Broadway Blocked-The Crumbling Obelisk-Electric Street Cars.

For the past week and more lower Broadway has been blocked for hours at a time, owing to the work on the electric subways.

The trench is being dug by a private concern under the authority of the Board of Electric Control, and the work, which is proceeding very slowly, is causing no end of annoyance to pedestrians, wagons, etc.

They occur very frequently during certain seasons of the year and are generally an excellent indication that business is good.

MR. BOWIE'S LETTER.

SOME GOOD ADVICE TO THE FARMERS. Agricultural Talks-Draining Lands-Plowing and Sub-Soling.

CONTENTNEA TOWNSHIP, Pitt County, N. C., Dec 5, '89. Editor Eastern Reflector.

DEAR SIR:-Prior to the outbreak of the civil war, the agricultural classes of Pitt county, from all I have read and heard, were not famous for their energy enterprize, and, judging by the condition of the farmers at the present day, it would appear that on the cessation of hostilities, and at the same time the emancipation of the negro, also the annihilation of their currency, they failed to realize in what reduced condition they again entered upon their lands, and also what a change had been wrought upon all their surroundings.

In the first place, we find that the annual strubbing and clearing of ditches is at an end, and thereby a great saving of expense is assured; secondly, that the yield of produce from the lands contiguous will be increased from 100 to 200 per cent; thirdly, that the land reclaimed will be of no inconsiderable value; and fourthly, that the value of a property so drained will be greatly enhanced by its improved appearance.

And now the first point that calls for attention is drainage, for the reason that it ought to be the first step taken in the reclamation of land, or towards the cultivation of land, already reclaimed. Land imperfectly drained, can only be but imperfectly farmed-is an axiom that cannot be gainsaid.

Let us now say a word on the cultivation of the soil, but, before doing so, I cannot help giving expression to my feelings, in that I am sorry I did not at the time jot down my first impressions of farming as carried on in this county, for the reason, that after a time the eye becomes accustomed to the prevailing rude ways, and when putting this idea on paper, is apt to tone down his pre-conceived and more correct notions. To be candid, I can only characterize the system of cultivating the soil in Pitt county, at the present day, as a sham.

The negroes of the United States have as a rule, and with very few exceptions, been voting with the Republican party, partly from a sense of gratitude from a mistaken belief that they are indebted to the love which the Republican party had for their race for their emancipation. They have been led to believe that this was the issue between the North and the South, and that it was for this that the North made war on the South.

The action of the merchants of Tarboro in uniting to aid the farmers of Edgecombe county whose crops have failed, is commendable and sets a good example to merchants in other towns and counties where the farmers have met with reverses from the same cause.

Sporadic cases of enthusiasm may bring their troubles with them. An ex-Virginian here upon hearing the news from the Old Dominion early yesterday morning stepped out on the street, exclaimed, "Hurrah for McKinney!" and fetched a whoop which loosened the wax in people's ears.

From the above you will be able to form some idea as to the value of these tiles in a season such as the past, and having heard a wiseacre say "They will play the mischief in a dry season," I hasten to reassure him, and others of a like mind, through the mellowing agency these tiles work on the soil, roots of plants penetrate much deeper than under ordinary circumstances. And not this alone, but moisture is retained much longer where tile-drainage has been carried, than on lands in their natural state. These are hard, stubborn, and indisputable facts.

I do not mean to insinuate that the whole lands of Pitt county require to be tile-drained, but I maintain that your most valuable, as being your richest lands, cannot be cultivated to within a fraction of their natural capacity, until such lands have thoroughly drained by tiles. It has been proved, that the most servicable depth at which these tiles can be placed on clay lands is from thirty to thirty-six inches. Now glance at this matter from another standpoint.

The result of an overplus of moisture in the soil is what may be termed sourness, which latter is certain destruction to the roots of all plants. To rid the land of this sourness is our aim in drainage, and it can only be done by tiles-and I challenge and defy contradiction on this point.

DEAD. HON. JEFFERSON DAVIS

Hero of the "LOST CAUSE" Has Passed Away.

The following telegram, received from the REFLECTOR office to-day, contains information that will send deep pang of sorrow to the heart of every man, woman and child who loves our Beautiful South and the cause we all hold so dear:

(Special to Reflector.) NEW ORLEANS, La., December 6th, 1889. A 12.15 this morning Hon. Jefferson Davis, ex-President of the Confederate States, died at the residence of his life-long friend, J. U. Payne, New Orleans, La. S.

Raising an Objection. Durham Sun. The Carthage Blade is not at all pleased with some of our Governor's acts and he blabs it right out. Here is what he says:

"We thought when we voted for Dan'l G. Fowle last November we were electing a Governor for North Carolina, and not alone for the 'Great State of Raleigh,' but it seems that we were in error.

Hi appointments have nearly every been given to citizens of Raleigh. The latest are the three judgeships. The people are getting very sick of this sectional governing. During the campaign the governor was bitterly opposed to monopolies, now he is the worst kind of a monopolist.

Our governor is too much of a butterfly of fashion to give his official duties their proper attention. He is in his second heaven if he gets a chance to wag his silver tongue a little before an audience. We would like to know just for what he has done that has brought about by the introduction of these tiles.

The negroes of the United States have as a rule, and with very few exceptions, been voting with the Republican party, partly from a sense of gratitude from a mistaken belief that they are indebted to the love which the Republican party had for their race for their emancipation.

The figure '9' in our dates is with us and has come to stay. No man or woman now living will ever date a document without using a 9. It stands on the extreme right now-1889. Next year it will be second place-1890, where it will remain for ten years. It will then move up to the third place-1900, and there it will rest one hundred years.

The monument erected to the memory of Thos. A. Armstrong, editor of the National Labor Tribune, by the members of the labor organizations of the country, was unveiled in Alleghany Park, Chicago, last week. There were 15,000 persons present.

Things Good to Keep.

Lamberton Robesonian. Keep yourself in the love of God. Keep thee far from a false matter. He that keepeth his mouth keepeth his life.

My son, keep thy father's commandments, for they are the wisdom and discretion. Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Take heed to thyself, and keep thy soul diligently.

Blessed are they that hear the Word of God and keep it. Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile. Keep thy heart with all diligence for out of it are the issues of life.

Two Fat Boys.

Concord Standard. Our people do not have to go away from home to see curiosities. On Thursday the two little boys of Mr. Klub P. Misenheimer, who lives in this county, attracted considerable attention. The oldest one, about ten years old, weighs one hundred and two pounds; the younger one is nearly as fat. One of them has six fingers on each hand and both have six toes on each foot. They will be Jumbos some day. It was a free show, but a good deal of money was given them by the crowd.

The time has passed for farmers to depend on muscle and hard labor alone. They must use their brains as well as hands. They must do more thinking and planning if they desire to receive the best results. The lawyer studies law. The doctor medicine. The merchant must study commerce, the laws of supply and demand, and the banker must acquaint himself with the principles and details of finance.

Just so the farmer must study farming. The experiments of last year in crop raising and breeding must be remembered and put to practical use this year. Not only his own experience but that of his co-laborers should be his to profit by. Farming is a science, and there are many new lessons to be learned in the best and cheapest way to learn those things is by study. Take agricultural papers, read in their columns the experiences and observations of others and avail yourself of the many useful hints and suggestions-American Farmer.

There are some men who always want to be making trouble. After all the wet weather of this year ago the Kansas weather prophet comes to the front to inform the Zenizens of that region that they may look for great extremes of drought and flood next year. The exodusters who are thinking of going to Kansas will take warning.-Wilmington Star.

Brazil is a republic. Dom Pedro, the Emperor, was dethroned last week, and has sailed for Europe. It was accomplished without bloodshed. The government will be known as the United States of Brazil. There is now no monarchy on the American continent.

THE STATE.

What is Happening Around Us. As Reflected from the State Press.

Rev. James Needham, of Surry county, who is 95 years old, one day last week walked nine miles and preached.

Lenoir Topic: Mr. T. W. Tolbert has shown us a pig's foot that has three dew claws instead of the regulation two.

Snow Hill Baptist: Mr. John Tindal grew two pumpkins this year that weighed on hundred and five pounds, the weight of one is fifty-five pounds.

Kinston Free Press. Capt. C. D. Wescott, of the steamer Cleopatra, was stabbed in the shoulder by Mordica Hudson, at Trenton, Jones county, last Saturday night. Cause: whiskey.

The Goldsboro Hospital was thrown open to the public, the first of the month. Dr. Jas. Spicer, the founder of the institution, as a skilled surgeon has no equal throughout this section, and under his management it is bound to prosper.

Concord Standard: Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock Mr. Jacob House, the oldest pensioner in the county died in his 97th year. Had he lived until the 2nd day of January next he would have lacked only three years of reaching the 100th mile post of life's earthly journey.

Milton Advertiser: A stock company with a capital of $50,000 has recently been organized to mine and work iron ore at and near Kings Mountain. The company have bought and leased together 30,000 acres of land around King's mountain, and it will soon erect a furnace there. There are several millionaires in the Company.

Tarboro Southerner: Last Thursday at Hobgood's crossing on the Greenville and Scotland Neck railroad the train ran over one of the brakemen and killed him instantly. He attempted to jump on the train while it was running and lost his balance and fell between the cars. The train passed over his body mashing it very badly.

Scotland Neck Democrat: We saw a farmer in town last Saturday wearing a suit of the old time woolen jean. We cast about a moment and came to the conclusion, and on safe grounds, that he does not owe more than he can pay. Farmers and farmers' sons and daughters need to wear more home made clothes than they do.

Lenoir Topic: A syndicate of capitalists proposes to build near Wilmington, on the line of the projected Cape Fear and Cincinnati R. R., a $165,000 hotel for winter tourists. Six hundred and sixty acres of land near the ocean have been selected, 100 acres of which will be laid out into pretty parks. The hotel will contain 350 rooms and will be fitted up with all modern improvements.

Salsbury Herald: Work continues on the new gold find in Montgomery county and the excitement is unabated. Four pounds of gold were taken out by two men one day last week and one man found a three pound nugget of pure on Monday. The amount of gold so far found is estimated by conservative men to be worth not less than $200,000. Nothing in North Carolina has ever equalled this new find in richness.

A correspondent of the State Chronicle says that about three miles from Cooper's Station in Buncombe county solid volumes of smoke black as tar are seen to rise from the summit of Watch Knob Mountain every day from 10 P. to 4 A. M. The smoke stands about 100 feet above the tree tops for about fifteen minutes at a time and then vanishes. About thirty people witness the phenomenon every day.

Statesville Landmark: Mr. A. G. Bash, of Concord township, who works a part of Maj. J. S. Morrison's land, raised this year 40 bushels of sweet potatoes, Eastern Yams, on a plot 7 1/2 rods wide. This is in the neighborhood of an eighth of an acre-hay 320 bushels to the acre. These potatoes are worth 40c per bushel-$128.00 to the acre. Pay better than cotton, don't they? The potatoes are fine, too. Mr. Cash keeps up the stock by occasional cutting from cuttings.

Mercurial Rheumatism.

Mr. J. C. Jones, city marshal of Fulton, Arkansas, writes: "About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poison. The leading physicians of the city were called in, and they prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without affording me any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remedies, with the same unsuccessful result, but which brought on an attack of mercurial rheumatism that made my life one of untold agony. After suffering for four years, I gave up all former remedies and commenced taking Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). After taking several bottles, I was entirely cured and able to resume work. I consider Swift's Specific the greatest medicine for blood poisoning to-day on the market."

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11th, '89.

It seems that Goldsboro is about to outrival all her sisters as the city of newspapers. Two new journals have been started there in as many weeks past.

We were glad to receive, a few days ago, a copy of the daily Public Ledger, of Oxford. Until that issue arrived we were not aware that a daily edition of that splendid paper.

We will not have to buy any more newspaper wrappers in a long time. Congress is in session and the Record comes every day. About all they are fit for is to make wrappers.

The Greenville REFLECTOR in its last issue does the editor the honor of copying his sonnet, "The Cry of the Agnostic" but not the justice of giving due credit.

Every farmer in Pitt county, year in Eastern North Carolina, ought to read the letter from Mr. J. P. Bowie, two columns of which will be found on first page of the REFLECTOR to-day.

In Memorium.

DIED, on Friday, the 6th day of December, 1889, in the city of New Orleans, JEFFERSON DAVIS, Ex-President of "The Lost Cause," the Soldier and Statesman.

In peace, as in war, he served his country with loyalty and affection. He lived an exemplar to his fellow men, and died as the faithful.

Death came to him in his blessed old age. In the early morning, whilst the sentinel stars still watched above him, the brave and noble old chief slept unto death.

The funeral ceremonies of the Hon. Jefferson Davis, ex-President of the Confederate States, will take place at noon Wednesday the 11th of December, 1889.

Our Idol Dead.

"He Sleeps His Last Sleep. He has Fought His Last Battle." The South mourns the loss of her Noble Son.

At 12:45 o'clock Friday morning the spirit of Jefferson Davis took its flight from time to the Great Beyond. For nearly two weeks the people of his beloved South-land have been in a state of feverish anxiety over his critical condition.

Every patriotic son of the South realized a personal affliction in the death of Jefferson Davis. Every man could say "he was mine," and the whole South as a body could say "He was ours."

His name has been held up to public ridicule by the fire-worshippers of the North. He has been abused and vilified and misrepresented more than any other man that has lived in the present century.

Let the South plant evergreens upon his grave, and cherish his memory forever. For the Reflector, JEFFERSON DAVIS - A TRIBUTE.

A nation's heart is bowed with grief, And a nation sobs with weeping, Around the bier where the nation's Chief The trace of death is keeping.

The angels came when his years complete Bade earthy ties to sever, When the hero-heart had ceased to beat, And his voice was stilled forever.

Memorial Services. The funeral ceremonies of the Hon. Jefferson Davis, ex-President of the Confederate States, will take place at noon Wednesday the 11th of December, 1889.

The ladies are especially invited. F. G. JAMES, Mayor. This Dec. 10th, 1889.

In Frank Leslie, of the 30th ult., appears an article from the pen of our distinguished townsman, and we may add statesman, Col. Harry Skinner, styled "The Hope of the South." The article is attracting universal attention and commanding the favorable comment of press and people, and gives Col. Skinner a national reputation as a novel and original thinker in a line that is in sympathy with the needs of our people and will interest their universal favor.

Varied Products.
Innumerable articles of produce (and some what airy produce) are finding their way to market. This shows that the people in the country are turning their attention to what ever will bring money. Last week besides cotton, cotton seed, corn, peanuts, turnips, and this class of staple crops as well as the usual supply of cord wood, there was sold in town fresh pork, beef, sausage, turkeys, geese, ducks, chickens, eggs, and minks, charcoal, yard brooms, toothbrushes, straw brooms, gourds, and numerous other small articles that we cannot remember. It shows what people can turn their attention to when they will. All these little things count.

"Be Sure You Are Right, Then Go Ahead."
These words were uttered by David Crockett, and his acts being governed by that motto will cause his name to be handed down with it through the generations for ages to come. In telling a joke on himself about getting into the bear's hollow when once running for office, he said he did not call for help because his constituents had no respect for the man who would get into a scrape he could not get himself out of. Ament this we will say the people of this time have no much respect for the opinion of a man who jumps at his conclusions without knowing what he is doing. There is a disciple of David Crockett among the journals of North Carolina, which has for its motto the words that head this article, but by no means governing his utterances by them. If the Farlow Southern had taken the trouble to read and find out what it was doing before publishing that Mr. M. R. Lang, a merchant of Greenville and Wilson had made an assignment, it would not have been necessary to have apologized in the very next issue for making such publication among the journals of Greenville and try to explain itself out of the middle.

Personal.

Mr. J. M. King has gone to Texas.
Mr. R. M. Hearne and wife have returned home.

Mr. J. B. Yellowley is home again from Mississippi.

Dr. J. Marquis, of Philadelphia, is visiting Mr. M. R. Lang.

Miss Annie Ward a charming young lady from Hamilton is visiting Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Stephens.

Mr. D. Abram, of Rocky Mount, father of Mrs. S. M. Schultz, was in town a day or two of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Barrett, of Farmville, were in town a day or two last week visiting the parents of Mrs. Barrett.

Mrs. E. C. Glenn and Mrs. F. G. James returned home Friday evening from their visit to Greensboro and the M. E. Conference.

Mr. Jos. Lochheim, a prosperous wholesale merchant of Philadelphia, made a flying visit to Greenville last week to visit his relative, Mr. M. R. Lang.

We see from the Oxford Ledger that Messrs P. H. Mayo and L. F. Evans, of Pitt county, sold tobacco at the New Johnson Warehouse in that town on last Friday.

Rev. G. U. Finch went over to preach at LaGrange Sunday. He has received several calls during the last few weeks, that town and Plymouth both being in the number.

Ex-Gov. Jarvis is now Superintendent of the M. E. Sunday School of this town. He was called to that position last Sunday morning. He is an excellent man in any position.

Mr. Thos. E. Little, one of our subscribers from Beaver Dam, was in to see us Thursday, and said one of his neighbors made 90 gallons of syrup from sugar cane this year. He also had some very nice words to say for the REFLECTOR.

Rev. W. R. Ware, Washington, preached in the Methodist Church of this town Sunday morning and Rev. J. G. Nelson, of Washington, preached in the same church at night. The late Conference returned both these ministers to the charges they occupied last year.

The late Conference at Greensboro, returned Rev. E. C. Glenn to Greenville Circuit. It was formerly Bethlehem Mission but his name was changed at this Conference. Rev. Mr. Glenn had one of the best reports of his last year's work that was read before the body.

Mr. R. L. Davis, of Farmville, who it was announced would move to Greenville in January and conduct an Alliance store here next year, has later decided not to do so. He says crops have been so short this year that he does not feel justified in changing his place of business yet.

Mr. R. E. Flemming one of the leading business men and farmers of Packard was taken suddenly ill with hemorrhage fever on Tuesday night last week. For several days his condition was considered very dangerous, but at last accounts we are glad to say he had greatly improved.

After the close of the Conference at Greensboro, Rev. R. B. John, Pastor of the M. E. Church here, went to Laurinburg to spend a few days and reached home Monday evening. It is gratifying to his many friends here that the Conference returned him to Greenville for another year. He is a good worker.

Two weeks only to Christmas.
Warm weather again this week.

The business of the railroad is large. But two more REFLECTORS this year. It missed a good chance to snow last week.

Look out for colds when this weather changes.
Marriage bells have pealed again. Who will be the next?

The ladies of the Episcopal Church held a festival last Friday night.
Turkeys go at about $1.25 a pair. Some few sold here as low as $1.

Who is going to try and get some factory started in Greenville next year?
It is probable more of our farmers will plant cane next year than did this year.

The Greenville Combination Store is very attractive with the nice line of holiday goods.
Sidewalks can be greatly improved if the people will save their coal ashes and put on them.

A balking, kicking horse hitched to a buggy excited some excitement on the streets Thursday morning.
The exodus fever has been here some days, but not accompanied with very much of a moving fatality.

The REFLECTOR has something nice in store for its readers which they can look for about Christmas morning.
A number of Arabs were camped near town last week and came in to sell small trinkets and novelties to the people.

There being no salt in market last week somewhat inconvenienced the hog killers. Plenty here now, however.
"This ain't the place I'm looking for," said Timothy Skinner, when he found out the REFLECTOR had a new umbrella.

The population of Greenville grows—three additions in one day last week. They are all small but bid fair to be large.
The report of the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners is quite long this week but will prove of much interest.

They must have put Pitt at the end of the list for holding the Teachers' Institute. We hear nothing about one being held here.
There are some liberal advertisers among the merchants of Greenville and they are well deserving the patronage of the people.

Christmas is coming at the rate of seven days a week. Some of the little folk wish it was at the rate of nine or ten days a week, no doubt.
Better take advantage of the REFLECTOR combination offer with that splendid magazine, Wide Awake. The two until January 1891 for 83c.

A young gent in town, nearly eighteen, had to stop and count up the number before he could tell how many children were in his father's family.
For the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 1889, there were exactly 200 marriage licenses issued in Pitt county. Of this number 108 were for white couples and 92 for colored couples.

There are a number of leaders who congregate about the Market House and occupy the time in getting up dog fights. This is a nuisance which needs official interference.
Every business house in Greenville ought to close its doors between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M., to-day in honor of Jefferson Davis, that time being set apart for his obsequy.

Under the head Legal Notices on fourth page will be found two advertisements of land sale by J. A. K. Tucker, Sheriff, to satisfy executions in his hands against B. J. Wilson.
The REFLECTOR in its small extra published just after noon, last Friday, gave the people of Greenville information of Hon. Jefferson Davis' death thirty hours before any other paper reached here containing it.

In a few days the REFLECTOR office will receive a beautiful line of cards, with envelopes to match, suitable either for nice printing or brief correspondence. They will be sure to please the ladies and we invite them to call.

Mrs. M. T. Cowell is desirous of making a change in her millinery business the first of January, and requests all persons indebted to her to come forward at once and settle. She is selling her present stock at reduced prices.

Merchants, look over your stationery and see if your stock of bill heads and letter heads is not much exhausted. You may need many of them about the first of the year and the REFLECTOR office is prepared to do good work in that line.

Sunday night the Chief of Police overhauled a suspicious negro prowling about the old Club House. The darkey gave the officer the slip, the latter chasing him about two blocks and firing a time or so at him in the race but without effect.

The REFLECTOR added another subscriber from Wilmington last week. A gentleman there who subscribed a few weeks since writes a friend that if he had known Greenville had such a good paper he would have been a subscriber long ago.

As the advertising patronage of the REFLECTOR is quite large the items on local page this week are put in smaller type than usual, which very materially increases the amount of reading matter in the paper. We hope this will meet the full approbation of patrons.

The REFLECTOR received several very gratifying contributions last week and while we do not publish them or the name of persons bestowing them, they are none the less appreciated. It cheers and encourages one in his labors to have kind words spoken to him.

There is money in raising truck and we want to see the farmers close to town begin preparations for putting in some early vegetables for next spring. Our shipping facilities are ample and we believe this section can get truck raised as early as any town in Eastern North Carolina.

There is getting to be too much pilfering around here, and we again rise to warn the people to get their fire arms ready and shoot the first rascal caught prowling and whenever we see the special attraction with the thieves and one or two bold ravages have been made.

Married.
At the Methodist Church last night Mr. S. T. Hooker, one of our popular young men and a member of the firm of Brown & Hooker, was married to Miss Lillie Peckles, one of the loveliest young ladies of Greenville. The REFLECTOR went to dress before the ceremony, and preferring to be accurate in all things waits until next week to publish a full report of the wedding.

She Caught Him In.
The REFLECTOR boys' washwoman came in the office Thursday and gave notice that she would be around Saturday for a little money. "What time will you come in?" asked the Bad Boy. "Dunno, sir, hadn't set no pertickler time. Why?" "Well, I was going off Saturday, and the money I'm to get away before you come." His joke gave the old lady the grins.

Improving.
It is always our motto to give credit wherever and whenever it is due. Notwithstanding the REFLECTOR has poke of tardiness of trains and the late hours of arrival, we must now give credit for its getting in promptly on time a few weeks later. But the chances of our opinion not in the least that two trains should be put on the road.

Memorial Cards.
After getting out the special sheet last Friday, announcing the death of Hon. Jefferson Davis, we printed the matter on some neat cards which makes a very nice memorial to keep in honor of the great Chieftain. One of these cards will be cheerfully given to any Confederate soldier who will call at the REFLECTOR office for them. As we have only a small number of these cards those who desire them should come in at once.

We Hope He Will Find It.
While in town last week Mr. W. S. Woolen, one of the best farmers on Swift Creek, told us of an old newspaper, published years ago at New Berne, in which was some very interesting articles concerning the early carrying of the mails in this country, and how the Government came to take the matter in hand. He promised to send us the paper, if he can find it again, that we might publish some extracts from it.

Enjoying Large Trade.
A drummer who recently drove through the country from Washington to Greenville, said to the editor upon arriving here: "Proctor Bros., at Grimesdale, are certainly doing a splendid business. I wish they were receiving such an immense trade." Maybe he did not know that beside being thorough business men, they are advertisers in the REFLECTOR. News of their prosperity is heard with pleasure.

Dickinson Avenue.
At the last meeting of the Board of Town Councilmen they changed the name of that portion of the Old Plant Road that lies within the corporate limits to Dickinson Avenue, in honor of Mr. Marshall Dickinson who years ago was a very useful citizen of Greenville. The Board condemned the Avenue and set it apart for public use, and also requested the land owners along said Avenue to move back their fences and buildings to give room for sidewalks.

Possum in the Beer.
One day last week an old colored woman on a farm near town made a barrel of possum beer, and about the time it got to be good drinking one of her children caught a possum which was put under a tub near the barrel of beer for safe keeping. Next morning Mr. Possum was missing, but after the lapse of a short time was found drowned in the barrel of beer. Our informant asked the question do possums love beer, and did this one really get drowned or was it to make the beer last longer?

Take Warning.
We meant just what was said two weeks ago to those who had two cross marks to their paper. From then our former excuses will be taken if they proved false to all their past promises they will be likely to do so again. If you do not want the paper to stop going to you and your name published as a newspaper dead beat you better come to see us. You will be reminded of this next week by two cross marks on the margin of the paper next your name. This is only intended for those who have the two marks.

Fire Inside.
There was some excitement in the neighborhood of Third and Greene street crossings one night last week. About midnight peculiar noises and lumbering were heard emanating from an office on the corner occupied by Mr. B. H. Hearne as a sleeping apartment. The noises continuing, some of the neighbors went out to investigate and found Mr. Hearne trying to shove a burning bed through the door, and things generally in the room were on fire. Enough assistance was soon at hand to extinguish the fire without a general alarm being given. The building was not damaged. We have not learned the true origin of the fire, but it is supposed to have been caused by an upset lamp.

Barned.

A little the seven-year old son of Mayor F. J. James was yesterday burned yesterday. The little fellow and his sister were playing with matches on the back porch of the Mayor's residence, when the matches ignited and set fire to the dress of the little boy. His hair, arms and chin were badly burned. Mr. Robert Moyer was sitting on the front porch at the time, and hearing the child's screams rushed out at once and settled the child which smothered the flames until little Charlie James could get a bucket of water and extinguished them. Their timely assistance no doubt saved the life of little Bert.

Robber in the Postoffice.
Sunday night just after supper hour Postmaster J. J. Perkins went to the postoffice to arrange the mail ready for dispatching next morning when he started to open the door found it unlocked. He went in, lit a lamp and found a negro man crouched under the stamp counter. Mr. Perkins advanced toward the negro when the latter took a pistol not to shoot, he would surrender. However, he must have soon detected that the Postmaster was unarmed, as he the Postmaster made a dash for the door leaving only a vestige of his coat-tail in the hands of the P. M. as the exit was made. The thief got only about 60 cents.

The Way to Give Thanks.
A pleasant holiday Thanksgiving Day which did not come to our attention in time for last issue. It was at the lumber mill of Messrs. White & McGowan, just above town. The proprietors had a very handsome dinner which they enjoyed hugely. The table for the colored men, ten in number, was spread at the mill and before signing their meal Mr. White asked a blessing of God for them. They were then left to enjoy their dinner to themselves and the white employees were taken to the house of Mr. White near by where a table was spread for them. The course of food at both tables was exactly the same. It is a pleasure to hear of such instances as this, and if all employers would show such an interest in their employees, there would be more friendly relations between them. We venture every man at that mill felt very grateful to his employers and truly thankful to God.

Christmas Gifts.
Christmas of 1889 draweth on, yea is almost here. Two weeks more and the joyous day will be upon us. Everybody feels glad when this season of the year rolls around with its high and low, endeavor to enjoy it as far as their means will permit. A man feels more liberal than at any other season of the year, consulting himself, in case he should go a wide of cooking and home might meet strict economic principles, with the old saying "Christmas comes but once a year," and he had as well enjoy himself a little. In fact, we do not believe a man feels like he has had any Christmas unless he makes someone else happy—either his loved ones or friends. Times are hard 'tis true, but the kind hearts will be sure to remember his wife and little ones, even if it be in a small way. However, what you buy you want as cheap as possible for good articles, and it is just along this line that the Reflector will try to get away before you come. First, go just one door South of the REFLECTOR office and you find D. D. HASKETT & CO.

This firm deals in hardware but what we want to call your special attention to is the splendid line of cooking and heating stoves. Have you been promising yourself and wife for a long time to get a new cook stove and save the trouble and worry that you have had with your old one? Then, Christmas would be a good time to get it and you will find the "New Lee" incomparable.

One door further down the street brings you to M. B. LANG.

His store has the prettiest stock of dry goods in town. It is a treat to go there and be shown through the different departments. If it is a dress you want for your wife or daughter, a suit of clothes for yourself or son, right here is the place to get these articles besides thousands of other nice things. And one nice feature about this store is that friend Lang is just as clever and pleasant as he is large and keeps none but attentive, courteous clerks. It is a pleasure to trade there.

A little further down the street brings you to the corner where stands the mammoth double store of J. B. CHERRY & CO.

Here you find pushing, enterprising men, whose stores are full of the very best goods to be found in the market. They keep nearly everything you can mention, for a list of which we refer you to their big advertisement in another column. Anything from a napper of pins to a fine set of furniture can be had of them. They have some lounges and patent rocking chairs that are the latest things on the Charleston presses, they combine the useful and ornamental and are very serviceable. These gentlemen delight to serve you and purchases made of them will never be regretted.

The next place on that side of the street to which the REFLECTOR will call your attention is kept by MRS. M. T. COWELL.

She has a beautiful line of millinery and fancy goods, which catch the eyes of the ladies exactly. She has served the tastes of this community longer than any other person in Greenville, and is so well prepared to serve them now with the latest styles and best goods.

A few steps further and we find S. M. SCHULTZ.

Or to put it down more familiarly we might have said the Old Brick Store stands right there in the same place, and "Sammy" stands there with it. His long experience at handling groceries makes him know just how to suit the people who want to eat. And who doesn't? The Old Brick Store can always be counted on, and this season, besides the usual large supply of choice groceries, there is any quantity of nice fruits, confections, and everything in that line. You are missing but after the lapse of a short time you will be coming to Greenville if you fall to visit the Old Brick Store.

The next place to which we would call your attention is LITTLE HOUSE & BRO.

This firm occupies the corner next to Five Points, one of the best of Greenville. Their stock embraces general merchandise and they keep strictly first class goods. The members of the firm are young men raised right here among us. We all know them to be straightforward, enterprising young men. They offer an assortment of goods from which you can get not only nice things for Christmas, but also for every day in the year. You do not have to take our word for this as any of their many customers can tell you of their splendid line of goods.

A few doors up the street brings you to the large establishment of ALFRED FORBES.

"The Old Reliable Merchant," as everybody calls him, and the appellation was never more accurately applied. He has been in business without a change longer than any other merchant in Greenville. His stock is simply immense and embraces every article that you can desire. His satisfaction about buying from him, you get exactly what he tells you every time, without the slightest misrepresentation.

And the editor knowing you all will be in good luck, to save the trouble with Mr. Forbes in the next week to when we will be around again and tell you something about the other merchants whose names appear in the REFLECTOR.

Caution Thousands of peddlers and many unscrupulous grocers are trying to force on the public, dangerous imitations of Pearline. Considering the marvellous popularity of Pearline, this is not surprising. We want to warn the public against the use of these articles. They are dangerous to fabric and hands. PEARLINE is never peddled, but sold by grocers everywhere. Each package bears the name of JAMES PYLE, New York.

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR.
GREENVILLE, N. C.
THE ART OF COURTSHIP.

S. W. FOSS.
So ye ast her, did ye, Cyrus? An' she answered with a "No?" An' ye think the world a sandy desert wilderness of woe? An' ye think the world a groan an' the air is full of pizen, An' there ain't no blessed star uv hope peeps o'er yer horizon? An' the purty-smellin' roses look like tossels on a hearse. An' the joy uv this probational you are also, that you promise to have it franed in the birds sing funeral diriges to the ears uv Cyrus Baker, An' the universe is fyin' ready for the undertaker.

Cyrus Baker: yer a flat, sir, an' you couldn't well be fatter; The way to get the girl yer love is jest by keepin' at her. All the purty dears are cur'us—this is jest the way I view it. That the girls ain't like to juv yer, but ye've got 'a make 'em do it.

Laughable Reflections.
And Mirth Provoking Selections as Compiled by the Reflector's Bad Boy.

She (his sweetheart). Oh, what a nice present you have given me. I hope you have not been too extravagant.

THE UNEXPECTED.
Darling, this lady is Mrs. Barber; can't you come and say something to her?
Miss Three-year-old—Barber, barber, shave a pig, how many hairs are in a wig.

BITTER SWEET.
Mrs. Goody—I hear that little Johnny is sick, and that Mary is going to stay at home with him to look after her. How sweet of her!
Jimmie—Yes; she'n Johnny's been eating green apples.

THE BROTHERS.
Lawyer. So you wish to get your father sent to an asylum for the feeble-minded. This is very sad. What is the old gentleman's business?
Client—He is a grocer.
Lawyer—Well, when did you first notice signs of mental weakness?
Client—During the past month he has taken to putting large apples at the bottom of baskets and little ones on top.
Lawyer—Dear me! Hopeless case no doubt.

SHE DIDN'T WANT TO BE IN THE FASHION.
Charlie—I see, Mamie, that diamonds are no longer fashionable for engagement rings. Pearls are all the rage now. Of course, you want to be in the fashion?
Mamie—No, I never did care much for the edicts of fashion. You may get me a diamond engagement ring, Charlie. If they are no longer fashionable they must be cheaper.

Anyone sending two dollars to the Weekly Review, Reidsville, N.C., can get that paper from now until Jan. 1st, 1891, with Dickens' or Scott's complete works. The paper with both sets, three dollars. The Review ranks among the leading weeklies in the State. The books would ornament any library, and would make elegant holiday presents. Send and get them—such chances don't occur often in a lifetime.
The Fulpat and the Stag.
Rev. F. M. Street, Pastor, United Brethren Church, Blue Church, Blue Mound, Kan., says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 2 lbs. in weight."
Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do to my many thousands of friends is to urge them to try it." Free trial bottles at J. Wooten's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

Cotton as Cow-Feed.
Scottland Neck Democrat.
The freshets destroyed the cotton crop of a colored man near Spring Hill, and after the freshest the cotton took a new growth. This did not mature, at the colored man concluded to try it as feed for his cows. He cut down the green cotton, cured it and put it away carefully, and it is thought that it will be first class feed. It is an economy that perhaps few had thought of; of course it impoverishes the land very much, but when times are so hard the best that can be done is the best.

What I know about that standard remedy—Dr. Bull's Cough— I know that a 25 cent bottle cured me of a bad cough in 12 hours. It is a fact.
My rads of cases of rheumatism and neuralgia suddenly rebounded to that wonderful remedy, Salvation Oil. Price only 25 cents a bottle.
Thanksgiving day was a sad one to the family of W. A. Reyrban, at Atglen, Chester county, Penn. His three months old daughter was found dead in bed with the family cat on the child's mouth and nose.
