to hear before a great while that he has quit the business.

The Farmers' Alliance at its session in Fayetteville last week, elected Mr. Elias Carr, of Edgecombe as President to succeed Capt. S. B. Alexander, whose term expired by constitutional limit. Of the new President the Wilmington Star says:

The election of Mr. Carr was a good one as he is recognized as not only one of the best and most thoroughly informed and mentally equipped farmers in the State, but one of its best and most honored citizens, a representative man in every respect.

There is a growing tendency in public sentiment that negro education in the South should be maintained by negro taxation in the South.
It would probably stimulate the negro population to greater exertion and thus be a blessing to them in many ways.—Elizabeth City Econo- mical.

A still greater blessing would accrue to the white people in case the growing sentiment should develop in a law to that effect.
If all the taxation from white people for school purposes were applied to the education of white children, as should be done, you would find more white children in the schools and longer terms taught.

Sullivan and Kilrain, the brutal bruisers, are now in the clutches of the law in Mississippi, and the plucky Governor of that State will see to it that they are properly and severely punished for their gross indignity against the peace of the State. Jake said, when arrested, that if John got a big fine and six months, he supposed he (Jake) would have to take the same dose. Give them the full limit of the law.

We learn later that Sullivan has been sentenced to twelve months imprisonment, and his referee, Fitzpatrick, fined $200.
Kilrain is not tried yet.

Mr. E. A. Moye, Superior Court Clerk, was the delegate from Pitt county to the meeting of the Farmers' Alliance at Fayetteville, last week. Several honors were conferred upon him in the meeting and Pitt county has every reason to be proud of her representative. Mr. Moye was chairman of the committee on constitution, a member of the judiciary committee, and was elected a delegate to the National Alliance which meets in St. Louis next December. He says the meeting was a very able, interesting and important one. A distinguished visitor from Washington City said it was the finest and ablest gathering of farmers he had ever seen. Representatives from eighty-five counties were present and good may be looked for as a result of the meeting. Mr. Moye presented us with copies of the address of the retiring President, and the annual report of the Secretary, which will be published in our next issue and from which our many readers can learn something of what the Alliance is accomplishing. Long live the Alliance! May it be successful in breaking down trusts and in elevating the farmers to a higher plane of education and independence.

Several members of the Board of Directors of the Insane Asylum, at Raleigh, were asked by the Governor to resign their positions, which they did, and other persons have been appointed in their places. Among those resigning were Dr. E. B. Haywood, of Raleigh, Chairman of the Board, in whose stead was appointed Capt. Octavius Coke, of Raleigh; Dr. W. R. Capehart, of Berlie, in whose place was appointed Mr. J. D. Biggs, of Martin; Dr. J. D. Haigh, of Fayetteville, and Dr. Isaac Jackson, of Whiteville.

If the REFLECTOR understands the purport of these requested resignations and new appointments it is to secure a new tribunal on the Grissom investigation.
Commenting upon this the Ra- leigh Chronicle says:

"With a diplomacy worthy of an experienced diplomat, the Government conceived the idea of securing the resignation of enough of the members of the Board to constitute a Dr. Grissom on the Board to secure a change in its complexion.

With rare tact he offered the Chairman a position of honor and dignity as Chairman of the Board of Public Charities."

So the Governor of North Carolina has assumed the role of a "jury packer," and with "rare tact" (giving him another position) secured the resignation of a man who was a friend to the defendant in order that a juror opposed to him may be appointed! That is the way it looks to us. The Chronicle goes on further and before the new trial is held declares what the verdict of the new jury shall be by stating that six stand against and three for the man to be tried, and that Grissom must go.

Now the REFLECTOR does not want to be understood as opposing Dr. Grissom in the charges for which he was tried and, it seems, is to be tried again—far be us from it. But we do look at the justice of the matter, believing that the meanest criminal in the land is entitled to at least a measure of fairness.

That our position may be understood we will remark, the REFLECTOR has had but little to say upon the trial of Dr. Grissom or what has followed since. While the editor for reasons that need not be here expressed, has entertained a sympathy for him, we at the same time felt from the first that he should resign his position. We think it not displaying the greatest wisdom on the part of Dr. Grissom to have remained in his position, even after the majority of the Board of Directors had decided in his favor. His usefulness at the head of the leading charitable institution of the State was impaired and he should not remain there longer, though he might have felt that personal injustice had been done him. The good of the institution was the first to consider. In our opinion if he had resigned then the matter would have dropped there, and he would have been spared the mortification of so much adverse criticism. We wish he had done so. However, he acted otherwise and has not resigned, but if he cannot be removed by fair means we do not believe that steps unjust and illegal should be taken to thrust him out. A "packed jury" does not look to us as the way to serve the ends of justice.

For the Reflector.

The Jury System.

Some obscure little man attempted to take me to task about the article from my pen, on "The Jury System" which appeared in the REFLECTOR of the 7th. Oh, how it did grieve his righteous soul, and arouse his righteous indignation! So grievous and insulting was he that he was afraid it would be surmised that he was the author of the article in question. Any one who has read his past brilliant (?) productions, and then looks upon him as the author of that article, is either wrapped up in ignorance, or simply made such an impression upon the young man's mind to tickle his vanity. His vanity seems to be of that kind which is without beginning of days or ending of years—as far as his past recollections and future intentions are concerned. It existed from the time he was, and as it has reached a chronic state, will linger with him till he "was not."
This writer has no fear of being classified with the "bearded initial man" by anybody whose opinions he would hold in esteem. I beg his pardon. If I had known that his nom de plume was "J." such a signature as that would never have been held up to the public eye as mine.
From these little self-conceited pig-nies may we ever be delivered.

In view of the fact that the rates of transportation are the lowest that can be obtained and therefore put it in the power of the largest number of our farmers, especially those at a distance, to come together for conference and discussion deal of interest in the way of display of stock and farm products, will instruct and benefit them; and the further fact that excursions to of land to meet those who are desirous of inspecting them. It is deemed

The REFLECTOR proved too small for us this week, at least there was no room to get in near all that we wanted to have in this paper. Besides omitting both the Washington and New York letters, we had to leave out two letters concerning the Jury System article that appeared two weeks ago, also some resolutions from the Mill Hill Alliance and some other Alliance news which we have. These will all find place in next week's paper.

Rev. G. L. Finch will preach at Falkland next Sunday morning and at Greenville Sunday night. He will begin a protracted meeting at Pactolus Wednesday morning of next week, in which he will be aided by Rev. T. J. Taylor, of Warrenton.

Mess. J. R. Davenport, of Pactolus, and W. G. Stokes, of Grissom, are north purchasing fair goods.

anything against the crime of stealing, it is only because he got hurt at it. If he speak against the corruption that exists in the land, it arises from some trouble he has had in being corrupt himself. That's his logic with a vengeance! He is the self-constituted champion of law yers and jurors. Wonder if they don't feel flattered at having such an able advocate to plead their cause?

He don't deny anything I asserted in my article. He dare not attempt it, save at the risk of being called a muckraker himself. The facts are too patent to every man that has eyes to see and ears to hear.
The Commissioners don't put all men in the box that serve as jurors—and I've no doubt they would have been found guilty if that statement if they did not know that no one with a grain of sense would believe it. Of course the Commissioners are responsible for all the picked juries that are crammed in the box for the purpose of acquit-ting rascals and condemning the innocents! I know three murderers in one county in this State who escaped the gallows by being allowed to select just such men as they liked to act as jurors in their behalf. And to act as man once in South Carolina by the name of Dr. T. B.
McDow, who saved his guilty neck by having "honored" jurors to try him. And I very frequently hear of men being taken and lynched because the "honored" jury failed to rightly discharge its sacred trust.
And yet "H. J." would strive to create the impression that justice holds the reigns in this land. God save the wrong, if what we see and know of these things is right. The Jury System at this writing is not an honored old institution. It may have been the joy and pride of our forefathers; but our fathers and we ourselves don't like it so well. The system that is in vogue now is a weak, sickly, corrupt thing, and is fast becoming a stench in the nostrils of right-thinking order-—loving people everywhere. The letter of it may be the same as of yore, but the spirit is quite different. There is rottenness in the present system—and a great deal of it. The average jurymen has no more idea of what the duties of his position are, than the correspondent of a newspaper who would term gross ignorance and bribery "various other kind of manners."

This writer has said nothing whatever against respectable jurymen or lawyers. He did not say that all jurors are picked or dishonest.
He is not fool enough to make such a statement, and besides he has a little more regard for truth and decency. When he speaks of ignorance from the pine woods he does not mean that no intelligent men live there. This is another one of those soft-brained conclusions. The point I aimed at in my article was this:
That it was the custom these days to ignore the intelligence of the county in the selection of jurors, and to put in the box those who were incapable of apprehending the simplest points of law. And it is true —every word.

We confess we have "cooled down" considerably since writing our last article. "H. J.'s" article was fully in keeping with the weather of the past few weeks both very rainy—and in the midst of the heat they have had a tendency to revive my somewhat drooping spirits. But I have already given too much notoriety to your correspondent. He craved it. I can only hope that his enjoyment equals his desire.

peared two weeks ago, also some
resolutions from the Mill Hill Al-
which we have. These will all find
place in next week's paper.

Farmers getting ready for fodder pulling.

Mr. Alfred Forbes is having his school house building converted into a dwelling for renting.

Some of the plank walks and bridges around town would permit a little improvement.

If the Court House square was enclosed with a neat railing it could be made a beautiful plot.

Mr. J. L. W. Nobles has our thanks for a basket of peaches brought us last Thursday.

It is a nice little walk over to the depot at Riverton, just one mile from the REFLECTOR office.

The Edenton Advocate has discarded the use of patent outside print, a good evidence of prosperity.

Can a dog be properly called a tale bearer?—Wilmington Star.

Yes, if he don't lose it before he gets there.

On the north side of the river several bridges were washed from their foundations by the heavy rain last Thursday.

On Monday Mr. J. White shipped from Skinner's mill, above town, 100,000 heart shingles. The mill is doing good work.

If you are not positive that you have sown enough turnip seed go back and sow a few more. They make excellent feed.

An appeal has gone out from the Oxford Orphan Asylum for assistance. It commends itself to the people of Greenville.

Whilo wood can be bought cheap it might be advisable to lay in your supply for the winter, that is if you can spare the money now.

The late wet weather left the country roads in bad condition. They should be carefully worked at once and not left until winter.

Who is going to bring in the first open boll of cotton? Pitt county was in the front with blooms and we want her to be there with cotton.

The REFLECTOR office is getting out a catalogue for Riverside Nursery. Don't buy fruit trees from elsewhere but wait to see Mr. Warren or get his catalogue.

The extension of Third street across the ravine to Skinnerville is almost impassible, either in vehicle or on foot. The authorities should not neglect suburban sections.

You merchants who have been promising yourself—and us too—that you would advertise this fall, it is time you were getting the same ready. The enterprising man begins his work early.

Log thieves have been causing some annoyance at Skinner's mill. Mr. White tells us that a raft was cut loose Saturday night. A watchman with a good shot gun might put a stop to such troubles.

There was a farmer in town last week with a lot of wool which he wanted to ship to some factory and have converted into cloth. See what an advantage it would be if we had factories here in Greenville.

The REFLECTOR received a letter Saturday that was mailed at Washington City and sent to Greenville, N. Y., Coxsack, N. Y., and Greenville, S. C., before coming to this office. A wrong letter in the address sent it astray.

So many people have been coming and going of late that it has been impossible for us to report all the personals. Friends might help us along in this by imparting all they know. One man can't keep up with all the movings among 3,000 people.

On Friday Mr. Ola Forbes showed us some specimens of tobacco just cured by him that is pronounced as fine as any ever been raised in the county. This is saying much when it is remembered that Pitt county took the prize at the tobacco exposition at Danville last year.

The Guard was out for drill last Friday afternoon with twenty-three men in rank and file. Some others were present long enough to get excited, making the reported attendance credible. They drilled upon the Court House square. We rather like their new caps and think they look more soldiery than helmets.

"I would ask you to make another appeal through the REFLECTOR in behalf of Cherry Hill Cemetery, but there seems to dwell in the hearts of our people no feelings of pride as regards the beautification of their graves. These remarks addressed by a lady to the editor need not be commented upon. They stand for themselves to the shame of Greenville.

"Brick" Pomeroy, the widely known author and editor at 234 Broadway, New York, will, on receipt of 25 cents, send as directed, a sample copy of one of his interesting books entitled, Our selves and our Neighbors; also a copy of his very original and amusing monthly magazine, Advance Thought. And you will read every line each contains.

Mrs. Elizabeth Driver, aged 88 years, died at the home of her son in law, Mr. H. W. Brown, five miles from Greenville, on Aug. 2nd. She had been an invalid for five years. She joined the Missionary Baptist Church in her early years and her walk through life was always that of a faithful and devoted christian. She has gone to receive the reward of the just.

Some men try advertising as the Indian trader feathery. He took one feather, laid it on the board and slept on it all night. In the morning he found it on the ground. He said feathery heap soft; white man's fool."—Uneducated. Exactly the way with some business men. They put in a twenty-five cent advertisement and if it don't bring them $100 the very next day they are ready to cry out "advertising don't pay." The man who advertises regularly can tell you there is pay in it.

Kid Middle.

The good people of Farmville are having trouble over their mills. It seems that one J. J. Moore, a man very distasteful to the people but who had managed to get on the list of Republican pets—was appointed Postmaster of the town. There being such dislike to him a boycott followed, the people mailing their letters at Marlboro, another office one mile distant. This took away Moore's income and he set to work to "get even with them." The first step taken was to have the office at Marlboro discontinued, then fearing the letters might all be sent to Roehdale steps were taken to have the mail route from Greenville via Roehdale to Farmville discontinued. We are told that Moore could never have accomplished this himself, but that he was aided by two Republicans in Greenville. It shows what men things are set of republicans can stoop to. And the administration upholds them in it.

A doctor has spoken out against boys wearing belts. He says it affects them somewhat the same as tight lacing does the girls.

Pitt county should be casting about for a creditable exhibit at the coming State fair. She can make it if the proper steps are taken.

Now and then a person comes into town who has not learned, or had forgotten, that the postoffice is moved. They climb up stairs only to be disappointed.

Instead of having general rains, as was the case a while back, the weather seems to be giving us a day or two of fair weather and then a regular down pour comes. Thursday evening and night we had a good specimen of the down pour.

The fall term of Greenville Institute will open on the 27th. If possible, all pupils should be present on the opening day so the classes can be arranged without difficulty. Prof. Duckett tells us that the prospects for the session are very favorable.

New Arrivals

Friend Van Stephens come down full of smiles last Wednesday morning—strutting like the whole street belonged to him—and wanted to hire out a boy. He don't care two cents now if his pet kitten dies "weg out" recently as that boy at home makes such demands that no time can be devoted to other pets.

Our best of friends, Mr. S. M. Schultz, proprietor of the Old Brick Store, is also wearing the smiles of a pa, a little girl being the cause of it.

Beware.

Cars running to Greenville is a new thing—entirely new—and some of the citizens have never seen any before. Consequently crowds will be around the depot to greet every incoming train until the novelty of the thing wears off. So we throw out the gentle hint that they all keep off the track and don't try to stop the engine, else you might get your toes mashed or lose some teeth. Trains even make angels out of folks sometime. Keep at a safe distance and don't go beyond Elias Moore's bow line stake.

Tobacco.

If the farmers here about would raise enough tobacco to justify, there is but little doubt that a tobacco warehouse could be secured at Greenville. We hope another year will prove this. It is certain that Pitt county has good tobacco lands and can raise as fine weed as any other county in the State. The splendid success that some of our farmers have had in selling indico to others to try it. Too much dependence has been placed upon cotton, many making it their almost exclusive crop. Diversification is needed and tobacco, if cultivated properly, will prove profitable. One farmer has told us that he is going to make more money this year off of two acres in tobacco than he is off of eight acres in cotton. Plant tobacco next year and let's have a tobacco warehouse.

Birthday Party.

One of the brilliant social events of the season, and perhaps the most pleasant, was the birthday party given by Miss Hortense Forbes, eldest daughter of our honored townsmen, Alfred Forbes, Esq., on last Friday evening in the Academy Grove. The beautiful hostess invited her young friends to assemble and make merry with her on this joyous occasion, and royally had she prepared for their entertainment, the grove was splendidly lighted and several social games were provided for. An amusing feature of the party was that the young men did not accompany the ladies to it, but two boxes of ribbons of corresponding colors were brought out and at a signal the ladies were given a piece of ribbon from one box and the men from the other. The ribbons were then unrolled and the colors matched, the gentlemen taking the lady whose color corresponded with his in to supper and being her escort for the remainder of the evening. In the academy building an elegant supper was spread refreshments and drinks being served in abundance. The night had almost reached the turning hour before the happy assemblage dispersed. All voted it a most delightful event. For Miss Hortense we wish that each succeeding birthday may bring her as much happiness as did this, and may her life be ever filled with as much of love, joy and peace as now.

The Wheel Must Keep Turning!

We will sell our entire stock of Goods at Cost for Cash until Sept. 1st.

This we do to make room for our double stock of fall goods which we will purchase in a few days with the hard cash and by so doing will make all the discounts, consequently we can handle competition with the greatest impunity. We mean what we say. One visit to our store will make you forget hard times and will make you come to see us every time you get a dollar.

Upstairs and Down

From Garret to Cellar, in the Laundry, Kitchen, Butler's Pantry, and Bath Room—JAMES PYLE'S PEARLINE has its place. There's nothing too coarse—nothing too fine for it.

With the aid of PEARLINE a delicate woman can clean house and wash clothes. It virtually takes the place of hard work, and is perfectly harmless; in fact, your things last longer, because you do not have to rub them to pieces to get them clean.

PEARLINE is for sale everywhere, but beware of the numerous imitations which are peddled from door to door—they are dangerous.

Man and Wife.

By observing as closely as possible the following "lets" the number of homes "to let" will be materially decreased:

Let each allow the other to know something.

Let each consult the other's feelings.

Let each realize the fact that they are one.

Let the husband frequent his home, not the club.

Let his having "to see a man" wait till next day.

Let his latch key gather to itself rust from misuse.

Let him speak to his wife, not yell "ay!" at her.

Let him be as courteous after marriage as before.

Let him confide in his wife; their interests are equal.

Let him assist her in beautifying the home.

Let him appreciate her as his partner.

Let her not worry him with petty troubles.

Let her not narrate Mrs. Next Door's gossip.

Let her not fret because Mrs. Neighbor has a seal-ring.

Let her make home more pleasant than the club.

Let her dress as tastefully for him as strangers.

Let her sympathize with him in business cares.

Let her home mean love and rest, not noise and strife.

Let her meet him with a kiss, not a frown.

Jewels That Are Gems.

Most of the world's beads are Venetian. In the island of Murano thousand workers are busied to this branch. The first process is to draw the glass into tubes of the diameter of the proposed bead. For this purpose the glass house at Murano has a kind of long gallery 150 feet long. By gathering various colors from different pots and twisting them into one mass many combinations of color are made. The tubes are carefully scored by rollers and chipped into fragments of uniform size. These pieces are stirred in a mixture of sand and ashes which fills the holes and prevents the sides from closing together when they are heated. They are next placed in a kind of fan pan, constantly stirred over a fire until the edges are rounded into a globular form. When cool they are shaken in one set of sieves until the shales are separated, and in another series of sieves until they are perfectly sorted by sizes. Then they are threaded by children, tied in bundles, and exported to the ends of the earth.

Some of the most beautiful beads are "pearl beads" which in the finer forms are close imitations of pearls. They are said to have been invented by M. Jaquin, in 1856. The common variety threaded for ornaments, some years ago was made of glass. An expert workman can blow five or six thousand globules in a day. They are lined with powdered fish scales and filled with water. It takes ten days to make a kind of pearl in glass tubes. An expert workman can blow five or six thousand globules in a day. Robberies in High Life.

The rapidity and ease with which great fortunes have been made in speculation in recent years have created a desire to be rich quickly. Men risk their all in the hazardous undertakings, and as a general thing they get into debt before they are aware of it. In order to extricate themselves, and with the hope of recovering what they have lost, they are tempted, if they are in a position of trust, to use that which does not belong to them. This is the history in brief of a majority of the forgeries and embezzlements of the present day. In their haste to be rich, men who would not stoop to petty thieving or to guilty of a mean act, take risks that open the way for them to become criminals. They are not naturally criminals. They are simply morally weak, and when the temptation comes to do wrong, they are unable to resist.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Me. G. King's Drug Store as their giving away of their customers so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints, Coughs, Colic, Asthma, Bronchitis, Congrip, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Learn a Trade.

National Publisher and Printer. A good trade is something which bank failures or commercial panics does not destroy.

It is a passport to all countries and climes.

Something which can be carried in our heads and hands.

A demand note which passes current everywhere.

The one thing that cannot be learned in an academy or college in the land.

A strong crutch upon which to lean.

The very friend of our youth who will not desert us in our old age or affliction.

The only language which is understood by the people of all races and climes.

It is beyond the possibility of decline at any time—years enhance its value.

The only property which cannot be mortgaged or sold.

It is a calling which can be declined or taken up at pleasure.

Something about which neither friends nor kindred can quarrel.
