

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR. GREENVILLE, N. C.

Local Sparks.

September. First fall month. Eggs are scarce. Yearly meetings. Fair weather again. This is an oyster month. Ninth month of eighty nine. Sweet potatoes are coming in. Cotton pickers will soon be in the fields. Have you got that advertisement ready? The moon shines for all these nights. Ask Billie if he wants to buy any butter. Go to Weldon? Why, yes everybody go. Merchants, we can do your job printing. The cry against mail irregularities continues. Summer has ended, but not all the warm weather. Five Sundays and five Mondays in September. County Commissioners in session Monday and yesterday. $5.75 will buy Point Lace, the best Flour at the Old Brick Store. Regular monthly meeting of Town Councilmen last night. Pitt county Superior Court third Monday in this month. Pears are now the finest fruit that is coming into market. Arrived on 14th—No matter how sick you get, you can eat Boss Biscuit at the Old Brick Store. It is only the sickly melon that you see now. Better beware of it. Before you start off traveling get an accident policy from J. L. Sugg. Communion services in the Methodist and Episcopal Churches Sunday. Again: Is Pitt county going to have an exhibit at the coming State fair? Fall and summer are chasing each other across the checker board. The editor returns thanks to Mr. J. L. Ballard for a sack of large pears. Stove pipe made of refined iron is the best. Large lot just received by D. D. Haskett & Co. Nags Head's best days are reported behind Ocracoke is the coming place. Look at Tailor Simms' new samples if you want a nice suit of clothes. Reader can't you get just one of your friends to subscribe to the REFLECTOR? The office is indebted to Mrs. V. H. Whitchard for a basket of figs sent us Monday. Messrs. J. L. W. Nobles and S. J. Nobles both brought us some nice, luscious pears on Friday. There are some champion domino players around the Court House. The Clerk wears the belt. 35 per lb for Lovell's Sweet Scotch Snuff. 5000 lb sold in Pitt Co., which is a guarantee of its superiority, at the Old Brick Store. Northern apples have appeared in market. Mr. V. L. Stephens received the first shipment. Elizabeth City has just closed a contract for electric lights. What are you doing Greenville? Its bang, bang all day long down Evans street, merchants opening so many boxes of new goods. Excursion from Riverton (Greenville) to Weldon next Wednesday, 11th. Fare for round trip $1. Several people from this neighborhood attended the yearly meeting at Flat Swamp last Sunday. Sheriff Tucker's boarding house inmates are organizing a band. The accordion is the chief instrument. Last week the REFLECTOR office did some job printing for a business man in Greensboro. How is that? Do the business men of Greenville think the town has all the trade it needs or all it can control? People should remember that the Oxford Orphan Asylum is calling for help. Our town should respond. Another party at Mrs. Vick's cottage last Friday night. This time the boys each had to wear an apron. The REFLECTOR will print bill heads—all sizes—at right low down prices. If you don't believe it try us. The Southern Express Company has established an office in Greenville at the Hardware Store of D. D. Haskett & Co. Patronage Solicited. D. D. Haskett, Agent. Greenville would look better if some of the old buildings were brightened up to keep pace with the new ones. The express office was opened Monday, the first packages for Greenville coming in on the train that evening. The Dawn Courier is one year old. In the days of its existence, though as yet but few, it has done much for Dunn.

Misses Flora Abrams, of Rocky Mount and Sallie Frankfort, of Norfolk, are visiting Mrs. S. M. Schultz. Misses Lillian and Lucy Nobles, daughters of J. J. Nobles, Esq., left last week for Kinsley school at La Grange. Mr. W. H. White left yesterday for the Northern markets to purchase goods for his father, Capt. C. A. White. Mrs. N. J. Best, of Hamilton, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Fleming, returned home yesterday. Mr. W. H. Zoeller, formerly a photographer here, was in town last week. He is now located in Elizabeth City. Miss Mollie House, art teacher at the Institute arrived Saturday evening and has entered upon her duties this week. Mrs. Samuel Quinerly, of Centreville, has been spending some days with the family of her father, ex-Sheriff King. Miss Mamie L. Hatchett has resigned editorial management of the Oxford Orphans Friend. We shall miss her much. Rev. G. L. Finch preached in the Baptist Church Sunday night. Rev. T. J. Taylor, of Warrenton, will preach there to-night. Dr. Hardy Johnson, of Centreville was in to see us Monday. He says there is much sickness of a malarial type in his section. Rev. E. C. Glenn is conducting a meeting at Old Sparta. We hear that he is drawing large congregations and that great interest is shown. Dr. W. E. Warren left this week for Coneto, in Edgecombe county, where he will locate for the practice of his profession. We wish him much success. The meeting conducted at Pactolets by Revs. G. L. Finch and T. J. Taylor is meeting with much success. Twelve additions to the church were reported up to yesterday. There is much sickness throughout the county. We hear that Messrs. J. R. Congleton and T. Keel, of Keelsville, each have a daughter very sick with typhoid fever. Messrs. B. F. Tyson, E. A. Moye, Jr., and F. C. Harding left yesterday for the University at Chapel Hill. Success to you, young gentlemen, in the pursuance of your studies. Dr. Frank W. Brown and family returned last week from Ocracoke and Plymouth. The doctor's many friends are delighted to know of his recovery from the severe sickness of the summer. We hear of very distressing sickness in the family of Mr. Josephus Caskins, who lives about eight miles south of Greenville. Every member of the family—himself, wife and children—is down with typhoid fever. Mr. J. W. Morris, a solicitor for the Atlantic Coast Line, has been in town the past week in the interest of the excursion to be run from Greenville to Weldon next Wednesday. He is a most pleasant and agreeable gentleman. Mr. J. L. Little, of the enterprising firm of Little, House & Bro., left yesterday for New York and other Northern cities to purchase fall goods. This firm is a regular patron of the REFLECTOR and they always carry a first-class stock of goods. Mr. J. B. Cherry, of the firm of J. B. Cherry & Co., went North Monday to purchase new goods. This is one of the most reliable firms of the town and it can be depended upon that they will have a stock of goods second to none that can be found. Keep posted by watching their advertisements. Mr. H. T. Mathews, representing the H. T. Mathews Medicine Company of St. Louis, has been in town this week advertising the remedies of the firm. He uses cards, books, pamphlets, sets of cuticles, foot rubbers and other devices. The firm also believes strongly in the use of printers' ink and while here a contract was made for a year's advertising in the REFLECTOR.

The King's Daughters will give a dinner the first week of Court.

Messrs. J. B. Cherry & Co received a lot of new bagging on Monday, the first to come here. Pitt county people are bleated. They have better crops than can be seen anywhere from the railroad between Greenville and Weldon. Mr. E. B. Moore, proprietor of Hotel Macon, has ordered a hand-some bus to run to the depot and wharf. There is enterprise for you. Greenville needs enterprises to give her people and all others who come ample employment. Secure these and you will see a prosperous town. A good flour mill in Greenville would cause a largely increased wheat acreage in Pitt county. What has become of the Alliance mill? Mr. E. B. Moore, proprietor of Hotel Macon, lost a fine Jersey milk cow on Saturday. Not long ago he refused to take $75 for the animal. On Saturday we heard Mr. William Harris, of Falkland, say he had lost seventy-six hogs this year. Cholera is causing heavy losses in this county. Wide Awake for September is perfect gem. Everybody should have this splendid magazine. D. Lohr Company, publishers, Boston, $2.40 a year. Two or three moving machines were purchased by parties in this section last week. It looks like some attention will be turned to making hay. Notwithstanding there are people who will not subscribe to the REFLECTOR, they don't fail to be on the watch to borrow one every Wednesday morning. Billie was wearing an open cotton boll on the lapel of his coat, the other night, and we saw a fellow walk up to him, and smell of it thinking it was a white flower. A very interesting protracted meeting has been in progress in the Methodist Church at Bethel. Up to the close of last week there had been thirty or more conversions. A scrub game of base ball was played between Greenville and Beaver Dam clubs last Friday. They played five innings, the score closing 11 to 7 in favor of Greenville. Mr. Moses Heilbruer has just received a new lot of jewelry. He has the prettiest assortment ever opened in Greenville, and is making a fine success of his business. The Board of Education was in session Monday and selected School Committees for the several districts of the county. We will publish the list later. Our sister town, Washington, had an enthusiastic meeting of her citizens last week with a view to general improvements. Greenville should look to her laurels. Col. A. Sugg left a 13-ounce pear on our table Thursday. He said it was from the first bearing of a young tree, and that another had been pulled which weighed one pound. There are nice passenger cars on the Scotland Neck and Greenville railroad. The Democrat says they are a big improvement over what was on the road when the line terminated at Scotland Neck. Our Devil don't bet as strong on past generations as on the present one. He says he don't see how Webster ever got up a dictionary, as it would take some of the smartest folks we have now to get them up. Mr. Warren, proprietor of Riverside Nursery, tells us he is going to make a fruit and flower exhibit at the Elizabeth City fair this fall. His James grape took the premium there two years ago, and he expects to do the same thing this year. Mr. John Pierce, of Contentous, was in to see us Friday. He says crops in his neighborhood are improving much. Cotton, while small, is fruiting well and corn is going to turn out better than expected. The people, he says, will make enough to get along on. The REFLECTOR Carrier requests that patrons in town place their dogs in the back yard, especially on Wednesday mornings. He sometimes encounters the curs while making his rounds and has seen them tearing papers left in the front porch. The REFLECTOR wants to see the closest relations—both business and social—exist between the people of Greenville and Scotland Neck. The railroad now brings us very close together and we can work to the mutual interest of each other. What says our brother of the Democrat? The County Commissioners were talking Monday about passing an ordinance prohibiting driving across Greenville bridge faster than a walk. It would save much damage to the bridge if fast driving over it was stopped. Since writing the above we learn that the ordinance was passed and efforts will be made to enforce it. We will publish the ordinance next week. It seems to us that now is a most opportune time for the business men of Greenville to concentrate their efforts to secure an increased trade for the town. We don't believe any town can prosper that follows the style of "every man for himself" and the rest get on as they can. Two Trains Needed. For the last week the train has been late on its arrival at Riverton. Capt. Southerland says the work on this line is too heavy for one engine and that it will be impossible to make schedule time. Two trains are badly needed on the trip and we hope that when the mail is put on this route, there will be two trains each day, one for passengers and one for freight, and the same for the other way.

Securities

Elsewhere will be found an advertisement of the Atlantic Coast Line excursion to be run from Riverton to Weldon on next Wednesday, 11th. The fare for this excursion is only one dollar for the round trip. This is a chance for an enjoyable trip at very little cost. Our people should give the road a good patronage and show that we appreciate its being built to Greenville. Let every coach be filled when the train pulls out next Wednesday morning. Thanks. County Commissioner T. E. Keel, of Farmville, has proven himself to be as good a hand at fruit raising as he is at helping to superintend the finances of the great county of Pitt. Yesterday he brought us some specimens of fruit that not only astonished the REFLECTOR office but everyone else who saw it. He brought a large watermelon that weighed 42 1/2 pounds and a basket of pears, 16 in number that weighed 11 pounds. Six of the pears weighed 5 pounds. The fruit was delicious, the finest in fact that we have seen this season. Many thanks are returned to Mr. Keel. Over the Road. The editor was with a small party who took a run over the new railroad last week. The road is in excellent condition and the cars run over it as smoothly as over an old road. At every station passed were many people, all of whom seemed rejoiced that the road had been opened for traffic. At Scotland Neck we met brother Hilliard, who took pleasure in showing us around the town. It was our first visit to Scotland Neck. We were favorably impressed with the town and saw quite a number of new buildings in course of construction. An artesian well is being bored on the principal street, and a site was pointed out to us upon which preparations are making for the building of a handsome hotel. It is a live town. At Goose Nest, Hobgood and Tillery were new buildings going up and other signs of prosperity, in fact the road seems to have enlivened new life along this route. We did not see much of Weldon, as it was raining and our time was passed around the depot and hotel. Capt. Southerland was as courteous and affable as could be. He is as pleasant a man as we ever travelled with and makes friends of everybody. Enguer Smith is another clever man. We passed the distance between two stations in his cab and he entertained us highly. The whole trip was much enjoyed. Marriage Licenses. Were issued by the Register of Deeds during the month of August to following persons: WHITE. Robert Winfield and Mary M. Little, Marshal Barber and Missouri Slade, George Gardner and Nannie Gardner, Emmet Spier and Louvina Hawkins, W. A. Bullock and Allie Rollins, William Warren and Perlina Lee. COLORED. Joe Chatman and Sarah Chatman, General May and Nancy Payne, Redmond Fleming and Perline Bannhill, George Sutton and Rosa Boney, William Hill and Rosa Smith. There are merchants in Greenville who do not advertise in the REFLECTOR, and who do not even subscribe for it. Of course they show by refusing their patronage that they don't care whether Pitt county had any newspaper or not. We wonder how those who have long been readers of the REFLECTOR and who look forward with much pleasure to its visits every week would feel if they could not get a home paper. Well, if it were not for the advertising patronage that the merchants give us the paper could not be printed. Look over our columns and you will find the names of those merchants who make it possible for you to have a county paper around your fireside once a week. The others do not care whether you have a paper or not. Now is it necessary to ask you which class of these merchants you will trade with?
